JOEY SMALLWOOD

Newfoundland contain a "substantial" number of known criminals. In the meantime, unions affected by it could go to court.

The Newfoundland premier's only official reaction Tuesday night was a half-hour appearance on the CBC's televised Press Conference, as he was questioned by a panel of newspaper men.

On television, Mr. Smallwood said the federal government might have been under no obligation to accept the recommendations of the RCMP royal commission established under article 29 of the terms of the 1949 Newfoundland union with Canada to study financial help for the province. But, Mr. Smallwood said, two countries — "not two merchants"—were involved.

The federal government had violated the spirit and intent of article 29, ending financial aid that should have continued "as long as water runs wet and grass grows green." Many provinces had received special concessions for special reasons, and article 29 now abrogated—was Newfoundland's special consideration.

Mr. Smallwood said thousands of letters indicate he has maintained support for his dispute with the federal government, which includes the Mr. John's longshore strike, the matter of RCMP reinforcements being refused the province, and the 11 ½ hour strike, Supreme Court appointments and the controversial article 29.

ALMOST DROWNS IN TUB

SARNIA (CP) — Jo Anne Spencer, 13, was saved from drowning Monday after she apparently fainted in the bath tub of her home. Her brother, Kenneth, 20, said he heard a "gurgling" sound, broke a hole in the bathroom door with a hammer, and found his sister partly submerged. A resuscitator was applied for about two hours before the girl responded.

Science Now Shrinks Piles Without Pain Or Discomfort

Finds Healing Substance That Relieves Pain And Itching As It Shrinks Hemorrhoids

Toronto, Ont. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain and itching. Hemmoids have been relieved with this inexpensive substance right in the privacy of their own homes without any discomfort or inconvenience.

In case hemorrhoid case after another, "very shrinking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations

Pain was promptly relieved. And while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this new healing substance was discovered to cause where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among those sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of even 10-to 20-years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—the discovery of a famous scientific research institute. Bio-Dyne is a wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in a suppository or ointment form called Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

AT DINNER — Opposition Leader Pearson and Premier Smallwood of Newfoundland are seen at a Canadian Club dinner at which Mr. Smallwood was the speaker. They also held private talks earlier in the day in Ottawa. (CP Wirephoto).

'Don't Duck If PM Swings' Says Newfoundland Premier

OTTAWA (CP) — "The minute the prime minister starts swinging a club, I don't duck," says Premier Smallwood of Newfoundland whom brief but busy visit produced no signs of reconciliation between the federal and provincial governments.

A hint of possible additional litigation against the federal government was dropped by the Liberal premier Wednesday. He said the province is "awaiting decisions on whether a quick otherwise— that might be taken as a result of Prime Minister Diefenbaker's decision to end special financial aid to Newfoundland in 1962.

But Mr. Smallwood — who with bouncy vigor defended his stand on various issues — refused to be drawn out at a press conference on whether a quick trip to Britain is connected in any way with legal action.

ONE SUIT STARTED

Newfoundlan d has already filed one precedent-setting suit against the federal government requested by RCMP reinforcements were withheld during the loggers' strike.

A second is threatened because administration of a federal-provincial housing project was given to the crown housing agency, Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, rather than the St. John's Housing Authority.

Mr. Smallwood is to leave by air for London this afternoon, returning to Newfoundland next Wednesday. There was no indication that he had seen Mr. Diefenbaker or any member of his government here.

He had no business with Mr. Diefenbaker, Mr. Smallwood told a prolonged press conference Wednesday afternoon, and he had received urge to call on him socially."

In the course of the day he made these statements:

1. "The prime minister of Canada is not going to call me."

2. Mr. Diefenbaker showed "dereliction of duty" in declining to fill a Newfoundland Supreme Court vacancy since 1957.

Vatican Turns Dismissed Guard Over to Italy

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Vatican today turned over to Italian authorities the case of the dismissed papal guard who Wednesday shot the commander of the little corps which guards the Pope.

Italian police probably will escort the former guard to the frontier and turn him over to the Swiss to take whatever action they deem appropriate.

The Vatican, after preliminary investigation, turned its findings over to Italy concerning the case of the Latern Pact, which specifies that the tiny papal state can turn over to Italian authorities any cases of law violation that occur in its territory. It was also noted that the former guard who fired the shots came into Vatican territory from Rome, where he has been staying since his dismissal.

The 45-year-old guard commander, Swiss Col. Robert Nunlist, was wounded twice while struggling with ex-guardsman Adolf Rueker, 34. Taken to a Rome hospital for removal of a bullet from his back, Nunlist was reported out of danger today.

FACE WOUNDED

Rueker was slightly wounded in the face, but it was not known just how. He was under guard in the Rome hospital, and officials refused to discuss his condition.

Nothing like this had happened since the 53-man corps of Swiss Guards established 450 years ago to defend the supreme pontiffs of the Roman Catholic Church.

The only official word from the Vatican was a brief communique saying the ex-Swiss guard drew two pistol shots at the commander of the corps, wounding him, but not seriously."

It added that the former guard "had insisted on being received for his service after having been expelled from the barracks of epileptic symptoms caused by cerebral trauma (brain injury)." The incident was said to have rendered Pope John, who recently reviewed the corps of Swiss guards.

Detroit Boy, 12, Beaten to Death

DETROIT (AP) — A 12-year-old boy, object of a night-long search by police and volunteers, was found beaten to death in a garage at the rear of his home in suburban Dearborn today.

Police said a neighborhood boy admitted that he beat Jeffrey Paxton, 12, to death after a quarrel. The boy was taken to police headquarters for questioning.

TIBETAN REBELS HAVE FORMED THEIR OWN GOVT.

Demand Withdrawal Of Chinese Troops

KALIMPONG, India (Reuters) The rebel Tibetan "national volunteer defence army" has announced it formed a provisional government that demands Chinese withdrawal from Tibet and United Nations consideration of "Chinese aggression."

Reports reaching this India-Tibet border town today said the rebels pledged to fight until Tibet is independent. A manifesto accused the Chines of executing thousands of Tibetans and using Tibetan labor to build military roads and barracks.

LEAVES CAPITAL

Meanwhile, Peiping Radio reported that the Panchen Lama, Communist China's new puppet leader of Tibet, left his capital of Lhasa for Peiping today.

Earlier dispatches said the new ruler would attend the National People's Congress opening in Peiping.

But his abrupt departure was taken to mean that Red China wants to consolidate its position in Tibet without having to consult the 22-year-old Panchen Lama the Reds installed as secular and spiritual leader of the area of the Dalai Lama.

The Red-controlled Dalai Lama, who escaped from Lhasa last month, today rode with a pony escort through mountainous northeast India en route to New Delhi.

REPORT HEAVY FIGHTING

Reuters correspondent Sisteman Liberra yesterday said reports were moving rapidly into western Tibet of heavy fighting at leading Nepal and India to stop Tibetans escaping into India.

The Chinese were reported moving armored vehicles into Tibet and increasing their activity.

India Independent Times of India says in another report that rebel Khamba tribesmen were fast running out of arms and ammunition and were seeking to buy arms abroad to keep up the fight.

Adjourn Probe Into 1957 Death Of Youth in Jail

MATTAWA, Ont. (CP)—An inquest into the death of Allan David Wellig, 19, while hanging from a cell door in the town jail May 23, 1957, was adjourned Wednesday to allow individuals to find a girl friend of the youth.

The announcement by Attorney-General Roberts after the youth's parents complained the investigation was missing, was adjourned to permit authorities to find Miss Ruth Meilleur. She discovered the youth hanging by his belt when a search party, with a company with a police officer in the jail. Miss Meilleur had been charged with impaired driving earlier in the day after his car went over a bridge embankment. She was placed in a cell after what police called "a violent struggle" as a brief struggle.

The girl was with the youth earlier in the day, and was a tempting to arrange ball when she discovered the body.

Pony-Tailed, Bearded Vegetarian Teaches Douk Children in Russian

KRESTOVA, B.C. (CP) — A bearded vegetarian with a pony tail has begun teaching Russian Wednesday to 45 Sons of Freedom children in addition to a special classroom here.

Volodya (Walter) Stepanoff, 30, has been brought to Canada to run the school because his predecessor proved unsatisfactory.

Freedomite secretary Peter Ekdahl said about 40 children between the ages of six and 16 were in the first class brought for the special school at New Denver—attended by Freedomite children at Krestova, Glade, Wilsaw and Grand Forks.

Ekdahl said Mr. Stepano's background other than that he was born in Russia, was to be unrevealed. Junior high schools there and studied engineering at the University of Toronto.

A Freedomite leader agreed that Stepano looked like a younger Stalin and Sorokin, the Sons' spiritual leader now living in Ukrainian, Russian, reading, writing and arithmetic in Russian, using Russian elementary textbooks. No English is taught.

FLEMING WILL PRESENT SECOND BUDGET TONIGHT

Good News Likely As Well as Bad

OTTAWA (CP)—A doughty political battler from Toronto steps into the limelight tonight to tell Canadians what their tax bill will be in the months ahead.

Short 6 ping, four-square, 53-year-old Donald Fleming, Finance minister for almost two years, will rise in the House of Commons to present his second budget speech. Financial experts say he has a big job on his hands to keep the economy on an even keel.

Fleming's budget will be closely watched by the business community, by the provinces and by the man in the street. It will be the first budget since the Conservatives won a majority in the March 31 election.

Last year's revenues, including corporation taxes, dropped to $5,168,800,000 from $5,430,300,000 in 1957. Economic recovery will bring some increase in revenues.

Aside from the tax question, Mr. Fleming undoubtedly will also have something to say about trade. Canada has been negotiating with the United States on increases in the quotas of Canadian imports of fruits and vegetables. It also has been negotiating with Britain and France to increase rates on wool cloth to restore Britain' margin of tariff preference.

CHATHAM (CP) — A bid to reduce freight rates in Southwestern Ontario to attract industry will be discussed at the southwestern Ontario conference of Chambers of Commerce here. A committee was set up last year to prepare a brief for presentation to the federal government.

Think Adenauer to Continue To Make West German Policy

BONN, West Germany (Reuters)—Konrad Adenauer today appeared likely to continue as a strong force in West German affairs even after he ends his 10-year role as chancellor.

This was the consensus following his broadcast Wednesday night on why he had decided to stand for policy-making office to run for the West German presidency in July. He would not take up the post until September, leaving him in office for the expected talks with Russia this summer.

He said he was making the switch to ensure a continuity of West German policy in the future and it appeared likely he would be able to make certain of such continuity by influencing the choice of his successor.

Finance Minister Franz Etzel appeared to be emerging as the favorite over the two other possible successors — Economics Minister Ludwig Erhard and Bundestag Leader Eugen Gerstenmaier.

Etzel is a quiet man and has been close to Adenauer. Like Adenauer, he is a strong believer in the cause of European unity.

This was on one of Adenauer's programs, the European Common Market, which came into existence at the beginning of the year among West Germany, France, Italy, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg.

Erhard made no secret of his dislike of this plan and his preference for a British-favored European free trade area which would have included all of the members of the organization for European economic co-operation as well as the six who are members of the common market.

Gerstenmaier's chances appear poor. He has frequently differed with Adenauer on foreign policy and has favored more flexibility than Adenauer.

He repeated his opposition to making contact proposals or to discuss demands, rejected any idea of a confederation of Communist East Germany with West Germany, and said the West should stick to the principle of persistent defence of the right.

His restatement of these principles was taken to be an indication of his continued opposition to the Rapacki approach to Russia favored by British Prime Minister Macmillan.

Cairo Says Iraq Will Admit 2,000 Kurds Sent From USSR

CAIRO (AP)—Cairo radio says Iraq has granted entry visas to 2,000 Kurd tribesmen from the Soviet Union in addition to 6,000 reported to have passed through the Suez Canal Monday on the Russian ship Tobolsk.

The broadcast gave no sources of the information. And there was no confirmation available. The reported movement of Kurds from the Soviet Union to Iraq aroused fear that the Communist cause in Baghdad are being strengthened.

Baghdad radio acknowledged that a Soviet ship had been allowed to land a boatload of Kurds in the Iraqi port of Basra, and that close or 10 Kurds had been brought to Cairo by plane.

The Egyptian officials had reported when the Russian ship passed through the Suez Canal northbound that 855 Kurdish refugees had been in the Soviet Union years ago and included 460 men, 108 women and 252 children.

The Egyptian officials had reported when the Russian ship passed through the Suez Canal northbound that 855 Kurdish men trained in guerrilla warfare and the relation of children's qualifications.

Soure close to the government of the United Arab Republic said it would not take any action on the part of the Soviet Kurds to Iraq until they actually were on Iraqi territory.

There were suggestions that Nasser might protest to the Soviet government that it is meddling in internal affairs of the Arab world.

JUDICIAL INQUIRY

TORONTO (CP) — A judicial inquiry into suburban York Township's financial affairs will begin May 18, Judge Joseph A. Sweet said Wednesday. The inquiry was ordered by Municipal Affairs Minister Revender after ratepayers complained about sales of township land to individuals.

Toronto Zoning Changes Invalid

TORONTO (CP)—Scores of residential zoning restrictions in Toronto and its suburbs are expected to be invalid under a ruling by the Supreme Court of Canada.

The court's decision is expected by decision by the Ontario Supreme Court which blocked a Scarborough builder's attempt to build houses on a pie-shaped lot. The Ontario municipal board had passed a by-law restricting by-law and then obtained approval from the Ontario municipal board.

The court said approval should have been obtained first from the city.

Most amendments to Toronto's zoning by-law in 1957 were processed first through city council and then approved by the municipal board. City solicitors and planning officials today are drafting a new zoning bylaw which will include all the amendments prior to 1957.

City solicitor Robert Baird said the court's decision does not affect amendments to the zoning bylaw after 1957.

Ask Ottawa Pay For Municipal Capital Projects

Can Maintain Services But Can't Expand Them

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities today asked for more federal money to help municipalities pay for major capital works, particularly slum clearance, community improvement, and urban growth projects.

It urged the government to convene a federal-provincial-municipal conference, and to work towards putting Canadian municipalities on a level of financial equality.

In a brief presented to Prime Minister Diefenbaker and his cabinet, the federation said municipalities now can pay their own expenses of operation and general services. They could not provide the money for the after-tell projects that are called for large, immediate spending.

Municipalities were levying all the taxes they legally could, tax rates were higher than ever, and all looked to Ottawa for money for expansion, for highways, for hospitals and schools.

BORROWING DIFFICULT

Borrowing the needed money was difficult because interest rates were high, and most municipalities already had borrowed as much as they could afford, considered safe—up to 20 per cent of the value of taxable assets. In any case, the cost of federal bonds, and industrial bonds, left little room for municipal bonds off the Canadian market.

Some municipalities have gone even to selling their bonds in the United States.

The brief had a follow-up to an informal federal-municipal conference last December. Municipalities had asked whether municipalities were all having financial difficulties; whether they were fully using the sources of money now available to them; whether new fields for them to tax could be found, and whether federal and provincial governments are helping with grants.

The federation, in local consumption taxes, such as sales taxes, was possible but difficult to administer. Unless the taxes were uniform over a wide area, businesses in a community affected by such a tax would lose trade to tax-free areas.

A tax on motor vehicles was suggested as a possible new source of revenue, but would overlap provincial taxes. Land taxes were unpopular and difficult to enforce. In any case, cars were already subject to heavy provincial taxes in Canada.

Grants, it was urged, should be levied on everyone over 21 who does not own property, and on those who own property of a yield little revenue. It was difficult to enforce.

The federation said provincial grants do not help cut the tax load. "The problems of cities they are conditional — granted only for some specific project. In other words, the province owes cows in which municipal governments normally would have had a major responsibility for financing anyway.

Unconditional grants, and grants towards school construction, also were urged. Equalization grants, it was suggested, differed in different provinces.

Playboy Astor Worth Only Five Million

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Daily News says playboy John Jacob Astor received only a fifth as much money than he is worth with only $5,000,000. He previously was believed to be worth at least $70,000,000. The News says the financial report was made by John Steve Broady.

"The disclosure helps explain the long-standing business that marked his relations with his elder half-brother, the late Vincent Astor—and the reason that John Jacob now is threatening a will fight over Vincent's estimated $200,000,000 estate."

Vincent Astor, 67, died Feb. 3, leaving his estate to his widow and to a foundation he set up years ago. Last month, John Jacob took court action to examine the will and witnesses before it is admitted to probate.

Toronto Tax Rate Boosted 6 Mills

TORONTO (CP) — Toronto board of control has approved a tax increase in the residential tax rate—an increase of between $25 and $30 for the average homeowner.

At the same time Wednesday the board agreed to the board of education to reduce its estimates by one mill before the finance comes before city council for approval next week.

The increase, 1.65 mills represents an increase in city costs and the rest is for education at the city and metropolitan levels. porters would pay 56 mills—28.85

'Controversial Genius of Design' Frank Lloyd Wright Dies at 89

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Frank Lloyd Wright, colorful and controversial genius of design, died today in a Phoenix hospital following a brief illness. He was 89.

A giant on the national and international architectural scene, Wright underwent an operation Monday for removal of a loop in the intestinal obstruction. He had been stricken Saturday at his winter home near Scottsdale.

Only an hour before his death, Wright's condition was reported as unchanged.

Wright was almost as noted for his public comments as for his unusual buildings.

"Early in life I had to choose between honesty and arrogance and hypocritical humility," he said at the age of 86. "I chose honest arrogance and have seen no occasion to change."

In 1948 the American Institute of Architects named him the 15th winner in 42 years of its gold medal award.

In 1949 the American Institute of Architects named him the 15th winner in 42 years of its gold medal award.

In 1953 he designed a 528-foot-high skyscraper on the Chicago lake front.

"for distinguished service to the advancement of the art and the profession of architecture."

But there was no love lost between Wright and members of the institute. Some of his sharpest criticism received for his fellow architects.

He once described the institute as "the American Institute of Appearances" and on another occasion declared, "I have had nothing wrong with architecture is architects."

But architects were not the only objects of his wrath.

He didn't like cities. He called them "vampires living on the life blood of the countryside and villages, sterilizing humanity." Urban apartment developments he called "human filing cabinet slums."

He was not always consistent. At an early stage in his career he declared war on skyscrapers.

"If you stop and think about them, you ask why so unethical an act can be allowed to exist. . . . They are molochs raised for the commercial exploitation of the man in the street."

Born in August, 1956, Wright designed a 518-foot-high mile skyscraper for the Chicago

Wooler Native Named to Head Narcotic Branch

OTTAWA (CP)— R. Charles Hammond of Ottawa has been named chief of the Health Department's narcotics control division, it was announced Wednesday. He succeeds K.C. Hoish who has retired.

A native of Wooler, Mr. Hammond moves up from the post of assistant chief. He is a graduate of the Ontario College of Pharmacy, Toronto.

Before joining the division in 1942, he was a pharmaceutical chemist for an Ottawa drug company for 13 years. With the department he specialized in auditing and inspecting narcotic transactions of pharmaceutical manufacturers and hospitals throughout Canada.

Expect Quinte Ice Will Break Any Day Now

"Any day now" is the popular guess for the probable date on which Quinte's mantle of ice will disappear from the Bay of Quinte.

East of the Bay Bridge open water appears for the better part of a mile with the ice field still remaining fairly solid beyond the hospital. To the river mouth it is almost entirely clear of ice.

West of the Bay Bridge, however, the ice field still remains generally solid although open stretches are beginning to appear along the shore and the cove off the city pumping station is open.

100 Tons Carp Netted in Hay Bay

Commercial fishermen have reduced the population of carp in Hay Bay during the winter. Approximately 100 tons of carp were removed from the bay by carp gill net licenses. This should improve the fishing as it appears that when carp are in abundance in an area, other fish move out says the Tweed office of the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests.

Carp tend to disturb the lake bottom by making an effort to the waters become muddy, causing rainnoyers and other fish to move to clear water.

Carp fishing is done by gill net with mesh size in an area, under eight inches extension measure and most fishermen use 9 1-2 inches or 9 which catches larger carp which bring a higher price on the markets.

Several patrols were made of Hay Bay and no species of fish other than carp have been found in the nets .

Scouting activities

By CHRIS F. LEGGAT

The Camnifton Scout Troop of 17 boys and two leaders recently acted as hosts at a banquet to their fathers and guests. This was sponsored by the United Church, being small has its advantages, the banquet is more than generally held. Introductions are not needed, everybody belongs."

The Scouts,' properly uniformed and looking very smart, served the banquet hosts. Mr. Hugh McLeod, the caretaker, was a guest speaker. Mr. Hugh Hubbert, director of Scouts and a very important member of the group stated that the chairman, Mr. Harvey Pulman, was unable to be present, his duties were ably handled by Mr. Stan Kerr.

The ladies, Mrs. Furmidge, Mrs. Uren, Mrs. Sullivan, Mrs. Bird and Mrs. Stewart, served an excellent dinner, whoever made the pies deserves special credit. Queen's Scout Fred Furmidge expressed the appreciation of everybody when he thanked the ladies for their Furmidge replying, said they hoped they could serve twice as many next year.

NOTABLE TOAST

Scout D. Sullivan's toast to the fathers was a feature of the occasion. "In proposing a toast to the fathers, who are our guests tonight, I have taken for my text a paragraph written by a friend. I would like to ever stress to think of the importance of your father! He goes out to the workshop practically every day of the week to provide a living for you, and when he does come in the evening he expects to relax, but that is not meant to be. As soon as he sits down the usual mad scramble begins. The children come rushing in playing quietly upstairs suddenly turn to speed demons and race downstairs to the kitchen, the reason for this sudden activity is to get attention for an appreciated father."

Cubs were informed the boys that they belonged to a Troop that was formed before Cubs were in existence and regretted that Canniton was still missing a Cub pack. The troops was formed in 1911. Miss E. Rush, Scoutmaster at that time, would be just a proud as the Troop today as she was of those boys.

Scouts extend an invitation will be sent to Miss Bush to visit Canniton this summer and all hope she will be able to come.

DON'T DUCK

Smallwood had proclaimed legislation for a fourth legislature. 3. The federal government wants to appoint two "political hacks" to the St. John's harbor authority, a body that Mr. Smallwood says has been free of politics since its creation in 1951. He denied tenants have been allowed to vote on political basis, calling it a "downright lie."

4. Canada's first duty was in provinces in need rather than such aid programs as the Colombo Plan.

COULD HAVE AGREED

5. If the political government had indicated it would continue special Newfoundland financial assistance until 1966 and then provided a second royal commission to look into the future period, Newfoundland would have agreed.

6. Newfoundland "didn't care very much" what means were used to oust the International Woodworkers of America (CLC) —now decertified. Provincial support for that measure is such that only "sheer sportsmanship keeps me from cheering at election."

7. Hon. William J. Browne, minister without portfolio and Newfoundland representative in the federal cabinet, for many years had "collected rents from many"—I won't say most—of the worst slum areas in North America." Earlier, he urged that Mr. Browne resign.

Canada Greatly Respected
Eastern Nations Eager In All-Out Effort for Greater Industrialism

Mr. Anthony Çekota, the research director of Sata Limited, Batawa, has just returned from a three-months' journey around the world which took him into twelve countries of Western Europe, Middle East and Far East. Asked about his observations he summed them as follows:

All countries in Asia are engaged in furious efforts to industrialize their economy. Most of the activities formerly imported are now being manufactured at home. All these countries are fiercely nationalistic and carry their nationalism into every section of their life including the economy. Young people of Egypt, Pakistan and India are eager for education, hundreds of them attending night classes to extend their education beyond the regular compulsory limit.

Unfortunately, these countries will be non-existent within the next fifty years, according to Mr. Çekota. At the present time it runs between 70 to 90 per cent of the present population. The intelligentsia of the Moslem countries is strictly anti-West in consciousness of their own culture and civilization. Many countries are living at the level of subsistance, capital and intellectual development their former western administration.

FUNDS BEING DEPLETED

Its source of capital are funds which were accumulated by the work of generations are constantly depleted. Communist countries are trying to penetrate into the political and economic life of these new nations and are using various way and means for this purpose. The standard of the labor unions, penetration into schools and the army are employed intelligentsia and in some countries even physical violence, externally by the economic offensive which is carried by vastly more powerful economic missions, and state visits.

Democracy as a system or word had varied interpretations in various countries. In some countries, for example, the buying of a yearly car licence or the payment of taxes is considered undemocratic, while taking cuts on anything was considered democratic.

One of the greatest problems in the Asian countries is the tremendous increase of population. In India, for example, the population increase at the rate of 5 million between five and seven million people annually requiring an additional 700,000 to 1,200,000 tons of food yearly, (the population of Canada is at 400,000 tons per 1000). No one knows the answer to the problem of such increase in population. The greatest hope is in the fact that the Asian countries are beginning to realize the importance of education.

In Land of Beer and Bets, Billy Graham Packs 'Em In'

By WARREN WHITE
Canadian Press Correspondent

MELBOURNE (CP)—American evangelist Billy Graham packed them in the aisles in Australia.

In a country where church attendance has declined in recent years, Graham has drawn to his revival rallies some of the biggest crowds ever assembled in one place in Australia.

In one meeting, in Melbourne more than 700,000 people attended his rallies—more than attended the 1956 Olympic Games.

At Melbourne Cricket Ground alone, rated capacity at 120,000, 140,000 people packed in, overflowing onto the arena. Some 3,000 more listened to loudspeakers outside.

This was the final meeting in Melbourne, before he moved on to Tasmania.

It was the biggest crowd he has ever drawn to a rally. The previous record was during his London crusade.

What impresses is that the crowd at the Melbourne Cricket Ground for the final rally was a cross-section of the people. Every attendance at the grand final of the Australian Rules football match between Melbourne and Collingwood in 1958.

For this important match, which had the city and Victoria State on tenterhooks for weeks in advance, 115,000 attended.

And attendances at test cricket matches with England, popularly supposed to be the greatest sports attractions in Australia, do not come anywhere near most of the Graham rally figures.

In addition, the evangelist has gone down an easy with the local newspapers that, in addition to daily reports of his speeches and a progressive count of the numbers of "decisions for Christ," most papers run a daily column under Graham's byline and photograph.

His final meeting in Melbourne was front-page news in nearly all Australian papers.

Much of his success has been attributed to his acceptance by local church and community leaders.

Touring evangelists have never been popular in Australia, and when one has been almost run out of the country. But Graham has received wide publicity from most generally conservative publications.

A former acting governor of Victoria, Sir Edmund Herring, welcomed him as a leading campaign supporter. The present governor, Sir Dallas Brooks, Billy Graham's host, was on the platform at his biggest meeting here.

IKE'S LETTER

At one meeting Graham read a letter in which President Eisenhower asked him to con ey his regards to the Australian people.

People travelled from other states and from within the state of Victoria many hundreds of miles to hear him.

Despite the much - publicized Australian fondness for betting, racing race horses and drinking beer, Graham recorded at the outset of his campaign that he was not going to castigate the sinners.

His theme apparently has been that everyone is a sinner anyway, and he has urged church attendance and the building aside of at least a small part of every day for prayer as a necessity for leading a good life.

He has called on people to come forward and make a decision for Christ"—a decision to be aware of and guided by Christ's principles at all times.

During his month - long campaign in Melbourne more than 26,000 "decisions" were made.

Graham impresses many Australians as being a simple man who believes he has been commissioned by God for the task of evangelism, He says so frequently.

THE MESSENGER

A typical Graham theme is: "Don't listen to me. Listen with your spiritual ears to the voice of God. I am only God's messenger and my authority is God's help and inspiration."

Graham is not without opposition in Australia.

The business-like methods of his campaign organizers have drawn occasional terse columns and newspaper readers contributing to the correspondence columns.

But the comment has been confined mainly to the effect that anyone who is business-like about religion must be making something out of it.

Graham's publicity people, and the evangelist himself, have insisted that they do spend thousands of dollars on their campaigns—but that they never profit by as much as a penny.

A Sydney columnist referred to "neat pre-crusade tactics" by Graham in stating publicity that the Melbourne was "one of the most moral cities" he had ever visited. Sydney could "need a great deal more prayer than Melbourne."

Japs May Buy Canadian Coal

OTTAWA (CP)—The chairman of the Dominion Coal Board says negotiations may start this fall with Japan that could lead to contracts for sale of "hundreds of thousands of tons" of western Canada coal.

W. E. Uren said in an interview Wednesday night that next November or December Japan expects to place orders for large tonnages.

"There is no question in our minds that Japan is going to buy Canadian coal we will get orders", he added.

The tooling is to be done with some 140,000 tons of coal now being ordered by Japan from the Crowsnest Pass area of Alberta and British Columbia.

Says Statement She Signed Was Police Invention

MONTREAL (CP)—A 23-year-old brunette, called as a special witness in a $1,788,400 bond robbery case, testified Wednesday a statement she signed last May was a collection of "pure invention" by the police.

Solange Guillemette, who works as a cook in a Prescott, Ont., restaurant, had been the object of a search since last week when Judge Irenee Lagarde refused to render judgement in the trial of Armand Roy, 39, until she could be produced.

The woman appeared under her own volition but said she knew nothing about the case and that the statement she signed last year was invented by a Montreal police detective . . . to another officer at a typewriter. She said she signed it without reading it.

Her name was originally brought into the case by a defence witness who said she offered him one of the bonds stolen from the Caisse Nationale d'Economie June 25-26, 1953.

Roy was arrested when $350,000 worth of the stolen bonds were found in a villa he is accused of having stored in a shed owned by a relative. Three others also accused. The trial is continuing.

Bata Fire Chief Presented With Clarence Orser Trophy

TRENTON — The Clarence Orser trophy was presented to the Bata fire chief, Johnny Aquino by Fire Chief Gerald Vance of Belleville at the regular meeting of the Hastings and Prince Edward Firemen's Mutual Aid Society in the Trenton Fire Station last night.

The trophy, a plaque, will be presented each year to the fire department having the largest number in attendance at the Mutual Aid meetings.

In presenting the trophy Chief Vance told the meeting it was in memory of the late Chief Clarence Orser, "who we all knew and loved so well. He was a fine gentleman and we will never forget him."

Chief Aquino, accepting the trophy on behalf of the Batawa Fire Department, said they were pleased to have members of the trophy and that he hoped through the trophy the friendly competitive would continue to get bigger.

Last night 72 firemen attended and the meeting was declared the largest one to date.

Chief Gerald Vance introduced the guests attending the meeting. They were: Captain Frank Sager, retired captain of the Trenton Volunteers; Deputy Marshal A. Williams of Belleville; Councillor Claude Graham, chairman of the Trenton fire committee; Fire Chief Ellis of Trenton; and J. Hen. Salesman for the Stokey Company.

Councillor Graham spoke briefly and extended an official welcome to the visiting firemen on behalf of the town council. He said he had been to one of the first meetings of the group and had had no idea they would grow as they had. He said he felt this type of meeting was most beneficial and informative to the firemen. He also congratulated Fire Chief Ellis on his record as fire chief and said he was doing a great job. The councillor extended his thanks to the Fire Chief of Belleville for the help they have extended in the past many fires in Trenton.

Captain Gerald Lewis of the Trenton Department gave a 15 minute lecture on forcible entry buildings. He explained the different methods found to be the most satisfactory in getting through locked doors of different kinds, barred windows, ordinary windows and skylights.

The captain told the meeting the axe was the fireman's best and most efficient tool.

A sports committee was set up under the chairmanship of Fire Chief Jim McVickers of Desoronto and with a member from each fire department in the association. Fire Chief Ellis will be the Trenton representative.

The purpose of the committee will be to arrange for a renewal of the horse-laying race for the Weddell Trophy, now enclosed in a glass in the Bata window.

Chief Vance coordinator of the Mutual Aid reminded the members of the Ground Observer Fire Fire Marshall College in Gravenhurst on July 5-10 and urged as many members to attend as possible. He was also elected to send letters to the various Reeves and Mayors urging their cooperation in furnishing the firemen down to the course.

"This course will be worthwhile to both you and your community", Chief Vance stated, "and don't get the impression you are going for a good time. When you have returned from it you will know you have been on a course at Gravenhurst."

The chief explained that it will be necessary for the firemen to pay their 'way as they go' but the money would be refunded to them by cheque. He said he felt that most municipalities could help by loaning the firemen the money he would need and then it would be refunded to the municipality's treasurer by the Fire Marshal's office.

Chief Vance also spoke on other Mutual Aid meetings he had attended and told the group he had noticed the members of one association had identical cards. This he urged for Hastings, Prince Edward Mutual Aid Association and it was later adopted by the meeting.

Following the meeting refreshments in the form of a buffet lunch were served by the ladies department.

Firemen attending the meeting were from Trenton, Batawa, Belleville, Deseronto, Frankford, Madoc, Marmora, Port Trenton, Tweed and Wellington.

Lady Golfers' Fashion Show Attracted Many

TRENTON — The Lady Golfers' Fashion Show, which is one of the main events of the year among fashionable Trenton women was held Tuesday night in the Quinte Hotel.

Attractive models displayed entrancing clothes in the newest of styles and colors. Many in most cases with matching shoes and handbags.

The audience was taken on an imaginary trip to Bath, when charming Hilda Downie modelled a short shorts in coral pink drill, with matching striped jacket and sleeveless sweater, suitable for travelling.

Elegance in casual sportswear was shown by Jean Little, who wears a reversible skirt, and an attractive bulky knit cardigan in the new pastel shades. Margo Ubukata made an attractive figure in a two piece dress of pearl silk, with the high waist emphasized by the extra wide cinch belt of black velvet, which is the news this year for those with small waistlines.

Thelma Gardener displayed a wardrobe basic, the empire dress in navy silk, with the high girding, bold black and white design, which is the latest word in dress, gown of pure silk in periwinkle blue with an empire bodice and small waistline, was worn by Burnett.

While the gowns were being displayed on the very effective stage with setting designed by Barrie Pinkney and George Burgess, organ music played by Bill Jones, changed the different moods of each creation as it appeared.

Fred Hendricks managed the lighting, which provided such excellent effects, while Vi Jones, Audrey Herrington and Victoria Clegg were dressing room organizers. Molly Barlow was in charge of tickets, and Mary Wilson, Wes Hinds directed donated programs. Donations by Jim Alexander, House and House, Sharkey's, Bert Clarke Limited, and RCAF Trenton helped to make the show possible.

Exhibitors at the show were—Helen Blakely, gowns; Ellen Whitehouse, millinery; Hadleys, jewellery; Paris Fure, furs; Bata Shoe of Canada, shoes and handbags; Tom Holmes, shoes; Beauty Counsellors, makeup, and The Fashion Shop, flowers.

The event was convened by Mrs. Gertrude House.

Flight Cadets From England Visit Station

TRENTON — A party of 30 flight cadets from the Royal Air Force College, Cranwell, are visiting here this week as part of a tour of both RCAF and United States Air Force establishments. The visit to this side of the Atlantic is entirely designed to repay a visit made to Britain last year by cadets of the United States Air Force. Most of the RAF cadets are training for flying duties and have reached their senior year at the college.

While RCAF Trenton was included in classes a landing field for the party's four jet comet transport during their visit to Royal Military College, Kingston, the group have been the guests of the Air Force here and have toured the base. Arriving here last Sunday afternoon, the party will be at R.M.C. and will return here Wednesday evening.

Flying south the cadets will tour the headquarters of the Strategic Air Command at Omaha, Nebraska, and then spend a few days at the Air Defence and Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs. For the latter part of the tour the party will be in Washington, D.C., using the capital as a base for visits to various units of the United States Air Force.

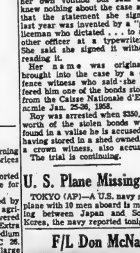
The party is headed by the commandant of the college, Air Commodore D. F. Spotswood, CBE, DSO, DFC, ADC, and accompanied by the director of studies, Mr. Anthony Constant, MA, and is travelling in a Comet 2 jet of the Royal Air Force Air Transport Command.

The group will return to the United Kingdom on April 17.

Legion Attends Zone Rally

TRENTON — Tuesday evening, April 7, over 200 members from Trenton, led by branch president W. J. Reid motored up to Cobourg to attend the Zone F-3 Rally.

The presidents of branches from Bewdley, Port Hope, Cobourg, Colborne, Brighton, Frankford, Campbellford and Trenton read their reports and Zone Commander Ross Hall, Commander for the fine quality of their reports. Routine business on hand was then dealt with.



Trenton president Bill Lawson presented the Quinte Ladies branch with a gift and presented them with their newly formed group, Comrade Rush, chairperson of the ladies' auxiliary branch thanked the Trenton branch for its generosity.

Regional vice-president "Scotty" Broughton, Brighton, congratulated each branch on its membership. Nominations for zone commander were held and Comrade Hope and Ezil Donaldson of Trenton. Comrade Mills declined nomination and Comrade Donaldson was elected by acclamation.

Nominations for deputy zone commander were Gerald Simpson of Trenton and there being were no other nominations he was elected by acclamation.

Two resolutions were passed and will be presented for approval to the Provincial Command convention to be held at Trenton the 2nd and 3rd of May. Regional vice - president Broughton stressed the importance of each branch sending a full quota of delegates to the 2 day provincial convention, which is to be held at Kitchener in August. He also urged all members, Zone F-3 as a whole to support Comrade Jack Burnett, the mayor of Co-

Flight Cadets Visit Canadian Base

The trophy is awarded to the best all around student during the 1 year course flying the T88 Sabret jet.

F/L McNaughton joined the RCAF in Ottawa in March, 1953 after completing senior matriculation at Perth Collegiate Institute. He graduated from Portage La Prairie in April 1953 with the pilots wings. From 1953 to 1956 he was in instructor at Centralia and Trenton, Ontario.

F/L McNaughton is the son of Mr. W. H. McNaughton of Perth, and is married to the former Frances Jean Pinkie of Belleville.

After a short leave F/L McNaughton will depart for the RCAF Air Division where he will be stationed at 1 (F) Wing Marville, France.

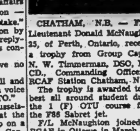
NATO Official Says Neutrality "Bad Mistake"

MONTREAL (CP) — Paul-Henri Spaak, secretary-general of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, said Wednesday that Canadians who advocate withdrawal from NATO and NORAD hold "some very bad ideas."

He said such a proposition—would be a "complete mistake."



"If (anti-NATO) solution by being neutral," he said, reply- ing to questions at a press conference.

"Neutral countries have no big role in the world.

"The only way for small and middle countries to have a voice is to be members of NATO."

The 59-year-old Belgian born NATO leader was at the head of a 15-nation group on a three-day visit to Eastern Canada to inspect Canadian defence components.

West German Air Officers Finish Training

TRENTON — Nine West German Air Force officers, two NCOs finished their Canadian training here last week after a fifteen months stay at the RCAF Training Command bases.

The training, which is paid for by the West German government, gave the pilots an opportunity to train at Canadian centres. Initial training was carried out at Centralia, Ont., where flight pilots were instructed in language training and a course in basic flying. Familiarization then with the Canadian way of life. Here the officers were given an opportunity to visit Niagara Falls and industrial plants in centres around London. The London stay is limited to three weeks.

Flying training begins at Centralia where six weeks is spent flying Chipmunk trainer aircraft. A seven months stay at Moose Jaw, MacDonald and Cimli sees the trainees become proficient in flying Silver Star jet trainers from our advanced training fields. Ultimately the German flyers will pilot F-104 Starfighters in their home country.

On completion of their six weeks training at Trenton, the group of nine split up, with five going on to train with the United States Air Force at Lackland Texas, two to the Air Force base at Luke Air Force Base near Phoenix, Arizona. The remaining two are now returned to their homeland for duty, with the WGAF.

While at Trenton one of German pilots, Sgt. Wolfgang Bleckmann married his childhood sweetheart in a unique ceremony in the Trenton Garrison chapel. Wolfgang is one of the five selected who, after training in the United States.

Although enjoying their Canadian stay, all state they will be happy to return to their homeland.

Convict Youth In Murder Case

TORONTO (CP)—The mother of John Edward Bell collapsed unconscious in her seat behind the prisoner's box Wednesday night as she heard her 19-year-old son convicted of murder and sentenced to be hanged.

The youth was convicted of the Feb. 17 bludgeon and strangulation slaying of Stanislo Lyzyk, 31-year-old spinster from Winnipeg.

The senior court jury deliberated nearly four hours before returning its verdict which carried a strong recommendation for mercy.

Mr. Justice W. H. Spence set July 14 as the date for the hanging.

Defence counsel Arthur Maloney, in his address to the jury, argued that the youth lacked the capacity through intoxication to form the intention to kill Miss Lyzyk.

She was found slain in her bed in the Montrose Avenue rooming house where both she and Bell lived.

"Manslaughter is all we ask," Mr. Maloney said. "Then he will be sent to a warmer, richer and greater life than he has ever known—a prison."

A TAX PROBLEM

The concensus of members of the City Council is that the Quinte Curling Club is a private organization, which must pay regular taxes.

We do not see how the council members could have reached any other conclusion. As several members pointed out, there are other organizations in the city which would have every bit as much right to request relief from taxes as the Curling Club, if that organization had been granted its request.

And yet there is a point which requires further consideration. Some recreational groups do escape paying taxes. They use quarters provided by the city, or by one of its boards. There are skaters and hockey players - - and hockey fans - - who use the facilities of the arena. There are ball teams and ball fans, who find fun at various parks. There are other groups which, while without the co-operation of the city-financed Recreation Committee, are accommodated in schools. True, all these groups may pay rent, or an admission fee, but are these fees large enough to meet the cost of providing these facilities? In many cases we doubt it. In others, if the fees meet present costs they would not meet costs if these publicly-owned premises were taxed and provision for a share of taxes was added to the cost of providing facilities to these recreational groups.

To continue? We doubt whether there is any satisfactory one. But might not some effort be made to limit the tax-exemption liability for recreational bodies to the cost of the services they enjoy? For instance, a private recreational club ought to pay its share of the costs of fire protection and police protection, since it benefits from these city-supplied services, but there is really no reason why it could not be relieved of sharing in the cost of education. There would be no new principle involved in such a solution. The Municipal Act already provides for similar relief from certain taxes for agricultural lands lying within an urban municipality.

DOUKHOBORS MAY CHANGE THEIR MINDS

There seems to be considerable confusion at present regarding the intentions of the Sons of Freedom, radical sect of Doukhobors. Earlier this week it was reported that they had changed their minds about leaving British Columbia for Russia. This report was later denied. However, if they eventually decide to stay in Canada their decision ought not to prove surprising. The immigration of these highly-individualistic people to a Communist land never made sense.

It is a measure of their bad behavior that Canadian governments, Federal and provincial, should have been prepared to assist them in a move which would almost inevitably have exposed them to real, in the place of fancied, persecution. This is not to suggest that Canadians have not some reason to reproach themselves for the methods used in handling a difficult problem. On the whole, though, Canadian authorities have shown remarkable restraint in dealing with these troublemaking, bomb-using, school-burning pacifists. Does anybody, including the Doukhobors themselves, really believe that the Communist authorities would have been as long suffering?

The Sons of Freedom may have come to their senses in time to save themselves from real trouble. It may be difficult for those British Columbia residents who have had to put up with the Doukhobor antics to welcome this change of heart, but the charitable thing to do, instead of mourning the end of hope that emigration would solve this problem, is to hope that the return of reason will be extended to an acceptance and observance of Canadian laws.

OF MICE AND MEN

For those who think that there is nothing new on this planet we would like to offer an Italian innovation which we think is quite different. This action lies in the realm of the live theatre and the exhibition of performance which the audience dose not feel worthy of intelligence. Recently in Rome a few critical and ingenious first-nighters supplemented the tried and true expression of displeasure by a performance via tomatoes, eggs, and rotten fruit with a parachute drop of white mice.

This latter procedure will not, we feel, become widespread especially in North America where the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals is fairly active. In Italy, however, they might form an S.P.C.A. for actors. North American playgoers will have to be satisfied with an S.P.C.A. for audiences.

KEPT BUSY

By EDGAR A. GUEST

I have no time to see the blue,
Above me in the sky
Or gaze upon the flocy clouds
As they drifting by.
I dare not pause upon my way
To view the leafy tree;
The splendors of returning Spring
I must not stop to see.

Time was when I could gaze in joy
Upon the blossoming bough
And find the song birds on each limb,
But I can't do it now.
It's dangerous for me to dream
While travelling through the town;
Some auto, if I look away,
Will surely run me down.

Holiday Cruise To Historic Caribbean

By G. A. MORTON

ARTICLE 4

Leaving the dock in Santiago we journeyed along the shore of the harbor entrance on the way to Morro Castillo. The drive through the hills and bays and parts of it are carved out of the sides of the hills. Now vistas of the water made the trip a pleasant one and several stops were made for pictures to be taken.

Arriving at our destination we got our first view of Castro's soldiers. Mostly they are in their teens, and like the pictures in the press which we have seen so often, all have permitted their hair to grow to varying lengths which does not make for a tidy appearance. Beards are popular as well. As soon as we got out of the cars several came over and escorted the party to the ruins. It was a bit disconcerting to have all these armed youths so close at hand for all were armed and most had large calibre revolvers hanging from belts. All the while they chattered away amongst themselves and to our drivers and guides. It would have been interesting to know what their opinion was of the visitors as they were quite as curious as we were.

The ruins were of the usual uniforms were clean but not as well fitting as we are accustomed to seeing them on the sons of the younger men. They were a bewildering lot and one would blend in well with the ground cover if the soldiers were not in action for that.

During the tour of the old structure the boys seemed to enjoy it with us and as we left the guide suggested giving them what cigarettes we had. The men could never get enough of the American cigarettes and probably would not afford to buy many otherwise. As we left it was announced that there got a full pack handed it over to one of the group, who passed out the contents to the others. Many "gracias" were voiced as we pulled away.

MORE INTERESTING THAN RUINS

Our chief impression of our visit was that the soldiers were far more interesting than the ruins we came to see.

They are friendly and in credit to the Castro regime in Cuba they seem incapable to make their acquaintance. The ruins were a blank so far as we were concerned and it was practically impossible to hear the guide over the din of the soldiery or interestingly.

Santiago has figured in two wars in the history. During the Spanish-American war, the Rough Rider man Hill, fought just outside of the city was won by the Americans on July 1st, 1898. The charging "Kettle Hill" to capture the blockhouse which ended the battle. Theodore Roosevelt and some of his officers were on horseback and the going on foot for their horses had no arrived in Cuba in time for the battle. Many of the men of his men urging them on and was the most significant battle in general of his men nearby were killed.

Following this battle, the Spanish fleet which was blocked in the harbor by the United States fleet decided on July 3 to make a fight for freedom. As it steamed out the narrow entrance of the harbor and past Morro Castle it was confronted and up and literally blasted the Spanish ships to the bottom. Richard H. R. Hobson had attempted to bottle up the Santiago fleet by sinking an old collier across the channel but he failed to achieve his objective by a wide margin. The collier sank almost distance to one side and left the channel only slightly less but completely under water. Santiago surrendered on July 17, 1898. A large cottonwood tree under whose shade the surrender terms were signed and now known as "The Surrender Tree" is enclosed by a fence to keep it from the sights shown to tourists.

CASTRO'S BIRTHPLACE

Santiago is likewise the birthplace of Cuba's 1958 revolution for Fidele Castro was born in Oriente Province. From reports say this province was the main source of Castro strength for two years before the Batista regime in which 500 to 1,000 people were murdered. It is said that citizens now with satisfaction at the sound of firing squads for the Batistagans the firing squads represent justice.

Retracing our route we passed by a large barded-wire enclosure which contained fifteen looking about with open sides, which were the living quarters of Batista supporters who were held for trial. These must have been several hundred in number.

One of our party who did and their minds are precipitated not go on the tour went for a walk in the city during our absence. As often happens in these lands a tout attached himself to our visitor hoping to guide him around to some of the stores and buildings. Despite attempts to get rid of him he tagged along. As they passed the city jail where some political cells are visible from the street, a couple of women were seen talking to the inmates. They appeared to be greatly agitated and it was learned from the "guide" that the prisoners were to be shot shortly after midnight. The women were likely their wives.

There was nothing outstanding about the rest of the tour. We had a fine lunch at the Ranchon Club, an inn on a hill overlooking the city. All one side was open and nothing interfered with the view which included the inner harbor and the surrounding hills. Coffee made a couple hours were sent in the shopping area.

NARROW STREETS

Here the streets are narrow, the sidewalks about eighteen inches wide and the stores, with the exception of one department store, small and poorly offer the tourist. Women's wearing apparel of desirable quality was much higher in price, than expected, and there seemed to be no difficulty in display handicraft goods as is customary at ports of call. Probably we should not visit Santiago for we have not noticed listed in the cruise literature. There was only one other ship in the harbor and it was a Japanese freighter.

It was good to get back to the ship and relax again for before dinner. Dusk was beginning to fall as we pulled out from the pier and headed out to sea and an over-night trip to Kingston, Jamaica. One day had not been altogether satisfactory for the guides seemed more interested in getting a party into the stores and less in showing us some of the more interesting points of interest the city undoubtedly has. None-English speaking members of the party undoubtedly has. None-certainly no asset on a tour.

The damage done in this section of the country by the terrific wind storm which prevailed yesterday will amount to thousands of dollars. It is impossible, as yet, to ascertain the loss or the full details of the havoc wrought. In Thurlow township alone scores of roofs and other barns were blown from foundations. In many places rail fences were blown about the fields and scattered in all directions. In the roof of the Holgate Evangelical church was lifted and carried some distance. Trees fallen across roads blocked traffic. In this city considerable damage was done, and a number of chimneys blown down. No one was injured. In the western part of the city many sheds were blown down and other sheds trees were damaged. About the corner of the old brick walk on Holloway Street, west of the church, was carried into the road. In the eastern part of the city fences were blown down and trees uprooted with much difficulty. The schooner H. Freeman, loaded with hay and bound for Oswego, was driven from Allen's dock and drifted out into the mouth of the harbor. At present she is resting upon one of the piers used for landing the boom in days gone by. Some damage was also done to the schooner Argo and to the steamer Salaberry.

To Your Good Health

By Joseph G. Molner, M.D.

SNUFFING SALT WATER INTO THE NOSE MAY HARM SINUSES

The following letter may be of interest to a fair number of readers (I remember when I was a youngster well, never mind, I get to that later):

"Dear Dr. Molner: In the past two years I have formed the habit of putting an eyedropper full of salt water in each nostril, with the head tipped way back and then tipping the head all the way down so the salt solution gets into all parts of the sinus cavities then I gargle with warm salt water.

"Several people have told me that this practice can be very harmful to the tender tissues of the sinus cavities and also the mucous lining of the throat. — E.K.V."

Way back when I was in elementary school, there was quite a fad of snuffing salt water through the nose with the idea that it would "clear up a cold" or "open the nasal passages."

This was a practice detested by small boys, but insisted upon by some adults who meant only to be helpful. I remember vividly how unwelcome that it ever did any good, but as a victim, I was prejudiced.

Prejudice aside, however, I am still not convinced that this practice, because it is "possible to carry germs — which may be innocent enough in the nose — into the sinuses where they can be harmful.

The fact is that the secretions or fluids of the nose have certain protective properties and washing them out reduces the natural protection against the various germs, major or minor, with which we are bound to come in contact.

If you had stopped to think, you probably would have said that the salt water reached "all parts" of the sinus cavities, because you can taste it and smell it quite a considerable labyrinth. There is no particular sinus cavities which you are referring, but there are others.

GERMS MIGHT BE TRAPPED

Now I gather that you haven't had any trouble from this sinus rinsing. It is a fair guess that you have escaped any trouble from the sinus cavities. But should one of the openings become narrowed or closed by congestion, germs washed up there and trapped might offr up problems.

One other thing is important: the strength of the solution.

Strong salt solutions can be irritating to the membranes of nose, throat and stomach. A physiological solution is not.

A physiological salt solution the proper strength to use if you use any is one-fourth teaspoonful of salt to 3 1-2 ounces of warm water.

This makes a good gargle, and the water should be hot because the virtue of a gargle (for a minor throat infection) is primarily in the heat of the solution.

"Dear Dr. Molner: My husband is 36 and has a stammering problem. He was quite bad as a child, I understand, and his parents refused him when he asked that they seek help for him. He has only certain words that cause him social conversation, but under stress he seems to have quite a bit of difficulty and he has been told this may hinder his chances for good jobs and classes or clinics that might help. — C.D.S."

More power to him for patiently overcoming this problem! Incidentally, it is a handicap that stress, embarrassment or fatigue tends to make more stammering crop up. Yes, in most metropolitan areas there are clinics for cases like his. The best way to find them for you, or anyone is to ask your own doctor to refer you; if he is unable to help, your family physician will be glad to give you the information.

"Dear Dr. Molner: I have read that it is unwise to eat many eggs. Are they harmful? — Mrs. S."

I have read these theories, too, in publications of our most noted authorities. I have them before me just that — theories. They are not supported by fact. The evidence is the other setting eggs.

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

Now that the fishing season is practically at hand, we might consider the question of fishing as being the best of all possible sports, recreations and hobbies.

Unlike golf, bowling, billiards, skiing, sailing motoring and such-like, golf is all three. It is a sport, obviously. It is a recreation that truly recreates the man for it takes you not to a suburban golf pasture, but into a small boiling alive with life and into the flameless wilds along with the timber, wild animals and birds. It is a hobby because you can cuddle your fishing tackle, playing with it, tying flies, or sitting in the barn all through the winter — a thing the golfer cant do. And it is one that alters cuddling their skills in summer, nor sailors fetching their boats into the house at autumn's end.

Unlike golf, you don't have to get up at dawn to enjoy it and play only eighteen holes. Many of the athletic sports have to be quit before you are forty. The golden age of sailors is forty after all, but you're liable to invite young people aboard.

But you can take up fishing at any age and keep at fishin until you are a hundred, as Sir Winston Churchill, chief justice, demonstrated.

And unlike golf, the older you get, the better a fisherman you think you are. By the time you are sixty you are ready to designate yourself the most knowledgable, gifted, experienced and successful fisherman in the district.

Fishing, you see, unlike any other sport or hobby, is largely in the mind.

Look at the self-satisfied glow that comes over a husband when a wife brags that the children do everything for them whenever he's around.

Notice the pleased expression of the husband when one of his mits publicly that she couldn't hold down a job if Jim or Joe or Tom weren't "big" enough to share the household chores 30-50.

See the flattered look on the face of the fellow whose wife eagerly brags that he is such a shrewd buyer he knows all the groceries for the family.

It would be downright funny, if it weren't so shocking, to see how cleverly a lot of wives are selling their husbands on the idea that they're great big he-men.

It's pleasant to see a man throw back his shoulders when his wife brags about him to us a man.

But it's distressing to see the pleased look that comes over a man's face when his wife brags about how handy he is in the kitchen or how well he knows his way around the supermarket.

Strength for The Day

DR. EARL L. DOUGLASS

FASCINATION

The word "fascination" comes from a Latin word meaning "a spell." It smacks of what people in olden days called witchcraft. To be fascinated person is so completely taken up and taken by a person or thing that he can be said to be under a spell.

There is a fascination about evil which the wise have always feared. It has a spell, the mind turns upon evil we saw it in all its grossness, we would probably turn away in disgust. But when we see is something which fairly bewitches us. The mind of here is the most desirable thing in the world. Then the most devastating evils of life clothe themselves in vestments of beauty and appeal. Those who are weak in the flesh look on with longing and succumb to sensual indulgence, and believe that they see in these life's most glittering prizes. They are deceived by covetousness and dishonesty look on money and possessions into turmoil as they think of the satisfaction they would have from possessing money and other worldly goods. Fortune fascinates other people. Some love power so much that they will sell their souls to the devil to be given a free hand to wield it.

When such temptations beckon us, let us beware of falling under powers greater than any which we ourselves possess. We are in danger of being fascinated — put under a spell, rendered helpless.

Fascination.

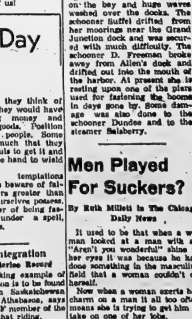
Men Played For Suckers?



By Ruth Millett in The Chicago Daily News

It used to be that when a woman looked at a man with an "Aren't you fascinating?" in her eyes it was because he had done something in the masculine field that a woman couldn't do herself.

But now when a woman exerts her charm on a man it all too often means she is trying to get him to take on one of her jobs.

And the men are falling for the new method.

Will Name New High School Nicholson Catholic College

The new Catholic high school, to be built on Church Street, Belleville, next to St. Michael's Academy for occupancy this coming year, is to be officially named Nicholson Catholic College.

Honoring the late Monsignor J. F. Nicholson, pastor of St. Michael's Church, Belleville, from September 7, 1930, until his death on August 16, 1959, the name of the new school will prevent the memory of the beloved priest whose enthusiasm, efforts and financial support were largely responsible both for the old St. Michael's High School opened in 1941 and the impressive new college.

MONSIGNOR J. F. NICHOLSON

James Francis Nicholson was born in Kingston, in 1882, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nicholson. He received his early education at St. Mary's School and Regiopolis College, Kingston. He attended the Grand Seminary, Montreal, and was ordained to the priesthood in the manse chapel on July 16, 1905, by the late Archbishop, Paul Bruchesi.

After serving as assistant at Kingston, Frankford, Erinsville and Prescott, he offered his services to his country during the first world war, and went overseas in February, 1916, as Chaplain to the 5th Canadian Mounted Rifles. He returned home in 1919, both officers and men, and won the Military Cross for his gallant devotion to duty.

DEAN OF COLLEGE

The war over, Father Nicholson returned to Kingston and was appointed Dean of Regiopolis College where he distinguished himself as an educator. In 1928 his duties were increased by his being named Vicar General of the Archdiocese. He served in these capacities until his appointment as pastor of St. Michael's parish, Belleville, where he took office on September 7, 1930.

His first parochial work was to open by a great ceremony, in which the Apostolic Delegate, Archbishop Cassulo took part, the restored St. Michael's Academy. This event took place October 20, 1930.

The following year he was named Domestic Prelate by His Holiness Pope Pius XI and henceforth Father Nicholson was affectionately known as "The Monsignor".

He did not spend his time meditating on his new honor, but plunged himself with the affairs of his parish. He believed that the most urgent need was for a high school and directed his talents and private funds toward making this possible. St. Michael's High School was built up from the entrance class of 1932 and finally reached the 13th grade.

HIGH SCHOOL OPENED

Classes were held in the first years in St. Michael's Academy, but accommodation there was too limited and plans were made for the renovation of the Convent on John Street. In 1941 this building was ready and became St. Michael's High School. The Sisters of Providence moved to a handsome new convent on Victoria Ave.

Besides the establishment of a complete high school course Monsignor Nicholson has left, among other achievements, the large parking lot south of the church, the demolition of several unsightly buildings, and the large Cemetery Cross.

He had a large personal library containing many religious and classical works, which he willed to the high school library. Before his death he foresaw that even the John St. school would not prove adequate for long, and he made provision for a generous bequest towards a new Catholic high school which he felt should be built before many years had paused.

In his lifetime Monsignor Nicholson was greatly respected and loved, and he received many honors. His memory and devotion to education will be perpetuated in Nicholson Catholic College, and its future graduates will continue to honor his name.

Gangster Friend Of Hoffa Ruled Jukebox Owners

WASHINGTON (AP) — Detroit jukebox operators surrendered to the underworld when William Bufalino, a sidekick of teamsters union President James R. Hoffa, took control of the teamsters jukebox local, Senate investigators have been told.

Witnesses testified Wednesday that Bufalino stepped into leadership of Local 985 from a jukebox distributor partnership with an alleged Mafia narcotics trafficker.

Before the hearing, counsel Robert F. Kennedy of the Senate rackets committee renewed an invitation to Hoffa to appear in reply to any testimony reflecting on him. But Hoffa, who was accused Tuesday of sharing in a payoff in a Detroit jukebox war, made no immediate move to accept the invitation. He is on the committee's list for questioning later, probably in June.

Morris Goldman, a former president of the Michigan Automatic Phonograph Owners Association in Detroit, said he and other operators were told in 1947 they could "find harmony in our industry" by agreeing to Bufalino's becoming an assistant to Eugene (Jimmy) James, then president of Local 985.

Goldman said he and his fellow operators had to agree to this and that later Bufalino became No. 1 man in the local.

Hoffa himself told the jukebox operators that "all business was to be transacted through Bufalino" after James had faded out in September, 1947, Goldman testified.

Police Plan Annual Ball

Although the event is still almost a month away, members of the Ontario Provincial Police Association are already planning for their annual Association dance to be held May 8th at Club Commodore in Belleville. Police officers from group-about the No. 2 Provincial Police district as well as a great many district civilians look forward to this dance, deemed one of the social events of the year.

District Underwriter Attends Conference

TORONTO — Ontario officials of the Life Underwriters Association Training Course began a two-day conference this afternoon at the Royal York Hotel to discuss course administrative techniques. They will lay plans for the 1959-60 class session which opens next October. Among those attending is D. G. Williams, C.L.U., Belleville.

The Life Underwriters Association Training Course is a two-year, classroom training program for life insurance underwriters designed to supplement basic company training and lead to the more advanced three-year studies for the designation "Chartered Life Underwriter" (C.L.U.).

The men attending today's conference are course chairmen in their respective districts and are responsible for all course administration and enrolment in their areas.

Fire Sends Family Out In Night Garb

RYLSTONE — A fire caused by an oil burner stove caused about $1,000 damage to the home of Will Stewart on Monday night about 10 o'clock. The family had retired for the night, when Mrs. Stewart was awakened by the smell of oily smoke. When fire was discovered, the occupants escaped the house in their night attire while Don fought the fire with a coal. Several of the neighbors were at the community sale at Hoards, so it took quite a while to round up much help. Fred Petherick the nearest neighbor arrived with a fire extinguisher and helped put out the fire. The floor beside the stove was burned through and there was a lot of fire damage in that room, a large double room. The rest of the house was filled with thick oily smoke.

Mrs. Fred Elliott, Stirling, was tendered a surprise birthday party recently.

Those who met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elliott for the occasion were: Mr. and Mrs. Mackleprang and Jack, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Reid and George, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Heath and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Fitchet and Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Campbell and Ann, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Buck and family, of Hastings; Mr. and Mrs. Everett Elliott, Maynard and Fred, of Holloway; Mrs. Arthur Emerson, Mr. and Mrs. Vern Rose and Mr. and Mrs. Gardiner Welsh, Belleville.

Mrs. Elliott was presented with a rocking chair, lace tablecloth, and lamp, "mums the word" which she graciously thanked all.

Her birthday cake was brilliantly lit with 10 candles.

Ladies' Curling Club Holds Annual Meeting

The annual meeting and election of officers for the ladies' section of the Quinte Curling Club was held Tuesday night.

The club rooms were tastefully decorated for the occasion by the house committee. A potluck supper, preceded by a social hour, followed. The convener was Mrs. Kay Pinder and Eva Corke, and all enjoyed by some eighty members.

Special entertainment, under the direction of Ethel Cowling, was provided by Nina Gault, Kay Pinder, Ruth Burrows, Sunshine McArthur, Marjorie Latimer, Theda Miller and Marjorie Fralick.

Annual reports were then given by the following: secretary, Nina Gault; treasurer, Bobe Jarrett; ways and means, Madeleine Wolfenden; house, Ruth Burrows; social, Theda Miller in the absence of convener Dorothy MacKinnon; publicity, Mildred Eastable; bonspiel, Sunshine McArthur; games, Ena Corke.

A successful, happy season was reported by all.

A vote of thanks was recorded to Mr. Pat Houston for his work of drafting the draw sheets for the club, also to the ladies' Club for granting the ladies' section special ice time. Sunshine McArthur thanked The Ontario Intelligencer for the kind donation of their trophy and prizes for the ladies' annual bonspiel.

PRESENT PRIZES

Presentations of prizes were made by Eva Corke, Audrey Gowsell and Doris Houston to the following rinks:

1st Draw—winning rink, Katherine Black, Patti Emerson, Ann Watkin, Mary Mott, skip; runner-up, Theda Miller, Marie Holway, Jean Wells, Wilma MacKeen, skip.

Harper Coleman Trophy — winning rink, Mary Livingston, Alaneen Murray, Agnes Walker, Audrey Gowsell, runner-up, Ruth Tollwell, Jessie Robertson, Rose McCorquodale, Mary Mott, skip.

In the president's farewell message she thanked her hard working executive for their assistance and guidance during the past year. She said she felt the incoming president would receive the same co-operation from the new executive.

"It was a real honor for me to be chosen, by the directors of the men's club at the beginning of the year 1958, to head up the committee to organize the ladies' section of the Quinte Curling club," she said. "Then in April of 1958 you elected me to be your first president. I am grateful. Shaping up a new club demands a lot of time and energy, not only on the part of your president, but of your whole executive as well. It is a very rewarding experience when the results are good fellowship and good curling.

"I leave my chair with a thought for you: Be a good hostess at your curling club, remember that the game of curling is for recreation and friendly competition, never let the competitive spirit override the spirit of recreation and fun. In that way we will always have good curling and good fellowship," she concluded.

RECEIVE NOMINATIONS

Nominations were then received by the past president, with 19 members letting their names stand for the executive, out of which 12 would be elected. Sunshine McArthur, Ruth Ruggle and Ruth Burrows acted as scrutineers.

Those elected to the executive are as follows: Ena Corke, Ethel Deacon, Nina Gault, Audrey Gowsell, Doris Houston, Bobs Jarrett, Jean Smith, Kay Smith, Mildred Staebler, Mary Tripp, Patsy Wamboldt and Jessie White.

Committee members along with the past president will meet in the near future to form a group from in themselves the president, secretary, treasurer, house and social committee chairmen.

During the counting of the ballots Mildred Staebler took into discussion groups. Dorothy Seiben convened this part of the meeting and appointed as leaders of groups Kay Smith, Ruth Tollwell, Grace Carruthers, Elsie Punchard, Helen McCorquodale and Mildred Staebler. Many good ideas and suggestions were made for the perusal of the 1959-1960 executive.

GIRL GUIDE, BROWNIE NEWS

The annual joint Girl Guide meeting of the three companies of the Belleville South East District was held recently under the chairmanship of the District Commissioner, Mrs. H. Floyd. Nearly 80 Girl Guides attended representing Belleville Company 1 (Captain Mrs. N. Gerow), Company 2 (Captain Mrs. M. Haig) and Point Anne Company (Captain Mrs. L. Howe). Members of the Division Council with the Division Commissioner, Mrs. Diamantides, and members of the district local association were also represented.

A mass horse show was formed, and the meeting opened with the Queen, and the Guide Prayer. Mrs. Diamantides then presented the First Class Badge to Trudi Haig, Ellen McCreary and Rosemary Tanner all of Company 2 and complimented them on achieving this badge. She explained this was a real milestone in Guide work and represented many hours of hard work and service for each Guide. Trudi Haig and Rosemary Tanner were also presented with the Little House Emblem showing they had passed several badges connected with domestic cooking, housekeeping, child nursing, needlewoman, laundress). The prize to the Company selling the most tickets for the Guide tea held in February was presented by Mrs. Floyd to Captain Haig of Company 3, this consisted of a Guide record of songs from other lands.

Mrs. Diamantides, the Division Commissioner, gave a short talk complimenting the Guides on having a fine turnout. She told them about the provincial area meeting which was held in Toronto during the past month. All area commissioners gave a report on the activities of the Guide Companies in their areas, giving details on how some of the Companies raised money for good causes, or ways in which they were serving their communities. She then described the impressive ceremony of the presentation of The Gold Cord, the highest and most difficult achievement in guiding to Provincial guides. One of the recipients this year was a guide from Deseronto. Diamantides suggested that if such a handicapped girl could achieve this high honor, it should be a great inspiration to other Guides.

The Guides then played some special Guide games, including a clever knot game where each Patrol had to guess several ridiculous and impossible knot to each riddle. This was won by the Scarlet Tanager Patrol of Company 2.

Guild Plans Coffee Party And Bake Sale

The regular monthly meeting of St. Margaret's Evening Guild was held on Monday evening with the president, Mrs. G. Mountford, presiding.

Plans were made for the coming coffee party and bake sale to be conveners by Mrs. D. Bass and held at the church on the evening of April 20th.

Discussion of the rummage sale to be held at the Armouries on May 1st followed, and all present were urged to collect as much clothing as possible for a successful sale.

A motion was made and seconded that the Sunday school decorating committee choose samples of drapery material for the Sunday school and obtain estimates on the material and work.

This information is to be presented at the first meeting in May.

It was decided to make the May meeting the last one until fall.

The meeting was adjourned and refreshments were served by Mrs. T. Bennett and her group.

A large camp fire circle was formed and each Company put on a skit to entertain the other Guides. Point Ane Company thrilled in this, and had everyone convulsed with laughter. The camp fire circle ended with Company 1 singing the Brownie in a sing-song of songs learned at the Area District Leaders' Conference held at Trenton last month.

District Commissioner, Mrs. H. Floyd, spoke of the 50th anniversary of Girl Guiding in Canada which takes place in 1960, and explained the plans which have been made to celebrate this momentous occasion. Millions of gold tulips one of the Guide colors will be planted in every town and city across Canada so as to herald the spring of 1960 and each bloom will represent a "thank you" to the public for their help and support of the Guiding movement. Belleville Guides and Brownies will do their part. Each Company and Pack will help, and our city next year will take on an additional beauty at tulip time.

Mrs. Floyd then reported Canadian Guides have there had a headquarters building in Canada, and a plan is now underway to build one during the Jubilee Year. The slogan for this great project is "Square inches for Sale," and if everyone in Canada connected with Guiding would buy five or ten share of square inches at 10c each the building would have enough money without having to ask the general public for support. She asked that during the very Guide and Brownie in her district would do their part to help, and suggested each Company keep a piggie bank to hold the dimes and a guinea a Guide might earn through helping others.

Mrs. Floyd also announced the annual cookie day for the Guides and Brownies would be held on May 8th, and the annual church parade for the Guide and Scout movement in Belleville will be on May 10th. The meeting closed with Taps, and so ended a most interesting and entertaining evening, one which will be always remembered by the Guides of Belleville South East District.

African Christian Leaders Calling on West for Help

By JOAN THOMPSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP)—African and Oriental racial nationalism is exerting urgent pressures on Christian mission schools in Canada, signalling that the rising tide of nationalism may make it impossible to get help from abroad for much longer, native Christian church leaders are calling on the West for immediate help," said Miss Margaret Webster, principal of the Missionary and Deaconess Training School of the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

In Canada, too, there are demands for more trained workers who can direct others towards leadership in the church and help members to carry responsibility. Miss Webster, soft - spoken but purposeful, regards recruitment of students for the Toronto school as a foremost objective.

CHRISTIAN EDUCATION

"For the last 25 years, and particularly since the Second World War, all denominations have put increased emphasis on Christian education," the principal said in an interview. "Many churches across Canada have built centres in which a co-ordinated development program embraces the whole group within a congregational area. Such programs have created a demand for all school's graduates workers."

Miss Webster knows Canada from coast to coast. After teaching one year in Ekera, Ont., high school, she became Girls' World Secretary for the Presbyterian Church, feeling that the "must do service of value to the world within the church."

She took the associate secretaryship of Christian Education for the Canadian Council of Churches next and went on to become executive director of the Women's Missionary Society, Western Division, in the Presbyterian Church.

"A writer as well as a musical, point of view is vital in the making of today's citizen," said the educationist, a daughter of the late Rev. Charles Webster, minister of Zion Presbyterian Church, Charlottetown, for 22 years.

STUDIED ABROAD

Miss Webster spent a year's leave of absence studying and travelling in Britain and North America before taking over her present post last fall.

At the Ecumenical Institute, Geneva, along with other students representing all continents, she discussed world religious questions, going on to visit women's lay and training schools.

The sixth head of the Canadian school for organization in 1907, Miss Webster was educated at Prince of Wales College, Charlottetown, and at the University of Western Ontario, London, Ont.

TRINITY UNITED W.M.S.

MADOC — Mrs. Jesse Reid was hostess for the April meeting of Trinity United W.M.S. on Wednesday afternoon with a good attendance of members.

Mrs. Albert Empey was in charge and after the opening exercises gave a short account of the roof top schools being conducted in Hong Kong that were proving very successful. She paid tribute to Miss Ethel Richmond, a member who had passed away on Wednesday and also offered prayer for the bereaved, the sick and shut-ins. Reports were received from the conveners, Mrs. Bennett and Mrs. Burnside.

Immigration and unemployment were the topics of the Study Book and were ably given by the leader, Mrs. Earl Burnside, assisted by Mrs. W. McCoy, speaking on the New Canadians Italian, Ukranians and Scandinavians.

Miss Annie Holmes and Mrs. Fleming were in charge of the Worship period. They chose the Easter theme. Mrs. Fleming read the Bible story and meditation was given by Mrs. Drinkwater. Mrs. Albert Empey gave a reading "The Story of Easter". Miss Holmes conducted a service on Easter as prepared by a member of the Board of Missions. This was accompanied by appropriate hymns in keeping with the Easter season and concluded a very interesting meeting. The hostess and her assistants served a bountiful lunch.

GIRLS' GUIDES HOLD TEA

The Girl Guides of Madoc held their annual tea and bake sale Mrs. Saunday's kitchen in the Masonic Banquet Hall.

The girls were in uniform and each table was served its own table. The testable was attractively set with white tablecloths and silver candelabra.

Those who poured were Mrs. C. Johnson, Mrs. William Bateman, Mrs. Oria Reid and Mrs. Ken Hay. Others who served attended and be girls were rewarded for their efforts.

Japan's Cinderella Finds Tension Is Indescribable

By JOHN RODERICK

TOKYO (AP)—The pretty commoner will marry her prince Friday, in the climax to a storybook romance.

"I am passing each day wrapped in an indescribable state of tension," murmured 24-year-old Michiko Shoda as the hour of her traditional betrothal gift-giving to Crown Prince Akihito drew near.

As the palace the bride-to-be will begin the lengthy task of donning her wedding robes, a 12-layered kimono ensemble, that alone will weigh a kilo (2.2 pounds) after headdress of ancient court belles.

The prince will wear imperial yellow court robes, a black lacquered shinto cap and bear a white scepter. Because his costume is so much simpler, he won't have to go to the palace to dress until three hours after his bride.

The simple Shinto marriage ceremony will take 15 minutes.

GOOD MANNERS

By Mrs. Beekman

INTRODUCTION ETIQUETTE

Dear Mrs. Beekman:

Recently I re-married my husband has a married daughter. Last week my husband and I were dining in a restaurant, and we met her and some friends of hers. She introduced us to them in this way: "Meet my father and my father's wife." Was she correct? — R. E.

No. (1) In the first place it is not correct to make an introduction by giving an order: for example, "meet ..." (2) Mother is personal and gracious than "my father's wife" is. I should say, "my stepmother." (3) Since her father's surname differs from her surname, she should mention his name in the introduction. So she correctly and simply might have said, "Mrs. Gordon . . . this is my father and my stepmother, Mr. and Mrs. Blake."

DECISION SHOULD WAIT FOR FIANCE'S RETURN

Dear Mrs. Beekman: •

I have a very serious personal problem which I hope you can help me. I am planning to be married next summer. The ceremony is to be at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, to be followed by a reception at a nearby inn at 7 o'clock. My fiance, who is away in Service, and I made an agreement, when we made our wedding plans, that we would not invite any relatives or friends under 17 years of age. Now my prospective mother-in-law insists on inviting one grandchildren, who are all under 6 years of age. She says that if the children aren't invited, she will not attend the wedding ceremony or the reception.

I feel that if I bow to her, I will have to invite all our younger relatives or cause a lot of hard feelings between the two families. This is my wedding and I feel that I have the right to say if children are to be invited or not, regardless of who they are. Please give me your advice.

— Reader

You say most forcefully to have your father's say in this decision concerning not inviting to the wedding any relatives or friends under 17 years of age. Since you and he made this agreement, you really have the right not to keep your part of the agreement unless he releases you. Therefore your wisest procedure, I most enthusiastically advise, is, if possible, not to mention the inviting-situation to your fiance's mother. If he brings up the question, explain, as graciously as possible, the agreement you and her son made adding that of course the decision must wait until he returns.

It is indeed your wedding, and indeed you and your fiance have the right to make the decisions about the wedding plans, but as in all the pathways of life, you must try to be realistic about not permitting clouds to arise when this can be avoided. And it is clearly your job to be as gracious and understanding as possible to your fiance's mother, to keep the relationship in fine-tishing health. That takes poise and grace.

ANOTHER CASE OF SHOWER-ITIS

Dear Mrs. Beekman:

Would it be proper for me to give my son and his wife a kitchen shower? They have been married for four months and are living with me. They are planning to build a new house while they are still living with me, to be finished late this next summer. Reader.

It is never considered proper for a mother (or any other close relative) to give a shower, any kind of shower. Because naturally a shower given under such close - relationship auspices makes it look like the "promotion-for-gift" it really always is. And the shower you have in mind to give is such a very obvious plan to equip the kitchen of your son's soon-to-be-built house that I suggest you give more thought to what your relatives and friends would, or certainly might, think about your plan.

Women's Activities

SPRINGBROOK W.A.

The regular meeting of the Women's Association of Springbrook United Church was held on Thursday afternoon in the church basement. The hostesses were Mrs. Gordon Webb and Mrs. Bert McCoy.

The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. Carman Sine. The worship period was conducted by Mrs. Gerald Brodsworth, the theme being "Love Your Neighbor." Following the singing of a hymn, the Scripture, taken from Luke 10-37, was read by Miss Muriel McMullen. Psalm 15 was read responsively. A prayer for missionary Miss Gould, was given by Miss M. Mc-Coy. The home thoughts were read by Miss Doreen Broadworth. The worship closed with a prayer and the hymn "Easter Lilies" was sung by the Group.

The roll call, "Name of An American Neighbor," was responded to by 17 members. The members reported 26 cards and 3 phone calls made. The correspondence was read and dealt with and consisted of two "thank-yous" and an anniversary announcement.

The various reports given showed several calls made by the visiting committees.

Mrs. Reg McKeown reported a box of fruit and four cards sent out by the fruit and flower committee. Mrs. John McKeown expressed her appreciation for messages of sympathy in her recent bereavement. The financial report given by the treasurer, Mrs. Frank Cosboy, showed a balance of $603.39 on hand.

A short business period followed. It was agreed a buried-out family be remembered with bedding.

The visiting volunteers for April will be Mrs. Malcolm McMullen and Mrs. John McKeown.

A committee was named, consisting of Mrs. Edward Bateman, Mrs. Ralph Thompson, Mrs. George Thompson, Mrs. George Williams and Mrs. Harry Haslett to arrange for the catering to the Williams Livestock Sales in May.

A committee of Mrs. George Williams, Mrs. John McKeown, Mrs. Harry Haslett and Mrs. Carman Sine was named to make inquiries regarding the purchasing of a piano for the church basement.

This concluded the business and the topic entitled "Fingerpaints" was given by Mrs. Geo. Williams. A reading by Mrs. Malcolm McMullen followed. Contests were given by Mrs. C. Bateman and Mrs. Reg. McKeown. The meeting closed with a benediction by Mrs. Sine and collection.

The hostesses for the May meeting will be the executive, when the W.A. entertains the Mission Band and their mothers.

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Family Council consists of a judge, a psychiatrist, three clergymen, a newspaper editor, a women's editor and two writers. Each article is a summary of an actual case history. The Council reports on problems that have been dealt with by responsible agencies and counsellors.

Grace F. — Louise is crazy to want to visit our father.

Louise R. — I always felt we were a bit hard on him.

Grace F. — My brother-in-law has asked me to help him out with a very serious problem concerning my sister.

Louise and Jim have been married six years and have three youngsters. The years ago Jim got an excellent job and they managed to save up enough for the down payment on a home. But now Louise wants to take a big hunk of that and pay a visit to our father who lives nearly 3,000 miles away. Of course, she'd take the kids with her.

This is a crazy thing to do because we haven't seen our father in ten years. After Mom died, he left to be on Aunt's care and went off galavanting. Finally he married and settled so far from us as he could get. He used to write occasionally, but we never answered. He never even sent enough for our support, so why should Louise put him above her own family?

Louise R. — I just can't explain it, but I do want so much to see my father again. And I want him to see his grandchildren. He is past 70 and in poor health so I don't know how long we'll have the chance.

Grace though, I was crazy when I answered Dad's Christmas card this year, but I'm glad I did. I think it shows he really appreciates my love and doesn't forget us. I just know he wants to see me and his grandchildren.

Somehow, I've always felt we were a bit hard on Dad. He probably didn't want to leave us but was all mixed up after Mom's death. I want him to know that I, at least, have no more hard feelings. On the other hand, I do feel bad about Jim and the money. He has worked so hard for it and looked forward so much to our getting settled in our own home. This "motion" of mine has been quite a blow.

The Council: It is hard to argue with feelings. If they are strong enough, sacrifices must sometimes be made to fulfill them.

On the other hand, it is important to know whether such feelings are real and deep, not merely impulses, before making a big sacrifice for them.

In many ways, Louise makes good sense. Probably her judgment on her father was overharsh at one time and now that she realizes he is aged and ill, she is overwhelmed by a sense of guilt and wants to make amends. Understandably, she also wants her only living parent to share in the joy of her children.

However, Louise should consider whether she might not be able to satisfy herself without imposing a heavy sacrifice on her family and dealing "a blow" to her husband.

An exchange of letters and pictures may go a longer way than Louise now believes. She should open her heart and tell her father in writing the things she may never be able to say if she sees him face-to-face. She should try to get her father to do the same. These communications should be supplemented by long distance telephone calls. Louise may find that her need for more closeness to her father is fairly well satisfied.

Louise should bear in mind that face-to-face meetings are often disappointing. Her father may not be all she thinks now wants to believe he is, and the confrontation could leave a bitter taste. It would be sad to make a big sacrifice for that.

STARTED RACE RIOT

LUMBERTON N. C. (AP)—James R. (Catfish) Cole went to jail here Tuesday to begin serving an 18-24 month prison term for inciting a riot at a Ku Klux Klan rally. The charge followed his Klan rally near Maxton Jan. 18, 1958, which was broken up by Lumbee Indians.

Entertain Your Guests Thriftily

by Mary Moore

Most of you know how to prepare Italian noodles and meat balls for 8 but I've gotta' tell you again anyway, because my latest batch made so many people happy — all for $2.00 — and that's news!

This crowd was from out of town and had been delayed by bad road conditions, and was starved.

ITALIAN SAUCE AND MEAT BALLS ON NOODLES

Two lbs. hamburg, 2 eggs, 2 slices whole - wheat bread, 1 tablespoon Worcestershire Sauce, ¼ cup "hot" catsup, ¼ cup hot water, 1 finely cut garlic clove, 1 teaspoon each salt, and mustard. In the bottom of a mixing bowl soak the bread in the hot water, then add all remaining ingredients and mix well with hands. To serve 8, shape into 30 uniform balls. (This allows an average of 3 each with some extras.) Brown these in large frying pan in butter or salad or olive oil, turning very frequently. Have ready in another very large frying pan 4 tablespoons butter or salad or olive oil in which you have sauteed one oil lump but not brown 1 chopped onion, 1 chopped garlic clove, 1 cup chopped celery stalks and leaves, 1 green pepper. Add two 28-oz. tins canned tomatoes and as the meat balls are brown transfer them to the big frying pan, and when all are added simmer over low heat ¾ to 1 hour. Add teaspoon each oregano and salt and some shakes of black pepper to taste. Have ready 1 package Italian bread noodles (13c) cooked in plenty of boiling salted water. When sauce is a little reduced but still thinned, drain the noodles. Serve a mound on each dinner plate, top with 3 meat balls. Spoon 2 or 3 heaping tablespoons of sauce over each rolls.

and sprinkle that with grated or shredded old Cheddar or Parmesan cheese. The leftover noodles were turned into a bowl with leftover meat balls on top. The remaining sauce and cheese were taken in small bowls to the table for those who could hold "second".

The salad was 1 whole medium cabbage grated, 1 head Iceberg lettuce shredded, 1 bunch parsley chopped and the dressing was moistened with Garlic French Dressing.

There were some apples in the basket that needed attention, so I washed and cored them, trimmed out the spots, added water to half cover and 2 sticks cinnamon bark and cooked them covered until tender. Then I strained them and added red colloring and sugar and served them in my best cut glass bowl.

In toting up the cost the cash outlay was less than $5.00, and this included coffee, cream, sugar and butter and homemade rolls.

Niagara Canning Plants' Closing Will Be Probed

OTTAWA (CP) — John Smith (PC—Lincoln) asked in the Commons Tuesday that Trade Minister Churchill look into the recent closing of Canadian Canners' canning plants in the Niagara Peninsula.

Earlier, William H. A. Thomas (PC — Middlesex West) asked about a curtailment of production at a Canadian Canners plant at Strathroy, and whether this was a move to replace Ontario produce with United States products.

Mr. Churchill said he had heard there was to be a production curtailment this year at the Strathroy plant but the source of products was a matter for the company.

Mr. Smith then said that of eight Canadian Canners plants in the Niagara Peninsula, six have recently been closed. He asked Mr. Churchill to investigate the situation and reply later.

Mrs. Jean Miller and Mrs. Emily Murray of Belleville, and Mr. Murray Whiteman of Shannonville, spent Sunday with Mrs. Lottie Anderson.

The regular meeting of the Board of Education held on Monday night was addressed by Mr. Davies of the Men Teachers' Federation and Miss Harrower of the Women Teachers' Federation, regarding salary schedules for the Deseronto school. While there was some discussion on the matter no definite conclusion was reached.

In the regular business the resignation of Peter Roach, assistant principal of the public school, was accepted.

Mr. Runnalls of the public school reported some 40 cases of chicken pox was affecting the attendance of the public school. He also estimated there would be an enrollment of 375 in the fall.

In the report on the high school, Dr. Quirk advised the Board the excursion of the high school pupils to the Ex. of Science Seaway would be held in the early part of May and that arrangements were now being made.

SPORTS CLUB MEETS

The regular meeting of the Deseronto Bowling, Rod and Gun Club was held on April 1st with a good attendance. The resignation of V. Beenhour as treasurer due to pressure of work was accepted and E. M. Lush was appointed in his place.

The plans for the coming season were discussed and include several improvements to the club property. The road will be improved and some fill spread on the approaches to the best lanes. The club also plan on the erection of a suitable building for hygenic purposes.

At the present time the members are spending considerable time and effort on their boats and plan to have them ready in time for the pickerel season.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Mowers of Napanee were Sunday callers with his sister, Mrs. Joe Clare, and Mr. Clare.

Mr. A. Sauer of Walkerton was a weekend guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Jackson.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. McVicker spent several days last week in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Knapp of Brockville spent the weekend as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. McCullough.

Mrs. M. Lush accompanied by Murray and Judy spent the Easter week with her mother in Toronto.

Mr. Wilbert Brant of Buffalo was a guest last week of Mrs. Frank Brant, Sr.

STIRLING

Mrs. Roy Tucker Named President River Valley W.I.

STIRLING — The annual meeting of River Valley Women's Institute was held on April 1 at the home of Mrs. Percy Morrow with sixteen ladies in attendance. A bouquet of varigated tulips added beauty.

The president, Mrs. Rose Shuh, opened the meeting with "The Institute Code," and The Lord's Prayer in unison. Miss Linda Morrow officiated at the piano.

The new copies of "Home Economics Services" were distributed. Miss Helen McMeeker, director, says "a home economics program must be kept up to date but it is also important to keep the good old standards and skills that are basic in homemaking."

Mrs. R. Bush gave her financial and financial reports. The proceeds of the two card parties in March and a social evening were over $52. Several gifts had been paid and a donation of $1 given to the Stirling Red Cross. She reported a balance of $122.

Mrs. Percy MacMullen gave a report of the St. Patrick's card party and voiced thanks for the extra food. The proceeds given to the treasurer were $20.55.

The president spoke words of appreciation to all the conveners of the social evenings and card parties for their efforts.

The reports of the standing committees were given as follows: Historical research and current events, by Mrs. Roy Irven; citizenship and education, Mrs. Percy Urman; home economics and health and resolutions, Mrs. Jack Bush.

Owing to illness the report of "Agriculture and Canadian Industries" was not given. The report of "public relations" was presented by Mrs. Percy MacMullen. Mrs. Bush's own department which was included in Agriculture and Canadian Industries, was the first report on that theme.

The eleven Institute meetings and all social events were reported in the form of questions.

There was one $3 charitable gift and three gifts to underprivileged children at Christmas amounting to almost $10. In the miscellaneous department gifts included fruit boxes at sick gifts and Christmas gifts, also funeral flowers, a gift to Stirling fair board and two magazine subscriptions to Adelaide Leigh W.I. England, which is the ACWW Friendship Link, and these gifts totalled over $108.

In May, 1958, 200 hundred pounds of children's clothing, layettes and sweaters, valued at $118, were shipped for Mrs. Haggarty's FWIC project for Arab children and refugees. All of this work, both at home in the River Valley community and abroad, cost a grand total of $250.

All the conveners were reminded to forward their reports at an early date to the district convener, Mrs. Ralph Ulman.

A report of "The Tweedsmuir History," which had been prepared by Mrs. Roy Bush, was read.

The ACWW report was read and in the new business a subscription was authorized to "The Countryman Magazine."

Interspersing the business items Misses Helen, Margaret, Lois and Ruth Morrow delighted with vocal selections. A solo was rendered by Miss Linda Morrow with her mother as accompanist.

The Friendship Link secretary, Mrs. MacMullen, read a letter from Mrs. M. Conrad Abbott's Leigh, England, expressing Easter greetings to the members of River Valley Institute.

The District Director, Mrs. MacMullen, gave a comprehensive report of the spring executive meeting of West Hastings district held in Belleville in March. River Valley W.I. will be the hostess branch for the District Annual on May 23, in the IOOF hall, Stirling, with a two sessions.

Some discussion took place re quilts. The new fee will be $4 for a plain quilt complete.

A donation of $5 was made to the River Valley school children. The officers' salaries and bills were authorized to be paid.

Mrs. J. R. Donohoe read a report of last year's annual meeting and gave a full financial statement which had been audited by Mrs. Ernest Carr and Mrs. Ralph Ulman. There were five life members and thirty-five annual members. The donations for the centennial fund were $37.50. A nice sum was realized from sale of aprons, quiltings, etc. The proceeds of social evenings were over $74 and the card parties brought in $145 clear of expenses.

The contractor for the new kitchen was paid over $1,000 and the wiring of the new kitchen cost $100. The total expenses for the year were over $1,500.

The building committee, consisting of Mr. J. L. Donhoe, in charge of donations and labor, with Mrs. Ed Hessman, Mrs. Sheldon McIntosh, Mrs. John Kane and Mrs. Roy Tucker was highly commended.

Plans were made to have an article on "The Centennial Flag" prepared for "Home and Country." Prints were handed in for the magazine and for the Tweedsmuir History.

The retiring president voiced appreciative thanks to all who had co-operated during her term of office. The retiring secretary who has served with three presidents, added her bouquet of thanks.

Mrs. Percy Urman, the only charter member of 1910, conducted the election.

Mrs. Roy Irven read the report of the nominating committee, which she and Mrs. Glenn Bush had prepared. The installation ceremony closed with "The Mary Stewart Collect."

The new president, Mrs. Roy Tucker, spoke briefly and expressed appreciation to the retiring president and secretary, for a job well done. Several items of new business were discussed. A number of fees were paid, including those of two new members.

The hostess and lunch committee served refreshments.

Mrs. Vernon Henry expressed thanks for hospitality, entertainment and to all those who gave reports.

The new slate of officers is as follows:

President, Mrs. Roy Tucker; 1st vice-president, Mrs. Vernon Henry; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. Ernest Carr; secretary - treasurer, Mrs. George Hessman; assistant, Mrs. Ed Hessman; public relations representative and Friendship Link secretary, Mrs. Percy MacMullen; pianist, Mrs. Philip Conley; assistant, Mrs. Ralph Ulman; Home and Country secretary, Mrs. Gerald Brooks; ACWW secretary, Mrs. Roy Bush; district director, Mrs. Percy MacMullen; assistant, Mrs. Ralph Ulman; directors, Mrs. Percy Craighead, Mrs. Alan McDonell, Mrs. Claude Tucker, Mrs. John Kane, Mrs. Ralph Ulman; auditors, Mrs. Ernest Carr and Miss Mary Thomas; Tweedsmuir History, Mrs. Roy Bush, Mrs. Roy Irven, Mrs. Stanley Irven and Mrs. George Hessman; resolutions, Mrs. Ralph Ulman.

Past Year Saw Many Changes In Hospital, Says Chairman

CAMPBELLFORD (Special) — A year that had seen many changes was reported by chairman C. H. Davidson at the annual meeting of the Memorial Hospital, held here last Friday evening. The greatest change was with the appointment of Mr. J. E. Bureau as administrator of the hospital, and the engagement of Miss Vera M. Elett as Director of Nursing. This was deemed most timely in view of the introduction of Ontario Hospital Services Commission's plan on January 1st.

Mr. Davidson told the gathering which was present at the sixth annual meeting since the hospital officially opened in August 1953, that he had found the year to be a most pleasant and active year. He spoke with regret of the resignation of the treasurer Mr. R. D. McDonald who had gone to Trenton, and of the resignation of Mrs. Betty Drummond who had done an outstanding job as matron of nursing superintendent in the past. He regretted that despite these administrative changes salaries of hospital ran to only 60 per cent of total operating cost when all the understood salaries in the average hospital ran as much as 65 per cent of the operating cost. "We are not underpaying our staff", said Mr. Davidson, "but are keeping them on a salary level on a par with other hospitals of this size". He went on to say there are some 65 full time and 15 part time employees and the total payroll for 1958 would be close to $170,000. Mr. S. N. Carr gave the treasurer's report of operations. He stated that 1958 had seen an increase in earning from general services in the amount of $21,486.09 to a total of $146,695.00 this past year. Earnings from special services, such as the use of emergency room, delivery room, pharmacy, medicines and surgical supplies and supplies, laboratory and diagnostic radiology were also up some $29,386.70 for a gross of $217,464.00. Deductions from the gross earnings showed a decrease on rebates of $24,086.04 but an increase was shown in the amount of free service in the tune of $4,577.00 for a total of $26,044.00 in free service in 1958.

Total deductions or rebates, courtesy, free service and allowance for doubtful debts were $187,091.00, which was an increase of $25,624.44 over the preceding year. Grants too showed a slight increase. Provincial government grant was $14,924.00 and a special grant of $367.00, plus $1600.00 from Campbellford, $1,800.00 from Seymour and $1,200 from the township of Percy, making a total of $20,893.93.

Gross salaries and wages amount to $131,313.00. Medical and surgical supplies to $10,968.00; drugs, medicines and prescriptions to $14,815.00, for a total of $157,097.00 or an increase of $18,583.00 over the preceding year. Total expenditures for the year 1958 amounted to $316,629.00, less income of $213,816.00, leaving an excess of expenditures over income of $9,813.93. This was a decrease of expenditure of $2,908.43 over the preceding year. According to Mr. Carr, close to $10,000 has been spent on alterations during the past year. These included $7,100 to provide for a new suspect nursery bottle wash and formula room. Also included in this was a new air conditioning unit and a new operating room. While the hospital held $14m p o r a r y investments to roughly $40,000 at the present time, Mr. Carr felt that much of this would be needed to offset some of the suggested capital expenditures, which could accrue during the succeeding years. Chief among these were improvements to be made to the ground floor rooms and hallways of the hospital, which is currently labelled as the chronic patients' ward. Widening of the doors on both floor to allow for beds being moved in and out of the rooms would cost approximately $1,900.00, whereas terrazzo and battleship linoleum as a permanent floor for the corridors and room floors would cost roughly $11,000.

Other items he mentioned were an isolette for the suspected premature baby, and an adjustable height stretcher, a new sterilizer for the laundry, a gas machine for the operating room, an orthopedic table, a resuscitator, and other items for the grounds, all of which would cost roughly $4,000. He pointed out that the government grant of $150 per bed had been paid this year was not guaranteed for the future, and added further that no provision was made in the act for new expenditures or capital items.

Secretary F. S. Linton reported on the number of patients in residence during the preceding year. There had been a total of 2,629 patients in the hospital as in-patients during the year 1958, with the average daily occupancy of the whole hospital as 44.56%. The breakdown of these figures showed some 12,091 patients in the medical and surgical wing for an average daily occupancy of 84% or 21.88 patients. Maternity section was the lowest in the hospital with 4.24 patients per day or 29% occupancy. On the first floor there had been 1,958 patient days, for an average of 18.44 per day or an average of 90% of occupancy. There are a total of 23 beds on the first floor, 15 in the maternity section and 108 in the medical surgical wing for a total of 64 beds. There h been a decrease in the use of private rooms during the year 1958. The total patient days in there being 814 as opposed to 13,023 during the preceding year. Semi-private patients utilized 7,949 days and standard ward patients 6,494 days for a total of 15,237 patient days during the year. The number of new-born patient days was 1,234. There were three still births during the year. There was a large increase in the treatment of out-patients, increasing from 904 to 1,122 in 1958. The number of full time staff had been increased by 5 to 60.

The number of part-time staff had been increased from 9 to 9. Laboratory units for in-patients totalled 7,084, which was an increase of 17 over the preceding year. For out-patients, again reflecting the increase in the number of patients treated, the increase was from 451 to 765 during 1958. Some 3,845 preced-

W. A. MEET

ROSLIN — The April meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary was held on Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. C. Sills, with 11 ladies present.

The president, Miss Phyllis Sills, presided and opened the meeting.

Correspondence included a letter from the Deanery president, Mrs. O. Krafka of Trenton, saying she would like to visit the branches. It was decided to invite her to attend the May meeting.

The Diocesan W. A. annual meeting will be held in Brockville, April 21, 22, and 23. The Board letter was read.

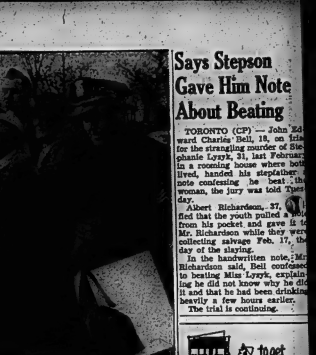
Mrs. Gillespie offered her home for the May meeting.

Plans were made for catering for a Masonic banquet and Scott's sale barns.

The leader, Mrs. A. Bates, conducted the program.

All joined in singing "The Old Rugged Cross". Mrs. Bates gave a reading, "If Easter Had Never Happened", and Mrs. H. Wilson a reading, "Religion and Life".

An Easter contest was enjoyed



Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess and a social time was enjoyed.

ures were done in other laboratories for the hospital. These included bio-chemistry, autopsy and surgical pathology, bacteriology and cytology. For outpatients some 275 tests have been made outside the hospital. Diagnostic radiology service for in-patients was as follows: an increase of 477 cases to 2,109. In-patients department there was an increase of 295 procedures to a total of 2,270.

Dr. D. W. Burgess, chief of the medical staff, gave his report to the board and commended the appointments of Administrative Bureau and Miss Elett. Miss Elett, he said, had been exceptionally helpful to the medical staff and had carried on her work in a most unobtrusive way. Mr. Burgess has also been everything possible to make things run smoothly from an administrative standpoint. The medical staff, he said, is well pleased with the supervision of the hospital. The floor nurses have been most helpful, he have been no personality conflicts. However, he did fe-

WOMAN BATTLES POLICE IN CITY FARK FRACAS — Mrs. Gertrude Robinson, 61, struggles as she tries to free herself from grasp of police hauling her to a paddy wagon following a wild mob scene marked by women and policemen brawling and wrestling on the ground at Patton Park, a Detroit city park. The outburst came as militant residents of the area picketed in an attempt to prevent Detroit from building a $390,000 children's centre on six of the park's 90 acres. (AP Wirephoto).

Says Stepson Gave Him Note About Beating

TORONTO (CP) — John Edward Charles Bell, 18, on trial for the strangling murder of Stephanie Lysyk, 31, last February in a rooming house where both lived, handed his stepfather a note confessing to beat the woman, the jury was told Tuesday.

Albert Richardson, 37, testified that the youth pulled a note from his pocket and gave it to him one morning while they were collecting salvage Feb. 17, the day of the slaying.

In the handwritten note, Mr. Richardson said, Bell confessed to beating Miss Lysyk, explaining he did not know why he did it and that he had been drinking heavily a few hours earlier.

The trial is continuing.

Newsprint and Pulp Industry Brings $77 Million Yearly To People of Newfoundland

By GERALD FREEMAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

GRAND FALLS, Nfld. (CP)—If fresh woods labor troubles are to store for Newfoundland, they will probably break out when the log drive begins late in April. After ice has melted from the streams.

A thwarted drive could mean starvation for the roaring newsprint machines at Corner Brook and Grand Falls, core of an industrial complex regarded as the greatest single factor in the Newfoundland economy.

The International Woodworkers of America (CLC), which called the loggers' strike Dec. 31, sought to win a contract from the Anglo-Newfoundland Development Company of Grand Falls by the device of keeping men out of the woods during the winter hauling season, strangling the pulpwood supply.

The wood is cut between May and November, and during the winter it is hauled on sledges by tractors and horses to await the spring breakup on the banks or frozen surfaces of brooks and rivers.

MANY STREAMS

Woods operations extend to the far corners of the island, but most of the pulpwood is cut within hauling distance of a network of streams that flow into the Exploits and Humber Rivers.

In small stream driving the spring freshet is a key factor, but on rivers and large brooks the flow is regulated by dams and the drive continues throughout the summer.

Alfred Martin, general manager of the Bowaters mill, says that now this year's wood has been hauled, about the only thing the IWA can do to seriously hamper operations is "get a gang and try to stop tugs from working on the Humber River during the drive."

"If we don't get the wood to the mill we'll have to close down."

VAST OPERATION

Bowaters uses about 400,000 cords of wood in a year's operation, and most of this comes down the Humber, which meets an arm of the Gulf of St. Lawrence at Corner Brook. The pulpwood is stockpiled beside the mill in towering stacks that in fall contain roughly enough wood for the next year's operation.

The A.N.D. company drives most of its wood down the Exploits River system, which rises in the Red Indian Lake country about 80 miles southwest of Grand Falls. The company uses more than 300,000 cords a year, and its four woods divisions, each get, Bishop's Falls, Millertown and Terra Nova.

Some pulpwood cut too far distant from the rivers is shipped by rail or truck, and Bowaters brings in some of its wood in booms towed along the west coast of the province by tugs.

Bowaters handed over its woods operations seven years ago to about 50 private contractors. Of this system it is difficult to establish how many men are employed, but they estimate about 1,700 men are required for the spring drive and about 2,000 for the cutting and hauling seasons.

IWA officials, however, say there are 110 camps in the company's woodlands, and figure that 3,000 men would be employed at the peak of the cutting season.

The A.N.D. company employs about 800 men during its drive, 2,500 to 3,000 in the cutting season and about 1,500 during the haul.

HIGH TURNOVER

But turnover of both companies is high, and Newfoundland's woods labor force is estimated to total 18,000 men. The average woods job at one division is little more than two months a year, for an average woods wage of about $62 a week.

Loggers share a total woods wage of $20,000,000 a year paid by the two companies. The A.N.D. says roughly half its total payroll of $18,500,000 goes to its woods labor force, the other half to its 1,700 mill employees.

Bowaters pays its woods workers $11,000,000 to $12,000,000 a year, and its 1,800 mill employees about $11,000,000 annually.

The newsprint and pulp industry brings $77,000,000 a year into the province. Bowaters produces 293,000 tons worth about $40,000,000, and, in addition turns out 43,000 tons of pulp sulphite a year, sold in England for $5,500,00.

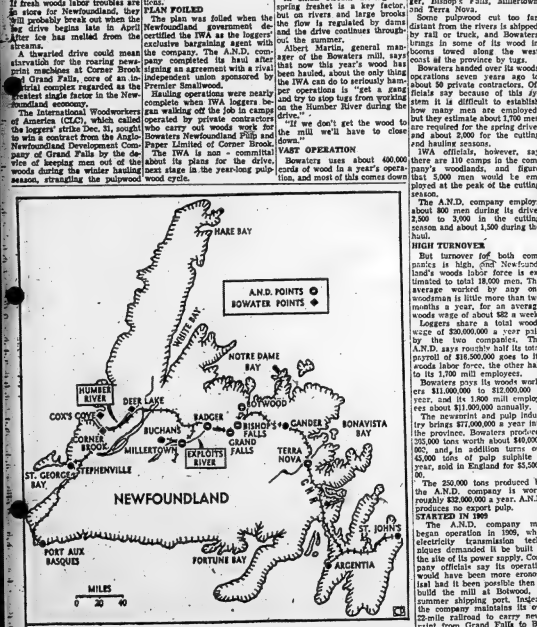
The 250,000 tons produced by the A.N.D. company is worth roughly $32,000,000 a year. A.N.D. produces no export pulp.

STARTED IN 1909

The A.N.D. company mill began operation in 1909, when electricity transmission techniques demanded it be built at the site of its power supply. Company officials say its operation would have been more economical had it been possible then to build the mill at Botwood, its summer shipping port. Instead, the company maintains its own 22-mile railroad to carry newsprint from Grand Falls to Botwood.

The Corner Brook mill started "the boom on the Humber" in 1925, and was taken over from its former owners by Bowaters in 1938. The mill draws its power from Deer Lake 30 miles inland, and ships from piers beside the mill when the port is open.

Botwood and Corner Brook are closed by ice part of the year, and both companies ship through St. John's in winter. Bowaters also ships through Port aux Basques in winter when that port is open.



Winter shipping problems are a basis of the companies' claim that newsprint production in Newfoundland is more expensive than anywhere else in Canada. Other factors include rough terrain and lack of roads.

Both companies, built with British capital, ship only a small proportion of their newsprint production in Newfoundland ships. Most of it goes to the United States.

The A.N.D. company, with a mill at Grand Falls, has 7,800 square miles under its control. Its main limits are in central Newfoundland. Largest section, with A.N.D. woods-divisional points at Millertown and Badger as the centre, runs southwest from Notre Dame Bay for 150 miles and is 80 miles wide at its broadest point. The company also cuts from a section running 65 miles up the east side of the northern peninsula and 1,500-square-mile section west of Terra Nova.

Most of the Bowater wood is floated down the Humber River. The A.N.D. company drives much of its wood down the Exploits River and moves logs to Grand Falls by rail from the Terra Nova division.

This map locates shipping and woods divisions of both companies. Bowater ships from Corner Brook. Botwood is the A.N.D. shipping point in summer. St. John's in winter. (CP Newsmap.)

NEWFOUNDLAND'S FOREST INDUSTRY —Two companies dominate Newfoundland's forest industry which brings $77,000,000 into the province each year for newsprint and pulpwood.

The companies, Bowater's Newfoundland Pulp and Paper Mill Limited and Anglo-Newfoundland Development Company Limited, hold cutting rights on 18,000 square miles of the province's 42,000-square-mile area.

Bowater feeds its big Corner Brook mill on the west coast with logs cut mainly in the western section of the province. Its limits totalling 11,000 square miles include a strip on the southeast shore of St. George Bay; a great area stretching 100 miles from the head of St. George Bay to the head of White Bay covering the Humber River watershed; a section almost 100 miles long on the northern peninsula running up to Hare Bay; and a section varying in width from 18 to 50 miles across mid-island from Fortune Bay to Notre Dame Bay.

Northport

NORTHPORT — Mrs. Bod Rabble was guest of honor at a stork shower on Tuesday evening in the church hall. The hostesses for the evening were Mrs. David Barker, Mrs. Harold Stark and Mrs. Jean McDougall. There were around 45 ladies present. Connie received many lovely gifts. Among the guests were her mother, Mrs. Merton Christie and her sister, Mrs. Ross McKenzie. A supper lunch was enjoyed by all.

Sgt. and Mrs. Walter Ruggles and James of Montreal spent the Easter weekend with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Barker and sister, Mrs. D. Foland.

Stephen Wray of Belleville returned to his home on Wednesday after spending several days with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. William Belnap were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Warren of Frankville.

Mr. and Mrs. Marston Fox, Picton, were Easter Sunday dinner guests of their daughter, Mrs. Mrs. George Easter and Mr. Foster.

Mrs. Robert Wallwork and boys spent last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, Coe Hill.

Mrs. Ross Robinson and boys spent a few days in Belleville with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Barager.

Several from this street attended the shower on Friday night at Demorestville, for Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Rutton.

Mr. and Mrs. Merton Christie, Mount Pleasant, visited their daughter, Mrs. Bud Rabble, on Friday afternoon.

Miss Marie Foster will resume her duties as teacher at Big Island Northside School, having been home since Christmas after an operation on one of her eyes.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Kerr and family of Guelph, spent several days this week with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ellwood Kerr, Solmesville.

Rural telephone service will be greatly improved as a result of the cutover of the Picton exchange to the dial operation, which took place last Sunday morning. The schools have been visited and children given instructions in dialing.

Miss Jean Molloy and grandmother, spent several days with relatives at Black Creek this week.

Several from the street were in Belleville on Thursday to welcome home the Macs.

A number from this vicinity have been attending the special services at the brick church, Picton, where Evangelist and Mrs. Billy Neil of Parkersburg, Wa., USA, are guest speakers and last Sunday night at 8 p.m. will be Youth Rally and Evangelist Cole will be the speaker.

Miss Betty Malloy is leaving shortly for a visit to Britain in addition to England. Most goes to New York and the southern United States. The A.N.D. company also ships to Argentina and Bowaters has markets in South Africa, Australia, New Zealand and India.

Junior Farmers Hold Spring Show

PETERBOROUGH - (CP)—The Ontario County team Tuesday night won the Agrico Trophy for the first place in the seed judging competition among the junior farmers of eight counties.

In an unusually close finish, the junior farmers of three counties finished their competition tied with 2,494 points. But the Ontario County team eked out a win over Durham and Peterborough counties by citing better reasons for their judgments.

The top three for Ontario County were Lloyd Wilson, Uxbridge; Ross Stevenson Sunderland, and Lawrie Taylor, Pefferlaw.

The competition was entered by 39 youths from the counties of Ontario, Durham, Peterborough, Victoria, Lennox-Addington, Hastings, Northumberland and Prince Edward.

BARBER SHOPPERS MEET

BRANTFORD (CP)—The local chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America will be hosts for the annual convention of the Ontario Barbershop Quartets Association here this weekend.

Noisy Chap Remarked Attlee After His First Experience Of Khrushchev's Ebullience

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

There, in the middle of things, bobbed Nikita Khrushchev, jabbing a stubby finger into the chest of his startled listener.

The scene was a British Embassy reception in Moscow in 1954. The listener was Clement Attlee, former prime minister and head of Britain's Labor party.

Stalin, safely mummified, lay in his gaudy Red Square tomb. His lieutenants had laces now. They were individuals. They could talk out in public.

Khrushchev talked and talked—torrents of rapid, often ungrammatical Russian tinged with a Ukrainian accent. Through it all his broad, persistent grin appeared two front rows of glittering gold. His pale blue eyes stared into the hearer's. His pudgy fists would grab the hearer's lapel and hold him captive.

Cultivated, taciturn Georgi Malenkov, who controlled all of Stalin's heir, looked on with a superior sense. Few outsiders seemed to take Khrushchev seriously, and some in the Kremlin made the same mistake.

"Noisy chap," muttered Attlee when the party was over.

HIDDEN STRUGGLE

The first summit meeting still was a year away, but already may have been in the back of who-knows-what-else was being hatched.

Soviet leaders became aggressively friendly to diplomats.

In that struggle Khrushchev performed as a true Stalin pupil. He made alliances as necessary, repudiated them when they no longer were of use.

Moreover, collective leadership was a mutual protective association to prevent any one man from getting the upper hand. Its first concern was to break the power of Lavrenti Beria, whose army of secret police nearly took over Moscow after the dictator's death. With the help of Marshal Georgi Zhukov and the army, they collectively destroyed Beria and purged the secret police machine.

Stalin's power derived from his control of both party and police. Having ousted Malenkov and Beria, Khrushchev's authority increased. The world began to take more notice of him.

The Kremlin in 1954 was under severe strain. The Korean war had ended, but Indochina war was ending. Moscow hinted that it would help settle the Austrian occupation problem, too. The Kremlin made extraordinary gestures toward Yugoslavia's Tito, the maverick Communist with whom Stalin had broken.

To the Western leadership, to the uncritical observer, was just one big happy family. Writers in the Soviet Union blossomed out with daring new ideas. In Hungary, Communist leaders, taking their cue from Premier Malenkov, permitted unheard-of liberalization of Stalinism. Young intellectuals in Poland stirred restively against the Stalinists.

Khrushchev exploded the "happy family" notion in 1955. He confirmed Malenkov and required him to step down as premier, confessing himself a failure. Khrushchev installed pliable Nikolai Bulganin as premier—a mere echo of Khrushchev himself.

Thereafter, Khrushchev did the things he had hinted that the consumers would have to wait for the promised amenities of life while the U.S.S.R. concentrated on heavy industry to build world power.

Abroad, he mixed smiles with threats. With the postwar Western agreements to rearm West Germany, Moscow set up a Warsaw alliance of satellite armies under Soviet direction. Khrushchev was set the stage for summit-conference bargaining.

Khrushchev and Bulganin journeyed to Belgrade to get Tito's "forgiveness" for the shooting. Did all this mean the Russians had just planned a crisis-creating pressure in the world's trouble spots? Snorted Khrushchev:

If anyone believes our smiles are deceitful, remember the words of Marx, Engels and Lenin, he deceives himself. We are for a world in which for that will wait until the shrimp learns to whistle."

The West looked at us for a whistling shrimp. So midsummer 1955 Khrushchev went to Austrian conference he so eagerly sought. Soviet propaganda cut loose on the "spirit of Geneva." But that smiling ghost faded with the autumn leaves. Khrushchev was introdiga in the Middle East with arms and propaganda.

SUDDEN TEARING

Khrushchev and his shadow, Bulganin toured India and Burma. Bulganin, who as shocked his hosts, but he was making powerful friends.

"Truth is thorny and prickly for the eyes," thundered the proverbial Khrushchev.

Truth was indeed thorny. Dominating the 20th Communist congress in Moscow, Khrushchev hurled invective at his political foes, calling them utopian dreamers for suggesting more consumer goods for Russians.

Then, in a secret speech punctuated by hysterical sobs, Khrushchev denounced Stalin as a barbarian torturer, murderer and megalomaniac.

Giving the Communist world the full benefit of the Stalin horror he was dead, Khrushchev took off for Britain on another "smiles" mission. Once, Khrushchev himself was jolted. Suave British politicians pumped coal into the five-day speech enraged him.

"Call a fireman. Let's don't put me on the stove," Khrushchev roared at the politicians. "Never usage your fist at a Russian." he warned a British crowd.

Nuclear Weapons Would Destroy Cities Problem

TORONTO (CP) — Dr. O. M. Solandt, former chairman of the Defence Research Board, said Wednesday Canada will have no need to worry about her mushrooming cities unless the next generation does better than the present one in resolving international differences.

"If we have total nuclear war even using weapons that exist today," he said, "the problems of our cities will disappear along with the cities and most of their inhabitants."

Speaking briefly on nuclear war prospects during an address to the Metropolitan Toronto social planning council, Dr. Solandt declared "the outlook is certainly gloomy but there are grounds for hope."

Now vice-president of the CNR, Dr. Solandt as chairman of the DRB was one of five Canadians to witness Britain's first atomic weapons test off the coast of Australia in 1952.

Rats Drown By Thousands In Alberta

The rodents were brought to Alberta from Germany in the hope of establishing them on fur-bearers. They were mutant Norway rats with colored pelts.

The mass farm caused an uproar in the legislature when no provision was made in the Social Credit government was spending thousands of dollars to keep rats out of Alberta but at the same time had licensed a farm to raise them.

The rats were brought here by John Schalck, Edmonton businessman killed in a highway accident last fall. Executors of his estate decided to end the operation when no market could be found for the pelts.

ARM OF THE LAW

TORONTO (CP)—Mrs. Dorothy Ann Pollard, charged with impaired driving told a court Monday she mistook a policeman's official gesture for an act of gallantry. She said that when the policeman drove to help her out of her car she gracefully accepted. "I didn't know the officer thought I was impaired or I would have been more independent". The charge was dismissed.

Iraq's Kassem Mystery Man To Own People, Works Hard, Speaks Softly, Strikes Fast

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Iraq's Premier Abdel Karim Kassem is still something of a mystery man, even to his own people.

When Kassem swept out of the desert last July, overthrew the monarchy and set up the republic, few Iraqis had heard his name.

Nine months later, they still know little about him. Poems and songs are composed about him. Pictures are plastered everywhere. He seems the most popular leader to rise up in Iraq's recent history.

To a large extent, this stems from hard - working publicity agents. But of his personal life, almost nothing is ever said.

He shows himself only occasionally to the Baghdad street crowds, and seeming embarrassed, gives only a short wave of his hand.

This is the man who is challenging Egypt's Gamal Abdel Nasser, up to now a principal idol of all Arabs.

Kassem isn't striving to win popularity with his own personal appearance. Perhaps this will come later. Those close to him say he has plenty of it.

So far it hasn't been necessary. He has stamped out plots both against his regime,after another. The short-lived army revolt in Mosul seemed not to have stirred up as much excitement in Iraq as it did outside the country.

Kassem has stood unflinching before Nasser's attacks against him personally and his regime. test of strength.

Nasser obviously aims to end Kassem's power. To do this, his mighty and influential United Arab Republic's propaganda machine is grinding out almost hourly one of the most massive and concerted campaigns ever seen in the Middle East.

But Kassem depends on a newly purged army for his support, and the Iraqi Communists who back him seem to have control of the street mobs in Baghdad.

Kassem is a workhorse. He has developed a habit of working until the early hours of the morning, saving the daylight hours for conferences and meeting people.

He gives the impression he is a simple soldier, trying to do what's right for his country. He speaks softly. The words sound as if they're coming from the most reasonable of men.

Perhaps this is so. But those who know him intimately say he is an intensely complicated man. He has the instincts, patience and single - mindedness of the hunter. When he strikes, he is quick and ruthless.

Even Nasser, in tirades against Kassem, hasn't called him a Communist. But it seems clear that he is wooing the Communists, the best - organized and most powerful single political group in Iraq. The Communists know it known in all their dealings that they're not sure of him, and when he begins to trickle Kassem, this might prove to be the new ruler's first real

Hees Praised by Opposition For Postponing Pilotage Bill

OTTAWA (CP) — It was for the Commons—and even more so for a government — "somewhat unusual procedure."

That's how T. W. Herridge (CCF—Kootenay West) described Transport Minister Hees' announcement Wednesday that the Commons postpone action on the government's proposed shipping legislation.

Mr. Hees asked for the delay until he can visit Washington to discuss pilotage with American officials, evidently in the hope the U.S. can be persuaded to adopt Canada's approach to the problem.

The bill would, among other things, empower the federal cabinet to decide where in the St. Lawrence Seaway and Great Lakes use of pilots on vessels should be compulsory.

HEES'S CHEVALIER REMARKS

Remarks by Lionel Chevrier (L — Montreal Laurier), apparently played a part in the decision to delay the bill. Mr. Chevrier pointed out Tuesday that the U.S. has not yet made up its mind on this matter. He said Canada should hold off and try to work out agreement on it with the U.S. first.

Mr. Hees won plaudits with his concession to the opposition.

Mr. Herridge said he wanted to "compliment the minister on what we consider a very wise response to representations from the opposition." Mr. Chevrier praised the minister, too.

Mr. Chevrier said that, while the government and minister for the postponement, he favors establishment of a man committee by each country. These could then work out pilotage problems on the same way as tolls were devised.

CHARLES BILL

Earlier, the House approved the principle of — gave second reading to — a bill substituting parliamentary secretaries for parliamentary assistants to cabinet ministers.

Opposition Leader Pearson criticized the provision that appointments of 16 secretaries—at $3,000 a year—would not be for only a year. It would be possible to rotate the appointments to spread government members.

"Isn't this some kind of political scholarship?" he asked.

At a later point, Prime Minister Diefenbaker said there is no question of the jobs being rotated.

A Liberal amendment moved by Mr. Chevrier that the secretaries be named on cabinet direction but not longer than two years in Parliament was defeated 103 to 16. CCF members voted with the government.

INNOCENT IN FAO

LONDON (Reuters) — A court Wednesday acquitted a 23-year-old youth of a charge of stealing from a colleague left with intent to steal. His name: Innocent Williams.

Stars to Debut In Stratford This Season

STRATFORD (CP) — American-born William Sylvester has been signed for the Stratford Shakespearean Festival to play Orlando opposite Irene Worth this seasons production of As You Like It, while Lev Otorin, one of Russia's top pianists will make his North American debut at Stratford this summer, it was announced Wednesday.

Mr. Sylvester, 36, also will appear as Casio in Othello. He has appeared in London, England, in Winterset and Home of the Brave and in 1949 was acclaimed for his performance as the stich boy in Dark of the Moon. Later he toured England as Captain David Scott in The Long March and appeared also in Treahouse of the August Moon.

Mr. Otorin, senior professor at Moscow Conservatory, is a member of the David Ostrzrah trio. He will also be recital, play with the National Festival Orchestra and teach three weeks of master classes July 6-21.

Mr. Otorin graduated from Moscow Conservatory in 1936 when 20. The same year he won the top prize in first annual Chopin competition in Warsaw.

Ex-Oshawan's Fate Rests With Jury

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A jury of eight men and four women retired Tuesday to decide the fate stabbing of a pretty photographer's model was an accident or the deliberate act of a jealous lover.

The case in which Gerald Feasby, 34, a jobless bookkeeper formerly of Oshawa, is the defendant went to the jury in the Superior Court Wednesday.

Feasby claimed the stabbing with a butcher knife of the 19-year-old model, Charlotte Trosper, was accidental. He said police she was fatally injured during a struggle and that he was trying to help her.

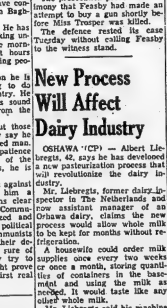
The prosecution claims Miss Trosper was also deliberately because she attempted to break off their three-year romance.

Her body was found in brush off a mountain highway last Dec. 2 by a passing motorist. Miss Trosper was arrested the next day.

The prosecution presented testimony that Feasby had made an attempt to buy a gun shortly before Miss Trosper was killed.

The defence rested its case Tuesday without calling Feasby to the witness stand.

New Process Will Affect Dairy Industry



OSHAWA (CP) — Albert Liebregts, 42, says he has developed a new pasteurization process that will revolutionize the dairy industry.

Mr. Liebregts, former dairy-inspector in the Netherlands and now assistant manager of an Oshawa dairy, claims the new process would allow whole milk to be kept for months without refrigeration.

A housewife could order milk only once every two weeks or once a month, storing quantities of condensed milk in the basement and using the milk as needed. It would taste like any other whole milk.

Mr. Liebregts said his machine sterilizes the milk before it goes into contact with the milk and once it is sealed into sterile cardboard containers it's guaranteed to stay fresh for at least a month.

Dr. James E. Watt, Oshawa health department food inspector, said his department tested the milk and the storage life of the product "is at least several months."

One More Vegetable in Stew Seen as Slow But Sure Path To Better Living Conditions

ROME (CP)—One more vegetable in the stew may sound insignificant. But in some parts of the world, it can mean the start of circles widening toward better health through better food.

Yet for those who advocate haste, Dr. Margaret Hockin cautions patience.

Working with the United Nations agency since 1946, her work is in the wide field of practical assistance through education and advice to governments planning their people's betterment.

SMALL CHANGES VITAL

In an interview in her Rome office, small, slight Dr. Hockin stressed the importance of small changes helping to improve living standards.

"When women realize another vegetable in the stew will mean more strength . . . they talk their husbands into doing something about the garden plot.

"The men look for advice as to what they can grow in their small, but good plot and for better implements, so the circles spread."

Reciting on her world - embracing job, Dr. Hocking recalled an early assignment when she lived in a mud hut among Bedouin nomads in the Iraqi desert, where an agriculture project was to be set up.

"I never again will I expect much to be accomplished quickly," she said. "I will go back a more realistic approach and more insight as to what should be done. I will be interpreting ideas to governments. I realize there cannot be any regular growth in primitive areas. Lasting change comes slowly."

WOMEN BIG HELP

Dr. Hockin said small groups of women could help improve conditions in their own homes often contribute to these lasting changes. They often prompted governments to do something about health and food problems.

The widely - travelled home economist stressed the importance of working with "people on the spot," those contending with the conditions they want to be changed.

Simple projects give people a sense of the dignity of work. If they manage by making use of what they have, they get the satisfaction of feeling they have helped to help themselves.

Her own study and experience have proved the importance of Maritimer's perceptive approach to a complex task.

EARLY CHILDHOOD

She added a doctorate in child development and family life from Cornell University to her degree in home economics degree from Mount Allison University in Sackville, N.B., after spending five years on a women's education project sponsored by the YWCA of Japan.

The work of the World YWCA, the Associated Country Women of the World and the International Council of Women also formed the most helpful to women working to improve health and welfare, she said.

She has worked as a dietitian, terms change, she said.

Red Attempt to Seize Iraq By Force Said Possibility

NEW YORK (AP)—A Communist attempt to seize control of Iraq by naked force has become a distinct possibility.

If that happens, something in the nature of another Korea also is possible.

The threat of a Communist coup in Baghdad becomes more real with persistent reports of an infusion of Communist leaders from the Soviet Union, plus an Iraqi decision to arm civilian units under the Communist - led resistance."

TROOPS IN POSITION

Troops of Gamal Abdel Nasser's United Arab Republic, according to Turkish reports, are already have taken up positions in northern Syria near the Iraqi border. Nasser commands them, who supported the recent pro-Nasser revolt in Iraq, and as a result had to flee the country, are reported massed in an area roughly 50 miles from the Iraqi border.

The Soviet cold war between Nasser's U.A.R. (Egypt and Syria) and the Iraqi regime of Premier Abdel Karim Kassem could easily turn into a hot war, even a limited one, like the Korean war.

A military clash could be a prelude to an attempt by pro-Nasser forces to install a rival government in Iraq.

The spark for the clash also could be a Communist power play in Baghdad. The tools for the takeover could be the nucleus of tough, heavily armed Kurds from

WORLD'S HEALTH IS HER WORK

The health of rural people in underdeveloped parts of the world is the concern of Dr. Margaret Hockin who heads the home economics section of the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization. A native of Bridgewater, N.S., she travels widely, giving practical advice on simple projects to raise the living standards of rural people. She has worked with the United Nations agency since 1949 and is a graduate of Mount Allison and Cornell universities in home economics and child development. She is married to Dr. W. G. Herrington, retired head of the University of Saskatchewan's child husbandry department who is now FAO's consultant on a Middle East cereal improvement project. They make their home in Rome. (CP Photo).

helped run Canada's farm youth services during the Second World War and lectured in child and family life.

Two years ago she married Dr. J. R. Harrington, a widower and retired head of the University of Saskatchewan's field husbandry department. He now is FAO's consultant on a Middle East cereal improvement project with 11 countries to cover.

HOME LIFE QUIET

Fortunately, said Dr. Hockin, they are often away from their Rome apartment—home at the same time. And when they are home, they lead a quiet life.

A quiet life is essential to Canadian. Within the next few months Dr. Hockin will travel to South America, the British Isles, Pakistan and Poland to discuss rural problems, nutrition and the family's place in changing societies.

Recently returned from an Asian assignment on means of health and family life, Dr. Hockin said she found, mental disturbances are on the increase in almost every country.

Economic demand, rapid industrialization and shifting populations have led to men's fear of failure, women's fear of security, a sense of insecurity as family pat-

New Water Jet Engine Will Drive Ships at Almost Incredible Speeds

AZUSA, Calif. (AP) — A wee said.

new water jet engine to drive boats and ships at almost incredible speeds has been developed today by scientists at Aerojet-General Corporation.

"We know we can increase the speed of hydroplanes by at least 75 per cent," said Edwin Congwer, head of Aerojet's anti-submarine warfare division. "Conventional propellers in turn limit to the speed that can be reached by vessels of any size, with proper hull design."

The revolutionary device called hydrocket, has no propellers. Instead, an impeller-like device, something like a lawn sprinkler whirling at terrific speed, drives the boat forward by spraying water into the air behind it.

A low-horsepower version has been ocean-tested in a small boat. The company plans to install a high-speed hydrocket in a racing craft for time trials this summer.

"We are confident it will break every speed record for propeller driven boats," Congwer said.

Sian Sayer's Slow-Mo-Shun IV hydroplane reached 178 miles an hour in 1955. This has been topped only by Don Campbell's Bluebird at 248 miles an hour in 1957.

The impeller, a metal disk pierced with slanting holes, is geared to the engine's drive shaft. As it spins, the impeller pumps water up from a scoop below the boat and forces it through the nozzles in a whirling spray pattern.

In tests, a 25-horsepower gasoline engine has achieved a speed of 22 miles an hour.

PUBLISHER ELECTED

NEW YORK (CP) John Bassett, chairman and publisher of the Toronto Telegram, was elected Monday to the board of directors of the International Recreation Association. The IRA, founded in 1956, has worked closely with the UN and given recreation service to 60 countries through trained professional staff representatives.

MET RESTRICTS SINGER

TORONTO (CP) — Teresa Stratas, 20-year-old Toronto soprano who won a Metropolitan Opera company contract, has been forbidden by the Met to sing in this year's Toronto opera festival, it was reported Monday. She is also required to give up a number of other engagements.

WARMER WEATHER EXPECTED — Temperatures in an area stretching from Lake Ontario almost to the Rockies are expected to average above seasonal normals during April, the map, based on the 30-day outlook of the United States weather service for April, also shows that temperatures are expected to be below normal on both coasts.

Precipitation in April is expected to be light in the east and heavy in British Columbia and western Alberta. Moderate rainfall is expected over the grain-growing areas of the Prairie Provinces and also in the Atlantic Provinces.

Strontium-90 Has Ugly Name But Special Health Officer States Levels Not Harmful

By JOHN E. REID —
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP) — Strontium-90, a radioactive product of nuclear explosions, is getting an ugly reputation in Canada. But it may be undeserved—at least for the moment.

People are being told, often by qualified physicists, that dangerous amounts of the radioactive material now are in the milk they consume. It is said that these amounts can cause leukaemia or bone cancer.

The federal health department has been measuring the strontium-90 content of powdered milk samples from various parts of Canada since 1955, two years before similar measurements were started in the United States.

Dr. E. A. Watkinson, principal medical officer, environmental health and special projects, said in an interview that on the basis of these findings "strontium-90 levels are not harmful to health."

STATEMENT IN HOUSE

Health Minister Monteith told the Commons March 12 that "there is at present no discernible hazard by strontium-90 contamination of milk."

These statements are based on measurements made up to March, 1958. Results of readings made since then are to be announced shortly.

Dr. Watkinson said the total radiation dose from nuclear fallout, including that from strontium-90, represents only a small fraction of the radiation to which man has always been exposed from a variety of natural sources, including cosmic rays.

One of the latest statements amounts of strontium-90 was made in Winnipeg by three University of Manitoba physicists. Two of them said Manitoba milk contained so much strontium-90 that they planned to import powdered milk from Ontario for their own use.

The Manitoba Board of Health assured them, after consultation with the federal health department, that the level of radioactivity in Manitoba is "not harmful to health."

The department's radiochemical laboratory in Ottawa now measures strontium-90 levels in milk powder samples obtained from 13 points in Canada. They are Moncton, N.B.; Greenby, Riganite, La Durantye and Chicoutimi in Quebec; London, Ottawa, Winnipeg, Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, Edmonton and Calgary, and Vancouver.

Dr. Watkinson said "the measurements made so far do not make it possible as yet to draw firm conclusions on levels of strontium-90 across all parts of the country."

He said levels vary from place to place and from time to time. It was important "not to read anything into such data and not to draw sweeping conclusions from so few observations."

The level at Vancouver in January, 1957, was 4.1 micromicrocuries (units of strontium-90) per gram of calcium, which is present in about one quart of milk. The level rose to 11.5 by November but dropped to 8.8 in March, 1958.

At Granby, Que., the level in January, 1957, was 3.5. It climbed to 10.6 in July but dropped to 4.7 in February, 1958. Similar variations were reported by the 11 other stations.

Dr. Watkinson said it may be years before the department is able to state conclusively what the ranges of variation are across the country. Until the full significance of the variations was known, present measurements were only an indication of the amounts of strontium-90 which man may be consuming.

Sources in Ottawa said the Winnipeg scientists probably based their statement on a figure in a United States publication claimed to be the level of strontium-90 in Winnipeg milk for last July and August.

The U.S. publication said the level was 22 units of strontium-90 per gram of calcium. The health department's figure is nine.

However, these figures represent only one or two samplings in one small area. They do not take into account that the level has varied greatly since 1955 and that it can be affected by many conditions. For instance, local meteorological conditions create conditions resulting in a high concentration of strontium-90 for a short period.

Nuclear explosions in recent years have increased the amount of strontium-90 in Canadian milk since measurements were started in 1955. However, even today the levels in milk are so minute that large quantities of milk must be reduced in volume before strontium-90 can be detected with delicate instruments.

Strontium-90 falls to earth from the upper atmosphere in a manner not yet fully understood. It is taken up by the soil and plants and some of it eventually is absorbed by humans.

Doctors are concerned over the possible effects of strontium-90 because it lodges in the bones. It does so because of its close association with calcium, an important constituent in the bone-building process.

Where calcium goes, strontium-90 may follow. Where a small amount of calcium is obtained from a dietary source—such as wheat—little strontium-90 will be added.

This does not mean that every gram of calcium consumed contains strontium-90. In addition, only a fraction of the minute quantity of strontium-90 which may be in calcium is retained in the body.

However, the body obtains about 80 per cent of its calcium from milk products, other than better. This is the reason science is concerned with the amounts of strontium-90 which may be in milk.

The body takes in about 1.057 grams of calcium daily. Of this amount, some .346 of a gram is in dairy products, excluding butter. Fiery provides .302 a gram of calcium and vegetables .506 of a gram.

But every person does not necessarily retain his calcium intake. Some absorb all the calcium while others keep only a part.

There also is no adequate information to say what is the precise relationship between strontium-90 levels in milk or other foods and the levels in bones.

There are many questions to be answered before science can proceed from an estimate of the radioactive strontium content of milk to an accurate estimate of the radioactive strontium content of bones.

The health department has been engaged in establishing a comprehensive bone sampling program to increase its knowledge. It hopes later to be able to correlate bone measurements with the results from milk and ultimately arrive at a figure for the average strontium content for the Canadian population.

Bears Shade Cleveland 4-3

CLEVELAND (AP) — Hershey Bears came from behind three times and edged Cleveland Barons 4-3 on Mike Nykoluk's goal with 1½ minutes left of their Calder Cup semi-final playoff game Wednesday night.

Victory gave the Bears a 3-2 edge in the best-of-seven series. The teams meet Saturday night at Hershey and return here Sunday if a seventh game is necessary. The winning team meets Buffalo in the final.

Hershey won despite the loss of its playing coach and defence veteran Frank Mahovlich, out with a broken hand, and Willie Marshall, its best scorer and centre, ill with a virus.

Eddie Mazur and Hershey's Tom McCarthy scored in the first. Fred Glover put Cleveland ahead in the middle session but the Bears again deadlocked the score on a goal by Ed Stankiewicz.

Georges Bouchard put Barons ahead again in the second minute of the third period but Bears came back when Bob Solinger scored at 2:46.

WIN SENIOR B TITLE

CENTREVILLE, N.B. (CP)— Centre Ville Legionaires collassed Montreal Golden Knights 88-62 Wednesday night, winning the Canadian Senior B basketball semi-final by a total score of 155-96 for two games. The series here ended 67-56 for Centreville. The New Brunswick entry then faces St. Francis Xavier University in a final best-of-three series for the national championship.

Good-Pitch, No-Sock Orioles Open Season in Washington

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The good - pitch, no - sock Orioles, who last year in the American League, open the new baseball season today in Washington with the best exhibition record of any major league club. They capped that spring success (17-3) with a 5-0 decision over Philadelphia (11-14) at Baltimore Wednesday, Rookie Jack Fisher knocked off the Phils with a three-hitter.

Boston Red Sox, who open at New York Friday against the world champion Yankees, were second best in the spring standings, finishing with a 16-11 record when Wednesday night's exhibition with the Chicago Cubs (12-14) was rained out.

Los Angeles Dodgers, who finished seventh last year, led National League pennant contenders in exhibitions with a 13-10 mark, although they dropped a 12-3 decision Wednesday to Milwaukee Braves.

TROOLE SENSATIONAL

In other exhibition finales, Cincinnati's southpaw rookie Jim O'Toole beat Chicago White Sox 3-1 with a two-hitter; in the pitching act by San Francisco Giants, blanked Cleveland 3-0 on three hits; the Yankees (14-13) clubbed their International League farmhands at Richmond 10-2, and Kansas City (12-13) beat Dallas of the American Association 6-3.

Milwaukee, favored to have a third world series date with the Yankees, chased Sandy Koufax with a six-run first inning against the Dodgers. The Braves, after a slow start, finished with an 11-5 record. Only St. Louis Cardinals (8-17) had a worse record among National League clubs.

O'Toole tailed a starting job with the Reds (15-15) after giving up a first-inning home run to Jim Landis. Dick Donovan was the winner for the White Sox (13-10), after blanking the Reds for five frames.

Seattle Edges Canucks 3-2

VANCOUVER (CP) — Gayle Fielder, league scoring champion, scored once and set up the winning goal Wednesday night as Seattle Totems defeated Vancouver Canucks 3-2 in overtime in the third game of the Western Hockey League's coast division finals.

Fielder's goal - mouth pass opened the way for Val Fonteyne at 14:39 of the overtime period and the victory sent Seattle ahead 2-1 in the best-of-seven series. Next game is Friday.

Flin Flon Gets Two-Game Lead

FLIN FLON, Man. (CP)—Flin Flon Bombers wiped out a two-goal deficit and then raced away to a 7-4 win over Winnipeg Braves Wednesday night for their second straight victory in the Western Canada Memorial Cup finals.

The best-of-seven series finishes out at Winnipeg Sunday.

Loes Returns To Baltimore

They agreed Wednesday to call off last Wednesday's trade of Loes for pitcher Vilo Valentinetti of Washington Senators. Loes reported to the Senators complaining of a sore right arm, and Calvin Griffith, president of the Senators, threatened to ask baseball commissioner Ford Frick to cancel the deal.

Quebec Hockey

TROIS-RIVIERES, Que. (CP) Powered by the two - goal performances of Orval Tessier and Claude Hoekstra, Trois - Rivieres Lions downed Montreal Royals 5-3 to even the best-of-nine Quebec Hockey League finals at 3-3 Wednesday night.

Jean-Paul Denis, one of Royals' top scorers, fell heavily on his shoulder in the last second of play and may have sustained injuries. He is to be examined when he returns to Montreal.

During the game, The Lady Byng of Vimy Trophy for gentlemanly conduct and effective play in the league was awarded to Gerry Desaulniers of the Lions.

The Lord Calvert Trophy for the team's most popular player went to Tessier. He was selected by Trois-Rivieres fans in balloting after each game.

TAKE WESTERN LEAD

WINNIPEG (CP) — Southern Alberta Chinooks defeated Winnipeg Kodiaks by a slim 54-52 margin Wednesday night to take a 2-1 lead in the best-of-five Western Canada Senior A men's basketball final. The winner of the series will meet Ottawa Fellers for the Canadian championship.

Softball Loops Will Hold Special Sessions

Bob Blaind, secretary-treasurer of the Belleville and District and the City Commercial softball leagues, announced the morning that both leagues have important meetings scheduled.

The men of the Belleville and District league will meet this Sunday afternoon at the Moira Street football in the organization's first meeting since the OASA convention.

The meeting gets under way at 2.00 p. m. and Blaind urges all anyone wishing to enter a team be represented since entries are the main item on the agenda.

At the present time Belleville Bobcats, Point Anne Cementmen, Trenton Legion and Cobourg Merchants are the expected entries. It is hoped that one or two more entries can be obtained to form a well - balanced, compact league.

Meanwhile the City Commercial loop will hold a meeting on Tuesday night at the police station at 7.30. This is the date of the entry deadline so any team wishing to enter must attend the meeting.

Both leagues are expected to open their schedules in little over a month.

On the Tracks

FORT ERIE (CP)—Form-players continued to have a mod-soaked field day Wednesday when five of eight races were won by favorites. Thirty - two races have been run here so far this season and 17 have been won by public choices.

Jockey Benny Sorensen won three including the featured Grimsby Purse on Persian Gem.

Cuba's Avelino Gomez, the most successful jockey ever to ride in Canada, has returned after a year's absence. He expects to accept his first mount Saturday.

Gomez was Canada's leading jockey in 1955, 1956 and 1957. In the latter year, he set a Canadian record of 227 winners in one season and had the highest winning percentage of any jockey in North America—34 per cent of the mounts he rode.

The $3,000 Billy Kelly Purse will feature Saturday's program. The sprint of five furlongs was scratched from last Saturday's opening day card when, due to a very muddy track, it failed to draw sufficient entries.

St. Vincent, Hull All Square

MONTREAL (CP)—St. Vincent de Paul defeated Hull Legion 5-2 Wednesday night in the second game of a best-of-three series in the Eastern Canadian semi-finals leading to the Allan Cup.

Hull won the first 4-3. The third in Hull Friday will determine who meets Whitby Dunlops or Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen in the Eastern Canada finals.

Fernand Lefebvre, two for St. Vincent de Paul while Eddie Cyr, Jacques St. Pierre, and Fernand Dupuis scored singles. Fernand Dagenais scored the two Hull goals.

North America's greatest jockey, is coming to Canada to ride in the 100th annual running of the Queen's Plate at New Woodbine in Toronto June 20.

Joe Thomas, Manager of E. P. Taylor's Windfields Farms, announced Wednesday Arcaro has agreed to ride in the plate, which will be witnessed by Queen Elizabeth. Thomas said the stable will start "at least two colts," one ridden by Benny Sorensen, contract-jockey for Windfields, and the other will be one of Canadian stakes events in 1956.

Arcaro won the Queen's Plate on Canadiana in 1953.

RARE, MEDIUM, WELL-DONE

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

There is newspaper talk that Bobby Hull and Eddie Litzenburger of the Chicago Black Hawks may make the European junket with either the Rangers or Boston Bruins later this month.

One item had it the prod will play exhibition tilts in various continental centres with three or four days' sightseeing in each place tossed in.

"That ain't the way we heerd it" when we interviewed A. J. "Bunny" Ahearne, Britain's sports Mr. Moneybags, in his luxurious suite in the Hotel Carleton in Prague.

Ahearne is the travel tycoon of the light little island and has a tight-fisted, two-handed grip on the promotion and transportation arrangements of practically all international sports events in Europe.

Milt (Toronto Star) Dunnell and this reporter interviewed the British sports Midas in an atmosphere of dinner-jacketed waiters, Czech beauties, foreign journalists and international hockey officials. You could help yourself from a bar that glittered with shining bottles of liquor, liqueurs, wines and the lowly but potent Czech pilsener.

Ahearne's version of the Bruins-Ranger tour at that time was a vastly different one to that which appeared here recently in the public prints.

The smiling, hand-rubbing "Bandit From Britain" as his non-admirers have labbed him, although he prefers another non-de-something-or-other, "the Penny Pirate," said at that time the visit of the two National Hockey League teams had European puck circles in a furore.

The reception of the news was "utterly fantastic" and excited European fans had practically bought out arenas in the various centres where the teams will play.

According to Ahearne at that time the Bruins and Rangers play a packaged schedule and won't have much time for fun or to visit the sights of the Matterhorn in Switzerland, or frolh-blowing in German beer-gardens. They will not go behind the iron curtain.

He said they would open in London's Wembley Stadium on April 18 and ban twenty pucks on 27 nights before they close the tour on May 28 at Geneva. They will appear in London, Geneva, Antwerp, Paris, Dortmund, Kefrend and Vienna among other European centres.

Nothing sportswise moves in Europe unless Ahearne's guiding finger is at the helm. With the other hand he counts his share of the proceeds. The recent world tournament grossed a million, 80,000, so figure out the pocket share of the affable president of the International Ice Hockey Federation.

It was reported here he would not permit the Metz-Faciands to board the Queen Elizabeth at Southampton until they had paid a $1,000 charge for excess luggage on aircraft used by them on their European exhibition junket.

Nor will be have to dip into private funds for the Boston-Rangers tour. A correctly-reported rumor that Swiss promoters were handing the deal sent smooth-talking Bunny into the clouds — and action.

He merely laid down an ultimatum that nothing would move unless he said so, and he received permission of Walter Brown, Boston boss-man to handle the deal.

So, according to Ahearne, he went to Geneva, and told the Swiss banker promoter what the score was and demanded he hand over any monies accumulated., The Swiss financier smiled his approval and ordered a secretary to place the proceeds to date, some $150,000, to the credit of Mr. Ahearne. Nobody signs cheques on the account but Ahearne or his family.

At that time Geneva's handsome new ice stadium seating some 11,000 was sold out solidly. Since then it is learned that tiefs in other European centres where the Bruins-Rangers will play have the "SRO" signs out.

However the European hockey fans will get some idea of how Canadian professional hockey teams play under their own rules. But any bloodthirsty blokes with ideas they are going to see some fancy mayhem might better go back to their skiing, cheese-eating and beer-drinking.

Fans over there have seen the Canadian "amateurs" in action and the prospect of watching professionals with their allegedly much more boisterous play has European hockey appetites whetted as never before.

You can bet your income tax refund the Europeans won't see any action like the Leafs-Bruins tilts of recent date. They will see something hockey-wise they have never seen before but these Bruins and Rangers are not going to bang the hell out of one another for the sake of a few pfennigs, lire, or crowns, and the chance of being scraped out of a summer vacation because of a broken arm or leg.

Petes Meet Hab 'Cousins' For Eastern Junior Crown

Trounce Toronto St. Mike's In Hard Fought Eighth-Game To Grab OHA Championship

TORONTO (CP) — Peterborough Petes, written off a week ago, today are champions of the OHA Junior A series with the Eastern Canada title their next objective.

Faced with elimination for four successive games Petes wrapped up a hard-fought eight - game series Wednesday night as they trounced Toronto St. Michael's Majors 4-3 to clinch the title for the first time since 1901.

Peterborough took the series 5-2 with three games tied. They now meet Ottawa - Hull Canadiens in the best-of-seven eastern series with the first game Saturday in Peterborough.

IMPRESSIVE WIN

Coach Hamilton, Wayne Connelly, George Montague and Bill Mahoney tallied for Petes in that order as the visitors outskated the collegemen and opened up a 3-0 gap before Bruce Draper sank a rebound for Majors.

Coach Scotty Bowman's Peterborough squad has been 0-2 down in the series with two games tied. One St. Michael's win would have ended Petes season. But St. Michael's couldn't come up with the big win. Petes won twice and tied one of the next three games before the final victory. The present Peterborough team has been in the league for only three seasons.

Hamilton's opening goal was scored off a rebound at 2:07 while St. Michael's were a man short. At exactly the same time in the second Connelly collected his marker under the goal-net in from a corner of the cage. Montague widened the margin with a 25-footer past goalie Cesare Maniago.

SCORING 48 SECONDS LATER

Draper scored off a Paul Jackson rebound 49 seconds later and signalled a Toronto rally which lasted until the end of the period. Peterborough was rarely out of its own end but goaltender Jacques Caron kept his net intact.

Caron also came up with some spectacular saves early in the third until Mahoney's goal at 12:03 signalled the end for St. Michael's.

Mahoney, played without right-winger Les Kozak from the eight minute of the second period. He returned to the Petes bench dazed at the start of the third but it buckled under him with he went helped off.

Gary Darling, the 127-pound centre who has scored 13 playoff goals for Petes, had another big night and sent both Hamilton and Mahoney in for their goals.

Campbell Sorry 'for Talking' Says Writer Is Responsible

MONTREAL (CP) — National Hockey League president Clarence Campbell said that "any mistake was in talking at all."

"I am sorry I was having particpated in or contributed to this mess."

The "mess" is the resignation of senior NHL referee Red Storey, who claims Campbell let him down by telling Bill Westwick, sports editor of the Ottawa Journal, he was "up" in Storey "error" in the crucial last minutes of a semi-final game in Chicago Monday.

"I don't wear my crown of thorns too often," Campbell said in an interview with Vern Decore, sports director of the Montreal Gazette.

NO HEDGING

"I am not taking back or hedging away from this unfortunate situation. I am in my 13th year as NHL president. I have made every effort to talk freely with newspaper men, feeling they would respect on and off record chatter.

"This has never happened before. I feel Bill Westwick . . . was responsible for a story that led to this mess."

Campbell said he did not believe anyone had contributed more to the welfare of officials than he had since he became president. He said the first thing he did was place referees and linesmen under a yearly contract instead of the game - to - game basis they had been working on.

REFEREE RIDDLE?

"I've been a hockey referee myself. I know what it means in the excitement of a game to suffer mental lapses. I thought Storey handled the Chicago game well for 59 minutes. But I felt Storey made an error in judgment on a late third period play.

"Then came the after-game chat with Westwick. That was my mistake. But I'm not talking it tackle. I'm not crying for help. I feel I was a victim of bad faith that has precipitated a most unfortunate mess."

In connection with a newspaper interview with Pierre Eddie Powers in Boston: Campbell said, "I'm not in it as concerned. I have no comment. I have no personal knowledge that it was made at all. The referee-in-chief (Carl Voss) undoubtedly will inquire into it."

In a Boston dispatch Powers was quoted as saying Storey "is 100 per cent right in his deal" and that "the front office has not backed up the officials this season."

DENIES TRUST BROKEN

In the Journal Westwick later wrote that he had not violated any confidence. He said there was no question in his mind either, that statements attributed to Campbell in the Journal story were "out of context."

"What Campbell said was reported, there is no question in this reporter's mind about what was picked up 'out of context.'

"What was picked up by the wire services was not my concern. I merely quoted Campbell's criticism of Storey as given by him, and without any reservations until the president asked that a reference to Storey be 'off the record.'"

(Westwick says he feels there would have been no need for Campbell to stipulate that some of his remarks were off the record if he had not considered previous remarks to be on the record.)

Hotels Halt "Bet" Parade

WELLAND (CP)—Jerry Hamilton, who bet that Toronto Maple Leafs would make it to the National Hockey League finals, travelled 1,000 miles between downtown Welland and Dain City in style Wednesday.

He rode in the wheelbarrow trundled by loser Nick Mollins from a nude which wound past five hotels.

There were numerous stops.

Big Baseball Names Missing When Season Raises Curtain

NEW YORK (AP)—Ted Williams has a pain in the neck; Red Schoendienst is recovering from tuberculosis; Clint Courtney has a hairline fracture of the left leg; Billy Klaus has a cracked rib and Curt Simmons is set to undergo an arm operation.

These and other highly-publicized baseball names will be missing from the opening day lineups when the 16 major league clubs launch the 1959 season today and Friday.

Roy McMillan, recuperating from a shoulder dislocation; Mel Roach, still hobbling on a knee that underwent surgery; Gene Stephens, with a jammed right thumb; Bill Skowron, with a twisted back; Gene Baker, with a damaged knee; Billy O'Dell, with a muscle spasm in his side; George Witt, with an inflamed elbow; Frank Sullivan, with a pulled muscle; and Billy Loes, with a sore arm, may also be on the sidelines on opening day.

A check of the 1958 opening day lineups shows that at least 34 of the 128 players (excluding pitchers who batted in last year's Inaugurals, will either be missing or playing on other teams. This list includes such retired players as Pee Wee Reese and Rube Walker, and such traded players as Frank Thomas, Alvin Dark, Eddie Yost, Billy Martin, Jimmy Piersall, Ray Power, Wally Moon, Del Ennis, Larry Doby, Jim Hegan, Rocky Bridges and Jerry Boone.

Eight of last year's opening day starters were expected to be back on the firing line in this year's inaugurals: Ted Kluszewski, Washington; Jim Bunning, Detroit; Billy Pierce, Chicago; Ned Garver, Kansas City; Don Drysdale, Los Angeles; Robin Roberts, Philadelphia; Bob Friend, Pittsburgh, and Warren Spahn, Milwaukee.

Ramos, 14-18 last year, has been selected by manager Cookie Lavagetto to launch today's game. American League opener in the capital where vice - president Nixon, substituting for President Eisenhower, was slated to throw out the first ball. After that, Ramos was to be up to Ramos and Baltimore's Jack Harshman (12-15).

The pitchers for the National League's sole game today, in Cincinnati, were expected to be Bob Purkey (17-11) for the Reds and Ronnie Kline (13-16) for Pittsburgh.

American League

Cleveland at Kansas City—Jim Perry (6-0) or Gary Bell (12-10) vs Ned Garver (12-11) or Bob Grim (7-7).

Bookies Favor Canadiens 3-1 To Win Stanley Cup

But Leaf Backers Betting Balance Can Nip Brilliance; Opener in Montreal Tonight

MONTREAL (CP) — Toronto Maple Leafs are betting today that balance can beat brilliance in the Stanley Cup finals.

The bookies aren't. They have established Montreal's colorful Canadiens, National Hockey League champions, as 3-to-1 favorites to win hockey's most prized trophy for the fourth consecutive time.

As the Leafs and Canadiens prepared for tonight's opening game of the best-of-seven final, winger Dick Duff expressed Toronto's doggedness:

"We can lose the first game to Montreal," he said. "We can lose the second game. We can even lose the third game, and we still won't be eliminated.

DEPEND OWN RECORD

"The last time the Stanley Cup was won three times in a row, it was Toronto that did it. I think it's up to us to see that record isn't broken!"

Montreal tied the record, set by Toronto in 1947-6-9, last year.

Duff is one of the big boys in Toronto's concept of balance. He scored 29 goals this season to become one of six Maple Leaf players to score 20 goals or more. No other club has so many top scorers, not even Montreal—although Canadiens had two 40-goal men.

NOTICE TO BELIVEAU

Coach George (Punch) Imlach also served notice that in a hard-fought series a man who plays with an injury takes his chances. He referred particularly to big Jean Beliveau who scored 47 goals during the season.

"I serve notice here and now," said Imlach with an air of citing jurisprudence, "I won't accept any responsibility if he is reinjured.

"Just as soon as he gets the puck somebody is going after him and—whamo. He will be hit hard and .

"Oh, by all means, cleanly," said Imlach without a pause. "But I'm making it plain that if he gets hurt again it won't be our fault. This is a tough game and it's going to be played that way."

BLAKE REPLIES

Coach Toe Blake replied a bit later.

"Imlach was always a good, tough guy behind the bench," said Blake. "It's pretty hard to get hurt there.

"I'm sure when Beliveau hears this he will be scared. "We're a club that scares easy.

"That's the same thing we've been hearing every year: Canadiens are going to get roughed up. I hope that if the Leafs start getting penalties Imlach won't claim, like Rudy Pilous of Chicago Black Hawks did, that all the checks were clean.

CAUTIOUS NOTE

Canadiens managing director Frank Selke says he hoped the clubs' traditional bitter rivalry won't produce any blowups such as the Chicago outbreak over what fans considered oversight by officials.

He said Montreal fans were "just as loyal and vocal as they ever were but they remember how the riot of a few years ago cost us both the championship and the Stanley Cup.

"I'm sure they don't want that to happen again and they have proved it ever since by their action at Canadiens games. We haven't had an unfortunate incident since that night."

Blake said he didn't know whether or not he'd use Beliveau tonight and Beliveau himself said he didn't think he'd be ready by Thursday.

But old and valuable Maurice (Rocket) Richard, is ready. Injured Jan. 18, the Rocket is ready for power-play duty.

Larry Regan, Toronto's flashy stick-handling centre who, reports say, is to be rested tonight, agreed that Richard's comeback was bad news for Toronto.

"Even if he isn't 100 per cent," Regan said, "he's always dangerous."

Toronto called up forwards Rudy Migay and Dave Creighton, and defenceman Al Macneil, to strengthen the team in the stretch drive.

The two-play for Rochester Americans, who Wednesday night were eliminated from the American Hockey League playoffs, Imlach didn't say where he would use them, but said he'd string along for the time being with the team that has got him this far.

FAST AND ROUGH

No matter who plays, he insisted, Toronto is just as "rough" a team as Montreal, just as fast, and a lot younger.

"We're going to win the whole thing," he said.

"It won't well win in seven, maybe six, games," Regan said. "It's going to be a long Stanley Cup," said the club's publicity man S. G. (Spiff) Evans.

"Anything can happen."

Smythe Urges Red Storey "Not to Quit"

MONTREAL (CP)—Red Storey has had a telegram from Conn Smythe urging him not to quit as a National Hockey League referee but he says right now he wants only to take it easy.

"I'm still in pretty much of a turmoil—it will take a couple of days before I get straightened out and get back to normal," said Storey Wednesday night, commenting on his resignation as an NHL referee after nine years' service.

The wire from the president of Maple Leaf Gardens read:

"Dear Red:

"You being one of the men who helped bring the National League back and put it on its feet, I hope you are not going to resign now.

"Don't forget everybody quits a thousand times in the playoffs and amongst the owners you are very highly respected.

"You have done a great deal for the game and can do a lot more.

"Regards, Conn Smythe."

KITCHEN VIEWS SIMILAR

Maple Leafs coach George (Punch) Imlach and coach Rudy Pilous of Chicago Black Hawks said much the same thing.

Imlach said:

"It is an unfortunate situation that Red felt he should resign. It seems to me that Red was in much the same position as a fellow who goes into battle, gets his nerves and has to be taken out of the line for rest. He naturally doesn't want to go back at once.

Storey said he probably will be leaving Imlach.

"It won't be a case of fraternizing now. I'm no longer a referee.

"Punch and I have been at each other's throats for 20 years, back to the time I played against him in lacrosse."

PILOUS CONCURS

"I'd be glad to see him back in the game," Pilous said. "I hope the powers that be see fit to have him returned."

"I'm very sorry he elected to resign because he's one of the three good officials left in the game," Pilous said Wednesday.

Pilous said Storey should have stopped trigger penalties on Montreal in the last minute of the game. One preceded Canadiens' winning goal.

He said coaches sometimes get excited when their team gets a bad call. "We'd been getting them. Referees have their good and bad nights. Some of the calls are a matter of opinion. I thought he should have called a couple on Montreal.

EDMONTON (CP)—John Ducey, vice-president of the Canadian-American Baseball League, says he would be happy to have Red Storey as an umpire in his circuit.

Ducey, manager of the Edmonton entry in the semi-pro baseball loop, said Storey "is the type of man baseball and hockey need."

Columnists Applaud Storey, Criticize NHL President

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Canadian sports columnists applauded Red Storey and criticized President Clarence Campbell of the National Hockey League Wednesday following Storey's dramatic resignation from his $10,000-a-year refereeing job in the league.

Storey quit Tuesday after Campbell was quoted by sports editor Bill Westwick of the Ottawa Journal as saying that the referee "froze" on two calls in the Montreal - Chicago Stanley Cup semi-final at Chicago last Saturday. Canadiens won 5-4 on two late-game goals that sent Chicago fans into a wild, near-riot demonstration against the official.

Storey said he resigned because he was subjected to "unwarranted public criticism by Campbell, the man who should defend his referees."

Sports columnists, for the most part, agreed he did the right thing.

FROWN ON PILOUS

Some writers also frowned on the outside critics of Chicago coach Rudy Pilous who, by his actions, indicated Storey had "choked up" by not calling two tripping penalties against Canadiens. The Montreal goals followed these incidents with the winning counter coming at 19:39 of the third period after Chicago had tied the score a few minutes earlier.

Westwick wrote Wednesday: "The most puzzling part of this particular episode . . . is that this reporter has listened to nothing but the most consistent and most violent criticism of National League referees by managers of teams concerned in this playoff . . . yet Mr. Campbell has not yet taken action against his own managers for vilifying the work of his officials. . . .

"Not one of these referees. They've been called everything in the book without any apparent great concern on the part of the National League president.

"That's not a question in anybody's mind about Red Storey's sincerity. . . . If he has resigned in any lead to a better job for his associates and the fans who may follow him."

Jack (London Free Press) Park said "Storey took the only course open to him when he quit.

FAVORS CAMPBELL

Maurice (Winnipeg Free Press) Smith wrote that "our bet is off to Campbell for having the courage to public express his opinion on the incident which caused the resignation . . . ."

"Campbell could have avoided any comment on the matter. That he chose to say what he thought, makes him a better man in our eyes."

George E. (Detroit Times) Van: "Campbell "should hang his head in shame today or get better get out of the job."

"He committed the unforgivable as a sports czar by failing to stand behind his man."

Elmer Chartered (Ref) Ferguson wrote that "when the league president, who should back, not criticize, his officials, makes such public declarations as are reported, Mr. Storey manfully walked out."

ONLY COURAGE OPEN

"He couldn't, in fact, do anything else and retain his self-respect."

Ferguson also criticized what he termed "the sardonic buffoonery" of Pilous. The coach, he added, "was as much to blame for the whole vicious scene as anybody."

Ben (Montreal Star) Wicks, also of the Montreal Star, said it was "amazing" that Campbell "should criticize his own senior official."

"Storey did the only thing that a man with gumption could do . . . he emerges from this mess with considerable stature . . . Campbell should have fired Pilous enough to make him think twice about doing that sort of thing—the choke-up sign—in the future. . . ."

"Storey has been a competent official for about 10 years despite the abuse that has been heaped on him by managers, coaches and players . . . .

"The owners, most of whom are league governors, and therefore Clarence Campbell's bosses, can do something to remove the stigma of 'bush' from the league and make it a big league. They can tell Campbell and his referee-in-chief, Carl Voss, to bawl out their officials in private, not in public. . . .

Milt (Toronto Star) Dunnell said "there can be no question of Campbell's sincere regret over what has happened."

"A strange paradox is that he claims to have been filled with admiration for Storey's poise in handling the rabble at Chicago. And he thinks Red is a good referee."

Jeff Red knows is what he reads in the papers. Campbell's testimonial didn't sound like admiration."

Dink (Montreal Gazette) Carroll said: ". . . the league boss goofed on this one . . . we think Red made a mistake in not calling the penalty (on Junior Langlois of Canadiens) but we think the league president made a bigger one in criticizing him publicly for it."

WANTS STOREY BACK

Scott (Toronto Globe and Mail) Young said that "in my opinion, Storey made only one mistake in refereeing that game, and Campbell was indiscreet but I would like to see a meeting sometime soon, a compromise, and a return of Red Storey to the NHL."

"I reserve the right to be critical of referees—but I don't know a better one, night in and night out, than Storey."

Jack (Winnipeg Tribune) Wells said "it is reasonable to assume Storey expected support from his boss Clarence Campbell."

"Had he received it, he could have ridden out the storm, and finished the session. . . .

"Maybe the wrong man quit."

CAMPBELL ON SPOT

Ace (Halifax Chronicle-Herald) Foley said Storey's resignation "certainly puts Campbell on the spot."

". . . Any official criticism on a judgment play should have been made in private and not in the press-box—in a meeting with the referee and linesmen."

Aubrey (Cape Breton Post) Keizer said "Campbell let Storey down when he needed his support most."

Writers Call Braves, Yankees For World Series

NEW YORK (AP)—New York Yankees and Milwaukee Braves will meet in a third straight world series if U.S. baseball writers are correct.

Of 189 votes received by The Associated Press in the annual pre-season poll of the members of the Baseball Writers Association of America, 175 thought the Yanks would win again and 14 cast their ballot for the Braves. Nobody listed the Yanks lower than third.

Richard Burton Pays Brief Business Call to Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD AP) — After a three - year absence, Richard Burton is back in Hollywood—but not for long.

The British star of The Robe is out of tunics and into a business suit to play a doctor in Brandon Bush. He said he may stay on for another film, but then he'll be on hand up-for some time.

The reason is that he's lined up to play the singing lead in the new Lerner-Loewe show, Jenny Kissed Me. Burton is taking a change of pace for the My Fair Lady authors, both as adapter and director. While book about King Arthur, It will open next winter, and Burton doubtless faces a run as long as Rex Harrison's in "Lady."

There has never been a weekend like it. That's the conclusion after three fabulous social evenings that saw virtually all of the film famous out in their jewels and minks.

It started Friday night with "an evening with Betty Comden and Adolph Green" at the Huntington-Hartford Theatre—a benefit for the Reiss-Davis Clinic.

Ken Annakin—whose last was Jennifer Jones, Cary Grant and Marlon Brando were in the audience.

The Buddy Adlers' party for Ingrid Bergman at Saturday night was another memorable one. There can be no doubt how Hedda regards the long-absent Swede: She was greeted with warmth by all her old friends.

The town also got a look at her daughter, Jenny Lindstrom, a 20-year - old who matches her mother in charm and statuesque beauty.

After a Sunday rest, the big names turned out again for the Oscars and the Academy Ball which followed. No one's been sorry for the good old days of Hollywood. They're still with us.

Tiger Manager Says

'Easy On That Pennant Talk Gotta Crawl Before We Walk'

By JACK HAND

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—"Pennant. Who said pennant? You have to learn to walk before you can run. Talk is cheap. Let's get in the first division before we pop off about winning any pennant.

"Detroit has been lulled to sleep too often by winning the pennant in spring training. If you realize we have finished in the first division only once since 1950 and then we made it on the last day.

Norman, a hulk of a man who succeeded Jack Tighe as Detroit manager last June, was expounding some of his clichés packed philosophy.

WAKE THE LONG BALL

"We are looking for the long ball, period," he said.

In hopes of bettering his hand in the Tiger trade, Norman recently picked up Larry Doby (.281 at Cleveland in 1958) and Charley Maxwell (.272) for the left field job.

The club's power must come from its left fielder, first baseman Harris, right fielder Al Kaline (.313) and second baseman Frank Bolling (.300). Harry Kornon (.319), who made a graceful shift from short to second last season, is a better hitter with not too much long ball ability.

POSITIONS SET

The club is set at all positions with Maxwell or Doby in left field, Kuenn in center and Kaline in right. Harris is the first baseman with Bolling at second, Boros Bridges (.262 at Washington) at short and Eddie Yost (.224 at Washington) at third. Lou Berberet (.296 at Washington and Boston) and Red Wilson (.290) probably will split the catching.

Bridges and Yost, two veterans, are counted upon to provide steady, if not spectacular, defence.

The pitching is strong skip, accounting for their 1959 record over the Yanks last year with Frank Lary (16-15) having a 7-1 record against the world champions.

Tigers look for a comeback by Billy Hoeft (10-9) who did a great job in the spring games and recover no elbow trouble. Jim Bunning (10-14) should get better. Paul Foytack (15-13), a fast-balling righthander, is the other starter.

For relief they have Ray Narleski (15-10) and Don Mossi (7-8) for the stadium jobs and Tom Morgan (2-5) and Hank Aguirre (2-3) for the middle men. Jim Bunning, former Giant lefty who was 11-7 at Phoenix, has impressed Norton.

Regina Evens Western Final With Vernon

REGINA (CP) — Regina Caps scored in overtime Wednesday night to win 3-2 and square their best-of - seven Western Canada Allan Cup final with Vernon Canadians at a game apiece.

Pete Petrovich flipped in the winning goal.

Third game of the best-of-seven series will be played here Friday night.

Other Regina scorers were Ernie Schwarts and Bud Rogers. Merv Bidoski and Russ Kowaltchuk tallied for Vernon.

Leonard Leads 'Foreign Golfers'

GREENSBORO, N. C. (CP)—Stan Leonard of Vancouver, fresh from a second-place showing in the Masters, today led a strong "foreign" contingent into the $15,000 Greensboro open golf tournament which he won in 1957.

However Art Wall and Sam Snead were the marked men as the tournament got under way today.

Wall went into play with victories in the last two starts—the Azalea Open at Wilmington, N.C., and the classic Masters at Augusta, Ga.

In the Masters this year Leonard took a five-day lead and stayed in contention until the last few holes on the last day. He ended up in a tie for fourth.

Snead has won here six times since he started the first Greensboro tournament in 1938. In the last 10 years he has finished lower than a third-place tie only once.

Jerry Mazza of Toronto is another Canadian in the rumping for the $2,000 first prize.

PROS TAKE LEAD

ASBURNHAM, Wales (AP)— Two assistant professionals took the lead after the first round of the Professional Golfers Association championship Wednesday.

Dennis Hamilton and Peter Shanks shot record 70s on the par-72 Welsh course. Dai Rees, Ryder Cup team captain, Ken Bousfield, Eric Brown and Peter Mills round 71s to tie for third. Bousfield and Brown are Ryder Cup players.

AT THE PARK — Jimmie Komack, Barbara Bostock, Paul Hampton and Jill Corey swing out the "Senior Prom", Columbia Pictures' songfest which also stars many other popular entertainment personalities, opening tonight at the Park Theatre. On the same program in CinemaScope and Technicolor the one man brigade Randolph Scott in "Ride Lonesome" with Karen Steel. Both attractions are first Belleville showings.

First Great War Sea Story To Be Taped at Bayonne, N.J.

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—This week's television program is being taped from an unusual place: An empty freighter moored for the bleak stretch of Bayonne, N.J., waterfront.

Technicians and actors are swarming over the ship like boys playing a serious game and curious indeed is The Strange Ordeal of the Normandier which a cynic might have been directed and produced by. Sunday (April 12) over NBC-TV (5 p.m. EST).

The program is based on the recently published novel by Orlan M. L. Tredree, one of the two living survivors of a First World War sea tragedy involving the S.S. Normandier.

FEVER-STRICKEN CREW

Her crew stricken with black fever, she was on the way from West Africa to a Canadian port and her captain dead in a straight jacket, the ship became the scene of despair, madness and heroism as Germ American warships came to her aid. Tredree, then 17, was the ship's radio operator.

William A. Graham, the experienced director of Omnibus production, says that converting the modern freighter Oregon Sword into the old tramp Normandier and depicting the desolate South Atlantic on the Bayonne waterfront involve some difficult problems.

"We're fortunate in dealing with a most co-operative fire department in Bayonne," Graham says. "It's permitting us to use the water to resemble storm-tossed waves. Winds are created by giant fans and airplanes."

The Oregon's fairly luxurious crew's quarters (three hands to a cabin) have been dirtied and crowded to look like the Normandier (10 to a cabin). All modern conveniences have been unmasked and oil lamps installed.

MOSS TAKES PRIX

PARIS (AP) — England's Stirling Moss Wednesday night won the Grand Prix of Europe for midget auto racing. Moss tied with Nana da Silva Ramos of Brazil at 100 points but was awarded first place on the basis of a better time trial. Harry Scholl, an American living in Paris, was third with eight points.

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RIGHTER

Thursday, April 7

Aries (March 21 to April 19) — Set up a better bookkeeping system for yourself. Be sure to budget in such a way that you can make needed repairs on real estate. P. M. it would be wise to spend the evening very quietly without indulging in much conversation, repartee.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20) — A. M. is fine for study that has been impossible in the recent past. Be well informed. After lunch, seek to come to a real meeting of minds with close attendant, but it is necessary you are very diplomatic and courteous.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) — M. is ideal—for secret talks with associates, authorities and friends. Plan days ahead intelligently. P. M. take great care while out driving or you have a serious mishap. See that you are ethical in all that you do, too.

Moon Children (June 22 to July 21) — Getting together with disciplined and dynamic comrades is especially fine today. Seek to add to your circle of well-established and ethical friends. P. M. avoid spending too much for social pleasures or duties. Be fair and wise.

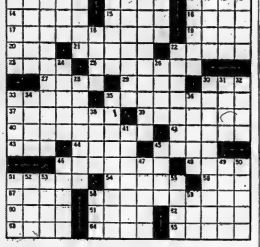
Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21) — Mundane affairs are vital to you today. Do not enter into any altercation with higher ups, but do impress them with your real worth. P. M. take care you do not violate any regulations for this could be very expensive and heartbreaking.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 23) — You are in a position today to absorb many fine new ideas, but show your gratitude and appreciation to those who let you in on the ground floor, as it were. P. M. do not slow down your progress by giving secret analysis too much importance.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) — Excellent day to analyze where you can lop off exorbitant expense in all spheres of your life. Show affection to closest tie without reservation. P. M. don't jeopardize a friendship by borrowing or talking shop.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) — Long conferences with associates reveal the need for renewing agreements, changing clauses, etc., that will make operating more efficient. Be careful during latter part of day not to violate any regulations or you have a skirmish with authorities.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — Many duties can be put behind you during day hours if you apply yourself vigorously. In P. M. you want to make some radical changes. This would be ideal for you. Come to better meeting of minds with present associates.



Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — Opportunity is present now to streamline your recreational program so that you can have many happy hours in the future. P. M. do not be extravagant in searching for temporary pleasure. Start economizing now.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — Think a good deal about home affairs today, though you find it necessary to be out in the world on business. Bring home thoughtful little gifts, be gentle and sweet. P. M. avoid scrappy partner.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to March 20) — Okay for activity. Confer with vital persons, shop, write letters, make necessary telephone calls. You'll show a greater success in your career. P. M. should be spent resting. Do not annoy fellow workers or you have trouble.

If your child is born today — The fine child born today is not the kind who will be getting into perennial hot water, since the nature is a very analytical one and mental faculties applied before any action is taken. A careful course of education should be set up for your progeny in order to bring out all the great power in this fine chart. Inventiveness is very apparent and can be best utilized in practical professions.

Had Awful Trouble With Indigestion-Tired, Rundown

Mr. J. H. Bryden, 1626 Wavell St., London, Ont., is glad to pass his experience along to other sufferers because he knows what it means to get relief from long-standing Indigestion, backache, rheumatic pains in joints and tired, rundown feeling. In a recent report from Mr. Bryden said:

"I had awful trouble with my stomach. Everything was a trouble, even my food. After eating I would have an awful full, heavy feeling and belching, and sometimes vomiting. Many nights I couldn't get my proper rest because of indigestion and backache. I also had bad headaches and was painful pains.

"I had been to my doctor for years until I tried Sanoxa. Even by the time I had taken the first bottle my appetite began digesting better. Now I can eat anything I like without any more trouble either. Sanoxa also relieved the backache and pains in my joints and I sleep well.

As a result I am not always tired as I used to be and I feel like myself again."

Why not let this great Herbal Compound help you, too? It is pleasant to take and the results are quickly felt.

Sanoxa is sold and recommended in Belleville by Dolan the Druggist.

Scoharie

SCOHARIE — The Live Wire Women's Circle held a pot-luck supper at Orser Hall on Thursday evening. Owing to so much flu not as many as usual were present, but those who were had a bountiful supper and enjoyed the lovely slides presented by Irene and Lyle Hagerman. 75 slides were of their trip to Florida and also included some local scenes which rivaled those of the U.S.A.

Mrs. Glenn McGee who had an apartment in Picton for the winter months returned home last week. Mrs. John McGee who spent the winter with her mother, Mrs. Lloyd Thompson, Mr. Pearce and small daughter, is also returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Payne and family, Kimiro, were Easter weekend guests of the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Payne.

Rev. and Mrs. Stephen Spurrell called last week at Scohario recently.

Mrs. Norma Foster returned home to her work at the Bank of Commerce, Monday after a two weeks' leave of absence.

Sunday morning at Bloomfield United Church the reception of new members and communion was held.

DESERONTO

Debates Feature Long and Lively Council Meeting

DESERONTO — A lengthy and somewhat stormy meeting of the town council on Monday night lasted until well after 11 o'clock. All members were present, with Mayor Sweetman in the chair.

The first argument came with the reading of the minutes when Reeve Alford moved that the motion of the previous meeting regarding the M.O.H. should be struck from the minutes. He felt that the Board of Health was the proper authority to deal with the subject.

Councillor Spence contended that since no meeting of the Board of Health had been held prior to February 23 that the town had no property constituted Board of Health. An amendment to the motion of the reeve was moved by Councillor Dellor that the minutes be adopted as read. This amendment carried by a vote of five to three.

In dealing with the correspondence a letter regarding the inspection of all public buildings was ordered filed. A letter from the Department of Planning and Development regarding civil defence was turned over to the finance committee. A letter regarding hospital insurance for indigent patients was turned over to the welfare committee with the information that the town could not carry insurance for indigent patients but would have to work through the county. The appointment of a weed inspector was referred to the streets committee. Several letters were received concerning daylight saving time and were filed.

Complaints regarding trees were received from Mrs. Blanche Bowen and Henry Howard and were referred to the streets committee. The letter of the Athletic Association asking for a grant was again laid over to the next meeting. James and Letitia Finlayson thanked Councillors Spence and Lott and Dr. McVicker for their assistance.

An invitation from the local Red Cross Society for the members of the council to attend the next meeting at the home of Mrs. N. Thomas on May 5th was read. The clerk is to advise the society that as many councillors as possible will attend.

A letter regarding the blocking of the Post Office driveway by parked cars was referred to the police committee. Letters from the Chamber of Commerce regarding the numbering of houses and the signs at the entrances to the town on the highway were referred to the property committee. Four letters with donations totalling five dollars were received from residents who were in favor of having the houses numbered. One of the councillors said he thought that there was a promotion scheme underfoot. It was moved by Councillor Spence that the donors be sent a letter of thanks. This was on occasion of argument between the members and brought forth a remark from Mayor Sweetman regarding a "ball" in town. Councillor Spence said he was not against numbering the houses but felt the town could not afford it this year.

The Public Utilities and the Boating Club both registered complaints against the pollution of the water in the Mill Pond from the Canada Packers canning factory. These letters were turned over to the Board of Health.

A letter from the Board of Health asking that the Utilities be advised not to supply water to new installations until they had been inspected brought another difference of opinion. The letter was signed by A. Stubbs as chairman and some of the council wanted to know how he became chairman since no meeting of the Board had been held to appoint a chairman. It was brought out that Mr. Stubbs had only been appointed a member by the council and not chairman.

A petition from the residents of the south part of Brant St. for a sidewalk on the east side of the street from Thomas St. to the woodyard was received. The clerk is to write the Municipal Board for advice on method of payment for such construction.

The finance committee report showed that some $3,600 more in back taxes had been collected in the first three months of this year compared with the same period last year.

M.O.H. REQUIRED

The welfare committee in its report submitted the resignation of Dr. McLellan as M.O.H. due to pressure of other work. It was recommended the appointment of Dr. McVicker at the same salary as was paid Dr. McLellan. This evoked lengthy and inconclusive discussion.

Reeve Alford thought the resignation should not be accepted and there should be more thought before appointing Dr. McVicker as M.O.H. After several exchanges Councillor Spence asked if Reeve Alford had anything against Dr. McVicker and said if so, he should explain his reasons for opposing the appointment. Councillor Howard moved that the resignation of Dr. McLellan be accepted as of May 31st and the appointment of another M.O.H. be referred to another meeting. Councillor Spence moved that Dr. McVicker be appointed M.O.H. to take effect on June 1st. At this point Mayor Sweetman said he did not like Councillor Spence "shoving the appointment down their throats" and felt the appointment should be laid over. A notice of motion was then moved that Dr. McVicker be appointed and on a recorded vote, Sweetman, Allister, and Howard voted nay and Spence, Therrien, Dellor and Lott voted yea. On the motion the same lineup was recorded as that on the motion and amendment were lost.

After a short recess Councillor Howard introduced the agreement for rural fire protection for ratification by Council. This brought forth an argument between Councillor Howard and Mayor Sweetman regarding the prices quoted. Councillor Howard quite vehemently asserted that unless the agreement was signed he would issue orders that the fire department answer no out-of-town calls. The streets committee reported on the Market property on the Bay shore and submitted a report with photographs for filing.

Council adjourned Daylight Saving from April 26 to October 25. Council decided to place an advertisement in the brochure "The Highlands of Hastings."

Mayor Sweetman reported on the survey for water north of the town and a motion was passed asking the water resources commission to make survey of that section with regard to supplying the town with well water.

FLEMING BOOSTS TAXES TO CUT DEFICIT

More Resignation Than Enthusiasm Greets Budget

Bitter Brew Expected But Some Words Sharp

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

More resignation than enthusiasm greeted the federal budget in initial Canadian reaction.

Some wry faces showed through the resignation but some sharp words were heard here and there, but there was considerable acceptance that some bitter medicine was inevitable.

Only another trade through from the fruit and vegetable and textile industries.

"REGRETTABLE" TAX

Harvey Perry, director of the Canadian Tax Foundation, said the budget is "just about right for the present period of adjustment" but he thought the increase in corporation tax "a bit regrettable." In the province-where the province has a separate corporation tax—it would mean that business income above $25,000 would be taxed 52 per cent.

Mr. Perry said: "The Liberals very definitely followed a policy of keeping the rate below 50 per cent. No doubt the present government put it up with some misgivings."

The increase in personal income tax, Mr. Perry said, is "nominal" and the increases in cigaret and liquor taxes "not serious." The decision to put the co-op-age security program on a sounder basis was wise.

CANADIENS REMINDED

"The chickens of excessive government spending have come home to roost. But, unwelcome as the tax increases are, they may do some good if they remind the average Canadian of the simple economic fact that as a government spends so must it tax or borrow," he claims.

"In other words, government is fulfilling its election pledges. spent a lot more than it received in the last three years and the people, were handed the bill."

Increasing company taxes, he said, is not the way to stimulate expansion or employment.

He concluded, however: "The tax increases are stiff but not brutal and the budget proposals as a whole, particularly, are not, in the circumstances, altogether unexpected."

WILL HURT PROFITS

John Beattie, executive director of the Ontario Mining Association, though commenting that "we don't like to see a recurring deficit," said the corporation tax increase will drain off some profits from certain branches of the mining industry and create problems. He mentioned nickel and uranium as examples.

David B. Archer, president of the Ontario federation of labor, said the budget is "pedestrian and orthodox." The government had not tried "any imaginative or revolutionary methods of financing—but there are any."

The boost in personal income taxes, Mr. Archer said, was to be expected but no one would be overjoyed by it.

Gerald Darling, urging steps to reduce deficit financing, gave

Three Robbery Suspects Seized After Gunfight

MONTREAL (CP) — Three men suspected of bank robbery were captured Thursday after a wild two-mile car chase, and a short but furious gun battle in north-end Montreal.

Two constables were injured, neither severely, and were released from hospital after treatment. Constable Romeo Normandin accidentally shot himself in the leg, apparently when jarred during a tussle between his cruiser and that of Constable Paul Leveille, the other injured man.

Police said all the loot, $4,000 cash and $27,000 in cheques, was recovered.

Seven employees and two customers of the Banque Provinciale du Canada were herded up shortly after noon. Mrs. Marguerite Lacasse, a teller, told police two men entered the bank while a third stayed outside. One man kept a gun on the customers and the other made her empty two tills. She sounded an alarm as they left.

JUMPS FROM CAR

Police cruisers took up the chase and one man, carrying the loot, leaped out of the car. Three constables found him in the garage of Rosario Brosseau, off-duty constable, who indicated with a head signal where the man was.

Brosseau told police he was watering his lawn when the man menaced him with a gun. "He told me if I said a word, he would kill me," Brosseau said, "but I knew I had to take a chance with a head signal."

The constables exchanged fire with the man, who surrendered after his gun jammed.

The other two were captured nearby after a fusillade of gun shots.

Injured Russian Flown to Alaska

Lt.-Gen. Frank L. Armstrong lent a hand as the litter bearing Leonid Ivanovich Gnezdny, 23, was transferred from the Soviet vessel to a waiting ambulance.

The seaman was taken to hospital for treatment of a damaging brain injury received when he fell five days ago into a hatch on the Soviet fishing factory ship Plashevaya Industria in the Bering Sea.

Today's Chuckle

Then there was the hold-up man who came in at the bank teller which read: "I've got you covered in hand over all the dough in the cage." The teller scribbled back, "Kindly go to the end window. I'm on my lunch hour."

THE WEATHER

TORONTO (CP) Synoptic — Lows will remain predominantly over southern regions today with afternoon temperatures again in the low 60s. In the north there will be more sunshine than cloud but temperatures were expected to stay near or below freezing north of the Great Lakes. A minor storm that is expected to form in Texas indicated occasional rain or possibly wet snow will reach the lower lakes early Saturday. Northern Ontario will remain sunny but cool.

SPECIAL SESSION OF LEGISLATURE ON ZONING URGED

Thousands of Laws On Books Invalid

TORONTO (CP) — An emergency session of the Ontario legislature was suggested Thursday as "the only way" to legalize thousands of municipal zoning bylaws throughout Ontario.

The session was called for by Metropolitan Toronto chairman Frederick Gardiner and supported by Lorne Cumming, chairman of the Ontario Municipal Board.

It came following confirmation from the province's Privy Council of a recent Supreme Court of Canada decision made invalid zoning bylaw amendments and repeals passed by all Ontario municipalities between 1941 and March 21, 1958.

ONLY FAST WAY

Mr. Gardiner said the only fast way I can see to plug the hole would be a special session of the legislature which could pass legislation making the amendments "legal." Mr. Cumming said.

Original bylaws are not affected by the ruling.

Mr. Gardiner said the legislature should legalize all zoning bylaw amendments which have been made invalid.

The situation arose when the Supreme Court of Canada ruled in favor of Frank S. Bondi of the Township of Scarborough who has been fighting for more than two years for permission to build two houses on a wedge-shaped piece of property.

Township council passed a zoning amendment in September, 1956, which applied only to Mr. Bondi's property and prohibited him from building more than one residence. The council based approved the amendment.

When the case reached the Supreme Court of Canada after

Want UN Police To Replace Berlin Troops

WASHINGTON (Reuters)—A resolution signed by 19 Democratic members of the House of Representatives and by Lord Silkin and 12 other members of Britain's parliament proposes that a UN police force replace occupation troops in Berlin.

The resolution, announced separately in Washington and London Thursday, called for a gradual taking over by a UN force of responsibility of policing all Berlin.

Canada formally suggested during the NATO meetings in Washington last week that consideration be given to the posting of UN personnel along access routes to West Berlin.

Air Marshal Croil Dies at Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP)—Air Marshal Wilfrid Gordon Croil, Canada's first chief of air staff, died Wednesday.

He became one of the original members of the RCAF when it was formed April 1, 1924, after First World War service with the Gordon Highlanders and the Royal Flying Corps.

Wild Life Parades From Jungles In Oddest Roundup Since the Ark

SALISBURY, Southern Rhodesia (Reuters) — Cobras and fear-crazed elephants were reduced to statistics Thursday in a matter-of-fact report on the biggest animal roundup since the Ark.

Teams of game officers have been fighting for months about 200 miles northwest of here to save jungle creatures from the rising waters of one of mankind's greatest artificial lakes.

The lake has formed and swollen since the Zambesi River separating northern and southern Rhodesia was dammed at the Kariba gorge, about 300 miles from Victoria Falls.

But for the inhabitants — both animal and human — of the upriver jungles the project meant the destruction of their traditional homes.

His reports also counted various types of lizards, 96 tortoises and 132 snakes caged or driven from the danger area.

Fraser said 14 mambas and five cobras, lashing back at rescue attempts, had to be destroyed.

AT BREAKFAST — Finance Minister Fleming looks on as his wife, Alice, prepares breakfast for him and his son Donald, 18, on the day Mr. Fleming delivered the 1959 budget.

Budget Highlights

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Personal income tax increased by two percentage points on taxable income in excess of $3,000, effective July 1.

Special two-per-cent income and sales tax for old age security increased to three per cent with maximum $96 for individuals, effective at varying 1959 dates.

Budget deficit for 1959-60 forecast at $393,000,000 compared with $618,600,000 in year ended March 31.

Expenditures estimated at record $5,660,000,000 comprised with $5,387,000,000 in 1958-59 and revenues $5,267,000,000 compared with $4,770,000,000.

Tax changes estimated to yield $245,000,000 in remainder of current year and $353,000,000 in full year.

Excise tax on cigarets increased by two cents per package of 20, effective immediately.

Excise duty on spirits increased by $1 per proof gallon —about 12 cents per 25-ounce bottle — effective immediately.

Excise duty on cigars increased by $1 per 1,000, effective immediately.

No change in taxes on beer, automobiles, radios and television sets.

Tariff of 10 per cent eliminated for some fruits and vegetables on out-of-season shipments.

Duties on imports of liquor and cigars raised in line with higher excise taxes on domestic production.

Margin of tariff preference on British wool cloth restored by rate based on new Commonwealth negotiations.

Canada opens negotiations with other countries to revise tariffs on cotton yarns and fabrics.

Indian Bomber Is Shot Down By Pakistani Fighter Craft

KARACHI, Pakistan (Reuters) — Delta-winged jet plane, reported to be an Indian Air Force bomber, was shot down by the Pakistani Air Force near Rawalpindi today.

Reliable informants at Rawalpindi said the crew of two aboard the Canberra bomber parachuted to juries. (Reports in New Delhi said both suffered broken legs.)

The informants said the two Indian crew members were brought to Rawalpindi, Pakistani army headquarters, for interrogation.

The pilot, identified as Lieut. Ram Pal, allegedly ignored radio warnings after he flew over Pakistani territory and was intercepted by Pakistani fighter planes.

(At New Delhi, India's defence ministry announced that an unarmed Canberra jet bomber with a crew of two failed to return from a routine flight this morning. The brief announcement said:

("A Canberra jet aircraft which was on a routine flight this morning has not reported back. The aircraft was unarmed and carried a crew of two.")

Earlier, Pakistan refused details on the incident.

An official announcement said the plane was sighted at 7 a.m. local time flying over Gujrat near Rawalpindi from the direction of Lahore.

Pakistan fighter planes intercepted the aircraft and ordered the pilot to land at Gujart. The announcement said that because the pilot failed to obey "he was shot down in the area south of Rawalpindi. No other damage had been given."

Buddhist Monks Want No Fancy Frills

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)— This is a frustrating situation for a U.S. airline. Instead of requesting the red carpet treatment, two distinguished passengers departing for Washington today request:

1. Don't seat them near a woman passenger.

2. No pretty stewardess to serve them.

3. Rice and raw eggs instead of the usual flight dinner.

The passengers are The Venerable Khamkan, Buddist monks from Viet Nam. They are guests of the state department.

Winnie Will Visit Ike

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Sir Winston Churchill will be President Eisenhower's guest in Washington for three days starting May 5.

Press secretary James C. Hagerty said Churchill will go to the British Embassy in Washington after the three-day White House visit. He plans to spend the night of May 7 at the embassy.

Impost on $3,000 Taxable Income Up One Per Cent, 2 Per Cent Above

By HAROLD MORRISON

OTTAWA (CP) — A deficit-cutting budget hitting the pocketbook of every taxpayer in the country has been presented by Finance Minister Fleming. His action brought immediate criticism inside and outside the Commons.

Faced with record government spending and fearing another huge deficit such as last year's $618,600,000, he announced plans Thursday night to slash the deficit for 1959-60 to $393,000,000 and:

1. Boosted the general sales tax immediately to 11 per cent from 10. This may bring higher prices for some consumer products.

2. Pushed the personal income tax rate up for the first time in seven years. Effective next July 1, the tax on the first $3,000 of taxable income goes up by one per cent, with two per cent added to the amount in excess of $3,000.

3. Increased the corporation income tax to 21 per cent from 20 on the first $25,000 of profits and to 50 per cent from 47 on higher corporate profits, retroactive to January 1.

4. Boosted the excise tax on cigarets, cigars and liquor, effective immediately. The excise tax on smokes goes up to 14 cents from 12 for a pack of 20; on liquor to $13 from $12 for a proof gallon — an increase e about 12 cents on a 25-ounce bottle of whisky — and on cigars to $2 from $1 a thousand.

BALANCE FUND

A major aim in the boosts is to narrow sharply the deficit in the old age pension fund this year and eventually to put it into balance in the years ahead.

The fund, financing the $55 monthly pension to those 70 and over, has since its inception in 1952 obtained its revenue from a special two-per-cent levy on personal and corporation incomes and consumer sales. This now rises to three per cent, part of the over-all tax increases. The maximum individual tax rises to $90 a year from $60.

From a record deficit of $184,000,000 in the fiscal year ended March 31, the pension deficit is estimated by Mr. Fleming at $70 million in the current year. Usually this big-bed amount is written off to against the budget. But Mr. Fleming said he will carry this year's deficit into the next fiscal year, apparently figuring the fund will finally pay its own way.

AFFECTS EVERYONE

In one way or another all of Canada's 4,600,000 individual taxpayers and 50,000 corporate payers are affected by the tax boosts, amounting to $245,000,000 in the current fiscal year and $352,000,000 in a full year.

But Mr. Fleming emphasized that only 30,000 of the individual payers and 8,000 of the corporate ones—those in the higher earning brackets — will be hit by the higher rates, outside of the new 2-2-2 personal deduction which is borne by all payers.

He told reporters after his Commons speech that the tax levies his boosts at the more prosperous Canadian, rather than the working man.

FEW CONCESSIONS

For consumers, there were few concessions. Basic personal exemptions of $1,000 for single taxpayers, $2,000 for married payer and $250 for each child remain unchanged. Deductible medical deductions were widened to

Haitian Rebels Seize Plane And Fly to Cuba

SANTIAGO, Cuba (AP)—Seven Haitian revolutionists killed the pilot of a Haitian military plane Thursday and forced the co-pilot to fly them here to the Cuban headquarters of their rebel movement.

Twenty - two other persons board the plane were forced to come along.

Cuban officials said the rebels made their move shortly after the plane, with 31 persons aboard, took off from the Haitian capital of Port au Prince on a short flight to another point inside the Negro republic 170 miles southeast of Santiago.

On landing here the revolutionists asked political asylum of Fidel Castro's Cuba a government, which already harbors some of the leading political foes of Haitian President Francois Duvalier.

The Haitian government was expected to demand the return of the plane and all aboard, particularly the seven rebels to face punishment. But it generally was assumed the seven would be allowed to stay in Cuba.

Six weeks ago the Duvalier government cancelled all exit visas for Haitians in an effort to move to prevent them from joining the "Haitian Revolutionary Front" in Cuba.

Duvalier charged that opponents of his regime were being given military training in Cuba, somebody like the key to launching an armed invasion of Haiti.

Santiago is the headquarters of Louis Delole, a leader of the Haitian exile movement against the Duvalier regime since his ousted defeat for the presidency in 1957.

Crash Landing, Hairbreadth Escape Told In Note Left By Dead Airman

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. (AP)—A story of a crash landing in frozen Lake Huron and a hairbreadth escape by the pilot of a lighthouse is told in a letter left behind by an airman who apparently died in an attempt to walk across ice 11 miles to land.

The letter was signed by Master Sgt. William J. Wyman, who vanished Feb. 22 after a stop at Saginaw, Mich., on a flight from his Batavia, N.Y., home to Duluth, Minn. It was near here, it was found Wednesday by U.S. Coast Guardsmen preparing a nearby lighthouse for the new navigation season.

The letter told of blinding out SOS signals on the big light, of unsuccessful attempts to get a radio transmitter working and of batteries going dead.

Near its end the letter said: "Right now I am deliberating whether to stay here or cross the ice. I have had two freezing nights, so I ought to make it in about four hours. I want to go now in minutes. A nice weather."

The letter was written in longhand "to whom it may concern" and was undated.

Wyman said the plane's engine went dead at 5,000 feet, a mile northeast of the lighthouse. He brought it down in an ice-free area of water and it floated about 20 minutes.

His clothes were frozen from a fall in the water but once inside the lighthouse he was able to get a fire burning.

In indicating he planned to try walking across ice to land, Wyman wrote: "The ice looks very bad. There are large water holes, thin ice which has been broken into pieces by the wind yesterday. There is hardly any wind today. We have had two freezing nights ...."

Khrushchev Says Ike Helps Raise Tension

He made the accusation in answer to questions submitted by the editors of Pravda on Eisenhower's speech at Gettysburg, Pa., April 4.

In that speech the president said the facts of international life tolerate no appeasement of Russia in Berlin or anywhere else. He said "the course of appeasement is not only dishonorable, it is the most dangerous one we could pursue". But, the president added, the Western powers seek to avoid war, by "substituting the conference table for the battlefield", and are ready to bar-riers to an East-West summit conference.

HE IS "SURPRISED"

Khrushchev said Eisenhower's speech "could not but occasion surprise."

"People everywhere learned with joy that agreement had been reached between states to call a meeting of ministers and a meeting at the summit for the solution of pressing international problems."

"As a result everybody felt a definite improvement in the international climate. There appeared hope the statesmen would be able to reach agreement and that war would be possible to ensure peace.

"But on the face of it this does not suit some people. Attempts are being made to play on people's nerves, to raise tension. It should be said that President Eisenhower too is making a definite contribution to this."

The Soviet premier claimed Eisenhower repeated in his speech "almost all the basic propositions concerning the Soviet Union that had been advanced repeatedly by the most rabid opponents of the policy of "brinkmanship."

TREE SWALLOW MAKES APPEARANCE

Add signs of spring — A tree swallow was seen flitting over the water of the bay near the Quinte Yacht Club yesterday.

Believed to be the first of the season, the swallow swooped and dived in and around a flock of ducks swimming in the vicinity.

WILL ORGANIZE WOMEN'S AUXILIARY

It was decided yesterday evening, at a meeting of the wives of the members of the Board of Directors of the local "Y" to organize a Belleville YMCA Women's Auxiliary. A pro tem committee of three, including Mrs. W. H. Finkle, Mrs. J. C. McDonald, and Dr. Elizabeth Scott, was formed "to look into the aspects of organization."

The ladies also elected Mrs. W. L. McDougall and Mrs. J. C. McDonald as conveners for the annual Work Service Tea and Bake Sale to be held on Friday, May 1st, at the local "Y".

FIND DENTAL LINK

LONDON (Reuters)—The British Medical Journal says examination of 1,700 school children in Edinburgh indicated that the more sexually mature children showed a higher prevalence of dental decay. The journal added: "The suggestion that sexual development and susceptibility to caries may be related is important and calls for further investigation."

Belleville Man Found Guilty Of Assault

Randolph Medus of Belleville was found guilty in a police court yesterday of common assault. He will be sentenced on May 7.

Medus was charged with assaulting a police officer on March 29, common assault and impaired driving.

Magistrate R. C. Jackson reduced the assaulting a police officer charge to common assault and deferred sentence. Medus will face the other charges on May 7.

Badminton Club Decides Season Championships

The Belleville Garrison Badminton club held its finals during the past week's play and will present prizes and awards Saturday night at a combined dinner dance and club party.

Eric Roy and Betty Walmsley captured the mixed doubles championship and the Bruce Mellor Trophy by defeating Dan Cowley and Marian Salisbury 15-10 and 15-12 in the finals.

Ladies' doubles crown was won by Madge Cowley and Noreen Callaghan, defeating Bill Waldron and Marian Salisbury, 15-7 and 15-10.

The men's doubles champion-ship was won by Bill McBride and Eric Roy. They defeated Herb Drew and Bill Bonsell 15-6 and 15-10 in the finals.

In the consolation rounds Dave Evans and Billie Waldron won the mixed crown by defeating Dawson McLean and Sandra McDonald 15-8 and 15-10.

Elizabeth Black and "Dawn Grenke captured the ladies' consolation with close 15-13 and 15-13 win over Iris Grew and Betty Howes.

Bob Emerson and Max Stadnyk won the men's consolation title in a close battle with Doug Law and Bruce Johnson. Scores were 15-8, 17-18 and 15-9.

Badminton will continue at the club for a few more weeks.

Soccer Club Holds Practice On Saturday

The Belleville Northern Electric soccer club will hold its initial practice session of the season on Saturday afternoon according to secretary-treasurer Fred Jones.

Jones announced yesterday that the club, under newly-appointed coach Tom Trusler, will workout on the Northern practice field on Sidney Street tomorrow at 2:30 p.m. Once daylight saving time is established, the drills will be held in the evenings.

Jones stressed the fact that all positions on the club are wide open and anyone wishing to try out is urged to attend the workouts.

The team will participate in the mid-week Bay of Quinte league this season. The better players on the club will likely team up with the Wilson Concrete club to form an entry for the re-organized Intermediate League which plays all games on Saturdays.

Hastings County Vegetable Growers Meet

Members of the Hastings County Vegetable Growers' Association held their annual banquet Thursday night at the Plainfield Orange Hall which was filled almost to capacity for the event.

Guest speaker for the evening was Mr. Leslie F. Reid, principal of Quinte Secondary School at Belleville, who spoke on the "streaming" method, recently introduced by school curriculums and on various other educational problems.

Mr. Percy Van Vlack of Napanee, president of the Ontario Vegetable Growers' Marketing Board, brought greetings from the parent organization. He stated that 1959 prices for vegetables had now been settled mainly on the basis of last year's figures, and in general were satisfactory.

County president Lloyd Shepherd of Foxboro, presided over the banquet program which saw the Belleville Lady Barbershop Quartet, headed by Miss Mureen Jackson, providing the entertainment. The quartet "harmonized" a number of popular songs, meeting with the entire approval of the appreciative audience.

Swerved Car Missed Dog Hit Culvert

Swerving his car to avoid striking a dog which darted onto the highway in front of him cost a young RCAF air-craftsman an almost complete write-off of his sports model auto Thursday evening.

Provincial police said that LAC Brian Lee Trenton had swerved his car to avoid striking the dog but after passing the CPR level crossing on the Trent Road. His car went into the ditch, struck a cement culvert, then flipped on its top and slid 60 feet down the centre of the highway.

The young airman escaped with little more than a good scare and a shaking up, but his 1959 model sports car was a total, complete wreck.

Provincial Constable McLean investigated.

The funeral of Jeremiah (Jerry) Marshall of Oak Hill Lake was held on Wednesday afternoon, April 8, at the Darling Funeral Home, Stirling. The funeral was conducted by the Rev. Lloyd Shorten of Peterborough.

The bearers were Ernest May-all, Garnet Sourles, David Hollis-gar, Jack Livesey, Leslie Little and Charles Ross.

Interment was made in Foxboro Cemetery.

WILLIAM CHARLES OSTROM

The funeral service for Mr. William Charles Ostrom was held in the chapel of the John R. Bush Funeral Home on Thursday, April 9th, 1959, at 1.30 p.m.

The Rev. Everett Smith officiated.

Interment was in Belleville cemetery.

Bearers were: Murray Whitman, Robert Scriver, Gilbert Arsenault, Harold Scriver, Orlif Lloyd and Clinton Crosby.

ROBERT FREDERICK BATEMAN

A gloom was cast over Sillenig and Camden district on Tuesday when the news was received of the sudden death in Belleville of Robert (Bob) Bateman, in his 34th year.

Born in Rawdon township, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Bateman, he was a member of Spring Creek United Church, received his education in Rawdon, ninth line school, and attended Stirling High School.

He served two years in the Canadian army for ten years in the Royal Canadian Navy, and saw active service in the Korean conflict. He was a member of the Canadian Legion. In September 1958 he retired from the RCN and since that time had been residing in Belleville.

He leaves to mourn his bereaved parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Bateman, and one brother, Elwood, two nephews and a niece, Heidi Ruth Bateman, all of Stirling.

The funeral was held from the Duffin Funeral Home on Monday afternoon, and service was conducted by the Rev. Dr. A. Packman of Stirling, and an inspiring message was delivered by Rev. Fr. Berry of Springbrook.

The bearers were former classmates, Ernest Reid, Don Stewart, Wesley Finch, Murray Wallis, Don Reid and Glen Groves.

Interment was in Mount Nebo cemetery, Springbrook.

There were many beautiful floral tributes and the funeral was largely attended, a silent testimony to the high esteem in which the deceased was held in the community.

DANIEL SHANNON (Marmora)

Daniel Shannon died at St. Mary's-of-the-Lake Hospital in Kingston on Thursday, April 9th, after being in failing health for a number of years. He was in his 90th year.

Husband of the former Sarah Donahue, he was born in Marmora Township, son of the late Daniel and Ann Jane Crawford Shannon. He lived in the township all of his life, obtaining his education at school in the township and the village of Marmora. Retired for the past 25 years, he was a former hardware merchant and a sales representative of the Tweed Cheese Company. Active in community affairs, Mr. Shannon served on the municipal council for 28 years. He was a member of the Sacred Heart Roman Catholic Church in Marmora and a member of the Holy Name Society of that church.

East Hastings Conservatives Call Convention

With a provincial election expected to be called by Premier Leslie Frost some time during the spring or early summer, Progressive Conservatives in East Hastings have called their party convention for April 23 at Madoc to name a candidate to contest the riding.

Two candidates have already announced their intention of allowing their names to go before the convention. They are Lloyd H. Price, sitting member for the riding, and Clarke T. Rollins of Coe Hill, a former county warden. Guest speaker for the convention will be Hon. James A. Maloney, Q.C.

Mr. Price won East Hastings by acclamation when he was appointed in the last September bye-election.

The C.C.F. party has already named its candidate for the election with Charles Tupper of Madoc receiving the nomination at the party convention several weeks ago.

The East Hastings Liberals have not yet set a date for their convention.

Red Storey's Services Are In Demand

WINNIPEG (CP)—Red Storey may be replaced by more than one National Hockey League games but his services are much in demand elsewhere.

Denis Ball of Winnipeg Warriors said Thursday night he asked Storey, with the approval of Calgary Stampeders, to referee at least some of their Western League prairie division final tonight.

Storey, however, declined. He told Ball by telephone from Montreal he was still under contract to the NHL and could not take on the job.

In Moncton, N. B., coach Gene LeBlanc of the Maritime juvenile champion Beavers asked Storey to handle the eastern Canadian juvenile finals starting there tonight.

There was no immediate indication of Storey's reply.

Approve Site For Bridge

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. (AP)—The U.S. army today approved a proposed site for an international highway bridge linking Michigan and Ontario over the St. Mary's River and the Soo locks.

Harvey Short, assistant secretary of the army, notified authorities that the site would be about 135 feet downriver from the present rail bridge at the Soo locks in St. Mary's rapids.

Preliminary estimates indicate the bridge would cost about $18,000,000 to build. Financing plans are under way.

The present proposals the Michigan highway department would build each approach and the Ontario highways department the other.

Short said the army has found the location to be no obstruction to navigation and given security approval.

Rights to 675,000 New B. of M. Shares Offered

MONTREAL — Rights to 675,000 additional shares of Bank of Montreal capital stock were offered to shareholders at $33 per share, on the basis of one new share for each eight held, G. Arnold Hart, president, has announced.

The new issue will increase the bank's paid-up capital to the highest figure in Canadian banking history, he said.

"The financing undertaken in view of the substantial increase in total assets of the bank since the last issue two years ago, and because of the formation of the new Bank of London and Montreal Limited, serving Latin America and the Caribbean, he added.

Mr. Hart said the bank last month transferred $3,000,000 from tax-paid inner reserves to its rest account, which, after the new issue, the B. of M. capital structure will be increased by $8,750,000, on the basis of $10 par-value shares, bringing paid - up capital to $90,750,000. At the same time, the rest account will be increased $14,850,000 to a total of $137,850,000.

The offer was made to shareholders of record at close of business April 17. Warrants evidencing the right to subscribe will be mailed about May 1, and, although transferable, subscription rights must be exercised by July 10, the expiry date.

Keiller Mackay Replaces 'Jack' With Red Ensign

TORONTO (CP) — Lieutenant-Governor J. Keiller Mackay has replaced the Union Jack with the Canadian Red Ensign as the background for his coat of arms.

FRONT MADE CHANGE

Earlier this year, Premier Frost ordered the Union Jack flown from the main flagpole outside the building and the ensign flown in its place.

The premier has said the ensign should be the model for Canada's formal flag.

Provincial government officers in several Ontario centres have made the changeover in recent months. In Premier Frost's home town of Lindsay the Red Ensign has become an almost unanimous choice as the "official" Canadian flag.

The lieutenant-governor said he will observe Thursday—41st anniversary of the Battle of Vimy Ridge — as the date for change. He said the Red Ensign led Canadian troops in their bloody assault on Vimy, a key victory in the First World War.

Rubber Workers Start Strike

NEW YORK AP) — A spokesman for the U.S. Rubber Company said workers at the company's 18 plants across the United States began a strike at 12:01 a.m. today.

The spokesman said the workers walked out after negotiators here failed to reach agreement on union demands for improvement in fringe benefits. Wages were not an issue.

TORONTO STOCKS

TORONTO (CP) — Industrials were slightly easier today as the stock market was mixed in light morning trading.

The market showed little reaction to Thursday night's budget and some observers felt much of its contents had been anticipated and already discounted.

The 11 a.m. volume was 961,000 shares, compared with Thursday's 958,000 at the same hour, two speculative mines were active and higher, Lebeau 10 cents here Can-Erin, at $2.28 and New Quebeauco, at $2.14.

Among industrials small fractional losses weakened the group while gains by a number of others. Ford A and Great West Saddlery each added 1 point.

Changes in golds and base metals were small and few. In base metals International Nickel lost 6 at 81¾. Consolidated Denison rose off the same amount at 14¾ among uranians.

Thursday industrials were lower.

The industrial index dipped more than 1% points in the general setback since March 16. Western golds were down almost one-half point as their index touched a new low for 1958. Golds and base metals were off a few decimal points.

Final volume was 3,622,000 shares, compared with Wednesday's 4,329,000. Greyhawk Uranium was the most active issue, off 4 cents at 46 cents, on a turnover of 408,500 shares. The company has announced it has suspended operations and made a voluntary assignment.

Among speculative Radiore was the best win, up 15 cents at 81.84c.

Arcan Corp featured the industrial group, up ¾ at 5¾ on a turnover of 50,300 shares. It is rumored the company has a new sales arrangement pending for its electrical products.

Loblaw Inc. had the biggest turnover, off 2 points at 180.

In golds Hollinger dipped ½ at 33½.

Index losses: Industrials 1.83 to 234.46; golds .04 to 89.80; base metals .14 to 175.49; western oils .45 to 131.52.

Railways Ask Freight Rate Boost of Another 12 Per Cent

By JOHN LaBLANC
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—The railways today applied for a 12-per-cent freight rate increase but immediately asked the board of transport commissioners to defer action on the application indefinitely.

The board promptly agreed to the deferral, which the railways asked because the federal government's approval of previous advance copies of their proposed evidence. The date for this had been set at April 20.

The railways' move in the face of the government's no increase policy, had the effect of avoiding what might be a useless series of hearings under present circumstances and at the same time keeping the application alive before the board in case the cabinet's attitude should be modified.

AT ANY TIME

The railways may go to the board any time and ask for a new hearing date.

The last previous general rate increase, 21 per cent, went into effect last Dec. 1.

The proposed new one, it was estimated unofficially, would gross the railways about $45,000,000 a year.

The application was filed little more than two weeks after Transport Minister Hees announced the government general increase does not intend to permit any further general rate increases for the next year—even though authorized by the transport board—pending a general review of freight rates and railway policy.

As for previous freight rate cases, the requested increase would not apply in full to coal and coke. For these, the railways sought a flat boost of 20 cents a ton.

No increase was sought for competitive rates — those which the railways have learned to meet competition. The railways already have been free to raise them. The statutory Crowsnest Pass rates on grain and grain products in the West also would not be touched.

The increase was sought by the railways to bring rail revenues up to a "requirements formula" laid down by the transport board several years ago.

TARIFFICATION INCOMES

This calls for the Canadian Pacific — the "yardstick" line — obtaining incomes of 6,600,000,000 year to cover fixed charges, dividends and surplus after meeting other expenses.

In applying for the last increase last year, the railways said the board they would be seeking an additional one of an unspecified amount. The board directed them to make known the additional amount by today.

In the previous case, the carriers sought a 15-per-cent boost to cover the cost of a wage settlement with employees. The board cut the figure down to 10 per cent.

Miss McIldowie checks over the short wave treatment apparatus prior to making a visit to a patient who requires therapeutic treatment. This is given only on the recommendation of a physician. Treatments may take about one hour in duration.

Many people in this district look forward to seeing the automobile of CARS, with Physiotherapist Phillipa McIldowie behind the wheel, drive up to their house. Almost 15,000 miles a year are covered in visiting arthritics in the community.

New Zealand Physiotherapist For CARS Is Kept Busy Here

The local branch physiotherapist of the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society travels 15,000 miles a year making some 2,000-odd visits to district residents afflicted by rheumatic and arthritic diseases. The local branch of CARS recently obtained the services of a new physiotherapist. Miss Phillipsa McIldowie, formerly of New Zealand and the United Kingdom, who has been getting acquainted with the activities of the society in Belleville and district.

Her territory extends from Deseronto to Brighton, south on Highway No. 7, including all of Prince Edward County. Some six to nine patients, who are recommended by their doctor for their family physicians, are usually visited or treated each day. A visit takes anywhere from thirty minutes to an hour, depending on the extent of treatment.

The basic purpose of the visits is to help the arthritic patient to adjust himself to the limitations imposed upon him by the disease. The physiotherapist prescribes exercises for the patient to perform in order to develop the weakened or diseased muscles and prevent them from becoming too stiff. There are a series of visits, at least once a week, for a patient for a period of about two months whilst these exercises are carried out. Depending things are taught him. The ultimate goal is to make the patient independent of help in accomplishing everyday tasks.

Instruction in the use of infra-red heat equipment is also given to those who wish to acquire these units themselves. Short wave radiation treatments and paraffin wax baths are also given to patients with advanced stages of the disease in order to provide some temporary relief from pain.

LADIES' AUXILIARY

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the CARS is very active in Belleville. The members' baked goods sale and rummage sale have provided the money for various fringe benefits for the patients as well as the provision of major pieces of physiotherapeutic equipment for treatment of patients.

Amongst other things they provide free driving service for patients to take them shopping or visiting. Many members also visit the homes of patients who are shut-ins. Recreational therapy and the getting together of patients who have a mutual interest in a project, such as rug-weaving or a similar therapeutic pursuit, and the provision of two afternoon parties and a Christmas party each year for all members are other projects.

Public education in the work of the society and the diseases which it is fighting are another phase of the Ladies' Auxiliary's work. Speakers are brought into the area to speak to various groups, window displays are also made up, and movies are obtained for showing to local audiences. Some welfare work is also done for patients when some arthritic's family is encountered with an unusual problem. Self-aids, in the form of long-handled tongs, shoe horns, and dressing devices are given to those patients who are unable to provide these items for themselves.

Shortly a bicycle exercises, obtained from recent baking and rummage sales receipts, will be presented to the local physiotherapist, Miss McIldowie. Another rummage sale is to be held in the Armories of the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment on April 24th.

NEW PHYSIOTHERAPIST

Miss Philippa McIldowie, the new physiotherapist, is a native of New Zealand. She took the three - year physiotherapist's course at the New Zealand School for Physiotherapy in Dunedin. Practical training was taken at the Dunedin Public Hospital whilst lectures were taken at the University of Otago. Following her graduation in New Zealand, she visited the United Kingdom for a year's time. She then came to Canada to her present position in Belleville. Miss McIldowie finds Canada and Belleville a "wonderful" and "very friendly" place to live in.

She finds Canadian winters and snow completely different from those in New Zealand. The snow in New Zealand only stays a very short while rather than piling up for months. Despite this Miss McIldowie finds her work here very interesting and busy as some forty-odd local arthritics look forward to a visit from her each week.

Miners Choose Bargain Agents

BANCROFT, Ont. (CP)—United Steelworkers of America (CLC) was chosen today as bargaining agent for 318 uranium mine and surface workers at Canadian Dyno Mines, 25 miles southwest of this village.

Workers voted down the Dyno Employees Association in favor of the steelworkers union by a vote of 177 to 140. The vote is expected to be ratified by the Canada Labor Relations Board in a few days.

The International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers left last month cancelled its attempt to represent the workers.

Kingston Play Gets Praise

KINGSTON (CP) — British adjudicator Richard Ainley, a red-professed "sucker for Ibsen," praised the Domino Theatre of Kingston's performance of Hedda Gabler Thursday night but said the company didn't fully realize the "depths and subtleties" — mainspring of the play.

Mr. Ainley said he was pleased by the presentation of the "great play by a wicked old bearded magician." The Kingston production was the first staging of Eastern Ontario festival, to be concluded Saturday night.

Norma Edwards was commended for a "very splendid" role in the title role in Mr. Ainley felt the demon wasn't strong enough in his performance as in the production as a whole.

To Probe Death Of Gun Victim Heavily Insured

PETERBOROUGH (CP) — An inquest will be held at Fenelon Falls April 20 into the shooting death of Albert Bertelli, 62, on a lone hunting expedition Jan. 26, it was disclosed today in the criminal investigation branch in Toronto where the results of autopsies were called in after Mr. Bertelli carried more than $100,000 insurance and recently had renewed his short-term policies.

Several articles were taken to Toronto for laboratory tests.

Aconic Officials Face Third Trial

TORONTO (CP) — Clifford Bullen and Joseph Beaudry face a third trial on charges of wealth obtaining at Aconic Mining Corporation.

Ag. 11-cast Ontario Supreme Court Thursday night adjourned the former Aconic officials on four charges but were unable to agree on another 21.

Mr. Justice S. H. S. Hughes ordered that the case of the two Montreal men be carried over until the first sexiest. He reduced the bail for Bullen to $20,000 from $50,000. Beaudry's was left at $80,000.

Jury Convicts Oshawa Man Of Murder

LOS ANGELES (AP) — An unemployed bookkeeper from Oshawa has been convicted of first-degree murder in the slaying of a pretty Hollywood photographer's model.

The verdict against Gerald Feasby, 31, was returned Thursday by a Superior Court jury of eight men and four women.

The prosecution charged Feasby stabbed 19-year-old Charlotte L. Trosper to death last Dec. 2 because she was breaking off a three-year romance with him.

The model's body was found by a motorist in brush near a mountain highway.

The same jury that convicted Feasby will reconvene again next Monday to determine whether his penalty will be death or life imprisonment.

Newsboy Rides Tandem on Nag To Spread News

POMPTON PLAINS, N.J. (AP)—Modern methods of newspaper has decided to spread the news on horseback.

Bradford Smith, a newsboy for the Newark News, has abandoned his bike in favor of a nine-year-old pony named Conchita.

Brad and the horse provides a few more problems on a news route than a bicycle.

To solve the latter problem, he enlisted the aid of cockjockey Alan Kellet, a sixth-grade classmate.

Alan rides double with Brad in the afternoons while Brad runs up to his customers' houses for delivery.

"I'm afraid if I left her with no one to ride her, she'd walk around in yards and maybe eat their flowers."

Brighton Court Disposes of Heavy Docket

TRENTON — Ron Sheppard of Front Street, Trenton, was fined a total of $100 and $29.40 costs when he appeared before Magistrate R. C. Bird in the Brighton court yesterday.

Sheppard faced two charges of failing to remain at a scene of an accident and one charge under Section 285 of the Criminal Code. He won a dismissal on one of the latter. The "main" charge but was found guilty on the other. The charge under Section 222 was reduced to driving while impaired.

There were a total of 36 cases heard in the court with Harry Deyman of Cobourg acting for the Crown.

Stephen Miller of Brighton was found guilty on two charges of car theft and remanded until April 13 for sentencing. According to the evidence in court Miller stole a car from outside the Brighton Legion Hall on April 3 belonging to P. Pattison, drove it to Gosaport where he got stuck in the mire. He abandoned the car and stole another belonging to Roland Cooper also on April 3.

Two days later, (Sunday, April 5), the Brighton police received a call from Montreal police informing them they had arrested Miller in Montreal with the stolen car in their city. Miller was then returned to Brighton along with the juvenile who was travelling with him.

Found Guilty For Part In Car Theft

TRENTON — Carl Buck, 17, of Bay Street in Trenton, was found guilty for his part in the theft of a car in Trenton and remanded until next Tuesday for sentencing when he appeared in Magistrate's Court in Trenton yesterday.

Buck elected to be tried by magistrate and pleaded not guilty to the charge. He was represented by Gregory Buller.

Arie Hoornweg, owner of the car which had been stolen on March 23, was called to the witness stand and told the court he had left his car in the parking lot behind a municipal building where he is employed and had not left the keys in it. When he went back for it about 1 p.m. it was missing and he notified the police. He told the court the car had been returned to him the next morning by the police and there was no serious damage caused to it. He said it was necessary for him to have a new ignition switch put in as well as a new rear-view mirror.

Under question by the counsel for the accused Mr. Hoornweg said he did not think the car had been driven very far according to the mileage meter on the speedometer and that there had only been about a quarter of a tank of gas when it was stolen.

Inspector Bob Rutherford of the Trenton police told of the investigation and after taking down a statement from the accused. The statement was read in court.

The accused as well as Cary Ibbotson were also called to the witness stand.

ANOTHER TEST FOR WEST GERMANY

If West Germany survives the Berlin crisis without any earth-shaking upheaval in its economy, it will face another test later in the year.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer is reported to have accepted his party's nomination for the post of president of the republic, a position which will remove him from active politics.

West Germans have been keenly aware that Chancellor Adenauer's days in office must, in the nature of things, be numbered, since he is already 83. Now, however, he is preparing to step down voluntarily, rather than waiting for the one opponent he cannot hope to best, death. His party, the Christian Democrats, will have difficulty in filling his shoes, largely because there are so many of them. Adenauer has not been content merely to fill the role of Chancellor and to let his associates share widely in the tasks of government. As much as possible under the democratic system, his has been a one-man government. It has long been obvious that this fact, while it may have assisted the Christian Democrats to remain firmly in office as long as Adenauer was in the saddle, was sure to expose the party to the danger of a bad fall whenever some apprentice jockey took over the reins.

The Socialist opposition could very easily make heavy inroads into the Adenauer coalition majority when next the West Germans go to the polls. But there is nothing so unpredictable as an election. Could be that the West Germans have been growing a little tired of Adenauer's tendency to be dictatorial and that, for every vote Adenauer's departure costs the coalition, another will be gained or saved.

GOURMETS EN GARDE!

We note by a Canadian Press news item that a Montreal food consultant, attending the recent annual meeting of the Fisheries Council of Canada, has suggested that the fishing industry do something about "invading the Canadian stomach" to improve the market for fish.

We find this thought most disconcerting and somewhat smacking of 1984 and all that. Surely if there is one thing which an individual may enjoy in the civilization which Canadians have today it is the right to make up his mind as to what he is going to have for dinner (unless the wife has something else planned).

There are surely more than enough people about with designs on our minds, our pocketbooks, and our time without others being present to have designs on our stomachs.

Let's rule stomachs as being out-of-bounds for fishing.

DON'T SEEK TROUBLE

By EDGAR A. GUEST

When Old Man Trouble gets you,
You'll know it right away;
You won't need introducing,
As he just looks do-facedly.
He'll just walk right up to you
And he'll say, I've come to call;
And you'll know you've got a fight on
When he steps into the hall.

So don't go round a-prying
Into every spot and place,
Trying hard to get acquainted
With Old Mister Trouble's face.
Just act as though you're strangers;
Keep on going with a bluff;
'Cause the moment Trouble wants you,
He will get you soon enough.

Some folks just make me weary;
They go snoopin' round about
All the dreary haunts of Trouble.
And they try to find him out.
And the first thing they know, Mister,
Trouble hustles down the pike
And they get acquainted with him
In a way that they don't like.

ARTICLE 5

The City of Kingston, Jamaica, is situated on a wide, deep bay that is completely landlocked by a long spit of land stretching two-thirds of the distance across the ocean side. Forming a complete background as far as the eye can reach is a chain of rounded-top mountains ranging up to 5,000 and more feet. The whole setting is a handsome one,especially in the early morning sun for everyone was on deck shortly after sunrise to take in the view. This was on the sixth day after we left St. Kitts and it might have been a delightful day in July so far as the weather was concerned.

It was Saturday and as the banks close at noon and most of the stores by mid-afternoon it was decided to spend the day getting acquainted with the business district.

Like Nassau and Havana, Cuba, and in Mexico City the visitor will find good street maps once to ramshackle buildings. Two short blocks from the pier is Harbour street one of the main streets of the city and this cuts at right angles to Duke and adjoining streets on which are located most of the best stores. Arcades stretch over the sidewalk as protection from the sun and the rain in the wet season. Window displays are always interesting in any strange land, but there are large signs on most of the merchandise commonly sought by the casual tourist. Generally enough prices are not as low as might be expected but there could be tale ored in forty-eight hours and sports jackets somewhat less. Some stores are privileged to sell goods at free port prices which mean a great saving. The articles cannot be taken from the store by the buyer but must be delivered to the ship and held in storage until after departure.

BATA STORE SEEN

The Bata Company has a large display of footwear and several stores feature large displays of imported English woollens. Here, also, it is possible to exchange Canadian currency at the banks for U.S. funds and get the benefit of the exchange rate as in Canada. The same rate of change in the same currency which the customer pays for merchandise. There are branches in Kingston — The Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce, Royal Bank and Bank of Nova Scotia.

Traffic is the same as in The United Kingdom and most of the countries we have visited as well. Generally we found the drivers were careful and allowed the right of way to pedestrian, but in the country, particularly on the hazardous curves there were many bad examples of reckless driving. Jamaica would be a good place to use metres and others charge a flat rate. As in most strangers we used the metered taxis only. The small cars served the business district and large cars for long drives are available.

The Myrtle Bank Hotel situated on the water front is the leading basterly in Kingston and it was there we had three excellent luncheons. One dining room serves a regular table d'hote meal, the other a buffet at moderate cost. We liked the buffet service and for one we had a large selection of vegetable and fish dishes and everything was delicious as well as delicious.

An orchestra played calypso and it was there we met the poet laureate of the island. Following the parade of people walking through the dining room it was a pleasant diversion.

The large swimming pool is situated facing the bay and both it and the dining room look over a lovely garden owned by the hotel. The building itself is fairly old, but well maintained and has a courteous staff. A number of fine shops is located adjacent to the hotel. There is some talk of a new building to replace the present one. All of our party liked the hotel very much and would have no hesitation in recommending it.

MOUNTAIN TRIP

The next morning we left for Port Antonio on the north coast about sixty-three miles away. Two cars were supplied and it was another beautiful day. Stopping for gas before leaving the city the first we were to refuse to look. Each time we stopped to look at the view the same thing happened with the result we arrived at our destination over an hour and a half late, almost too late for lunch at the Titchfield Hotel and Inn. It had been planned to take the two-and-one-half raft tour down the Rio Grande River which is one of the most popular features for tourists in Jamaica, but because it took over two hours we had to give up the idea. This was a disappointment since the trip offers a wonderful opportunity to get unique pictures, as well as enjoying an unusual experience.

For most of the way the road, a narrow one, winds through the hills and mountains and takes over three hours. It is filled with hairpin corners, sharp grades and few straight stretches. It also rained most of the way and it was surprising how fast some of the passing cars whizzed past on the slippery steep grades around blind corners. Always it was to the accompaniment of horn blowing. One skilful driver crowded a bad sideswipe on one blind curve and it was with some relief we finally stepped out of the cars at the pier just before Port Antonio.

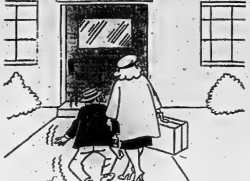
The Titchfield Inn served a buffet lunch and it was one of the best meals of the many good ones we had during our holiday. The hotel was formerly owned by Errol Flynn the movie actor, who, as we recall, has spent much of his life in Jamaica. It occupies a splendid site on a small inlet from one ocean, has a pool for children and adults, and is a most attractive place to stay.

To be continued tomorrow.

Letter To The Editor

Wants Information Of Old Side Wheeler

Editor,
Ontario Intelligencer.



I have received an out-of-town enquiry concerning an old timer in watercraft formerly operated out of Belleville, the type wheeler.

This ship was associated in some way with the celebration of Queen Victoria's jubilee, and if she is still afloat it is proposed to have her greet Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II on her forthcoming visit to open the Seaway.

If among your wide circle of readers any information can be gathered, particulars of the fate of this craft will be appreciated by the writer.

A committee was appointed to confer with the members of the city council and with the council of Ameliasburgh generally in regard to taking measures to have the bay bridge made free to traffic.

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

Who picks up the villainous-looking characters that are sometimes to be seen thumbing grimly on the shoulder of the highway?

Who gives them the recommendation of the theory of natural selection. Pleasant-looking, clean attractive persons have no difficulty in getting a lift. Next, I would pick up those who look as if they need a lift. On the highway yesterday I passed such specimens — a middle-aged man in soiled clothes and tattery coat flapping in the wind, and he had his head bared bag of some sort. Even at fifty yards, well before braking distance, I could see he was unshaven. And as I whipped past him, I could see that a sour, hard-eyed, surly countenance he was endowed with. Who in the name of sanity picks up such a man?.

Since I was merely out bird-watching, and one road as good as another, I turned off onto the next side road and came around a concession, planning to pass him. I could see that a few saps had the courage to pick him up and find out the answer. So somebody does pick them up.

Strength for The Day

DR. EARL I. DOUGLASS

THE BEST RIGHT NOW

Some students of a large eastern university gave a party recently to a fraternity brother who was going into military service. A lot of liquor was consumed, and before morning the boys decided to paint the town over.

They found the fraternity house a shambles. These men had broken up the furniture — their own furniture — had smashed windows off the stairs, smashed windows, and wrecked things which could be repaired only at vast cost. The dean of the university decided to call in the dean of another university as he questioned the students, but he realized that there was something more involved than the destruction of property. One by one the students were brought in and questioned. By the amusement of both deans, they found, amid a multitude of answers in their answers, this one statement recurring over and over again: What difference does it make anyway? We may be dead in a year or two. Why not break up everything if we want to?"

The gate of the shadow of Aswalls and H-bombs falling across us all, these days seem nevertheless the most prominent over confronted. If any considerable number of our young people are asking the question, "What does it matter, anyway?" We as a nation are in a state of great jeopardy.

The answer to the question, "What does it matter, anyway?" is: "There never was a time when life could mean so much to everybody as it does right now."

To Your Good Health

By Joseph G. Molner, M.D.

IF YOU'RE AN ALCOHOLIC, GET HELP AT ONCE

One question that keeps crossing my desk is, couched one way or another, "Is my husband (or wife) an alcoholic?" and to this there is no clear answer for a doctor to give.

If alcohol is messing up your life, or reducing your efficiency, you are drinking too much — regardless of whether you fit anybody's definition of a "alcoholic".

And if you find yourself unable to quit drinking, then the answer is clear: Yes, you are an alcoholic. Get some help at once. Admit you need help, and get it. I make a respectful bow here to Alcoholics Anonymous, but if you prefer help from somebody else, o.k. But look the truth in the face, and get help.

Another common question goes like this: "I have not had a period for a year. Can I still have a baby?"

This question comes from two types of women. One type wants a baby; the other wants to avoid it. And the answer is, if you'll pardon the very blunt sort of quibble on my part, that the chances of having a baby after a year of recording amenorrhea, I'd say, I suppose it could happen. There is no reason why it will give an absolute answer. My reply is (for those who don't want another, "I'm sorry, but I don't think you have a chance".

And still another frequent question is about one new drug or another. A Pinkham reader asks about a drug that got a bit of publicity a year or so ago, as being helpful in cases of psoriasis.

The reader comments, "Since that time I have heard nothing about it."

My answer is this: With the greatest sincerity in the world, I remember (or am likely a member of them) find a new drug that seems to be very useful.

Long ago I knew a young fellow who played hockey, and used to rub the ice with the skate runners. If he didn't wax the skates, he was a little slower, a little clumsier. He believed in the beeswax. Yet others didn't use wax but skated as well.

So with new drugs: You hope and believe; your patients hope and believe. And yet something for one person may not work

Another reason why I don't like to be quick with a drug is that the symptom may be a warning that something else is wrong. For instance, a cough. The important thing is to find out why it comes to millions every day. A friend of mine once had an opportunity to knock again and again, at many a door, but that such a caller could not be expected to kick the door panels out.

Ideas, on the basic, are everywhere, but it takes decision and desire to get them, and get them to work. How it would bring joy to the whole world if someone to come forward with a practical idea that would bring peace to the entire world! Such a one would be given a seat of honor among the world's elite. That one, however, would not be seen by the public, but in the forward procession itself.

If you have practical ideas turn them over to the world. The world is hungry to receive them — and you!

ROADSIDE OPPORTUNITY

Who is it who has said that there are no more opportunities? There never have been so many as this very day. Sit by the roadside, if you like, and wait for opportunity to knocks again and again, at many a door, but that such a caller could not be expected to kick the door panels out.

Ideas, on the basic, are everywhere, but it takes decision and desire to get them, and get them to work. How it would bring joy to the whole world if someone to come forward with a practical idea that would bring peace to the entire world! Such a one would be given a seat of honor among the world's elite. That one, however, would not be seen by the public, but in the forward procession itself.

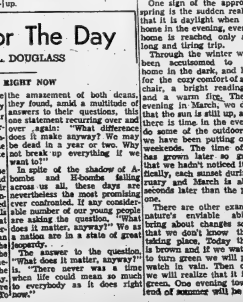
Nature Makes Quick Changes

Chicago Tribune

One sign of the approach of spring is the sudden realization that it is daylight when we get home in the evening, even when home is reached only after a long and tiring day.



Through the winter we have been accustomed to getting home in the dark, and heading for the cozy comfort of an easy chair, a bright fireplace blaze, and a warm fire. Then, one evening in March, we discover that the sun is still up, and that there is time in the evening to do some of the outdoor chores we have been putting off until weekends. The time of sunset has grown later at the rate of about 90 seconds later than the previous day.

There are other examples of nature's enviable ability to bring about changes so subtly that we don't know they are taking place. Today the grass is brown and if we watch for it to turn green we will probably watch in vain. Then one day we will realize that it is bright green. One evening toward the end of summer will be quiet a few nights later we will realize that the whole night is filled with the raucous sound of crickets, tree toads, katydids performing their noisy antiphony.

A teen-age girl grows up in the same way. All of a sudden we realize that she is no longer a child, she is a grown-up young lady. We are told that the same is true of boys, although we have yet to observe a comparable phenomenon. No matter how eagerly the frazzled mother looks for signs

Japs Rejoice As Crown Prince Weds Commoner

BY JAMES CARY

TOKYO (AP) — Millions of Japanese rejoiced with parades and picnics today over the marriage of Crown Prince Akihito to a beautiful commoner who one day will share the ancient chrysanthemum throne.

Throngs walked the streets of Tokyo and Kyoto after a gold-encrusted carriage had carried the bride, Michiko Shoda, and her prince to their suburban residence.

Thousands formed motion picture theatres, bars and restaurants. Some spread box lunches along banks of the imperial palace moat. Others headed for concerts and lantern parades.

Only an unemployed 19-year-old youth, Kenseto Makayama, marred the day-long celebration. The hurled a shoe at Akihito from the crowd.

When it missed, he burst into the street and leaped onto the moving carriage in a desperate lunge at the prince.

AGAINST THE SYSTEM

Police seized him immediately. He told them: "I am opposed to the emperor system and have been since childhood. But I had no intention of killing."

Police withheld charges pending completion of their investigation. There were suggestions the youth might be mentally ill.

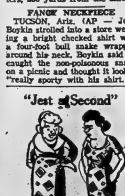
With a sip of sacred wine at holy Shinto sanctuary deep within the imperial palace grounds, the heir to the throne wed the gracious 24-year-old girl he met on a tennis court.

With the union Michiko was transferred from a commoner-daughter of a wealthy flour miller — into the Imperial Highness Crown Princess Michiko. Her rise from commoner status to the second ranking woman of the nation is unprecedented in the almost 2,600-year history.

FEW WITNESSES



Present for the ceremony in the Shinto shrine were only the bridal couple, the aged chief ritualist of the imperial family, lesser ritualists and two shrine herlaine, one of them holding over Akihito's head the 700-year-old jewelled sword symbolizing the heir to the throne.

Emperor Hirohito and Empress Nagako were not present, in keeping with tradition. They waited inside their palace quarters, 250 yards from the shrine.

FANCY NECKPIECE

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP — John Boykin strolled into a store wearing a bright checked shirt with a four-foot boa snake wrapped around his neck. Boykin said he caught the non-poisonous snake on a picnic and thought it looked "really sporty with his shirt.

"I've just bought it. It will be a deal for the toilet curtains."

This smiling group of Sea Cadets on board the "Quinte" are a few of those whom Lt. Al Clare, executive officer, (centre), has just nolified of their successful completion of the examination for promotion to Able Cadet rank. Fourteen Cadets successfully wrote the examination.

Examination Parade Is Held For Sea Cadet Corps Quinte

There are two very important annual events in the life of a Sea Cadet Corps. The first is the annual inspection where the excellence of the ship's company and barracks is under scrutiny. The conduct, actions and appearance of each member of the corps must be flawless as the worth of the corps is assessed by the inspecting officer.

The next important yearly event is the examination parade when each individual member of the corps has his efficiency assessed in the writing of exams for promotion. It was this event which took place yesterday evening at the barracks of the Royal Canadian Sea Cadet Corps "Quinte" at 20 South Front St. Almost thirty cadets wrote examinations for promotion to the rank of Able Cadet or Leading Seaman ranking.

Lt. M. Davidson, RCN, Assistant Area Officer, was on hand to supervise the writing Seaman's examinations. These exams, consisting of some 300 questions of which 180 must be answered correctly for promotion, are set by the Royal Canadian Navy and marked at Area Headquarters in Toronto. These tests are noted as being difficult.

The examination for Able Cadet was set and marked by the officers of the "Quinte." This consists of 100 questions of which 65 must be answered correctly for an Ordinary Cadet to advance to the rank of Able Cadet. Of the 17 writing the exam 14 passed, half of them showing a very high standing. Leading the list of successful candidates was Bob Lott, a new entry to the local corps, who entered the commanding of the "Quinte" after rising through the ranks of the local Navy League Cadets. The latter is a sort of junior Sea Cadet corps for boys from 12 to 14 years of age. This group meets every Friday evening at the "Quinte" under the direction and instruction of Eddie Richards, the commanding officer, and Stirling Shandrew. Cadet Lott received 99 marks of a possible 100.

Following Cadet Lott were the following successful Able Cadet examinees: W. Clare (98), R. G. Graham (93), S. Grigg (91), A. Castleton (91), G. Easton (88), A. Snider (87), J. Shelley (77), K. Rushlow (74), M. Bly (74), R. Castleman (74), P. Fry (69), T. Graham (67), D. J. Yorke (63).

The results of the Leading Seaman examinations will not be known until the papers have been marked at the Area Headquarters in Toronto. Results may be expected within about two weeks.

Successful completion of the Able Cadet examinations gives the Cadet the eligibility required to attend the two-week summer course sponsored by the Royal Canadian Navy. Those passing the Leading Seaman's examination are eligible to attend the special seven-weeks' instruction course made available to cadets by the RCN. The local corps is allowed to send ten men to the summer camps and courses in 1959.

Khrushchev Says

Two Ways to Expand Power, Western Style 'Colonialism' Or Russian Type 'Liberation'

In this article on Soviet Premier Khrushchev, William R. Ryan gives the American reporter's view of the stark facts confronting the West today—and a glimmer of hope for the future.

BY WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

A Communist party hack named, Z. T. Serdyuk droned on and on, saying just what was expected of him.

Nikita Khrushchev, tireless talker and dogged listener, hung on every word.

"In view of the ultimate triumph of our party's general line," intoned Serdyuk, "we have all the more evidence of the moribund bankruptcy of the anti-party group of Malenkov, Kaganovich, Molotov, Bulganin and Shepilov."

Frowning, Khrushchev interrupted: "Shepilov, who joined them," he corrected.

It happened last December at a party session when Khrushchev was establishing himself finally as master. The speaker had momentarily strayed from the formula.

When Khrushchev "took the black sheep by the tail" as he put it and threw them out in mid-1957, a new cliche was born. The boys who opposed Khrushchev were to be regarded as guilty as sin. Former foreign minister Shepilov was not equally as guilty.

DOUBLE STANDARD

This was the Khrushchev mind at work, as dogmatic as Stalin's, conditioned by a lifetime of expressing himself in prefabricated phrases. Such incidents throw light on the personality of the man who would face Western statesmen in any summit conference.

Khrushchev's life story shows him clearly to be the product of two kinds of war—the just and the unjust. Just war exists, he fends or advances communism.

There are two ways to expand influence in the world. Whatever the West does, even through economic programs, is colonialism. Whatever the U.S.S.R. does is in support of liberation.

When Russian troops crushed a revolution in Hungary, and when Red Chinese troops smash resistance in Tibet, that is "coming to the defence of the people."

To Khrushchev is old devout disciples of Lenin and Stalin, the "anti-party group" and "the people" are synonymous.

When Khrushchev applies the double standard — one the U.S.S.R. and one for the West—it is useless to look for logic as Westerners know it. There is only one faith: Communism.

Like Lenin and Stalin before him, Khrushchev has made himself sole arbiter of what is good for the cause of communism at any given moment. Those who disagreed with him became "anti-party" wreckers, guilty of half a dozen sins from the Communist lexicon of sin.

LED TO TROUBLE

By these standards Stalin was right when he resisted Trotsky's impatient demand to regiment farmers. And he was right when he himself brutally accomplished the same thing. Khrushchev was right when he denounced Stalin and encouraged cautious relaxations. He was just as right when he re-established Stalin as a hero and began to reverse the same relaxations, blaming others for costly experiments.

For Khrushchev, the relaxations brought about a situation in Hungary that he found as "hot as paprika." They brought festiveness among Soviet youth, riots in Poland, even trouble in China. They required him to fix the blame elsewhere — first the regime of the Kremlin feud with Tito of Yugoslavia.

Now Khrushchev once again is a Stalinist. Still feeling he needs to make promises to the public, he warns that abundance must not be expected too soon. Like Stalin, Khrushchev wants world power first.

His leaves no doubt how he wants to use that power.

"Whether they like it or not," he once blurted out, "the capitalists must die. We'll contribute that we can."

Does all this mean many years of ceaseless cold war? That may depend upon how long Khrushchev lasts at his dizzy height. Communists know that the job of being Soviet party chief is gigantic. The pressure of it is almost equally taxing. Khrushchev himself once decreed it was impossible for one man to do both well, and separated the posts in the satellite countries. He does seem to have enormous energy, but he may pick up bounces of his worse than abundance. Like Stalin, Khrushchev treats world tours:

"Life is short. Live it. Tired? Of course not. I'm a strong man."

Khrushchev will soon be 65. Doctors have warned him to ease up on liquor which he likes diet. As a result, the two-fisted drinker is pretty much on the wagon, and suddenly is intent in making the whole Russian population lay off the stuff.

CHANGES SEEN

He lives in luxury in Moscow with his stout, motherly wife, retired his grandchildren. If Khrushchev has a soft side, it is his devotion to his daughter, wife of a Moscow editor, and his son Sergei, an electrical engineer. Another son died in the Second World War.

When the pace gets rough, Khrushchev rests at a 30 - room villa, complete with Black Sea resort. The grandson of peasant slaves has come a long way since he joined the Bolsheviks 40 years ago.

So Khrushchev may live for years. But his generation of militant Bolshevik veterans is lying down. Khrushchev has neither the power nor the personality to be a Stalin. Opposition, both from diehard Bolsheviks and the rising generation, is easily detectable. Still, Khrushchev seems intent upon producing a robot population. He is rather Marxian and creating new dogma to prepare the country for his version of "liberation."

He may be miscalculating. The new Soviet generation is not the frightened mass Stalin dominated. Social developments, especially in the cities, with new skills and scientific achievement, a hint of the rise of a middle class, the size of the consumer economy, all are pressures on Khrushchev. Thousands of Russian scientists, professional people and even many party members will likely remain being transformed into robots.

More than anything else, observers believe, Khrushchev himself relies on the verge of an era of unlimited promise, fear the spectre of war. This, too, must affect Khrushchev's drive to impose Russian will on the West.

With Khrushchev as top man, there may be little relaxation of the tensions communism uses to advance its doctrine. Time can tell whether the rest of the West negotiates, it buys time.

So-Ed Enjoys Several Interesting Talks On Variety of Topics in Spring Session

The So-Ed spring '59 session has now passed the half-way mark in the eight-week series. The mosaic class has progressed well in the making of trays. The silk screening class instructor has had to discontinue due to illness. Miss Marilyn Elliott will be instructing this class for the remainder of the session. The instructor for fencing has been instructed to have pupils each take a vacation, therefore the fencing class has been discontinued. However, there is a professional dressing with Miss Patti Jenkins of the Diment School of Dancing instructing in the waltz and foxtrot.

A variety of topics and speakers was included in the "Courses and Discussions" section.

Mr. K.G.M. Ross discussed the topic "Philosophy — Nonsense or Necessity" with a group in the general topics section.

He briefly outlined philosophy, read excerpts which the particularly liked himself from well known philosophers and suggested anyone interested could obtain the books from which he was reading at the local library or could borrow his. As a great deal of interest was shown in this topic, if he is available a series of lectures, will be arranged in the future.

Mr. Ross was introduced and thanked by Mr. Mervyn James, chairman of the courses and discussions committee.

CANCER

Local surgeon Dr. K. M. Douglas was guest speaker at the YMCA So-Ed Club meeting. He gave an interesting talk on "Cancer", one of the three highest causes of death.

Dr. Douglas noted that interest in cancer has become very great in recent years, not only because it affects mostly adults as one of the most dreaded diseases at the present time, but because its causes appear to be intimately associated with normal body processes and have even the secret of life itself.

A brief description of the structure of the body was then presented, showing how these cells divide, grow, and replace, worn out body tissue. The cancer invades these cells but may remain in the animal brought to life by an external source. Activities will result in wild multiplication of the cells which serve no useful purpose and soon a cancer growth will appear.

Activation may be accomplished in many ways, such as radiation, smoking, and certain chemical irritants irritating the flesh or internal organisms.

Fishermen of a south Scottish fishing village at one time were in the habit of wetting tar soaked lines on their lips before casting in lip cancer. The only known cases where cancer was developed on the abdominal exterior was in central Africa where natives were known to heat their mud machs with a type of charcoal burner. It was finally discovered that charcoal contained an ingredient of cancer irritation, he stated.

In 1775 Sir Percival Pott first pioneered cancer experimentation by painting tar on the skin. Since then many cancer producing agents have been identified by research workers. Cancer research has as yet only been explored at the fringe.

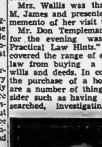
Because of the many possible sources of the dreaded disease it cannot be prevented like many other malignant diseases by immunization. It is very difficult to detect in the early stages as symptoms appear only after the disease is advanced and has contaminated a large area.

Dr. Douglas gave examples of symptoms of cancer of the stomach. Prolonged periods of indigestion are possible signs.

If cancer is discovered soon enough it can be easily removed without any serious after affects.

Dr. Douglas said in a few decades better methods of stopping cancer growth may be evolved through research in the chemical and electro magnetic field.

Meantime many patients are being relieved and sometimes cured by increasing refinements of technique and early diagnosis. The importance of early diagnosis and definite treatment cannot be over-emphasized he concluded.



Mrs. F.W. Wallis was introduced by Mervyn James. Her topic was "Nature". She showed Wildlife colored slides taken in and around the Quinte district. She has taken a great deal of interest in wildlife and lived until recently in the James Bay region. While at James Bay, Mrs. Wallis learned the art of calling creatures from the Indians.

The ability to call the wild things has stood her in good stead as was evidenced by her many calls to one young fox some of the most illusive of wild things from relatively close range. Mr. Wallis explained modestly that she used a telephoto camera but even to get within fifty feet of a mink can hardly be thought a way. Mrs. Wallis also appears to be expert at climbing trees and showed several treetop shots of animals and birds in their natural habitat.

The photography was excellent and the subjects ranged from perch under water to a fox at his kill. The young of several illusive species of birds were shown exciting all and greatly delighted the audience with their antics. The talk and slides served to draw attention to the local existence of wild things in our midst and even though they are close neighbors, chink and crannies reveal real characters with personalities instead of merely pelts on a lady's back.

Mrs. Wallis was thanked by M. James and presented with a memento of her visit to So-Ed.

Mr. Don Templeman's topic for the evening was "Some Practical Law Hints." His talk covered the range of every day law from buying a home to wills and deeds. In considering the purchase of a home there are a number of things to consider such as having the title searched, investigating mortgages, etc.

MR. DON TEMPLEMAN

Mr. Templeman also explained the requirements, and obtaining of "certificate of title" from the lawyer. By stating the "Offer to Purchase" to a solicitor before signing one can avoid many future difficulties. In the building of a home and the purchasing of a lot be sure to have a definite written contract on the building of the home with the contractor. When renting living accommodation the best idea is to have written leases in the case of annual or semi-annual occupancy. Weekly and monthly tenancy agreements may be verbal with the necessary period for notice of vacating depending upon how rent is paid i.e. by the week or by the month. When purchasing chattels such as automobiles, television sets, heavy appliances which must be financed by a finance company, it is advisable to make a very thorough investigation into the financing charges, interest charged, and see that there are no outstanding liens.

In the case of wills, Mr. Templeman outlined procedure when married, when single and stated that home drawn wills were valid and that two witnesses were required to witness a will. It is well advised to have a solicitor read it through. He went on to discuss succession duties, gift free taxes and the registration of deeds.

Mr. Templeman was introduced by Miss Victoria Bawra and Miss Marilyn Elliott thanked the speaker and presented him with a small gift in token appreciation of his visit to So-Ed.

KINGSTON GROUP ENTERTAINERS

During coffee break, members from Kingston So-Ed were welcomed. This group visited the Belleville to visit So-Ed and to see it in operation. Belleville will pay a return visit to Kingston on April 18 for their closing dance.

Dr. Ryder's talk was about "The Changing Concepts of Medicine" particularly in the last sixty years.

Dr. Ryder began his talk with diagrams showing the many diseases that were deadly killers in 1900, are now insignificant causes of human death, and it is now one in every fifty afflicted with alcoholism and many are suffering from mental illness.

but as Dr. Ryder explained new diseases are on the increase. Combustion engines and accelerated pace of life have brought accidents as one of the top three causes of human death, he stated.

PROBLEM OF RADIATION

Radiation may become the problem of this era, but it is of no immediate danger. The medical profession is making a maximum effort to minimize the harmful radiation penetrating our systems. One way is to stop having too many X-rays.

The greatest disadvantage at the present time is the problem created for those with introduced pasteurization of milk, chlorination of water, immunization, quarantine measures, and chest X-rays, however, not a great deal of control over these. Prejudices have always existed in the medical field, the unproven against the respected old. A good example is the fluoridation of drinking water which is creating much controversy in many areas. Yet, pasteurization of milk which is now taken for granted caused a great deal of commotion when first introduced.

A better standard of health, better and more nutritious food, has increased life expectancy 30 years longer in the four decades ago. These extra years of life have resulted in a large increase in population.

Thus medicine has advanced

Arctic Tip Need Women To Do Work

TORONTO (CP)—Advice to Arctic explorers: Take the life Co. woman along.

But, Az.'Dr. C. M. Schmitt, vice-president of the CNR, recalled Wednesday night, Hearne was told the facts of life in 1770 by an Arctic-wise, woman-wise Indian chief named Matonabbee.

Hearne recorded the conversation this way:

"For," said he, "while all the men are heavy laden, they can neither hunt nor travel to any considerable distance.

"And in case they meet with success in hunting, who is to carry the produce of their labor?

"Women," added he, "were made for labor. One of them can carry or haul as much as two men can do.

"They also pitch our tents, mend and make our clothing, keep us warm all night;

"And, in fact, there is no such thing as travelling any considerable distance, or for any length of time, in this country without their assistance.

"Women," he said again, "though they do everything, are maintained at a very little expense; for as they always stand look, the very licking of their fingers in scarce times is sufficient for their sustenance."

Commented Dr. Schmitt:

"This is certainly a far cry from the role of women in our cities today. . . ."

FREEDOM OF RELIGION

Dr. Ryder explained how diseases are on the increase. Combustion engines and accelerated pace of life have brought accidents as one of the top three causes of human death, he stated.

It is now one in every fifty afflicted with alcoholism and many are suffering from mental illness.

TABERNACLE W.M.S.

The Evening Auxiliary of the Tabernacle W.M.S. was privileged to view the film "Into a Larger Life," made by the United Church of Canada in Angola.

The film showed how the people of one village were helped with their problem of health and sanitation, and at the same time given greater insight religiously, which strengthened their family ties.

The group made plans to participate in a WMS family party in May. All are eagerly looking forward to this event.

At the conclusion of the business period, Morris Smith presented the devotional period, entitled "The Hope of a Warless World," based on sections of Micah. The fact that "wars and rumors of wars" are bound to be true by the group and that Jesus' plea for the genuine alternatives to war in our day are founded in our Christian belief and the only true but invisible kingdom is the one in which Christ reigns supreme. This month the group's study, "Concerns of a Continent", was attended by Hawaii in the Pacific and it was shown that Hawaii's religious variety is more a matter of confusion than of free and competent insight. Almost every possible form of religion has been established in these islands among the people but the result has been a decline rather than an increase in Christianity.

The meeting was closed with prayer by Mrs. A. R. Miller.

NEIGHBOR'S AID

The March meeting of Avondale Neighbor's Aid was held at the home of Marion Anger with 13 members and 3 visitors present.

The president, Doris McLean welcomed those present.

Evelyn Bird opened the devotional program with the hymn, "All Things Bright and Beautiful." Mrs. Anger led in reading, "Neighbors," by Marjorie Wettlaufer. Evelyn then gave a short address, "Keeping that Kind of a World Do We Live In" and a reading, 'Truth Never Dies."

A "thank-you" note was received from Ruth Benlow where it was decided to send a "get-well" card to Mrs. Champaign who has been ill.

Doris McLean reported on the visit to the Belleville Children's Home for the Aged last Monday evening. Eighteen members and two visitors were present from the Aid. A sing-song was enjoyed and refreshments were served.

Program committee composed of Marjorie Wettlaufer and Evelyn Bird, conducted a fashion show which featured the modelling of fashions by the girls while Mrs. Anger narrated for a rummage sale. This caused much laughter and the prize was won by Shirley Griffith.

Refreshments were served by Evelyn Bonser, Bernice Hall, Marion Wallbridge, and Shirley Griffith.

The hostess for the May meeting is Ada Reed.

Secretarial Job No Longer Just Stopgap Till Marriage

By CAROLYN WILLETT
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP) — The "here today and gone tomorrow" office secretary is giving way to the serious career woman, say business private secretaries.

Mrs. Helen Atkinson and Mrs. Doris Domina don't agree with the contention that a secretarial job could be called a stopgap until marriage.

"It's certainly not so temporary, especially in Ottawa," said Mrs. Atkinson, who is Ottawa president of the Association of Administrative Assistants or Private Secretaries. With the capital's large number of women, "marriage chances are slimmer." A job might be a woman's sole livelihood.

Mrs. Domina, an association member busy organizing a seminar on office relations, had another angle.

CAREER-CONSCIOUS

"Girls today are more career conscious. And they're conscious of the fact that they might have to return to work after marriage. They also realize that better qualifications mean more security."

Both experienced private secretaries said working wives who have no children, Mrs. Atkinson and Mrs. Domina agreed that the cost of living and the need for two incomes also prompted women to return to work or to turn to jobs.

To bring working private secretary, the association's Ottawa branch serves as "an inspiration to us on our own time," said Mrs. Atkinson.

The association, founded in Toronto in 1951, now has six Ontario branches, a Toronto national headquarters, and 1,000 members across Canada and a there — year special correspondence course for private secretaries offered through the University of Toronto.

Total membership in the six branches is "somewhere under 500," said Mrs. Atkinson. There are four male members. Ottawa has 65 members, all women.

IMPROVE STANDARD

An eventual aim is to establish national standards and a professional status for private secretaries who often are indispensable assistants to an executive in his administration work.

A membership qualification is five years' business experience. This qualification is high for career women, so the Ottawa branch will open a student membership this fall, Mrs. Atkinson said.

Started three years ago, the Ottawa branch has 22 members taking the correspondence courses. With regular meetings, special speakers, seminars and a newsletter, members keep up on everything from office man-

COLLEGE HILL W.A.

The afternoon group of College Hill W. A. met for their April meeting at the church on Wednesday.

The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. J. Sproule, Mrs. C. Bailey, Mrs. H. Clarke and Mrs. J. Dickens took part in the devotions, the theme being "Love Your Neighbor" Mrs. Sproule read the Scripture lesson from St. Luke, chapter 10, verses 25-37, after which the hymn "Jesus, United by Thy Grace," was sung.

Mrs. Dickens read the topic of worship dealing with the parable of the Good Samaritan and the question, "Who Is My Neighbor?" "Jesus answered to this question: anyone who is in need; anyone anywhere to whom you can be of service. 'Go and do likewise' was His final command.

This was followed by a short playlet entitled "Go - - - Tell," depicting a story of some of the women of the Bible, the setting was in the home of Mary Magdalene and showed the needs of needful things, commanding the women of the world to keep alive the story of His love.

Hymn, "Jesus, Master Whose I Am," was sung and the devotional period closed with prayer by Mrs. Clarke.

During the business discussion the roll call showed 18 members present. The treasurer's report included some small items that had been purchased for the manse, also a couple of utensils for the church kitchen. It was moved the W.A. entertain an evening in June at the County Home for the Aged. It was decided to withdraw the spring tea since the W.A. is catering to two weddings. A joint meeting with the other two organizations on the charge was planned for the May meeting.

Mrs. C. Bailey, Mrs. K. Belcour and Mrs. A. Dickens served dainty refreshments at the close of this interesting meeting

"Dress to be attractive but not to distract," said Mrs. Atkinson, who wore an attractive tailored dress for the luncheon interview.

"And try to be on time for work; it's important." said Mrs. Domina as she hustled back to her office.

Role of Women In Medicine Under Analysis

MONTREAL (CP)—The role of women in medicine, ranging from traditional bed-side nursing to the performance of latest surgical techniques, is being analyzed as a sidelight of the American College of Surgeons meeting here this week.

Dr. Katherine Russell, 29-year-surgeon from New York in-firmary, recently defended her professional. Wed. in an address.

"If women are to be let into medicine at all, I see no reason why they should be limited to internal medicine," she said. "And, of course, women have long been accepted as obstetricians and gynecologists, two very limit the surgical field to those operations?"

"Women are neat with their hands. They stand up well to stress. Their endurance is at least that of a man's, except in muscular activity—and there isn't much of that in surgery," she said.

Dr. Russell is a 1951 graduate of Birmingham Medical School. She came to the United States 15 months ago as surgical resident at New York Infirmary, a 230-bed private hospital founded by women.

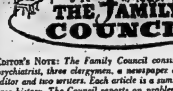
PRESBYTERIAN CLUB

IVANHOE — St. Andrew's Presbyterian Club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Benson on Friday evening with 16 members in attendance. President Mrs. Harry Benson gave the call to worship. "Jesus Keep Me Near The Cross" was sung. Mrs. Barton Haggerty led in meditation and prayer. The Scripture found in Matthew 25, was read by Mrs. Harold Thompson.

Following the roll call, a short business session was held. The offering was presented and hymn "Christ the Lord Is Risen Today," was sung.



The story of Easter was given by Bessie M. Fleming. A reading entitled "At The Church Demonstrate the Cross" was given by Mr. Barton Haggerty.

The meeting closed by singing "The Day of Resurrection."

Refreshments were served by the hostess and her assistants.

The sacrament of "The Lord's Supper" was observed at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, West Huntingdon, on Sunday afternoon.

The service was conducted by Wing Commander James Dunn of Trenton airport, who chose Psalm 23 as the subject of his discourse.

Mrs. K. R. — Bruce goes around starving!

Margaret R. — Why would I want to starve my own husband?

Mrs. K. R. — I have recently gotten into a terrible feud with my daughter-in-law for the silliest reason.

Margaret has been trying to get my son to diet. He really doesn't need it. Bruce is over six feet and a slightbuilt man so he can carry a lot of weight. Everyone in his father's family has always been big. If he lost weight he'd just look like a long gangling scarecrow.

Anyway, I don't argue with Margaret about what she serves Bruce in their home. That's her business. But I do reserve the right to feed him whatever I want to when he visits me. Bruce loves my cooking — always has. I can almost cry when I see the way he gobbles up one of my fruit pies or my special beef pie. The poor boy goes around starving! He's an active man and needs fuel.

Margaret R. — Now why would I want to starve my own husband to death? My mother-in-law doesn't give me credit for my judgment. I know that Bruce needs more food than most men, but I also know that his doctor said he'd be much better off if he shed about 25 pounds.

Unfortunately, Bruce is hard to deal with when it comes to food. The more I cut down his intake at home, the more he cheats on the outside. I have to use all my energy and ingenuity to prepare special meals for him — and then off he goes to his mother's for a late evening visit and a midnight snack.

The worst of it is that Bruce makes these visits several evenings a week. His father died a few months ago and he doesn't want his mother to be lonely evenings. I wouldn't mind if she didn't feed him.

The Council: When Mrs. K. R. lets her opinion up against the doctor's she is on losing ground from the word go. If that were the only problem involved here we'd tell her to stop and let it go at that.

But more is involved.

One element is the fact that nobody can lose weight unless he really wants to. A man whose wife is ready and willing to prepare special meals is way ahead of the game, but he must also completely accept the fact that he is on a diet and feel a keen desire to see that weight go.

Margaret should have the doctor speak to Bruce again and impress upon him strongly, not casually, the importance of losing that weight.

This will strengthen Bruce's resistance to temptation. However, we're not temptation he must face is better for him. The spirit may be strong, but the flesh is still too weak. So it is important for Mrs. K. R. to accept this diet if Bruce's as well.

It may be worthwhile for everyone concerned to recognize the significance of food in our lives. From infancy we associate food with comfort, security, protection. Instinctively we fear hunger. If we want to make ourselves feel good we feed ourselves. A mother naturally responds to this desire. It makes her happy to be able to give to a child in this way and sometimes an older child tries to make his mother happy by accepting food from her.

It appears to us that a big element in this case is Bruce's desire to comfort his mother in her widowhood. With her husband gone, she has fallen back upon an old role — her position as mother — for security in the knowledge that she is still needed. But it's not a good solution for either her or Bruce.

We'd suggest that mother and son try taking some long walks in the evening — if companionship is the most important objective.

GOOD MANNERS

By Mrs. Beekman

TODAY'S COURTESY TIP . . . BE INTERESTED, NEVER INQUISITIVE

Don't be "nosey". People like to have you interested in them . . . but they definitely don't like to have you inquisitive about their affairs. So be most careful not to cross a personal threshold you have no right to cross.

INSTEAD OF WRITING "AND FAMILY" ON WEDDING INVITATION

Dear Mrs. Beekman:

I remember that you don't approve of using the phrase "and family" on an envelope; for example, addressing a wedding invitation to "Mr. and Mrs.—and family." But now this problem has become a very personal one to me, because I can afford only one invitation to a family, and in quite a few cases there are not only two or three young children in the family I'd like to invite, but in some cases an aunt and uncle or a grandmother and or grandfather living with the family.

Please tell me how to get around this addressing without using the "and family" of which you don't approve. Thank you. — Bride-to-be

The reason I advise against writing "and family" on the wedding invitation envelope is that it actually doesn't make clear who is included in the invitation. And this can make for a most confusing situation (as I know full well from many letters I receive asking just what "and family" means).

You may use one invitation to a family . . . but the important point is to address the inside envelope so that it is absolutely clear whom you are inviting. For example, address the outside envelope to Mr. and Mrs. James Lee, and them, to include children, address the inside envelope to:

Mr. and Mrs. Lee
Marie, Grace, John and Peter

Or, to include, say, two children, and an aunt and uncle, or a grandmother and grandfather living in the household:

Mr. and Mrs. Lee
Mr. and Mrs. Hall
Katherine and John

Readers' Friday Column.

Question: I was told that a filleted chicken with a cooked tongue stuffing is excellent . . . what knife would one use for filleting? How does one cook a kosher cured tongue? I would love trying to do this but have not a clue where to commence . . . how does one remove cauliflower from tablecloths and place mats. . . . Ethel.

Answer: The tongue stuffing is called forcemeat and is merely a tongue and bread stuffing. Buy chicken breasts — four of them to serve four people. Insert a sharp pointed slender knife between rib bones and breast meat and simply work the knife tip in and out off the meat in one piece. Use 2 breasts above and 2 below tongue stuffing, tie securely and roast. Baste with 1-3 cup each butter and boiling water during 1½ to 2 hour baking period. Tongue Forcemeat (Stuffing): Simmer a cured tongue in boiling water to cover 2½ to 4 hours or until tender, adding 1 sliced onion, 1 bay leaf, 4 pepper berries, 1 celery stalk to the cooking water. When cooked and cool enough to handle skin it. (Since you need only ¾ cup of meat for the forcemeat slice the hot tongue for meat for dinner and serve it with raisin or mustard sauce.) Grind through finest knife of grinder 2 times enough left over tongue to make ¾ cup. To it add ½ cup dry breadcrumbs, 2 tablespoons tongue water, 2 tablespoons melted butter, 1 teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon pepper, 2 beaten eggs and, if desired, ¼ teaspoon rosemary leaves. Heat crumbs and liquid by a paste stirring, then add ground tongue and remaining ingredients. Spread between raw chicken breasts and tie tightly and roast as above. To remove candlewax from tablecloth and place mats pour boiling water through them, wax side down over sink.

Letter: . . . In your column the other evening someone was looking for a recipe for "Chicken Fried Rice'. I cut this out of the paper some time ago . . . Annabell M.

CHICKEN FRIED RICE

(Courtesy Annabell M.) One-half cup butter or peanut oil, 2 slightly beaten eggs, 1½ cups cooked meat (ham, roast veal, chicken, bacon, cramest, lobster or shrimp, cut in pieces), Chinese soya sauce, 3 cups cooked rice (1½ lb. before cooking flaky), ½ cup very thinly sliced onion, about 1½ teaspoons salt, shake of pepper, 1 cup drained Chinese bean sprouts, 1-3 cup fresh green onion tips or chives, 2 tablespoons diced raw pimiento or sweet, green or red pepper, in large frying pan melt butter or heat oil. Add slightly beaten eggs, break up with fork as they cook, but do not allow to become too firm. Add the meat, rice, onion, salt, pepper and at the last the bean sprouts. Add soya sauce as desired and heat thoroughly only until hot. Vegetables should retain their crispness.

Answer: Thanks Annabell. Your marmalade recipe cannot be changed from sugar to an artificial sweetener.

CUT FROM 4'X8' - ½" PANEL OF WATERPROOF GLUE FIR PLYWOOD

Easily Made Gift of Fir Plywood

Children Will Love Table, Chairs All Their Own

Are the children getting underfoot — or undertable — when mealtime rolls around?

A single 4 x 8 panel of half-inch thick fir plywood can solve this problem — and the children will love it.

The sturdy dining or play table and four chairs, shown here will give the younger generation endless hours of enjoyment and keep them under Mother's eye.

Tea parties, drawing, painting and scores of other pastimes become real fun when the children have furniture all their very own — scaled to their special needs.

PLYWOOD TAKES ABUSE

Such furniture, made of durable fir plywood, will stand up to a lot of abuse, the kind children really know how to dish out. And because fir plywood is made with a completely waterproof glue, the furniture can be used outdoors during the summer months, rain or shine.

You don't have to be a cabinet maker to put these chairs and table together. Simple hand tools, glue, nails, a few screws and paint will suffice. But on with the job.

The first thing to do is to make a pattern of the pieces which make up the chair. Rule heavy paper into one-inch squares and copy the plan shown. This pattern is then cut out and transferred to the panel of fir plywood. Remember, we're making four chairs at once, so fit the pattern carefully to the plywood so that all pieces can be cut out of half the panel.

MAJOR SAWCUTS MADE FIRST

Follow the same technique with the table, legs and all. Then, for the sake of convenience, cut the 4 x 8 foot panel into major sections, before starting to cut out the individual pieces.

It will be necessary to drill holes at some points to enable you to get a keyhole saw cut started. When the pieces are cut out, round the corners of the seats, and backs; plane and sand.

The chairs can now be assembled. Start by gluing the seat braces; holding them in place with 1 1-2 inch finishing nails. The seat goes on next, with glue and nails, and is followed by the back. Use a good, waterproof glue.

The table is even more easily assembled. The legs are first nailed and glued into slots sawn in blocks. Then the blocks are glued and screwed to the underside of the table. No. 6 screws, 2" long, are just right for this job.

SEAL BEFORE SANDING

With the table and chairs assembled, it is a good idea to give all the plywood a coat of sealer, which acts in the same manner as an undercoat.

Youngsters seem to dote on bright colors, so perhaps this isn't a bad idea for the final paint job. You could even have each chair a different color, to prevent squabbling about ownership. After the final coat of enamel is applied, you might like to dress up the table top and chairs with bright decals.

However you finish the job, it's bound to make a hit with the children. But be careful when the kids next door see what fun your family is having, they'll want a set too. So keep the patterns . . . and pass them along

You Can Built It:

Bench Lends Custom Touch to Attic

Why not utilize one of the four-foot knee walls of your attic for a built-in bench.

It can be built with hand tools if your shop doesn't have power equipment. By using inexpensive pads designed for out-door chaise-lounges, it will provide added sleeping space for two. It gives excellent storage capacity and provides a deluxe, custom-designed touch that belies its modest cost.

Plywood, 1-4-inch carriage bolts, screws and 2-by-3 framing boards are the basic ingredients.

The seat is made of 3-4-inch plywood. We'll assume the room is 16 feet long. If it isn't, adjustments in length measurements will be necessary. Start by having a 4-by-8 foot plywood panel ripped in half, giving you two pieces 2-by-8. Cut these in two pieces 2-by-3 and two pieces 2-by-2. For hinged storage, rip 1 1-2-inches lengthwise from the 2-by-5 pieces.

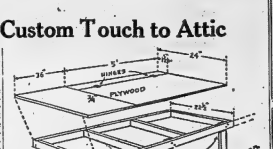
The framing is 2-by-3-inch fir. For the top, first construct one rectangle 8 feet long and 22 1-2 inches wide (the 1 1-2 inches difference in width from the plywood is to allow for finishing material on the bench's front and a small overhang by which to raise the hinged seat). Use 2 1-2-inch screws for maximum strength.

Take one of the 3-foot plywood sections and lay it on what will be the wall-end side of the bench. Measure a 2-by-3 at right angles to the 8-footer and centre it under the plywood so that it supplies bracing to both the 3-foot piece and, later, the 5-foot plywood. Remove the plywood and screw in this seat brace. Fit another brace about midway of the 5-foot space.

The top frame will be nailed into the wall to provide the main support. Before doing this, however, cut two 2-by-3's 18 inches long. Attach them inside the rectangle at front legs with 1-4-inch carriage bolts. Now nail the frame into the wall.

Before building the other top frame, measure the remaining opening carefully. The walls probably won't be perfectly square and slight adjustments will be necessary in the length.

Attach an 8-foot 2-by-3 with carriage bolts to the room-side of the front legs and toe-nail into the floor. This provides the nailing surface for the front's finishing material — knotty pine panelling, perhaps.



Use 6-penny finishing nails to attach the 3-foot plywood section. Join the 1 1-2-inch part to the rest of the 2-by-5 plywood with hinges. Lay it on the top frame and operate this hinged seat once or twice to make sure it operates without binding. Then nail in the 1 1-2-inch section.

For added strength, it's best now to cut another 18-inch 2-by-3 and install it with carriage bolts as sort of an inside leg midway on the brace which supports the 2-foot and 5-foot plywood. Nail a few other "legs" into the wall studding to help support the top frame at the rear.

The wall itself is used as the bench's back. The chaise-lounge pads are about 23 1-2 inches by 75 inches, providing an excellent cushioned seat as well as sleeping room.

The accompanying picture shows a more elaborate bench. Construction details are the same except that the rectangle is built 12 inches wider. Buy three pieces of 1-by-6 pine panelling 16 feet long (you get them upstairs, incidentally, by having someone pass them through a window). Measure the width of these boards carefully. Then cut 2-by-3s of the length needed for this width — and attach them to the frame braces with bolts. Then you nail in the pine panelling. For a top, use 1-by-12-inch common pine. Arm-rest book shelves are another custom-touch at each end. Natural stain provides an excellent finish.

A BUILT-IN BENCH IN YOUR ATTIC has many advantages: excellent storage space, a custom-designed look, and added sleeping space for emergencies.

NO AVERAGE COSTS

You can throw away the averages when building a home. From the standpoint of cost, there's really no such thing as an average house.

In Chicago, for example, where labor costs are currently high, you will pay about $12.51 per square foot to build a standard house. In Dallas, on the other hand, the cost estimate is only $8.04 per square foot for the same basic house.

Wash Stand Back in Bedroom

A old-fashioned convenience — a wash basin in a bedroom — is back again in many new homes. It is now called a vanity lavatory, or vanitory. Sparked by the popularity of countertops around kitchen sinks, the lavatory built into a dressing table relieves pressure on highly-used bathrooms. Fine for bathing baby, too.

Your Home and Garden

A collection of the revived Canadian Colonial—this one featuring a neat wall storage unit formed by a centre chest, two smaller cabinets and three bookcases. Entire collection, including sofa, chair and coffee table, is available in cherry maple and lighter antique finish.

This living room setting typifies the new-found elegance of contemporary design. The long slim sofa shows greater refinement of detail and fabric. Chair at left matches sofa in design, is similar in upholstery. Air of formality and elegance is heightened by use of soft colors, traditional accessories.

It's a good year for Canadian furniture. You couldn't pick a better time to buy furniture because in 1959, there's a wider choice of good designs than ever before—both in contemporary and the newest of all, Canadian Colonial.

You'll find that richness and elegance are the keynote of contemporary styles, says Canadian Homes and Gardens. Sofas are longer and slimmer; table legs are more finely tapered. . .

There's one handsome dining-room group which features both Oriental and Scandinavian lines. It's Scandinavian in the sculptured treatment of wood, particularly in the arms and back of the dining chairs. The buffet's square lines reflect an Oriental influence, emphasized by molding at the edges.

If you're looking for a contemporary breakfast setting, there's one which combines a round table of oiled teak top and white metal pedestal with chairs of molded glass fiber on chrome legs. The contour chairs are available in white, yellow, green, charcoal and persimmon.

For your den, there's a slim and elegant daybed with finely-tapered legs and neat upholstery. It's narrow for sitting and pulls out for sleeping.

The more economical multi-purpose contemporary furniture is showing new refinement, too, designed for more flexible use.

Biggest furniture news of '59, says Canadian Homes and Gardens, is the surprise comeback of Canadian Colonial furniture. There's a wide variety of pieces available, including one new group that reproduces Early Canadian mood in a lighter contemporary line.

Some pieces — the "pantry" chair, for example — look like the type made by early Canadian settlers, although the furniture is smaller and lighter. Other pieces are freer interpretations. A "parlor" chair and matching sofa show modern influence in the contruction of frame and back legs, and in finishing details such as flat foam rubber cushions. The styling of the legs gives a definite Colonial character.

And an open-hutch room divider, reminding the pioneers of Never heard of, shows Colonial styling given to a wholly modern material. There's a daybed in Colonial style. Single and double beds are available, too.

Frequently, Colonial feeling is achieved by brass handles on drawers of buffets, chests and desks. There's an end table whose top is fashioned after an old grain scoop. One buffet has a butch-top with an old-style spoon rack. All in all, if you are looking for traditional furniture with a modern twist, you can find furniture to suit every room in your home among this Year's Canadian Colonial.

In room divider and storage units, there's news, too. One attractive wood storage wall is beautifully executed in oiled walnut. It hangs from the wall and has 25 sizes and types of components. This one comes in seven heights and with it, you can make anything from a bedside table to a complete wall unit.

A new metal storage wall is airy and inexpensive. You can mix and match cabinets, desks, shelves, lighting fixtures and even a flower planter. This comes in six colors — black, white, gray, blue, red and yellow.

GAME FISH DESERVES GOOD COOKING

If there's a fisherman in your family, he's sure to have his special system for searing those fish — and he'll be particular about how they're cooked.

To help you prepare your fisherman's prize catch, cooking expert Madame Jenaine Benoit of Canadian Homes and Gardens lists several pointers.

How to broil fish—Preheat the broiler, pan and rack, and grease the rack thoroughly with oil or bacon fat. Fish with lean or dry flesh, such as pike, bass, pickerel and perch, are greatly improved if you soak them in French dressing for at least an hour before broiling). Sprinkle the fish with lemon juice—even if you have soaked it first in dressing.

Place prepared fish on hot rack, flesh side up, and grill it as close to the heat as possible. Move it occasionally to make sure it doesn't stick. Turn it over when brown.

Grill the skin side until it blisters, placing the fish farther away from heat if it seems to be cooking too fast To save the cooking period, measure the thickest part of the fish before you cook it; then cook 10 minutes for each inch. It is always safe to say Madame Benoit, to give two thirds of the cooking time to the flesh side and the remainder to the skin side.

How to pan-fry—First dip the fish in milk, then roll in flour or corn meal. Now heat the fat. You can use pure butter for small fish that cook in 5 to 10 minutes, but the butter burns too quickly for thicker pieces of fish. For these, mix the butter with salad oil or cooking fat. Olive oil alone is excellent for frying fish — it gives a delicious nutty flavor.

Always make sure, says Madame Benoit, that there is enough fat in the pan to last until the fish is cooked. If you add cold fat, it delays the cooking and ruins the flavor. The temperature of the fat is one of the chief secrets of success — it should be hot but never smoking.

Fry the skin side first, turning only once, and use a pan large enough to allow room for each piece of fish. If the fish are too crowded, they lose their moisture and become soft, instead of crisp on the outside and moist inside.

CANADIAN GARDEN'S CALENDAR FOR APRIL

In most Canadian gardens April is spring planting time, reports Canadian Homes and Gardens.

Except in British Columbia, it's too early to plant tender annuals outdoors, but in many other parts of the country, you can plant trees, shrubs, evergreens and hardy perennials in these cool weeks.

You'll want to inspect new shoots as they come up and get your soil ready for planting. Your lawn needs raking, rolling and fertilizing.

Spring lawn can be the key to velvety greenness all summer long. Rake your lawn lightly with a flexible wire rake to loosen soil which is raked over bare spots. Remove wet matted leaves that can smother the grass. If necessary, roll lawn lightly to push down heaved grass plants.

Now spread a light top dressing of sifted compost or leaf mold over the entire lawn. This layer should be about a quarter of an inch thick, but if there are hollows that need filling, you can add a heavier layer. Press the top-dressing down on bare patches and rested, then water. Now apply lawn fertilizer evenly, and water well.

Choose Windows With Care

Building a home? Choice of windows have you confused?

"In my opinion," say York, "it is basically wrong to make a sheet of glass serve both as something through which one looks and also as a means of obtaining ventilation.

"For observation purposes a fixed sheet of glass, perfectly doubled with an air space between each sheet is far more satisfactory than a hinged or sliding section. For ventilation, where no air conditioning is provided, louvers located above or below the window or wherever else the designer wishes is eliminated, an unscreened glass area is provided allyear round, and there is less obstruction to view because of the thinner supports between fixed glass.

This arrangement has several advantages, York says. There is less air infiltration and consequently less heat loss, ventilation can be provided when it is most needed without consideration of glass location, putting up and taking down screens is eliminated, an unscreened glass area is provided allyear round, and there is less obstruction to view because of the thinner supports between fixed glass.

Now, how about the different types of windows? Here is York's assessment of the advantages of each:

DOUBLE HUNG

Can ventilate from top or bottom. Does not interfere with draperies or exterior areas near window. Can be storm sashed and screened on outside (storm sashes and screens look ugly on inside). Easily cleaned. Not adaptable to many styles of architecture.

But, it will allow driving rain to enter house. not recommended over a kitchen sink counter because of difficulty in opening from a distance Provides only 50 per cent opening for ventilation.

SINGLE HUNG

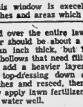
Same as double hung except that part is fixed. Somewhat cheaper, but main disadvantage is difficulty of cleaning from inside.

AWNING

Provides 100 per cent ventilation Can be opened in rainy weather Gives architect good design flexibility in modern work

But, storm sash and screens a inside. Not easily cleaned (unless projected type). Difficult to make fit tight. Not as adaptable to traditional architecture.

SLIDING



Easily operated Can be storm sashed and screened on outside Usually made to catch rain be removed. Easily cleaned.

But, must be closed in driving rain Not as adaptable to traditional architecture Usually not as weatherproof as others.

HOPPER

This window usually opens in and is used on the bottom of a fixed glass unit Provides 100 per cent ventilation. but interferes with interior space and draperies.

This window is excellent on porches and areas which are un-

Fir Plywood Plus Imagination Equals Kiddie Car

Children are often as amusive as adults about "hand-me-downs."

But one imaginative father solved this problem to the great satisfaction of his youngest offspring by converting a used tricycle into a miniature car.

PLYWOOD, IMAGINATION

The conversion isn't difficult to copy. It involves some half-inch-thick fir plywood, paint — and a large dose of imagination.

A careful study of the above drawing will show how the kiddie car is made. The dimensions are not given because they vary from cycle to cycle. A few basic measurements of this tricycle you intend to convert will quickly give the overall size of the kiddie car you make.

Don't, of course, think that a kiddie car is the only way this tricycle can be converted. The fir plywood "cover" could be sawn and painted to resemble one of the big city buses, or extended behind to make a modern pickup truck . . . or turned into a fire engine . . . with ladders.

FLYWOOD GLUE WATERPROOF

But for the moment, let's stick to the kiddie car The right kind of material is important; be sure to use fir plywood — the waterproof glue line will stand up indefinitely to rugged outdoors use.

The first, and most important piece to cut, is the seat. This will probably take some jugglingto get right, so that it can be bolted firmly to the metal chassis of the tricycle.

When it is cut out, however, the rest of the pieces are merely cut to size to fit around it. The various parts are assembled by using glue and nails. Finishing nails are best, as they can be countersunk and the holes putty for a smooth paint job.

DOOR MATTER OF CHOICE

A door is shown on this kiddie car on one side only. You can either eliminate the door, or cut the fir plywood at that spot in a deep curve in the manners of a modern sports' car.

Headlights, bumper and grille are easily attached, and at no extra cost. A bit of ingenuity here — perhaps some odds and ends from the basement — can make the finished job very like. Even tin cans have been used for headlights; at night they hold candles, a touch children are certain to appreciate.

Use your imagination in the basement workshop and you'll no doubt think of many innovations. Whatever happens, you're bound to be in style for the standards by which children judge cars are much-different than those used in Degoll.

New Idea In Building of Walls

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — The texture of concrete exterior walls of the first buildings going up on a new junior college campus may break the way for something new.

There are numerous rounded indentions as deep as half an inch in the walls, which are cast in forms and then raised into position.

The unique idea is the answer to a request by American River Junior College officials for attractive but inexpensive construction.

After the forms are built, a layer of small rocks is placed inside. A sheet of tough, thin plastic is placed over them, reinforcement rods are added and then the concrete is poured.

The concrete's weight presses down on the rocks, which leave their impression on it through the plastic. A mold, given two weeks to set, comes out with a high gloss.

The technique was developed by a Sacramento firm of architects.

"We have a finish here which will not need paint".

FOR SLIDING DOORS

A new laminate is now available at lumber yards. It is a panelply of pressed wood in 4-by 8-foot sheets 1-3 and 3-4-inch thick. Its advantages are warp resistance and screw-holding power.

BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, FRIDAY, APRIL 10, 1959

All Individuals and Firms Will Pay More Income Taxes To Meet Cost of Pensions

Fiscal Highlights

OTTAWA (CP) — Highlights of the economic portion of Finance Minister Fleming's budget speech in the Commons Thursday night:

Forces of economic expansion have reasserted themselves.

Gross national product — value of all goods and services produced—estimated to rise in 1959 to record $54,000,000,000 with increase over seven-per-cent increase over 1958.

No signs of "overt inflation" in 1959, though Canada must continue to guard against "potential inflationary pressures."

Average interest rate on government's unmatured debt rose at March 31, 1959, to 3.50 per cent from 3.05 at March 31, 1958.

Over-all federal payments to provinces to rise to $1,212,500,000 in 1959-60 fiscal year from $1,064,900,000 in 1958-59.

Canada to continue to press the United States to eliminate import curbs on oil and lead and zinc.

OTTAWA (CP) — Higher income taxes will fall on every taxpaying individual and company this year.

For the individual, the increases will start July 1. For the company, they started Jan. 1.

Finance Minister Fleming announced Thursday night in his budget speech that the old age security tax, which is applied on personal and corporate income and commodity sales, will be increased to three from two per cent.

The increase applies to personal income July 1, to corporate income Jan. 1 and to commodity sales today.

On personal income, the increase in the security tax is a maximum of $30 a year—to $90 from $60.

UPPER LEVEL IS BOOSTED

On top of this, Mr. Fleming increased personal income taxes at two percentage points for all taxpayers with taxable income of more than $3,000 a year.

This increase will fall on $00,000 of Canada's 4,600,000 taxpayers.

Corporations making more than $25,000 a year will pay 47 instead of the present 45 per cent on the amount over $25,000 for regular income tax effective Jan. 1.

The rate on the first $25,000 remains at 18 per cent. The combined regular and old age security taxes will be 21 per cent for firms earning less than $25,000 and 50 per cent for those earning more than this amount.

In the current fiscal year, Mr. Fleming added, he expects an additional $245,000,000 in taxes. Of this $82,500,000 will come from increased sales tax, $69,000,000 from increased personal income tax, $42,000,000 from increased corporation tax and $42,000,000 from increased excise taxes.

In a full fiscal year, the additional revenue would be about $352,000,000 in this order: $125,000,000 from personal income tax; $100,000,000 from sales tax; $84,000,000 from corporation tax and $46,000,000 from excise taxes.

MODERATE INCREASE

Mr. Fleming described the personal income tax increases as "moderate."

For instance, he said, a married man with two children in family allowance age making $4,000 a year will pay $208 taxes—$60 personal and old age security taxes—compared to $194 in 1958.

A married man with two children of family allowance age making $5,000 a year will pay $360 in a full year compared to $332 in 1958.

A married man with two children making $6,000 a year and earning $200,000 a year will pay tax of $125,286 compared to $121,108 in 1958.

Mr. Fleming also made a number of tax changes, including:

Taxpayers will not be entitled to deduct for income tax purposes the cost of premiums paid under the federal-provincial hospital insurance plan.

However, they will still be able to deduct expenses for which they are reimbursed under their medical insurance.

Mr. Fleming extended medical exemptions to include crutches, trusses and special beds for polio victims.

Life Insurance Ruling Changed

OTTAWA (CP) — Finance Minister Fleming's budget placed a ceiling on employers' contributions to group life insurance plans that may be deducted for income tax purposes.

He proposed that employers' contributions be deductible provided the insurance is for $50,000 or less.

Contributions towards plans paying more than $25,000 would not be deductible for income tax purposes. Until now, an employee - employer contributional have been deductible from taxable income.

Change In Taxes Will Increase Cosmetic Prices

OTTAWA (CP)—The cost of beautifying your head, cosmetics, toiletries and that sort of thing — may be going up.

Finance Minister Fleming in his budget speech announced removal of sales taxes, ranging from nine per cent in national production in 1959.

"The forces of growth and expansion have reasserted themselves," he said as he presented the 1959-60 budget — his second full-scale fiscal report to the Commons.

Mr. Fleming forecast for this year a substantial increase in the Gross National Production — the value of all goods and services produced.

His prediction of a seven-per-cent increase, if realized, compared with a sub-normal gain of 2½ per cent in 1958, was based on the assumption there will be normal crop, stable prices and no "unforseen" developments abroad.

The minister said the country, which is experiencing steady records in unemployment this last winter, can expect "a rapid reduction of the present unemployment opportunities."

NO GUARD

Mr. Fleming said there is no sign of "overt inflation" this year, but said Canada must be on guard against potential inflationary pressures."

The main impetus to economic growth will come from rising consumer buying because of fatter pocketbooks. Higher corporate profits also would play a role.

But he indicated that "no large increase in sales can be expected, though the economic recovery in the United States will help to some Canadian exports.

He renewed past warnings that Canada must keep prices down if it wants to hold its markets, and urged industry to meet strongly-facing difficulties in selling goods abroad and meeting import competition at home.

Mr. Fleming's prediction of a seven-per-cent rise in the gross national product would involve a production of about $54,000,000,000, from the 1958 level of $32,184,000,000.

The rate of increase, though well ahead of 2.5 per cent in 1958, is not as high as 1957's 10 per cent, he said, but compares with the last big production jump of 11 per cent in 1956.

In his economic review, he said there is a definite end of the line on inflation.

"I reject the doctrine of either the inevitability or the inevitability of creeping inflation. . . To argue that inflation is inevitable is a reflection upon, indeed an insult to the intelligence and the moral fibre of free peoples.".

Bills Met by Hospital Plan Cannot Be Taken off Income

OTTAWA (CP)—People collecting hospital insurance benefits will not be able to deduct the cost of hospital insurance can't have it both ways.

Finance Minister Fleming in his budget speech Thursday night announced that, effective Jan. 1, medical expenses paid by a federal - provincial hospital insurance plan can't be used as an income tax deduction.

This does not, however, affect privately-financed hospital insurance.

This means that people whose hospital bills were paid this year by the provincial hospital insurance scheme — in provinces that have signed up for it with the federal government — can't use their bills as deductions next year when they come to pay their 1959 tax.

Previously all medical expenses amounting to more than three per cent of net income before personal exemptions were deductible.

Now, only expenses covered by private payments or insurance schemes can be so deducted.

Explained Mr. Fleming:

"It would be quite anomalous

Renewed Vigor In Economy, Fleming Sees Seven Per Cent Rise In National Production

OTTAWA (CP)—Finance Minister Fleming said Thursday night there is renewed vigor in Canada's economy and predicted an average seven-per-cent rise in per cent in national production in 1959.

"The forces of growth and expansion have reasserted themselves," he said as he presented the 1959-60 budget — his second full-scale fiscal report to the Commons.

Mr. Fleming forecast for this year a substantial increase in the Gross National Production — the value of all goods and services produced.

His Own Habits Not a Factor Fleming Says

OTTAWA (CP) — Finance Minister Fleming, who neither smokes nor drinks liquor, says his own habits have nothing to do with his budget move increasing taxes on cigarettes and liquor.

"If I had been one who made use of those commodities, I would have made the same decision," he told reporters Thursday night following his budget speech.

Mr. Fleming noted with amusement he had been called on some of his cabinet colleagues.

"I'm not going to quarrel with finance minister's personal habits should affect his decisions.

Expects Bond Market Stronger

OTTAWA (CP) — Finance Minister Fleming looks for a strengthening of the government bond market as a result of budget boosts announced Thursday night.

Chatting with reporters after delivering his marathon budget speech, Mr. Fleming said sales tax increases are planned to fall more heavily on the more prosperous segment of the taxpaying public than on the low-paying man.

That's why he had boosted excise taxes on liquor but not on beer, Mr. Fleming—a non-drinker and non-smoker himself. It was a "matter of selection," to make sure that the "burden of recovery" were not impeded.

The market for government bonds strengthened a year after the government sought huge new loans to cover its rising financial needs. Mr. Fleming said he did not expect his budget would result in any startling improvement in the bond market overnight, but he believed this would take place over the long-term.

Fleming Warns Tariff Boost By European Nations Could Tend to Divide NATO Lands

OTTAWA (CP)—Finance Minister Fleming expressed fear Thursday night that increasing trade rivalry in European tariffs may tend to split the North Atlantic alliance.

Touching on world trade issues, Mr. Fleming said Canada on United States import curbs, saying Canada will continue support for elimination of American restrictions on shipments of oil, lead and zinc "as soon as unjustifiable impediments to our exports are removed."

In his budget speech, he welcomed some aspects of the six-nation European Economic Community, but said the creation of a European Free Trade Area "could create a serious influence within the alliance.

What he said:

"In seeking wider trade opportunities wherever we can, we welcome the steps to increase the available facilities including those of GATT, the one basic agreement which brings together the important trading countries and the whole trading group."

The Common Market, now in operation in Europe, is designed to gradually a tariff-free area to increase the flow of goods among nations. Associated with it is made up of France, West Germany, Italy and the three Benelux countries.

Mr. Fleming added:

"Despite these difficulties and uncertainties in the commercial policies of the Common Market countries, world trade and payments have been moving into better balance.

". . . The United Kingdom and

Referring to the decline in the consumer price index in the last four months, he added: "I believe that it is well within the power of Canadians to maintain reasonable price stability without sacrificing either immediate recovery or balanced growth."

The budget's optimism about economic prospects apparently was based on several signs of upturn in the last three months of 1958.

Consumer spending rose three per cent in that last quarter—the largest quarterly rise since 1952. Total wages and salaries rose two per cent in the fall period by December labor income was five per cent above June 1958 level.

Personal incomes after taxes went up seven per cent in 1958 and Canadians tucked away into savings one-third of the increase.

Mr. Fleming said he was already "a return to more normal levels" in the saving matter with the anticipated expansion in personal incomes can be expected to invest more cash in the field of consumer spending in the months ahead.

Corporate profits, although down five per cent in the fall from a year ago, rose two per cent in the third quarter and rose eight per cent in the fourth quarter.

The profit recovery should encourage capital investment by business.

AID TO PROVINCES

Mr. Fleming made these other points:

Provinces will receive $684,000,000 in the 1959-60 fiscal year under the federal-provincial tax-sharing agreements. Over-all federal payments to provinces and provincial-municipal governments, national grants, will be an estimated $1,212,000,000 — about $200,000,000 in 1958-59, and $1,064,900,000 in three years ago.

The 1959-60 government's bond operations in the last fiscal year have lengthened the average term of maturity of bonds. The average bond interest rate rose to 3.50 per cent by March 31, compared with 3.05 per cent a year earlier.

There has been a "healthy development" in recent months that the general public no longer is reducing its holdings of government bonds. Public holdings of federal bonds, at a low point of less than $8,000,000,000 in September, have jumped by $1,500,000,000 since then and now are at the highest point in eight years.

Could Not Risk Another Deficit Like This Year's

OTTAWA (CP) — Finance Minister Fleming says Canada could not risk such a large deficit as last year's $616,600,000, his budget speech Thursday night, he gave this as one of his main reasons for his "moderate" — Mr. Fleming's word — tax increases, intended to reduce the deficit to $393,000,000 this year.

"We must look forward to a time when conditions of prosperity and employment will allow a balanced budget and when we can also make proper provision for an orderly retirement of debt.

"We have not, however, reached that stage.

"Recovery is gathering momentum, but it would be unwise at this juncture to change our course so abruptly as to hamper the forces of expansion.

"If, under the greatly-improved conditions of 1959, we are to continue to run deficits on the same scale as last year, we would, in my serious view, be courting a risk of building up an inflationary situation which would be more and more difficult to keep under control a year or so hence."

Fleming Speaks For Two Hours Without a Drink

OTTAWA (CP) — Finance Minister Fleming's budget speech marathon feat Thursday night—he spoke for an hour and 45 minutes without taking a drink.

Mr. Fleming started his budget speech at 8:30 p.m. and completed it at 9:54. He appeared to become slightly hoarse about 9:30 but recovered, delivering the last part of the speech as forcibly as at the start.

He also delivered his 1958-59 budget last June 17 without taking a drink. He said this year not even a glass of water was on his desk.

Figures for Canada exclude Old Age Security Tax.

Western European countries have been building up reserves in both gold and dollar reserves last year and this trend is expected to continue this year. Britain alone, we are entitled to expect a further opportunistic move in this direction should continue to improve."

Turning to the U.S., he suggested Americans become "less timid" about importing more heavily those from Canada which buys more from Americans than it sells and is linked with the U.S. in bonds of continental defence.

"In particular the actions of the U.S. in imposing during the last year new import restrictions on lead and zinc and mandatory restrictions on oil have been aroused strong resentment in this country."

Tariff Changes May Prevent Fruit, Vegetable Bargains as Canadian Produce Protected

OTTAWA (CP) — Those seasonal bargains in fruit and vegetables that Canadian housewives look forward to in summers are less likely to appear this year.

The most noticeable result of tariff changes announced by Finance Minister Fleming in his budget speech probably will be that the prices of these foods at the time of year when Canadian producers are bringing them to market.

Instead of dipping a little when these farm items are being harvested in Canada—and competing with United States products for the Canadian consumer's dollar —their prices will hodgup. That is, if the tariff changes have the desired effect of throwing a bit of U.S. competition.

CONCESSIONS, TOO

But Mr. Fleming offered a few off-setting tariff concessions, too. Taken as a whole, the price increases should be slight.

The tariff rates were changed on about 142 items.

Seasonally, the tariff will be higher on apples, peaches and potatoes. Rates will be raised or the duty-free period extended—or both — for asparagus, brussels sprouts, cabbage, carrots, cauliflower, cucumbers on the cob, cucumbers, lettuce, onions, parsnips, rutabagas, tomatoes, sour cherries, pears and prunes.

Green beans, brussels sprouts, carrots, beets, cauliflower, lettuce, peas and cucumbers on the cob will bear an additional duty of five per cent. when shipped from countries not in a preferential group.

Tariffs on a number of items will be eliminated for the remainder of 10 per cent will be eliminated for beans, cabbage, carrots, celery, cauliflower, lettuce, peppers, tomatoes, cantaloups, pears and strawberries.

IT EVENS OUT

As a result, the people who buy the groceries may not be affected by the import a little cheaper while summer-time fruit and vegetable prices go up a bit to even out the old seasonal prices.

Mr. Fleming also announced that he will negotiate tariff changes with other countries on Fleming said.

Liberal Critic Says Budget 'Utmost Political Cynicism'

OTTAWA (CP)—William Benidickson, Liberal financial critic, says tax increases in Finance Minister Fleming's budget represent "the utmost in political cynicism."

He said Thursday night in a Commons reply to Mr. Fleming's budget speech that the government realizes "the increases might be compensated for two years hence at a more appropriate time for tax reductions."

Mr. Benidickson was appparently referring to the next general election, likely to occur in 1962, and the possibility a Progressive Conservative administration might cut taxes just before then.

He said that except during the last two years and the Korean War there had been no increase in direct taxes under a previous Conservative government of 1930-35. From 1935 until 1957, the Liberals in power.

The budget was in striking contrast to the past Diefenbaker-Fleming record, he said in opposition and in his early months as finance minister.

"What a difference has taken place, in the minister of finance and in the budget. The high lights of everything he said today were directly opposite to the things we knew him for in recent times."

He said, Mr. Fleming had stressed the need for a balanced budget, but presented a second straight budget deficit.

35 MILLION BOOST

Mr. Benidickson said Fleming had advocated a decrease in taxes. Now there would be tax increases totalling $352,000,000.

"What a contrast."

Comparing the present Conservative administration with that of 1930-35, Mr. Benidickson said:

"We have, of course, the same kind of government and we are finding the same kind of results."

The tax increase represented a reduction in the standard of takehome pay and, Mr. Fleming's statement to the contrary, wage-earners with less than $5,000 taxable income still would find they would have to pay higher taxes, at least $2.50 a month for old age security.

THE BIGGEST SOMERSAULT

Mr. Fleming's performance was the "biggest somersault" he had ever seen, and was a "complete negation" of all the Conservative party had stood for.

So little had been said in the budget speech about unemployment that the country would be shocked. People wanted jobs, not doles, Mr. Fleming was attempting to "sell" the country to sleep.

He not want the house to accept too readily these soothing statements and statistics," Mr. Benidickson added.

GIFT FOR SPAAK

Sunday School Lesson

Price of Law and Order

By ROY L. SMITH

The white line that runs down the middle of the pavement is the symbol of democratic government and as such one of our most significant American possessions.

As taxpayers, we spend as much money for the pavement on the left-hand side of the road as we do for the pavement on the right-hand side. But if all of us drove to suit our fancy, none of us would ever get anywhere.

We therefore put a white line down the middle of the pavement, and all of us agree to drive on the right side of the line. In doing so, we surrender the right to drive on the left side. But as we surrender one right (the right to drive as we please) we gain another — the right to drive in relative safety.

The Uniform Sunday School lesson for April 12: "ISRAEL'S FIRST KING," Samuel 8 through 11.

As each individual citizen subjects himself to this simple restraint, and exercises his own discipline over himself, all of society wins the right to carry on commerce, move about freely, and get the advantages that inhere in a highway system. In this simple philosophy of democratic government.

RELIGION AND GOVERNMENT

It becomes one of the first responsibilities of religion to create within the mind and life of individual citizens the will to be governed. This was the most difficult task to which the prophet Samuel found himself assigned. The people had lived so long as a law unto themselves, that they found it hard to accept the conditions that good government imposed, and upon Samuel there devolved the duty of teaching them the meaning of law, and of securing their acceptance of its restraints.

Beside a small group of industrialists a discussion was going on relative to a law which had been recently passed by the state legislature, one to which these business men were bitterly opposed. In their midst there sat one of the prominent attorneys of the town who was also a prominent churchman.

At one point in the discussion one of the businessmen exclaimed, "There is always some way to get around any law, and we've got to find that way in this case." To which the churchman-attorney replied, "On the day that you find that way I am tendering my resignation as your attorney. It is very evident that this is the law of the land, and I will not be a party to any evasion of it. You have rights under this law, and I will defend you in the exercise of those rights. But I will not lift my finger to help you circumvent it, as long as it the law. To do so would be to betray the most sacred convictions I have as an American citizen." And in that the voice of religion had spoken in the midst of politics and industry.

MUST DISCIPLINE OURSELVES

The strength and stability of a totalitarian government depends upon the power of that government to enforce discipline among its citizens. The strength of a democracy depends upon the ability of a citizenry to discipline themselves.

Self-discipline depends upon the ability of a people to recognize the superior rights of the public, in distinction from the rights of the individual. The confidence of a citizen depends upon the ability of the government to protect him in the exercise of his civil and individual rights.

Whenever a democratic government fails to protect and uphold the rights of a minority, it undermines the confidence of the people in its ability to protect the rights of the majority.

SPIRITUAL BASIS OF GOVERNMENT

No ruler is strong enough to govern a people who are not able to give their loyalty to an ideal. Communism enjoys great strength because, even though it may deceive the people, it is able to command them. And it commands them because there is in them a spiritual capacity of the utmost value.

It becomes the duty of religion to hold governments and states to their tasks, to hold them loyal to high morality, and to hold the people loyal to just and enlightened government. Once that any government undermines the spiritual powers of the people, it is preparing for its own downfall.

Without Precedent... Even Among Cadillacs!

It has long been understood that the one true way to judge a Cadillac is to measure it against another Cadillac!

And yet, even this historic yardstick of Cadillac goodness is not completely applicable for 1959. For this newest "car of cars" is without precedent—even among Cadillacs!

Standing regally at the curbside, in motion on the highway, or making its grand entrance at some distinguished event—its majestic new styling is always the subject of unstinted admiration.

Cadillac's new fabrics and leathers are breathtaking to behold... appointments are crafted with a jeweler's care . . . and its interiors are so spacious that entering and leaving are accomplished with wonderful ease and grace.

And the car is so easy to handle, so obedient and responsive to the touch and so smooth and silken in action that even the longest journey is a pleasure to anticipate—and a joy to recall.

So whether you are looking forward to your first Cadillac—or your fifth—or even your tenth—you have a great discovery ahead of you.

We suggest you visit your dealer soon for a personal demonstration of this brilliant new Cadillac, this is an experience you should not postpone.

Miniature Hats Were Made For Topknots

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)— Morton Gluckmann couldn't understand how anyone in the Burmese air force could wear anything as small as a size 5¼ cap.

Gluckmann finally got his answer from a Burmese officer studying at the nearby Fort Knox armor centre.

Explained Capt. Aye Maung of Rangoon:

"The little caps are for the ladies in the air force. They wear their hair in top-knots, and the smaller size cap just fits over the hair on the top of the head."

The size 5¼ caps are being made now.

Love-Hungry Cop Suitor Felt Pinch

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — I love you, I love you, I love you.

That's what Harold L. Lemar was saying to pretty policewoman Jill Thompson as she interrupted with, "You're under arrest."

Their one-sided romance was aired in city court, where Lemar glumly argued against a charge of disorderly conduct.

Mrs. Thompson told the court that Lemar simply wouldn't take no for an answer.

"He just kept visiting my home, calling me on the phone and approaching me on the street while I'm on duty," she said. "I'm tired of it."

"I guess I will just have to stifle my emotions and forget her," sighed Lemar.

Judge Beverly Bousche dismissed the charge.

Bonin Spark In Habs' Routine 5-3 Win Over Leafs

Sport Slices

RARE, MEDIUM, WELL-DONE

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

If the Whitby Dunlops can dunk the Kitchener Dutchmen tonight in Guelph, they can ready the family trophy mantel for the second Allan Cup in three years. For it is the consensus of Ontario senior "A" hockey man that the winners of the all-Ontario series will take the national championship in their stride.

They could be wrong, but this corner doubts it. There shouldn't be much opposition for the Ontario winners in the Eastern Canada championship series, but they could run into trouble when the western gang invades the effete east in an effort to take the pewter mug back to the prairies.

Okay, okay, you western fans. You could be right. After what the all-season cellar-dwelling Toronto Maple Leafs did in their drive for the playoffs and their amazing success in reaching the Stanley Cup finals, nothing would be surprising. The success of the Young Peies is another example.

Meanwhile there has been a colorful hidelight to the Whitby-Kitchener series. Wren Blair, the fossil-tossing tycoon of the Dunnies has been up to his ancient tricks of baiting referees, newspapermen and officials of the opposing club.

Blair who has trampled more hats to death than a winery worker has grapes, staged a more or less dramatic show in Kitchener the other night after his Dunnies were dumped 2-1 by the driving Dutchmen.

With tonsils rattling and forelock waving defiance, the loquacious wizard from Whitby charged out on the ice, with fire shooting from his nostrils like an ancient Chinese dragon, and dared all and sundry to battle, choose your own weapons.

He charged Referee Hugh McLean with "throwing the book" at the Dunlops. Incidentially, McLean tacked a bench penalty on the Dunnies during the game and this with another gawed the way for a Dutchman score. Blair said the official was responsible for the Dunlopian defeat and that he was similarly unfair in the all-Ontario finals two years ago when the Dunlops upset the Dutchmen four games to three.

The Blairian squawk received little sympathy in the Dutchmen camp. Manager Ernie Goman (nobody's fool in his own right) summed it up. "You'd almost think," said he, "that he knows his team is going to deserve more penalties, but despite that, is trying to arrange the penalties be equalized."

"I suspect," Goman went on, "that he is trying to influence the Ontario Hockey Association in its assignmen of officials. I wouldn't put it past him."

Apparently Mr. Goman doesn't know Wrennie like the Eastern Ontario senior leaguers. Len (Kitchener Record) Taylor stumbled on what could have been the reasons for the Blair dramatics when he columnized: "While most of us laughed and some of us felt a little disgusted, don't overlook the value of Blair's centre-ice parading. It may have been a shrewd psychological move to get his Dunnies fired up."

"You can bet that Blair, one of the better rabble-rousers, will be telling the Dunnies the referees stole this one, that the Dutchmen got away with murder, and that everyone conspired to beat them. We may know it isn't true but if the Dunnies believe him as they have in the past, that is all anyone in Whitby will care."

"Two years ago," Taylor wrote, "Blair flushed the Dunlop egos with the whiplash claim that the Dutchmen had publicly rated them as a senior "B" outfit. The truth of the matter is the Dutchmen made no such claim at all, but the truth never reached the Dunlops and the suggestion was a mighty spur."

Taylor probably knows this. The "senior B" slur did not come from any member of the Dutch team but did emanate from a certain radio character in Kitchener. It was here the "eastern Cinderella upstarts" phrase was born.

Nothing the Dutchmen, their officials or referees (unless they deport him to Clinton) can do will stop the ebullient Blair if he chooses to blow his top... He will go on tonsil-tossing, fire-breathing and hat-trampling if something affects his beloved Dunnies. His methods have the desired effect. He is not so much interested in what his targets think of his criticism as in what the team that matters. And it usually works. They generally win what they go after.

In the Dressing Room

MONTREAL (CP)— Montreal Canadiens' coach Toe Blake, pleased with his team's win over Toronto Maple Leafs in the opening game of the Stanley Cup final, nevertheless had some criticism.

He complained of some loose play and indifferent skating.

He had praise for Ralph Backstrom, and of course Marcel Bonin, who scored the winning goal and set up the clincher, was congratulated all around.

Asked about it late-game tussle with Toronto's Frank Mahovlich, Bonin said, "Oh, I just bopped him on the head with my elbows just for fun—well maybe not for fun."

In the Leafs' room coach Punch Imlach commented about Canadiens: "If they can't play any better than that... we can play a lot better. I still think we will win this series."

He said the boys played 50 per cent better against Boston in the semi-final.

"We didn't hustle and didn't fight," said Imlach loud enough for his players to hear. "But we'll be doing it Saturday won't we?" There were yells of "You bet we will."

Billy Harris said Montreal's Doug Harvey took a dive late in the game — when Harris was given a minor penalty for hooking and had a misconduct penalty added by referee Eddie Powhan for skating into the referee's circle to ask who called the penalty.

It was Harris' first misconduct penalty in his four seasons with the Leafs.

Little Winger Fires Winner Sets Up Insurance Marker; Both Coaches Are Critical

MONTREAL (CP) — Montreal Canadiens today were safely launched on their bid for an unprecedented fourth straight Stanley Cup title thanks to the spark supplied by Marcel Bonin.

For two and a half periods Thursday night a crowd of 14,376 saw a routine affair between Canadiens and Toronto Maple Leafs. Then the irrepressible little left winger chopped in the winning goal and set up the insurance marker with a coolly calculated pass to give Canadiens a 3-2 win.

The sport in the humdrum aspects of this first game of the best-of-seven final came when both coaches, the moment of the coaches, Both Toe Blake of Montreal and Punch Imlach of Toronto were critical of the work of their teams.

LOOSE SMALL DEFENCE

Blake said Canadiens were loose in their own end "some of the guys didn't seem to have an ankle."

Imlach said his Leafs didn't hustle and fight enough and "this will be the easiest game Canadiens will have against us."

Closeness of the score all the way failed to do the crowd much of its apathy. Henri Richard and Ralph Backstrom scored for Montreal and Dick Duff and Billy Harris for the Leafs in the opening period.

It was as close through the second. Andre Pronovost scored for Montreal in front and Ron Stewart pulled the Leafs even.

To the Leafs' credit, they outskated and outchecked Canadiens in the first two periods. They looked good enough to snatch this first game although they had only one day rest after knocking off Boston Bruins in a tough seven-game semi-final.

The longer layoff for Canadiens — who were carried six games before downing Chicago Black Hawks—appeared to have left them either sluggish or complacement.

BONIN BREAKS IT UP

The game lacked the sparkle and spectacle of Stanley Cup play until Bonin got to work. He streaked in front of the net to clip Henri Richard's shot past goalie Johnny Bower at 11:30.

Scarcely three minutes later while the Leafs were shorthanded, Bonin calmly fiddled with the puck near the end boards, then picked out Dickie Moore for a perfect pass. From 15 feet out Moore blasted in the clincher at 15:02.

The game was enlivened in the dying minutes by a scrap between Henri Richard and Toronto's Bobby Baun. Each was given a major for fighting. Little more than a minute later centre Billy Harris of the Leafs drew a hooking penalty plus a misconduct penalty for invading the referee's circle.

ONE-SHOT ACHIEVEMENT

Bonin's goal was a one-shot accomplishment — the first time he had directed the puck on the net all night. It was his eighth in the post-season playoffs. He has missed scoring at least once in the only one of seven games and said this goal "ended my one-game scoring slump."

Maurice (Rocket) Richard was back with his mates after his long layoff and was used only a few times on the power play. He just missed a goal on one of his efforts.

His brother, the Little Rocket, set Canadiens in front after only 56 seconds of play by tipping in Moore's shot. The Leafs were shorthanded when Duff scored at 4:52. He checked Moore at the height of a Montreal power play, snared the puck and streaked all the way in the clear to beat goalie Jacques Plante.

Harris rapped in the short rebound of a shot by Tim Horton at 6:34 to put the Leafs ahead for the only time in the game. Backstrom neatly feinted Bower and tucked the puck behind him to even the score.

Pronovost scored at 16:38 of the second period immediately after a faceoff in the Toronto end and Stewart evened things up for the Leafs at 19:38 by clipping in Carl Brewer's shot.

STOPPAGE MATCHES

Among the distinguished visitors for the game were ex-referee Red Storey and Canadian lightheavyweight champion Yvon Durelle.

Storey resigned last Tuesday as being "subjected to public criticism" by National Hockey League president Clarence Campbell. Storey sat up on the catwalk with his wife and watched Eddie Powers referee the game.

Durelle, with manager Chris Graham, was on his way to Hull Hull, Que., where he is to be guest at a function in his honor. He will return to his New Brunswick home Sunday.

Harris showed at centre ice where Durelle lost a sensational right last December to champion Archie Moore. The two are to meet in Montreal again in July.

This Angler Was Spinner Of Race Yarns

HALLANDALE, Fla. (AP)—An "angler" with a new angle was caught Thursday relaying hot race results through his fishing rod.

Ed McCollum, investigator for the state attorney-general's office, said Ralph Shea, 40, of Miami was stationed in an outboard motor boat anchored in the Atlantic east of Gulfstream Park as he received the results from a cohort at the track, almost a mile away.

Officers confiscated a receiving set, battery and transistor and a telephone extension. The phone was connected by wire to a pay station at Scott's water ski school some 100 yards from the boat, McCollum said.

Shea was charged with illegal possession of race results, possessing gambling coulpment and conspiracy to violate the state's gambling laws.

Florida law prohibits sending out race results until half an hour after they become official, except for feature races that are broadcast or telecast.

Rhodes Clears Way for Title Fight

NEW YORK (AP) — Promoter Cecil Rhodes, Jr., has filed the formal papers necessary to get England's Brian London a visa to enter the United States.

Thus Rhodes appeared to have cleared the last obstacle to a Floyd Patterson — London world heavyweight title fight at Indianapolis May 1. He said he expected London to arrive here shortly.

Rhodes and NBC, which will telecast the 15-round title bout, signed the contract for the TV rights Wednesday. The promoter will receive $200,000. He is guaranteeing Cus D'Amato, Patterson's manager, $250,000. Of this sum, London is to receive $75,000.

On the Tracks

FORT ERIE (CP) — Amber Atom, owned by the McMacken Stable of Toronto and ridden by Charlie Bradford, won the featured Olean purse at the Fort Erie Jockey Club Thursday. Amber Atom sloshed through the deep mud to defeat Menlora by two lengths.

Robert James was third. The winner paid $28.10, $18.00 and $9.70 as he ran the five furlongs in 1:07 1-5.

The native of Hamilton, Ont., and member of the 1956 Canadian Olympics team, scored 414.15 points. Sara Barber of Brantford placed third in the 200-yard backstroke.

Govt. Has No Power Over Grand National

LONDON (AP) — Demands for changes in the Grand National steeplechase reached Parliament Thursday.

R. A. Butler, home secretary, told the House of Commons there is nothing the government could do about the race.

Two horses were destroyed because of injuries after last month's race in which only four of 34 starters finished.

Some Commons members previously had demanded that the jumps be eased and entry requirements tightened. Butler said he would talk to the sponsors about it.

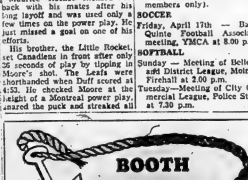
Ryff Fights Rossi Tonight

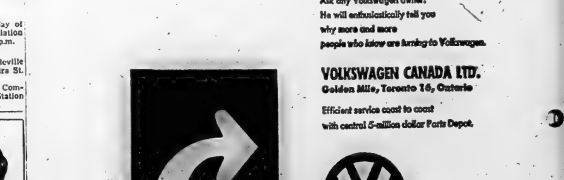
SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Paolo Rossi, who boasts a punishing left hook, goes against cornebeshound Frankie Ryff in a 10-round lightweight fight here tonight.

The 30-year-old Rossi, a native of Italy, is favored to whip Ryff in the nationally televised bout. Rossi, fourth ranked in the 135-pound division, figures on a victory would give him a crack at champion Joe Brown.

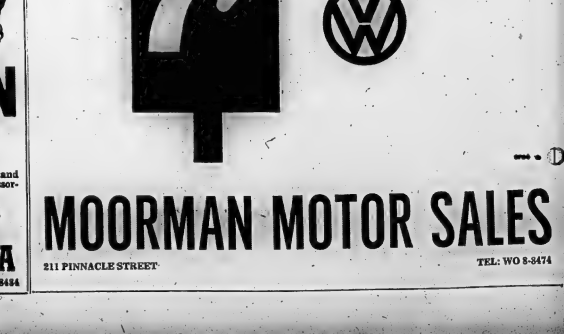
Ryff, who will be 27 April 13, has won 9 of his last 10 fights. He once gave up the game but returned to the ring in 1956 when Barney Ross, former lightweight and middleweight king, became his manager.



Runner Dies After Collapse



PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A 16-year-old youth died today eight hours after he collapsed while running in a mile race at a high school track meet.



Joseph Taylor had gone a quarter-mile when he ran off the track and fell on the grass.

Doctors said Taylor suffered a "cardiac arrest" but they were able to massage his heart back to an almost normal beat. The boy later had a relapse.

Redlegs Win Over Bucs 4-1' Senators Wallop Orioles 9-2 In Baseball's 1959 Debut

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The 1959 National League baseball season is just one day old, but you have to figure the winter deal with Cincinnati that brought a lefthanded pitcher to Pittsburgh was one of the Pirates should have passed up.

Calm down. Not the trade that sent Frank Thomas to the Reds last winter for left fielder Dick Stuart, Don Hoak and Smoky Burgess. Wait until August to judge that one. Go back another winter and recall the swap that gave the Reds lefthander Bob Purkey for southpaw Don Gross.

Purkey became Cincinnati's ace last year, winning 17, running up 17 complete games—and piling up a 3-0 record against his ex-mates, who surprised everyone by finishing second in the National League race.

PURKEY PROVES OUT

That 1958 resurrection created all sorts of 1959 pennant fever in Pittsburgh, but the Pirates made a rather inauspicious start Thursday, losing 4-1 to the Reds—and Purkey.

Purkey, now 40 against his old mates, gave Reds their first victory last year—also a 4-1 against Bucs. Thursday's job was the first opening-day success in five years for the Reds.

Frank Robinson got three hits for Reds, one a two-run homer in the fourth, and also drove in three runs against loser Ron Kline.

As for last winter's Cincinnati-Pirate trade, an overflow crowd of 32,190 at the Reds' Crosley field watched a deadlock in the first competitive comparison. Thomas was 1-for-4 for the Reds with a harmless double, Hoak singled in four trips and Burgess hit a pinch double, neither figuring in the Pirates' run.

In the National today, Milwaukee's defending champion Braves send southpaw Warren Spahn (22-11) against the Pirates' Bob Friend (20-14) at Pittsburgh, Los Angles Dodgers picked Don Drysdale (12-13) against the Cubs' Bob Anderson (3-3) at Chicago.

Two night-game openers find the San Francisco Giants at St. Louis with Johnny Antonelli (16-13) opposing the Cards' Larry Jackson (13-12), while the Reds' Don Newcombe (6-13) faces the Phillies' Robin Roberts (17-14) at Philadelphia.

Fetchick Leads Golf Tourney

GREENSBORO, N. C. (AP)—Mike Fetchick of Yonkers, N.Y., came up with a five-under-par 66 to take a one-stroke first-round lead in the 15,000 Greater Greensboro open golf tournament Thursday.

Playing with only four hours sleep after flying in from New York, the 36-year-old pro wrested the lead from little Billy Maxwell of Odessa, Tex., former U.S. amateur champion, who had finished with a 33-34—67.

Fetchick shot the front side of the 6,651-yard course in par 35 and finished with 31. Five under par.

Stan Leonard of Vancouver was tied for third at 68 with four others—PGA champion Don Fleischwad of Tequesta, Fla.; Tony Lema, San Leandro, Calif., and Joe Campbell, Knoxville, Tenn.

Leonard, the 1957 champion, went out in 36 and came back in 32.

Jerry Magee of Toronto, only other Canadian in the tournament, fired a 33-36—75. He went over par on four of the first five holes.

Harness Racing

WINDSOR (CP)—Essex County horsemen have decided to continue their fight to have night harness racing in Ontario.

At a meeting here Wednesday night the Essex County Standard Bred Horsemen's Association decided to send a delegation to Premier Frost urging him to change his mind on the question. The premier recently stated—his opposition to the idea.

"Ike" Named Athlete of 1957 For Lacrosse

PETERBOROUGH (CP) — Ike Hildebrand was named Peterborough's 1957 athlete of the year and Bill Mahoney won the award for 1958 at the city's fifth annual dinner of champions Thursday night.

Two were chosen this year because the dinner was not held last year.

Petes victory — they defeated Toronto St. Michael's Majors 4-1 Wednesday to wrap up a close-fought eight-game series—means the Eastern Canada final this year will be an all-Canadien affair.

Scotty Bowman, Petes' 26-year-old coach, is himself a former Hull-Ottawa man. He was with the club two seasons before taking over the Peterborough job from Ted Kennedy.

Bowman named goaltender Jacques Caron the main stay in Peterborough's tremendous comefrom-behind victory in the Ontario final.

Caron was out for the first three games of the series and returned when Peterborough was down dim. Petes faced elimination in the last four games of the series and in the last three Caron had only three goals scored on him.

The lanky 20 - year - old goaltender figured largely in Wednesday's win, holding the fort against a second period, St. Michael's rally and making two key saves in the final period.

SAYS WIN IN FIVE

Asked about the Eastern Canada series Caron just beamed and said: "We'll take the Canadiens in five minutes."

Bowman said the teams performance in the series was "a bigger thrill than winning the Memorial Cup."

"The third - year guys came through for me," he said.

Petes have been in the OHA Junior A for only the past three years. They finished last the first season, third the second and this year wound up second. 3

Bowman Faces Pollock In Eastern Finals

PETERBOROUGH (CP) — Bill Mahoney, 19 - year - old Peterborough Petes captain, was named 1958 athlete of the year Thursday night at the city's fifth annual dinner of champions.

Mahoney received the award for leading Petes into the Memorial Cup semi - finals as OHA Junior A division champions.

Petes victory — they defeated Toronto St. Michael's Majors 4-1 Wednesday to wrap up a close-fought eight-game series—means the Eastern Canada final this year will be an all-Canadien affair.

Academy Awards Telecast Had Usual Quota of Misses

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Oscar afternoon—

There probably will never be the perfect Academy Awards telecast, awards affairs being what they are. But producers strove mightily this year and produced a better-than-average score of hits, but the usual quota of misses.

The biggest miss was the mistiming that produced an extra 20 minutes of unplanned show time. The audience was aghast as Jerry Lewis floundered to fill in the time. At one point, he spotted ex-partner Dean Martin amid the 100 stars on stage for the finale.

Commented Lewis: "And they said we'd never appear on the same stage together again!"

Most of the audience missed Martin's apt repby: "He needs me."

IDYLL OVER?

Elizabeth Taylor and Eddie Fisher seemed to get a very tepid reception for their parts in the program. Perhaps the movie crowd, like some others, is tiring of the Liz-Eddie idyll. . . .

On the other hand, there was an unusually warm reaction to the brief appearance of Ingrid Stevens. It seemed like an outstretched hand of sympathy for a girl who has undergone emotional stress. . . .

My fashion expert tells me that the trend was toward the slinky, tight, full-length formal rather than the short kind. Tops among the stunners: Cyd Charisse in a gold lame; Janet Gaynor in a form - fitting black lace; Rhonda Fleming a red-hot red; dream in a powder blue gown.

A KNOCKOUT

Rosalind Russell was a knockout in a Mamie-pink and delivered her tribute to Maurice Chevalier in great style. Burns noted the shapely gams of Ingrid Bergman and Irene Dunne.

About my prediction, I scored right on 10 awards and rightly called the sweep for Gigi. I goofed on two. I guessed wrongly that the Academy would again honor a new - to - me - flicker Maclaine. This was the year for the old reliables.

And I picked Lee J. Cobb instead of Burl Ives. I still think Ives got it for "Big Daddy," for which he wasn't nominated. End of sour grapes.

Young Fan Gets Scrapbook Back

The book was taken from a parked car Saturday by a boy who later returned it with a letter signed "a very sorry 10-year-old, James."

It was chimed at the Miami Herald sports department Thursday by Mel Durslag, and more or less adopted by the Yankees three years ago when it first hit right eye.

Mel grinned and said "thanks" when he regained the book, filled with pictures of Mickey Mantle, Gil MacDougald, Yogi Berra, Phil Rizzuto and Whitey Ford.

Mel said he was ready to forgive the boy who took the book.

A playmate accidentally threw a spit that struck Mel in the eye several years ago. Doctors operated but they could not save it.

Would Probe Discrimination By Red Sox

BOSTON (AP)—The American Veterans Committee of Massachusetts incorporated today called for a "clear-the-air" investigation of charges of racial discrimination by Boston Red Sox n the wake of the farming of Pumpsie Green.

The Boston chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People said after Green's option on 24-hour recall to Minneapolis of the American Association that the Red Sox practices indicate they "condone racial segregation" in baseball.

Green, a Negro, played winter baseball and made a great start in spring training, but tapered off. He finished with a .191 average despite collecting only two hits in his last 15 times at bat. He hit .252 for Minneapolis last year.

Women May "Spiel" for Curling Title

NORTH BAY (CP) — The Eastern Canada Women's Curling Association has approved tentative plans for an eastern Ontario-Quebec-Nova Scotia-New Brunswick playoff system which would include rinks from Ontario, Quebec, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island and Newfoundland.

It is hoped that the championship will lead to a national women's championship. The four western provinces now have an interprovincial championship.

The association has enlisted the assistance of Ken Watson, Canada's Mr. Curling, who is chief executive of the National Schoolboy Bonspiel and the international matches between Canada and Scotland.

Mrs. W. L. Watt of Port Arthur, outgoing president, was elected chairman of a public relations committee which will work with Watson in preparing plans for the new events

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RIGHTER

Friday, April 15

Aries (March 21 to April 19) — Take care you use real wisdom and care in any financial dealings or property management today, or you could lose a valuable supporter. Be economical and see that your assets are far greater than your liabilities. Be discreet.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20)—You should get yourself some fascinating hobby, for you are prone to lash out at others only because you are dissatisfied with yourself. Be thoughtful today and look to improving your health and general appearance. Be happy.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21)—Here is one of those days when you feel quite hemmed in and would want to dash out anywhere in annoyance. Use every bit of willpower you possess and charge your obligations diligently. This helps you greatly and brings loyal admirers, supporters.

Moon Children (June 22 to July 21) — That dynamic and hard - headed friend you can usually rely on for assistance and co-operation is in a worried and unhappy mood today, so be sure you understand. Don't be forceful. P. M. steer clear of associates.

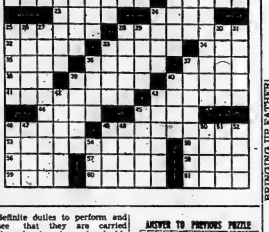
Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21) — Be very certain you follow every regulation that concerns you personally. Avoid looking for an easy way to do things. Get your credit up higher and give your work full attention and concentration. This can be a very productive day.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 23) — Since you feel bored and tired, you would like to make radical changes today, but this would be unwise. Stick to regular routine and be glad you are well established. Tomorrow all will seem brighter, happier.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23)—A strong intuitive flash you are inclined to follow today would prove most erroneous. Stick to standard routine for it will prove most successful in the long run. Get yourself in hand.

Scorpio (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21)—Forceful associate is as opinionated as you are, therefore you will have no success in your dealings unless you adopt a more conciliatory tone and manner. Then misunderstandings can be ironed out. Be cooperative to the nth degree.

Sagittarius (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21) — You are faced with much work today, but it is imperative you adopt a very calm and deliberate attitude if you wish to and not have damage result. Understand your fellow worker, primarily.



Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — Take care you do not possessively, jealously with person who means most to you, or you lose his or her respect and affection. Passive resistance is the most effective. P. M. do not be extravagant, yet have lots of fun.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — Instead of being forceful now, especially with close family ties, spend your time wisely putting shoe in A-1 condition and doing the work that will bring in many dollars. You cannot change people. Accept them as they are.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to March 20) — Extreme caution while driving is imperative today or there could be a serious accident. Also, talk quietly and thoughtfully, but let your voice carry conviction. Pay no heed to gossipy news coming your way. It is erroneous.

If your child is born today ... The fine child born today could be quite a young philosopher if you early give the right training in this field, since the soul is highly developed. However, be sure not to neglect firm discipline for it is needed for best results in mature years. Also, give definite duties to perform and see that they are carried through, to set an invaluable work pattern. This channels excessive energy wisely.

Mobs In Yemen Stone Russians

CAIRO (AP) — Diplomats report mobs in the Arabian peninsula kingdom of Yemen have taken up throwing stones at Communist campaign and have stoned Soviet technicians.

The primitive Little Arab kingdom's aging ailing ruler, Imam Ahmed, is trying to escape from the powerful Communist bloc influence at work in that country since 1957, the diplomats say.

Yemen joined Moscow's United Arab Republic in a loose federation in 1957 and adopted its leaning toward Moscow. Ahmed was embittered at the West because of Soviet backing for the British in their neighboring Aden protectorate. The Soviets have accepted offers of large Communist-bloc aid and reconstruction of his son, Crown Prince Mohamed El Badr.

INCOME EXCISE

But taxpayers no longer will be able to claim their coal costs borne by federally-aided provincial hospital insurance plans. Retroactive to Jan. 1, this step will bring another $3,000,000 in federal revenues in this fiscal year and $9,000,000 in a full year.

And while the 20-per-cent tariff on fruits and vegetables was eliminated on some specified items, leaving out - of - season shipments, rates were boosted on a wide range of other products. Overall on balance, consumers will likely pay slightly higher prices.

Launching Opposition criticism, William Benidickson, Liberal financial critic, said the budget is a contrast to the Progressive Conservative election platform. The financial statement providing $178,000,000 more than last year was the "biggest somersault that I can ever recall."

"It appears that a while ago the electorate voted for cake, but now are being told they will seemingly has to be paid for."

Outside the Commons, manufacturers expressed concern that higher commodity and corporation taxes might hurt Canada's economic comeback. A cigaret producer said cigaret tax boosts will be passed along to consumers. A spokesman for distillers said the federal liquor tax is at an all-time high.

Mr. Fleming said that while the government's needs for new loans would be lower, Canada could not risk further heavy deficit, such as last year's peacetime record $618,600,000. Without tax boosts, this year's deficit would have run to $630,000,000 instead of the forecast $320,000,000.

But while the field in which higher revenues could be obtained would rise, government spending was estimated to climb by a record $6,200,000,000 this year, including $578,000,000 in old age pensions.

Of budgetary expenditures estimated to rise to $5,660,000,000 from $5,367,000,000 last year, 92 per cent would go for defence, 12 per cent for interest charges on the national debt, nine per cent for family allowances and eight per cent for payments to provinces. The remainder would range from five per cent for veterans' affairs to one per cent for the National Research Council and student aid.

LARGEST SOURCE

Of budgetary revenues forecast to increase this year to $5,367,000,000 from $5,165,000,000, some 30 per cent or the biggest source would come from personal income tax, 21 per cent from corporate, such as tariffs, duties and cigaret and liquor taxes, providing the remainder.

Government revenues, including pension revenues, would be the equivalent this year of $332.74 per person in Canada, up from $301.86 last year. Expenditures, including pensions, would rise to $337.69 from $338.04.

In setting the stage for tax boosts, Mr. Fleming said that if the government continued to run heavy deficits as last year under improved economic conditions, it would run "serious risk of building up an inflationary potential which could prove most difficult to keep under control at once or so hence."

He indicated also he wants to improve marketing conditions for government bonds and help ease interest rates which, in recent cases, have hit a record high.

MISCELLANEOUS CHANGES

In a miscellaneous group of changes affecting the personal income tax:

1. Increased the amount an employer can claim as an exemption for a married employee with two to 12 months of pay or $10,000 whichever is greater from the previous 90 days of pay.

2. Increased to 90 days from 60 the time in which a taxpayer can serve notice of objection to an income tax assessment and to bring from mailing of the notice of assessment.

3. Allowed workers to shift their pension plans from one job to another and to make the change effective with the 1959 taxation year.

4. Decided that starting next year, premiums on group life insurance plans paid by employers on behalf of employees will have to be included in the employee's income tax if the insurance coverage is more than $25,000.

ADVERTISEMENTS

Among several sales and excise tax changes is one that makes any distributor of drugs, cosmetics and other toilet preparations a manufacturer for tax purposes, if this distributor is not actually a retailer.

The purpose of this is to get the tax —usually applied to the manufacturer's price — on the cost of packaging and advertising. This is a major part of the cost of cosmetics and luxury soaps. But the effect of it may be higher costs to some consumers.

Biggest change in the tariff schedule is an improved rise in fruit and vegetable rates, offset to some extent by some reductions on items coming into Canada during the off-season.

The existing rate of 20% carries a hundredweight for potatoes previously applied in the second half of the year, but not in the supplied year-round. The rate on apples is increased from 1½ cents per one cent a pound from 2½ cents. But the 1½-week duty-free period is eliminated.

Might Offer Broadcasters Inducements to Encourage More Live Canadian Talent

HAMILTON (CP)—Dr. Andrew Stewart said today the Board of Broadcast Governors hopes that permanent — not regulation—will bring about radio and television programming basically Canadian in content and character.

He suggested that the board might consider such inducements for private broadcasters as a lowering of licence fees or allowing greater advertising content to encourage more live Canadian programming on radio and TV.

But if the voluntary methods do not work, the board will have to do what some broadcasters suggest — establish formal programming standards by regulations, he said.

PREFERS FREE METHOD

Dr. Stewart strongly indicated, however, the board does not like the idea of such regulations.

"We would hope that it may be possible to avoid confining the dynamic broadcasting industry within closely defined inflexible regulations," the board chairman said in a luncheon address to the Hamilton Canadian Club.

His remarks were contained in a text of his address made available to the press before delivery.

Dr. Stewart said "precise regulations specifying the minimum acceptable Canadian content have never been drawn.

"There is the ever - present danger that minimum standards will become the norm. . . ."

LINKS COUNTRY

Broadcasting had to serve as a medium of communication between Canadians in all parts of the country, Dr. Stewart said.

"For this reason, the board would, in principle, favor the extension of networks which serve to link separate stations together, but will be concerned to ensure that they contribute to the objectives of the national system."

He defined the national objectives of Canadian broadcasting as "offering successful resistance to the absorption of Canada into the general cultural pattern of the United States, as a unifying and cohesive force bringing Canadians together in the sympathy and understanding, as contributing to the widespread appreciation and resolution of regional problems, narrowing the gap between city and country dwellers, as eliminating the isolation of Canadians in remote parts of the country and as providing a continuous opportunity for Canadian self - expression in the development of talent and the arts."

CHEAP RECORDS

Dr. Stewart said there are two reasons for the low Canadian content in the programs of some private stations, both of which were related to profit making. One was availability of much U.S. material, including recorded popular music which attracted large audiences and consequently heavy advertising revenue. The second was the low cost of imported recordings.

It was possible that by reliance and persuasion the board may achieve the results intended by the Broadcasting Act.

"On the other hand, this may be too much to expect," he said. "The opportunities for enlarged profits to be withdrawn from broadcasting services, offered by programming policies which contribute little or nothing to the national purposes, may prove irresistible to some operators of private stations and networks."

Remove Tariff On News Photos

OTTAWA (CP) — Tariff changes to permit imported news photographs, negatives and exposed film will be removed under a budget proposal by Finance Minister Fleming.

Proposed tariff changes he presented to the Commons included one for the elimination of a duty ranging from 15 to 30 per cent on the price of photographs, negatives and exposed film "for use only as news illustrations."

Regulations covering this change, if and when it is approved by Parliament, are to be set by the minister

Effective Dates Of Tax Changes

OTTAWA (CP) — Effective dates of tax, tariff and other changes in the federal budget:

Today — Higher taxes and duties on cigarets, cigars and spirits; tariff changes; sales tax increase for old age security.

July 1 — Tax increase on taxable personal income above $5,000; increase in old age security tax on individuals.

Jan. 1, 1960 — Increased corporation tax for old age security; general tax increase in corporation profits above $25,000; amounts paid by governments not to be claimed as deductions for medical expenses.

cautious approval to the budgets efforts towards this end.

John S. Proctor, president of the Imperial Bank of Canada, said it was a "sensible budget with a definite aim of decreasing the deficit.

The rye industry—long objecting to the special excise tax on automobiles — accepted the absence of any reduction in the tax with as much grace as possible.

Rhys M. Sale, president of Brewers Association of Canada, said: "In all the circumstances we couldn't expect much improvement this year. I dont think the budget is very far off base. I hope it does not put the brake on too much or delay re-employment of the unemployed, but only time will tell.

E. H. Walker, president of General Motors of Canada: "We are disappointed. We had hoped the budget would provide some relief from the 7% per cent excise tax on new automobiles. We appreciate the government's desire to maintain revenues; but we dont think the purchase of new automobiles—essential in the daily work of so many Canadians—should be penalized by a luxury tax. We look for the eventual complete elimination of the excise tax.

Lack of any reduction in excise taxes—which are applied to certain products in addition to the sales tax—also disappointed appliance dealers. Jardine, president-elect of the Ontario Retail Furniture Dealers Association, said his industry had been hoping for removal of the excise tax at least on such things as refrigerators and stoves.

FRUIT GROWERS HAPPY

The fruit and vegetable industry rejoiced at the increased protection given it.

M. M. Robinson, secretary-treasurer of the Ontario Fruit and Vegetable Growers Association, said the government had made every attempt to meet crease, "especially as we are overtaxed now.

R. E. Strobbe, a director of the fine-cured marketing board, said:

"The government is further burdening Canadian tobacco farmers because there will definitely be a decline in tobacco consumption. People will not pay the higher prices that will be necessary and I am very thankful that the tobacco board did not heed the companies request and the recommendation of the federal government that the growers produce 230,000,000 pounds of tobacco this year.

The decision that no tax reductions will be allowed on medical expenses paid by federal-provincial contributions was described as both expected and reasonable by several medical spokesmen.

BEER SLUMBER

But British Columbia Health Minister Eric Martin said removal of full hospital charges from income tax reductions was another financial blunder by the federal government, reaching deep into the taxpayers pocket.

Attorney - General Bonner of B.C., speaking in the absence of Premier Bennett, said the budget is "inflationary."

Robert V. Yole, president of B. F. Goodrich Canada Limited, Kitchener said recession recovery measures have received a setback. He said the disappointing feature of the budget is that more drastic action was not taken by the government to reduce federal spending.

Police Say 50¢ Tons Gravel Stolen

KITCHENER (CP)—Waterloo Township police are investigating the biggest theft in Twin City and district police history: 500 tons of gravel.

The gravel disappeared from a pit owned by the Warren Paving Company about a mile north of suburban Bridgeport sometime between Christmas and Thursday.

S. E. Davey, local manager of the paving firm, told police Thursday a big truck holding six tons would have to make 83 trips to dispose of the pile, worth $500.

Charge Mother Strangled Child

MONTREAL (CP)—An attractive 25-year-old mother was charged Thursday with murder in the strangling of her two-year-old son, Denis.

Mrs. Denise Meunier Daoust, a tiny blonde from suburban Ste. Geneviève, was ordered for preliminary inquiry April 16.

She was arraigned after a coroner's court jury held her criminally responsible for the death.

Evidence at the inquest was that the youngster was strangled Monday with a bathrobe cord.

numerous appeals in lower courts, it was decided the council should not have given the bylaw third and final reading until after it had been approved by the board.

WEEKS APPROVAL FIRST

The court ruled that a revision to the Municipal Act in 1941 brought zoning amendments under the section requiring the board to approve them before they are passed by council.

Queen's Park, noting the line of argument presented by Mr. Bondi's counsel, brought in legislation in March, 1958, which ensured that the practice followed thereafter was legal. It was not made retroactive.

Mr. Cumming said the Supreme Court ruling came "as a sort of surprise" and that the situation facing municipal councils is a difficult and unfortunate one.

"These amendments have become a very important form of protection to many people in this province. If it proves possible to drive a horse and wagon through them, the situation could become chaotic.

"One observation I would make, is that when an important statute is under attack in the highest court, it seems to me there is a moral obligation on the part of the province to take part in the proceedings.

"Little Scarborough was left to fight this alone and no matter how much the case may have meant to Mr. Bondi, it meant infinitely more to the municipalities of Ontario."

Greyhawk Mine Has Closed Down

PETERBOROUGH (CP)—The Greyhawk Uranium Mine near Bancroft 60 miles north of here, has closed down because of financial difficulties, company officials said Thursday. The mine laid off 52 men April 1.

A spokesman said the shutdown was due to a lack of funds to mine ore of acceptable grade.

China's Parliament to Meet To Elect Successor to Mao

PEIPING (Reuters) — Communist China's parliament meets here next week to elect a new head of state to succeed Mao Tse-tung against a background of continued fighting in Tibet between rebels and Chinese troops.

More than 1,200 deputies to parliament will gather in Peiping Friday for the first time since they were chosen in a general election last year.

A notable absentee will be the Dalai Lama, who in the previous congress was one of 12 vice-chairmen of the permanent standing committee that acts on behalf of the congress when it is not in session.

The Congress will also learn of progress being made in overhaul the controversial communes system.

The choice of Mao's successor is believed to have been decided at a meeting in Shanghai last week of the Communist party's central committee. The man it nominated is assured of approval by the congress.

Probable successors include: Marshal Chu Teh, 72-year-old vice-chairman of the republic and Mao's closest comrade-in-arms for 30 years;

Liu Shao Chi, Communist theoretician in his late fifties, and regarded as number two in the party hierarchy;

Chen Yun, 54, vice-premier, a financial and economic specialist.

Another name suggested was Madame Soong Ching Ling, 68, widow of Dr. Sun-yat-sen, founder of the first Chinese republic in 1911, and sister of Madame Chiang Kai-shek.

Still another theory is that the so-old Mao might not step down after all because of the difficulty of finding a suitable successor.

DOUKHOBORS DRIVE MOUNTIES FROM VILLAGE

Eggs, Rocks and Mud Thrown by Women

KRESTOVA, B. C. (CP)—Enraged Sons of Freedom Doukhobors Friday turned three RCMP officers seeking information about a new Freedomite school here and drove them from the mountain community with a barrage of eggs, rocks and mud.

The disorder apparently was started by women. One of them pummelled an officer with her fists. No arrests were made and police withdrew in their splat-bottomed cruiser. All was quiet Friday night.

The incident occurred when the officers were sent here to interview officials of the school, one of four recently opened by the turbulent Doukhobor minority sect. The RCMP apparently had been requested by the British Columbia government to obtain information on the institution.

ASK CHILDREN'S RETURN

The sect has asked that 100 Freedomite children be sent to a provincial government dormitory school at nearby New Denver instead of being forced to attend they attend the new schools.

Peter J. Verigin, 53, the commanding officer of the Nelson RCMP sub-division, said Friday he was not sure he would meet with the school committee before the Monday deadline. He refused to reveal the outcome of the meeting.

It was reported the officers interviewed Volodya Stepano, 40-year-old assistant in charge of instruction at one of the new schools.

The meeting with the school committee was reported to have taken place outside the school house with a crowd of about 150 Freedomites looking on. The barrage apparently started when one woman struck an officer with her hat.

CHILDREN SEIZED

The outbreak followed 10 days of meetings in the community concerning the new schools and the seizure by Welfare officials of two children who were taken to the New Denver school.

The two children are Sandra Perelkin, 12, and his brother Walter, 11, told police they had been attending the new school here. They said Stepano is teaching about 40 children the history of Russian in the school, set up in converted barracks.

Education has been chief cause of disorder among the Freedomites, a group totalling 2,000 of Canada's 20,000 Doukhobors.

The New Denver school was set up when the Freedomites permitted in their refusal to send children to school because they object to the Canadian educational system teaches militarism.

Anti-Red Chinese Fight Alongside Tibetan Rebels

Communist Spokesman Admits Revolt Seethes

TOKYO (AP)—Red China disclosed today that anti-Communist Chinese are fighting alongside Tibetan rebels and admitted the revolt was still seething in the Himalayan kingdom.

Peiping radio said the uprising had been crushed in the area of Lhasa, the Tibetan capital. Red troops are "now proceeding successfully to put down armed rebellion in other places."

The Chinese Nationalist government in Formosa said about 100,000 Tibetan nomads—sword-wielding Goloks—had joined the revolt in the north.

MANY ARMS SEIZED

The Peiping broadcast said the large quantity of arms seized in fighting that Tibetan rebels proved that they were helped by anti - Communist bandits who are fighting in the old Sikang province of China.

Sikang borders Tibet in the southwest along the Yangtze River—a wild, mountainous region with ranges surging sharply up to 18,000 feet and separated by canyon—like gorges.

The disclosure that the Sikang rebels — possibly remnants of Chiang Kai-shek's army on the mainland—were taking part in the Tibetan rebellion came in a report to the Chinese Communist newspaper Kuang Ming.

Chang Kuo-hua, one of the Red Chinese generals sent to subvert Tibet to communism, was quoted as saying: "Certain upstarts of reactionaries in Tibet are closely linked with the rebels in the former Sikang province."

FLED TO TIBET

Chang said the fugitive Dalai Lama's former government in Tibet "came out more and more blatantly to support, supply and help the rebels when fleeing from the remnant rebels from the former Sikang province fled to Tibet."

His report, as broadcast by Peiping radio, did not say when the Sikang rebels fled.

A recent ago Nationalist China's official Central Daily News of Taipei, Formosa, said 10,000 Chinese Communist troops revolted in Sikang province in March and joined the Khamba (Tibetan) rebels. The report was attributed to an unidentified source in Hong Kong.

Red China has replaced the Dalai Lama's government with Communist puppets, asserted the Peiping broadcast. It declared the Communist forces in Tibet had been ordered to "respect the customs and habits of the people . . . and protect the freedom of religious belief."

In New Delhi, Indian foreign ministry spokesman said the Dalai Lama is expected to reach Bombilla in northeast India Monday. The Dalai Lama, who is living with Buddhists, has stirred strong religious feelings in Asia against Red China.

Chang, in his broadcast report, attempted to quiet this mounting resentment. He declared that Chinese Communist forces in Tibet had been ordered to "respect the customs and habits of the people . . . and protect the freedom of religious belief."

WIDE ASIAN REACTION

The flight to India of the 23-year-old Dalai Lama, revered by Hindu and Buddhist as living Buddha," has stirred strong religious feelings in Asia against Red China.

Chang, in his broadcast report, attempted to quiet this mounting resentment. He declared that Chinese Communist forces in Tibet had been ordered to "respect the customs and habits of the people . . . and protect the freedom of religious belief."

India Declares Shooting Down of Bomber Over Pakistan Breach of International Law

NEW DELHI (Reuters)—India said today the shooting down of an Indian bomber in Pakistan Friday was "unwarranted and contrary to international law and custom."

Defence Minister V. K. Krishna Menon made this statement in Parliament shortly after Pakistani authorities officially identified the plane as an Indian Air Force Canberra twin-jet bomber.

Menon said the plane had obviously entered Pakistan's air space by mistake because of operational and navigational difficulties.

Earlier today, Prime Minister Nehru said the shooting was "a serious and distressing incident."

A Pakistani government spokesman said in Karachi that Menon said a protest would be made to India against unauthorized reconnaissance flights over Pakistan by two Indian bombers Friday.

One bomber, he said, turned back but the second was intercepted by a Sabre jet fighter and shot down after it ignored orders to land. The two crew members bailed out and suffered fractured legs, the spokesman said.

Menon said the Canberra carried no weapons and was taking aerial photographs of Indian territory in the states of Himachal Pradesh and Punjab, both near the border.

At the height the Canberra was flying, it was easy for it to make a navigational error.

The two injured crew members were being returned to India

LLOYD THINKS RUSSIA WANTS TO NEGOTIATE

Says Progress Made On Western Policy

BIRKENHEAD, England (Reuters)—Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd says the Western alliance has made "considerable progress" toward agreeing on how to handle negotiations with Russia.

In a speech prepared for a political meeting here Lloyd said Friday night he and Prime Minister Macmillan formed the impression during their Moscow talks last month that Russia wants to negotiate.

"That is also the wish of the West," he said.

Speaking of Western consultations for the East-West talks starting May 11 in Geneva, Lloyd said: "Of course, free partners do not work with one another on every single point of emphasis or details of tactics.

"That we are agreed upon the essential and will continue to be agreed there is in my view no doubt whatever."

Lloyd said Britain has four aims in the Geneva meeting—to strengthen Western Europe's freedom and the rights of West Berliners "to choose their own way of life," to seek progress toward German reunification and to set out whether ways can be found to reduce tension in Europe.

Devoting a large portion of his speech to praising West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, he expressed pleasure that Adenauer "scotched any idea" in a radio address Wednesday of any personal difference with Macmillan.

Ontario Cabinet Expected To Discuss Zoning Tangle

TORONTO (CP) — The Globe and Mail says the Ontario cabinet will hold a special session Monday to discuss the tangle of provincial bylaw amendments resulting from a recent Supreme Court of Canada ruling.

The ruling nullified thousands of amendments and repeals involving 1,000 bylaws between 1941 and March, 1958.

The newspaper says Premier Frost, counsel and the Supreme Court, ruling on a zoning case, declared invalid all amendments and repeals passed by Ontario municipalities that received third reading in council before going to the Ontario Municipal Board.

Under the Municipal Act, the court said, such amendments and repeals must be approved by the board prior to third and final reading.

The Globe and Mail quotes an official of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture as saying nothing less than a special session of the legislature would prevent a rash of "spot zoning" — conforming demands on every municipality in the province.

"Anyone can rush down and ask for a building permit now," the official was quoted. "And if they won't give him one, he can go to court and get a mandamus for issuance of a permit."

In Toronto, board of control held a special meeting and asked city council to approve again all city zoning regulations. The board then would ask the OMB to ratify the procedure.

Toronto Township stopped issuing building permits after it rezoned land. The township has passed 169 zoning amendments in the past five years.

The Ontario legislature, sitting in city council to approve again all zoning amendments, in March 1958 passed special legislation making the accepted practice of enacting such amendments valid thereafter. It did not make it retroactive, however.

Woman Didn't Answer Phone, Found Dead

TORONTO (CP) — Mrs. Catherine Didluke, 63, was found bludgeoned to death when her daughter investigated a report that her mother was not answering her door.

Police said Mrs. Didluke was murdered, killed by at least two hammer blows to the head.

The slaying was discovered Friday when a woman who wanted to employ Mrs. Didluke for house cleaning went to her east Toronto home. Unable to get an answer, she telephoned Mrs. Helen Sage, the daughter. Neighbors said they heard Mrs. Sage's screams when she discovered the body.

It was first believed by police that the woman was killed by hitting her head on the edge of a living-room cupboard. An autopsy, conducted by Dr. Chesley McLean showed her head was not killed by more than one blow and police said it was murder.

Federal Budget Seen as Effort To Grab Revenue

OTTAWA (CP) — Ontario Liberal Leader John Wintermeyer said Friday the federal budget was "a double - barrelled effort" to usurp possible provincial sources of revenue.

He said it limited severely opportunities for the provinces to exploit "the fantastic growth of income and corporate taxes" and it offered no hope of increased revenues for provinces to meet "certainly not this year."

Mr. Wintermeyer, in the capacity of address a Liberal nomination meeting in Ottawa East constituency, said Ontario Premier Frost will be "embarrassed no end" by the budget.

"In the budget there was no demonstration that the $100,000,000 Mr. Frost has been clamoring for will be paid," he said. "I think he is very embarrassed by this whole matter."

RUSH IN NEW GENERATOR

PELEE ISLAND, Ont. (CP)—A 30 - hour power blackout ended here Friday when a new diesel-powered generator was installed on the island. It replaced a similar electrical storm after midnight Thursday. The generator was brought from Toronto by Ontario Hydro.

Russia Says Nasser's Talk Of Kurd Volunteers False

LONDON (AP) — The Soviet Union today officially denied reports it is pouring fighters and armed Kurdish volunteers into Iraq.

The Soviet news agency Tass said it had been authorized to state the reports are "a complete invention."

Britain said Britain has four aims in the Geneva meeting—to strengthen Western Europe's freedom and the rights of West Berliners "to choose their own way of life," to seek progress toward German reunification and to set out whether ways can be found to reduce tension in Europe.

Devoting a large portion of his speech to praising West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, he expressed pleasure that Adenauer "scotched any idea" in a radio address Wednesday of any personal difference with Macmillan.

Egyptian newspapers reported earlier that the Grusia carried 455 fully-armed Kurds and suggested they were officers and men of the Soviet Army. Other Kurds, these newspapers said, were flown to Baghdad.

Nasser said Kurds aboard the Grusia were Iraqi citizens who fled their country in full to escape persecution under the monarchy.

MIGS DOWN IN

CAIRO (Reuters)— The Cairo newspaper Akhbar el Yom said today that Iraqi jet fighters flown by Russian pilots have arrived in Iraq to strengthen the Iraqi Air Force.

The newspaper said the removal of Iraqi Prime Minister Abdul Karim Kassem was imminent under a plan approved by Moscow.

Holiday Bill Wins Support But Talked Out

OTTAWA (CP) — Progressive Conservative MPs have expressed support for eight statutory holidays with pay for Canadian workers, provided the pay isn't too high.

That was their reaction in the Commons Friday to a bill sponsored by Colin Cameron (CCF—Burnaby - Coquitlam) who proposed eight paid statutory holidays for Canada, plus annual under federal labor jurisdiction with provision for two weeks' vacation with pay.

But, in a routine rate," said Ernest Broome (PC—Vancouver South).

The Liberal member took part in the inconclusive one-hour debate on the holidays bill that followed a short day's discussion of agriculture department estimates. Debate on the holiday bill was interrupted at the 5 p.m. adjournment, in effect killing the bill this session.

SEEKS EXPANSION

During the agriculture debate, CCF House Leader Hazen Argue proposed that the marketing principles behind the Canadian Wheat Board be extended to other farm products, including livestock.

He said establishment of a national agriculture products marketing board would bring stability to the sale of farm produce.

Mr. Argue said there has been evidence lately of western producers settling of a monopoly in egg boards.

Agriculture Minister Harkness said he has heard about an alleged "monopoly" in eggs, but Prairie co - operatives which handle eggs say they have asked the groups involved were apparently ignorant of the fact that the practices were against the law.

At another point in the debate, Mr. Harkness turned down eastern members' requests for a floor price under pulpwood from farmers' woodlots. He said such support prices in effect would be a subsidy to the large newsprint manufacturers "who don't need it."

Company Ups Fuel Prices

The company increased the wholesale price of all grades of gasoline by one cent a litre in Ontario. Diesel fuel prices were increased 1.10th of a cent.

The increases were uniform across Canada. They were made to reflect increased sales taxes announced in the recent federal government budget, the company said.

Labor Expert at College Suggests One Year off Work in Every Five

LOS ANGELES (AP) — How would you like to take a year off from your job and get paid to study?

A labor expert says it would "cut down the toll of pressure which makes mental ills one of the nation's women."

The proposal was advanced in an interview by Arthur Carstens, administrator of labor programs for the University of California, Los Angeles.

Leisure, says Carstens, should be distributed throughout a person's life—not concentrated in his youth and old age.

He proposes a system so that a person would be required to take off one year in every five or seven and spend the time in leisure or in study.

The proposal would be designed to encourage continuing education and moves from one type of work to another," Carstens says.

He suggests that the worker's salary during his year off be paid by the state and by his employer.

Who would take up the slack left by these sabbaticals?

Carstens says:

"We have bribed the old people (with pensions) to stay out of our way and have forced the young people out of the work market by keeping them in schools. We have packed all of a person's work into the middle third of his life."

Of the enforced retirement of older persons, Carstens says:

"How cruel to tell a man when to stop thinking!"

Woman Sentenced To Return Saint's Body to Venice In Keeping of Historic Promise

VATICAN CITY (Reuters) — A passenger train will puff out of the Vatican City railway station tonight for the first time in 30 years—to carry the body of a former pope, St. Pius X, back to Venice in fulfilment of an historic promise.

Since it was built 30 years ago, chiefly for use by royal or state visitors, the Vatican train has never been anything but a freight station.

Since it was built 30 years ago, chiefly for use by royal or state visitors. Air travel and cars have since made it unnecessary.

But the special seven-coach train bearing the saint's perfectly preserved body leaves today by personal decision of Pope John. Four canons will act as escort.

When Cardinal Giuseppe Sarto, patriarch of Venice, left the lagoon city in 1903 to attend the conclave that made him Pope Pius X, his last words to Venetians who saw him off at the station were: "I shall come back, alive or dead."

Pius X, the peasant pope, died in 1914 without ever leaving Rome again. Before he died, his stubborness was already a legend and hundreds of miniature Pius X statues attached to his intercession by the time he was canonized in 1954.

Now Pope John, another "peasant pope" and former patriarch of Venice, has decided that his predecessor's promise must be fulfilled.

The Venice Sunday the saint will be borne in his precious crystal-and-gold coffin in a solemn procession down the Grand Canal to land with full civic honors on the famous quayside of St. Mark's Square. He will lie in state inside St Mark's Cathedral for a month before the body is taken back to Rome.

Sheep Ends Life of Killer Fox

LONDON (Reuters)—A sheep that killed a fox in defence of her lamb's life has died in the garden of the flock of Somerset farmer Donald Comer.

Comer saw the fox creeping towards the lamb as it lay in a field Friday. He was too far away to help. But the sheep had seen the fox too—and charged. The fox was smashed into an earth bank and fell dead.

Comer said: "They seem when she crushed it against the bank," said farmer Comer.

Find Heat Lamp Killed Patient In Hospital Bed

TILLSONBURG (CP)—A faulty light socket in a heat lamp caused the electrocution death of 19-year-old Mrs. Cora Scruton in her hospital bed March 27, a coroner's jury ruled Friday night.

Mrs. Scruton, of the village of Vienna about 10 miles south of here, had given birth only two days before she died. The jury attached no blame to anyone in the fatality.

Testimony recounted how Mrs. Scruton received a fatal electric shock when she reached up to turn off the heat lamp, a heat lamp which had been placed in her bed short-circuited.

Thomas Harris, Ontario Hydro inspector in Tillsonburg, said he learned on examining the brass socket that it had been "defectively installed."

INSULATION LACKING

A Tillsonburg electrician, J. B. Carroll, told the jury if a piece of insulation had also been properly installed on the pull chain of the bed lamp the girl would have prevented the current from reaching the woman.

Nurse Margaret Richmond said she was in the semi-private room at the time of the accident. She said Mrs. Scruton turned on the heat lamp and gave a slight cry.

Miss Richmond said she first thought the young mother was injured when she discovered the clock when she touched her. She summoned Mrs. R. W. Rankin.

MD BOWLED OVER

Dr. Rankin testified he had bedsored Mrs. Scruton was having a seizure. But when he tried to take her pulse he received a shock which knocked him to the other bed in the room.

He said he did not know the heat lamp was in the bed until he tried to apply artificial respiration. Despite efforts of seconds, respiration attempts continued for two hours, he said.

Belleville Man Will Be Ordained on Sunday

REV. BERNARD O'NEILL

Reverend Bernard O'Neill will be ordained in St. Michael's Church here on Sunday at 4:00 p.m. The only priest to be ordained for the Archdiocese of Kingston this year, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. O'Neill of 62-34, Belleville.

The newly ordained priest will celebrate his first solemn Mass in St. Michael's Church on Sunday, April 19 at 9:30 a.m. The assistant priest at the Mass will be Rev. J.J.V. Buckley, pastor of St. Joseph's parish in which the O'Neill family reside. The deacon will be the newly -ordained priest's brother, Rev. Harold O'Neill of Brockville; and the subdeacon will be Rev. F. J. O'Neill of Stirling. The sermon will be delivered by Rev. W. J. 'Downey of Toronto.

Rev. Bernard O'Neill was born in May, 1932. His parents are both living. The other members of his family, besides his father, are his mother, one sister, Rev. Sister M. Marguerite of the Sisters of Providence, now teaching in Chesterville; three brothers: Joseph of Belleville; Harold of Toronto; and Paul, a student at St. Michael's College, Toronto, in his first year.

He attended St. Michael's Academy and High School here. Entering on his seminary course in 1952, he lived at St. Michael's Student Residence for three years and obtained his B.A. degree from the University of Toronto in 1955. He then transferred to St. Augustine's Seminary for theology, and in 1958 he obtained the Bachelor of Sacred Theology degree from the University of St. Michael's College.

60 Years in Nursing Profession Brings Blessing from Pope John

KINGSTON — A special blessing from the Holy Father was the highlight of the diamond jubilee celebration, for Sister Victoria Morton at Hotel Dieu Hospital last week. Msgr. E. M. Leacy, read the letter from Pope John, the Cardinal Secretary of State at the Solemn Mass in Hotel Dieu Chapel.

The cablegram, addressed to Archbishop O'Sullivan, read as follows:

OCCASION SIXTIETH ANNIVERSARY PROFESSION SISTER MORTON HOLY FATHER IMPARTS APOSTOLIC BLESSING JUBILARIAN COMMUNITY PATERNAL APOSTOLIC BLESSING ALSO CARDINAL TARDINI.

Msgr. Leacy extended congratulations to Sister Morton in the name of the Archbishop, and expressed those of Rev. Mother Nickle, QC, Minister of Planning and Development, a native of Kingston, for a beautiful chalice which he and Mrs. Nickle had presented to Sister Morton on the occasion.

Rt. Rev. J. P. Sullivan, DD, rector of the Cathedral and former chaplain of Hotel Dieu Hospital, preached the sermon. "It is with mixed emotions" he said, "that we assemble here to celebrate the diamond jubilee of Sister Morton; sadness, for all anniversaries remind us of the rapid march of time . . .; gladness, for after 60 years of religious life there can be no uncertainties and no regrets.

"Properly understood this is a happy occasion and we do not hesitate to congratulate Sister Morton on her long life in the community. She could have chosen another community but she could not have chosen a better one for engaged almost entirely in hospital work its members have a short cut to sanctity not available to all," Msgr. Sullivan said.

He spoke of three who had a special influence on her life: her aunt, Mother Lahey, who founded the hospital in Pokoo, Moosonee; her mother; and her sister, Sr. St. Michael, who next year will celebrate her diamond jubilee. "She was always the nurse-in-charge on the floor with her patients, caring for them herself when she was able, and always seeing that they got the best . . . When patients left her, their physical and spiritual charts were always marked 'improved'.

"Success of this it is now a fact that in the popular mind her name is more synonymous with the Kingston General Hospital of this institution than any other. Sixty years ago the Hotel Dieu, though well established, was just beginning to take its present shape. Unlike the worthy administrators who built the stone, she was never in a position that required her to call for a sketch plan. But she had an exceptional appreciation of the concept of personal service on which the religious hospital must be built, and she never departed from it. Following a trend that was unknown and was thought wise, she gave Sisters leave the bedside for various hospital departments and positions of administration, but she was never a part of it. And now right she was is now demonstrated by a recent resolution of those at the summit in Catholic Hospital affairs which would swing the pendulum back."

Msgr. Leacy was assisted at the Mass by Rev. G. Byrne, assistant chaplain of Hotel Dieu Hospital, deacon; and Rev. E. J. Keyes, Newman Club chaplain, sub-deacon. Among the clergy present were Msgr. H. J. Farrell, Perth; Msgr. J. G. Hanley, Kingston; V. Rev. L. B. Garvin, Belleville; V. Rev. J. Shannon, Prescott; V. Rev. C. E. Baker, Tweed; and over 20 diocesan and local priests.

Speaking at the dinner which followed, Hon. W. M. Nickle expressed the gratitude of Sister Morton to all who had attended the function. At the same time he extended the congratulations of the Government of Ontario to the jubilarian, and the Hotel Dieu Hospital and all the Sisters associated with it. He presented Sister Morton with a citation from the Ontario Government, which reads as follows:

PROVINCE OF ONTARIO TO THE REVEREND SISTER MORTON, HOTEL DIEU HOSPITAL, KINGSTON, ONTARIO.

MAY I EXTEND TO YOU ON BEHALF OF THE GOVERNMENT OF THE PROVINCE OF ONTARIO HEARTIEST CONGRATULATIONS ON YOUR SIXTIETH ANNIVERSARY AS A MEMBER OF YOUR ORDER AND THE WISH THAT YOU MAY ENJOY GOOD HEALTH AND HAPPINESS.

Indian Tribal Council Quits

MELFORT, Sask. (CP) — The entire tribal council of the James Smith reserve at Fort a la Corne has resigned, claiming members not allowed to exercise their authority under the Indian Act, it has been learned.

A letter of resignation has been forwarded to the minister of citizenship and immigration with a copy to W. D. Lenton, assistant Indian agent at the reserve. The resignation took effect April 8, but the reserve now is without a tribal government.

Last of Syrup Quickly Sold On Market Here

Cool weather did not seem to have any effect on the number of buyers at the Belleville building's outdoor market. Those handling maple syrup, however, the last of any amount, were soon led to have closed up early as their supply was sold out. Prices were steady, $1.80 a quart, $6.00 a gallon.

A variety of vegetables was available: turnips at $1.00 a bushel or 5 for 25 cents; potatoes at 40 cents a basket and $1.75 for 75 pounds; cabbages at 10 and 25 cents according to size; parsnips at 50 cents a basket and onions at the same price.

Apples were in good supply priced between $2.50 and $3.00 a hamper or from 60 to 80 cents a basket, depending on variety.

Eggs were priced at 50, 60 and 40 cents a dozen for extra large, large and medium respectively. Chickens were in very short supply this morning but were selling at a high price of 50 cents a pound.

A good selection of baked goods was available. Cookies sold at 30 to 35 cents a dozen; pies ranged from 25 cents for an open tart to 40 cents for a layer cake; at 55 cents apiece; pies were selling at 75 cents and doughnuts could be purchased at 40 cents a dozen. Home-baked bread sold at around 25 cents a loaf. The Canadian Girls in Training group from the Bridge Street Church had a baking display for raising funds for their projects.

Pets were obtainable as well this morning. Purebred Persian Cocker Spaniel puppies were on sale at $25 for females and $20 for males. For those preferring felines, six-week-old kittens could be had either for the buying or the asking.

High School Activities

BELLEVILLE COLLEGIATE

On Wednesday, May 19, at 11 a.m. the boys and girls of Grade XII will have an opportunity to listen to two speakers. Miss Doris Smith, Director of Nursing for the Belleville General Hospital, will be addressing the girls at this time on careers in nursing and Mr. W. St. Pierre, from the Bank of Commerce, will speak to the boys on "Opportunities in Banking."

During the next several weeks prominent men from local business and industry will visit the Grade XII occupational classes on Mondays, Tuesdays and Fridays to outline opportunities in a wide variety of careers. These speakers are provided through the courtesy of the Belleville Sales and Ad Club and are arranged for particularly by Mr. William Holway.

On Thursday, April 9, some 20 students from Grades XII and XIII who are planning to write Peterborough Teachers' College Senior Matriculation were interviewed at BCI & VS by a special selection committee from the College.

WRITE TESTS

This year the Department of Education has required that all Grade XII students of the general course throughout the province write a number of departmental tests. Two of these have already been written, one a 90-minute scholastic aptitude test consisting of a verbal part and a mathematical part, and the other a one-hour achievement test in the mechanics of English. In May all Grade XII students taking French will be required to write an achievement test in French.

One purpose of the tests is to determine the degree by which different schools in the province vary on the standards reached by the students of their Grade XII general courses.

After studying the findings from this year's testing the Department of Education will decide whether the future writing of such examinations will become standard procedure. The tests are being scored by the Department of Educational Research, Ontario College of Education, and the results will be returned to the schools in time for use in the recommendation and promotion meetings in June.

Twenty-six BCIVS Cadets scored 70 per cent or better on the RMC cadet competition. Two teams were entered, the first team had an average score of 96.1 and the second team had an average of 92.8. Cadet scores were as follows: D. Wilson 99, J. McMahon 99, D. Smith 97, R. Dulmage 97, W. Brooks 96, J. Davison 95, C. Box 95, D. Hallam 95, H. Wilson 94, A. Zwart 94, M. Wamboldt 94, L. Campbell 93, J. Peoples 93, D. Huffman 93, B. Yeome 92, D. Carr 92, B. Roberts 92, D. Rouxel 92, L. Seames 93, G. Lennox 93, T. Wright 92, J. Veitman 92, D. McMorie 91, J. Pearson 91, A. Alyea 90, F. Elliot 90. A total of 40 cadets fired this competition.

Coming Age of Automation Described to Civil Servants In Talk by J.C.R. Punchard

J. C. R. Punchard, manager of the Belleville Northern Electric plant, was the guest speaker at the annual banquet of the Belleville branch of the Civil Service Association of Ontario. Speaking on "Automation; Men and Machines," the University of Toronto graduate held the attention of his audience as he described the "second industrial revolution" which is almost upon us and the effect which it will have on man and his future.

Transferred back to the year 1765 when Watt and Roebuck perfected a steam engine, the speaker stated that this was the beginning of the first industrial revolution when man was able to substitute a machine for his muscles. As the mechanical age advanced, machines were perfected to the point where their performance was hindered only by the inefficiency of the men operating them. This was overcome to a slight degree by the introduction of automatic devices which could turn out products with a high degree of efficiency as long as an operator was on hand to check that the items being produced were up to specifications. If they were not, the operator of the machine would make the necessary adjustments.

Automation, according to the former professor engineer for research development Corporation during the Second World War, is the substitution of a device to replace the human operator. In short, an automated machine will check on the quality and specifications of the items it is manufacturing, or the work it is doing, and if there is a deviation it will correct this fault itself, faster and more efficiently than a human being could.

MAN BECAME MAN

Technology has advanced to the point where, in the development of various types of mechanisms, "it's possible to replace a man". Human beings are going to have to adjust up in order to keep up with the advances of technological progress, according to Mr. Punchard. Educational requirements will be raised and man will have to learn a specialized trade or skill in order to be of use in the coming industrial age.

There will be shorter working hours because of increased productivity; a higher standard of living and a higher level of cultural development will also come. There will also be a stepup in promotional activity and the consumer will be "drowned" by advertising, according to Mr. Punchard. With the introduction of this new era there is bound to be a temporary dislocation of industry and employment until man can adjust to the new conditions of his environment. The development of the automated era depends on the number of technical people who can be trained in the next few years.

The question facing our civilization is whether we can develop a culture where work is not the keystone of our social order. Man is going to have to get adjusted to the fact that machines can outperform him in many instances. The government department, the incentive plans, of industry are devices to try and overcome man's inferiority complex so that he may work more efficiently in factories. In the near future man will have to overcome this handicap himself, through a better education so that he can keep with the new age of automation.

PROVINCIAL PRESIDENT HERE

Mr. Punchard was introduced by Mr. Joe Demeza and thanked by Mr. R. Rackham. Mr. H. H. Vaughan, president of the local association, was the chairman for the meeting. A sing-song was conducted by Mr. Ken Graham, accompanied by Mr. D. Kramer, at the piano. A toast to the province was made by Mr. Ken Hall, president of the Civil Service Association of Ontario; it was responded to by Mr. L. Price, Civil Service Workings Ess. The chairman gave the toast to the Queen. Grace was led by Mr. A. J. Clare.

Special head table guests included Mrs. H. H. Vaughan, wife of the chairman; the guest speaker and Mrs. Punchard; Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Demeza; Mr. R. C. Harper; Mayor and Mrs. G. B. Hyde; Miss Ruth McMullin; Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Sandercock; Mr. and Mrs. L. Price; and Mr. and Mrs. N. Whitney.

Some 135 people were present with the Departments of Education, Attorney General, Highways, Lands and Forests, Agriculture, Reform and Jail, and Welfare being represented from all over this area.

Former Police Constable Pulls Tot From Excavation

A two-year-old boy was saved from possible drowning Friday in a flooded boulder excavation at the corner of Bleecker and Victoria Ave. by the combined action of the lad's playmate and an ex-city policeman.

Former constable William T. Evans noted that as he was driving past the corner early yesterday afternoon he noticed a boy of about five years of age wading desperately in a youngster lad part way into the excavation.

"I didn't learn the boys' names, but if I hadn't happened along I am quite sure the younger boy would have fallen into the excavation and possibly drowned," the ex-constable said.

Expresses Hope Ending Nuclear Bomb Tests

HAMILTON (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker expressed hope for agreement on ending nuclear bomb tests as he officially opened the Commonwealth's first university nuclear reactor Friday.

Speaking during the ceremony at McMaster University, he noted that negotiations for a test ban are to resume at Geneva Monday and said:

"All the world will trust that these negotiations will lead to a beneficial conclusion. It is not possible to overestimate the consequences of success."

McMaster's $2,000,000 reactor was built with grants from the federal government, the Ontario Hydro - Electric Power Commission and private industry. Canada has four other reactors at Chalk River.

Mr. Diefenbaker said the reactor demonstrates that "nothing hinders the enforced needs arising from Communist world politics" to devote substantial efforts in research and development in science for military defence, the search for human betterment is of paramount importance.

"Full utilization of nuclear advances was being hampered by military secrecy required by the cold war.

Disarmament was at "an imperative objective," he said. It would not only remove distrust and fear but would set free information and materials which were locked in the arsenals of East and West.

LUCKY JOHN

TAUNTON, England (Reuters) Lucky John Temperman, 48, happily paid a 10-shilling ($1.40) fine for stoking a 180-foot church spire while drunk. "When Temperman came down," a policeman told the court, "he was unable to stand without assistance."

Boosters Honor McFarlands At Well-Attended Reception

The McFarlands Booster Club wound up a second triumphant season in a blaze of ballroom glory last night.

Upwards of 350 members and guests honored the world champion Macs hockey club at a reception and dance held at the Club Commodore.

Tangible and other tributes were paid to the players by boosters club officials and others, while the club itself received many well-deserved pats on the figurative back.

Highlight of the evening was the presentation to the world champions of handsome walnut tables engraved with their names and their achievement in winning the world amateur hockey crown.

The presentations were made by booster president Armand Duffy assisted by boosters Jim Ward and Jim Matthews. Scrolls of achievement were presented to members of the executive.

—President Duffy and past-president Dick Beare were the surprised recipients of engraved silver trays, as were Geo. E. Carver of the Ontario Intelligencer and Jack Devine of CJBQ. Jim Ward made the presentations.

Appreciative tribute was paid by 'Snipe' Matthews to the Commodores orchestra which donated its services for the ball. Sid Smith, Dick Ellis, the Florists Association for donations of flowers and merchants who contributed gifts for dance and door prizes.

STICK PRESENTED

Another highlight was the presentation of a "jewelled" hockey stick to Mayor Harvey J. McFarland of Picton, by Rom Keel, well known city jeweller. The stick was covered with brilliants while the tribute to the Macs build with stones of contrasting color.

Expressing his appreciation of the gift, the popular chief magistrate of the Prince Edward County town also paid fine tribute to the team and the Booster Club.

"The boys formed the best hockey club in the world and they thoroughly deserved their fine victory overseas. But they could not have done it without the all-out admirable support given them by the finest booster club in the world."

MAYOR PAYS TRIBUTE

Mayor Gerald Hyde expressed the sincere appreciation of a grateful city for the outstanding efforts contributed by the Boosters to the city in its support of the world champions. "It did a magnificent job, and we of the city are exceedingly grateful for what it did," he said.

Playing coach Ike Hildebrand expressed the appreciation of the players for the fine job done by the Boosters. "It was well worth my while to commute from Peterborough all winter to help the Macs win the title, but we could not have done it without the support of Mr. Duffy's club. I am exceedingly grateful for what they did and I voice the feelings of the club when I say thanks from the bottom of my heart."

Earlier in the evening Mrs. Hildebrand, who saw the world tournament overseas, was presented with a bouquet of beautiful roses.

Captain Floyd Crawford echoed his coach's sentiments when he really appreciate what the Boosters did for us. It is something we shall never forget," he said.

Other verbal tributes were paid by Manager Drury Denyes and assistant manager Billy Reay.

Booster President Duffy paid outstanding tribute to the members of his executive, past presidents Dick Beare and the rank and file of his club. "This has been, and is, the best booster club in the world. It was not a one-man club and I cannot pay too much tribute to the hard working members of the executive and others who gave us so much help with the various projects. But the team made all our efforts worth while when it came home from Europe with the world championship tucked away."

Past president Beare spoke for a moment. "The executive and members did an outstanding job which proved [illegible] and Duffy," he said. "They should be proud of the fact they raised $10,000 or $15,000 necessary to send the boys overseas. And I speak for the club when I say we are proud of the job done by Mayor Hyde and the city in raising a memorable. The Booster Club will go on and be bigger and better than ever next year."

Harry (Senator Claghorne) Rollins was in excellent voice as he paid tribute to the work done by the two presidents of the club.

Excellent buffet refreshments rounded out another banner social function of the Boosters.

Board Will Study Dispute Dairy, Employees

TRENTON — An arbitration board will sit in Trenton at the town hall at 10 p.m. on April 26 to consider the dispute between management of the Riverside Dairy and the Local 647 of the Milk Drivers and Dairy Employee Union, it was announced Saturday.

The union local is affiliated with the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Warehousemen and Helpers of America.

The arbitration board will decide on the union request that the cheesemakers and buttermakers be included as part of the bargaining unit. The union is also asking terms for renewing the collective contract which is believed to include wage increases along with several fringe benefits.

Preliminary talks between the dairy and the union broke down following the union's demand over the cheese and butter makers and the union asked for conciliation services. The dairy then brought an application to have the matter put before the Labor Relations Board in Toronto.

The decision of the Labor Relations Board has since been issued and it considered to be in favor of the dairy and not include the cheese and buttermakers.

The conciliation officer, J. D. Speranza of the Department of Labor in Toronto was unable to resolve the problem and suggested that an arbitration board be formed.

The Riverside Dairy Products Limited chose F. L. Ward, Q. C., of Picton as their representative on the board and the union named Melrose S. Kerr of Toronto.

Both parties were unable to agree on a third member for the board and the Minister of Labor appointed W. H. Clark of Windsor to fill the post and he later set April 22 as the date for the arbitration meeting.

Salesmen Will Use Facilities Hockey Arena

TRENTON — A brief meeting of the Community Centre Board of Thursday night in the board rooms and it was decided the facilities would be put at the disposition be offered for rental to salesmen who wished a sample line of their goods available to the town merchants.

The matter was brought to the attention of the board by member Cliff Baker who said he felt it was a good idea to capitalize the rink during the summer and winter months. The board rooms in the auditorium will be of-

The members of the board were told that at present there is none of these facilities available to salesmen in Trenton at the present time and they have been setting up in Belleville and then enticing the local merchants to the city.

The board consulted Cliff Baker to pursue the matter further and try and make it generally known among the salesman circles that this space in the rink is now available for such purposes.

The manager's report was presented by Jack Devine, acting manager was unable to be present because of a bout with the flu. He stated that they were busy removing the ice from the rink surface and the concession would be all out by this weekend or early next week. He also reported that an extra man is being employed to get the roller skates ready for use when the season opens.

It was also decided by the board to accept the loan of a large mural offered by the local branch of the Canadian Legion for to place on the wall of the auditorium. A letter of acceptance will be sent to the president of the Legion Branch.

A representative of the Trenton Kinsmen club addressed the board concerning the fun fair that is planning soon on the parking lot in front of the Community Centre.

Present at the meeting were: Chairman John Farrell, Cliff Baker, Alin McDonald, Council-lor Howard Aziz, D. R. "Nick" Fraser and Norm Banfield.

Maynooth Man Killed by Rock In Faraday Mine

BANCROFT — George Edwin Heinz of Maynooth was killed in the Faraday uranium mine, four miles southwest of here, on Friday, when a 10-ton rock fell on him from the roof of an excavation at the 400-foot level.

Mr. Heinze, a young man around 20, was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Heinze of Maynooth and had lived in that district all his life.

Mine officials said Heinze had been working with Mario Ghio, 35, on an ore stushing machine, but moved about 100 feet away to drill in an excavation. Ghio, repairing a cable on the machine, went to look for Heinze and found him pinned under the rock.

Heinze's father, cage-tender at the mine, brought his son's body to the surface.

Heinze was unmarried.

An inquest has been ordered but no date set.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE WEEK

Chamber of Commerce Week starts tomorrow -- Belleville and in over 750 other cities, towns and ages across Canada, from Joey Smallwood's rocky main of Newfoundland to Wac Bennett's principality British Columbia. It always amazes us, when sidering any organization of national scope, that nadians, who in so many ways lead vastly different es, under widely varying laws, should so frequently d causes in common. Perhaps it is more than norally surprising that this should be so with Chambers Commerce and Boards of Trade, since much of their terest is local or regional in character, and in many ids they are rivals of each other. It is therefore ubly heartening to realize that these groups have cognized that basically their aims are identical, that matter how much economic conditions may differ, between Newfoundland and British Columbia for ample, there are certain fundamentals which hold ue throughout the land.

"The Chamber of Commerce movement in Canada ds for good citizenship, good government and good siness" states the April newsletter issued by the nadian Chamber of Commerce. We like, too, its cture of Canada today "gathering her resources for other assault upon the future."

Here in Belleville the Chamber of Commerce has long and honorable history of service to the city, to e surrounding district and, through its association h similar bodies in other cities, to the province and the nation as a whole. To this well-known group public spirited Belleville citizens something new has st been added, in the person of the new secretary-anager, Robert Post, who arrived in this city the first the month. First reaction may be that Mr. Post s to take a corner to get his knowledge of our comnity, but second thoughts suggest that it is through st such eyes as this that we need to look at ourselves, nce in our efforts to expand and prosper we are conually endeavoring to interest newcomers to Belle- in the city's many attractions and advantages. s therefore asked Mr. Post for his first impressions Belleville" was his first word, thereby supporting the thenticity of the slogan long familiar here, "Belle- the Friendly City." To this he added his con- ction that Belleville ought to be an ideal place for anufacturers to locate, because it is so situated that nade's two largest markets, Toronto and Montreal, th both be reached, thanks to our excellent ail and highway connections. Since he will serve industrial commissioner, as well as secretary-man- er of the Chamber of Commerce, he must also have en delighted to find there is in Belleville "an intelli- ent, stable working force."

With that we shall leave Mr. Post and the local hamber of Commerce and consider briefly the Cham- r's role on the national scene. In the interests of good business" the Canadian Chamber of Commerce able to speak with authority and to present to gov- nments the views and needs of industrialists, busi- ssmen and professional men. Nor should this be garded as intellectual; it serves only these classes, ce the prosperity of all of us depends upon the aintenance of conditions which permit the continued pansion of business and a steady growth in production meet the needs of a growing population.

LET'S DO THIS RIGHT

A bunch of rocket wizards down in California have vented a new water jet engine which they say will ve boats and ships at almost incredible speeds.

An impeller, described as "something like a lawn prinkler" will whirl at a terrific speed, driving the oat forward by spraying water into the air behind it.

It seems like the a waste of a great invention to estrict the uses of this new engine to watercraft.

We realize that an adequate water supply might rove a problem in any attempt to adapt it for use on and, but this is just the sort of a challenge which ventors should welcome.

Imagine the wealth that awaits the man who can t this new water jet engine on a lawn mower, which ill cut the grass and water the lawn at the same me.

Or, even more sensational, a new model auto which ill flush the streets clean as it speeds on its way. hat Canadian city would not welcome such models ome the dirty old springtime?

MAPLE SYRUP TIME

By EDGAR A. GUEST

The sap will soon be running,
Soon the country kids will
And the farmers soon will go gambol
With their axes and their kettles
Round the kettle as it boils,
To the woods to get the flow.
And tell all about their fill of sweet.
Soon the syrup and the sugar
While the kind old farmer
Will be coming in once
bails
More
Soon I'll sigh for maple syrup
Like I used to get of old,
Soon the "almost-sure" and
But I'll only get the "near-
"near-sure" sure"
That the grocer's clerk has
Will be handed out the store.

Holiday Cruise To Historic Caribbean

By G. A. MORTON

ARTICLE 7

The next morning Mrs. M. and I received an invitation from Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mostle to accompany them on a trip to the home of Mrs. Mostle's niece in the Ocho Rios district on the north coast of Jamaica about an hour's sixty miles north of our present port of call. The drive would be a delightful one, for it would take us close friends, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Scott, were to have gone along but as Mrs. Scott was indisposed they had to turn down what turned out to be the outstanding day of our visit to Jamaica.

A friend of Mr. Mostle's, Mr. Ron Halsey, who is one of the senior officers in the Kingston branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, had arranged to have the bank's car and driver take the party of four and himself over to Ocho Rios. Mr. Helwig, a native of Jamaica, has spent some time in the bank's service in Canada and still has many happy memories of his Canadian associates, particularly in Montreal. He also likes our winters. He preferred to be cheerfully informative and we are deeply indebted to him and our hosts for their courtesy.

The highway we took runs west from the city on the flat plains at the base of the mountains, then follows the Rio Cobre River as it narrows down between the river and the foot of the steep hills. Here, in the dry season, the river is shallow but in the wet season some years it can be a raging torrent. We could feel deep and engulfing the highway.

Soon the roadway starts its ascent over many miles winding up through hills and we reach Port Antonio but not quite so bad. Many spectacular views succeed one another making the journey an interesting one.

BAUXITE INDUSTRY

Here in Alumina we have to digress from our tour for a moment . . . Deep in a valley one of the plants of Aluminium Canada Ltd., a subsidiary of Aluminium Ltd., has been built to serve the considerable waste material, or about three to four million tons cute shipping costs.

Alumina Jamaica also has a huge loading facility at Port Esquivel on the south coast of Jamaica west of Kingston. It is of considerable interest to our readers to learn that the Aluminium Company of Canada, manufacturing Company of Belleville is responsible for designing the conveyor system for loading freighters with alumina from Jamaica to Canada by means of belting into aluminium metal. The Belleville plant is capable of handling over 600 tons per hour directly into the ship's holds.

It is interesting also that Aluminium Ltd., and its subsidiary have spent over $10,000,000 to date in Jamaica to assist bauxite properties to increase production. Besides this, they have the company to explore and develop bauxite mining on the island.

It began 1 April when a property owner noticed that vegetation was dying on that part of his property. He had the good sense to have the subsoil tested. Bauxite yielded and the company pumped millions of dollars into development in the country and which it sorely needs.

By research and considerable cost the company's engineers have done much to improve beef and dairy cattle and better agricultural practices for increasing grass for grazing and grapefruit from citrus groves. This fine work is a continuing project.

The highway reaches an altitude of around 2,400 feet and then precipitously changes to grazing land with considerable numbers of cattle in evidence, mostly of cattle. Dividing the land into fields of varying sizes are stone fences which were built by the Spaniards during their occupation. The fences are in excellent condition. The stones were fitted into place by men of considerable experience who has withstood the three hundred or more years with hardly a break to be seen anywhere.

About three or four miles from the coast the road turns toward the shore through a narrow gully or gorge. The sides of the gorge are lined with ferns much like the ones we see in greenhouses at home. It is a fine rant with a woody aroma and as trees and the high Belleville way is used as a perpetual shadow it is always cool and pleasant. This section of the highway is known as Fern Gully and is one of the "musts" to be seen by tourists.

Passing through Ocho Rios with its many fine winter resort hotels the car followed a narrow country road for several miles until we turned off into the driveway of the ranch owned by Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Solomon of Lodge, Jamaica. As we mentioned above Mrs. Schleifer (Miriam) Solomon, is the first trip of the aunt and uncle to Jamaica so it was a real treat for the whole family.

The ranch house, over two hundred years old, is located on a high hill overlooking many miles of countryside including some of the mountains of Ocho Rios. Flowering shrubs and trees surround the lovely old home and on a terrace below the level of the house is a handsome swimming pool backed by a wall partly covered with a flowering vine.

The Schleifers have a young daughter, Linda, and son, Donald who quite captivated the guests. Another son is away at private school.

Mrs. Schleifer loves her life in her adopted country, but does miss seeing members of her family or infrequently as every other year. Her husband has spent all his life in Jamaica mostly in the area where his home is located.

To be continued Monday.

He Was Easy To Remember

Windsor Star

There is a queer thing about acquaintances and even friends. Some whom you have long known and love, may move away, or die, and really not be missed much if at all. Others always will be remembered.

What is it that makes us remember some and forget others so quickly? It is something in the character of former which leaves a deep and lasting impression; a permanent affection.

This thought came since the news of the death of a friend far away. He was one with whom we never had met, but who intensely associated, what association there was being limited to a couple of periods of a few years each. We have attempted to analyze why we always have remembered him but have forgotten that since of others whom we knew better and liked perhaps equally.

It must be because this chap possessed an unusually happy disposition. He enjoyed life and helped others enjoy it. He was generous in spirit and deed. He found it very difficult to be nasty or mean, even when there was justification. He enjoyed his work and was excellent at it.

In some mysterious way he had contributed something, emanating from his own personality, to those around him, so much so they just can forget him.

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

The college president who recently referred to the possibility that fluoride in the drinking water might have the effect of subduing the masses of the people by reducing their fertility belongs to an old tradition. My grandma, half a century ago, would not allow pepper passed on the house because she had a notion that pepper contained without something in, like opium, so that people would not be persuaded to "toughies" canned goods instead of attending to their own preserving and getting a good old-fashioned way. I must say also that something in her preserves to addict us, because no other ever tasted so good.

But the fluorides don't do it by no means the only one now disturbing large areas of the public. There is not only the widespread anxiety over fallout from nuclear explosions, but there are also newspapers carry fairly excited accounts of the destruction of birds by the heavy use of insecticides, especially in the corn growing states, where immense acreages are dosed so heavily with DDT and other chemicals that biologists are alarmed over the mortality of birds and the ultimate relationship to the general balance and economy of the land.

To question science is to invite the accusation that you are an anti-intellectual. Scientists are not necessarily intellectuals. Most of those I have met were the most ignorant and un-intellectual of men, except in their own specialty. When we see the chemists versus the biologists in a good fight, it is fun for the intellectuals, and the referees.

HIGH I. Q. TESTS DON'T INSURE SUCCESS IN LIFE

Today's comments probably are about something many people when they talk about "extension of remarks". That is, things that didn't get into the speech, but got printed afterward in the Congressional Record.

Or will I get mixed up in my civics? Could be.

However, I offered some remarks concerning I.Q. tests and "Intelligence quotients" — and I gather that what I said is receiving reasonable agreement from many readers. Perhaps more on such things, only I may not have gone quite far enough.

I'll say this much, that all different tests being used, and even the best of them, are not infallible with any great exactness the "intelligence" of an individual.

James Conant, Harvard, one of America's most successful newspaper editors, has said that a good and a pretty unsuccessful one at that, until in his 40's he made the New York Times, also a world-famous paper.

How do you measure it? How do you predict? How do you calculate the values of courage, inspiration, imagination, human understanding, "common sense or "uncommon sense?

Besides, I understand that there's a good deal of discussion now over the matter of how big large a factor luck plays in success — but how often can you reduce "intelligence" to a yes or no?

HUMAN ELEMENT ENTERS

And if the answers to questions depend on "human" interpretation and judgment, who's to say what answer is "right" or "best"? Twenty years ago, a question had posed this sort of an examination: "Communism is the smallest particle of matter"?

Then was a day that the "right" answer would have been "True". Today the correct answer is "False".

As I hear things, today there is a good deal of discussion over what tests should be used to select students for admission to college. Sometimes a brilliant mind blooms late. Sometimes an unconventional mind develops genius things in a truer light.

Certainly I'm not trying to say that I.Q. tests should be discarded or disregarded, but I'm wondering if they are not all the sole measure of what makes a good or useful or successful person.

Don't sell your child short because he isn't at the top of the class in some particular phase of grading, whether an I.Q. test or a succession of entry examinations. And don't think he has success assured, without effort, because he has been graded as getting all A's or a high rating.

Success, large, the pupils with good grades and high I.Q.'s will be successful in the other things they do. But they won't all be successful, and all the successful people in life won't be from that group.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Can one get stones or gall bladder attacks after having the gall bladder removed? — M. V. B."

Yes, but it doesn't happen often. The stones that form in gall bladder is merely a reservoir for a reserve supply of bile made by and passed into the liver. After removal of the gall bladder, the bile flows directly from the liver to the intestines. A small amount may still have a gall stone — but not, strictly speaking, a gall bladder attack, although it will have the same effect.

Deseronto Days 1919-1932

Written expressly for The Ontario Intelligencer

by HARRY M. MOORE

ARTICLE 11

There was a time when, as a result of The Post's front-page attack on Ontario Hydro, we must appear before the board in Toronto to explain our charges. However we were not to go alone — we had with us James F. Hill, M.L.A., East Hastings; Reeve E. C. Metcalfe, Dr. H. A. Boyce and C. H. Mastin. At the time the board was headed by the late C. A. Magrath and members of the commission were former Toronto Mayor Alfred McGuire and the Hon. Robert Cook, M.L.A, for North Hastings.

Mr. Gahy was the chief engineer of hydro in those days and he led off by reading our attack on Hydro, concluding with the assertion that if Deseronto was still getting its power from the old Seymour Power Company it was because that company had nothing to do with the matter and Mr. Magrath was to concur to the extent that he old his chief engineer as he was had with the Seymour Power Company had nothing to do with the matter before the board. As we recall it, Mr. Gahy sat down promptly and was not heard from again. But we were to be heard. Mr. Magrath demanded that we tell our story.

First of all Hydro rates in Deseronto had substantially gone up and all because of the failure of the town clerk to have the old contract renewed on time. This is the matter we had objected to on the front page of our paper.

MAIDEN SPEECH

Anyway we were on our feet making our maiden speech. Mr. Magrath had explained that he should not be overly difficult to secure industry, despite the small town aspect, and went to draw from us the explanation that with a wealth of industry around the town how would it be possible to pull industry away from it? Mr. Hill made mention of the suggestion that the town might be set back and selected by the farmers of the area, we pointed out that we were not sufficiently populated with a large enough market to make any success of it.

But what we believe turned the trick was our spoken belief that hydro had too large a plant, too large a staff and a rate which had gone down in population from 4,500 to less than 2,000. We were to assert that the power line from the west came within a mile of the town, but a short extra line, and that at the other end of the line, thirty miles east, electricity was selling for much less than Deseronto was being asked to pay.

We will say this much, the Hydro board gave us a splendid hearing. They ordered a short intermission the while the chairman and Messrs. McGuire and Cook got their heads together. After considerable discussion, Mr. Magrath announced that Hydro would send a man to Deseronto and if he found that what we had said was true, the town would benefit.

We heard no more of it. We had done what we could, we had not taken back one word we had said about Hydro but the unfairness in jumping on the town because of a clerical mistake.

Hydro indeed sent an inspector to town, an inspector who apparently was to find no complications just as we had stated they were; an overmanned power station, more equipment than was now needed; the short span from the main line north of town, the fact that at the end, and without any additional spur to keep up, Hydro was losing much cheaper, even though the distance the power must travel was at least thirty miles longer than if it had come from Belleville.

BILL A SURPRISE

We don't know when the inspector came to town to look things over, but we do know this much that our next Hydro bill issued from the Napanee office was in the nature of a big surprise, possibly the lowest Hydro bill we had ever received.

What it is today we have no way of knowing, but it strikes us that if it is not what it should be, then it is up to the town to send representatives to Toronto to abolish the situation, to ask for a better rate. Even our experience, we would say the Ontario Hydro Commission is a reasonable body and in no way unapproachable.

Strength for The Day

DR. EARL L. DOUGLASS

START FROM WHERE YOU ARE

Immanuel Kant lived and died without ever having travelled any further than you and I race across the countryside of his native Germany. Jesus of Nazareth was never more than a hundred miles or so away from the place where He was born. Not one person in a thousand in the olden days ever got hardly out of sight of the homestead where living or died.

Eastern seaboard of the United States saw their daughters married and their sons go away to set up homes to take up farms a hundred or two hundred miles away, they realized that they would never see their daughter again.

Yet think of the achievements of these men by the lives of those who scarcely moved away from their own doorsteps. Today we can settle down in a jet plane at a reasonable time in the evening and look out the window the next morning as we circle about Rome.

Everything tells us that with the wonderful privileges we have today we ought to be producing great men. Yet the men who were really great men who caused generations to think their thoughts after them, the men of great poems, thrilling plays, stirring novels, and music which enthralled the soul, were of these people lived and died without ever leaving the town or beyond their village or their city limits.

All the life we can live is at hand where we are. We can shake the world from where we are standing. We can turn the world upside down without leaving our study, farm, workshop or office.

HISTORIC BELLEVILLE

(Article 75 contributed by members of the Hastings County Historical Society)

THE FENIANS

As we noted last week, the years following the 1837 Rebellion in Upper Canada were fairly quiet ones for the Belleville militia.

Only in the 1860's was the relative calm upset, first by the fear that Canada might become embroiled in the American Civil War, and second by the Fenian Raids.

The first threat resulted in the formation of the 15th Battalion of the Argyll Light Infantry, while the second saw both the 15th and its parent organization, the 1st Hastings (Belleville) Rifles, called out to defend their country.

The Fenian Raids, which began in 1866 and continued intermittently for the next five years, were the product of Irish animosity towards Great Britain. The Fenians were Irish-Americans who hoped to strike a blow for the freedom of Ireland (then under British rule) by invading the British colony of Canada and "liberating" it.

In 1865, the Fenians began to gather along the Canadian border and to make plans for the invasion. It was boasted that close to fifteen million dollars had been raised to equip the invasion army, which was to number close to 30,000 men.

This striking force was to be employed at three points, with attacks being made across the Niagara peninsula, at Kingston and at Cobourg. Some 5,000 men were expected to cross from Rochester to Cobourg.

Once these forces had secured the Grand Trunk Railway, the Fenians planned to build navies on lakes Huron, Erie and Ontario; and then move their 30,000 man army against Montreal and Quebec.

By November, 1865, the Canadian Government had awakened to the seriousness of the threat, and several volunteer militia companies were called out for the Frontier Service at Prescott, Niagara, Sarnia, Windsor and Sandwich.

The Regiment assigned to guard the Windsor - Sandwich border was made up of the Brockville Rifle Company and the First Belleville Rifle Company (organized in 1856), the latter being under the command of Capt. Charles G. Leyiscomte, Lt. James Brown, and Ensign Mackenzie Bowell.

The Belleville and Brockville Rifle Companies spent their time at Amherstburg in constant drill, and by "maintenance of strict discipline and close attention to the duties required of them, they became very efficient". Then, after five months of service on the American frontier, the regiment was relieved on May 4, 1866, and the men returned to Belleville and Brockville.

Four weeks later, "General" O'Neil led "a horde of Fenians" into Canada, crossing the Niagara frontier and capturing Fort Erie. The Fenian Raids had begun.

In spite of the Fenian withdrawal into the U.S. after only three days on Canadian soil, the threat of renewed attack remained. Accordingly the Canadian Government issued a general call to arms.

A Belleville newspaperman described the day preceding the call to arms as one of "the most intensely exciting days that this city has known". In the evening, vast crowds paraded the streets, singing patriotic songs and cheering for Queen Victoria, the Empire and Canada.

A Lift For Living

Standing In Our Own Way

By DR. RALPH W. SOCKMAN

When a man stands in his own way he often blames others for blocking his path. He may say that he never had a fair chance, that his family doesn't understand him, or that he caught a bad system. There may be some validity in some of his alibis, but basically his trouble is with himself and his biggest task is to get out of his own way.

For one thing, when a person stands in his own way he blocks the way to his own understanding of himself. We are not always our real selves. We frequently admit this in our daily conversation. We say, "I am not myself today" or, "He was not really himself when he did that." We establish a character and personality by which we are recognized. And sometimes we do not conform to that character.

In the story of the Prodigal Son, the record is that when the wayward boy in the far country "came to himself" he said, "I will arise and go to my father." The lad had to spend himself in sensual living that he was not himself. We may cease to be our real selves through sinful indulgence, through impulsive anger, through the pretenses which we put on, like an actor's makeup. Sometimes we fail to be ourselves because we fail to live too much within ourselves.

LOOK AT OURSELVES

And so the Lenten urge to get us out of our own way so we can look ourselves for what we are? For one thing, God would have us get off and take a good look at ourselves. When we are straining to look out for ourselves, our gaze is focused on the externals around us rather than on the resources within us. Hence a person needs occasionally to be an outsider to himself. A hardy old sea captain once said that the most nerve-stirring experience he knew was to go off in some solitary place and call out his own name loudly three times. Try it some time and see for yourself. To stand in solitary darkness and shout one's own name, perhaps hear the echo — there's an eerie effect to it. It gives a sense of one's isolation in the surrounding vastness.

But even to look at ourselves under the eye of God is not enough. If we would really see ourselves, we must look away from ourselves. That is the divine paradox Jesus drove home so repeatedly. "He that loseth himself for my sake shall find himself." On my desk is the picture of a little 2-year-old girl. She did not know her picture was being taken. That is what helps to make it such a good picture. She was looking at the photographer, utterly unconscious of herself. And so her real self shines through her eyes.

OPEN YOUR WINDOWS

Watch a boy engrossed in reading a book. His face shows that he is living in new scenes. He has gotten outside, his ordinary self. That is what reading does for us who are older. Books open new worlds. Good books help us to keep company with the great minds of all ages and distant places. I am glad that America is now stimulating its National Library Week to encourage wider and better reading. More good books would mean larger mental outlooks — and fewer nervous breakdowns.

And along with looking away from ourselves, we need to lose our egos in something bigger than ourselves. My beautiful home town of Mt. Vernon, Ohio, was hit by the January floods. As I read of the devastation in Ohio, I recalled something that Norman Cousins' wrote a couple of years ago when his Connecticut home region was ravaged by floods. He went out to see and help his neighbors in their efforts to stem the flood. He was struck by "the way they looked as they worked during the storm." He said: "Something was coming through you didn't have to confess and it had an electric quality to it. They had been made necessary in the lives of their friends and they were acting on it and it had given them satisfaction and warmth."

Our real selves do come out when something big opens the barriers of our self-centeredness.

Jaunty Jumper

By VERA WINSTON

The jumper dress, always crisp and effective, is nicely handled here, the fabric a lightweight wool large in black. It is trimmed with black silk braid binding and they set buttons. With it is worn a black - dotted white silk blouse with a twisted draped neckline. Without the blouse the jumper can be worn as a casual little dinner dress.

35,000-Mile World Tour Costs $1,400

NANAIMO, B.C. (CP) — Dorcella Richmond, 21, has returned to her home here after a 35,000-mile world tour costing less than $1,400.

Beginning in June, 1958, the trip took her to the Far East and Europe and she had $30 left of the $1,400 she started with when she returned here.

She spent three weeks in Singapore before boarding another cargo ship which took her to Ceylon, Aden and through the Suez Canal.

Two thirds of her time was spent travelling around Europe on a budget of $5 cents a day. She saw England, Scotland, Holland, North Germany, Denmark, Belgium, France, Italy, Switzerland, France and Italy.

In London she took two jobs to help finance visits to shows and show places.

"It wasn't all riding in Europe", she said. "There were many miles to walk between lifts."

W. W. Club Views Film On Dewline

The April meeting of the Welcome Wagon Club was held on Wednesday evening in St. Thomas parish house with president Mrs. L. K. MacTavish presiding.

Reports were given by the secretary, Mrs. J. Denton and treasurer, Mrs. C. Cameron.

Plans were finalized for a white supper to be held next month for members and their husbands. A discussion took place concerning a rummage or bake sale to be held at a later date.

President MacTavish introduced the guest for the evening, Mr. J. G. McDermid, of Bell Telephone Co., who showed a most interesting and educational film on the "DEW Line Story".

During a period of 32 months a land conqueror of ice and snow and inhabited only by moose, bear and caribou, nearly forgotten relic of defence, but a most comfortable home away from home for the many men who made up the staff on the DEW line site.

Mrs. H. Scott thanked Mr. Flanigan on behalf of the club for a most enjoyable evening and presented him with a small gift in appreciation.

Mrs. Scott donated a delicious angel food cake for the "Dutch Auction" and this was won by Mrs. G. McDermid.

The meeting was adjoured and refreshments were served.

Ottawa Woman Has Collected 500 Salt and Pepper Shakers

OTTAWA (CP) — When you have a collection of 250 pairs of salt and pepper shakers, dusting is a problem.

But nothing hasn't dampened Mrs. Arthur Pritchard's enthusiasm for her hobby, started more than two years ago.

With family, relatives and friends all helping to make the collection grow, this housewife probably couldn't stop her hobby if she wanted to.

"Once in a while I get tired of it all, but my husband won't hear of ending it," she told a reporter.

The wife of a trucker and mother of five children ranging in age from eight to 15, Mrs. Pritchard said she always has been fascinated by salt and pepper shakers.

As a result, the walls of her living room are lined with all sizes and shapes of shakers—a colorful array that includes miniature animals, vegetables, flowers, and even make-believe electrical appliances.

When you turn a knob on a tiny television set, for instance, out pops the seasonings. There's even a miniature power lawn mower that turns out salt and pepper.

So far, most of the fast-growing collection has come from Canada and the United States.

Now the Ottawa housewife, a native of Granville, Que., hopes to get material to add to her collection from foreign countries. She already has a pair of Dutch shoe shakers from Holland.

No matter where the shakers come from, there's room for all, not to use.

"Besides," said the collector, "I haven't got the money to fill them all."

"Nor Lose the Common Touch"

By Alma Mason

Happy the man who can rub shoulders with those in high places, who can walk in lovely places and still keep his spiritual equilibrium and his steadfast belief in God and man.

Those elevated to high positions in our human affairs often find it difficult to "keep the common touch." Often they wish to forget their humble beginnings. How foolish they are. Remembering lowly birth and simple unadorned heritage stabilizes exalted position. When false pride enters the human heart one loses the respect of one's associates and personal fortitude of character is undermined.

The truly great and noble life never despises the cottage where it was reared, the little red schoolhouse and the modest kindly friends of earlier days. Revering humble origin makes the crown of success easier to wear and cushions the golden throne where the mighty sit.

This thought brings into clear focus the words of Kipling — "If you can talk with crowds and keep your virtue or walk with kings nor lose the common touch . . ."

The wonderful Salvation Army missionary Matilda Thatcher walked with kings. She also mingled with the most degraded members of society.

She was born and raised on a humble English farm. She became a sister of mercy in the London slums. She endured blasphemy and the foulest of curses. Day after day and night after night she battled to save the bodies and souls of the lowest strata of human society. Evil smelling garbage was hurled at her. Her body was continually bruised and cut with stones thrown at her. She was often hospitalized. She learned to know and understand, to tolerate and forgive and love the poor creatures all about her who existed in squalor and filth and vice.

Her garments were soiled but her heart remained clean and pure with her devout Christian faith. She led hundreds of converts to the altar of penitence. Had she lived as a stranger in their midst this could not have happened. She suffered with them and for them in the most dreadful dens of iniquity the world has ever known. She walked with cowbds but kept her virtue.

After a lifetime of missionary service in China and Japan — she was often honored by those in high places. She never lost the common touch. Of humble origin, the benefactor and deliverer of thousands of waifs and girls, champion of the children of darkness, she rose to all in the seats of the mighty. With the lowly and the great alike she relished her consecrated piety and her holy devotion to the cause of God's kingdom.

A miner had risen up from the ranks to become manager of the mines. With wealth and position his wife changed. He soon forgot his former companions. His wife and daughter cultivated the friendship of those with influence and social prestige.

As Christmas approached his wife issued invitations to various eminent friends.

As Christmas morning dawned a terrific storm swept the mountains and battered the home of the manager of the mines. His wife and daughter bewailed the fact that they would be forced to spend a lonely Christmas without their illustrious guests.

Suddenly the door burst open and a man —half frozen fell headlong into the room. He was a miner and a former friend of the manager of the mine. He announced a group of his companions were lost in the storm. He and the manager of the mine braved the storm and went to search for them. They found them huddled together not far away, their faces covered with ice and their hands and feet frozen with frost bite.

After first aid had been given, Mrs. McPherson, the manager wife, said to her husband "These are our Christmas guests of honor."

By two o'clock there sat around the McPherson table the most astonishing circle of guests that had ever assembled. Among the eleven men there was a Swede, several Italians, a Greek, a Russian Jew, a Spaniard, a Finn and a Negro.

Andrew McPherson looked at these men with mingled emotions. A great compassion suddenly surged into his heart. He had lived with—worked with them and struggled among them all his life, but he had never actually loved them before.

The words of Thomas A. Kempis seered a little reproachful trail across his mind — "He is truly great that is little in himself and that maketh no account of any height of dignities. He thought of the beauty and holiness of the words of the Bible — "I would rather be a doorkeeper in the house of the Lord than sit in the seats of the mighty."

To walk with kings in castles tall,
Yet glimpse the valleys green;
To sit in seats with mighty men,
Yet not disdain the mean.

To grasp Fame's warm elusive hand,
Yet dwell in thought and deed
With folks who trudge a humble path,
Who know a simple creed.

This is the prayer of noble men,
The hope of seer and sage;
The open door to Heaven's Gate;
Our Godly heritage.

The Zarfas Duo To Sing Here

Beginning Sunday, April 12, Dr. and Mrs. Fred Zarfas will conduct "The Open Door Crusade" at the Alliance Tabernacle, continuing nightly.

Mrs. Zarfas, the former Charlotte Copeland, scottish-born lyric soprano, known as the "Scottish Nightingale," spent many years on the concert-stage, and radio. Her operatic recitals were featured in Scotland, England, Canada and the United States. Converted in 1939, she immediately cancelled all engagements in order to consecrate her talent, to the Lord.

Dr. Fred Zarfas, ThB.; F.R.G.S. British-born author, evangelist, and Bible expositor, has a refreshing and challenging approach to preaching that is informative and inspirational His ministry is an independent of all denominational committees.

Following a continent-wide tour of the United States and Canada, they will merge their ministries into a unique presentation of the Gospel in word, song and music at the Alliance Tabernacle to which both the congregation and unchurched are cordially invited.

Going Places

This Will Help You Determine How Much Vacation Will Cost

By SHIRLEY and BOB SLOANE

A problem we studiously avoid tackling in this space, though it is high on the list of sad and sore the old knot, "how much is it all going to cost me?"

Then you realize how many places to go there are, how many ways of going and how many different classes of comfort in which to indulge, not to mention the duration of any given holiday, you can understand that this is a matter best left to set encyclopedias than a column or two.

All we can do is help you figure it out for yourself, and the obvious place to begin is with how much you have to spend. There are a few hidden gimmicks in this.

The typical vacationer begins with his two or three weeks vacation pay. Then he must ask himself (a) how much of that is earmarked for other obligations and (b) how much, if any, shall I take out of savings?

While you're away some of your household expenses are eliminated. The unmarried must, without your business, you turn off the heat, hot water and utilities (though you may save nothing on the phone bill for disconnections of less than a month), and you don't have to worry about commuting costs to work and lunches.

Unless you are leaving the children home or going somewhere in which event you'll have to add to the list (as well as continuation of the above costs) you can apply these savings to your spending money.

But you'll have to put aside your usual amounts for rent or mortgage, car payments and other expenditures whose beneficiaries don't care whether you're home or not.

VACATION CLUB

Thus far the distance your vacation pay will take you doesn't sound very great, so if you belong to a vacation club or have been putting aside a weekly sum throughout the year, you're in better shape than your less provident neighbors.

If your trip is by car the best thing to do is estimate the number of miles you'll drive. Divide this by your car's average miles per gallon and multiply by the average cost per gallon of gasoline.

For each 1,000 or 2,000 miles add $1.50 for lubrication and whatever you normally pay for an oil change, and you'll have an idea of your transportation costs to deduct from your available funds. Better throw in an arbitrary figure for repairs, depending on how good condition you believe your car to be in.

Your other basic costs are accommodations and food and here we get into how well you like to live. But for the average family, decent hotel or motel room for two costs about $8, for three $10, for four $12, and for five or six $15 plus, in many places, two to five per cent state or provincial tax. If you stay at hotels, you may have to pay anything from 25 cents to $2.50 a night for parking.

Unless you're making a gastronomic tour, two adults should be able to eat for $10 a day plus about $4 for a child, depending on age and capacity, which in teenagers can be formidable and in infants negligible.

At this point you ought to stop and multiply your daily basic costs by the number of vacation days, add them to your anticipated car costs and take a deep breath because we haven't gotten to the reason for your vacation yet, unless it's just to drive, eat and sleep away from home.

If you're visiting parks, museums or whatever, there are many excellent sources of information about what these charge. Your library can help you and so can your auto club.

TIPS AND INCIDENTALS

Pick a number from one to 100 to cover tips, tolls and incidentals (laundry, snacks, drinks, unscheduled attractions) and you'll finally have an idea of the extent of your vacation expenses.

If your trip will be by public transportation the first thing to do is get in touch with your local travel agent and have him work out your entire itinerary from your travel agent or carrier. It will be more than the car expense of an auto trip, so better hold it there and deduct from what you feel you can reasonably afford for the entire holiday.

Divide what's left by the number of days you plan to be away and you can reach a sensible conclusion about the quality of hotels and restaurants you can afford to patronize. If the sum is such that only flop houses and greasy spoons could accommodate you, you'd be wise to halve the length of your vacation and double your enjoyment with better living conditions.

Depending, again, on whether you plan to rough it in the woods or live it up in Europe's grand hotels, average nontransportation expenses ought to be divided about three equal ways among room, food and amusement (the latter generally a bigger item in ocnauto trips). This approximation is an awfully rough one, but it should give you a starting point in solving your own whatwill-it-all-cost problem.

COOKING HINT

Parsnips are said to be sweeter and more palatable if cooked whole, until soft.

Trapped in Reich During War, Cobourg Woman Writing Book

COBOURG, Ont. (AP) — A woman who was born in England, became a German citizen through marriage and later regained her British nationality, now is a happy resident in Canada.

Mrs. Alwine Franke, the mother of three sons, recently wrote a London newspaper telling of the hospitality she has received here, particularly from neighbor Aylmer Harnden.

Her letter, which appeared in the Daily Sketch under the headline What'd Do This For A Hun, read in part:

"It's been a particularly hard winter and my husband, who has to begin a 40-mile journey to work every morning at 5:30, found it almost impossible to start his car with temperatures below zero.

"But our neighbor (Mr. Harnden) has been standing there with cables ready to boost our car battery from his own car.

"I wonder how many people would voluntarily leave a warm bed at 5:30 a.m. according to face biting wind and snow to help a neighbor?"

MARRIED IN GERMANY

Mrs. Franke married a German while visiting in Germany just before the outbreak of the Second World War and was not allowed to return to England. Her husband was killed in action early in the war and she was left to bring up their two children, Michael, now 17, and Christopher, now 15.

After living in Leipzig and Berlin Mrs. Franke went to Steisslingen near the Swiss border and remained there until liberated by the French. In 1946 she and the boys, though suffering from malnutrition, began the trek back to England. They were able to get occasional rides with passing vehicles but most of the trip was done on foot.

Mrs. Franke, her two children and Mr. Franke, whom she married in 1947, later became naturalized British subjects. The Frankes now have another son, Hobin, 8.

She is writing a book detailing her experiences on the trek to England from Germany.

A native of England, she married a German national, later regained her British citizenship and now is a resident of Canada. THE FAMILY COUNCIL

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Family Council consists of a judge, a psychiatrist, three clergymen, a newspaper editor, a women's editor and two writers. Each article is a summary of an actual case history. The Council reports on problems that have been dealt with by responsible agencies and ordinary people.

Alfred A. — I have been an all-round cad.

Carol A. — I am willing to fight to save our marriage.

Alfred A. — How far does a man's responsibility toward his wife go if he never really chose her in the first place?

My wife, Carol, can't deny that she was after me — I should say she and my mother. My mother picked her and kept egging Carol on. I kept telling them both I wasn't in love, but they said never mind — everything would work out for the best anyway. Carol even said that she'd release me if things didn't work out.

We have been married a year and "things didn't work out." I am deeply in love with another girl. I have been unfaithful. In fact, I must admit I have been an all-round cad as far as Carol is concerned. Yet she wants to give our marriage "another chance." This makes me lose all respect for her.

Carol A. — I see now that it was very wrong to chase Al the way I did. If a man doesn't care for you it is a mistake to try to fight it. But I was very much in love and Al's mother convinced me that I was doing the right thing. We would so very much like for each other. Our interests are the same. Our background is very similar. We have the same goals.

Our first year of marriage has been a nightmare in some ways. Yes I learned a lot. I have been at fault in many ways. Marriage isn't a smoothly paved road. You have to learn to make a success of it. I'm willing to do more than my share.

People think I'm either a saint or crazy. I'm not either — unless being in love makes you a little of both.

The Council: Love and effort will go a long way, but even these have their limitations.

In marriage, one partner's willingness to do "more than my share" may be a hindrance rather than a help to success. If anything calls for smooth teamwork this enterprise does. Carol must recognize that in a sense pull on her side will probably upset the cart — not make it go.

Alfred wants to know how far his responsibilities go. A better question might be what sort of responsibility he himself has. His romance with "the other woman" is little more than the struggle of an animal in a trap.

The moment Alfred recognizes that he was as responsible for creating this trap as his mother and Carol, he will begin to grow up. He was a free agent. He chose the path of least resistance. He failed to exercise the basic privilege of not being really responsible for his own life. He is much happier ahead for Carol if she insists upon getting a full load for this marriage, and we don't see any happiness for Alfred in continuing to humself out of his Peter Pan dream. He should recognize that his present "affair" is little more than that.

GOOD MANNERS

By Mrs. Beeckman

CORRECT: "REQUEST THE HONOUR OF YOUR PRESENCE"

Our daughter is to be married in our home in June. Although we have attended societies of our church, as are her father and I, she has always wanted to have her wedding at home. We have a large, comfortable house, and fortunately it will be possible to have quite a number of guests.

The bride-to-be wishes to send formal, engraved invitations, and we are troubled about the wording. That is, for a house-wedding invitation, should the second line read "request the honour of your presence" or, because the ceremony is not to take place in church, "the pleasure of your company" — Sr.

The invitations to a house wedding should be worded exactly as are invitations to a wedding in church — except, of course, that the address of the house is substituted for the address of the church.

And, because the invitation is to a religious ceremony, the second line should read: "request the honor of your presence."

I, I was always under the impression that every bridal attendant bought the dress of the bridal party as a gift. My daughter is planning a flower girl at a wedding, and now I find that I have to pay for this being a gift. Is this correct?

A. Also my daughter, instead of wearing a hat as the bridesmaid did, wore a band of flowers around her head. Who pays for this? Mother.

I. It is definitely not a "must" that the bride's parents or the bride give anyone any photograph of the wedding or of the bridal party. If they wish to and can afford to, they make this generous gesture. But if they don't, you may get in touch with the photographer who will undoubtedly sell you any individual prints you wish to order.

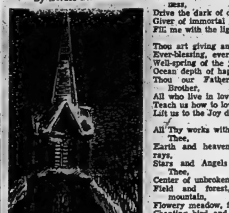
2. Since it is the bride's family's responsibility to supply the flowers for the members of the bridal party, they usually also pay for the flowers any attendant, such as the flower girl, wears on her head, such as a floral band or wreath.

ALWAYS GREET THE HOSTESS FIRST

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

I have never been to a large formal reception, but now I've just received an invitation to one "in honor of" a very close friend of mine who will be visiting the hostess. The guest of honor was my roommate in college. I've met the hostess only on , and then very casually, and it's as yet I've being invited because of my close friendship with the guest of honor. (She probably asked that I be invited.)

One question is bothering me: When I arrive at the reception, should I go first to greet my friend (the guest of honor), or the hostess first, even though I know her so slightly? — G. H.



It is extremely important that you first greet your hostess. . . . this is the courtesy always due the hostess on any occasion. Then you greet the guest of honor. And this rule holds true no matter how well or how slightly you know the hostess, or how much better you know the guest of honor than you know the hostess. As a matter of fact, you will probably find the hostess standing first, to greet her guests, with the guest of honor at her right.

Stories of Famous Hymns

By Horace B. Powell

This is a very popular hymn, both for choir processionals and for congregational singing.

It was written in 1907 by Dr. Henry Van Dyke, revered American churchman and man of letters. Dr. van Dyke was visiting at the time at Williams College where he had been invited for a preaching mission. According to a story told by his son, he came down to breakfast one morning, placed a manuscript on the table before the president of the College, and said:

"Here is a hymn for you. Your mountains were my inspiration.

"JOYFUL, JOYFUL, WE ADORE THEE"

Joyful, joyful, we adore Thee,
God of glory, God of love;
Hearts unfold like flowers before Thee,
Opening to the sun above.
Melt the clouds of sin and sadness;
Drive the dark of doubt away;
Giver of immortal gladness,
Fill me with the light of day.

Thou art giving and forgiving,
Ever-blessing, ever blest,
Well-spring of the joy of living,
Ocean depth of happy rest!
Thou our Father, Christ our Brother,
All who live in love are Thine;
Teach us how to love each other,
Lift us to the Joy divine.

All Thy works with joy surround Thee,
Earth and heaven reflect Thy rays,
Stars and Angels sing around Thee,
Center of unbroken praise.
Field and forest, vale and mountain,
Flowery meadow, flashing sea,
Chanting bird and flowing fountain,
Call us to rejoice in Thee.

Mortals, join the happy chorus
Which the morning stars began;
Father love is reigning o'er us,
Brother love binds man to man.
Ever-singing, march we onward,
Victors in the midst of strife,
Joyful music leads us Sun-ward,
In the triumph song of life.

It must be sung to the music of Beethoven's "Hymn To Joy".

The "Hymn To Joy" tune, taken from Ludwig van Beethoven's Ninth Symphony, was arranged as a hymn tune many years earlier by an English musician, Edward Hodges. Mr. Hodges, a native of Bristol, England, came to America and to New York in 1839 to serve for more than 20 years as a distinguished organist, first at St. John's Episcopal Chapel and then at Trinity Church.

Dr. van Dyke was a statesman and a church leader as well as a writer. He was graduated from Princeton Theological Seminary in 1877 and was ordained to the ministry in 1879. Almost immediately, he began a pastorate at the United Congregational Church in Newport, Rhode Island. Four years later, in 1883, he accepted a call from the famous Brick Presbyterian Church in New York. In the years that followed, he became widely known for his sermons. He was moderator of the Presbyterian Church in the USA in 1902 and in 1913 he was appointed by President Woodrow Wilson to serve as United States minister to the Netherlands and Luxemburg. He wrote many books along the way including the popular "Little Rivers".

QUESTION:

Would you please send any recipes you have for meat or chicken pies or other main dishes that are suitable for freezing. You had a column some time ago giving some of these recipes but I neglected to clip them as I had no freezer at the time. I have the Dept. of Agriculture book "Frozen Foods" which has been very helpful but any further information you could send about freezer foods would be greatly appreciated . . Mrs. T.G.

ANSWER:

I am mailing to you a copy of the release for February 5-57 in which I gave the method for freezing meat pies. I am giving you some new directions I have for freezing fruit pies. Many steps will apply to freezing meat and chicken pies made according to your own method. Do you have the 1958 edition of publication 893 entitled "Freezing Foods," Consumer Section, Marketing Service, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa?

FREEZING FRUIT PIES:

Pies are more like the fresh product when baked after freezing. The pies are prepared as they would be for baking, except that air vents are not cut in the top until after the pie is removed from the freezer. Fresh Fruits make the best pies. Pre-pare berry, cherry, and rhubarb pies as usual. Light fruits that darken, such as apples and peaches, must be treated to prevent browning. Add 2 tablespoons of lemon juice to the fruit for each pie, or dip the fruit into a solution made from 1 teaspoon of ascorbic acid (vitamin C) and 1 pint of water. Make pie and freeze. Grease pies and meringues do not freeze satisfactorily. Special precautions must be taken to avoid a soggy lower crust. The crust should be rolled thin. Brush the bottom and sides of Th. lower crust may be better before adding the filling. Paper pie plates with metal rims are satisfactory. Glass or metal pie plates may be used if desired. The lower crust may be better if the baking is started in the lower part of the oven for the first 10 to 15 minutes. The pie is then placed higher in the oven. Both baked and unbaked pies freeze faster when unwrapped. They are also easier to wrap after freezing. Keep the pie level while freezing. Before wrapping, place another paper pie plate over the top to protect the crust. Wrap in moisture-vapor-proof material, and protect with stockinette, heavy paper or a paper box. When ready to bake a frozen pie, cut vents in the top crust. Start baking the pie while it is still frozen. Bake in hot oven (450 deg. F.) for 15 to 20 minutes, and then at 350 deg. until golden brown. Or the pie may be baked at a constant temperature of 400 deg. Fahr. for the length of time necessary to brown the crust and cook the fruit. Follow any precautions you have found necessary in baking a fresh pie in your oven.

Second Glance

By Viva Richmond Graham

"By my old beard, and every hair that's on't . . . " — Shakespeare's "All's Well That Ends Well."

"For as long as hair grows on men's heads and it is the fashion to cut it, a barber (man or woman) has a profession for life," said the wife of a barber the other day.

She is also the mother of a barber. "My son decided that he, too, would follow in the footsteps of his father. In this day and age, he says, it is one occupation whereby a man may be independent and be "his own boss."

Later we spoke with a local barber who said, "Our customers never make an appointment."

This is a direct contrast with the custom adopted by a women's hairdressing establishmen, "Oh, I have to go to the hairdresser's today. My appointment is at four, so I won't be able to make it. So sorry."

The barber continued, "No, our clients come on regular days which they find most convenient for them during the week. They just come in and await their turn. Sometimes they wait longer than on other days, but they usually wait.

"Nor do our customers go in for 'fancy' lotions. We have used the same hair lotion with its same bouquet fragrance for years.

"Yes, there's a barbering school in Toronto, and men from Belleville go there also. But most men won't take two years to learn the trade, which is under the OBA regulations, really. Most of us, here, stick to the old apprenticeship system. Go in with an experienced man who will show you, teach you and give you first-hand experience. And you are ready to take customers on your own in about three months' time.

SHAVE TAKES LONGER

"Soon you get so you can count on fifteen minutes for a hair cut and about half an hour for a shave.

"It always takes longer to give a shave. We usually give it using a straight razor. No reason, exactly. Just seems to give a better shave, sharper cleaner.

"Yes, you might say a razor is a barber's tool in trade. You get accustomed to one and it becomes a favorite which you reach for. I've used the razor I have for the last eight years."

To thwart the enemy from grasping his men by their beards to drag them away, it is said that Alexander the Great introduced the razor in military circles.

Thus from that day to this, strict attention is given a soldier's tonsorial appearance.

For example. According to the Queen's Regulations and Orders, a service man may have his hair cut as short as he wants to, but it must not be over a certain regulation length.

And during Louis XV's reign . . . well!

A sneak-preview of a French encampment, just before a battle took on the appearance of a huge fair. Especially where the officers were concerned.

Each and every officer brought almost a regular small army of his own. Along with his every whim, valets, hairdressers, grooms and valets were always included his pressers, barbers and coiffeurs.

The latter would set up shop right in front of his officer's tent. Armed with a curling tong, which was worn along with his sword, he would delicate an hour to the arduous curling and frizzing the locks of his master's hair.

Was this important? Very. For unless an officer was properly frizzed and carefully "coiffured" his manliness was questionable.

Believigneite: "They can be regular little devils," sighed an older woman, as she watched a young mother struggle with three small boys on the bus, trying to keep them still. I'm one of their voice, "and makes me think of my son, when he was a boy. I used to wonder what would become of him when he grew up; he was so difficult to manage sometimes . . . "

She stopped, shook her head, and slowly smiled as she added: "But, now he is grown up. I wish you could see him. I often think, he couldn't be nicer!"

Women's Activities

HOLLOWAY ST. W.M.S.

Although the weather was inclement and many ill the Holloway St. W.M.S. met as usual on Tuesday afternoon in the church parlor. Quite a number of ladies attended.

The theme was "The Hope of a Warless World," and was ably handled by Mrs. Welbourn. The hymns, prayers and Bible readings were based on the same theme. Mrs. D. Cooke and Mrs. Sinfield assisted Mrs. Welbourn with Bible reading and prayer.

Mrs. Welbourn drew illustrations from both old and new Testaments to stress the theme. It was a challenging thought-provoking message culminating in the thought that God really asks us to "do justly love mercy and walk humbly before Him."

The offering was received and dedicated by Mrs. McNary and Mrs. VanAlstine.

Miss Batherwick sang a beautiful solo.

The study book was taken by Mesdames Bertrand, McNary, Killburn, Holmes and Coulter. The study was on Mexico, discussing respectively Indians, education, agriculture, and evangelism.

Pictures were shown on Mexico after the study period. In the absence of the president, Mrs. T. F. Wood took the chair as vice-president. Mrs. O. Bertrand, presided.

During the business session, the various reports were heard and plans were made for the future.

A committee was formed to plan the tea which is being held in June, in the church parlors. All enjoyed a social time and a cup of tea.

Your Car

Get Your Car Ready to Meet Summer Heat

By EUGENE MILMOE

Again it's time to shape up the car for the pleasure-driving months ahead. Among other things, this means revitalizing the cooling system for some rough service. Basically, here's how to tackle the job.

Start by draining off the anti-freeze, then flush and refill with fresh water, adding 4 rust inhibitor and sealer. Don't replace the thermostat until you've double-checked its operation. Clean off the muck and dirt from the radiator pressure cap and have your service station use a pressure tester to make sure it's in good working order.

Don't forget the radiator hose and connections — especially the lower one. Inspect the fan belt for wear, breaks, too much or too little slack. Check the side radiator core, too. Leaves, dirt, bugs, etc., will block the cooling air and make a great difference.

J. W. asks: "I've heard that oil for some reason or other is more miscible in cooled by water from the engine radiator. How can it be?"

(A) The transmission oil is cooled by being pumped through a small radiator built into the bottom of the regular cooling system radiator.

S. L. writes: "My car has over 28,000 miles on it. I think the shock absorbers are shot and wonder if I'll ruin anything by riding on them for a while longer until I'm ready for repairs on new ones."

(A) You'll be ruining riding comfort, endangering springs, wearing away tires more rapidly and raising gas consumption.

From M. P.: "I've tried practically everything but can't find out why my engine misses when I accelerate. My wife claims she also hears a snapping noise at times. Could these troubles be related?"

(A) They may be. Check the high tension cables (to plugs and coil) for cracked insulation or poor terminal connections.

J. A. asks: "This past winter, my 1956 sedan never heated up more than 140 degrees and I finally assumed the thermostat was defective. This week I had the thermostat pulled out and it works accurately. What else would be keeping the engine so cool?"

A) Is the right pressure cap on your radiator? One operating at lower pressures than your system calls for, or a non-pressure type cap can prevent normal heating of the coolant.

Eskimo May Be Appointed Member of Governing Body Of Northwest Territories

By ARCH MACKENZIE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP) — Serious consideration is being given to the possible appointment of an Eskimo to the Northwest Territories Council—the legislative body expected to evolve some day to the status of a provincial government.

Several Eskimos are being considered by the department of northern affairs, it is learned. If named, the Eskimo would be one of the five members appointed to the nine-man council. Four are elected and Gordon Robertson, deputy minister of northern affairs, is the territorial commissioner.

However, some senior officials of the department are known to feel that putting an Eskimo on the council would be asking too much too soon from him.

SELECTION DIFFICULT

They list these objections:

The Eskimo lacks the political experience which would simplify the selection of a respected representative. Politicos lacking in gain their positions by performance and wield no authority.

A man who after 10 years may still not be chosen are not publicly proficient in English to conduct council affairs.

Finally, the white man's reflection in council — concerning traffic regulations, complicated legal legislation, commerces or mining — would put an unfair burden on the comprehension of a man who after 10 years may still not be chosen are not publicly proficient in English to conduct council affairs.

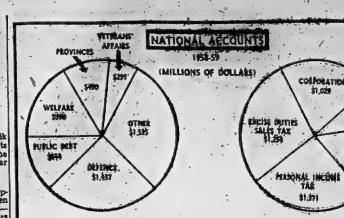
Finally, the white man's reflection in council — concerning traffic regulations, complicated legal legislation, commerces or mining — would put an unfair burden on the comprehension of a man who after 10 years may still not be chosen are not publicly proficient in English to conduct council affairs.

Whether such an appointment comes soon, the fact is a hard fact that native representation on the council is just a matter of time. An Indian from Aklavik ran for one of the elected seats recently and, while defeated, he set a precedent which should bear fruit in the future.

MAKEUP CRITICIZED

The consideration of native representation comes at a time when some criticism has been voiced from within the northern affairs department and from outside about the makeup of the council itself.

It is understood that Northern Affairs Minister Alvin Hamilton recognizes some of the problems concerning these members who serve as appointees and who reflect a strong weighting toward the civil service.



This "bias", it is suggested by some senior department officials among others, retards evolution of the council toward more responsibility and generally hinders constructive criticism of government policy in the territories.

The council's functions are strictly limited with restricted jurisdiction over taxation powers, municipal affairs and the like while federal government retains overall authority.

The four elected members reflect trading, farming and private enterprise generally.

COUNCIL PERSONNEL

The appointees include C. M Drury of Montreal, appointed while deputy minister of defence but reappointed after his resignation; L. C. Audette, appointed while with the external affairs department but reappointed when he became chairman of the Canadian Maritime Commission; W.G. Brown, head of the northern affairs department's territorial division; and H. M. Jones, director of the Indian affairs branch. L. H. Nicholson, former commissioner of the RCMP, is the fifth appointee. Although recently resigned as RCMP commissioner, he is under no obligation to quit his council post since he is not an ex-officio member.

RECORD PEACETIME DEFICIT — A peacetime record budget deficit of $618,000,000 is indicated for the federal 1958-59 fiscal year, according to the white paper tabled in Parliament by Finance Minister Fleming.

The figures are subject to revision about August when final accounts for the year are in. But the white paper usually is close to the mark.

These charts detail major expenditures and revenue items. Defence remained the heaviest expenditure at $1,887,000,000 and personal income tax continued as the largest single source of intake, bringing in $1,791,000,000. (CP Newsmap.)

Dust — ordinary everyday dust — is a very interesting substance, although housewives do everything they can to get rid of it. But nobody ever gets "rid of dust, they only move it from one place to another. Without dust, we would all die! Everywhere, in dust in our atmosphere diffuse the burning rays of the sun, and the heat from the rain us into dress. Without it, our fertile land would become desert. Fifty thousand tons of dust falls on our earth every day, though we do not see it. And dust is powerful! That speck of dust you wipe off the piano may be a tiny bit of rock from Mount Everest, a particle of bone from a mammoth, that died tens of centuries ago, or an infinitesimal portion of Julius Ceasar

Some folks do a better job of getting rid of dust than others. And the Dodds Fast Cartage and Storage people seem to do about the best job of anybody! When moving day comes around, you'll find their ELEVEN-FAST way of packing — which they use (in ALL their moves — is the very last word in cleanliness and protection. No messy newspaper, no dusty excelsior. Instead, they use clean, cushiony interlocking pads of soft, resilient polyfoam. There is no dust anytime, anywhere!

Best of all, Fax Cartage methods fit packing PROTECT your household possessions. Crystalware is wrapped in individual foam-pack tuck-in cradles. Mirrors, pictures and polished furniture are all safeguarded by spongy cornerpatsl — never a scratch or mark. Every item receives individual care. Yet the whole job is no more often for less than you expected!

BULLETINS FROM BIRDLAND

CALLS OF SPRING

By WINIFRED WILSON

We are heartened by the lengthening days, the stress sign that winter is really past. The migrants have waited for this extension of sunlight to invade our country, but now they are answering the call of spring, with hurrying wings making National Wildlife Week, inaugurating by the Canadian Government in March 1946 to commemorate our greatest conservationist.

Jack Miner gave his whole life's work in fact his all — to the preservation of Canada's wildlife. He it was who in 1904 planned and started the famous Kingsville Sanctuary on the north shore of Lake Erie. A pioneer bird bander, his first returned band was put on a duck in August 1909, and was sent back to him some months later by a hunter living in South Carolina. He made his first complete record, proving where the birds banded of all those shot, and showed his system to the biologists sent regularly to help Washington and Ottawa. This many heretofore unanswerable questions, and has taken answering as the probable life span of any particular species. Now it can be definitely stated that when excessive killing is taking place.

PLACE OF SAFETY

Jack Miner Sanctuary attracts birds not for the sake of killing them, but to give them a place of safety. Jack Miner's example started a chain of sanctuaries reaching across Canada from coast to coast and throughout the United States.

Our section of Canada is merely a wayside station for thousands of birds that later on go far beyond civilization. Every many stop to rest and feed before completing the long trip to their nesting grounds, breed and rear their young. Others make this their journey's end, as here they stay for the winter. Many of the hardy species — ducks, geese and various kinds of shore birds will be with us shortly. If we are on the lookout we will also see kingfishers and woodpeckers, bluebirds and meadowlarks, redwings and song sparrows — big birds and small birds all answering the call of spring.

By JOSEPH MacSWEEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK (CP)—Paul Mann, a man of boiling opinions, was 18 when he took the world by the ankles. He'd never let go.

A passionate devotion to the theatre is what drives Mann, 45, who was born in Toronto, now runs Actors' Workshop, one of the most important schools of its kind in New York.

"A man contributes—or he is nothing," says the burly actor-director-teacher, summing up his code of life and theatre in a sentence.

You find the Paul Mann Actors' Workshop — occupying two floors in a steep-slatted old building—near Broadway on what is officially called Avenue of the Americas but is simply Sixth Avenue to all New Yorkers.

COLORFUL SPOT

It's in an area abounding in color, where the coloured noses of Shakespearean actors mingle strangely with the raucous, babble of close-by Times Square.

In a symbolic way, this seems just right for Mann who, almost with reverence, that the theatre must be "of the people—not apart from the people." And his aside, with vehement profanity, that any theatre which is ultra - stylish ideas are worse than wrong.

"Theatre is not a delectation for the carriage trade," Mann emphasized in an interview.

"Shakespeare was not removed from the people. I'm sure he never cared whether he'd be studied by scholars. Actors are not useful to women who help build roads."

Mann noted in happy terms that Canadian theatre has reached the point where it is independently operating on "its own," as exemplified in Stratford, Ont.

REAL OBJECTIVE

But the real aim was a truly national theatre—with groups in all cities and towns — and he declared:

"It's an honest, compassionate play. That is the real objective because it is the first American play produced on Broadway that deals seriously with Negro life in America. It's the first Broadway play written by a Negro with success and directed by a Negro."

The play was unanimously ac-

RARE, MEDIUM, WELL-DONE

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

Tonight the Montreal Forum will be the jousting ground of the second battle of the current Stanley Cup finals between the Habitant giants of the National Hockey League and the "team of destiny", the Leaflet pygmies from Hewittville.

The "amazing Cinderellas" from Imlach's igloo threw a scare into Toe Blake's three-time champions for the first two periods of the inaugural till then fated as the champs hit their stride in the last ten minutes of the final chukker.

Crystal-gazing "Punch" Imlach, the general manager, coach and vice-president in charge of Leaflan prognosticators, who makes a prediction, then changes it to suit the subsequent situation, is not letting his Stanley Cup fledglings down. No sirree. Win or lose, he keeps on predicting.

Prior to the Boston series, the Queen City swami forecast his youngsters would take the doughty Bruins in six tilts, then go on to vanquish the Canadiens and grab the Stanley silverware in seven jousts. After the Leafs had relegated the Bruins permanently to the dressing rooms, summer jobs and vacation, Imlach said he meant to say they would oust the Bears in seven and take the Habs in the half-dozen.

Between Imlach's predictions and Toronto sportswriters soothing salve, the disappointed feelings of thousands of Queen City fans were somewhat assuaged.

One writer said it was "Giveaway Micks." The Leafs gave away their goals and the Montreal Canadiens one. What he forgot to mention was that if the Canadiens were in proper form inside the Leafs' blueline in the first period, the Leafs would have "given away" three or four more.

Imlach veiled his team's defeat with a snarling criticism of the Habs, "If that is the best they can do- they are dead pigeons," he announced, making sure the newspapermen were within hearing.

What the Queen City scribes and Imlach are overlooking in their monumental excuses that the Leafs "gave three away" is the fact that the Canadiens can play a helluva lot better hockey than they displayed in the first till. It was one of the rare nights when the Habs were disorganized in cup play and they probably heard about it in Coach Blake's post-game speech from the dressing room throat.

Foster Hewitt, his cheeks still pink from the Gordon Sinclair blast in a Toronto evening paper, was ready with another story for the Leafs defeat.

In a post-game television interview he said it was his opinion the Toronto club was showing signs of the wear and tear of the rugged Boston series. "In fact," he said, "I am surprised they did not show it before the latter part of the third period."

That is a stock answer — and there could be exscitilla of truth in it. After all the Canadiens had a fourday rest while the Leafs were going to the mat with the Beantowners.

To that as it may. We'll still put the nickel — it's four cents since the budget came down — on the three-time cup winners. Regardless of how the Leafs played and "gave away goals," the Habs got a bad game off their chests, even in victory.

As Hal (Toronto Telegram) Walker puts it, "Toe Blake's powerhouse is looking at an unprecedented fourth consecutive Stanley Cup—act the pattern of a loosely-played game. They let the Toronto team have its fling for a good part of the way. Then the alarm suddenly sank their exploitveness and, well, you know how these birds can fly."

The teams go at it again tonight in the second game in Montreal and we shall see if those Canadien "pigeons" are dead, or merely laid an egg in the first game.

Next week the teams go to Toronto and we'll have to put the wire aerials in front of the television set again. For if the Leafs score a couple of quickies the younger of the television play-by-play announcers will come shouting through the picture tube plumb into the living room, screaming "He Scoooooores."

And while on that subject if there were any trophies or other awards given away for fair, impartial video announcers Danny Gallivan and Frank Selke Jr., of the Montreal staff would win going away.

Dunlops Head For Eastern Crown And Allan Cup

Roar Back to Edge Dutchmen Who Protest Winning Goal; Next Roadblock Hull Legion

GUELPH (CP)—Whitby Dunlops, power-laden crew which won the 1954 world hockey championship, will tackle Hull Legion for Eastern Canada senior hockey championship.

Whitby mowed into the series—the eastern semi-final leading to the Allan Cup — by defeating Kitchener - Waterloo Dutchmen 3-2, here Friday night. The win gave them the best-of-seven all-Ontario Senior A hockey championship 4-1.

Hull, playing their second season of senior hockey, made it by downing the visiting St. Vincent de Paul team 4-1 in the deciding game of their best-of-three series.

The Hull-Whitby series opens in Hull Monday night—tentatively. The Canadian Amateur Hockey Association reportedly wants its final to be a best-of-seven contest, but Legion wants a five-game contest.

DISPUTED WINNING GOAL

George Dudley scored a 2-2 tie at the 12:59 mark of the third period but Dutchmen claimed he kicked the puck past the colorful Boat Hurley in the Kitchener net.

They complained their protest after the game, but there was no immediate word on an official complaint decided.

It was a comeback win for Whitby.

Kitchener took the initiative, blasting to a 2-0 lead when the game was only 37 seconds old. Bill Saunders from Ken Laumann.

POWER PLAY CLICKS

Laumann, a veteran of 10 years in regular season and all through the playoffs, battled John Hendrickson with a screen shot to tie it up before the period ended.

Ted O'Connor scored the penalty box at the time.

Ted Hilchie was serving the only third-period penalty of the fast, clean game when Samoleno wound up with Harry Pidhirny and Bobby Attersley and cruised in on Hurley with the winner.

Kitchener drew five of the seven penalties handed out by referees Lloyd Pearsaw and Bill Balmer, including a 10-minute misconduct to Butch Martin.

First period: 1. Kitchener, Saunders (McKnight, Laufman) 17:32. Whitby, Myles (Hilchie) 18:21. Penalty: Mattiusi 3:56.

Second period: 3. Whitby, Smith (Attersley, Sinden) 8:05; 4. Kitchener, Laufman (McKnight) 18:37. Penalties: Laufman, 7:22, Smith 8:25, McKenzie 10:23, Martin (10-minute misconduct) 10:23, Ted O'Connor 18:00.

Third period: 5. Whitby, Samoleno (Sinden, Attersley; 12:50. Penalty: Maki 12:26.

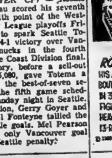
Western Hockey

WINNIPEG (CP) — Calgary Stampeders have captured the Western Hockey League Prairie Division title by downing Winnipeg Warriors 5-2 for their fourth straight victory in best-of-seven final.



The confident Stampeders, who had polished their bags and checked out of their hotel before Friday night's game now meet the winner of the Coast Division final between Seattle and Vancouver.

Howie Glover and Eddie Dorohoy paced the Stampeders with two goals apiece. Billy Hay got the other. Barrie Ross and Pete Kapusta bagged the Winnipeg goals.

VANCOUVER CP) — Rookie Marc Boileau scored his second goal and 11th point of the Western Hockey League playoffs Friday night to put Seattle Totems in a 4-1 victory over Vancouver Canucks in the fifth game of the Coast Division final.

The victory, before a sell-out crowd of 5,000, gave Totems a 3-1 lead in the best-of-seven series with the fifth game scheduled for Sunday night in Seattle.

Irish Coach Settles Down

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)— After about 50,000 miles of travelling the banquet circuit, Joe Kuharich has settled down for spring football drills eager to see exactly what he has to work with as new head coach of his Notre Dame alma mater.

Some 120 hopefuls turned out, one of the largest squads of the post-war era. Big in numbers but relatively shy in talent — that could be a good appraisal.

Terry Brennan fired as coach last Christmas week, had a 64 record in 1958, and Kuharich undoubtedly harbors hopes of bettering that mark.

Only 13 lettermen from last year are back, the smallest group since the war. Perhaps as few as 12 of the rookies at the moment can be ranked as possibly good prospects.

SURGERY FOR PITCHER

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A bone chip and a small arch were removed from southpaw Curt Simmons' pitching arm Friday, afternoon at a hospital here. The Philadelphia Phillies pitcher will be able to resume training in three weeks.

Success of Soccer Underdogs Raises Question of Calibre

LONDON (CP)—Three times in the last five years a Third Division side has staggered the experts by fighting its way through to the semi-finals of the Football Association Cup competition, a feat previously accomplished only once in the cup's 87-year history.

The growing success of the underdogs raises the question whether the gap is narrowing in the calibre of play to be found in the four divisions of the 92-team Football League.

Norwich City, beaten 1-0 by Luton Town recently in a well-played second game, had previously knocked off four straight Second Division clubs before that in their own. Victims included Manchester United, a top contender for the league championship.

FREQUENT UPSETS

The knockout cup competition is notorious for its upsets. But Norwich rose to the heights unsticed by weather conditions, the luck of the draw or a freakish, unfamiliar pitch that might have hampered other opponents. The club just had played good football.

Currently, the Norwich players have only an outside chance of promotion to the Second Division this season. Even if all the Generally speaking, Football breaks went their way, it would be at least two years before they find themselves playing regularly against the pick of the championship sides.

Then only could they find the mettle to overcome opposition if they made the shift today? The annual shuffle of promotion and relegation offers conflicting evidence.

Of the two sides that dropped to the First Division last season, West Ham United is in the thick of the battle for the extra talent money that goes to the top four clubs at the season's end while Blackburn Rovers are comfortably settled halfway down the table.

The apparent conclusion is that a good Second Division club can make its way in the best company. But it doesn't always hold true.

CAN'T SETTLE DOWN

Two notable exceptions are Leicester City and Sheffield Wednesday, which have shuttled between the First and Second Divisions since the Second World War. Currently, Leicester appears to be on the way down for the second time in five years; Wednesday is on the way up for the fourth time in 10.

Norwich City is one of them.

Durelle Says He's Fighting For Peanuts

SUDBURY (CP) — Yvon Durelle, an angry fisherman from Baie Ste. Anne, N.B., predicts he will knock out Archie Moore in five rounds and strip him of his light-heavyweight boxing crown when they meet July 15 in Montreal.

"I'm so mad about this — I fight I'm' even afraid to talk about it in case I start fighting before the fight even comes up," he said.

Durelle, knocked out in the 11th round in their Montreal meeting last December, said he was unhappy about his split of the gate for this summer's bout. He passed through here en route to a dinner engagement at Blind River.

"Put this in your paper," he said in an interview—"I'll knock Moore out in five rounds.

"I'll lose money on the fight. I'll lose more than they're offering me, I won't even be able to pay training expenses. They want me to take $15,000 and Moore will clean up anywhere from $175,000 to $200,000.

Durelle said he usually trains for at least a month and a half, "but I have to be down to three weeks for this one. Even then I can't afford the training expenses."

Durelle said he has two warmup bouts coming—the first June 16 at Caribou, Me. He doesn't know who his opponent will be.

They'll Do It Every Time — By Jimmy Hatlo

Colorful Maple Leafs Coach Breathes Defiance at Habs; 'We'll Beat Best They've Got'

MONTREAL (CP) — Defiant coach Punch Imlach throws his Toronto Maple Leafs against Montreal Canadiens tonight confidently convinced that when the game is over the best-of-seven Stanley Cup finals will be all square at 1-1.

His Leafs lost Thursday's opener 3-2, but that didn't shake Imlach's confidence or aplomb—or his cratory either.

"That was only a skirmish," said Imlach Friday night, sprawled on the bed in his hotel room, phone in hand at the ready for the telephone into which he said almost automatically every few minutes: "Well, thanks a lot. How's that? I'm awfully sorry but I just haven't any tickets."

Between calls he kept right on breathing defiance at Montreal. "That wasn't our club they saw out there Thursday. We are better than that. We were 25 to 50 per cent below par.

HAVEN'T STARTED YET

"That was the guy who said, 'We haven't yet begun to fight.' Well, that's us. We'll be fighting but there and Canadiens had better be a whole lot better than they were Thursday if they hope to win.

"I don't know how they play other night compared with what they're supposed to be able to do, I don't care, either. I know it'll be better.

Imlach was asked who would check Jean Beliveau. "Hocket! Richard or he takes a regular turn tonight.

"Whoever is on the ice when Beliveau is on will check him. We're not putting any special tail on the Rocket. If he wants to play regularly, that's okay with us. We want to beat all their best and not have them crying after they lose the series that they were weakened."

HANDS WIDEN

The odds-makers around Montreal weren't as optimistic about Toronto's chances. Saying the odds may shorten today, they quoted Canadiens favorites by eight goals to win the series.

If you took the Leafs, you got 4 to 1. On tonight's game if you want to take Canadiens you'll have to give 3 and a goal and a half.

Montreal coach Toe Blake, who will talk with his players again today, said "We'll have to work a bit harder."

"Maybe Punch was right in saying we won an early game," said Blake. "I'm sure we're not getting cocky and figuring on an easy series."

Blake said he was surprised to read newspaper comment that the first game wasn't particularly a good one for a playoff contest.

"Maybe I'm prejudiced enough excitement for the newspaper fellows or maybe the game was more interesting for an anti-climax to the semi-finals, in which we beat Chicago and the Leafs beat Boston.

tcn.

"I'll admit it wasn't the best game ever in playoffs," but it certainly wasn't the worst."

Blake said he expects to send the 37-year-old Rocket out to work on a line with rookies Ralph Backstrom and Ab McDonald. He will see how the Rocket feels and may alternate Richard and Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion at right wing.

Richard, back after a long layoff, was used only a couple of times Thursday on the power play. Geoffrion has been riding a bit again from stomach or groin pains that sidelined him before the regular season ended.

Blake will have a brand new rookie in the lineup but may not use him. Bill Hicke, 21-year-old farmhand from Rochester Americans, was brought up because of the American League, will dress for tonight's game — his first in the big time. He scored 41 goals and 56 assists for Rochester.

WELLS WON'T PLAY

"I'll have him on the bench for emergency conditions, but at the moment I'm not figuring on playing him unless I really have to," said Blake.

Canadiens had a light workout of 30 minutes Friday. The Leafs followed and Imlach kept them busy for more than an hour. If they're not strong at the start of tonight's game, it won't be for lack of skating and more skating.

"The great Canadiens need only 30 minutes," bellowed Imlach from the ice. "We need an hour and 30 minutes. We've got to work."

Braves Vet Scores 8-0 Win As Roberts Out-Duels Newk; Fox's Homer Beats Detroit

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Staff Writer

You can excuse manager Joe Gordon if he wasn't overly enthusiastic after his Cleveland Indians won their American League opener at Kansas City Friday. The score, 6-4, was a pleasant enough, but The Score was a wild worry.

The Score in question is Herb Score, the young southpaw pitcher who broke in so sensationally, but who hasn't had anything except trouble since he took a line drive in the eye two years ago.

What hopes the Injuns have of going higher from last year's fourth-place finish are based on a comeback by the 25-year-old lefty. Since winning 20 games as a sophomore in 1956 Score has a 6-4 record, missing most of after that line drive accident, and not most of last season because of arm trouble.

Friday, after a slow pace in spring training, Score was relieved in from the bullpen when the A's got to starter Jerry Lumpe on third run in the ninth. With Score pitching, the A's scored again without swinging a bat. He walked the first man he faced on four pitches, wild-pitched a run home and walked the second batter. He was up against the third man before Dick Brodowski replaced him and put it away.

FOX HOMERS

A topcoat crowd of 22,630 showed up at Kansas City with 39,332 at Detroit as the Chicago White Sox got past the Tigers 5-4 on Nellys on Nellie Fox's first home run since 1957. Boston at New York was rained out. Baltimore and Washington weren't scheduled.

Bell, the young right-hander to came up last year from Cleveland's staff gave way to age and lifetime backed by 11 hit attack against loser Bob Grim and relievers Ray Herbert and Russ Meyer.

Fox tore into Detroit pitching for five hits in seven at-bats. The two - run, two - out homer that ended the four-hour, nine-inning struggle was his first in 671 trips since Sept. 19, 1957 — when he topped a seven-run rally in the 10th inning to beat Washington. Friday's clubber came off reliever Don Mossi.

USE 42 PLAYERS

The White Sox, who started southpaw ace Billy Pierce, used seven pitchers. Gerry Staley, No. 8, was the winner. The Tigers used five hurlers, starting with Jim Bunning and concluding with the Sox to put 43 men in the box score.

Jim Landis hit a two-run homer off Bunning, while Al Kaline and Charlie Maxwell homered for the Tigers. Kaline's was a solo shot off Pierce. Maxwell's was a pinch-hit job off Ray Moore with two men on base, tying it in the eighth inning after Larry Doby ruined his Tiger debut with a three-run error that helped the Sox to a 5-4 lead in the seventh.

On the Tracks

NEW YORK (CP)—There will be no generous purses than the $25,000-added in Jamaica's mile and sixteenth Gotham today, but no race this weekend will have a more direct bearing on the Kentucky Derby May 2.

Six derby hopefuls are in the field of nine, including Intentionand Bold Ruler, winners of the first Landing, the big horse of the spring derby talk. First Landing is waiting for next week-end's Wood Memorial.

Other features today's card are Laurel's $50,000-added mile Turnity, the $20,000-added Pimlico Nursery at Keeneland, Brookfield Farm's Intentionally, a romping victor in his three-year-old debut at Jamaica last week, is the top weight in the Gotham. Atoll, a $100,000 purchase in January by Mackie brothers and Lou Cheeseboro, is expected to give him the most opposition.

The two favorites carry 122 pounds. Royal Anthem 118 and all six others 116 each.

The inaugural of Laurel's Maturity three seven four-year-olds. Current running is for thoroughbreds who were three years old last year.

In the future, nominations will close two years in advance of the Maturity.

Laurel expects the earlier closing to produce more nominees and thus more fees to be added to the $50,000 it is putting for the big-mile race.

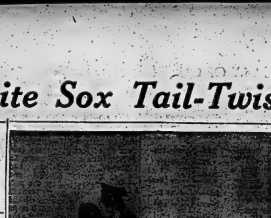
Today's gross purse will be $8,820 if seven start and the winner will earn a shade over $4,538. Entries include Grey Monarch, owned by E. P. Taylor of Toronto.

Grey Monarch will carry 110 pounds compared to 119 for Backone, the favorite.

Leonard Second To Fetchick in Golf Tourney

GREENSBORO, N.C. (CP)—Mike Fetchick of Yonkers, N.Y., putting together two great rounds that left him nine under par, headed into the third round of the $15,000 Greater Greensboro open golf tournament today with a slim lead over three men, one of them Canadian Dan Leonard.

Fetchick fired a 67 Friday to add to his opening-round 68 but he had little breathing room.



Leonard, the Vancouver pro who grabbed a share of fourth place in the recent Masters tournament, had his second straight 68 for a total of 136, three strokes behind Fetchick. Tied with him were Masters champion Art Wall Jr. and Dow Finsterwald of Tempe, Ariz.

They were only one stroke ahead of three of the hottest shooters in the weekend, who were tied at 139—Dick Knight, Thorne Wood and Dave Thomas.

Knight and Wood carded the day's best score, Thomas had 70.

Jerry Magee of Toronto was next at 140 with 147. He carded a 72 Friday.

Wall, Leonard and Finsterwald all appeared in splendid position—playing well, only three shots back and two days to play.

NABBED — Pirate Dick Groat was caught at second base in Cincinnati on the front end of the Cincinnati Red's second double play. Action came in the fifth inning of Cincinnati-Pittsburgh National league opener. Reds' second baseman Johnny Temple, at left, has just got off throw to first. Play ended when Hank Foiles grounded to shortstop Roy McMillan, at right. Reds won 4-1. (AP Wirephoto).

Frankie Ryff Loses by TKO

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Fooli Rossi's camp lost no time clamoring for a lightweight title shot following Rossi's quick victory by a technical knockout over Frankie Ryff Friday night.

The three - round championship fight with titleholder Joe Brown in May or June," screamed manager Cy Coccia after Rossi had stopped Ryff at 2:48 of the third round.

"They keep saying one more good win and you're ready for Brown. Well we're ready. My boy won't get in the ring again until he's fighting for the title."

Rossi, cut badly over the right eye, was behind until he caught Ryff on the ropes in the first round with a sharp right in the third. He went ahead to stay before the compulsory eight-count ended and then took a jarring left hook. He stiffened and pitched headfirst to the canvas.

Ryff got up and was staggering back when Rossi when referee Joe Palmer stopped it. Rossi weighed 133¾ pounds, Ryff 134.

Judge Harold McGrath had given the first two rounds to Ryff and Referee Al Kahl gave the second to Ryff after calling the first round even. Referee Joe Palmer gave Rosi the first and Ryff the second.

Bears, Barons Meet Tonight

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP)— Hershey Bears, with two regulars still missing, meet Cleveland Indians tonight in the sixth game of their semi-final series in the American Hockey League's Calder Cup.

Winger Bob Solinger and centre Willie Marshall, members of the starters for the Bears who hold a 3-2 edge in the best-of-seven series. The winner meets Buffalo Bisons in the best-of-seven final round.

Solinger has been under treatment since a double gall bladder ailment and Marshall is suffering from a virus infection.

If Cleveland wins, the seventh an deciding game will be played Sunday at Cleveland.

TAKE WEST TITLE

WINNIPEG (CP) — Southern Alberta Chinooks won the Western Canada Senior A men's basketball championship Friday night by defeating Winnipeg Columbs 59-56 to take their best-of-five final 3-1. The Chinooks now will advance to the Canadian final in Ottawa against Ottawa Fellers.

Florida's Shrinking Golden Egg

You remember, of course, the impossible childhood story of the man who killed the goose that laid the golden egg. We laugh at this stupid owner of that fabulous bird but, strangely enough, that sort of thing is still going on in this enlightened age. Florida, the winter playground of the East, is now the guilty party.

For the past 11 years we have been spending anywhere from three to six weeks in the Florida Keys each March and April, combining business, vacation, and sometimes research in the best interests of our health. Back in 1948-49 the fishing around the Florida Keys was nothing short of superlative. Today it is only slightly better than poor.

Back in 1948 not very many people had heard of the bonefish. Then it was learned that this scrapper could be caught on a fly, with orthodox fly-rod tackle. The Publicity Dept. of the Metropolitan Miami Fishing Tournament set about spreading the joyous word. Then the outdoor columnists of the country were invited to come to the Keys and sample this wondrous new sport.

The boys came to the Keys. They fished for bonefish, were entertained royally, and went home to write about fly-rod fishing in the Keys. Within an incredibly short time just about every fly-rod fan in the nation wanted to come down to the Keys and catch a bonefish.

QUICK BUCK

The real-estate boys, always with an eye open for a quick buck, saw a new no reason to allow all that good publicity to go to waste. They moved in with their bulldozers, power shovels and dredges. Mangrove swamps were transformed into broad sandy areas with subdivision plots could be had for a price.

There used to be excellent bonefishing in the vicinity of Marathon. The power dredge ruined those fine flats. Another area where we could park almost anywhere along the shore of our northern Key Largo, pull on our waders, and go bonefishing.

Not any more. Mile after mile of that area now is taken up by "private estates" and the no-trespass sign predominates.

Meanwhile the boat traffic, outboards mostly, in the waters adjacent to the Keys showed a big yearly increase. Where scarcely there had been excellent fishing only a stone's throw from shore, a real nice little golden egg. To now there is no fishing worthy of be sure, the goose is not completely dead as yet, but it is ailing. Of necessity, the golden egg is shrinking. How long, we wonder, will it take Florida to wake up and take steps to safeguard the natural resources with which Big Providence saw fit to endow it?

Not content with all this, the ...move was to begin work on the waterway from Flamingo to Everglades. In came the power boats, airboats and all that. Everted topsoil which had been accumulating in the manrove swamps of the western Everglades since time began, started to move with the flow of water as the swamps drained. And there, all of a sudden, was the fish smack fishing in the entire State of Florida.

The latest piece of stupidity is the proposed refining company plant to be installed of Merritt Island on the Banana River arm of Brevard County on the East Coast of Florida. This is one of the few remaining unspoiled areas, rich in fish and wildlife. If that installation is allowed the resulting damage will be incalculable.

Meanwhile, the estimated income created by the fishing on the East coast alone is around $200,000 per annum. The potential for the entire State is many times that. That, my friends is now there is no fishing worthy of be sure, the goose is not com-

Hull, Dunlops Meet for Eastern Title

HULL, Que. (CP)—Hull Legion, playing only their second season of senior hockey, reached the Eastern Canada Allan Cup final by downing St. Vincent de Paul 4-1 Friday night in the deciding game of their best-of-three series.

Legion now will meet Ajax or Ontario champion Whitby Dunlops in the eastern finals tentatively scheduled to open here Monday night.

Hull, champions of the Senior Interprovincial League and winner over the Hartlimes champion Miramichi Beavers in the quarter-finals, was formed last winter with veterans and top juniors in the district.

The team, coached by Marcel Legris, lost out to Levis, Que., in the Eastern Canada playdowns last season.

Hull netminder Gerry Fleury picked up three Smiths Falls goals the same loop, was a standout Friday night.

Rheal Dagenais gave Hull the lead at 2:32 of the first period.

Sloppy clearing led to the second and Hull goal in the first period. A loose puck bounced out from behind the goal and went in off Andy Payette's stick or a player in front.

Goalkeeper Payette looked bad in the third Hull goal, in the middle period. Andre Lesage's shot slid along the ice and through Payette's skates.

Pit Richer cashed a rebound on Lesage's blueline slapshot to end the Hull scoring.

YOUNGSTER AT TOP

LAKE CHARLES, La. (AP)—Young Hugh Royer of Columbus, Ga., tasting competition as a pro for the first time, Friday jumped into a tie with veteran Dick Metz for the second-round lead of the $15,000 Lake Charles International golf tournament. Royer, 22, came in with a three under par 69 for a two-round total of 137.

Vernon Edges Regina 2-1

REGINA (CP)—Vernon Canadians took a 2-1 lead in the best-of-seven Intermediate Allan Cup final Friday night, defeating Regina Caps 6-3 before 2,715 fans.

Jim Moro paced Vernon with two goals, while Odie Lowe, Jim Moro, Barry Smith and Merv Bilosk each scored one goal. Elmer Schwartz, Brian Whittal and Pat Hardy got Regina's goals.

Fourth game is here Monday night.

International League Looks For Best Season in 10 Years

MONTREAL (CP)—Baseball's colorful International League swings optimistically into its 76th campaign Tuesday, its compass sure hardly ruffled by a turbulent, uncertain off-season.

A strike threat by players and the blood-soaked Cuban revolution produced anxious moments for league officials during the seven-month layoff.

But with most of the difficulties by the wayside, they are predicting a banner year for the fast-flung, eight - team league, the grandaddy of all minor circuits.

"Interest is very high," says Harry Simmons, the IL's secretary. "All factors point to a tremendous year and I wouldn't be surprised if it's the best in our last 10."

Last year the teams—with their usual optimism—began eager young prospects on the way up and veterans on the decline—drew a total of 1,720,000 fans. Their peak year was 1946 when 2,400,000 attended.

REQUEST FAILS

The strike movement, rooted in a demand by the Players Association for a pension scheme, flopped. The association was refused by the owners and league officials on grounds the plan would be too much, ignoring the association's strike order, the players reported for spring training and signed contracts.

Fears about baseball prospects in Cuba, where Havana Sugar Kings have held an IL franchise since 1954, were dispelled at the league's annual meeting here in January.

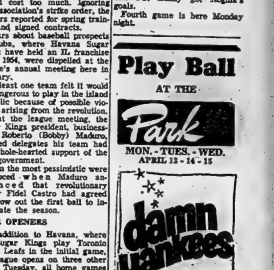
At least one team felt it would be dangerous to play in the island republic because of possible violence arising from the revolution. But at the league meeting, the Sugar Kings got their business man Roberto (Bobby) Maduro, assured delegates his team had the wholehearted support of the new government.

The most pessimistic were convinced when Maduro announced that revolutionary leader Fidel Castro had promised to throw out the first ball to inaugurate the season.

FOUR OPENERS

In addition to Havana, where the Sugar Kings play Toronto Maple Leafs in the initial game of the league opens on three other fronts Tuesday, all home games for southernmost members.

Montreal Royals launch their defence of the Junior pennant at Miami against the Marlins while Buffalo Bisons open against the Virginians at Richmond and Columbus Jets host Rochester Red Wings.



The Maple Leafs, runners-up to the Royals last year and the only IL member unaffiliated with a major league outfit, shape up as favorites.

"They've got a power-house," said one league observer candidly.

But Richmond and Montreal also loom as contenders. The Virginians, bought by New York Yankees, is the second club to be acquired outright by a major league team. Los Angeles Dodgers own the Royals.

The Story Behind the Year's Most Unusual Picture

The creator of "The Case of Dr. Laurent," opening at the Belle Theatre on Monday is Jean Paul Le Chanois, one of France's most noted motion picture producers, writers and directors. Le Chanois, a doctor's son, had studied medicine himself and was greatly moved by the suffering of women giving birth in the painful atmosphere of the hospital delivery room. But he abandoned medicine for the cinema, and it was only several years later that he witnessed a controversy between his 72-year-old father and a progressive medical colleague which once again brought up the problem. He saw his father passionately defend the subject of "natural childbirth."

A professional debate arose during which the young doctor, who was an intelligent and competent man, nevertheless appeared to be too conservative in his medical views. The old doctor, for lack of a better argument, finally declared: "I think I am the younger of the two . . . and heatedly asked him to take his leave. Moviemaker Le Chanois realized that it must be truly and extraordinary problem to impassion his father to such an extent. He questioned him, and the old man declared: "You should make a movie on childbirth."

A dramatization of a part of this discussion will be found in the film, and the lovable old doctor who appears in the picture is the director's respectful tribute to his father.

At the McCarthy

"Separate Tables," Hecht-Hill-Lancaster's screen version of the Terence Rattigan international stage hit closes tonight at the Odeon McCarthy Theatre. Starring Rita Hayworth, Deborah Kerr, David Niven and Burt Lancaster with Wendy Hiller, Gladys Cooper, Cathleen Nesbitt, Felix Aylmer, Rod Taylor and Audrey Dalton, "Separate Tables" was directed by Delbert Mann and produced by Harold Hecht.

Rattigan and John Gay wrote the screenplay based on Rattigan's brilliant romantic drama that enjoyed long runs in New York and London. "Separate Tables" is the story of love and conflict in a British seaside hotel.

Quebec Hockey

MONTREAL (CP) — Montreal Royals fired three goals in the first period and coasted to a 4-2 win over Trois-Rivieres Lions in a penalty-filled Quebec Hockey League playoff game Friday night.

Royals now lead the best-of-nine series 4-3.

Skipper Burchall led Montreal with two goals. Irwin Spencer and playing-coach Floyd Curry notched singles. Gerry Desaulniers and Bob Duncan scored third - period goals for Trois-Rivieres.

Besides six majors for fighting referee Len Corriveau called 14 other penalties. The penalties were split evenly.

Hugh O'Brian's Pockets Full But Not of Wyatt Earp Cash

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The man behind the desk had no guns, no marshal's badge. He was dressed in sport clothes and his fast draw was limited to a ball-point pen.

This was Wyatt Earp in his off-season. From June to November, the slim, dark-eyed fellow keeps peace on the streets of Dodge City. During the other seven months of the year, he is Hugh O'Brian, entrepreneur, and is just as sharp as a board of directors meeting as in a prairie shoot-out.

I corralled O'Brian in his office between his world travels. The conservation was interrupted by secretaries and managers with details of his next trip: To New York for a fatelhon. Winnipeg for a circus, Cleveland to do a Bob Hope show, Chicago for a run in the Rainmaker.

EARNS BIG MONEY

"Is it true, as I read recently, that you are making $600,000 a year?" I inquired.

"Five hundred thousand!" he mused. "I'd say the report was conservative."

The $500,000 figure seemed large because O'Brian gets no percentage of the Wyatt Earp take. He works for a highly taxable salary, and this has long been a source of dispute with the producers.

"The TV show represents only 20 per cent of my earnings," he remarked. "The rest comes from investments and my activities the other seven months of the year. For example, I get from $3,000 to $5,000 for personal appearance."

His investmeode include a construction company and the Palm Springs resort Whispering Waters.

Bosox Release Willard Nixon

BOSTON (AP)—Willard Nixon, the righthanded pitcher once known for his ability to beat New York Yankees, has been given his outright release by Boston Red Sox.

The Sox announced Friday they had received waivers on Nixon in order to give him the release. He will join Minneapolis of the American Association on a trial basis.

TIPS

by JOHN WETTLAUFER

Moving day presents difficulties and expense to every householder, but the television owner has an additional problem. Is it cheaper to have his antenna moved to his new location — or leave it behind and install a new one?

You'll be happy to learn that it is definitely cheaper to MOVE YOUR ANTENNA. In fact the average TV antenna move — by trained experts — is about one quarter the price of a new installation.

CHICLE TV SERVICE, 364 Coleman St., have the equipment and experienced men for antenna moving. If you're about to change your address, let us give you an estimate . . . no obligation of course. Just phone WO 2-7891 (Trenton EX 2-7609).

No One Will be seated during final 15 minutes!

July 21) — Pay no attention to hasty remarks of a dear friend who is very upset. Keep working diligently at own affairs and tasks. P. M. be with a very close one and have a delightful evening of conversation and clever repartee. Relax.

Leo (July 23 to Aug. 23) — Don't give in to that temptation to boast or talk imperiously, or a higher up will soon be on your neck. P. M. be with congenial comrades at some mutually enjoyable sport and work off excessive energy. Have fun and be happy, balanced.

Virgo (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)—Don't go off early on a weekend spree. Attend to those duties that require immediate attention and be efficient and artistic at them. Late week powerful persons who can give you points or regarding success in your career.

Libra (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)—Don't fool yourself. You cannot buy yourself out of that difficult situation. Use the kind and ethical approach instead. P. M. find new and better outlet that will replenish your pocketbook.

Scorpio (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21)—A forceful and strong - willed partner could really give you a rough time during the morning if you let strong language get under your skin. Smile. Then find out your true position with key people. P. M. be romantically inclined.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — It is better to perform your duties slowly and methodically instead of rushing through them and causing irreparable damage. P. M. go to some delightful spot with dear friend and come to real meeting of minds. Have fun.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)—Since you seem to want to enjoy yourself at almost any cost today, but duties are pressing upon you, you could easily stoop to being jealous of others and accomplish very little. Be steadfast instead. P. M. fun is still possible for you.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — You are, just in the mood to step up the pace at home in A. M. Avoid this. Be kind and thoughtful instead. This makes it possible for you to enjoy a wonderful time the rest of the day and evening. Think of yourself.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to March 20)—Maintain poise and calm during A. M. or you can have a serious accident or a big argument with persons vital to your well-being. Give attention to repairs needed at abode and be an inspiration to close ones. Have quiet, happy evening.

If your child is 'born today ... The dear child born today is the type who likes to fight for whatever he or she wants. This could be very tiring to you as parents, so early inculcate the finer aspects of harmonious living with others. The chart here is very fine for the cracker-jack salesperson, and there is a deep and natural understanding of client psychology. Gives a fine an education as purse allows. Don't neglect sports.

One-Pack-a-Day Smoker Will Pay $11 More a Year

TORONTO (CP) — Rothmans of Pall Mall Limited announced Friday that as a result of Friday's federal budget the retail prices of cigarets must be increased by at least three cents a package of 20.

The actual increase works out to 3.22 cents per package of 20 cigarets, said Patrick O'Neill-Dunne, world technical director of the Rembrandt - Rothmans-Carreras group.

But "the increase must be added the additional corporation tax, financial charges and recent increases in freight."

The government increased the cigaret excise tax by two cents and raised corporation tax by two per cent.

Average price of popular brands of cigarets in Ontario before the budget was 33 cents a package of 20.

SERIOUS SETBACK

Mr. O'Neill-Dunne said he believes "the new tax will be regarded by tobacco growers, especially in Southern Ontario, as a serious setback."

"The increased tax will cost a one-pack-a-day smoker $11 more per annum."

In Tillsonburg chairman Jesse Gray of the Ontario Flue-Cured Tobacco Growers' Marketing Board said there is a saturation point for taxation of a single product.

"After the government raised cigaret taxes in the 1951 budget, cigaret consumption fell by almost 1,750,000,000 for the last eight months of that year. We can expect a similar pattern to follow the latest increase."

Two Men Given Long Terms for Robbery Attempt

OTTAWA (CP) — An unemployed New Brunswick miner and a typist with 18 foster homes behind him have drawn prison terms of six and nine years on charges of attempted bank robbery arising from an incident in which a police officer was slightly wounded by gunfire last night.

Gordon Reale, 18, of Brockville, identified as a disturbed youth who had been in 18 foster homes, was sentenced to nine years by Magistrate Jean-chim Sauve. David McKellar, 20, of Minto, N.B., was given eight years. Both had pleaded guilty.

The magistrate, ruling on the March 16 downtown robbery attempt, said Friday it had been one of the most difficult decisions he had faced.

"But there is far too much crime of violence today."

The two youths were caught in the act by a daylight hold-up attempt and a shotgun held Reale discharged, slightly wounding police detective John Vaughan.

Defence counsel John Matheson of Brockville, said that Reale met a "tragic" end in life after for the first time last year had also suffered serious injuries in the auto accident for which he was not to blame. Reale was driving a stolen car at

5th Generation Totem Carver

Ellen Neel is the 5th generation of a famous British Columbia Indian family to devote her talents to the native North American art of totem carving. A member of the Kwakiutl tribe from the Alert Bay area of B.C., Mrs. Neel's totem poles are in museums and private collections throughout the world. Most poles are composed of her own family totem emblems, the thunderbird, bear, whale and sea otter.

Queen Elizabeth and Bob Hope are among the world famous personalities who own totem carvings by Ellen Neel. The Russian Minister of Fisheries on a visit to Canada was so impressed with her work he took one of her carvings back with him to Moscow.

Mrs. Neel has 7 children — 3 sons — all of whom are experienced carvers. Totems range in size from delicate carvings to poles 26 feet in height; prices run from $1.00 to $5,000.

THOMASBURG — Mr. Clarence Mounck, who has been a patient in Belleville General Hospital for a lengthy period, is convalescing at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Coulter.

The condition of Mrs. Harry Kennedy, who is confined to Belleville General Hospital, is somewhat improved, although she will be a patient there for some time yet.

A speedy return to good health is the sincere wish of all their friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy W. Thompson and Anne, of Belleville, were Good Friday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Thompson.

Mrs. F. Hicks and Marguerite of Carmel visited Miss Mary Hicks on Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Ronald Adams of Toronto spent the holiday weekend at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Adams.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Vance, Sharon and Linda, were Easter visitors of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Vance and family at Perth.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Elliott, accompanied by Mr. Fred Taylor, of Napanee, motored to Whitby on Easter, returning on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Thompson of Rossland Acres, Trenton, were entertained on Sunday afternoon and evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Thompson.

Capt. and Mrs. Ted Boldis and daughters, of Picton, were Easter guests at the home of Mrs. Boldis's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Dyson, at the parsonage, here.

Good crowds attended the Easter service on Sunday. In the morning, Holy Communion was celebrated by the rector, the Rev. D. Woodward, of Bonlin, in Christ Church.

In the afternoon, in the United Church, 20 adults were received into church membership; 16 by profession of faith and five by transfer from other congregations.

The sacrament of Holy Communion was administered by the pastor, Mr. George Dyson, to the record crowd present.

Two special Easter anthems were rendered by the choir. Easter lilies adorned the front of the church.

A large class of teenagers is receiving instruction in church membership each Saturday morning in the vestry at 10 a.m. and are expected to be received into membership in the near future.

A cup of tea was served by the members of the W.A. in the vestry after the service and a social hour followed.

Mr. Dennis Holt of Belleville is visiting Mr. Willard McFaggart during the Easter holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. George Dyson motored to Warsaw on Tuesday and spent the day with friends there.

Mrs. Alice Shea is the guest of Mrs. Ed Thompson.

It is understood Mr. and Mrs. Russell Wood have sold their farm and are intending to build a new home just east of Highway No. 37, on a lot purchased some time ago from Mr. Harold Geen.

The Golden Years

Here Are Some Errors to Avoid When You Reach Retirement Age

By THOMAS COLLINS

The nice lady and her husband had reached retirement. They wanted very much to have "one grand trip" to Europe, then come home and be content forever after.

But they couldn't go because the lady's mother-in-law was living in their home. She didn't want to be left alone. She would not have any other arrangements the lady could make for her. If they went to Europe, "she'd get so mad she'd have a stroke."

The story appeared here several weeks ago. I told the lady to go and suggested that if the mother-in-law wanted to pop then let her pop.

As a result I have had letters, most of them sizzling.

So perhaps it would be worthwhile to point out — not in criticism of any particular people but for the guidance of all — some of the mistakes older people are making. Because the lady in this case deserved her trip to Europe, and the mother-in-law was wrong.

People who reach age 65 are, in the main, gentle. They ask only to be allowed to live in peace, and don't try to push other people around. But they sometimes err:

1. They go back, too often, to visit the company that retired them. Old colleagues love them still. They just don't have the time to talk.

A DOUBLE MISTAKE

2 They talk too much about their money, if they have any. They make a double mistake in doing so. One is that prospective heirs, being human, would like to get the money as soon as they can. And are likely to dwell on thoughts of it. The other is that older people seldom evaluate their money correctly. They grew up in an age of $ per cent on a fortune of $20,000 and a good job at $2,500 a year. The young generation they're talking to thinks in terms of $100,000 at 4 per cent and decides $4,000 a year would mean privation.

3. They think they have to move when they get their pension. For a long while they thought the only good retirement was to pick up everything and move across 14 states to somewhere, but they're getting over that. Now the yen is for a ranch house in the suburbs. Better they should move across 14 states. What's wrong with the street where people know you?

4. They tend to become dictatorial. Mama more than Papa often becomes a veritable "hero in dealings with her family. And what she can't get by giving orders she can usually get with a pain in her chest. Heart trouble, you know.

To counteract these mistakes, most retired people serve as a fountain of wisdom for those around them. It would be a better world if more young folks came to them for a drink. The elderly know what a young man should do to be a success — they have been up that road. They know when a young wife in the family is getting out of line. Over the last 40 years they have seen a case or two. They know something about how grandchildren should be handled — there wouldn't be any if they themselves hadn't handled small children once.

They exercise a tolerance — by just keeping their mouths shut — that is worthy of a Medal of Honor. Younger people at home and at the company could never know how many times the elderly folks could have told them the facts of life but held their tongues and didn't.

Britain And U.S. Propose Limited Nuclear Test Ban

Would Not Cover Those Underground, in Space

GENEVA (AP) — The United States and Britain asked the Soviet Union today to agree to a prompt controlled suspension of nuclear weapons tests on or near the surface of the earth—leaving the problem of other types of blasts for later negotiations.

Informants said the proposal provided for splitting up the test suspension problem. It was advanced as the three-power talks resumed after an Easter recess.

First Soviet reaction was reported to be negative.

Under the new Western plan, agreement would be reached at once on banning surface and low-level nuclear tests—the ones which cause dangerous radioactive fallout.

Such an agreement would not cover very high altitude and underground explosions of nuclear weapons blasts. Such explosions —difficult to police in any event —would be the subject of separate agreement reached after policing procedures had been established.

Western officials were hopeful their new formula might help break Russia's stiff opposition against a veto - free inspection system. Under the new proposed agreement banning nuclear tests.

Judging from the line taken in Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko's speech to the conference recessed March 19 after five largely futile months of talking.

RUSSIA WANTS VETO

The Russians clarify still want the veto over any international control machinery established to enforce a test ban.

The United States and Britain insist on a control system set up in the struggle between East and West, organized to operate with a minimum of government interference. U.S. officials have denounced the veto as a device that would permit the Soviets to block the operations of inspection teams and thereby open the way for sneak tests.

Officials in Washington said that if underground and high altitude tests were exempted from the ban, "practical inspection measures might be easier to agree on. Prohibition of lower-level tests might be more readily enforced, they said, because the fallout from such tests makes them much more easily detectible.

'Mom' Whyte Plans to Turn Farm Into Village for Homeless Children

BOWMANVILLE (CP)—Bertha (Mom) Whyte says she plans to transform her 50-acre farm two miles west of here into a small village at a cost of $500,000.

There are 135 temporarily homeless children sheltered at Bowmanville in a staff of 14 volunteers.

The new venture would provide accommodation for another 200 children.

Plans call for a series of buildings facing Highway 401—a three-storey administration building to house gymnasium, kitchen, dining hall and chapel, two dormitories, a school, service station and restaurant, a bake shop and home for married staff.

Mrs. Whyte said construction is expected to start next summer. Plans are being drawn by George Tonks, Oshawa architect, and will be submitted to Welfare Minister Cecile this week.

"This will be a great project when completed," she said. "It will be like a small village of home-type buildings. We don't want it to look like an institution."

Mom Whyte said she did not know whether the money would come from the government or fund or private individuals.

"God will pull us through no other test of strength," she said.

52-MAN COUNCIL OF DOUKHOBORS NOW POWERLESS

Women Take Control Of Sect's Affairs

TRESTOVA, B. C. (CP)—Apparently incited by repeated failures of their 52 -man fraternal council to free Freedomite children from the control of the British Columbia government, the Sons of Freedom Doukhobors yesterday stripped the council of its power.

The move was made during a meeting in this southeastern B.C. community— a Doukhobor stronghold—which is dominated by women. It appeared the women took control of the sect's affairs.

Peter Elassoff, secretary and a member of the council, said the 52-man body now is without power and, when asked by a reporter the reasons behind the decision, said: "better talk to the women."

He added that as far as he knew no decision so far has been elected to replace the council.

The Vancouver Province said the women took absolute control of the sect at a three-day development of the meeting during which an angry crowd "mostly" men have been playing with this situation with "considerable concern" over what we're going to take over."

Spark plugs were later removed was the New Denver, B.C. provincial dormitory, 90 miles northwest of here, where 75 Freedomite children remain at the dormitory unless their parents refuse to send the children to the school. There are about 75 children in the dormitory, called a concentration camp by Freedomites. It was established in 1954 to separate Doukhobor children receive proper education.

Freedomites refused to send children to school on their districts, claiming Canadian education teaches militarism. The children remain at the dormitory until they are 15. They attended nearby school with other children.

RCMP FELTED

In a late move to win freedom for their children the sons established four schools in their districts. Subjects taught—all in Russian—included elementary grammar, mathematics, geography and a limited amount of history. However, they complained investigating the new schools Friday the police had to break down and rocks by Freedomite women. One woman who pummelled a policeman with her fists has been charged with assault and will appear in court on Wednesday.

Besides Mr. Elassoff, John J. Verpeikin, chairman of the council, and Bill Kalmakoff, former secretary, also lost their jobs.

The Sons of Freedom, numbering not more than 3,000, is a radical minority of the Doukhobor sect which came to Canada from Russia about 1899. Each year they said they planned to return to Russia and the federal government promised to pay reasonable transportation costs. The government also promised an equal amount towards resettlement of the sect in Russia.

Sphears years ago said he wanted to live to 120. He had been in the hospital for elderly persons since 1953. Born in Gloucester, England, he left home at the age of 12 and began life at sea in 1873 when he joined the Royal Navy. (CP Photo).

"Fiery Sparks" Mysterious Object Sighted Over Montreal Playground

MONTREAL (CP)—A mysterious object sighted Sunday night over the RCAF base at nearby St. Hubert was reported today to have hovered for several minutes over a playing field in Montreal's north end.

Claude Mercier said that he and about 10 of his neighbors saw the object hovering over a park area at the intersection of de Fleuri mont and Garnier streets.

"It looked like a big round ball soon, about 10 feet in diameter, with a yellow light inside," said Mercier in an interview. "Fiery sparks came from the underside of the object as it hovered over the field.

"It was very low and it appeared as though it was going to land. But after hanging in the air for a minutes it took off, rising not vertically but at a slant and at a terrific speed. Within two or three minutes we had lost sight of it on the horizon."

As it rose, he said, the yellow light inside the balloon seemed to go out. All that could be seen then was a slight glow from the object.

He said the sighting was made about 8 p.m., approximately at the same time as people in suburbs on the south shore opposite Montreal were reporting a mysterious red light over the RCAF base.

A spokesman at Air Defence Command in St. Hubert said the control tower operator there did not see the object. It did not show on the base's radar.

"Our switchboard operator said he saw a black ball with a red light on it," said the spokesman. "She said the ball appeared to be sitting on the moon."

He had no official explanation for these phenomena," said the spokesman.

Information was gathered on them and forwarded to the transport department in Ottawa and the department in turn passed the information on to Washington and from there it was circulated to all parts of the world.

The spokesman said that an object similar to the one reported Sunday night had been sighted over the base a couple of months ago. When it was checked out it was found that what people had seen was an aircraft with a red light on its underside.

Dulles Is Back in Hospital Believe Resignation Possible

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower conferred for 45 minutes today with ailing State Secretary Dulles. They got off separate vehicles as to Dulles' future official role pending "additional medical observation and treatment."

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower visited ailing State Secretary John Foster Dulles at the Walter Reed Army Hospital today. An early decision appeared probable on how long Dulles would remain in the cabinet.

Eisenhower went directly to the hospital after arriving by plane from Augusta, Ga., where he has been on a golfing vacation.

When Eisenhower left after spending 45 minutes with Dulles, presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty said an announcement would be made shortly at the White House. Hagerty did not specify whether the announcement would be on Dulles.

A reporter asked Eisenhower how Dulles was.

"Fine," Eisenhower replied.

Allen W. Dulles, brother of the U.S. Intelligence Agency and himself a former CIA director, arrived at Walter Reed five minutes after the president.

Already with Dulles were his state department aide, Joseph N. Greene, and his secretary Phyllis Bernau. They had gone to the hospital earlier in the morning.

Eisenhower grinned at reporters and photographers as he stepped out of his limousine at the end of the 30-minute drive from the airport to the hospital.

Eisenhower was accompanied by his chief aide, Wilton B. Persons, press secretary James C. Hagerty and Maj.-Gen. Howard Snyder, the president's personal physician.

Eisenhower had already arranged for a 24-hour stopover in Washington before Dulles flew back from Florida to re-enter the hospital.

The 71-year-old Dulles re-entered hospital yesterday afternoon. He was looking haggard and considerably underweight. His complexion was an ashen color.

He returned to Washington a few hours after the State department said "it now is desirable he have a period of further medical observation."

FRENCH LEADERS ARRIVE IN LONDON TO SEEK ACCORD

Hope for Agreement On Policy at Parley

LONDON (CP) — French Premier Michel Debre and Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville arrived today for talks with their British opposite numbers on forthcoming East-West negotiations on Europe.

The meeting is a new step in exchanges among the chief Western Allies aimed at agreeing on a unified approach at the scheduled May 11 meeting of Western and Communist and Western foreign ministers.

Differences on the right line to take with Russia are crucial issues such as the future status of Berlin and Germany appeared between Britain on one hand and France, West Germany and the United States on the other following Prime Minister Macmillan's trip to Moscow six weeks ago.

MUST NOT WEAKEN

French sources say there is full agreement with the British that there must be no weakening of Atlantic pact power in Europe, no recognition of partition of Germany and that the Western Allies must maintain undiminished access to Berlin through East German territory.

The chief sources of disagreements between the British and the French, who claim limited States and German backing, concern Macmillan's ideas on neutralized zones and measures to police withdrawals.

The British are reported analyzing with interest a gesture indicating prior willingness to negotiate seriously with the Russians. The French fear such a move would suggest weakness.

CAUTIOUS INDIA

The British idea for reducing tension where Eastern and Western forces face each other along the Iron Curtain is criticized by other Western governments as premature and potentially dangerous.

The French and West Germans fear sashing smacking of disengagement in central Europe might seem to be the first step in complete withdrawal of United States and British forces and even the closure of a military vacuum.

British leaders have emphasized that they favor "controlled disengagement." What Macmillan agreed on with Soviet Premier Khrushchev in Moscow, the British say, was to recommend study of a limitation of forces and armaments in an agreed area under international control.

This has been described as an arms "freeze," "a thinned-out zone" and more recently as the "ceiling" of forces in Europe.

RELATIONS WORSEN

Meanwhile, the British government is reported to be concerned about a worsening of British-United States relations and calls and comments in newspapers have built up a picture of the two allies as disagreeing basically and emotionally.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer last Wednesday charged that "wire pullers" in the United States were trying to "impair the mood of Great Britain's friendship" with Bonn.

Informants said the consensus among ministers of the British cabinet was that Adenauer had exaggerated the effect of press criticisms of Britain and that he recently have been openly hostile to the Germans.

Liquor Prices Boosted 20-25 Cents a Bottle

TORONTO (CP)—Ontario residents will pay slightly higher prices for spirits starting today, W. H. Collings, chief commissioner of the Liquor Control Board of Ontario, has announced.

Before deciding on the price boosts, Mr. Collings said the board gave careful consideration to the increase in excise duty on spirits and the 5% sales tax announced Thursday in the federal budget.

Mr. Collings said retail prices of all Canadian spirits will be 10 cents higher on the half-bottle and 20 cents on the full bottle. Imported spirits will cost 10 cents more for the half-bottle and 25 cents on the full bottle.

Prices of wines and imported beer are unchanged.

Pigeons May Provide Valuable Aid In Solving Heart Disease Riddle

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Pigeons may provide new and valuable aid in the quest to solve the riddle of a major cause of heart disease, a group of North Carolina doctors reported today.

Dr. T. B. Clarkson and three associates of Bowman Gray School of Medicine, Winston-Salem, reported they have discovered at least one variety of pigeon that develops, in addition to fruitless search by science for "an inexpensive and readily available animal with spontaneous atherosclerosis."

"Atherosclerosis," which get part of its name from the Greek word athero, meaning porridge, is a condition in which a mush material accumulates in the inner lining of arteries, thus narrowing the passageways for blood. The condition is the cause of coronary heart attacks and cerebral strokes in man.

The doctors told about the pigeon find in a scientific exhibit at Atlantic City at a peak period of the 43rd annual meeting of the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology.

They said they examined two pigeons which were called the "white carneau," the other called "show racer."

Both breeds were kept under identical conditions of diet, physical activity at a peak period and after a period of time, were sacrificed and studied for evidence of atherosclerosis.

All the white carneaus had it, and none of abnormalities disclosed in the blood vessels were "striking similar to those of human beings." But none of the other breed had it.

The doctors reported that it's possible the development of the condition in the white carneaus may be related in part to genetic factors.

Frobisher Ltd. To Re-open Three Hastings Mines

Child, Rankin, Bessemer Iron Projects Planned

TORONTO (CP) — Development of iron-ore properties in southeastern Ontario is being considered by Frobisher Ltd., it is stated in the company's annual report.

The properties consist of some 4,000 acres in Marys and Dungannon townships of Hastings County, on which are situated the former producing iron mines known as Child, Rankin and Bessemer.

In 1958 a program of development work was carried out to supplement inconclusive data from previous programs.

As a result, the report says, "it now is clearly apparent that in these properties the company has an important asset capable of early development, and active investigation now is being made of various alternative means of its accomplishment."

GOOD ORE

Metallurgical tests indicate that the ore can be treated to produce a concentrate grading better than 66 per cent iron, and impurities in the concentrate "are by no means likely to be generally acceptable to the steel industry."

A production plan envisages output of 250,000 long tons of concentrate annually from the mill that would handle 4,000 tons of ore a day. Over-all ore reserves on these bases would be approximately 18 years, or more, it adds.

This would be capable of substantial extension by inaugurating an underground operation at the Childs-Rankin mine.

At present the Childs-Rankin deposits can be mined by open pit mining but the Bessemer would require underground operation.

Capital cost of bringing the mines into production at this stage is estimated at about $8,000,000.

Frobisher operates and manages a wide range of mining interests in Canada and other parts of the world.

U. S. Planning Shot at Venus

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States plans to launch a 50-pound satellite next month in a new attempt to reach and explore the planet Venus.

A National Aeronautics and Space Administration spokesman said Sunday night the launching will be made from Cape Canaveral, Fla., under NASA supervision. Earlier a follow-up attempt probably will be made in June to send a Venus probe on a flight into the sun.

Next month's satellite, equipped with four rectangular fins, will have a solar battery much like those powering the gear contained in Vanguard I. The first Vanguard, launched nearly 11 months ago, still is orbiting and its solar-powered transmitter has been sending signals. The fins on the planned satellites will provide more area for gathering the solar energy.

NASA hopes the new satellite will pass at a peak altitude of 20,000 to 30,000 miles, dipping to a low altitude of 200 miles.

Strike-Bound Ships' Future May Be Decided

HALIFAX (CP) — The future of eight former Canadian merchant ships that haven't hauled a payload for nearly two years may be known within a month.

The ships of the former Canadian National Steamships West Indies fleet now are owned by a Cuban Bank. A Cuban government official, Jose Comiero arrived here Saturday from talks in Montreal with the Seafarers International Union CLC. The union struck CNS in July, 1957 for higher wages. The ships, sold last year to Cuban interests, have been idle ever since.

Mr. Comiero said in an interview the Cuban government had spent about $500,000 to maintain and re-classify the ships.

"We are not a rich country," he said. "We cannot continue this indefinitely. Cuba needs these ships, but Cuba must settle the matter in 30 days."

CNS sold the ships for $2,800,000 to the Cuban Bank.

The ships are now tied up in a Baltimore shipyard.

Tanker Breaks Through Ice

PORT COLBORNE(CP)— A tanker escaped the ice near this city's harbor entrance the weekend but how long the channel it found will be there was unknown.

The Imperial Hamilton, skippered by a mile-wide channel into the lake 15 miles west of here. Sunday morning after carefully watching for ice for this opportunity.

Three other ships immediately left Sarnia for here but it was not known whether they would be able to find the channel which was created when high winds slowed the ice southward. It was feared that southerly winds last night would allow the ice back over the channel.

SAY FAMILY STARVING

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)— Michael O'Grady, a house painter, was released from here April 28 on a charge of failing to provide necessities of life for his family. O'Grady was charged after his three-month-old son died of what a doctor said was "a shocking state" of malnutrition. O'Grady said his three other children are being treated for malnutrition.

Ladies Royally Entertained At Masonic Annual Banquet

The ladies reigned as "Queens-for-a-night" on Saturday night when the Moira Lodge, A. F. and A. M. No. 11, G. R. C., held their annual Ladies' Night.

Approximately - $75 attended the gala event held in the Masonic Temple, on Foster Avenue.

The ladies, as guests of honour, were dined, toasted, entertained and presented with corsages and gifts, during this special evening.

The evening got underway with a sumptuous turkey dinner. This was followed by an entertaining program, the highlight of which was a humorous address by His Worship, Mayor Gerald B. Hyde.

Mayor Hyde gave his audience a humorous account of the duties carried out by Belleville's Chief Magistrate.

He disclosed he has so far attended 139 functions, including such things as dinner meetings; meetings of various boards and committees; and visits. He is automatically a member of 21, and numerous city organizations; banquets, presentations, and out-of-town conventions.

Not to be outdone by Belle-story Mayor MacKay, Mayor Hyde also listed his "spoils of office". They consist of a pair of shoes, a year-round theatre pass, two paper weights, two watches, various service messages, and honorary membership in various organizations.

In typical Dragnet-style, he then proceeded to give a minute-by-minute account of one day's activities. The day was climaxed when the Mayor humorously resume dealt chiefly with the problems incurred by the Mayor of the Near Homecoming celebration — particularly when his wife was left to fend over until Thursday, after arrangements had been made for Wednesday. The mayor listed the numerous phone calls he received — culminating in confusion of the change in the home-coming date. One call received a complaint from a bridge club who had already changed their date to the same night as Thursday so as not to conflict with the home-coming activities.

Other calls included one from an irate citizen who asked why there was not a fifty ball game on Monday evening. (Council doesn't meet on Easter Monday.) Another call was received from an anxious woman who wondered what caused an explosion the previous day.

The mayor next discussed the telephone calls he'll make to receive "in the line of duty", much of which is for requests for anything from a picture of the McFarland hockey team to engineering help on a new political party.

MANY QUERIES

This was followed by a description of the type of phone calls usually received by Belleville's chief magistrate. He said many of them came in the middle of the night, concern "everything under the sun" — from a man requesting permission to have the city jail over night, to a complaint of the mayor's admitted lack of knowledges of hockey.

He also get many genuine complaints and good suggestions," he said. "If they are serious I refer it to a mayor's duty to do something about them," he added.

Mayor Hyde then quoted a phrase from an address given at a banquet which he attended.

"The speaker said, 'Service to your fellow man is just what rent you pay for the space you occupy on earth'," he quoted in noting there is always room for people wishing to serve, particularly in service clubs and on city council.

The mayor was introduced by Worshipful Bro. C. W. Barnes and thanked by Bro. Windsor Bushell.

The program was under the chairmanship of the Master of the lodge, Worshipful Bro. Harry Bailey, who gave a few brief remarks welcoming those present.

Invocation was given by Wor. Bro. Cyril McMullen.

Head table guests, and other guests identified with three other lodges, Eureka Lodge, Temple Lodge, and Tyre Belleville Lodge, and district officers) and their wives, were introduced by Worshipful Bro. J. Ray Grant.

Among the head table guests, members of Moira Lodge executives and past officers, and their wives, was Rt. Wor. Bro. Frank G. Cowgan, District Deputy Grand Master of Prince Edward District, who was introduced later in the evening and gave a brief address.

A toast to the ladies was proposed by Wor. Bro. Horace Casey and responded to by Mrs. Mark J. Vanner.

Entertainment was provided by Bro. Edward McNish, who sang three solos, accompanied by Williams D. Thompson.

Thanks were expressed by Bro. P. Foster.

Corsages were presented to the ladies and a draw for door prizes headed by local merchants, was held. The draw was for the ladies only.

Roslin Anglican W.A. was thanked for catering for the banquet by Bro. Ross Bunnett.

The Junior Warden's toast concluded the program.

The remainder of the evening was spent in playing cards and dancing.

TORONTO STOCKS

TORONTO (CP) — Industrials were strong but the rest of the stock market slipped back today in moderate morning trading.

The 11 a.m. volume was 1,304,000 shares, the fastest first hour in a week and compared with Friday's 961,000.

In speculative mines Can-Erin was down 20 cents at 32.00, on a turnover of 145,000 shares.

Among industrial pipelines Interprovincial each added ½, Ford A had the best gain, up 1 at 126.

Coppers were weak in base metals and although senior mines were mixed a number of junior coppers dipped up to 10 cents. The custom smelter price for copper was cut by a 1-cent in New York Friday.

Senior golds were quiet and unchanged. Among juniors Consolidated Discovery eased 10-cents at $3.75.

Pakistan Says Plane on Picture Mission

KARACHI (CP)—Pakistan has charged that an Indian Canberra jet bomber shot down near Rawalpindi was on a mission to photograph military targets in Pakistan.

It rejected a declaration by India's defence minister, V. K. Krishna Menon, that navigational difficulties caused the Canberra to stray across the frontier 60w8.x day and that it had no hostile intent.

New Delhi and Karachi exchanged protests.

DOLLAR RATE

MONTREAL (CP) — The U.S. dollar was at a discount of 3 9-16 per cent in terms of Canadian funds, at noon today. Friday's noon rate was 96⅝ cents. Pound sterling $2.71 9-16 up ⅛.

Await Opening Of Soo Canal

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (CP) — The freighter C. S. McFarland is expected to pass through the Soo canal today, making the official 1959 opening of the waterway.

The McFarland, scheduled to pick up cargo at the Algoma steel mills here, has been standing in the lower St. Mary's River, awaiting assistance from the ice-breaker Mackinaw.

The McFarland may be joined today by the Buckeye, a sister ship in the Columbia Line.

The Manuutti of the Manuutti Steamship Company will move through the American locks today for the Algoma steel mills but the vessel wintered at the Soo, and her passage does not mark official opening of the canal.

After clearing a path for the McFarland the Mackinaw likely will move on to Whitefish Bay at the east end of Lake Superior to break a channel for downbound ships.

The United States coast guard reports that ships at Superior, Wisconsin, Duluth, Minnesota and at the Lakehead are preparing to move downbound on Wednesday and if they meet favorable ice conditions should arrive at the Soo canal Thursday.

ELEPHANT'S SIZE

The largest elephant on record stood 15 feet 2 inches at the shoulder, and weighed about 12 tons.

Mrs. Sarah-Emily Rowe (above) who celebrated her 101st birthday yesterday in the Hastings County Home was born in Demorestville over a century ago.

In spite of her advanced age, Mrs. Rowe enjoys life to the full, and although rather deaf, carries on most witty and animated conversations with those around her.

On the occasion of her attaining a full century of life a year ago, Mrs. Rowe received a certificate from the Provincial Secretary for the Province of Ontario.

Her son, Mr. George Saunders of Belleville, with his wife and many other relatives enjoyed a birthday tea with the happy centenarian plus on the day before her birthday.

Mrs. Rowe was widowed three times during her long life, and is the daughter of the late Jeremiah Cole and Lydia Badgely.

New Structure Will House Trust Company

With all interior fixtures and other materials salvaged, the walls of the old Bank of Nova Scotia building at the corner of Front and McAnnany Streets are now rapidly coming down to make way for a new structure which will house the Victoria and Grey Trust Co.

The old bank building, along with James Testa and the Diana Grill which were completely gutted, was damaged in a serious fire last Boxing Day.

The three storey corner building now being torn down had offices and apartments on the second and third floors. Much of the ground floor space had twice been occupied as bank offices, the bank of Nova Scotia being situated there until about two years ago.

Before the Bank of Nova Scotia came to Belleville about ten years ago the office had been used as the Belleville office of the Grand Junction Railway, and at the time of the fire was the office of Sprague and Cameron, local solicitors.

Firemen Answer Four Calls

Belleville's firefighters were kept busy yesterday with four alarms being turned in. The call came from 219 North Front street, from 210 Coleman Front Street on a grass fire. This was not too serious and was handled in short order. At 2.55 p.m. a brush fire was reported at the Houston Lumber Company.

Two other fires occurred, both due to careless smoking habits. The first which occurred at 28 Albion Street, was caused by a Mr. Mahon at 4.37 p.m. A fire had started in a mattress. The fire was discovered early and was extinguished by firemen before any serious damage was done. The final call came at 6.19 p.m. from 243 North Front street from Jerry MacIntyre. A chesterfield chair had been set on fire due to careless smoking habits. Because no one was home when the fire got underway considerable damage was done to the front room of the house before the fire was discovered and reported.

Blind Mark 25th Year of "Talking Books"

This week marks the twenty-fifth anniversary of the beginning of talking book services to the blind, and since it is also Book Week in Canada this unusual book service is interesting because it is somewhat unique. All over Canada every day of the year, mail men are delivering Talking Books to blind readers. The books are unabridged recorded editions of best sellers, How-to-do-its, history and every type of book that is published in North America. Carried without charge by the Post Office, two-and-a-half tons of these books leave the CNIB library in Toronto each morning.

In 1934 engineers in Britain and also United States produced a long playing disc that was highly satisfactory but a far cry from the Hi-Fi products known today. The Talking Book playing for 15 minutes a side, was welcomed by blind readers many years before it was produced commercially for music and general use.

The first Talking Books to reach the CNIB library were John Masefield's "Birds of Ferney" and comprising 11 records James Hilton's "Lost Horizon," 12 records, and "Goodbye Mr. Chips," 3 records. Both sides of the records were used.

Now some 1,000 authors read all or part of the books. Harry Truman, Eleanor Roosevelt, Alexander Woollcott, Thomas Mann, Clifton Fadiman, Edna Ferber and Somerset Maugham are among those to do service for the blind.

The average book requires twelve hours reading time by professional readers.

The reading is done on tape and then transferred to the disc. This process requires 110 double discs — War and Peace 119.

CNIB provides talking books as a national service free of charge to blind readers, with purchases from British and American sources. No aid or appliance available to the blind has been as good a friend as these Talking Books. Talking Books are recorded solely for the use of the blind.

DIANA DORS WEDS

NEW YORK (AP) — Within 45 minutes Sunday night, Diana Dors, 26, blonde British actress, was a guest star on the Steve Allen television show and was married to Britain's Actor Dickie Dawson, 28. Miss Dors left the NBC-TV show, dashed to her apartment, changed into a wedding gown, met Dawson, arrived at the luxurious apartment of singer Fran Warren and was married by Judge Thomas A. Aurelio.

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Mumby, formerly of Belleville, recently sailed from New York to serve in the missionary field in South Africa.

Couple Bound for South Africa To Continue Work in Christian Field

Eric Mumby, well known to many in the Belleville and Stirling area, accompanied by his wife, Blanche, recently sailed from New York bound for the Union of South Africa with the object of advancing their religious beliefs in that country. The couple are Jehovah's Witnesses.

Their destination is Queenstown, a city in the mountainous region 150 miles inland from the Indian Ocean in the Cape Province, some 30 degrees south of the Equator. The 7,000 mile voyage is scheduled to take 27 days from New York to the port of East London.

Forty-nine year old Mr. Mumby said that their decision to go to South Africa was made last summer after speaking with delegates from that country whom they met at a large international convention of Jehovah's Witnesses held in New York City. "It was obvious", Mr. Mumby said, "that the need was far greater in South Africa where there are only 15,000 Witnesses in a population of over 14,000,000 including 34,000 Witnesses among Canada's 17,000,000 population. We decided then and there to sell our home and possessions in Canada and pursue our purpose in the christian ministry in this foreign field".

Born in Madoc, Mr. Mumby later moved to Stirling where he met and married Blanche Hadley, daughter of the late Herbert Hadley who operated a jewellery store in Stirling for many years. Mr. Mumby was employed by Stirling Motor Sales for several years and in 1941 came to Belleville to work for J. B. Boyce and Son. In 1943 he entered into partnership with Hugh Luttrell to operate an automobile repair service known as Luttrell and Mumby". He moved to Oshawa in 1951 and three years later to Hamilton where he has since been employed as salesman for Toronto-Hamilton Auto Electric.

Mrs. Mumby's interest in Bible work preceded that of her husband. Her parents had been Jehovah's Witnesses since 1916. She entered the part time ministry in 1938.

Mr. and Mrs. Mumby have two married daughters; Joy Brookbent, 24, living in Hamilton, and Joanne Parsons, 21, living in Sarnia.

MINISTERS RESIGN

CAIRO, Egypt (Reuters)—Egyptian newspapers reported Sunday that four Iraqi cabinet ministers have resigned in protest against Iraqi Premier Abdul Karim Kassem's decision to arm the Communist-sympathizing popular resistance forces. The ministers were reported to have told Kassem that his collaboration with the Communists "had reached the point of no return."

TORONTO STOCKS

TORONTO (CP) — Industrials were strong but the rest of the stock market slipped back today in moderate morning trading.

The 11 a.m. volume was 1,304,000 shares, the fastest first hour in a week and compared with Friday's 961,000.

In speculative mines Can-Erin was down 20 cents at $2.00, on a turnover of 145,000 shares.

Among industrial pipelines were higher as Trans-Canada and Interprovincial each added ½. Ford A had the best gain, up 1 at 124.

Coppers were weak in base metals and although senior mines were mixed a number of junior coppers dipped up to 10 cents. The custom smelter price for copper was cut by a 1-cent in New York Friday.

Senior golds were quiet and unchanged. Among junior Consolidated Discovery eased 10-cents at $3.75.

Firemen Answer Four Calls

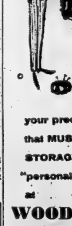
Belleville's firefighters were kept busy yesterday with four alarms being turned in. The call came from 219 North and came from 210 North Front Street on a grass fire. This was not too serious and was handled in short order. At 2.55 p.m. a brush fire was reported at the Houston Lumber Company.

Two other fires occurred, both due to careless smoking habits. The first which occurred at 28 Albion Street, was rung in by a Mr. Mahon at 4.37 p.m. A fire had started in a mattress. The fire was discovered early and was extinguished by firemen before any serious damage was done. The final call came at 6.19 p.m. from 243 North Front street from Jerry MacIntyre. A chesterfield chair had been set on fire due to careless smoking habits. Because no one was home when the fire got underway considerable damage was done to the front room of the house before the fire was discovered and reported.

New Structure Will House Trust Company

With all interior fixtures and other materials salvaged, the walls of the old Bank of Nova Scotia building at the corner of Front and McAnnany Streets are now rapidly coming down to make way for a new structure which will house the Victoria and Grey Trust.

The old bank building, along with James Teets and the Diana Grill which were completely gutted, was damaged in a serious fire last Boxing Day.



The three storey corner building now being torn down had offices and apartments on the second and third floors. Much of the ground floor space had twice been occupied as bank offices, the bank of Nova Scotia being situated there until about two years ago.

Before the Bank of Nova Scotia came to Belleville about ten years ago the office had been used as the Belleville office of the district cheese grader, and at the time of the fire was the office of Sprague and Cameron, local solicitors.

The Mancastrian, scheduled to pick up cargo at the Algoma steel mills here, has been standing in the lower St. Mary's River, awaiting assistance from the ice-breaker Mackinaw.

The McFarland may be joined today by the Buckeye, a sister ship in the Columbia Line.

The Manzuiti of the Mannutti Steamship Company will move through the American locks today for the Algoma steel mills but the vessel wintered at the Soo, and her passage does not mark official opening of the canal.

After clearing a path for the McFarland the Mackinaw likely will move on to Whitefish Bay at the east end of Lake Superior to prepare a channel for downbound ships.

The United States coast guard reports that ships at Superior, Wisconsin, Duluth, Minnesota and at the Soo Thread are preparing to move downbound on Wednesday and if they meet favorable ice conditions should arrive at the Soo canal Thursday.

Blind Mark 25th Year of "Talking Books"

This week marks the twenty-fifth anniversary of the beginning of talking book services to the blind, and since it is also Book Week in Canada this unusual book service is interesting because it is somewhat unique. All over Canada every day of the year, mail men are delivering Talking Books to blind readers. The books are unabridged recorded editions of best sellers, How-to-do-its, history and every type of book that is published in North America. Carried without charge by the Post Office, two-and-a-half tons of these books leave the CNIB library in Toronto each morning.

In 1934 engineers in Britain and also United States produced a long playing disc that was highly satisfactory but a far cry from the Hi-Fi products known today. The Talking Book playing for 15 minutes a side was considered by blind readers many years before it was produced commercially for recreation and general use.

The first Talking Books to reach the CNIB library were John Masefield's "Birds" and "Recovering" 13 records. James Hilton's "Lost Horizon," 12 records, and "Good-bye Mr. Chips," 6 records. Both sides of the records were used.

In some cases authors read all or part of the books. Harry Truman, Eleanor Roosevelt, Alexander Woollcott, Thomas Mann, Clifton Fadiman, Edna Ferber and Somerset Maugham are among those to do a service for the blind.

The average book requires twelve hours reading time by a professional reader. Sometimes the reading is done on tape and then transferred to the disc. This requires a double discs — War and Peace 119.

CNIB provides Talking books as a national service free of charge to blind readers, and when possible from Britain and American sources. No aid or appliance available to the blind has been as good a friend as these Talking Books. Talking Books are recorded solely for the use of the blind.

THE BUDGET EXAMINED

When it comes to budgets, taxpayers are divided into two classes, rabid supporters of the party in power, and critics. Finance ministers early become accustomed to this unpleasant fact.

Critics of budgets may be divided into three classes, rabid supporters of the parties out of power, those who dislike what the finance minister is trying to do, and those who approve of what he is trying to do, but dislike the tools he has chosen to accomplish the task.

What Mr. Fleming was trying to do was obvious - - even if he had not stated his objective in plain words. He wanted to reduce the size of the deficit. Some there will be who will maintain this objective is undesirable, or at least that there are other more important objectives which cannot be achieved if the deficit is cut. However, no matter what may be said for the theory of deficit financing in times of depression, we suggest that if the present economic conditions do not change, they differ in several highly important respects from those commonly associated with a depression in the days when the Keynesian theory was first being evolved. Prices are rising rather than falling. While there are many without work there are still more Canadians steadily employed at high wages. Most Canadians, we think, still own their own land. Old-age pensions are not so bad that Canadians would be justified in continuing to pile up heavy debts for future generations to pay. We are not so poor that we cannot at least take the first step toward paying our own way.

For those who accept this view, there remains the question of whether Mr. Fleming selected the right tools for the speedy accomplishment of a desirable task.

Many Canadians will approve of the higher tax on corporation incomes over $25,000 because they will imagine that this is in accordance with the principle that taxes should be paid by those best able to do so - - and because they will fondly, and vainly, fear economically. Imagine that this increase will not affect them personally.

The difficulty is that corporation taxes are a two-edged sword - - and either edge can give customers a nasty cut. If times are bad, corporations may endeavor to absorb the increase, profits may decline and dividend payments may be held off. If times are good, the tax increase will almost certainly be passed on to consumers, not merely in its original size but enlarged by the accountant's conviction that no tax is a good tax unless the taxpayer collects from the consumer not only the tax itself but his normal margin of profit on it.

The increase in the excise taxes on cigarets, cigars and liquor is likely to be applauded by those who regard smoking and drinking as sinful, approved but with less enthusiasm by those most abstention is a matter of taste, rather than of morals and deplored by smokers and drinkers. Can it be that indulgence is the only reason why we feel like asking Mr. Fleming whether there ought to be a limit on some taxes, even on luxuries?

With the general increase of two per cent in the personal income tax on taxable incomes above $3,000, we have no quarrel. Nor do we object to the increase of one per cent on taxable incomes below $3,000. We do think, though, that the effect of the latter increase, plus similar increases in the general sales tax and the tax on corporation-incomes below $25,000, deserve some fuller consideration. There is no question but that the sales tax is a bad tax, to be avoided where possible. It takes from the poor in the same proportion as from the rich. Like corporation taxes, it is swollen by the time it is borne by consumers.

When the reason for the increase stems, in part at least, from the fiction that the Canadian old age pension scheme is a contributory plan; in the special sense given to the word "contributory" used in this connection, common sense tells us that further examination of the problem is needed.

This fiction was handed down by the former Liberal regime and the Progressive Conservatives not only adopted the dull-witted offspring but, surprisingly have been treating it as if it was their own flesh and blood. There is sound reason why taxes should be ear-marked for pension purposes, since this permits taxpayers to realize that they are paying for the social security measures we demand. (Incidentally, reasons just as sound, because identical, could be advanced for ear-marking taxes for a dozen or more other purposes, but this is not done). Ear-marking taxes for pensions, though, does not make the scheme contributory. None of the benefit paid by the individual is set aside to provide his future pension. All are spent to meet today's pensions. The limited levy on the individual, formerly $60 and now $90, is difficult to defend. In 1958 it had the result of forcing taxpayers to pay tax at a higher rate on taxable income between $2,000 and $3,000 (19 per cent) than on income between $3,000 and $4,000 (17 per cent). The two per cent general increase on taxable income above $3,000, combined with the one per cent increase in the security tax, has halved this differential, making the rate on income between $2,000 and $3,000 20 per cent and the rate between $3,000 and $4,000 19 per cent. But instead of spanking this brain-child of an earlier regime, Mr. Fleming should have disowned it. Elimination of the ceiling on the security tax on personal incomes would have enabled him to reduce, or eliminate, the contribution by sales tax for this purpose.

The Schleifer ranch is mainly devoted to raising prime beef cattle of which there were approximately four hundred at the time of our visit. Another crop is coconuts which is harvested every four months to produce copra which yields oil for the soap industry as well as for other commercial uses. Something like 40,000 coconuts are collected at each harvest. Normally the ranch employs thirty-five persons but for the coconut collection seventy five or more persons are required. As the nuts must be knocked from the tall palms the natives are very skilled in climbing the trees. Donkeys are used to carry the nuts to the shipping points where the meat is extracted from the husks and made ready for trucking away.

Following a delicious luncheon, Mr. and Mrs. Schleifer took us through a tour of their property in a station wagon. As we drove through the laneways and pasture fields, work was progressing on fence and roadway repairs. Trees and plants were being identified including one low-growing plant with an elongated leaf a couple of inches long and looking not unlike a miniature banana. This was touched gently with the finger it immediately folded its sides together and closing a book, then in a second or so opened up again. The plant has a sting like a nettle and is avoided by grazing cattle. The common name for this pest is "shame."

Two different types of forage are planted, a grass called "para" variety pimento, which grows as a low bushes 18 inches tall and a new variety, pangola, which has a lusher growth and can attain a height of 3 feet. To the horse than any other known grass and is very nutritious providing in these areas. The oldest grass is gradually being replaced since it is a difficult conditions for the tough soil must be ploughed. This has been done for many years and the new grass sown.

BLEEDING OF CATTLE

Coming to a large field the young owner rounded up around 100 cattle as well as some Belleville cattle as could be seen on any Ontario farm. Mostly, they were all light brown with a touch of black about the shoulders and neck. They appeared to have some of the Brahman strain which was developed in Texas almost a century in tropical climates.

The animals were quiet and it was amusing to see them stand looking us over with the same curiosity as we were doing. We were also interested in the presence of ticks. The animals are given a treatment every three weeks by driving them into a concrete tank filled with arsenic treated water. The tank is two feet deep, to make sure all parts of their bodies receive some of the solution. Ticks, of course, spread disease by infecting the blood stream.

It was with much reluctance we took our leave of our hosts for the day but the most rewarding one in sheer enjoyment and new experiences.

Driving back to Ocho Rios a call was made at Plantation Inn and at a number of small hotels of the district. It has a beautiful setting on the ocean including a small beach. From here we went to Jamaica Park Hotel. Here is situated on a hill 900 feet above the ocean giving it a magnificent view of the water and Ocho Rios. A mountain stream crosses the property and it was interesting to see the sinking of the dining terraces, continues its way a bit further down to the sea in series of cascades to a much lower level where it flows into a swimming pool and finally to the sea. The pool is partly shaded by the most attractive trees I have ever seen. It is known as the Ficus Benjamini and is an excellently built but the osgrail width and thickness of foliage must be seen to be believed. The hotel also owns a beach area on the ocean to which guests are given free transportation.

NICE BUT EXPENSIVE

Our impression of the Ocho Rios resort area was most favorable even though there was no time for exploring beyond the calls as mentioned. Desirable properties are terrifically expensive and the sites alone with prices to $25,000 being asked and obtained. Building anything in Jamaica takes a long time so a full plan and plenty of leisure time are necessities if the work is to be supervised by the one owner.

We did not have time to visit Montego Bay the other Jamaican resort centre on the north shore sixty miles west of Ocho Rios. Here there is a similar but more glamorous hotels and enchanting cottages which the owner generally refers to orgulle the vacationer. More and more American cars and more Canadian cars are by-passing Florida to come to Jamaica where the weather is more delightful, the weather and perfect beaches and most of them go to Montego.

A Belleville couple and their family, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Clarke at Ocho Rios shortly after we left Kingston and we envy their visits but did not coincide. They stay at a very pleasant hotel on the beach.

By the time we started for Kingston it was getting dark and all the way to the road we travelled at night this is one we would not like to be caught driving under any circumstances. Besides being narrow and winding, drivers as a rule do not dim their lights. It is our opinion that many of the Jamaican small cars have the most glaring headlights even when they are on the dim. But meeting a succession of them on such a road is a sure way of being terrified and isolated. On top of that so many colored people walk on the roadway and only move out to one side at the last moment. The darkness of the road are almost non-existent in many places and why there are not more casualties is one of those unexplained mysteries to which no one can give an answer except a shrug of the shoulder.

For a wonderful day our sincere appreciation is extended to all those who had a share in making it so.

To be continued tomorrow.

Little Man Pays the Bill

Vancouver Province

It's the little man who keeps us afloat.

It's the man on small incomes who fills out his tax form, he taught. We have a right to be proud that in the rich fellows up top paid more he wouldn't have to pay so much. But oddly enough, it isn't so.

By last year's Department of Finance estimate the average or median income of all taxpayers was $3,108. Half of all Canadians earned less than that, half earned more.

And by the same figures — in every cent over $10,000 made by any Canadian there was about seven cents in additional revenue provided would be just enough to satisfy all but the loudest pay for all other taxpayers by a little less than $4 a month, or about four cents a working hour.

It isn't the big chunk of tax money from the big man that keeps the country running, it's the little chunks from all the little fellows.

DOWN AND OUT
By EDGAR A. GUEST

"Down and out" is a phrase we use
Too oft in a heedless, careless way.
Because one battle a man may lose,
"He is down and out," the crowd delivers say.
But many have risen to win renown
Who have felt the sting of Fate's knotted knout.
It doesn't follow because he's down,
That a man has also been counted out.

There's always a chance to rise again
If a man has faith in himself,
He can win the cheers of his fellow men,
And some time capture the golden prize.

Today's defeat isn't worth a frown;
Keep your eyes ahead and your courage stout;
It doesn't follow because you're down
That you have also been counted out.

"Down and out!" Man is never that
If he has the courage to start again.
If Fate has humbled and knocked him flat
He still can smile on his fellow men.
If he has the courage to hide his frown,
Remember this as you go about,
Although today he is surely down,
It's a mortal cinch that he isn't out.

OFF THE RECORD

To Your Good Health

By Joseph G. Molner, M.D.

TETANUS BRINGS ON TERRIBLE MUSCULAR SPASMS

"Dear Dr. Molner: Please discuss tetanus shots. Here are some questions:

"1—Children are given booster shots before kindergarten. How long are these effective?

"2 — For what sort of wounds are tetanus shots necessary?

"3—When a person is given a shot, for what length of time are they protected?

"4—If a pet dog should scratch or bite a child in play, and the skin is broken, does the child need protection?

"5—Does the shot hurt painful (see below) I hesitate to subject our children to it unless I know it is necessary. M.M."

Tetanus (or "lockjaw") is a decidedly serious disease and we still have it despite our best efforts to vaccinate everybody. The shots always painful, always frightening, when it strikes. A painless vaccination shot is better than letting one case of tetanus occur. Even "the disease doesn't kill, it is a dreadful thing to watch as the victim goes into terrible, unending spasms of face, neck and back. The face is screwed up into a grimace, the lips drawn in a seeming grin that really is agony. Sometimes the muscle spasms are so great that the spine can be fractured. Some persons die, some survive and recover with no after-effects but the frightening memory of what they've been through.

That's why tetanus shots are necessary.

Now for your questions.

1—Immunity from any vaccine varies in length of time. If a tetanus shot is renewed with a booster every three to five years, you can feel well protected.

2—The shots are necessary to protect against any wound into which the tetanus germ penetrates. It is a peculiar germ in that it dies off in air, but lives and grows when found in dirt, or especially in the droppings of domestic animals.

If the germ enters a wound that is bleeding freely, there is little chance that the blood will wash the germs out. But a wound where there is little bleeding (caused by stepping on a nail, a splinter of glass, a sliver of wood) allows the germs to remain deep in the airless recesses of the wound (however small) and — that's trouble!

3 — See answer to No. 1.

4 — Don't confuse tetanus with rabies. A dog bite, or scratch, could open the way for tetanus. So could a fall on a rusty tin can in a barnyard.

Answer to your last paragraph: Tetanus shots are not unduly painful. The ideal method for babies is to include the first tetanus shot in a mixed vaccine (including diphtheria, whooping cough, and recently polio) with appropriate boosters later.

Making a big fuss over the shot, threatening, cajoling and bribing the child, is a sure way to make the youngster look thinking it is a big thing. Children who haven't been "conditioned" to think the shot is "painful" take it as a matter of course and don't even bat an eye at the needle-prick.

Mixed languages, friend reader, it isn't half as painful as stubbing your toe — and it is enormously helpful.

Note to Mrs. J. M.: No, once an operation has been performed to cause sterility, another one does not reverse the situation. The operation is a matter of very serious consideration. It is done, usually, on males and females.

Mrs. M. T.: Glaucoma is such a complicated disease that I hesitate to start a technical discussion of it. But if there is any suspicion of it, continue treatment until you are sure.

What about constipation? Many can be relieved of it, both mentally and physically by reading my booklet "The Way To Stop Constipation." For a copy write to me in care of The Chicago Sun Times Syndicate, P.O. Box 136, Dundee, Ill., enclosing a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope, and 10c in coin to cover handling.

This Saucer Sold Cats

Service and Indemnity

In front of an East End delicatessen a well-known art connoisseur observed a white kitten lapping up milk from a saucer. The saucer, he noted, was of a rare and precious piece of pottery. He sauntered into the store and offered two dollars for the cat.

"It's not for sale", said the proprietor.

"Look", said the collector, "that cat is dirty and undesirable, but I'm an eccentric. I like my cats that way. I'll raise my offer to five dollars."

"It's a deal", said the proprietor and pocketed the note-paper.

"For that sum I'm sure you won't mind throwing in the saucer, too", said the connoisseur. "The kitten seems so happy drinking from it."

"Nothing doing", said the proprietor firmly. "That's my lucky saucer. Why, from that saucer, so far this week, I've sold 34 cats."

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THE BEST OF LIFE

Sir William Molesch, arriving at the age of 80, kept right on with his work and happy purposes. He said: "The Enchantment (or memory) is not yet behind me. I believe it is still, and daily I catch glimpses of its battlements and towers. Some spoils of memory are mine. Mine, too are the precious things of books, friends, flowers, pictures, nature, and sport. The first of May is the best day in the year. Then all can share in the joy of the coming of the flowers. Then all can look much to make our lives notable and interesting to others. Even in the advancing of the years we must glory in them and keep our vision tuned to that which is yet to be.

There is so much that should be treasured in the heart. What we say and do remain in the world far longer than we suspect. We even live in others and help to make their lives full of kindly deeds and memories. Nothing worthwhile ever dies. I know the books, and characters of the hundreds of people who silently influence me in the stacks of my library. There is reality to them for me.

Anticipation should travel hand in hand with achievement. Philosophy Magazine says: "We cannot be so lost in the work of the world that we shall not be inspired by the hope of heaven" Our ideals should always travel far ahead of our daily pace. The best of life should be ever in our view, inspired by an immortal hope.

Never allow those dreams of the years to fade or die. Carry them with you and put your trust in them as a vital force in your life.

Then why keep them?

The thing to do library week is to go right now and get a couple of empty cartons from the cellar-man, and fill them with all the books you are keeping for no use at all, never to be touched again until you die.

A VALUE BEYOND MEASUREMENT

Have you ever stopped to think why absolutely precious human life is? We can have reverses in life and rise above them. We can make mistakes and do better the next time. But when our life is taken away from us that is the end so far as this world is concerned.

Accordingly, mankind has always made homicide and murder the most serious of crimes. To deprive a man of his life is to deprive a man of everything. Think of the horror of war. Young men, with just one life to live are herded into battle. When they give up their lives, they give up their all. The Christian believes in life after death, but that is no way alleviates the fact that, when one loses his life, he loses every opportunity.

Portrait of a Nation on the March

Canada's Story Told in Maps

For more than 3 centuries, explorers, surveyors, and in recent years, aerial photographers, have travelled the country sketching in intimate detail the face of Canada. The new Atlas is the most complete and authoritative portrait ever presented.

The cover of the Atlas is a rigid loose-leaf binder measuring 16 x 20 inches. Individual sheets may be easily removed for special study and additional sheets, which will be produced at a later date, may be readily incorporated into the original folder.

Canada's recently published volume the Atlas of Canada is the result of 10 years work by scores of experts in a wide variety of fields. The finished product tells in 450 handsome maps Canada's story from the age of discovery and exploration to the present, giving a coherent, colourful account of Canada's geography in all its aspects, the physical and economic as well as the social and political. The Atlas opens with early maps of Canada showing the routes of the first explorers, moves on to precise modern maps showing the country's geology, magnetism, tides and climate, soil and forestry make-up. A series showing the range of various insects, plants, mammals, birds and fish constitutes one of many interesting sections contained in this gigantic source-book of reference material about Canada.

Masses of information concerning Canada's resources had to be gathered and indexed for use in such sections as the people of Canada: their origins, religions, vital statistics, economic activities. Agricultural, mining and fishing areas are designated as well as location of paper mills, hydro stations, railways, airlines, etc.

National Film Board of Canada Photos by Chris Lund

The final sections of the Atlas contain maps showing the distribution of cities and towns, the location of institutions such as hospitals, universities and art galleries. The last few pages of the monumental work trace in graphic outline the path by which Canada has moved from colony to nationhood, to her present mature stature as a respected member of the world-wide community of nations.

Minister Speaks

Ontario Roads Among Best Y's Men Conference Is Told

Originally the first highways in Canada were the waterways of the country, the Honorable Fred Cass, Minister of Highways for Ontario told the Y's men at their Eastern Ontario District Spring conference on Saturday evening at Hotel Quinte.

Speaking on the subject of Ontario's Highways, Mr. Cass explained that after waterways came the bridle paths, wagon trails, railroads and then auto roads. The present system of roads in Ontario is recognized as one of the foremost in North America. There is a possibility that the Ontario department may send a deputy of men to Russia to advise them how to build better roads.

Mr. Cass quoted some interesting statistics from his department which is divided into 18 districts with 27,000 employees. This year's budget calls for spending $270 million, almost a million dollars every working day. There are five types of highways, about six thousand miles around municipalities called rural King's Highways; freeways with by-ways like the Queen Elizabeth; trans-provincial like 401; trans Canada highway; and international roadways and over crossings.

The speaker remarked that access to the United States was popular with Americans, and Canadians hoped to build another bridge from Michigan.

"Ontario is Canada's greatest province", said Mr. Cass, "We have a population of six million now and expect to have eight million by 1970. Forty percent of the gross income is in Ontario and the Department of Highways is keeping up with Ontario's progress. Great vision has been shown by government in road planning. Our struggle and contribution now will benefit our children and future generations."

The speaker was introduced by his brother Y's man Ronald Cass, Q.C., as a native of Winchester, Ontario, a graduate of Toronto University and Osgoode Hall with Bachelor of Arts and Master of Arts degrees. Thanks were expressed by Y's man Don Williams.

Registrations at noon on Saturday were supervised by Tony Lepore. The official opening was in charge of District Governor Willis Hutchinson, who welcomed all the out-of-town guests. Training courses for officers were given by dividing groups according to their official duties.

Workshop discussions on the subject, "Where Are We Headed In Y'dom?" were conducted by Mac Bowman, with six groups participating.

At the dinner where Mr. Cass was the principal speaker, Mr. Jack Ireland spoke briefly on behalf of the Y.M.C.A. board, and discussed the work that the Y'men had been doing. Mr. Ron Elmy, accompanied by Linton Read at the piano, was heard in two vocal numbers, "That Lucky Old Sun" and "You'll Never Walk Alone." This was followed by group singing in which everyone joined.

The evening's entertainment consisted of watching the hockey game on portable TV sets which were brought in for the occasion.

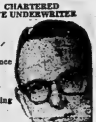
Following a Sunday morning breakfast at Hotel Quinte, Rev. Robert Sherwin led in a service of devotion. The workshop discussion was the subject, "Extension In Non-Y Communities". The second workshop discussed the topic "Know Your Y.M.C.A." with leader Al Tyler of Kingston.

The presidents from seven clubs summarized their year's activities from April 1958 to April 1959.

The Marshall trophy was won by the Belleville Y's Men Club for the most meetings with 100 percent attendance in the past year. The attendance trophy for the conference was won by Tweed.

In September the regional conference will be held in Napanee; the 1960 meeting will be held in Cornwall or Oshawa; the Eastern Ontario district conference will be in Kingston in 1961 and the International convention will be at Green Lakes, Wisconsin in May.

Y's Man Willis Hutchinson of Belleville was re-elected district governor. Walter Luyendyk of Ottawa was elected Lieut-Governor for the Eastern Ontario region.



The two-day conference was brought to a close with a luncheon at noon on Sunday when international vice-president Bill Fletcher of Detroit was the speaker.

The chairmen responsible for the smooth operation of the conference were: conference chairman, Hugh Watson; publicity and projects, Ron Moorman; entertainment, Bill Muirhead; treasurer, Art Newman; favors, Jack Fletcher; secretary and summary, Bill Cochrane; registration, Tony Lepore; program and workshops, Merle Massey; accommodation and meals, Ron Moorman; marshals, Jack Fletcher; supplies, Ray Murray

Wedding

McCOMB — BURKITT

BONARLAW — On Saturday, April 4th, St. John's United Church, Campbellford, was the scene of the marriage of Beverley Mabel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Burkitt of R.R. 1, Bonarlaw, to James Arthur McComb, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton McComb of Campbellford.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. D. M. Smith. Mrs. George Nichols was at the organ and Miss Lois Orser was soloist.

The bride looked charming in a floor-length gown designed by Elizabeth Hunt, with a nipped-in bodice of fine petite point lace, enhanced with a tiny high stand-up collar and emphasized with lily pointed sleeves. Her full bouffant skirt featured an insert of lace at front extending to back of skirt, which was complemented with tier upon tier bustle back of fine tulle. Her headdress of matching lace and tulle was designed as a pillbox showered with tiny seed pearls and caught in a finger-tip veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of white and pink roses.

She was attended by Miss Vivian Lloyd of Point Anne, as maid-of-honor, two bridesmaids, Miss Nancy McComb, sister of the groom, and Miss Darlene Burkitt, sister of the bride. They were similarly dressed in royal printed silk, princess lined with white accessories. They carried bouquets of yellow daffodils and pink gladioli.

The flower girl, Donna O'Reilly of Toronto, cousin of the bride, was dressed in pink nylon with matching head band. She carried a bouquet of pink gladioli.

Bruce of Campbellford attended the groom. Eric McComb and Claude Burkitt were ushers.

For the reception in the Orange hall, Petherick's Corners, the bride's mother received, wearing a bolero jacket dress in combed cotton of navy and white, with white accessories, and a corsage of red roses.

The groom's mother assisted, in a brocaded sheath of salmon pink with beige accessories and corsage of red roses.

For their wedding trip to Ottawa the bride chose a two piece beige suit with beige accessories and corsage of pink roses.

On their return home they will reside in Cobalt where the bridegroom is employed by the Hydro Commission.

Out-of-town guests were present from Toronto, Sudbury, Coniston, Stirling, Bonarlaw, Point Anne and Campbellford.

Rabbi Feinberg To Speak at WMS Luncheon

Named one of Canada's seven greatest preachers in a recent "Saturday Night" magazine poll, Rabbi Abraham Feinberg, of Holy Blossom Temple, Toronto, will speak on the forefront of efforts aimed at securing equality of treatment for racial and religious groups, and has been an active leader in the struggle to obtain full rights for the Chinese, Japanese and Negro population of Canada.

He also serves on the General Council, Zionist Organization of Canada, and the forefront of national co-chairman of the joint public relations committee of the Jewish Congress and B'nai B'rith.

Y's Menettes Hold "Chinese Night" Meeting

The April meeting of the Y's Menettes Club took the form of a "Chinese Night" and was held recently in the Y.M.C.A.

The meeting room was delightfully decorated with lanterns, dragons, and mobiles, reflecting a Chinese theme.

Mrs. D. Sim, retiring president, was in the chair and conducted the induction of new members and installation of officers.

Following a discussion of plans for the forthcoming mother-and-daughter banquet, the new president, Mrs. J. Bernhardi, took charge of the meeting. A social evening followed.

Members were asked to create a spring bonnet from a variety of paper plates, streamers, paper cups and such. The prize for the most original creation went to Mrs. W. Prentice. Mrs. Bernhardi was the winner of a "place the face" contest.

A buffet table decorated with chickadee Chinese hats, contained a delicious variety of Chinese food. Members pronounced the evening a decided success.

DISTRICT WOMEN'S ACTIVITIES

JOHNSTOWN W. A.

JOHNSTOWN—The Women's Association of Johnstown held their April meeting on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Alex Vandervoort, with a good attendance.

The president, Mrs. Brunt, welcomed the members and one visitor and thanked the hostess for opening her home.

The Scripture reading found in Luke 10:25-37 was read by Mrs. Maitland Harder. The lesson story was given by Mrs. Earl Silckle, who stated "Jesus gave a new meaning to the word neighbor, which means anyone who is in need is our neighbor."

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alva Meyers with the program in charge of Mrs. Arnold Harry and Mrs. Alex Vandervoort. The bake table will be conveyed by Mrs. Doug. Harry and replenished by Mrs. G. A. Puttenham, Mrs. Glenn Stickle, Mrs. Earl Silckle and Mrs. Ken Stickle.

The committee for the bazaar is composed of Mrs. Douglas Harry, Mrs. Alex Vandervoort, Mrs. E. J. Brunt, and Mrs. Ken Stickle, and these ladies are to meet on April 15th in the evening at the home of Mrs. Douglas Harry.

The members of the lunch committees are to take turns during the year in cleaning the church, with Mrs. Clayton Curtis, Mrs. Glen Gilchrist, Mrs. Alva Meyers, Mrs. Alex Vandervoort and Mrs. Arnold Harry in charge for April.

Mrs. G. A. Puttenham was in charge of the worship for the day, the topic of which was, "What Does God Require of Us?" It may be to do something for someone in need or even to go to church, she said. We are ambassadors for Christ. Are we doing what we should be doing? We should put our values on those things that are real. If we do what God requires of us we will receive the best of the land. Are we participating our religion the way we should? Let your light so shine. We should attend church services and not have to be asked to help in any way we can. Are we leavers or lifters, in using our influence as peace makers? If we were motivated more by Christ's will, we would not make so many mistakes. We would give God the honor and forget our little selves," she concluded.

Mrs. Douglas Harry gave a reading, "What Doth the Lord Require of Us In Our Church," and Mrs. Arnold Harry gave a reading, "In Our Neighborhood."

Mrs. E. Clapp gave a missionary reading called, "Hand Down."

SHANNONVILLE W.A.

The monthly meeting of the W.A. of Shannonville United Church was held at the church hall on April 9th with an attendance of 17. The president, Mrs. Kenneth Juby, welcomed all.

"Faith of Our Fathers" was sung. Mrs. Damon Hinchey presided at the piano. Mrs. Gordon Akey, the group leader, was in charge and "O Love That Will Not Let Me Go," was sung. Mrs. Russell Wescott read the Bible lesson from the 10th chapter of Luke. Mrs. Akey read the lesson thoughts from the devotional leaflet. Mrs. Charles Klerl read a poem entitled, "April." Mrs. Will Ross read a poem by Edgar Guest, "The Garden." Hymn "My Jesus I Love Thee," was sung and the group leader closed the devotional with prayer and thanked her group for their help.

Mrs. Juby thanked Mrs. Akey and conducted the business. A letter from Mrs. McMurray on Christian Fellowship, stressing the need of visiting the sick and shutins and welcoming strangers and newcomers to the church.

Plans were made for catering at Scott's. Offerings were dedicated by the president. "Happy Birthday" was sung for Mrs. Gammon and Mrs. C. Mastie who have birthdays in April and a contributed to the birthday box.

Refreshments were served by the group and a social time was enjoyed.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. George Osborne.

"The Story of a Little African Boy" Mrs. Clapp announced the Mission Band would hold a family night in April at Johnstown Church. Miss Hazel Farley will show her slides of Japan. All are welcome.

A contest was given by Mrs. Puttenham with Mrs. W. Vandervoort and Mrs. E. Clapp winning the prize.

The meeting closed with the benediction followed by refreshments and a social half-hour.

Practical Elegance

By ALICE ALLEN

The fastidious woman invests in fine handbags, which she keeps immaculate inside and out. If she uses a travel handbag she selects one that, while it is roomy, is not too unwieldly to be carried with outfits other than her en route costume. American handbag designers have done themselves proud this year, as you can see from this picture. The envelope travel bag is in a pale bone shade of grained, textured calf. The outside pocket holds a passport case. The fittings are of California saddle leather in brilliant scarlet touched with gold tooling.

Business Ladies' Bowling League Holds Banquet

Last Wednesday evening the Business Ladies' Bowling League held its annual banquet, thus completing the bowling season.

The highlight of the evening was the presentation of the trophies. Mrs. Bateman presented Mr. Fairbairn with the high average trophy. Vice-president D. Bannon presented the high triple trophy to B. Vince. I. Summers, treasurer, presented the high single trophy to M. Hunter.

The Booth store annual trophy was presented by President M. Hall to Captain R. Locke and Mrs. Ash, team 3. Summers, L. Mascaro, I. Smith, B. Johnson, H. Boyle, S. Low and P. Bonnar for winning the highest points for the year.

A "300" Club was formed this year. Thirty-three members were presented with bowling glasses by Captain R. Locke. Each member of the bowling league received a bowling stein and prize money.

D. Lucciola named the officers for 1959-60: president, R. Locke; vice-president, D. Bannon; treasurer, T. Schrieder and secretary, L. Sanders.

President M. Hall turned over her duties to the new president, R. Locke, who expressed thanks on behalf of herself and league by giving them an envelope of money, and at the same time wished her the best of health after her recent illness.

Mrs. Bill Bateman was special guest for the evening.

The winners, "Hit & Mrs.", of the Business Ladies' Bowling League, were guests at the home of Mrs. T. Mascaro, Octavia Street, on Wednesday evening. A very pleasant game of cards was highlighted only by the captain, R. Locke, when she completely surprised the teaming

MONDAY

Swiss Steak with Gravy; Cauliflower; Spinach with Lemon Butter; Tossed Salad with Shredded Cheese and French Dressing; Lemon Jelly Roll; Coffee.

I made a peach glaze to spread on a ham that was baking and baked some bananas to garnish and serve with it. Also a Hollandaise Sauce that is new to me and which turned out fine without showing any sensitive signs of separating or having the vapors. So since asparagus season calls for Hollandaise (and broccoli does too) have a try at it.

PEACH GLAZE FOR BAKED HAM:

I bought a half ham — tenderized, boned and in a Vieking casing. I removed the casing and put it in to bake at 225 deg. Fahr. at 2:00 p.m. for dinner at 6. At 5:00 p.m. I spread on top of it this

PEACH GLAZE:

To 2 cups canned peaches and juice I add 2-3 cup sugar and boiled them for 1-2 hour Then I pushed them through the sieve and cooked this puree until it was fairly thick, stirring often. When it was thick enough to spread on top of the hot ham, without running down the sides and off, I did so — then studded the surface with whole cloves and raised the heat to 375 deg. Fahr. for the last hour. This is delicious and looks professional enough to go on one of those hotel Smorgasbords that are so popular. However I have yet to see.

BAKED BANANAS:

As a garnish on a restaurant Smorgasbord, so let us get ahead of them. Select underripe bananas with green tips, and allow one for each person to be served. Peel and place in buttered baking dish. Spread each generously with soft butter using at least 2 tablespoons for 4 whole bananas. Sprinkle sparingly with salt and paprika and bake at 218 deg. Fahr. for 20 minutes (during last 20 minutes ham is baking). Then when ham has been removed from oven, raise panful of baked bananas up under broiler to brown a bit and bubble. Carefully lift to platter as a border around ham.

TRUE HOLLANDAISE:

To serve on Asparagus, Broccoli, Cauliflower, Spinach or Eggs Benedict. One-quarter cup butter, 1-4 cup cream, sweet or sour, 3 egg yolks, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, salt to taste, dash of cayenne Melt butter in top of double boiler; add cream (I used sweet) and beaten egg yolks, stirring well Add lemon juice and salt and cook over boiling water, stirring constantly until thickened and smooth (about 2 minutes). Immediately remove from hot water and beat until light. Stir in Cayenne.

PLANS FOR A VERY SMALL, INFORMAL WEDDING

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

I am to be married in church (Protestant) in the near future, and would like to have as small a wedding as possible and still be correct. I would like to have just the members of my family and the members of the groom's family, approximately twelve people. Would this be correct? And would it be proper, whether the wedding were to be in the daytime or in the evening?

Would a reception be required? If so, what type? If we decide to invite several intimate friends, besides the members of our families, what kind of reception would I then be required to have to include these friends? The point is that I want to keep the cost as low as possible.

What attire is proper for the bride and groom at such a small wedding? — Bride-to-be

For your so-small and informal wedding in church . . . and I am glad that you are planning to be married in church . . . your expenses can really be minimum. Your minister will talk this over with you, and I hope you can plan with him to have some music by the church organist and perhaps have a few white flowers on the altar or platform. These two small expenses would be all; except a contribution to the minister, and this is the responsibility of your bridegroom.

You might wear your going-away costume (simple suit or dress-with-jacket), your one attendant would wear a similar type of costume; and the groom and his best man would wear business suits, preferably dark blue or dark gray. These plans would be appropriate whether the wedding is in the daytime or evening.

It is never necessary to have any kind of wedding reception, whether the wedding is formal or informal, large or small. You and the bridegroom, after the ceremony, might like to follow the friendly custom of receiving the good wishes of your relatives and friends in the church vestibule, or perhaps some small room near the church entrance. Or, if you wish (though no necessity for this) you may invite the guests to your home, and serve only the two requirements: (1) a cold drink, perhaps fruit punch, for the drinking of the toasts; and (2) the wedding cake.

And, as you see, very few expenses here, with these simple plans.

INTRODUCING STEP-DAUGHTERS HER OWN AGE

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

John and I were recently married. I was a widow, with no children. John was a widower, with two daughters quite near my age. I'm stumped about how I should introduce these two stepchildren I've acquired. Will you help me, please? — D. K.

To friends: "This is John's daughter, Margaret." If she is married, you add her married name: "This is John's daughter Margaret — Mrs. Clark." Also proper, but less intimate: "This is my husband's daughter . . . Mrs. Clark."

W. I. Installs Slate at Annual Meeting

CHATTERTON — The regular monthly meeting of the Chatterton Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Albert Carson with 16 members present.

The president, Mrs. Harold Bloor, was in charge. The secretary, treasurer, and conveners gave their annual reports.

A card of thanks for necklaces received from the Institute from the 4-H Club girls was read.

The May meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Clayton Reide.

Mrs. E. B. Finkle was convener for the program, the topic of which was historical research.

Each member showed her wedding picture. Several members displayed antique articles including an apron that was nearly one hundred years old, school books of years ago, wedding boots and wedding dresses.

An interesting demonstration was put on by Mrs. W. D. Dixon showing how our great grandmothers cared for their babies and how the modern mothers care for them today.

Due to illness the nominating committee had not been able to prepare the slate of officers for the coming year, so an election was held.

Mrs. Ed. Emerson capably conducted the installation of the following officers for 1959-1960: president, Mrs. Cyril Gardner; 1st vice-president, Mrs. Lorne Reid; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. Albert Carson; secretary, Mrs. Gerald Irvine; treasurer, Mrs. Ben Bleecker; district director, Mrs. Harold Bloor; assistant district director, Mrs. E. B. Finkle; branch directors Mrs. Harry Reid, Mrs. Floyd MacInnes, and Mrs. Roswell Reid; pianist, Mrs. Gerson Mills; assistant pianist, Mrs. W. D. Dixon; song leader, Mrs. Klaas Tulmann; card convener, Mrs. A. W. Barlow; auditors, Mrs. E. B. Finkle and Mrs. Floyd MacInnes; press reporter, Mrs. A. Donaldson; assistant press reporter, Mrs. Clayton Reide; Girls' 4-H Club leaders, Mrs. Cyril Gardner and Mrs. E. B. Finkle; assistant club leaders, Mrs. Barlow and Mrs. Harold Bloor.

Thanks was expressed to the ex officers of the past year and also to Mrs. Carson for her hospitality.

The hostess and lunch committee served refreshments and a pleasant social time was enjoyed.

WOMEN OF THE MOOSE

The first April meeting of the Women of the Moose was held in the Moose Hall on Victoria Avenue with Senior Regent Gladys Ritch presiding.

One candidate was favorably balloted on and a new member initiated.

A letter from Charles Giles was read, asking for assistance in the fund-raising plans for the Moose Heart building to be built in Ontario. A letter from Zola Kenny outlining the program for the Grand Chancellor meeting to be held in the Moose Hall this month, was read by Gladys Ritch.

The meeting was brought to a close with lunch served by Audrey Donnelly's committee.

Club Activities

FELLOWSHIP CLUB

CENTENARY — The April meeting of the Fellowship Club was held in the church hall on Friday evening. Ross Windsor led in a lively sing-song. The worship service was conducted by Evelyn and Dawson Douglas with "Easter" as the theme.

The president, Keith Johnston, welcomed Rev. and Mrs. Percival to the meeting.

After several items of business were discussed, Vivian Windsor and Pat Cummings conducted a "smelling contest." A film on the "Building of the Alaskan Highway" was shown by Mabel Hart.

Buffet style refreshments were served and a social time was enjoyed.

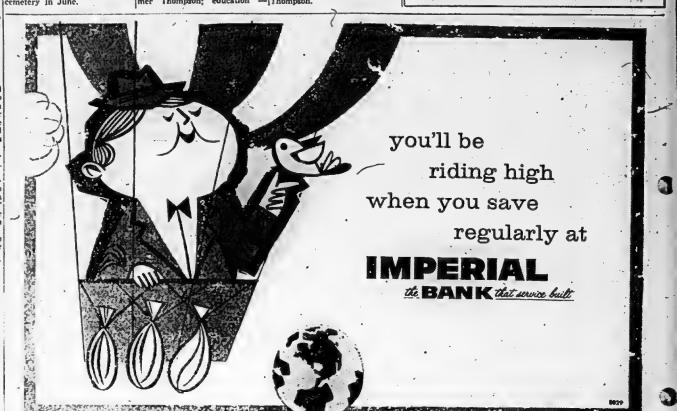
W. I. Holds Installation Of Officers

MOIRA — The Moira W.I. meeting was held at the home of Bessie Holbert, Wednesday afternoon with an attendance of 13 members, and four visitors.

The president opened the meeting.

Some business was discussed and an invitation was received from Parkdale W. I. to attend a tea in April. It was decided to have a strawberry social, the date will be set later; also to have a decoration day at the cemetery in June.



A short program followed consisting of readings by Mrs. Herity and Mrs. Nellie Foster, Mrs. Alice Ketchenson, Mrs. M. Vandewater, Mrs. Helen Holbert, Linda Ketcheson and Linda Wait.

Mrs. Marjorie Thompson conducted the installation of officers for the coming year. They are as follows: president — Bessie Holbert; 1st vice-president — Mrs. Earl Thompson; 2nd vice-president — Mrs. Milton Vandewater; secretary-treasurer — Mrs. Jean Thompson; cemetery treasurer — Mrs. G. Thompson; district director — Mrs. Gil Thompson; branch directors — Mrs. W. Collins, Mrs. C. Vandewater, Mrs. F. Regenburg; press reporter, — Bessie Holbert; citizenship — Mrs. Elmer Thompson; education — Mrs. Mary Jones; agricultural — Mrs. Eva Farrel; Canadian industries — Mrs. Milton Vandewater; home economics — Mrs. Earl Thompson; health — Mrs. Marjorie Thompson; historical research — Mrs. John Farrel; mother and baby — Mrs. Alice Ketchenson; grandmother — Mrs. Frank Emerson and Mrs. J. MARMORA WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

MARMORA — Marmora Branch met at the home of Mrs. Ralph Neal for the April meeting on Wednesday evening. There were 14 members present.

Mrs. William Tinsdill chaired the meeting. Current events were given by each member as a roll call and paying of dues followed.

Secretary - treasurer Mrs. Neal gave the minutes and financial report which showed a balance on hand from the past year of $85. The library grant of $75 had been met. Fund raising activities throughout the year included auction sales at branch meetings of articles, candy or baking. Tickets were sold on a grocery basket, also one on Easter ham. As the membership at present is 17 it was felt they had had a worthwhile year.

A slate of officers was presented and will be installed at the May meeting when the district president will be present.

The study of home economics and health was convened by Mrs. F. Grant and Mrs. L. Green who gave interesting papers.

Miss Grace Warren gave an historical research paper, showing the growing interest of Canadians and especially residents of Ontario, in historical sites. Plaques and cairns were being built to commemorate the sites, she said.

Mrs. Tinsdill read an interesting history of the "Blue Stone House" at Port Hope which has been restored by Dr. and Mrs. Richardson, formerly of Campbellford. A humorous reading was also given by Mrs. Tinsdill on setting a time limit for each household task.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. F. Sweet, Mrs. Tinsdill and Mrs. Neal.

The May meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Tinsdill.

THE FAMILY COUNCIL

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Family Council consists of a judge, a psychiatrist, three clergymen, a newspaper editor, a woman's editor and two writers. Each article is a summary of an actual case history. The Council reports on problems that have been dealt with by responsible agencies and counsellors.

Violet A. — It would be silly to make a wedding now.

Lillian J. — I always dreamed of a church wedding for my daughter.

* * *

Violet A. — I am trying to talk my sister out of making a foolish mistake.

Several months ago her 17-year-old daughter eloped with a young man just out of his teens. My sister and her husband are violently opposed to the marriage. They went around telling everyone how awful this boy was and how they didn't know what to do with their daughter.

Now, at the daughter's persuasion, my sister wants to make a big religious service for them. It is so ridiculous. Everyone knows they have been married and living in their own home for several months. I told my sister it looks as if she is after gifts for the young couple.

* * *

Lillian J. — I don't care what other people think. I always dreamed of a church wedding for my daughter and I'm going to have it. I didn't have one myself and this means a lot to me. Of course, I would rather have a different bridegroom, but you can't have everything you want.

As for being after gifts from people — that's a nasty crack and I resent it. I'll be spending more on the wedding than they'll ever get in gifts! I could just give them this money if I wanted to.

As a matter of fact, my own daughter says she'd rather I'd give her the money. She doesn't care a fig for ceremonies and is going through with it for my sake.

The Council: A formal religious service could do a lot for this young couple, particularly as a means of making up for a very bad start, but Lillian is defeating whatever good it can do by adopting an entirely selfish position.

Things have been very badly managed from the beginning of this romance. Lillian had no right to speak against this boy to outsiders. It was undoubtedly one of the elements that triggered the daughter's rebellion. If the girl felt that her parents could not be trusted to keep her affairs private, she must have had little confidence in them on any score.

This young bride, whether she admits it or not, is undoubtedly disturbed by her parents' disapproval of her marriage and by the fact that "everyone" in the family's social circle knows their attitude. She and her husband are now really outcasts from a group that is important to them. The fact that members of the group may treat them politely or even kindly doesn't alleviate their feeling that others are essentially against them and their marriage.

Among the important elements in holding marriages together are the facts of social approval and religious sanctification. One doesn't gain these benefits simply by going through motions of a ceremony. There must be some connection behind it.

We think that it is very likely that the young bride does not take this ceremony as lightly as her mother believes. At heart, she probably wants real social and religious sanctification. TORONTO (CP)—Mrs. Nell M. Laurie of Barrie has been elected president of the Ontario section of the Victorian Order of Nurses at the annual meeting here.

Miss Sarah Shannon of St. Catharines Friday was elected secretary.

Ontario Health Minister Dymond presented the meeting with a cheque for $30,000 on behalf of the department of public welfare.

As a matter of fact, my own daughter says she'd rather I'd give her the money. She doesn't care a fig for ceremonies and is going through with it for my sake.

CONTACT CLUB MEETS

The members of Christ Church Contact Club held a short business meeting Monday evening with president, Mary Fletcher, in the chair.

Doris Stewart gave a brief report on the progress being made on the fashion show and coffee party taking place the end of April. Mary Fletcher introduced a new member, Pauline Bruce.

The meeting was adjourned and a social hour was held. The first game of musical bingo was much enjoyed, with Barbara Cooke at the piano playing popular songs. Winners of this game were Doris Stewart and Marilyn Warren. Military Whist was then played and the high scores were won by Barb Bertrim, Marilyn Warren, Betty Yates and Dorothy Sinclair.

The evening was brought to a close with refreshments served by Mary MacInnis and her group, who convened this much enjoyed social evening.

The Quinte Reports

News of Your Local Sea Cadet Corps

The past two parades have been concerned with getting the cadets into shape, with drill and rifle practice in the Armories, for their annual inspection in the latter part of May. Last Thursday's parade saw Lt. M. Davidson, RCN, the assistant area officer, come aboard the "Quinte" for an inspection of the crew and to supervise the Leading Seamanship examinations. In speaking to the crew he cautioned them to make sure that all of their equipment was up to Navy standards for their annual inspection. Worn or shabby equipment is to be replaced.

There are many things to be completed before the local corps is ready for inspection, the boats have to be sanded and varnished and rigged, foot and boat drill has to be rehearsed, and the barracks are to be freshened up. Estimates have been received for the latter job, which is to include the painting of the interior and exterior of the building. Once approval comes from the Navy League of Canada, Ontario Division, which has its headquarters in Toronto, this work will be undertaken.

The cadet corps is to be divided into four - man rifle teams within the next two weeks to shoot for the Guthridge Shield, symbolic of the top team in the corps. Shooting has been improving with higher scores being fired by many of the cadets after some intensive practice and instruction. It is expected that at least eight of the crew will earn their marksmen's crossed rifle badge within the next few shooting sessions. After the annual inspection work will begin towards forming an eight-man team worthy of entering the annual Commonwealth Sea Cadet marksmen's competition.

Credit is certainly due to the instructors of the Navy League Cadets Corps formed in 1956, not old enough to enter the Sea Cadets, Bob Lait, who topped the top marks, 99 of 100, in the annual Able Cadet examination, is a new entry to the ranks of the "Quinte". Only with the corps a few weeks he owns his knowledge of seamanship to his own hard work and to the excellent instruction of Ez Richards and Stirling Shandraw, commanding officer and executive officer respectively of the Navy League Cadets.

Those interested in joining the Sea Cadet Corps are welcome to attend one of the weekly parades — Tuesday evening in the Armories at 7:30 and 8:30 p.m. or Thursday evening in the barracks at 20 South Front street at the same time. The only qualifications are for a youth to be between the ages of 14 and 18 and have his parents' consent. Those wishing to join the Navy League Cadets may attend their weekly Friday night parade between the hours of 7:30 and 9:30 p.m. at the "Quinte" barracks.

Believe Fallout Enhances Danger Of Lung Cancer

ATLANTIC CITY AP)—Cigarets and nuclear bomb fallout may together present an intensified lung-cancer hazard, a team of St. Louis scientists said.

Doctors V. Sunteeff, E. V. Cowdry and A. Croninger, all of the Washington University Medical School, said experiments with mice suggest the following:

That the combination of cigaret tar and fallout radiation can produce tissue damage over and above what might be expected from the sum of two agents together.

That is, they tell the annual meeting of the American Association for Cancer Research, the experiments indicate a "synergistic effect"—a phenomenon in which each of two materials enhances the action of the other.

In a preliminary report of their research, they said their conclusions to date are based on tests in which skin cancers were produced in mice by a combination of cigaret tar and radiation from strontium-90. The latter is potentially the most dangerous product in nuclear bomb fallout.

However, in the present controversy over whether there is a link between cigaret smoking and lung cancer there are scientists who argue that there is no present evidence of any such link. They contend, for one thing, that conclusions about lung cancer in man can not be drawn from skin cancers in mice.

Dying Man Gets Reprieve After Spare-Part Operation; Gets Kidney From Brother

BOSTON (AP) — Eighty-one days ago, 23 - year - old John Ritteris lay dying. Today he's alive, healthy, and making history.

His reprieve — when he had given up hope — was the triumph in giving people borrowed human spare parts.

John has a new kidney, borrowed from his brother Andrew. It is the first time that a kidney has worked normally when borrowed from anyone except a identical twin.

A near-deadly bath of x-rays apparently turned the trick and repealed nature's law that you cannot get a new kidney, heart, or glandular gonads from an identical twin.

FRATERNAL TWINS

John's brother Andrew is a fraternal twin, not an identical. But the year this time that a kidney has worked normally when borrowed from anyone except a identical twin.

John went home Saturday to Milwaukee, cured of his disease.

The victory was won by John and a team of physicians, surgeons and other specialists at Peter Bent Brigham Hospital.

Doctors say the new lease on life the borrowed kidney will keep working, nor what after - effects the massive x-ray treatment — 450 roentgens of x-rays — does capable of killing half the people who receive it.

John Ritteris knows this. He knows he'd be without Andrew's gift of a kidney last Jan. 24, he has only perhaps two weeks to live.

SEVEN SUCCESSFUL CASES

Ten times in recent years, Brigham doctors have borrowed kidneys from an identical twin. Seven of those times the borrowed kidneys are living. One died soon after surgery and two died because their existing kidney disease invaded the new, healthy kidney.

Although Andrew was not an identical twin, doctors went for the right amount of x - rays to cold temporarily paralyze Andrew's kidney, which ordinarily produce allergis-type antibodies after borrowed or foreign tissue is implanted.

Maybe, they reasoned, the tymphoid tissue would come back so slowly it wouldn't recognize the new kidney from brother Andrew as "foreign."

The massive x-ray dose killed all of John's white blood cells which fight off common infections.

EXTRA PRECAUTIONS

In this critical period, he lived in a sterilized hospital room, and was protected by a screen of ultraviolet rays shooting across his door. Doctors, nurses and attendants had to change clothes in separate rooms before they could enter, so no germs would accidentally have a shot at him.

Later his white cell blood count returned to normal.

Meanwhile he had been given one of Andrew's healthy kidneys in the delicate operation performed by Drs. Joseph Murray, J. Hartwell Harrison, Dr. John P. Merrill and others.

Ten days later, his own infected kidneys were removed.

Now John Ritteris is strong and healthy, has gained 30 pounds, has a strong heart, normal blood pressure, is going back to study again at Marquette University.

Twenty One Die Over Weekend, 12 in Traffic

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

More than half of the 31 persons who died accidentally in Canada during the weekend were in Ontario.

A Canadian Press survey, from 6 p.m. local time Friday until midnight Sunday showed that nine persons died accidentally in Ontario, five of them as a result of traffic accidents.

There were 14 traffic deaths, Alberta, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island and Newfoundland reported no accidental deaths.

The totals with traffic deaths in brackets: New Brunswick 1 (0); Quebec 4 (3); Ontario 10 (6); Manitoba 2 (1); Saskatchewan 2 (1); British Columbia 1 (1).

Last weekend six provinces reported 24 accidental fatalities.

Ontario deaths:

Mark Lee Wong, 83, died in a fire in a downtown Toronto building Saturday night.

Neil Clubbert, 43, of Port Hope died Sunday when the car in which he was riding overturned on a highway near Scarborough, a suburb of Toronto.

Bob Tarrington', 2, drowned Saturday when he fell into a wading pool near his Port Hope home.

Richard Lavergne, 29, died in hospital from head injuries suffered in a traffic accident Saturday at Ste. Anne de Bellevue.

Fire claimed the lives of two others. Charles McCarthy, 14, and Ronald McCarthy, 4, died in a fire in the vehicle crashed into a hydro pole on Wellington Street in central Ottawa. A fourth occupant, Bernard McCarthy, 26, is in condition at Ottawa Civic.

David Pechette, 76, killed Friday night when struck by a car in Ottawa. Mrs. Pechette died Monday.

Herome Girodat, 17, of Kilchener fatally injured Sunday when his motorcycle and a motorcycle on Highway 53 near Copetown, seven miles west of Hamilton.

Mrs. Elizabeth Pauline Dolan, 61, fatally injured Sunday when she fell down a 13-foot flight of stairs in her home in Peterborough.

Roy Desmond Andrews, 15, of Stoukdale, Ont., died after he struck a 303-calibre rifle accidentally discharged while he was putting it in a car in Uxbridge township near Toronto.

Elephant Wins Reprieve of Death Sentence

HUGO, Okla. (AP) — Dorothy the circus elephant whose conviction of death sentence Sunday when officials of the Mohawk Tribe in Hugo, Okla., agreed to give her a home.

Dorothy, a 35-year - old performer for the Carson and Barnes Circus of Hugo, was convicted after she had killed her trainer and severely injured another.

Jack Moore, circus owner, had hoped to rehabilitate her after the killing but the sentence of the Hagen Brothers Circus which then owned the animal, was carried out.

Moore said after the second trainer was hurt when Dorothy had a head start, Moore said the elephant would have to die.

Now plans are being made to move her from her death cell in the elephant barn here April 22.

Liberals of Eastern Ontario Ask Pearson to Call Meeting Of All Interested in Reform

BROCKVILLE (CP)—National Liberal Leader Lester B. Pearson has been asked to call a national conference of all groups interested in electoral reform.

The request was one of several resolutions passed Saturday at the annual convention of the Eastern Ontario Liberal Federation, held for the first time outside Ottawa.

The resolution said the conference would be held under the Liberal party but all groups would participate as equals.

Three motions dealing with liquor licences were recommended changes in existing legislation to provide a uniform criteria for granting licences by the licensing board and raising the standards of licensed premises; a system of appeals from decisions of the licensing board and a further right of appeals from summary convictions by magistrates and lower courts on offences under the Liquor Control Act and the Liquor Licensing Act.

The convention supported an immediate increase in pensions of all retired Canadian civil servants and uniform pensions within each classification of eligible pensioners.

It reaffirmed its belief in the right of workers to organize and bargain collectively within the law to improve wages and working conditions in a union of their own choice.

Ontario Liberal Leader John Wintermeyer forecast that a "revitalized and redetermined Liberal Party will win the next provincial election.

He repeated the election promises he made at a recent rally convention in Toronto and said the province, although the province had asked for $100,000,000.

Tom Cossitt of Brockville was elected president of the federation for Dundas-Grenville-Leeds, Fago of Ottawa and Philip Gaboury of Prescott named vice-presidents and Robert Fournier of Ottawa and Mrs. Maxwell Storey of Casselman were made French and English secretaries respectively.

In Red Countries

Newspaper Men Risk Lives In Free Expression Efforts

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP)— Despite suppression of the press freedom in Communist and other dictatorship countries, individual newspaper men still risk their lives for some vestige of free expression, the International Press Institute reported Sunday.

The institute, published a "survey of the press in authoritarian countries" which painted a grim picture of the decline in the press and opinion for nearly half the world's population.

The institute is an organization of some 500 leading newspapers publishers in 36 countries. Its 300-page study is based on reports from men who have worked in the countries concerned.

It said that in all dictatorships there exists enormous journalists "a spirit of revolt against the control by the tutelage of the press by the state."

This resistance, the report said "can be detected even in the U. S. S. R., where the control of information media is the most rigid."

There has been evidence in many authoritarian countries of the aspirations of journalists to a freedom greater than that granted once a greater decree of truthfulness in news. A large number of the newspapermen in the Communist and other countries have been severely punished for participating in defying government authority for the sake of their aspirations. Some of the latest to suffer are Hungary, Poland and Czechoslovakia.

The report said that in all dictatorships there is a spontaneous public attitude to the press through which is voiced whenever the controls are even slightly relaxed.

During the 1956 uprising in Hungary, for instance, the sale of free newspapers "assumed the character of panic as that of bread in the midst of the fighting in the streets."

Tibet, Many Other Problems Face Red China Parliament

TOKYO (AP) — Revolution in Tibet, peasant discontent over the communes, loss of prestige in Asia, economic difficulties — all these plague Red China as she prepares for the opening of her parliament, the National People's Congress.

The meeting of 1,200 delegates, starting Monday, will approve the country's budget and elect a successor for Mao Tze-tung as president.

All the important decisions were made at the last session of over a central committee session April 2-5 in Shanghai, Peiping radio reported.

Reports from Formosa said the central committee was headed by Executive Vice-President Chu Teh, Mao's old comrade-in-arms, former president of the Yugoslav agency Tanjug, reporting from Peiping, said the next president may be Premier Chou En-lai.

Some of the regime's troubles "the most unexpected sequel" to his operation two years ago for removal of a lung cancerous tumor.

The Press Association said because of the fever Eden's physician, Sir Horace Evans, was not to enter any program of engagements.

In Poland following the return of Party Secretary Wladyslaw Gomulka, there was a genuine flowering of press representation of the press, the report said. But the Polish experiment in press freedom soon was severely curtailed to avoid provoking Russia.

The Polish experience shows that under the Communist system, the press—even when it criticizes—can never enjoy anything more than a form of superficial liberty.

In Red China there was a brief period in 1956 and 1957 during which one paper, the Kuang-Ming Jibapao, went so far as to criticize President Mao Tse-tung and Premier Chou En-lai. But in the summer of 1957 the Communist regime unleashed a campaign of "ideological rectification" in which the editor-in-chief of the Kuang-Ming Jib-Pao was purged.

In the non-Communist dictatorships, press freedom is generally subject to less rigid restrictions than Communist, the report said.

In Spain, criticism is permitted only of municipal affairs. Numerous subjects are taboo. Nevertheless, the Spanish press "is far freer than the Communist countries and there are signs of new liberalization in the direction of greater freedom of expression."

It paid tribute to the part played by the Vatican radio in Venzuela' in helping the overthrow of dictator Marcos Perez Jimenez. It singled out the Dominican Republic, Paraguay, Bolivia and Nicaragua as the Latin American nations still maintaining restrictions on press freedom.

In Egypt, press criticism of the regime of President Gamal Abdel Nasser is "completely" suppressed said.

In southeast Asia, several countries, including Nationalist China, South Korea, South Vietnam, Indonesia and Thailand have imposed restrictions on their newspapers, it added.

Layman, Nun Elevated to Sainthood

VATICAN CITY (AP)—An Italian Franciscan lay brother and a Spanish nun who founded the Carmelites of Charity were elevated Sunday to sainthood in the Roman Catholic Church. It was the first canonization by Pope John.

Raised to sainthood were Carlo da Sesse and Gioacchina de Vedruna de Mas, Pope John appealed to the new saints to help bring to success the initiatives of his pontificate "already announced to the world." These are the ecumenical council, the modernization of canon law and a diocese meeting of the clergy of Rome. Announcing the meeting Thursday, Pope John said the diocese meeting was needed to take up problems resulting from Rome's growth in recent years.

The canonization ritual in St. Peter's Basilica was attended by 20 cardinals and thousands of pilgrims and Romans.

Carlo da Sesse, a lay member of the Franciscan religious order, died in Rome Jan. 8, 1670, after having won a reputation for piety.

Gioacchina de Vedruna de Mas, born at Barcelona on April 16, 1783, was the founder of the Carmelites of Charity. She died in Barcelona, of cholera, on Aug. 28, 1853.

U. S. Officials Inspect Seaway Tour Sites

MONTREAL (CP) — United States officials made an inspection tour Sunday of several real area sites involved in ceremonies to mark the official opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway this summer.

Queen Elizabeth and President Eisenhower are to officially open the multi-million dollar project on June 26.

The U.S. group here Sunday included officials of the St. Laurence Seaway Development Corporation — U.S. counterpart of the Canadian St. Lawrence Seaway Authority — and members of the White House staff.

They inspected facilities near the Jacques Cartier Bridge, where the official inauguration ceremonies are to take place.

Among the group was Robert Hubert, where Mr. Eisenhower is to arrive; Laurier Pier, where the Queen is to land Wednesday to berth.

Lewis G. Castle, administrator of the corporation, headed the group.

Yukon Starts Along Road To Self-Rule

WHITEHORSE, Y. T. (CP)— The Yukon Territories have started on the road to self-government.

The start was indicated in Whithors last week when Deputy Commissioner Manager Gordon Robertson assured territorial, councillors of definite progress towards setting up responsible government endorsement of the proposal first steps to increased responsibility.

The proposals would increase the council membership to seven from five, appointment of executive advisory committee of councillors to sit with the commissioner of the territory and make possible the attendance of the commissioner at all council sessions.

Mr. Robertson said he thought the commissioner responsible to the Yukon Act would be ready by the summer of next year.

Gasoline Leaks Into Sewers

ANSONVILLE (CP) — The threat of an explosion from gasoline leaking into the town's sewage system was eliminated Saturday when the fire traced to a self-service station storage tank.

The leak was discovered by James Stevens of the Ontario fire marshal's office and District Fire Marshal Joe Jarzebon, who checked pressure gauges on tanks.

The leaking tank was pumped dry, the gasoline syphoned into another tank and the system allowed to flow away through ventilators.

Russia Grants U. S. Licence To Make Complicated Gadget Used to Graft Heads on Dogs

NEW YORK (AP) — A prominent surgeon verified Saturday night that Russian scientists, in research designed to lead to the transplanting of human limbs, have successfully transplanted both hearts and heads in experiments with dogs.

Dr. A. David Gurewitsch, associate professor at the College of Physicians and Surgeons at the Columbia Presbyterian Medical Centre, observed the operations in Moscow last September.

"Nobody can underestimate what the Russians are doing," Dr. Gurewitsch said in an interview. "Their technical accomplishment is very considerable."

The most important aspect in medical efforts to transplant human limbs, Dr. Gurewitsch said, "is to learn the secret of the biochemical reactions" and other processes.

The tissue of one body reacts against foreign tissue from another body. And this is the major problem that has to be and can be overcome it.

"We have started to transplant a piece of a blood vessel and put it into another party."

SPECIAL TOOL

Dr. Gurewitsch said the entire Russian success "is based essentially on a gadget, an instrument, a tool."

He said it was a "very complicated gadget," which actually permits surgeons to staple one blood vessel to another with precision movement.

Time is of the essence in such surgery, Dr. Gurewitsch said, and the instrument developed by the Russians "does 30 seconds what it would normally take a surgeon 30 minutes to do — that is the linking of one blood vessel to another."

While in Moscow, the doctor said, he was told that the Russians have perfected and tested the commercial production of this instrument in the United States, but he did not know when it was to be expected to be made available to American surgeons.

King Hussein Inspects Plants In Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — Jordan's King Hussein followed a busy schedule of auto plant visits and receptions today as a guest of the Motor City.

Stops at General Motors, Chrysler and Ford were on the program of a city tour to be capped by a dinner party tonight at the Detroit Athletic Club.

The monarch, 23, repeated a plea to fight for Arab unity and against Communism in a talk Saturday night at a reception held by Detroit's Arab community.

"Communism and Arab nationalism can never be together," he said.

Upon his arrival from Chicago he was greeted by a fewscarrying placards protesting the Detroit Metropolitan airport. The pickets were orderly. They identified themselves as members of the Arab Students Association.

Signs carried by the pickets said "We want Arab unity" and "Release Arab nationalists from prison."

New Heart May Be Aid To Humans

CLEVELAND (AP)—An artificial heart that doctors hope someday may function in place of a damaged human heart, was described Saturday by Dr. William J. Kolff.

The palm-sized gadget, driven by electric motors, has already been used in experiments on dogs, said Dr. Kolff, director of the artificial organs department of Cleveland Clinic.

Two dogs have been kept alive for 14 days with the artificial heart.

But, he added, blood clotting on the plastic valves of the heart is a major problem which hasn't been solved. The artificial helps reject the first artificial kidney for humans.

Heavy Ice May Delay Voyage To Open Seaway on April 20

MONTREAL (CP) — A string of bad luck—ice, groundings and mechanical troubles—put the icebreaker—continues to hound the young St. Lawrence shipping season.

The 6,000-ton icebreaker D'Iberville was scheduled to carry a group of shipping and government officials through the St. Lawrence seaway from Montreal April 20.

But ice, jumbled ice at the seaway entrance seemingly has postponed the informal opening.

Seaway officials are expected to take place here in June with Queen Elizabeth and President Eisenhower officiating.

Harbor authorities said they got a telephone call from Transport Minister Hees shortly. They expected the opening date to be set back at least four days.

"The ice is bad," said H. L. Land, chief engineer. "There is its deep rafted ice in the harbor, practically to the bottom. It must be 20 to 25 feet deep.

"This is forcing rafter ice into the seaway entrance. We're trying to gouge it out now.

"We should have it out by Tuesday, maybe tomorrow if we're lucky. Once we reach St. Lambert lock it won't be bad at all."

The government ice-breakers Sauvel and Ernest Lapointe are also assisting and are expected ice in the seaway entrance.

But the Lapointe damaged her propeller Thursday and was forced in tie up for repairs. The Sauvel is expected to replace her alongside her pier without help.

"It wasn't the ice at all," said Mr. Land who was aboard the ship, "just something that fouled down."

So had the spare parts aboard and she's being replaced.

Downstream, about 20 miles, the Norwegian freighter Sarpen was forced into a clay bank by ice drifting in the Lachine Canal, a section opened to navigation.

Large quantities of ice were reported flowing down stream, through the shallow, winding channel of Lake St. Peter and on towards the sea. A number of ships, however, left the Pool II liner Antony made it to Quebec City yesterday. Others decided to wait at Trois-Rivieres and Montreal.

Report Eden Ill With Liver Fever

LONDON (AP) — Sir Anthony Eden, 61-year-old former prime minister, is reported sick with liver fever.

Doctors said Sunday it was his second attack since he returned home a month ago from a vacation in Mexico. They called it a "possible unexpected sequel" to his operation two years ago for removal of a lung cancerous tumor.

The Press Association said because of the fever Eden's physician, Sir Horace Evans, was not to enter any program of engagements.

Stirling Rotary Displays Local Minstrel Talent

STIRLING — On Thursday evening, April 9th, the Stirling Theatre was well filled with folk from the village and surrounding area and the local Rotarians were delighted with the attendance.

President Carl Bateman spoke briefly and said the proceeds of the show would go to the new Crippled Children's Hospital now under construction in Toronto.

Don Williams was master of ceremonies for the evening and was given appreciative thanks by President Carl.

Misses Helen, Margaret, Lois and Ruth Morrow contributed a number of vocal quartet selections among which were "Seven Minutes in Heaven," "Sugar Time."

A one-act comedy entitled "Quiet Street," was presented by the following cast: Les Rawlings, Bill Webber, Sidney MacDonald, Kenneth Gilliker, Edgar Hay-Ellis and Harold Wells.

The scene was "The Hart's Living Room." The characters all gave a good presentation of their various parts and they held the audience's attention throughout the scene.

The Minstrel Show was presented after a ten-minute intermission. The title of this was "Gentlemen be Seated," with a cast of twenty-six Negroes in costume.

MINSTREL SHOW

Donald Williams as interlocutor was seated on a dais and dressed in traditional black. The opening chorus by the group was "Hello People," and "Merrily We'll Sing Our Song."

The end men with their quips and jokes throughout the show were: Robert Hatton, Harold Baker, Geroge Lyons, Graham Mouck, George Noble, Earl Fox, Bob Patterson.

Vocal selections were given by Ted Reynolds and Graham Mouck with the group joining in the chorus. Maurice Bell rendered a banjo solo with K. F. Mayhew. Major Fraser and Harold Saries as orchestra accompanists.

Jack Bush, Ralph Johnson, Harry Brown and Grant Richardson sang "Blue Tail Fly" and "Moonlight Bay."

Edwin Reynolds gave a couple of dance numbers. K. F. Mayhew, dressed as "Brother Calhoun," sang "The Little Red Wagon," and "The Blues," with guitar accompaniment.

The whole group rendered "The Children's Marching Song." Bob Patterson contributed selections on his autoharp and harmonica which brought back memories of other days. When this minstrel was very popular on programs.

Carl Bateman, George Noble, Robert Hatton and Clare West delighted with two dance numbers which plainly showed the audience that you don't have to be a teen-ager to learn the art of routine dancing.

Major Fraser and Sherwood Reid gave a comic number, "The Yellow Rose of Texas."

The grand finale came when the group sang several selections followed by the Queen.

Other Rotarians who were a part of the chorus were Earl Eggleton, Gilbert Finkle, Bill Webber, Les Rawlings, Edwin Warren, Harold Wells and Harold Bird.

Several other Rotarians and Rotary Annes assisted back stage and all in all it was a very delightful evening of entertainment.

The Rotary Club is to be commended for their effort in producing a live show with local talent.

RECOVERY BUDGET — Finance Minister Fleming estimated a deficit of $393,000,000 for the 1959-60 fiscal year in his budget presented to Parliament Thursday night.

He estimated expenditures at a record $5,660,000,000 and revenues at $5,267,000,000. The budget deficit last year was a peacetime record $618,600,000 on expenditures of $5,387,400,000 and revenues of $4,773,800,000.

Graph shows revenues and expenditures for the fiscal years 1949-50 to 1958-59 and Mr. Fleming's forecast for 1959-60.

Mr. Fleming imposed heavier taxes on personal and corporation incomes and commodity sales in what was termed a "recovery" budget aimed at a smaller federal deficit. (CP

Frost Voices Praise for Work Done by C of C

TORONTO — Premier Leslie Frost of Ontario has issued the following statement in connection with Chamber of Commerce Week, which commenced Sunday:

"As Ontario progresses and industry and population continue to expand, the role of the Chamber of Commerce becomes more and more significant. It is worthwhile, therefore, to reflect upon the exceedingly valuable contribution which the thousands of members of Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce are making toward the creation and maintenance of a solidly - based economic and social life in this province.

"Without their personal efforts and group programs, Ontario could not have come so far — nor could it look forward to so much.

"At the provincial level, the Ontario Chamber of Commerce constitutes, among many other things, a highly useful medium of communication between the government and the business community. Through the Ontario Chamber, the viewpoints, specialized knowledge and experience of the province's business leaders are crystallized and expressed. This is essential to the fullest and most beneficial development of Ontario's vast potentialities.

"It is with pleasure that I take this opportunity, on behalf of the Government of Ontario, to congratulate the Ontario Chamber of Commerce upon its past achievement, to wish it well in its future endeavors and to endorse the objectives of 'Chamber of Commerce Week'."

Would Regulate Liquor Ads Along Border

BUFFALO (AP) — Churchmen and advertising men from the United States and Canada heard a suggestion Saturday that an international code be set up to regulate advertising of alcoholic beverages along the border.

Canadian churchmen have long objected to some aspects of advertising by Canadian brewers over American radio and television stations that can be received in Canada.

Advertising of liquor, wine and beer is limited by law in Canada.

About 20 Protestant ministers and laymen attended the two days of informal, closed discussions. The Churchmen's International Consultation was sponsored by the Canadian and the New York State councils of churches.

The group said in a statement that no definite conclusions were made.

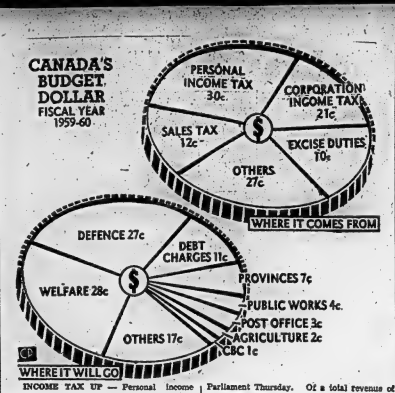
It was recommended that the American and Canadian national councils of churches continue the discussions.

The statement suggested that voluntary action, not legal means, would be the best way to solve the problem.

Soldiers Kill, Torture Moslems Priests Charge

PARIS (AP) — Thirty - five French Roman Catholic priests, in a letter to their bishops, have accused the French Army of torturing and executing Moslems in Algeria.

The armed forces ministry is investigating the charges. Similar charges often have been made against the French Army in the Algerian war.



The French Roman Catholic Church Sunday confirmed the existence of the letter, published by the current issue of Christian Testimony, a weekly which often comes under fire from the Catholic hierarchy for its advanced views.

The priests are chaplains called back to duty with the French Army in Algeria.

MAY COME TO CANADA

LONDON, (AP) — Atom spy Klaus Fuchs is reported to have "half-promised" British officials he will work for the West, perhaps in Canada after his release from prison this summer. The Home Office declined comment on the report by the Sunday Dispatch, which said security officers visited the German-born nuclear scientist with an offer aimed at stopping his going over to the Communist bloc.

INCOME TAX UP — Personal income taxes will yield the federal government about 30 cents of every revenue dollar for the 1959-60 fiscal year.

Finance Minister Fleming announced an increase in the tax in his budget presented to Parliament Thursday. Of a total revenue of $5,267,000,000 the tax would yield $1,578,000,000.

Pictures Wrong, Moscow Streets Alive With Cars

MOSCOW (AP)—The most surprising thing about Moscow to at least one newcomer is the amount of automobile traffic in the streets.

Moscow is on wheels.

Pedestrians have to hop.

The Russians themselves are partly responsible for any belief that the capital has few cars. Look back on official Soviet photographs of Moscow over the years—and other Soviet cities, too—and it's hard to find anything but an occasional bus showing.

Now the streets are filled with the small Pobedas, Moskvichs and Volgas; the somewhat larger new Chaiks; and the bigger, older Zims, named for Molotov; the luxury Zis named for Stalin; and the Zil named for Likhatchov, an engineer. On the last three the Z stands for zavod (factory) and the I (merely) named for).

They are comfortable, cheap enough to operate and look smart. They should. Down to the pushbuttons on the door handles they're copies of Western European or American cars. The Chaika is a Chrysler type.

Even old Pobedas that make up half the taxi fleet still rattle along. There may be a groan in the transmission, a cough in the engine—poor gasoline—or a thud as your driver takes a bump full on. But they get your there and back.

Theoretically, as in most other places, pedestrians have the right of way over, automobile traffic. But there are plenty of near-misses.

In the plains, there is not too much traffic on highways beside the rail line. But in cities such as Mushakit and Vitebsk are many rolling motor stock in clusters again.

This minister of health and welfare insists on—

The large economy size

Mother, as the family minister of health and welfare, knows the value of vitamins. She knows the cost of your money. So she has an eagle eye for the large economy size in vitamins, and many other things, when she shops. This way she keeps the family budget in line.

The Minister of Health and Welfare at Ottawa has a budget too. He uses it to pay for various important services. Among these are Family Allowances and Old Age Benefits.

Money for the Minister of Health and Welfare's budget comes through the Minister of Finance. This is true of other departments also.

It's no secret how the Minister of Finance obtains this money. He gets it largely in taxes from millions of Canadians like you. If he spends more than he gets from you, he must turn around and borrow from you the amount he has overspent . . . or else create new money.

The creation of new money is one factor that leads to inflation—when the dollar buys less and less. So, as a thrifty Canadian, you are wise to ask government only for those services you are willing to pay for . . . with taxes.

Personally, you try to pay as you go, to live within your income. It is important that government try to do the same thing.

You want to live well now and to realize all your ambitions for the best possible future. That future is tied up with a sound dollar—a dollar whose purchasing power you can depend on.

A SOUND DOLLAR MEANS A BETTER LIFE FOR YOU

HODGE-PODGE

Gerry Goyer who rated all-stardom while playing with the Kelowna Packers in the Okanagan Valley Senior League last season, is now with the pro Seattle Totems. Gerry has already scored a couple of goals for the Totems in their current semi-final playoff series with Vancouver . . . Al Kelleher, new boss-man of the Quinte Umpires Association, is the beau brummel of the mask-and-padders. Al is a stickler for etiquette and neatness, also laying down of the rules. He should do a good job . . . Our sincere thanks to the Mac's Booster Club for their thoughtfulness in presenting this department with a handsome souvenir tray at their ball the other night. We were also pleased to note they did not forget assistant Gary Alexander who received a similar gift. It was well-deserved for Gary did a first-class job for the Macs, both during the regular season and while we were on that European safari.

Difference of expert opinion. After Saturday night's Canadiens-Toronto game Foster Hewitt tonalized, "It was a great game but very close . . . very close." Comment: It is what he said in Prague when the Macs were leading Russia 3-0 with ten minutes to go . . . Gordie Howe in picking the three stars chose as the third luminary Johnny Bower, last goalie. "Without him," Howe said, "the Habs would have made it a runaway." . . . After all the shots on goal, Habs 44, Leafs 29, tells something of a story . . . Young Mr. Alexander at the next desk plans to go to win the Stanley Cup. Said he, "As much as I hate to admit it, the Canadiens will win the cup, likely in six games. You'll recall the way round for the Leafs with Johnny Harvey the scoring reason being the blueline and a half-dozen sharpshooters telling the story up front. If the will to win by itself was enough to produce victory I would have to take the Leafs, but you need the first class. P.S. Don't let city editor Claude Tice see this."

Lorne Cook, president of the OHA, for the past two years, relinquishes the post on April 23, after two annuals of outstanding service. The presidential reads has had its rough and tough spots but Lorne always remained cool and official decisions had to be made . . . A former Belleville boy Lorne took in the European junket to watch the Macs win the world title, and nobody was more pulled nor kicked his heart any higher in victory than did the popular proxy of the OHA. He has been a distinct credit to hockey in general and the OHA in particular . . . Don Thomas also plucks the Leafs to win the Stanley Cup "They are big and fired with spirit," Don said, "and while I believe they are up against a better club their fire and determination will overcome any obstacles" . . . Incidentally our Stanley Cup prophecies in this column were made prior to Saturday night's game . . . Al Dewsbury, one of Toronto's better fastballers, was sought by city managers to play here but Al smilingly shook his head. Al is a first baseman and outfielder and wields a mean hickory.

Al was the guest of honor at a special party held in Toronto the night of the civic dinner here. He put in an appearance at both shindigs . . . Bobby Hull Sam Hull's visitor at his home, but as far as the cohosen knows nobody has asked him the $64,000 question . . . Editor Dick Payne picks the Habs to repeat for the Stanley Cup. Says "Richard, Toe Blake has a dozen players in his club as good and better as any single stars Imlach says he has in the Leafs."

Peever says he is quitting bowling. The alley activities are beginning to affect his legs, he says. "They're bodderin' me artillories. I'm getting a touch of very-close veins." . . . Jimmy Phipson of our camera staff is looking for "for sentimental resons." Says fire would win. Imlach's explosions have caused a lot of smoke — and where there is smoke there is fire."

Word from Peterborough has it the Liftlock city may enter senior basketball again. Seems all suspended personnel have been reinstated with the exception of Ike Hildebrand. . . . That happy subsidiary organization of the city bowling alley known as "Knife and Fork League" is now under way and bodies the "Knife and Fork League" is now under way and bodies' the "Knife and Fork League" is now under way and bodies' the "Knife and Fork League" is now under way and bodies'

Tigers Beaten Three in Row As Yankees Shade Red Sox; Cards Trumped for 3rd Time

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Staff Writer

Three days won't make a week, let alone a season, but it looks today as if Chicago White Sox have the two ingredients they lacked most last season. That would be home run punch and strong relief pitching.

It was this combination that helped them win their third straight Sunday, a 5-3 decision over Detroit. The home run punch was provided by rookie Norm Cash. The relief pitching was furnished by rookie Rudolfo Arias and sophomore Bob Shaw. Each came in to stifle a Tiger threat with the bases loaded.

Chicago's three in a row at the expense of the Tigers has the club alone at the top of the American League heap. Two other teams still are undefeated. Cleveland has two wins and Washington and New York one each. None of the other four clubs has as yet gotten into the victory column.

YANKS BEAT SOX AND SNOW

The defending champion Yankees finally were able to open their season at Yankee Stadium. They just got the game in, too. It began to snow almost immediately after they had nipped the Boston Red Sox 3-2.

Rain forced the postponement of the doubleheader between Baltimore and the Senators at Washington and the single contest at Kansas City between Cleveland and the Athletics.

Veteran catcher Sherm Lollar shared the hitting honors with first baseman Cash for the White Sox. Both drove in two runs. Cash's homer gave the Sox six in three games, the most by any club. The 1958 Chicago team hit only 101 all year to rank last in that department.

It took fine relief pitching by Arias and Shaw to keep the White Sox undefeated. Detroit loaded the bases with only one out in the seventh against starter Dick Donovan. Arias, a Cuban left - hander came in to get cleanup batter Gail Harris on a called third strike and pinch-hitter Gus Zernial on a fly to right field.

Detroit loaded the bases again in the eighth with only one out. This time Shaw took over and got Eddie Yost to ground into a double play.

SEVEN HURLERS

Chicago didn't need a relief pitcher Saturday because Early Wynn hurled a seven-hitter in going all the way. But it was a different story Friday when the Sox used seven pitchers to quell the Tigers. The best work was done by fireman Gerry Staley, who hurled runless ball through the last 4 2-3 innings for the victory.

Bob Turley spun a two-hitter to get the Yankees away winging. Pete Runnels' double in the seventh and Vic Wertz' ninthinning single were the only hits Boston was able to get.

The ninth-inning wonders are back in business.

It was a year ago that San Francisco Giants began an incredible habit of pulling out games in the final inning. Nearly a third of their victories were achieved in that manner.

The 1959 season is only in its infancy and already the Giants have won two of their three games in the closing frame.

They did it for the second time Sunday, scoring three in the ninth to defeat the St. Louis Cardinals for the third consecutive day, the score was 7-6. Friday's season opener, the Californians tallied in the ninth and won 6-5. Thursday's contest was decided in the ninth Saturday since they already had a comfortable lead.

GIANTS LEAD LEAGUE

Sunday's triumph moved the Giants into first place, a half game in front of the Milwaukee Braves, who won the only two games they have played since yesterday's postponement. The Braves from playing their scheduled game in Pittsburgh yesterday.

In the only other league action, the Los Angeles Dodgers whipped Chicago 5-3. The scheduled doubleheader between Cincinnati and Phillies in Philadelphia was postponed because of rain.

The Giants' victory was as if the Cardinals might finally win the opening game of the season. They scored three runs in the first against lefthander Mike Cuellar, who was tagged by Don Blasingame, Gino Cimoli and Kay Boyer with two run singles.

The Giants fought back, how ever, tying the score with two in the fifth after scoring one in the third. Then, in the ninth with two out, Orlando Cepeda's triple drove in Jim Davenport, who had walked and stole a base. Reliever pitcher Vinegard Bend Mizell. That broke the 3-3 tie. Felipe Alou then got the game with a home run.

Al (Red) Worthington, with two hitless relief innings, was credited with the victory. Mizell, who was tagged for 13 hits, including two doubles, two triples and a home run, was the loser.

The Giants now have made 13 extra-base hits in three games.

The Dodgers, like the Giants, also overcame a 3-0 deficit. The Cubs got to starter Randy Jackson for four of their eight hits in the third to score all their runs.

Los Angeles got two runs back in the fourth on a triple, catcher Norm Sherry's two-run single. In the seventh, outfielder Don Demeter slammed a home run with Charley Neal on base to put the Dodgers in front 4-3. They added another run in the eighth on a double by Gil Hodges and Larry Fairly's single.

Taylor Phillips, who went the first seven innings for the Cubs, was the loser. Johnny Klippstein, who permitted only one hit in three relief innings, was the winner in Don Cardwell helped him with three scoreless innings.

Ernie Banks drove in two of the Cubs' runs with a triple and scored the other on Walt Moryn's single.

Dow Finsterwald Wins Tourney, Leonard Back

GREENSBORO, N. C. (AP)—Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta, Fla., sloshed through to win the $18,000 Greensboro open golf tournament with a 278 score for 72 holes.

Playing through a bone-chilling cold rain and wind, Finsterwald finished with a 71, six over par. He was two strokes ahead of Masters champion Art Wall of Pocono Manor, Pa., whose closing 74 gave him 280.

Six-time winner Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W.Va., finished with a 70, the day's lowest score, for 281. He tied with Claude Harmon of Apple Valley, Calif., for third place. Each received $1,100.

Mike Fetchick of Yonkers, N.Y., the leader through the first two rounds, shot 79 to finish at 284 and a tie for eighth.

Ken Leonard of Vancouver, among the leaders in the first three rounds, shot an eight-over-par 79 in the final round to end up with 286 for 12th place and pocket $400. Leonard had shot 66 in the first two rounds and par 71 in Saturday's third round.

Jerry Magee of Toronto finished out of the money with a 288 total. Magee shot an eight-over 75, 72 and 76.

In The Dressing Rooms

TORONTO (CP)—Coach Punch Imlach, who likes to wear his hunch high, says his Toronto Maple Leafs are in good shape despite the internship of Frank Mahovlich and Larry Regan's broken hand.

Leafs have lost two for two but Imlach's brow isn't yet creased in consternation. "There has been some of Canada's best hockey in our four straight," he said "but this isn't going to happen."

When Leafs arrived here Saturday after their 3-1 loss to Montreal Saturday night, Mahovlich entered hospital for treatment of a severe thigh bruise suffered in the second game of the National Hockey League final.

The big Leaf rookie will play in the third game Tuesday night anyway, Imlach has ruled, and so will Larry Regan who broke his right hand early in the semi-final with Boston.

Regan's hand will still be encased in plaster but he can get off a small enough to allow him to hold his stick. The hand "pained like the devil" on the bench game all night after the last time I looked, Regan said Saturday.

"But I'll be good for one game this series." He added that it may be four days before he'll play a game with this break."

It was disappointment all round but no discouragement which marked the faces of Leaf players after dropping the second game. "Don't forget," said Imlach to the boys, "we were two games down at the start of the Boston series and we beat Eruins in the end this time at."

He said "Canadiens also won one line.

The first two games of their semi-final with Black Hawks but Chicago has come back to win the third and fourth games in its home rink."

Imlach says he won't rest on Montreal today and leave for Toronto this afternoon. The fourth game of the best-of-seven series is scheduled here Wednesday.

Montreal defenceman Doug Harvey "played very well in the last game," Imlach acknowledged. "He and the experienced veterans have been very probably the main reasons why we didn't win."

In Montreal, after the game, Claude Provost, who scored two third-period goals, said he pulled a "change - up" shot on Leaf goalie Johnny Bower in the third period.

Provost had lifted a shot past Leaf defenceman to beat Bower with his first goal. His second came on a breakaway. He said when he saw Bower didn't make a move he didn't blast his shot but cut down on the speed with more attention to aim.

Coach Toe Blake called it a "heads-up" goal and said Bower was outstanding. He said the Montreal goalie "is the best bet were powerful on defence. Talbot playing his best game in two years."

Blake was asked about his use of Henri Richard and Bernard Geoffrion on two lines. He said: "The idea clicked. Like to play it and be sure got his chance tonight."

Hershey Meets Buffalo in A. L. Finals

CLEVELAND (CP) — Hershey Bears held off a late Cleveland Barons rally Sunday to enter the American Hockey League finals after the clubs split a pair of brawling weekend games.

Bears edged Barons 4-3 Sunday after Barons had evened their best-of-seven semi-final at three games apiece with a 3-1 win in Hershey Saturday.

A free-for-all early in the Sunday game sent six players to the penalty box at one time in the final contest while there were three fights in the first period of the Saturday game when 13 players were thumbed off during the period. Three misconducts were handed out Saturday.

Hershey meets Buffalo Wednesday at Buffalo. Bisons defeated Rochester 4-1 in games in their semi-final.

Coach Fisher, Mike Nykoluk, Willie Marshall and Eldard O'Brien were the Hershey scorers Sunday while Bob Robertson, Bob Bailey and Art Stratton replied for Cleveland.

Saturday Nykoluk got Hershey's goal while Georges Bouchard, Bailey and Bill Sweet scored for Barons—Sweet's in overtime — to even the count at one apiece.

Four Teams Are Definite Starters In Belleville Dist. Softball Loop

With the entry deadline just one week away only four teams announced their intentions of entering the Belleville and District Softball league at a meeting held over the weekend.

The league champion Point Anne Cementmen, Belleville Bobcats, Trenton Legion and Codrington Merchants, all returnees from last season, are definite starters. Frankford Merchants of last season are out.

Invitations have been sent out immediately to Picton and Campbellford. They will have until next Sunday, April 19, to file entry.

Since the team managers feel that the league will be better balanced than ever before, they said yesterday that unless more entries are in by the April 19 deadline the loop will operate with the four teams. The deadline will not be extended.

Sunday's meeting at Moira St. Firehall here to accept the entries and to finalize schedules for the softball season. Meeting time is two o'clock and all teams must be represented according to secretary - treasurer Bob Bland.

The league will open on Monday, May 18, the statutory holiday, with the first full program's champions, having the option of opening game if they so wish.

Royals Win Quebec Title

TROIS - RIVIERES, (CP)—Montreal Royals won the Quebec Hockey League championship by defeating Trois-Rivieres Lions 6-2 Sunday to take the best-of-nine final series 5-3.

QHL president Byron Higgins presented the championship trophy in a centre-ice ceremony after the game.

Veteran Skippy Burchell and rookie Bill Sutherland scored two each for Montreal. Burchell also picked up an assist on one of the young winger's goals. Both his own were unassisted.

Defenceman Bob McCord and playing coach Gerry Desaulniers scored for the Lions.

Neiminder Claude Evans was listed from the Trois-Rivieres net in the dying seconds but Sutherland killed hopes of a tie when he fired the puck into the empty net just eight seconds before the game ended.

SPORT IN BRIEF

BACK TO HOSPITAL

BOSTON (AP)—John Thomas, Boston University's sensational freshman high jumper, was ordered back to hospital Saturday for a skin graft to hasten the recovery of his ailing left foot. Dr. Chester Howe said Thomas would be in the hospital four to five days before the graft will be performed and then will remain there another week to 10 days "to permit complete healing."

PAIGE WANTS OUT

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Satchel Paige claims Miami Marlins of the International League owe him $1,000 in back salary and have refused to give him an unconditional release, Paige said he left the Marlins last year because the club refused "to pay what they owe." Team general manager Joe Ryan said in Miami that Paige is still on the Marlins' roster and that he knew nothing of his asking for a release.

GET TWO ROOKIES

MONTREA (CP)—Two rookie infielders have been assigned to Montreal Royals of the International League by the parent Los Angeles Dodgers. They are second baseman Don Demeshchuk who hit .238 for Macon of the class A Sally League, and shortstop Gene Wallace who hit .291 with Green Bay in the class B three-I league.

Seattle Wins Coast Crown

SEATTLE (AP) — Seattle Totems wrapped up the Western Hockey League coast division finals with a 3-0 victory over Vancouver Canucks Saturday night to take the best-of-seven series 4-1.

Goalie Bev Bentley's spectacular saves earned the Totems the shutout.

Big Bill MacFarland scored two for Totems with Rudy Pilous and Seattle defenceman Les Hunt getting the others.

Seattle now meets Calgary Stampeders, champions of the prairie division in a best-of-seven series that opens at Calgary Tuesday.

Whitby, Hull Play Tonight

HULL Que. (CP) — The best-of-three Allan Cup Eastern Canada final between Hull Legion and Whitby Dunlops gets under way here tonight.

Hull lost a bid for a best-of-five final when the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association turned thumbs down. Hull's concern was that earlier series in the cup playoffs were best-of-five and best-of-seven so it would seem natural the more important finals would be just as long.

Hull's semi-final match against St. Vincent-de-Paul was best of three. Hull winning 2-1, but all its earlier series were longer.

Whitby's semi-final against Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen was best of seven, won 4-1 by Whitby.

Whitby is heavily favored to meet the West in the Canadian final.

Second game of the eastern final is slated for Wednesday, in either Whitby or Toronto. The third game if necessary would be in Hull, but no date has been set.

Seven Iron Fathers Twin Holes-in-One

NIAGARA FALL, Ontario (CP) — There seems little doubt about it, the seven iron is the club to use on the 135-yard third hole, at nearby St. David's Golf Course.

Mel Parfitt of Welland, and Joe D'Anna of Niagara Falls, N.Y., each used one when they played the hole half an hour apart Saturday. Both sank their tee shots.

Parfitt's witnesses were Al Travers of Niagara Falls, Ont., and Bud Haylor and Walt Bissell, both of Queenston, Ont.

Playing with D'Anna were Vic Laurendi, Hatch Stephanin and Pete Peloni, all of Niagara Falls, N.Y.

Braves Whip Flin Flon 5-2

WINNIPEG (CP) — Winnipeg Braves scored three unanswered goals in the third period Sunday to whip Flin Flon Bombers 5-2 in the best game of the best-of-seven western Memorial Cup final before 6,238 fans.

The loss left Flin Flon leading the series 2-1 following two victories at home. Fourth game will be played here tonight.

Don Atamanchuk paced the hard - checking Braves' scorers with two third-period goals including the winner. Singles went to Laurie Langrell, Gary Bergman and Al Loblanc.

Gord Redmond Berenson was given credit for the first Flin Flon goal when defenceman Bergman scored the puck into his own net. Emil Gilles scored the other Bombers marker.

The rugged game was marred by a bottle-throwing fan who was ejected from the arena. The bottle crashed at the feet of referee Al Tebbko of Fort William following an uproar from the partisan Winnipeg crowd for a penalty to a Flin Flon player.

BREAKS WORD RECORD

TEMPE, Ariz. (AP) — Dallas Long, 18-year-old freshman at the University of Southern California, put the shot 64 feet, two inches—a foot more than the world record Saturday night. U.S. Olympian Al Nieder also outdistanced the world record with a toss of 63 feet 8½ inches. The world mark of 63 feet two inches is held by Parry O'Brien of the U.S.

At the Belle

THE MOST MEMORABLE MOMENT IN A WOMAN'S LIFE

Cinematic actuaries who keep tabs on the nation's boxoffice returns recently came up with the news that French movies have stolen the field from the Italians, whose films have garnered the lion's share of Yankee dollars for nearly a decade. Tonight's the Chillie Imports that range from melodramatic comedies (Four Bags Full) to period pieces (Gervaise) to under world sagas ("Razzia) there now comes, "The Case of Dr. Laurent", opening today at the Belle Theatre.

Unencumbered by threats of censors and pressure groups that sit like an uncubus upon the chest of Hollywood, Parisian friends have been free to make a picture that appeals directly to the adult mind.

Starring Jean Gabin and Nicole Courcel, and directed by Jean-Paul Le Chanois, this simple tale of the trials and triumphs of a Paris doctor translanted to a provincial village is concerned with the fascinating subject of the most exciting second in a woman's life, Miss Courcel, the rustic herb healer, undergoes the unusual experience of having a baby for the screen, with the astonishing exclaltation and freedom from pain that the "natural child-birth" method has made possible.

With adult curiosity, "The Case of Dr. Laurent explores the interplay of prejudice and magnanimity in a small town subjected to a new idea. A nifty psychlecal humor is evident in the gossip, scandal and medical rivalry that is finally dispelled to a young mother's "moment of truth".

Although an actual child-birth is shown in complete detail, the scene is not treated sensationally, but simply as an important adjunct to the story.

By successfully bringing life into the world a new way, Dr. Laurent wins the acceptance of his village. But in revealing the most intimate aspects of a delivery, director Jean-Paul Le Chanois has also tried to show that bearing a child is the most beautiful experience in a woman's life.

To Nicole Courcel belongs the distinction of being the first actress ever to be seen "giving birth" on the Canadian screen, by far the greatest, and yet the most challenging role of her entire career.

WINS 29-MILE RACE

COPETOWN, Ont. (CP) — Bill Sharpless of Toronto edged Larry Bastedo of Hamilton after a close duel Sunday in a 29-mile motorcycle scramble at this village near Hamilton. Both ride British machines in the 20-lap race over a rough, one-mile cross-country course. Sharpless was mounted on a Matchless, Bastedo on an AJS.

Wins Junior Chess Title

ELMIRA (CP)—A London high school student carried off the Ontario Junior chess championship here over the weekend in the Canadian Chess Foundation-sponsored junior finals.

Harold R. (Ted) Syrett, 17, won all seven games he played. Plans to enter the sixth annual Ontario open chess tournament to be held the weekends of May 9-10 and 16-18 at the Kitchener Concordia Club.

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RIGHTER

Aries (March 21 to April 19) — A day for real activity in the world of affairs, making personal calls, writing, using the telephone. Come to a quick meeting of minds. But be sure to first attend services of your choice. P. M. is best spent in serious study.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20) — A day for meditating upon the fine principles under which you were raised and adding to them the Truths which your personal experience has uncovered so that you have a fine yardstick to go by in your future activities. Study the printed word.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) — A day for increasing popularity and prestige. Dress immaculately and go about visiting those persons who can help you in your career. Be explicit in stating your goals as you enjoy social pleasures. Don't sleep. Act.

Home Children (June 22 to July 21) — Don't hesitate to indulge in your habit of deep concentration as that you can get intuitive flashes that are most helpful in everyday living. The right solution to current problems will occur to you very quickly. Relax.

Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21) — A fine day for companionship with good friends and enlightening conversations that will reveal your true worth and gain you both respect and ideas that can soon be put into operation. Assert yourself, good Leo.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 23) — Attend to any important civic duties you may have today, for you can be instrumental in carrying through patriotic programs with precision and zest. Contact those higher ups and have serious conferences with them.

Libra (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23) — Go to see that fine religious advisor who can give you ideal solution to any current problems. Carry through with suggestions made to the best of your ability and exhibit the fine spiritual side of your own nature.

Scorpio (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21) — Get into the so-called Silence for a while today and permit the more intuitive hunches to come through so that you know what your best future course of action is to be. P. M. plan the coming week's activities minutely.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — Spend this day talking at length with associates and all key people in your life. Ask questions that will give you a true picture of relationships and inner thoughts. Thus you reach truer understanding, cement better relations.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — Analyze honestly if you are using the right tactics with fellow workers and regular comrades to bring out the best in you as well as in them. Be more co-operative, for planets are with you to bring about real progress. P. M. rest.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — Be more affectionate now with loved ones. Later, get out to some delightful spot or environment that will give you greater peace of soul. Be your own charming self with everyone and you have a happy day.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to March 20) — Fine time to put everything in own abode on a more harmonious basis. Express devotion and affection to loved ones. Then be sure to entertain lightly in the peace and security of own home. Be an inspiration to others.

The very lucky child born today will have a rare combination of mental alertness and physical ability. A good education is imperative to bring out the fine potentials here, both spiritually and materially. Splendid chart for the fascinating professions of writing, lecturing, acting on the legitimate stage, selling or a combined and successful blending of two or more careers. A rare horoscope.

NEW ABBEY THEATRE

DUBLIN (Reuters)—The government of the Irish Republic has announced it will provide £250,000, to build a new playhouse theatre. The old Abbey was swept by fire in 1951. Plans already have been approved for the new theatre, which will seat 600.

Wayne, Shuster Sign Contract

TORONTO (CP) — Canadian comedians Johnny Wayne and Frank Shuster have been signed to another 12-show contract with Ed Sullivan's television.

The year-long series starts in September. Their current contract with Sullivan ends July 31.

Wayne said the new contract represented a "substantial increase" over the $175,000 figure for the present contract.

BIGGEST FLOW

DIDN'T LOCK THE SHED

BROCKVILLE (CP)—A Brockville firm was fined $400 Friday for violating regulations under the Explosives Act. Permanent Transit - Mix Concrete Limited pleaded guilty to storing a quantity of detonators in an unmarked wooden box, using an unlicensed magazine for storage and allowing explosives to be stored with tools or steel machinery and failing to keep the storage shed locked.

Steel Company Dispute Ends

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (CP)—Work resumed at the Algoma Steel Corporation's bloom and rail mills Saturday, ending a dispute over departmental seniority which had halted operations for a week.

The shutdown strike began when a number of men refused to work on similar jobs but under the jurisdiction of a different department, arguing that they would lose their seniority.

A company spokesman said the 500 men were tied up. Local 2251 of the United Steelworkers of America (CLC), reported it achieved what a strike was in progress since the men were paid Friday night.

The dispute was settled when the men agreed to accept the transfer to a different department. Any other settlement terms were not made public.

CLAIM CRAM RECORD

OTTAWA (CP) — A group of Carleton University engineers have been cramming, but not for exams. Twenty - seven students squeezed into the cubic feet of a telephone booth, calculating that 340 engineers per cubic foot was their capacity. Working on the principle that other booth-jamming attempts have accounted for more than 316 college students a cubic foot, the engineers claim an unofficial world record.

Tires, Tubes Prices Upped

TORONTO (CP) — A five-per-cent increase on tires and tubes was announced today by Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company of Canada.

A spokesman said the increase was due to higher costs of materials and labor and new federal taxes. Goodyear last boosted prices in 1955.

BARBER SHOPPERS MEET

BRANTFORD (CP) — A London quartet won the Ontario District Association of chapters of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America championship at a competition here Saturday night. The Night hawks have won the right to represent the Ontario district at the international convention competitions in Chicago this July. Seven other quartets entered.

ASSASSINATION ATTEMPT

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Lieut. C. G. Phaup, chief of the state capitol police said Sunday he is practically certain someone tried to shoot Governor J. Lindsay Almond Jr. Saturday. Lieut. Phaup said shrubbery near the governor's mansion apparently was broken by a bullet. An "explosion" rang out as Almond emerged from his mansion in a mid-afternoon to return to his office in the nearby capitol.

Cubans Sentence American, Then Let Him Depart

HAVANA (AP)—A Cuban military tribunal Sunday pronounced a death sentence on Alan Robert Nye for an alleged assassination attempt against Premier Fidel Castro, but allowed the 32-year-old American to leave prison a free man.

The Tribunal suspended its death sentence on condition he leave Cuba within 48 hours. He arrived a few hours later in New Orleans. The court said the sentence would be executed if Nye ever returns to Cuba.

Nye was arrested Dec. 26. Four former Batista soldiers were executed Saturday on war crimes charges, bringing the unofficial count of war crimes executions to 483.

FLYING SAUCER?

MONTREAL (CP) — Airport personnel at Dorval Airport and St. Hubert RCAF Station and hundreds of residents of south shore communities saw a mysterious light high in the sky over St. Lambert and eastern Montreal Sunday night. The object did not show up on radar sets. The RCAF has no official explanation for the phenomenon.

Adjudicator Dislikes Play By Ustinov

KINGSTON (CP) — Ottawa Little Theatre's scored a second triumph with a production of Peter Ustinov's "The Love of Four Colonels" at the Eastern Ontario Drama Festival Friday night, but failed to convince adjudicator Richard Ainley that the play is anything but "very long, drawnout British sex joke that goes on a bit too long."

Mr. Ainley made an attempt to disguise his distaste for the comedy-fantasy in which Ustinov has given the sleeping beauty theme a modern setting.

The adjudicator said director Barbara Meiklejohn and her production staff had triumphed with scenery, costumes and lighting. He found "a lot of timidity" among the cast, however, and suggested that the charade quality had defeated them. It was difficult for a young acting group to succeed with such "ridiculously-mannered" dialogue, he said.

The festival concludes tonight with the Ottawa Theatre Arts Guild's production of The Cave Dwellers by William Saroyan.

Magistrate Ends Service With 'Amnesty Day'

HAMILTON (CP) — It was "amnesty day" as Magistrate Seamer W. Hopkins ended 12 years' service on the bench.

He "rubbed out" the records of 11 teen-agers, adjourned 10 cases, dismissed several others, and let three persons on probation. Out of a list of 30 offenders appearing Friday, only two were fined and no one was jailed.

"I guess you could call this amnesty day, Magistrate Hopkins remarked to acting Crown attorney Hugh Brown.

During a short ceremony which followed, the magistrate who now becomes associated with the Canadian citizenship court, said:

"I never did like sending people to jail and six months after I took this job I wanted out. Instead I adopted certain policies which have humanized the courts.

"I have been sharply criticized for being too lenient," he continued, "but I would follow the same policies all over again."

His worship, who adopted in Hamilton the policy of paying fines by instalment to suit the "reasonable" convenience of the public, said it has helped reduce the jail population by some 25 per cent.

Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Carleton, Joan and Ann, spent some of the Easter holidays with Mrs. Edmund Carleton.

Mr. and Mrs. Franklyn Garrison and Sharen of Montreal, Quebec, spent a week's holiday with Mrs. Daisie Colden.

MARMORA

Pupils Win Awards at Music Festival

MARMORA — Marmora music pupils have again won a share of the awards at the Peterborough Kiwanis Music Festival. Awards were won as follows: Joanne Nichol, piano accompaniment, 3rd place; Dianne Neal, representing Marmora Public School against rural schools of a wide area, won 3rd prize and was especially commended on possessing such a rich voice for one so young. In the piano solo and duet classes, Marmora won 4th, 5th, and 6th places.

The adjudicators commended the pupils singing vocal solos and duets on the fine quality of voices for pupils so young, and they received 4th and 5th in this class.

Those competing in the different classes were: Barbara Bell, Sandra Gray, Gail Mawer, Dawn Mawer, Mrs. H. Mawer, Sharon McGarvey, Catherine Harvey, Bruce Pearce, Peter Pearce, Mrs. T. H. Pearce, Joanne Nichol, Sally Pick, Darlene Youmans, Sharon Steenburgh, and Dianne Neal.

Joanne Nichol presented a bouquet to Mrs. Vance Hall, vocal secretary on behalf of the Marmora club for her valued assistance.

The pupils and their teacher Mrs. Pick are very grateful to all who assisted with transportation or in any other way during the festival.

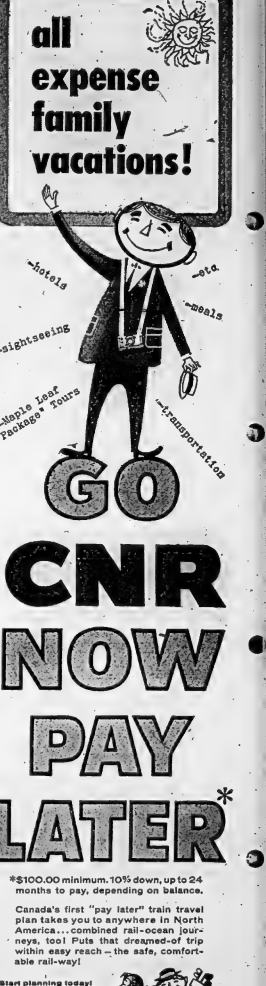
515 Charges Laid Against Widow In Welfare Case



MONTREAL (CP) — Mrs. Valmore Vougin pleaded not guilty Friday to 515 charges—including theft, uttering and obtaining money by false pretences—arising out of her distribution of cheques to the poor. More than $30,000 is involved.

Mrs. Bougie, a widow, was a volunteer distributor of provincial social welfare cheques at Ile Jesus, just north of Montreal.

She was ordered to preliminary inquiry April 16 after being released on temporary bail of $950.

Defence counsel Jacques Beauchamp asked the court to make a careful examination to determine whether she was a saint or sinner. He said she tried to use her judgment in distributing the cheques because she knew the needs of the people.

"For example, she took into account the fact that a man with a large family, unemployed a short time earlier, now had a job while another family suddenly had fallen into need."

Planes May Try To Get Capsule Of Satellite

Was Launched Monday Three Fail in Florida

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — Air force planes today may try to snatch from the air a miniature capsule of a type that someday could be used to parachute men back from space stations.

The capsule is in the nose cone of Discoverer II, a 1,600-pound satellite launched Monday from this west coast missile base.

At Cape Canaveral, Fla., Monday the air force failed unsuccessfully to put three satellites into orbit from single launching vehicle, Vanguard III.

The Vanguard's second stage failed to ignite about 30 minutes after it left the launching pad, when the satellite apparently was about 200 miles high. Cause of the trouble was not known.

TURNS ON COMMAND

If Discoverer II achieves proper stability, its instrumented nose cone is scheduled to be kicked loose on command from ground tracking stations and fall earthward.

Eight Hawaii-based C-119 Flying Boxcars were standing by and sible orders to swoop down on the descending capsule and try to drape it across a 30-foot-long trapeze bar suspended beneath each plane. The parachute and capsule would then be reeled into the plane.

Regardless of the outcome of the recovery attempt, spokesmen said they expected to get the second successful orbit in the Discoverer series. Discoverer I, fired Feb. 28, circled the earth 17 days before falling back into the atmosphere and burning up.

Seven hours after Monday's launching signals indicated the satellite was circling the earth north-to-south every 90.84 minutes, going as far out as 245 miles and as close as 156 miles. It was travelling 17,433.8 miles an hour.

The satellite is expected to remain aloft at least 30 days, sending radio beacon signals during all lifetime.

Future Discoverers will carry mice and monkeys into orbit to test the hazards man will meet in space travel.

Belief Growing Dulles May Be Forced to Quit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators today expressed a growing belief State Secretary Dulles may have to resign soon. There were reports that Dulles has failed to respond to treatment for a cancerous condition.

If fresh medical treatments planned at Walter Reed Army Hospital do not show results, the general opinion among members of Congress is that Dulles will step down quickly to clear the way for appointment of a successor.

Dulles returned unexpectedly Sunday from a Florida rest to re-enter hospital for further checks and treatment. President Eisenhower visited him for 45 minutes Monday but delayed a decision on Dulle's future.

Several senators said that if Dulles finds he is not going to be able to attend the scheduled East-West foreign ministers' meeting in Geneva May 11, they believe he will want the U.S. representative there to carry the title of state secretary.

Christian Herter, undersecretary, is serving now as acting secretary.

Senator Thomas Kuchel of California, assistant Senate Republican leader, said there is no question in his mind that Dulles will "eliminate himself if his medical condition or other physical inability to resume his full responsibilities."

Senator Mansfield of Montana, assistant Democratic leader, said the chief U.S. delegate "must not be in an inferior position" at Geneva.

WAS COUNTY WARDEN

CLAREMONT (CP) — George Malcolm Thorpe, former warden of Ontario County, died Monday at his home. He was born in the district and farmed there until his retirement in 1946. Mr. Thorpe served nine years on Pickering Township council, three as reeve and was township school trustee for 38 years. He was warden in 1939.

"TORONTO (CP) Synopsis: — Warmer air from Northern Ontario Monday which sent temperatures ing the mid-50s was replaced overnight by cooler air moving southward from Hudson Bay. Today the flow of warmer air from the Prairies will reach Southern Ontario, allowing temperatures to reach above-normal 50s again.

Mainly sunny and warmer weather will continue over Southern Ontario Wednesday but considerable cloudiness will accompany cooler temperatures over the remainder of the province and some snow or rain is likely in extreme northern sections.

LIBERALS, CCF ATTACK BUDGET ON TWO FRONTS

CCF Demand Taxes On Capital Gains

OTTAWA (CP) — Opposition groups in the Commons are off on different tracks criticizing the government's financial policy: the Liberals attacking the budget tax increases and the CCF calling for a tax on capital gains.

Speaker Roland Michener drew attention to apparent contradictions between the two non-confidence motions presented by the opposition groups as the Commons embarked Monday on a debate on Finance Minister Fleming's budget.

He allowed debate to continue after he had objected to the contradictory nature of the motions. Liberal Opposition Whip William Benidickson presented his party's motion which — in a red-letter Progressive Conservative government with "flagrant disregard of pre-election promises" by proposing tax increases, record expenditures and a record deficit.

TENDS BUNGLING

He said the government was "bungling and bumbling" its way into the 1960s although it came to power in 1957 on a pledge of lower taxes and expenditures and a balanced budget.

Erhart Regier, CCF spokesman said the country still is very much in an economic recession as he put forward his party's motion regretting government "failure to provide planned economic development of the economy by reversing the trend towards high interest rates and by establishing a capital gains tax.

Revenue Minister Nowlan said in reply that the budget was designed to "ward off inflation" and maintain the country's economic development.

The resolutions is to devote eight sitting days to the budget debate, during which remarks may range widely.

EXPECTS DEFICIT

Mr. Fleming has budgeted for a deficit of $393,000,000 on record spending of $5,669,000,000. His deficit in the last fiscal year ended March 31 was $616,600,000. His proposed tax increases are ilsaid to yield $227,700,000 in the current fiscal year and $352,000,000 in a full year.

Mr. Benidickson said "the new taxes and the resultant deficit

Intent to Kill Charge Is Laid

LINDSAY (CP) — John Bowler, 17, is charged with assault causing bodily harm, Monday had an additional charge of attempting murder laid against him.

He was arraigned Saturday at the home of a former girl friend, Aileen Murphy, 18.

Miss Murphy and the Murphy family had just finished supper Saturday when a man arrived to see the girl. Told she refused to see him, the man pulled a butcher knife from his belt and lunged at her.

Patrick, her nine-year-old brother, grappled with the intruder and suffered a cut on the neck.

Army of Bear Hunters to Launch Historic Hides-for-Heads Assault

TIMMINS (CP) — Mayor Leo Del Villano's men are ready for the hunt.

Final plans were made Monday night for what probably will be the biggest mass assault on wild animals in this Northern Ontario area.

Within the next two weeks about 60 men will head into the woods to hunt bears to resupply a depleted population of Provincial Guards with fur hats. About 20 of the hunters attended Monday night's meeting at which dozens of five-man teams were chosen.

The teams, well identified for a reason that was not disclosed, will mostly hunt during weekends. Shift workers will hunt during the week.

The men will wear badges bearing the insignia Porcupine Bear Hunt with a picture of a bear on it. Crests will also be issued.

Mayor Del Villano said the hunt may get under way within the next two weeks after the snow has melted. The mayor said the ground must be at least 50 per-cent bare. The bears are still hibernating.

Nobody mentioned Monday night how many animals will be needed. There is no limit on the number of bear a hunter can shoot but some doubt exists there are enough bear in the area to supply the guards brigade.

The hunt was organized after a Provincial Guards unit in the Kirkland Lake headpieces of the guards were becoming ragged and moth-eaten. Mayor Del Villo hit their own skin ning. From now until the hunt starts Bill Martin, a Timmins fireman who has experience in the art, will hold classes.

The mayor has made it clear that furs are what the hunters are after. There was no question of capital gain and offers to buy various parts of the animals have been refused.

DISCOVERER II BLASTS OFF — A huge sheet of flame roars from the tail of the Thor-Able missile carrying a Discoverer II satellite in its nose as the big missile heads skyward. In Berlin Corridor

Two Soviet Fighters Harass United States Air Transport

BONN, Germany (AP)—Soviet planes have buzzed an American Air Force transport in an air corridor to Berlin, the U.S. Embassy disclosed today.

An embassy spokesman said two Soviet jet fighters harassed an air force double-decker propeller transport on its way back from a routine cargo delivery flight to Berlin April 10.

The incident occurred a week after Soviet fighters had buzzed an air force C-130 turbojet transport on both legs o fa round trip to the Communist - surrounded city. The C-130 was flying at 25,000 feet, and the Russian pursuers tended Allied planes must fly at 10,000 feet or less in the air corridors between West Berlin and West Germany.

The embassy spokesman gave this account of the April 3 incident:

The military version of the Boeing Stratocruiser was flying at about 12,000 feet when two Soviet jets came up from behind and began cruising, each about 100 feet from the wingtip of the American plane.

The Russian fliers then swapped positions, one going over and the other going under the transport. The American pilot reduced altitude a little. This seemed to satisfy the Soviets, for they flew away. The whole encounter lasted only a few minutes.

The embassy spokesman charged the Soviet jets with "very dangerous maneuvers". He said American and Russian officers at the four - power air safety center in Berlin had exchanged verbal protests, each accusing the other's fliers of dangerous air tactics.

J. W. Belyarov, chief spokesman of the Russian Embassy in East Berlin, commenting on the incident, indicated Russia is standing by its demands that American planes fly below 10,000 feet in the corridors.

"The Soviet standpoint is known and has not changed," Belyarov told a reporter.

The United States Monday refused to limit the Soviets are trying to put on the corridors and said U.S. planes will fly as high as they need to whenever they want to. A formal American note was delivered to the Soviet foreign office in Moscow.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has rejected a Soviet claim that it has a right to limit U.S. Air Force flights to

K. Brown Is Named As Candidate by PC's

PETERBOROUGH (CP)—Keith Brown of Lakefield, Ont., Monday night was elected Progressive Conservative candidate for Peterborough at the next provincial election.

The 36-year-old car dealer, Mr. Brown won the candidacy on the first ballot, defeating, among others, Willard G. Waterman of North Monaghan Township, a veteran of 30 years in politics. Monday and former warden of Peterborough County.

Mr. Brown takes over from Harold R. Scott who is retiring after holding the riding for nearly 16 years as MPP for Peterborough.

East Germans Abandon Hope Country Will Be Reunified

BERLIN (AP) — The average East German has just about given up hope of seeing Germany reunified.

This is the impression gained from talking to East Berliners, refugees and people permitted recently to travel through the West German satellite state.

The way the Russians are digging in makes East Germans see no prospect of reunification. Konrad Adenauer's decision to retire as West German chancellor's worship has deepened the pessimism.

"How long can you hope?" asked an East German worker. "It's 13 years now."

The anxiety of the people probably remain opposed to the Communist regime. This doesn't count for much with 400,000 Russian troops in the country.

The East Germany division from the West becomes more absolute every day.

With the exception of a small and dwindling number of little shops and businesses, private enterprise has disappeared. Forty-five per cent of the farms have been collectivized and the target is 100 per cent.

The Soviets have shattered Germany's pre - war industrial pattern by welding East Germany solidly into the Soviet-bloc economy.

Take the new East German iron and steel centre of Stalinstadt on the Polish border. In the event of reunification, the Stalinstadt complex would become a monstrous white elephant. German iron and steel mills look naturally in West Germany's Ruhr, near sources of raw material.

Stalinstadt gets its coking coal from Poland and the Russian Soviet Union—at more than the German prices prevailing in the Ruhr.

New chemical factories in East Germany also are a integral part of the Soviet bloc's economy.

A whole new class of East German managers and highly paid technicians has sprung up, with a vested interest in keeping the two Germanies split.

The Reds know there is little chance of compelling adult East Germans to transfer their traditional attachments from the West to the Soviet east. So they work hardest on the children—and apparently with considerable success.

STRICT SECURITY RULES ENFORCED FOR DALAI LAMA

Check Travellers In Himalayan Town

FOOTHILLS, India (Reuters)—Strict security measures were enforced here today as this small town prepared for the arrival of the Dalai Lama on the last leg of his four-week flight to India.

Detachments of the Assam Rifles set up checkpoints to examine credentials of all travellers.

The 23-year-old god-king now is resting at Bomdila, 70 miles away in India's Kameng frontier division, after his trek on pony through the Himalayas.

TO TRAVEL BY JEEP

He is expected to drive by jeep along a newly built road linking Bomdila and Foothills.

With the Tibetan ruler are his 57-year-old mother, his two sisters, aged 34 and 36, his 16-year-old brother, three of his ministers, his lord chamberlain and his bodyguard.

From Foothills the Dalai Lama is expected to drive to Tezpur where he will board either a special plane for Delhi or one for Jorhat on his ultimate sanctuary in India—Mussoorie, a Himalayan hill station 120 miles north of Delhi and about 75 miles from the Tibetan border.

Mussoorie's favorite hill resort for diplomats and their families. Delhi has already chosen to give the Dalai Lama residence there somewhat the same altitude as his native Tibet and to shield him from the oppressive summer heat further south.

HOLD TALKS

He is due to reach there Tuesday and two days later is expected to meet Prime Minister Nehru for talks on his future.

There is some uncertainty as to whether the meeting Nehru may attend Beijing.

It has already been suggested in New Delhi political circles that Nehru would like to avoid any open for a possible return of the Dalai Lama if the Chinese were ready to make another attempt at giving Tibet autonomy.

Nehru said in the "present circumstances" was ruled out Monday by Nehru.

Dozen Firemen Keep Boy Alive With Their Blood

HAMILTON (CP) — The blood of more than a dozen Hamilton firemen is keeping alive a 12-year-old boy.

Hospital officials, who declined to release the boy's name, said Monday he is in critical condition for two days, suffering from haemophilia. The condition causes excessive bleeding. He began hemorrhaging after an operation two weeks ago.

The hospital soon exhausted its supply of the relatively-common O-positive blood and Sunday appealed through the Red Cross to the fire department.

The report recommended an aggregate increase of 9½ per cent, based on a three-year agreement and providing a two-per-cent increase retroactive to April 1, 1958; another eight-per-cent increase effective not later than Aug. 1, 1959; a final 1½-per-cent increase April 1, 1960.

The board also said that to about 14 cents hourly, the same amount granted the 130,000 non-operating railway workers under contracts signed last December.

Last year the CPR said it would bring the Kellock commission report on diesel firemen into effect May 11. The firemen's union, after consulting members, rejected a strike for the same day.

Three days later the dispute was referred under the grandad withdrawal proposal.

No Date Yet Set, Firemen Willing To Negotiate

Reject Board's Report; Diesels Are Main Issue

MONTREAL (CP) — W. E. Gamble of the locomotive firemen's union said today the union membership has authorized a strike against the publicly-owned Canadian National Railways, but no date has been set yet.

He said in an interview that strike arrangements are being made if there is no settlement of the union's contract dispute with the railway.

His remarks were made as he issued a prepared statement confirming the union's rejection of a conciliation board report as "barren and unacceptable."

Wife left to bear open to further negotiations with railway representatives on the basis of a compromise.

"If the railway has anything to offer, we're certainly willing to talk compromise," he said.

MAY BE MAJOR DISPUTE

He said in the statement that the contract squabble—involving about 3,500 firemen across the nation on the CNR—"threatens to become a major labor dispute."

He added:

"It revolves around two important questions—that of whether two trained men should be needed in the cab of every locomotive, and, the wages and working conditions of locomotive engineers in Newfoundland as well as the wages and working conditions of locomotive firemen-helpers and hostlers employed on the entire Canadian National system."

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen (CLC) bargains for about 72 engineers on the CNR's Newfoundland railroad. Hostlers are men who handle locomotives in the roundhouse.

Mr. Gamble said his members are "particularly incensed" over the CNR's use of the diesel lance to attack wages and working conditions of locomotive firemen on steam engines and also engineers in Newfoundland.

Mr. Gamble also criticized CNR President Donald Gordon who wrote to all CNR firemen 20 days ago to explain the conciliation board recommendations. The union chief said "certain important facts in the dispute were omitted from the letter."

HAS BEEN REJECTED

The CNR has already announced acceptance of the report.

It recommends that firemen employed on freight and yard diesels at present be kept on their jobs, but that new firemen should be hired by the CNR.

That was the formula used to settle a strike last May by CPR firemen, the second walkout by the CPR crews in less than two years over the same issue.

If the CNR accepts the same pattern as the CPR it would announce a date when it would be time to make the board's proposals effective.

There appeared to be no wide gap between the two sides on the question of the diesels.

The report recommended an

Cabinet Finds Dairy Price Policy Difficult

OTTAWA (CP) — The cabinet is reported having difficulty shaping new dairy price supports.

This is a very complicated situation," Agriculture Minister Harkness said, as he touched on the multi-million-dollar supports which expire April 30. The cabinet is understood to have mulled over a number of proposals for more than a week without reaching any firm decision.

Qualified informants said one proposal would reduce the consumer's price for cheese and manufactured milk products without cutting the farmer's take-home pay. This would be done by decreasing the present 34-cents-a-pound floor on cheddar cheese and replacing it eliminating the support on dry skim milk powder.

But farmers delivering milk to these plants would get a federal deficiency payment of 40 cents a hundredweight. Fluid milk, which it was indicated would bridge the gap between his present price and the lower price he would receive under the new proposal.

Butter would not be affected.

Britons in Canada Irate at Report In London Paper of Poverty Here

TORONTO (CP) — Britons in Canada have objected to reports from London that many of their countrymen here were living in squalor for food, sleeping on bare floors and lining up at soup kitchens.

The report was published in a British newspaper, The People, and described as a climax to a recent unemployment drive in the 30s and still hundreds of Britons were willing monthly.

"Yet immigrants are among those who line up in soup queues, in night shelters and on bare floors of mission buildings and even seek garbage for food leftovers."

John Bunker, president of the Overseas League in Toronto, said Monday the Press Council, unofficial watchdog of British journalism, should investigate the report. He described it as "so deliberately biased that it's outright distortion."

Edwin Jones, president of the British Emigration Goodwill Association, Incorporated: "I think we must be very careful that a small segment of loud - mouth malcontents who have been in five per cent of the immigrants returning home. There's no question that there are some in the street or starving here. The whole situation is not bad in the country and everybody is being taken care of satisfactorily. Generally, the immigrants seem to be better off than those from other countries."

Gerald Peters, president of the 2,000 - member Piccadilly Club: "That's complete bunk. There are only 13 of our members out of work now and there hasn't been an application for aid before our welfare committee."

BCI and Quinte Students See Science Show

Have you ever seen a car-sun solely by the power of the sun? Or an egg fried to perfection on a stove that is gone cold to the touch?

If you would you like to understand how a jet engine works, explore the mystery of controlling tommorrow's space ships and listen to a radio which is powered by liquid sunshine?

These were some of the experiments enjoyed yesterday and today by the students at the Belleville Collegiate and Quinte Secondary School at Previews of Progress, the General Motors of Canada Science Show, was presented by two lecturers, Ray Sbremeeta and Warren Abbott.

Packed with exciting demonstrations and filled with dramatic role in industrial progress, the 60-minute stage show was narrated in understandable terms of technical language, using exciting showmanship to make science come alive.

One of the highlights of the show was the amazing automobile, a miniature car that actually runs on the power of the sun. It depends upon eight photoelectric cells located on its roof for its power. These electric cells convert light energy into electrical energy which in turn powers a small electric motor to move the car. "

In the Previews show, the demonstrator used a 200 - watt lamp to duplicate the sun's rays. As the light struck the cells, the 15 inch blue and white sunmobile moved across the demonstration table.

In addition to sun power, the Previews audience saw a visual history of the jet engine in "exploit" form, beginning with a working model of the first jet which dates back to 200 B.C. this sequence was climaxed by the running of a miniature gas turbine engine with a non-combustible rotor.

Food-loving students were intrigued by a method which fries an egg in a matter of seconds but always remains cool. This is an unusual application of induction heating.

Science proved quicker than a magician's sleight of hand in the sequence in which synthetic rubber was created in about 60 seconds. The demonstrator poured a quantity of liquids in a pop bottle and a frothy glob of rubber 10 times the volume of the bottle leaped out above it.

Other Previews sequences included a vivid demonstration of the gyroscopes which will guide space ships of the future to their destination just as radio control guided missiles, ships and planes today and a fascinating dramatization of the microwave relay which sends television programs over long distance telephone calls across the country.

City Fathers Cut It Short Business Over in Half Hour

City fathers wound up council business in record record time last evening with the entire session being completed in little over half an hour.

Little business of major importance was transacted, the session being devoted almost entirely to the ratification of recommendations made by last week's committee meeting.

Two recommendations on the agenda, 1, that of changing the names of streets in the annexed area and 2, that of a by-law be revised, and 2, directing the city solicitor administrator to give priority to nursing homes within the city limits, were withdrawn from the agenda, the first motion being referred for further consideration.

Alderman Robert Temple asked that the recommendation regarding streets be deferred another week, noting that certain streets in the Hillcrest area were opposed to University Ave. being changed Jo Frisick Ave.

Alderman William Argue as chairman of the special committee appointed to name streets, agreed to the deferment noting that his committe had no fixed views on the names and were still open for suggestions. He noted, however, that any person having opposition to names already suggested, should make their objections known by letter to the city manager.

The 2nd recommendation with respect to nursing homes was withdrawn entirely from the agenda on motion from Alderman George Wishart and Mrs. Effie McCabe.

Mrs. McCabe declared she had entire confidence in Welfare Administrator George Whitmen and said in his 12 years in that position he had saved the city "thousands of dollars."

"He has always placed patients to their advantage rather than the city and will continue in this good service," she said.

The 3rd recommendation tabled at last week's committee meeting by Alderman Ralph Graham directed that "the welfare administrator give priority to nursing homes within the city of Belleville for the placing of welfare patients. That if he has any personal reasons for withholding patients from such home he notify the owner and give them the benefit of such reasons and co-operate with such home to the correcting of such conditions."

A complaint re stray dogs in packs running at large within the city with little apparent action on the part of the city dog catcher to remedy the situation, was aired by Alderman Les Digby.

The alderman asked what assurance there was that the dog catcher was going about his job. He observed that with many homes moving into the city as new lawns it was important that dogs be kept off them.

City manager Drury Denyes said he had received no complaints within the last three weeks regarding the dog catcher. He noted that a full time caretaker would be provided for the city police station and the fieldsman would assume duties at building on Pinnacle Street, thus freeing the dog catcher for full-time duty as dog catcher.

Alderman William Argue enquired about the position of pedestrian crosswalks, and Alderman Robertson Collins wanted to know when the by-law to overcome the smoke nuisance from industrial premises.

He was told the requirement was for a 24-hour watch to determine if the by-law violation was violating the smoke by-law.

Mayor Gerald B. Hyde named a committee of Aldermen Ben Sale and George Wishart to work with the city manager to consider the new garbage collection system, and a committee of Aldermen Jack Ireland and Walter Elliott to work with the city engineer on the 1959 estimates.

Mayor Hyde Replies to Criticism Of Metropolitan Editorial Writer

The editor,
Toronto Globe and Mail,
King St. West,
Toronto, Ont.

Dear Sir:

Among the editorials published in your issue of Saturday, April 4th, there appears one entitled "Lessons of Power," which I believe misleads the reading public as far as the actions of myself are concerned and therefore take the privilege of replying to them and setting straight certain inaccuracies which appear therein.

I am not just justifiably proud of the Belleville Hockey Club which won the World Amateur Championship, Prague last month and that it was proper that a ceremonial welcome should be arranged for the team upon their arrival home last Thursday. Up to this point you are absolutely correct. The editorial then goes on to suggest that it was impertinent for me to interfere with the normal functioning of retail merchants to facilitate that welcome, it states that I issued a proclamation ordering all stores in Belleville to close at 12.30 p.m. on Thursday and that I reportedly intended to consult the Attorney General with a view to laying charges against any store remaining open in defiance of the proclamation.

There is a further suggestion that regular meetings of City Council pass by-laws governing store hours but it cannot be done by administrative fiat.

May I draw to your attention that the minutes of the regular meeting of the Belleville City Council held on Tuesday, March 31st, show that item No. 6 on the report of the Committee of the Whole was carried unanimously. This item reads as follows: "That the Mayor be authorized to proclaim the afternoon of Thursday, April 2nd, commencing at the hour of 12.30 p.m. as a civic holiday for the City of Belleville." In accordance with this resolution a proclamation appeared in the local newspaper which read as follows: "In accordance with the authority vested in me by the Council of the Corporation of the City of Belleville and by virtue of the authority vested in me, I hereby proclaim the afternoon of Thursday, April 2nd, 1959 as a public civic holiday for the City of Belleville, which will allow all our citizens to participate in welcoming home the Belleville Intermediate Hockey Club, Amateur Hockey Champions of the World, and, I would call upon all citizens, insofar as is possible, to observe this proclamation."

The Council of this City in passing this resolution had at least two good reasons for such action. First of all, our citizens are enormously proud of the accomplishments of the Belleville Intermediate Hockey Club and most of them wished to pay tribute to their efforts by participating in the Appropriate ceremonies. Secondly, we had in our minds, certain unfortunate occurrences which took place on another community on a similar occasion which prompted action not issue such a proclamation and we suffered as a result from rioting and looting taking place on the day of their homecoming parade. Action of a kind this kind must be passed by the Council in order to allow the operators of business, retail vehicle, government liquor and wine stores to close. So far as I know, no pressure was exerted by any municipal official to enforce this proclamation, and I am happy to say that at least 95% of our merchants voluntarily observed this request.

Further, at no time was consideration given to the question of consult the Attorney General on the legality of this action.

The citizens of Belleville have several times passed judgement on my actions as one of their elected representative and I am sure you will pardon me if I express the feeling that I am now entitled to be judged for my actions by the people to whom I am responsible. I do not have these actions judged by the editor of a metropolitan newspaper who, in the heat of his mind at least, the necessity of writing in a manner designed to stimulate circulation of the newspaper by which he is employed.

Yours very truly,
Gerald B. Hyde,
Mayor.

Eastern Area Home Owners Get Surprise

A few home owners in the eastern annexed area of the city were having an unpleasant surprise these days with the receipt of assessment notices for local improvement work which in many instances owners felt was being paid for by the annexation.

City Alderman George Wishart brought the matter to the attention of council last night, noting that the notices were just being received from Thurlow township by the various homeowners work done prior to annexation.

He said that in many instances the work was completed and was the opinion that local improvements were being paid by the sub-dividers.

City Manager Drury Denyes said the matter was the question and had been done two years ago when the annexation took effect only now being sent out by the township. He said if the amounts were not paid by the owners they would be debentured and added to the tax bill.

He advised if there had been any misunderstanding as to payment of the local improvements the affected owners should take the matter up with their subdivider.

Today Thurlow township solicitor Earl Thompson said the matter in question had been done before the township took over and being all local improvement work prepaid went into effect. He noted that in some cases the assessments in the eastern annexed area of the city, such as Stanley Park, local improvements had been paid for by the sub-divider.

The new whole assessment notices are now being mailed out by Thurlow owing to installation of watermains and sewers. Watermains can be debentured over 15 years and sewers 20 years.

The notices are for the purpose of showing owners what the work cost and also the exact frontage on which they are assessed.

MRS. JAMES WIGGINS

PICTON — An esteemed resident of Athol Township, Miss May Reid, widow of James Wiggins, passed away at the home of her son, Point Petre, on Monday, April 6, 1959. Though she had been in failing health for, and came suddenly from a heart attack.

Born on March 19, 1877 at Harold, Hastings County, Mrs. Wiggins was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reid and his wife, Martha Knox. Her early married life was spent in the township of Athol. With her late husband, she went west to Grenfell, Sask. in April 1898. In 1904 they homesteaded in Rillington district, near Grenfell. In 1911 they moved to Cherry Valley, Prince Edward County and had since resided in that vicinity. Their early prairie home was a hospitable one, open to the district-side and who for needed shelter or friendship, and especially to her own family, their children and friends. Of a generous and kind disposition, she was ready to lend a helping hand in sickness and sorrow. A devoted mother in her own home, she was also 'mother' and 'grandmother' to many others.

During the early days of the West, Mrs. Wiggins gave freely of her time and talents to the methodist church, including the Ladies' Aid and was a life member of the Homemakers' Club, in war time doing much knitting for soldiers. She had been a member of Cherry Valley Lodge of the Women's Institute for the past thirty years.

Surviving are eleven children, Mrs. Ira (Agnes) Hopkinson, Cherry Valley, Mrs. Gillis Blakely, Belleville, Sask., Fred Wiggins, Deloro, Archie Wiggins at home, Joe Frank and Peter Wiggins, Cherry Valley, Mrs. Percy Rosebrugh and Mrs. Malcolm F. Dulmage, Belleville, Mrs. Charles Bellford, Belleville, Mrs. Clifford Partington, Whitby, also by a brother, Wilbert Reid, Belleville and a sister, Mrs. Ida Bellford.

The body was predeceased by her parents, a sister Eileen who died in infancy, a brother, George Reid, in infancy and by her husband on April 12, 1954.

The funeral service was held from the residence of her daughter, Mrs. M. F. Dulmage in Cherry Valley Church, Thursday afternoon, April 9th at 2.30 p.m. Rev. M. Fleming and a former minister, the Rev. E. V. C. Lewis officiating.

The lovely solo "In the Garden" by Mrs. Ira Hopkinson was sung by Mrs. Jack Beaumont while "Lead Kindly Light" and "Nearer My God to Thee" were favorite hymns of Mrs. Wiggins, were also sung.

There were many beautiful floral tributes and friends attending, and the beautiful floral tributes were numerous and evidence of the esteem in which Mrs. Wiggins was held.

Interment was in Cherry Valley cemetery.

MRS. JOSEPH ALEXANDER

The funeral of Mrs. Joseph Alexander, Church Street, was held Monday afternoon from the Pinkston and Luscombe Funeral Home to St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, where service was conducted by Rev. Wendell T. D. MacLean. Interment was at Belleville Cemetery. Bearers were David Kane, Jack Bird, Pat Cornell, Albert Moorman, Russell Holland and Clifford Crookes.

J. M. Wilson New President Of Kiwanis Club

Rogers Riedel, chiropractor, was the guest speaker for Belleville Kiwanians at their weekly dinner meeting in the Hotel Quinte yesterday noon. The speaker described his profession as one dedicated to the elimination of irritations and stress in the nervous system which may affect an individual and make him susceptible to disease. This end is achieved through the rigid adherence to certain principles of conduct or action.

The annual election of officers took place yesterday. The selection of the nominating committee was given by Percy McGuire and the club accepted the proposed slate without exception. The executive for the 1959 to 1960 year will include: Jack Yanover, past president; J. M. Wilson, president; W. N. Hiscott, vice-president; Hedley Burnham, secretary; Frank Ruggie, treasurer; and Steve Trigg and Max Rosenberg, directors.

In his talk, Mr. Riedel said diagnosis, utilizing every available and acceptable method, is carefully and thoroughly carried out in order to determine and correct the cause of a physical malfunctioning. A neurological analysis, is a study of the nervous system and is considered the most important basic cause for lowered resistance to infection and disease. This requires a detailed knowledge of all aspects of anatomy, physiology and pathology so that the search, for a nervous basis for a malfunction can be adequately and precisely performed.

Body mechanics, the position the body is in through acquired hereditary or congenital habits, are studied in order to determine if posture has some effect upon any disorders which might occur. The final principle, unique to the chiropractic profession, according to the speaker, through its degree of specific skill, and experience is the chiropractic technic. Through the use of a manipulative skill of correction, the exact procedure having been determined through the orthopaedic, neurological analysis, and study of the body mechanics, and through the use of supplementary measures, an attempt is made to restore the affecting nervous system to its normal state.

The main device used for this final principle is the trained hand of the chiropractor. Responsive to the proper correction of the body and capable of directing the corrections or of creating new reactions, the use of the hands is the basic skill the chiropractor is achieving better health for people.

The speaker was introduced by Merv Jones and thanked by Drury Denyes, who commented on the satisfaction with the graduate of the Canadian Memorial Chiropractic College has in the World War II veterans physicians during the past season.

Visitors, chairman and outgoing president, welcomed member Dr. Harry Burns back to the meeting after the latter's recent bout with the rabies vaccine. Anniversaries were celebrated by members Rube Freeman and Freeman Burrows. Harold Mott introduced the guests and Virgil James gave grace.

Hasty Peets Carry Out C. D. Exercise

Those members of the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment on parade last night were surprised with the news that a "A-bomb" had fallen midway between Belleville and Trenton and that the majority of those present were sent out to recover the "casualties" at the scene of the "blast."

This was the introduction of a surprise Civil Defence exercise, lasting two hours, during which members of the regiment were given the chance of implementing some of the training and information they had received from the Civil Defence courses which have been conducted over the winter months. Following the announcement of the "disaster" by Lt.-Col. A. B. Duffy, supplies were drawn from the stores including such items as stretchers, blankets, and other emergency equipment; the regiment's vehicles were readied; a short-wave communications system was set up; and the regiment was cut at the scene of the "disaster" within thirty minutes. Captain Charles Bowerman was in command of the rescue company with Captain Alex Cunningham and Lt. Pat Duffy assisting.

On the site of the scheme, 2 miles north of Highway No. 2, about six miles west of Belleville, the men spread out to find the "casualties" which had been placed about the area. Working over pre-determined waterlogged ground in some places and through dense bush in the more inaccessible section of the search, the "casualties" were found, placed on stretchers, treated, and finally taken from the fields to waiting trucks, and "evacuated" from the area.

The circumstances of the exercise were made difficult because only flashlights were available for the search of the "casualties" such as on a narrow ledge half-way down a steep gravel pit in one section of the search, the "casualties" were found, placed on stretchers, treated, and then taken from all other personnel in the unit until they were to go into action. It is understood that there will be other such exercises in the future to test the efficiency of the regiment and keep the personnel on their toes.

Following the field exercise the company assembled in the armouries at about 10:00 p.m. Lt.-Col. Duffy complimented them on the promptness and general efficiency displayed in carrying out the exercise. Refreshments were also made by Major Wilcox, Captain Bridel and Captain Cunningham.

REV. GORDON D. WOODCOCK

Baptists Welcome New Minister On May 3

Victoria Avenue Baptist Church officials announced today Rev. Gordon B. Woodcock, B.A., B.D., has accepted the invitation to succeed Rev. L. Keith Daniel, B.A., B.D., as pastor of the church.

Mr. Woodcock comes to Belleville from Lethbridge, Alberta, where he has served for the past 10 years as minister of First Baptist Church. He will assume his new duties on May 3rd.

A native of Ontario, Mr. Woodcock attended Toronto Bible College and later, graduated from McMaster University in Arts and Divinity. After a brief pastorate in Toronto, Mr. Woodcock moved to Lethbridge where, as pastor of First Baptist Church, he served on several denominational and interdenominational committees.

Mr. and Mrs. Woodcock and their four children will take up residence in Belleville at the parsonage, 102 William Street, early next month.

Following the evening service on Sunday, May 3, an informal reception will be held in the lower auditorium of the church to give the members of the congregation and Belleville friends an opportunity to meet and welcome Mr. and Mrs. Woodcock.

Since the resignation of Mr. Daniel in January to accept the pastorate of the Brampton Baptist Church, Victoria Avenue Church has been fortunate in having the services of Rev. Eric Quirk, B.A., K.I.H., for many years a missionary in India, as interim minister.

$619,383 Lost By Government In Cheese Sales

OTTAWA (CP) — The government took a $619,383 loss on sales of cheese to Britain between Jan. 1, 1958, and March 31 this year, the Commons has been told.

In written replies to questions of George McIlraith (L—Ottawa West), Agriculture Minister Harkness said Monday the governmental sold Britain 12,387,603 pounds of cheese in the period at 29 cents a pound. The price paid by the government was 34 cents a pound.

The government also was sold varying quantities of butter other agricultural products at a loss. Skim milk powder was sold at prices ranging between 12 and 17 cents a pound and sold at prices ranging between 8.15 cents a pound and 9.05 cents a pound.

Shell eggs were bought at prices ranging between 38 and 44 cents a dozen and sold at prices ranging between 25 and 36 cents a dozen. Other shell eggs were purchased between 34 and 36 cents a dozen, converted to egg products and sold at prices between 9½ and 15½ cents a pound.

Binkley Is Indicted by Grand Jury

BATH, N.Y. (AP)—William J. Binkley, 51, a former RCAF officer and Kingston, Ont., newspaperman, was indicted Monday on charges of first-degree grand larceny and forgery.

State police said Binkley has admitted more than 100 burglaries in the area ranging between Elmira and parts of Canada.

The indictment charged the indictment in connection with the burglary of a home here February 19 of a $1,700 fur coat. Binkley was arrested at a motel.

A college graduate, he worked on newspapers in Kingston and Belleville, Ont., and Canada's World War he edited a weekly newspaper in the air force. He gave a Toronto address.

His arraignment is scheduled later this week.

RCAF Curling Club Trophies Are Presented

TRENTON — The Trenton RCAF Curling Club wound up this season's curling festivities with a dance and banquet at which the trophies for the men's and mixed leagues were presented. With Ted Sulder's orchestra in attendance and S/L Kirkpatrick acting as master of ceremonies, 350 curling members gathered to eat, dance and brooms until next season.

The Quinte Hotel Trophy was presented by Mr. Charles Bisnoble, manager of the Quinte Hotel, to W/C Larry Haas, S/L Bill Chandler, S/L. Bob Diamond and F/L Pat McGuinty as the winners of the operetic Ospiel. This was the first time this trophy was competed for and the winners each received miniature trophies. The Director General Beattie Memorial Trophy awarded to the rink winning the most points during regular league play was presented to Skip Sgt. Ernie Davies, Cpl. Doug Thompson, Sgt. Bob Crawford, and Sgt. Ollie Therrien. Miniature trophies were received by the winning 15 games this season.

The Vice President's Trophy, emblematic of the club consolation championship was presented by president S/L Al Stinson to F/O Alf Fisher, F/O Ken Gabriel, WO1 Keith Saddlemeyre, Sgt. Jack Garrioch. The winners received gold pins, silver pitch trays and cigaret holders. The runners-up, W/C Hoult, WO2 Jim Ubakats, Sgt. Arch Davison, F/L Desk Jones, each received copper pins and copper butter dishes.

MIXED LEAGUE TROPHIES

The mixed league championship was won by F/L and Mrs. Doc Birbeck and F/L and Mrs. Reg Litt. They received sterling plaques. The runners-up, F/L and Mrs. Bill Gabriel, S/L and Mrs. Vern Smith, received copper lazy susans. The third and fourth spot, S/L and Mrs. Stroula won silver cream and sugar sets as winners of the consolation event. The second consolation event was won by F/O and Mrs. Ken Fraser and F/O and Mrs. Turgeon and they received wood cheese sets. S/L and Mrs. Buxton and F/O and Mrs. Barrett won the losers' event and received ash trays. Finally the loser of the losers' event was F/L and Mrs. Jack Thurmeier and F/L and Mrs. Henderson.

In closing Capt. Quackenbush thanked all the members and his committee who had served the very successful curling season just ended. In addition he called for improvements to take place next year. He has been elected RCAF officials and will be keenly missed when the next curling season rolls around.

Fly Timmins Woman To Toronto Hospital

TRENTON — A Timmins woman suffering from a brain tumor was flown to Toronto early Monday morning by an RCAF Dakota aircraft from Timmins to 102 Communications and Rescue Flight.

The patient, a Mrs. Kydd, was taken aboard the aircraft at Timmins at 3.40 a.m. Monday after RCAF officials at North Bay had despatched a call for help to the Rescue Headquarters at Trenton. The patient was accompanied to Toronto, and an awaiting ambulance by her doctor, Dr. D. V. McFarland.

Pilot of the aircraft was Flight Lieut. Jean Caldwell of Trenton, with nursing sister Flight Lieut. Jean Caldwell assisting the stricken patient.

Fire Destroys Small Building Owned by CNR

TRENTON — Sparks from a grass fire destroyed a small building on Canadian National Railway property yesterday afternoon about 3 p.m. The Trenton fire department was called out on a general alarm for the blaze by a railway employee.

It was reported that the section men had been burning grass previously and it had somehow set the small building on fire. It was also reported that the grass fire had destroyed a pile of lumber earlier in the day but too far from the burned shack.

A heavy wind fanned the flames and it was impossible for the two shooter lines from the trucks at the blaze to stop the fast burning fire. A steam locomotive had also been backed up to the fire and the hoseline of water manned from it. This, too, had little effect on the blaze.

The firemen and the engine crew were instructed to turn off the hoses and let the building burn out, as it was useless for the little value, and was well on the way to being completely gutted.

It had been used for storage of coal and for drying out sand for the use of the locomotives. A large stove was in the back wall of the building which heated the sand and dried it. Nothing was in the other end of the building.

The shed stood on the site of the old station which was the scene of a spectacular blaze back in 1929 when it was completely destroyed by fire. It remembered vividly by some of the old timers.

About 500 yards away from yesterday's fire was a box car loaded with coal in the siding but it was in no danger at any time of burning.

While fire trucks were standing watch over the burning remains of the building another call came in from Louis St., where a grass fire was reported out of control on a vacant lot. Firemen on duty rushed to the scene and extinguished it under control and out by using brooms and the booster line. No damage was reported from the grass fire.

Concert Body Hears Address

TRENTON — Paul Williams of New York, field president of the Community Concert Society, was the guest speaker at a meeting of the group at the society's parlors in Bethesda Presbyterian Church last night.

Introduced by Felix Skotajan, the speaker told the group to "sell your neighbor at the Community Concert." He added that so far as canvassing for subscriptions was concerned, it had been proved that there was a definite ratio between the number of people contacted and the number of sales made.

Mr. Williams, who is a baritone singer himself, quoted a saying of Luther, "Music is the art of the prophets."

He was introduced by Mr. Skotajan, who then introduced Mrs. C. V. Wilkins, he is organizing the Trenton drive for more members which is taking place this week.

Mrs. Wilkins, who is also chairman of the committee, introduced those people who had been most active in the work connected with the concert, Mrs. J. Ullley, J. Duncan and D. MacDonald. Mrs. Wilkins said that the committee was starting out with a handicap this year as many of its members were going west with the RCAF, but said it would have to work harder to make up the number.

Among future musical treats in store for community concert goers, Mrs. Wilkins mentioned a pianist who is blind, and herself pianist, just over from Israel, and said several other programs were being arranged.

where immigrants asked for assistance to go home. In view of the great number that came here, more than 100,000 it's intolerable. The whole thing must be the work of biased and disgruntled persons."

Dr. W. A. Hamelett, superintendent of the United Church's Fred Victor Mission—where the newspaper said hundreds of men who lost their homes were sleeping on floors when they arrived—said the persons using his institutions are mostly natives. He and his staff hadn't encountered a British person seeking accommodation, the newspaper's reporter found.

A picture in the paper, showing men sleeping on floors, was taken two years ago in connection with an article on sociology.

Rev. Morris Zeldman, superintendent of Scott Mission, which operates a soup and bread line, said his workers had encountered only one group of persons during a recent cold spell, a delegation seeking assistance for a transient.

Fire Destroys Chicken Barn, 3,500 Hens

PICTON (Special) — Some 3,500 laying hens were lost in a $20,000 blaze which consumed one of the modern five-storey chicken barns located on the farm of August Kaiser of Cressy, about 18 miles south-east of Picton, in the early hours of this morning. The fire, which started on one of the largest and most modern chicken farms in this part of the province, was first noticed at about 2:30 a.m. by Arthur Frizzell, a neighbor, who roused the Kaisers and a Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Pringle, who live across the road from the farm.

The alarm was answered by the Picton Army Fire Department and a number of neighbors but the blaze was out of control by the time they arrived. Fortunately there was no wind and the fire did not carry to any of the adjacent buildings, some of which were only 40 feet away. These, as was the burned building, were equipped with running water, a heating system and an elevator.

Are Seeking Dam At College St.

The Moira River Conservation Authority is continuing its efforts to secure financial assistance from the Federal government so that an ice control dam of proven design may be constructed at College Street. This would remove the threat of flooding in this area from the spring thaws. A flood warning stand-down statement issued by the Authority this morning, withdrawing the standby flood warning issued last February 14.

THE RESPONSIBILITY OF LEADERSHIP

If we might generalize on the problems of the world today we would suggest that most of our difficulties are due to the lack of leadership which most of us are content to display on many occasions. Too many of us, even on such small items as family or community matters, prefer to let "George do it." We would much rather let someone else take the responsibility of making a decision or initiating some action than to commit ourselves to an opinion or position.

In the home, for example, how many times does one find a father telling his children to "ask your mother," to which mother usually responds with an "if it's all right with your father, it's all right with me" "if it's all right with your mother may seem to set well with the parents it is quite confusing and frustrating to the child who is looking for some form of guidance or advice. Perhaps the parent justifies his or her position by stating that he "feels tired," has had a hard day at the office, or is too busy with the washing or preparing supper. This type of rationalization to excuses the parent from the responsibility of making a decision -- and it must be an equitable and understanding decision, not an arbitrary declaration made without considering the circumstances involved -- is inexcusable.

The major task of raising a family is not the mere provision of food, clothing, adequate lodging, and other material items, then expecting to relax and be left to one's own devices. The ultimate responsibility is to raise one's children in the environment of a congenial and happy family life, created through the understanding leadership and love provided by the parents' own personalities and example.

From the simple things, such as courtesy and good manners, to the more complicated things, such as personality development towards a tolerant, understanding, and Christian outlook on life in general, all these are the responsibility of the parent who must provide them through adequate and understanding leadership and guidance.

When we view the alarming increase in the number of juveniles involved in crimes and misdemeanors against society and the laws of the land we wonder what is happening to the family group in this technical, sophisticated society of ours. Obviously there is a very definite lack of leadership -- at least of proper leadership. Our young when they are in their teens will follow the direction of their elders or, at least, of those senior to them whom they feel are leaders and have something "on the ball." Prior to that time the basic attitudes and actions or pattern of living which a child will follow when he matures are being developed. This pattern is not formed from the "do as I say not as I do" attitude of a parent. This pattern is formed through long association with a parent. A father's or mother's habits, manner of speech, attitudes make an indelible impression on the young. It is this fact which provides the reason for a parent assuming the responsibility of leadership at all times.

When we notice an obvious failure in the production of a clean-living, law-abiding youth we must conclude that there has been a failure in the family circle. Whether we recognize it or not the family group is the basic unit in our entire social system. We do not mean to infer that the position of the individual has been replaced; far from it. We mean to infer that if the individual does not live up to his responsibilities within the family group, that is providing leadership, he will soon lose many of the benefits of his individuality.

In other words, if we cannot provide adequate leadership qualities in the simplest social unit how can we expect to successfully handle the more complex problems and responsibilities of maintaining or developing a harmonious and well-adjusted community, nation, commonwealth, or world?

The leaders of tomorrow must be raised in the families of today and the parents of today must provide the initial impetus for developing the leadership qualities of the coming generation. This is the responsibility of leadership.

TWO MEN

By EDGAR A. GUEST

Bill Brown is dead! Upstairs in grief
His widow weeps, while down below
The neighbors now in charge of things
Are softly moving to and fro;
And now and then come men to see who speak
Their words of sympathy and cheer
To sound the praises of poor Brown
And place their roses on his bier.

Across the street Tom Green looks on,
Alone, unaided in his fight;
To keep his wife and children clothed
He has to hustle day and night.

A word of praise would do him good;
He's hungry for a bit of cheer,
But all his neighbors take the flowers
To decorate a dead man's bier.

Brown doesn't know what's going on;
But poor Tom Green, across the way
Turns to his wife and sadly sighs,
"I'll have a lot of friends some day."
And men will bring me roses red;
They'll all rush up to boost poor me
The minute that they hear I'm dead."

Lament for a Lost Fork

By John Gould in the Christian Science Monitor

It's the little things that count, and if somebody will just tell me where I can catch a three-tined kitchen fork, about so big and so long, things will improve about the old homestead. We've lost ours.

You would expect if the roof blew off the manor, or the chandelier settled under the parlor, some degree of consternation would set in, but the absence of a three-tined kitchen fork might be borne up under with fortitude. There is not so, for the progress of our domestic program has gone to pot, and unless I can find a fork soon the future is gloomy and unpromising.

"I've misplaced my little fork," she said, one day, I suppose it was a month ago. I was meditating on some abstruse hypothesis, and didn't pay much attention, but a few days later she said, "I wish I could find my little fork."

After a few more times I said, "What's with this little fork, stuff?" "Why," she said, "the fork we had for the baked beans, one your mother gave me. And it couldn't be lost, it's so distinctive. We still say "swill" around here.

Things do go out with it. Every time I clean out a hog pen I find myself using supper spoons for forks, and all of the things a hog has no use for. The fork has had good service, and looked. I did, too, and I also poked around in the cellarway bookcase, gave the duck pen a scrutiny, throwing the ducks into a tizzy. But the fork could not be found and we had constant moon over the consequences. Very little bit of housework can be done, right that is, without that fork.

I remember my mother did quite it to her. My mother was ever the practical one. It was an heirloom, and had descended long in the family somewhere, sort of an old wives' thing. I was appointed on the day of an ordinary dinner fork, with which I had designs, but Mother said, "I couldn't keep house without that fork." And she gave me the fork. It didn't get out on the table with the fancy things made of silver, but it got in the barn after the ceremony.

• • •

It was a "utility" fork, of course. It would spear the brisket right out of the boiled dinner, battle, and drive it over to the platter. It would not turn bacon so well. It could flip rolls out of tins, stir scrambled eggs, and fish an olive right out of the bottle.

So, six columns of fine print, and still didn't find it. It must be gone. Every time I go into the kitchen I look for the implements. Everything is harder without it, much harder. Finally, "Look how I have to chase doughnuts around!" she says, and it's true. Those little fork always snagged them so aptly.

We went downtown for another. I took her to the city, and while I attended to my philanthropies she went to see she and down the other and asked in all the stores for a three-tined fork. None of them had one. None of them had anything even like it, she said, but in God sake she bought a two-tined fork because the man was so nice. It has her and bigger than the favorite, and she hoped it might do — but it didn't, she said.

Then one day I had a chance, in the course of business, to stores she missed, and I saw about every kind of fork current pretty extensively. I looked heavily to a three-tined picnic fork with an extension handle on them, so you can thread a hot dog and cook it over a fire like feel sweet, that's on the end of a fire to cook a hot dog on, anyway.

I became alarmed at the situation among our storekeepers and manufacturers, and looked for a small three-tined kitchen fork (holding my hands about so) and they would beam and come trotting back with one of the backbone fork with the long handle. It proves they are distinctive, but not the right thing. I can't say it is evidence of deep powers of observation, but I looked at about fifteen of these forks, and couldn't find it any longer.

It is just a little three-tined steel fork with a wooden handle, about like a dinner fork and two inches shorter, and the four tines are no good. You can't bake your fish with it. You don't know why. It may be feminine logic, a phase of philosophy in which I cannot be versed, but well versed. Anyway, that's what it is, and I'd like to get one. Just one.

"Maybe," she said, "Maybe it was the last one there about it somebody will know." She seldom, if ever, quotes Emerson or the extracurricular literary pursuits, and this showed how much I miss it. If it works, I may get some scrambled eggs again without trouble.

I'd say, offhand, the monetary value shouldn't exceed a dollar, at the utmost, even with today's expanded ideas. But when a family's entire happiness and future security is at stake, price is no object.

Strength for The Day

DR. EARL L. DOUGLASS

A CONSTANT NECESSITY

One of the happiest moments in a person's life is when a child begins to take his first steps. Father and mother get down under their knees and the little toddler staggers and reels from one to the other. An exhilarating experience of memorable significance has taken place — both for parents and, we can believe, for the child also.

But from the time an individual enters the world it needs to be guided. The child needs guidance. The teenager needs guidance. The young people, unmarried and married, need guidance. You and I need guidance. We are inconsequential little somebodies living on a planet which is tearing through space at speeds which bewilder the imagination. Much of our lives is conditioned by circumstances over which we have no control. We are given a little area in which we can work — in which we must work. Life's tasks and factions consist in our doing well

By G. A. MORTON
ARTICLE 3

Strolling about the Kingston business district one morning we naturally came to the warehouse district where produce wholesalers are located. Farm implements, hardware lines, fruit, rum and other articles of commerce were dealt in. Eventually we came to a warehouse where coffee was being sorted. The spicy aroma of ginger, turmeric and what could have been cloves, but probably wasn't. An employee was sorting what turned out to be ginger roots.

Walking inside we were commonly told that there was much fragrant coffee and spice coming from the building we just couldn't pass by without finding out more about what was being done. With that he called to a gentleman in an office who came out and introduced himself. When we explained the reason we dropped in he immediately took us on a tour of the premises pointing what the staff were doing and identifying the various products being cleaned, sorted, weighed and packaged. Coffee, for instance, produces a large quantity of high grade ginger which is the result of the plant. Breaking open samples from different piles our guide explained the reasons for grading the ginger. The roots which were soft and porous were of lesser value than the solid white samples.

Various piles of rice and coffee were carried in the matter of coffee we commented that we had been to the National Geographic magazine a few years ago, in a story about Jamaica in which it was mentioned something about the fine quality of Blue Mountain coffee produced in the mountain region of the island. Our guide at once interjected the coffee mentioned on the menu of the Myrtle Bank hotel. A PLEASANT SURPRISE

Handing over his business card, the gentleman proved to be Granville DeLeon with the comment, "Isn't it curious about coincidences? I am not sure that I am one of three owners of that brand of coffee." He went on to explain that recently there had been a merger of three coffee companies which were the main producers of the coffee. It was felt that better job of promotion and packaging could be done by one large company than three small ones. This plan, said Mr. DeLeon, was working out extremely well. So well indeed if he could get a half dozen pound tins he phoned the company warehouse and had them sent over.

In response to the question of how he had lived in Jamaica, he said that he was born and raised there and that his family ancestors had come over from Spain a little over three hundred years ago. His son is with him in the business and we met him the next day when we returned for more of the coffee, a fine looking young man as was his father. Mr. DeLeon said that if there was anything he could do to make out trip to Jamaica more pleasant we were to call him any time. We came away with a feeling that the Granville DeLeon pere for his friendliness to a complete stranger who had come into his place of business only because it was so fragrant.

Before leaving Belleville on the cruise, Mr. R. H. Martin, C.N.R. agent, thought we get in touch with his sister and brother-in-law while in Jamaica. This we did. The brother-in-law called on Mr. R. J. Wacksrtin, Swiss Consul for the island. He is also managing director of the Rum Company (Jamaica) Ltd., makers of the quality product under the Coruba and Excora brands.

Mr. Wacskerlin immediately wanted to entertain us to dinner that evening but as the host party had made arrangements to go to the Blue Mountains the next day for dinner. His wife and he both had luncheon engagements so we visited with them over the phone with her. He makes business trips to Canada and the United States and in his country well. His son, Gilles, is manager of the Myrtle Bank in Kingston, one of the handsomest retail business establishments in the city. Besides handles jewellery, fine watches, silverware and china, also gifts of the better kind. We visited the store next day and met Gilles who showed us around. The store is air conditioned and is the centre of activity. We are going to Kingston. It might be added that the son bears a remarkable likeness to his father.

To be continued tomorrow.

Sneyd and J. C. P. Phillips. As a congregational meeting which followed the meeting of the vestry, S. M. Kenny was elected a representative to the Diocesan Synod in place of Mr. Corby and S. A. Lockwood was appointed a representative in the same body for a term of two years.

OFF THE RECORD

By Ed Reed

"I'd like a crack at this mean sometime when I'm on a date."

To Your Good Health

By Joseph G. Molner, M.D.

SOME PEOPLE ARE SENSITIVE TO ASPIRIN

"Dear Dr. Molner: I was hospitalized for severe internal bleeding that necessitated 40 blood transfusions. An exploratory operation, X-rays and other tests disclosed no tumors or ulcers. Doctors ascribed the bleeding to aspirin. I had been taking one medicine for a severe cold which lasted a month, and another one containing aspirin for sinus relief.

"Please describe under what conditions and how aspirin is likely to cause bleeding. Are there many cases like mine? — J. E. C."

Your letter, sir, is important in that it jolts us into being aware of a fact that is not generally realized. Aspirin is a fine reduce bleeding.

How? Sometimes it affects the blood (technically, by depressing the platelets) so that it doesn't clot as readily. Sometimes it causes bleeding in the stomach from irritation or ulceration.

Please do not get the impression that we go say farther, aspirin is a valuable drug. I appreciate it as a drug which I have repeatedly written in this column, a drug powerful enough to be useful in powerful enough to be treated with care and respect. This is true of aspirin. It is a truly important drug! But it's a drug.

You ask if there are "many cases" like yours. To which I will reply as precisely as I can: Such cases are known. Considering the tons of aspirin consumed, one might say that these drastic reactions are not too common. The person must have a particular sensitivity to the drug. In some, it causes rashes, ringing in the ears, hives — always, I repeat, in susceptible, or allergic-sensitive people. What can happen and what will happen are two different thing. It depends on the individual as well as on the drug.

SAFE AND DEPENDABLE

At the same time, aspirin (and we know from years of experience) is one of the most dependable, standard and safe medicines for ever discovered. That is why it has been made so widely sold. But because of the occasional cases — like yours, or less severe — some authorities prefer test that it should not be so readily available.

As for me, I'm not taking any position on this. I'm just trying to make people aware of the facts. Aspirin is useful (I should say important) in treating arthritis, rheumatic fever, the common cold, headaches and many other ailments.

Indeed, most of the patent medicine for cold, grippe, and pains contain aspirin in one form or another. Hence any susceptible individual should know what is in the pills he or she takes — and aspirin is often mentioned by its more proper name of salicylates, or acetyl salicylic acid.

By no means is it a discriminate aspirin. Quite the reverse. J.E.C. is one in thousands with aspirin sensitivity. Only one in millions who is drastically sensitive. But let us not blink at the fact that sometimes the unusual does occur.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Last spring I developed a small rupture in my groin. I was told that I will have to have something done, as it hurts very much at times. It is a truss most of the time. Is an operation most always successful? Is there an injection method that is equally satisfactory? — S.H."

If I had a rupture that hurt (or maybe if I had one that did not, depending on the size) I would have it corrected by surgery right off. I've heard rumors about the so-called "injection cure". And it is were my rupture, I would not even consider the injection method.

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

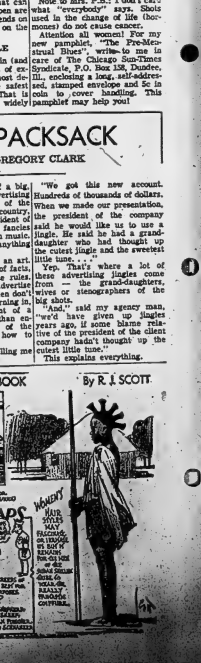
Imagine the feelings of a big, aggressive, expert advertising agency, on winning one of the most coveted accounts the company discovering that the president of the new client company fancied the ad as an authority on music.

Or an authority on anything but sales matters.

Advertising used to be an art. Now it is a science, full of facts, figures, graphs and slide rules. When they proceed to advertise something unfamiliar men don't want any amateurs horning in, even if it is the president of the corporation, any more than engineers want the president of a bewildering telling them how to build a bridge.

An agency man was telling me a sad story.

"We got this new account. Hundreds of thousands of dollars. When we made our presentation, the president of the company said he would like us to use a jingle. He said he had a grandaughter who had brought up the cutest jingle and the sweetest little tune. . . .



"Now, there's where a lot of these advertising jingles come from — amateur composers, wives or stenographers of the big shots.

"And," said my agency man, "we'd have given up jingles years ago if some blame relative of the president of the client company hadn't brought up the cutest little tune."

This explains everything.

Eastern Ontario Drama Winners Among Finalists

KINGSTON (CP)—The best in Canadian amateur drama will be presented at Toronto May 18-24 at the Dominion Drama Festival.

The eight plays selected to compete for first place and $1,000 were announced by the DDF here Monday night.

The plays are not necessarily the winners of the 14 regional festivals held across the country. Two are from Halifax and two from Montreal.

It is the first time that one city has sent more than one group. Last year British Columbia became the first region since the festival switched from one-act plays to send two groups.

Toronto, represented the last 10 years, will not have a group in the first festival held there in a decade.

The plays were selected by British adjudicator Richard Ainley who sometimes found the second best in one region was better than the best of another. He judged the 14 regional festivals.

The festival will be adjudicated by Mirdel St. Neot of New York theatre adviser to the Rockefeller Foundation.

The plays

May 18—Sudbury Little Theatre Guild, Mary Rhea's Every Bed is Narrow, one of the two Toronto-written plays in the festival.

May 19—Simcoe Little Theatre, The Boy Friend, a comedy and the first production to use music in the history of the festival. The production is a star-off on musicals of the 1920s.

May 20—Halifax Travelling Players, Henrik Ibsen's Ghosts (matinee), Marktonian Players, Halifax, Thou Shalt Not Die, written by Toronto's Patricia Joudry. The Marktonian Players won the regional festival.

May 21—L'Atelier du Prosceniums of Montreal, Eugene Ionesco's Victimes du Devoir, winner of the Western Quebec regional festival.

May 22—Medicine Hat, Alta., Civic Players' Diary of Anne Frank, said by Mr. Ainley to be the best of three productions of the play he saw on his tour of Canada.

May 23—Ottawa Theatre Arts Guild, William Saroyan's The Cave Dwellers (matinee), La Compagnie Nina Diaconesco, Le Militaire Fanfaron, a Roman tarne by Plautus translated into French.

Mr. St. Denis will announce the winner the night of May 23. It is expected Governor-General Massey, an enthusiastic supporter of the festival, will attend.

Two runners-up in regional festivals were selected to fill in if any of the top eight could not attend. They are the Port Arthur Mummers and the Montagu Players of Prince Edward Island.

Largest Aerial Mineral-Hunt Will Be Staged

MONTREAL (CP) — Sixty thousand square miles of Northwestern Ontario this summer are to undergo the largest aerial mineral - search ever launched in Canada.

Ontario Mines Minister James A. Maloney said the aerial part of the survey is to get underway within a few weeks.

After its completion, maps will be made and a ground geophysical survey will follow.

Ontario is to pay two thirds of the cost of the aerial work with the balance, and the cost of the ground survey, to be paid by the federal government.

Mr. Maloney made the announcement Monday during the annual meeting of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy.

Scouting activities

CANNIFTON BOY SCOUTS, 1910

As one of the oldest Scout groups in the Belleville area, the Canniflon Boy Scouts have not just one, but two, firsts in Scouting.

Their group was formed back in 1910 just a year after the Scouting movement was introduced in Canada, and their first Scoutmaster was a lady, the first woman Scoutmastre in Canada.

Miss E. Louise Rush, taught in S.S. No. 6 the school section Canniflon and Corbyville from 1906 to 1911.

In 1910 Miss Rush set up a Scout group. At that time she was the only woman Scoutmaster in Canada. Quoting Miss Rush, "One of the crying needs in the countryside and small hamlets then, and still true is the lack of activities for the growing children in their teens at least, in their leisure time. In towns and cities now there is a multiplicity of organizations catering to and compeling for the leisure of the teen-ager." Just about a year after the Boy Scout movement was introduced in Canada, Miss Rush was so convinced of the value of Scouting and the need for such a movement she was determined to set up some organization as much like that of the Boy Scouts as possible for the boys who came to her daily:

It was a big extra with the heavy school work. The senior room had grades 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8. Miss Rush was also very active in church work. Quite a number of boys were interested. They met in the school room one night a week and strove to follow what they could learn from the Scout manual. It was difficult to learn even some of the knots without help. The school board was always interested in them in their wild endeavors. There must have been a certain fire hazard one would think from a coal oil lamp. The school was in a lovely place by a busy highway bordered by a cedar thicket with only a tenant house nearby, often unoccupied.

There were many friends of Scouting in those days too. Col. Herbert Wilson, whose father had been a minister at Canniflon, offered to give the boys some military drill as he passed daily to Belleville from his estate duties at Corbyville. The Belleville Scoutmaster requested that his troop be guests of Canniflon, thus giving a scene of a living part of a larger organization. The Scout mothers helped to provide the food and so a fund was started for uniforms which would contribute so much to the morale and prestige of the troop.

On Thanksgiving Day they undertook to feed the 15th Regiment and made $22.50. Candy was made and sold each week, were a move not too popular with the local shops. These sums were supplemented by a concert put on in the town hall, all by themselves. The boys were wonderful in their presentation of the various parts and the audience, which filled the hall, enjoyed it all. Everyone was proud of the Canniflon Scouts. Twenty-eight dollars were realized and the uniforms were assured. Mr. Willet Farley, the leading citizen of the village, was the chairman.

Miss Rush was at a handicap not being able to play the piano. She purchased an old organ in Belleville for $3.00 and a friend, Jo Brereton, helped out in the rehearsals but didn't feel equal to the public performance. She influenced her friend Hazel Hume, an accomplished pianist, whose two brothers had attended the school earlier, to undertake that.

The Belleville Scouts asked the Canniflon Scouts to supply a number for a larger concert they were presenting at the City Hall. Miss Rush says "I have no notion what we chose but I do remember that it all depended on its leader, Harold Lawrence, a handsome boy, and I remember too how nervous he was as he went up on the high platform in that big Chamber with his cohorts." The people were generous in their support of this little group, Col. Ponton being most profuse in his congratulations.

The uniforms, consisting of a hat, shirt and belt were purchased in due time. There was also money for four boys to go to a Scout camp at Twelve O'Clock Point that summer. Julian Brooks won a watch for attaining some standard there. He also won a medal that year for singing in the W.C.T.U. contest. There was still enough money over to have a photograph taken. On a public holiday when there was no school the boys with their Scoutmaster walked into Belleville to have it taken in their brave uniforms. On the way a bad thunderstorm came up so they took refuge in a small barn belonging to Mr. Moorman where they climbed up in the hay loft conveniently and comfortably bedded with fragrant hay and passed the time with games.

Locks at Sault Open Three Days Ahead of 1958

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The Sault Ste Marie ship canal, which bypasses the St. Mary's River rapids, opened today for the first lake vessel to make the way up the ice-clogged river from Lake Huron. The opening is three days earlier than last year. The upper river, to Lake Superior, is still ice-bound.

Meanwhile, six ships were off Long Point, 40 miles southwest of Port Colborne and the Lake Erie entrance to the Welland Canal, waiting for a wind to blow away ice tying up the northern end of the lake. Prospects for a wind were not good.

The Columbia freighter O. S. McFarland entered Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Monday night after being assisted through the ice from Detour at the Port Huron side by the icebreaker Mackinaw.

She was to go through the American locks today and dock at the Algoma steel mills on the Canadian side. With appropriate ceremony, the sailors were each receive presents as they went through the locks and Capt. James D. Best of Duluth, Minn., was to receive a silk hat as the skipper of the first ship to enter the Canadian port.

WORK CUT OUT

The Mackinaw, which took the McFarland through the mush-deep ice in Lake Munuscong, was to widen the lower St. Mary's River today, then head for Whitefish Bay on the Lake Superior side to clear an extensive field of three-foot ice.

Meanwhile, Lake Ontario is clear. The shipping season was opened in Kingston Monday when the tug James Whalen entered the harbor from Iroquois.

The shower settled into quite a steady rain but cleared eventually when the march in which he was crowned ended the photo taken.

Reminiscences of an elderly lady now living in Toronto and still quite active with church work etc. We hope to see Miss Rush later this year and have her visit the present Canniflon Boy Scout Troop.

Our very sincere thanks to you Miss Rush for letting us share your happy memories and may we add that with the good start you gave the Canniflon Scouts it is small wonder that they continue to be one of the best and proudest Troops in the district.

Cannot Profit By Hospital Stay

TORONTO (CP)—The Ontario hospital services commission has plugged a loophole by which a patient could make a profit out of a hospital stay.

An addition to the regulations made Monday prevents a resident from receiving any benefit under any contract or agreement whereby he or his dependents may be reimbursed for the cost of any hospital service included in the Ontario Hospital Services Plan.

This does not prevent any person being repaid for an additional service provided by many insurance companies in Ontario.

It is designed to prevent double coverage of a service included in the Ontario plan.

"It is hardly right for a person to get standard coverage for which he pays only one-third of the cost in premiums, and then have it covered by other insurance," one commission official said. "That would be making his profit out of the taxpayer."

Under the present act, all insurance companies registered in Ontario are barred from selling health insurance. However, Ontario has no control over outside companies which might sell such insurance to an Ontario resident.

The new regulation will make it an offence for anyone receiving the money. The fine may be up to $200.

Rules Drafted Regarding Level Of Lake Ontario

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal power commission has issued regulations relating to outflows and levels of Lake Ontario and the St. Lawrence River to be followed by the power authority of the State of New York in operating its St. Lawrence River hydro-electric project.

The commission said Monday the regulations will become effective April 25.

Similar regulations are being issued by the Canadian government to apply to Canada's portion of the hydro-electric development associated with the St. Lawrence Seaway project, the commission said.

The regulations state that Lake Ontario's level shall be 246 feet April 1, and that the monthly mean level from then until Nov. 30 is to be maintained at 246 feet or more.

The minimum must secure the maximum dependable flow for power while the maximum outflow must be as low as possible to reduce channel excavations to a minimum.

Lake Ontario's levels also must be regulated for the benefit of property owners on its shores, the commission said.

The regulated monthly mean level was set at a maximum elevation of 246 feet, with adjustments. There also is a limit on the frequency of occurrences of levels of 247 feet or higher.

Husbands To Accompany W. I. Members

OTTAWA (CP)—Several husbands and a 13-year-old girl will go along with Canada's 90 delegates to a conference of the Associated Country Women of the World in Edinburgh this summer.

Mrs. J. W. Adams of Ethelton, Sask., tour director for the Federated Women's Institutes of Canada said Monday some Canadians will tour the British Isles before the Aug. 5-16 conference. A group of about 15 delegates plan to visit Brussels, Paris and Copenhagen after the conference.

With president, Mrs. Keith Rand of Fort Williams, N.S., the five-member sub-committee on the federation's planning body — has discussed Canadian participation in the international conference and made plans for the federation's biennial meeting in Charlottetown July 6-14.

Federation officials, holding their first meeting in the national office set up last October, said the 95,000-member organization now has nearly $12,500 in a voluntary-donation' foundation fund set up four years ago to support the Ottawa headquarters. Rural women's groups also have contributed $5,500 to a Ceylon flood relief fund established last year.

Energetic Club Views Slides Of Europe

The Energetic Club met on Wednesday evening with Elgin Moynes presiding. The theme for the evening was "Spring" and the rooms were decorated with pussywillows.

The devotional period was opened by the president reading the "Call to Worship", The Scripture was read by Phyllis Lucas. L. Bowers gave a reading on "Spring". Ann Hitchon read a poem and the Devotional was closed with prayer by the Rev. C. W. Coleman.

Mrs. P. Downs, accompanied by Dorothy Bowes, sang two lovely solos which were much appreciated.

Carson Stratton introduced Mr. Newton Thompson, a former chief clerk in the Superintendent's Office of the Canadian National Railways in Belleville. Mr. Thompson is also the first president of the Canadian Internation-al Y's Men's Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson travelled extensively in Europe visiting Britain, Holland, Belgium, Switzerland, Austria and Italy.

Excellent slides were shown of Venice "City of Canals", historical sites of Rome including the Vatican, Monte Carlo and many scenes of Austria and Italy.

He gave a witty, interesting and informative commentary while showing his pictures. Credit for the fine photography was given Mrs. Thompson.

Cam Hitchon thanked the speaker and the audience showed their appreciation with hearty applause.

Refreshments were served by Carson and Eunice Stratton and their group.

Mystery Dust Plagues Homes In Downsview

TORONTO (CP)—Wives in suburban Downsview complain of "mystery dust" has invaded their homes.

The fine dust film seems troublesome only in houses. It gets everywhere. One woman says she has to vacuum her children's hair before she sends them to school. Another gets about one pound of dust every two days from her cleaning.

No one knows where the dust comes from says Brian Buddy, suburban North York deputy supervisor of works. "It's got me puzzled."

Mrs. Paul Elsdown says she has to have a separate garbage pail to dispose of the dust. It is only troublesome in the summer, she says. Clothes hung outside to dry don't get dirty."

WALTZ KING

The famous "Blue Danube" waltz was only one of 400 waltzes composed by Johann Strauss, who died in 1900.

WOMEN OF THE MOOSE

The Women of the Moose held their first meeting of the month recently in Moose Hall. The meeting was opened by Senior Regent Gladys Hitch.

Business was discussed and "thank-you" notes were read for flowers and fruit sent to those who were sick.

One member, Nellie Pickle, was enrolled in the chapter.

Final arrangements were made for the trip to Watertown this month.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served and a draw was held. Annie Davidson of Trenton was the winner of the draw.

Full Gospel W.M. Council Holds Meeting

FRANKFORD — The Women's Missionary Council of the Frankford Full Gospel Tabernacle met on Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Reg Flood.

The vice-president, Mrs. Mary Patrick, was in charge of the meeting, which opened with prayer by Mrs. Ed Stromo. The W.M.C. chorus was sung and other favorite choruses.

Mrs. Fred Miller gave the secretarial report and Miss Marjorie Forbes gave the treasurer's report. Mrs. Gordon Pierce brought the evening message from St. Luke's Gospel, Ch. 5, speaking on "Faith and We as Helpers." The "Review" was read by Mrs. Gord Grant. Correspondence was read from missionaries Miss Annie Cressman, Liberia, Africa, and flying missionaries Rev. John Spilsenear of Northern Ontario and Quebec and Rev. and Mrs. Donglop of Marmora. Prayer requests were given and a long time of prayer followed. Mrs. Len Reilly closed this portion of the meeting with prayer. Mrs. Fred Wood led in prayer.

Refreshments were served and a time of fellowship was enjoyed.

Women's Activities

CENTRE ST. W.A.

The ladies of Centre Street United Church W.A. met at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Hudgins for their April meeting.

The Scripture for the day was read by Mrs. Collins and was taken from the Gospel of St. Luke, chapter 10: 25-37.

The W.A. topic, "Love Your Neighbor," was given by Mrs. D. Schamerhorn, followed by prayer.

Roll call was answered with a household hint. There were 11 members present. The treasurer, Mrs. G. Wood, gave her report. Correspondence was read. Mrs. W. Schamerhorn gave her report on cards and flowers sent out during March. Mrs. L. Longhurst and Mrs. D. Hudgins attended the Presbytery meeting held in Bridge St. United Church. Mrs. Hudgins gave a report of this meeting.

Mrs. Longhurst welcomed those present and thanked Mrs. Hudgins who graciously opened her home for the afternoon.

At the end of the business period was given by Mrs. Wood, entitled "Growing Old."

Another reading, "Spring Cleaning Your Heart," was given by Mrs. V. Kellar, while Mrs. Hudgins gave one, titled "How the Rose Grown Her Thorn."

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Hudgins, assisted by Mrs. Longhurst, Mrs. Howey and Mrs. Collins.

Women of the Moose Fete Co-worker Peggy Mintz

The Women of the Moose held a surprise party recently at the home of Senior Regent Gladys Hitch in honor of co-worker Peggy Mintz.

Euchre was played, closing with a social hour followed by refreshments.

Co-worker Mintz was asked to cut a cake donated by the members in which she found a purse of money.

Peggy thanked the girls and invited them to visit her in her new home at Plainfield.

Banana Cream Pie

by Mary Moore

It all depends on whether you will sacrifice a little bit in the way of texture, to achieve superb flavor, if you will want this recipe for Banada Cream Pie or not. When fresh this is a bit on the runny side, but when chilled cuts fine.

Dinner Menus

by Mary Moore

TUESDAY

Beef and Kidney Pie with English Pastry; Green Beans with Mustard Butter; Grated Cabbage, Carrot and Parsley Salad with Mayonnaise; Apple Sauce with Spice Cup Cakes; Coffee.

Pete arrived home ahead of time when I was posed to make a pie. Before he had his coat off I asked him if it should be Banana Cream, Butterscotch, Orange Meringue, Buttermilk Raisin or Coconut Cream. All the time I was rattling off these choices he was chessling Banana Cream Banana Cream Banana Cream . . . .

BANANA CREAM PIE

Four tablespoons cornstarch, 2 tablespoons flour, ½ cup sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 cups hot milk 3 egg yolks, 3 tablespoons butter, ½ teaspoon vanilla, 2 large ripe bananas, 1 9" baked pastry shell. Blend cornstarch, flour, sugar and salt in double boiler. Slowly stir in 1 cup of milk until smooth; add remaining milk and cook and stir over direct heat until mixture boils and thickens. Cover and cover boiling water 5 minutes, stirring frequently. Remove from heat. Quickly stir ½ cup of hot mixture into well-beaten yolks; pour back into double boiler and cook and stir 2 minutes longer. Remove from heat and stir in butter and vanilla. Cool about 5 minutes, then pour half the mixture into pastry shell; spreading well up sides of shell. Peel and slice bananas and arrange over filling. Spread rest of filling over bananas. Cover, sealing well to sides with meringue made by beating together the remaining 3 egg whites with 6 tablespoons sugar until stiff. Bake meringue until tinged with gold at 375 deg. Fahr. Cool pie, chill thoroughly.

If pie is taboo on your diet, how would you like to make a velvet-smooth baked custard and serve some lightly sweetened diced fresh pineapple and fresh grapefruit sections over it? Okay?

BAKED CUSTARD

(Velvet Smooth) Four eggs, 2 cups milk, ½ cup top milk, 1/3 cup sugar, ½ teaspoon vanilla, ½ teaspoon salt, nutmeg. Beat the eggs with the sugar and salt lightly but not foamy then add the milk, cream and vanilla and strain into a baking dish (or into individual custard cups). Grate nutmeg over top. Stand in pan of hot water. Bake at 330 deg. Fahr. until set and browned on top. Serve warm or ice cold.

Full Gospel C.A.'s Hold April Meeting

FRANKFORD — The regular meeting of the C.A.'s of Frankford Full Gospel Tabernacle was held Thursday evening.

President, Gail Walker, and secretary-treasurer, Helen Patrick, were in charge of the meeting which opened with the C.A. chorus. Mrs. Gordon Smith led in prayer. A hymn was sung. Messrs Barry and Brent Dashel of Belleville rendered two trumpet duets. Miss Carolyn Dashel read the Scripture from Ephesians. Mr. James Curry led in choruses and testimonies.

Usherettes Lois Wright and Brenda Payne received the offering.

Pastor Pierce gave the announcements.

Carl and Ann Andrews played an accordion duet. Mr. Doug Flood led in prayer.

A Bible quiz was conducted with Barbara and Gordon Smith as leaders. Miss Lois Wright led in a reward drill. A hymn was sung, and a time of prayer closed the meeting.

DANVILLE, Que. (CP)—When Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Taylor celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at a party here, the guests included the best man and bridesmaid at the wedding in 1909.

GOOD MANNERS

By Mrs. Beechman

WHEN SHOULD THE WEDDING CAKE BE CUT?

Dear Mrs. Beechman:

We are going to have a simple church wedding, with only our families present. After the ceremony, we are planning to have a wedding dinner at a hotel.

(1) Is it proper to invite the minister and his wife to the dinner?

(2) When the best man proposes the toast to the bride and groom, does the bride rise and stand during the toast? Also, does she rise when the groom proposes a toast to her?

(3) I am planning to have the Wedding Cake as part of the dessert. When and how is the cake cut and served?

(4) How soon after the dinner does the couple leave to go on their wedding trip? — M. A. R.

(1) Since only the members of your families will be present at the church ceremony and the hotel dinner, the minister and his wife would not, I am sure, expect to be invited to the dinner. However, if he and his wife are very close friends of yours, and you wish to invite them, it is entirely proper to do so.

(2) The bride should not stand when a toast is proposed to her.

(3) When the main course is finished, the Wedding Cake is placed before you and your bridegroom (if it is not already there), and you both rise to cut it. You hold the knife in your right hand, and the groom, standing back of you and a little to your right, puts his right hand over yours. Together you cut the first slice, and share it, as loving promise to "share" everything. Then a waiter continues the cutting of the cake, and it is served, with the ice cream, to the guests.

(4) You and your bridegroom may leave whenever you wish after the dinner.

Warren N. — What's wrong with helping out an old friend?

Betsy N. — But they live better than we do!

* * *

Warren N. — My wife and I aren't speaking to each other these days over an issue in which I am clearly in the right.

Six months ago an old friend came to me and asked for a loan. This man was head over heels in debt because of illness in his family. He had lost his job mainly because of the upset all this illness had caused. That's why he was unable to get a bank loan.

Neither he nor his wife had any close relatives they could come to. He was about to lose his home. This same man's mother had been very kind and helpful to me when I was a young man living away from my family. She had used to invite me to dinner when I hadn't enough money to buy a decent one of my own. I gave him $500 and my wife is furious. I think her attitude is cold and selfish.

Betsy N. — This man just used Warren as a "soft touch." Warren calls him an old friend, but he hasn't seen him nearly ten years before this event. What kind of friend is that?

This man and his family live better than we do. They have a beautiful home in one of the better sections. Why couldn't he borrow on his home? Is it our business to help out a man who doesn't want to risk lowering his standard of living? I doubt whether we'll ever have as much as he has. Has Warren a right to take from his own family to give to another?

I also don't like the way this man sneaked around to get hold of Warren when I wouldn't be there. He must have guessed that I would be a tougher customer. As for his mother giving Warren some dinners a few centuries ago, well I certainly don't think that was worth $500.

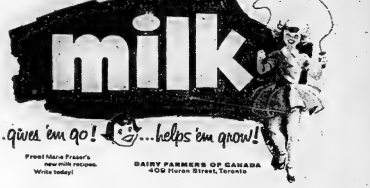
* * *

The Council: From the practical point of view, Warren may have made a bad mistake. Certainly, there is a lot flaky about the story of a man with a high standard of living who can't or won't get a finance company loan today. But for the sake of the moral argument we'll concede that this man was in a desperate spot.

We believe, first, that Warren was right to want to help a friend and second, that he was right to want to repay an old kindness. This can't always be repaid by a score card.

We do take exception to Warren's lending the money without discussing it with his wife. It does concern her.

Wives are notoriously tougher than husbands on this subject. They put their family's welfare above any other duty or outside tie. We do not feel that this is always a correct position. Under certain conditions, a man might have some moral obligation that he had taken the time and trouble to probe a little further into the situation.



A person who makes himself a soft touch is often one who enjoys a little too much the position of power afforded by giving handouts. This is certainly not necessarily in the best sense of

RARE, MEDIUM, WELL-DONE

By GEO. H. CRYER, Sports Editor

Jim McKenzie, the Sir Francis Drake of the city bowling fraternity, does not give up very easily. He is as determined as a fifty-six-year-old bride and as tenacious as a hungry bulldog with a meaty bone.

Jim tried to contact this department with a few alley items but was foiled in his first two attempts. He entrusted the first hunky missile to a pal, but while conducting a street-corner clinic on "Strikes, And How to Miss 'Em" and "The Peculiarities of Pinboys," palsy-walsy, while working upon an oratorical bumpy-nosed opera the bodice of the Bowl-O-Drome minister of tournaments and private works is drenched.

But McKenzie who was named after a certain late prime minister and has a river named after him, was undaunted. He tried the telephone. There then the line was busy. The fourth time he forgot the number, and the fifth attempt was unprofitable because Jim was reading a pay phone and he didn't have a nickel in change.

But the slogan of the McKenzie Clan is "Never Give Up." This was proven when the clan abdicated from Scotland on a four-master barque. All were seasick but refused to produce any tangible evidence.

The third attempt was successful. The bodget arrived yesterday morning when Jim is dog-tasm and three Eskimos arrived in the news room.

"In the sprina," paraphrases Jim, "a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of marrying a gal with a bankroll or a job." So, The bowler's fancy turns rather heavily to rainbow tournaments with a pot 'o gold attached."

"And a galaxy of local five-pinners," Jim goes on, "are sheadin' out yonder along the gold-dust trail. In the weeks ahead spectacular bowling loot will be available. Number One target will be the $10,550 guaranteed prize offered at the O'Connor Bowl Open in Toronto which runs from May 8 through May 23.

Top bowlers from across the nation will be on hand and Belleville will be well represented, according to Mr. McKenzie.

One of the maple-rollers is so confident, says Mr. McKenzie, that he intends going to Toronto on his bicycle, and returning in the new car he will purchase with the top prize money of two thousand from men. Mr. McKenzie did not include the optimist's name.

The O'Connor Tournament is an "open" affair and entries will be received from any and all bowlers desirous of participating. Information can be secured from the Bowl-O-Drome or Recreation Alleys.

City pin spillers will have the chance to iron the wrinkles out of their form prior to the O'Connor Grand Prix affair by entering the "Mr. Bowling" tournament the eighth by the way, which gets under way May 2. Ten games is the course and bowling will start at twelve noon.

The new edition of "Mr. Bowling" will emcerve one hundred bowlers, besides becoming the most popular season of an expensive wrist watch, thanks to the generosity of Jerry O'Connor of the Jewel Box of the same name.

Foot-In-Grave Leafs Defy Two-Game Conquerors

"We'll Win Next Two Here" Latest Imlach Prediction; Toe Blake Has Other Ideas

By JIM BASTABLE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP) — Toronto Maple Leafs, their comeback legend on the verge of burial, tangle with Montreal Canadiens-laden Canadiens in the third game of their Stanley Cup final series tonight. They may be peering down a gun barrel.

If Leafs hope to pull off another one of those dazzling comebacks, they should start tonight. The setting is right.

They trail Canadiens' 2-0 in the best-of-seven series for hockey's most prized trophy. And they're back on home ice.

Leafs were in the same situation against Boston Bruins in the semi-finals. They exploded to take the series in the seventh game.

MIRACLE QUOTA USED?

But there's a big difference. Canadiens are not the Bruins. And there's a feeling around the National Hockey League that Leafs have used up their quota of miracles for this season.

It must be remembered that they spent most of the season in last place and barely caught a playoff berth while the classy Canadiens were romping along in first place.

Punch Imlach, the Leafs coach who made what seemed to be wild predictions about his team beating Bruins, is still optimistic these days.

"Those guys have to win four before they can claim the Stanley Cup," he said Monday. "We'll win next two right here. And when that' happens, Canadiens had better watch out."

Monday was also Toe Blake, seeking an unprecedented fourth straight Stanley Cup as coach, still not making any predictions about this series. We know we've got two tough games ahead of us in Toronto, All I'll say is that we're going to do our best to win in four straight."

NEUTRAL VIEWPOINT

What is Canadiens' coach's view? Johnny Gottselig, former Chicago Black Hawks great and now the team's publicity director who is taking in the series, said Monday:

"I wouldn't be surprised if Montreal won it in four games. Let's face it, Leafs are a better hockey team. Leafs deserve credit for coming back but now they're playing the best. Canadiens are simply too powerful for any team."

Canadiens lost three games in a row only once this season and that was near the end of the schedule when they dropped two to Boston and one to Leafs.

To make life more miserable for Imlach, the Habs survived from Montreal with a line change that could kill Leafs in a hurry.

Blake and Jean Beliveau, Richard line working well and a new combination of Claude Provost, Boom Boom Geoffrion, Marcel Bonin and Ralph Backstrom—to throw at Leafs.

NOT DEFINITE

Of the formation switch, Toe said: "We're not calling it definite, but I'll say I wouldn't hesitate to use them tonight. Injuries can force all kinds of changes in an effort to find the right combination. Geoffrion worked with those boys last fall, so I let him get reacquainted with their style.

The Richard line is the old Rocket, Elmer the Pocket Rocket, at centre, big brother Maurice the Rocket at right wing and Dickie Moore at left wing.

"I'm still hopeful we can spring a surprise on the Leafs" by getting Bie Jean back," Blake said. "There's only a slight possibility we'll play Tuesday; it's better chance for Thursdays game."

NO LEAF CHANGES

Imlach is going with the combinations that conquered the Bruins. He is expected to have centre Larry Regan, who missed the first two games with a broken right hand between left winger Dick Duff and right winger George Armstrong.

"I didn't want to play Regan during those two skirmishes in Montreal," Imlach said. "He wanted to save him for the big one. Tonight's game is the big one as far as we're concerned."

Left winger Frank Mahovlich, who suffered a thigh bruise Saturday, worked out with Leafs Monday. He appeared in good shape.

Regan's return means Leafs will have to drop a player. Defenceman Noel Price, on the basis of the season, is expected to be lopped off. Centre Dave Creighton, a replacement for Regan in the first two games which Canadiens won 5-3 and 3-1, and goalie Petr Daley as well as coaches Rudy Pyrk and Jack Burns.

Still in hospital with the most severe cases are rightwinger Frank Sullivan and left Ted Bowsfield.

Seven Clubs Still Unbeaten But Today May Alter Marks

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Major League baseball puts a finish to the business of "exhibition" competition with the National League champion Milwaukee Braves, San Francisco Giants and Los Angeles Dodgers playing their first games as members of the Cleveland Indians, Chicago White Sox, Boston Red Sox and Baltimore Orioles make their home debuts in the American.

Seven of the majors' 16 clubs will start unbeaten, but six still are trying to get started in this second round of openers.

Here's today's schedule and home openers:

American League

Detroit at Cleveland—Jim Bunning (0-0) vs Herb Score (0-0).

Washington at Boston—Camilo Pascual (0-0) vs Ike Delock (0-0).

National League

The Pittsburgh Pirates, surprising runners up the winless Reds, are at Cincinnati, but this doesn't qualify as an opener. It was at Cincinnati that the Pirates began their 0-3 frustration last Thursday.

The White Sox matched some fine relief pitching with some surprise power for their opening sweep at Detroit, while the A's were trimmed by Cleveland in their only two starts.

Pierce, the southpaw veteran who was the opening day choice last Friday, but was not involved in the decision, Terry, a young right-hander, will be making his first start for Kansas City.

The unbeaten Indians are giving Score another test. The beknobbled lefty was wild in a relief relief chore at Kansas City. The Tigers try again with Bunning who escaped the decision in last week's opener against the White Sox.

The Yankees (1-0) have Larsen built to prove that his hitherto-on shoulder is fit. The Orioles, who haven't played since losing Thursday's opener to Washington, switched from Hoyt Wilhelm, who holds five Yankees last season, to Portocarrero.

The Red Sox are batting the Ike Delock genius belt's reputed to pitch against the Senators.

Boston, who got a quick start toward what would be his 10th season of 20 victories by shutting out the Senators 5-0 last year, goes for No. 2 against the Phils, who beat Washington 6-5 in their Tuesday game.

Start. Gomez makes his debut as a Phil following the winter trade that sent Curt Simmons to the Cubas right-hander, who dislikes the cold weather, has won four in a row to the Braves since June, 1957. If the weather is cool, Morehead will start.

ANOTHER DEBUT

The Giants, 3-0 after their sweep in Los Angeles, have a night game edge over the Braves (2-1), which introduced their new first baseman Frank Thomas in a trade with the Phils with Sanford going for his seventh victory in the opener. Catcher Del Crandall, Hillman has won three straight from the Giants.

The Dodgers, who split a pair at Chicago last weekend, start Roders who had an 11-4 record while winning only two of 10 decisions. Hemus had a 5-7 record last season but was 2-0 against the Dodgers for Carsh Furillo was left for new manager Solly Hemus.

Pittsburgh's pitching choice was young George Witt, who has been troubled by bum elbow. The young right-hander carries a seven-game winning streak over the Reds into today's action. Perhaps the ex-Buc who beat the Pirates the fifth consecutive time opening day, or right - hander Brooks Lawrence will work for the Reds who are 1-0.

Hints Expansion To Third Major League

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor Robert Wagner's committee to bring a third major league baseball team to New York says it will have something to announce within two months.

Bill Shea, chairman of the committee, said he recently returned from a three-week trip across the country during which he talked with various interested parties concerning the formation of a third major league that would include New York.

"We have made progress but we do not think it is in the best interests to issue any statement at this time," he said. "I do think we will have something to announce within the next 60 days.

"It would hurt us a great deal to make a statement now. We have to be sure of our ground first. As we said before, it's our firm opinion that the only way by which New York would get baseball in the league franchise would be through the formation of a third major league."

Shea said he would be no part in getting New York backers.

Bill Milwaukee, Warren Giles, president of the National League, said: "We're still a long way from the formulation of a third major league. He believes it is premature to form a third new eight-team league than expand the present ones to 10 clubs.

"But, we're a long way from establishing right now," he said in an interview. "We must first see whether or not our major league cities have adequate facilities and that they are responsible, responsible, solid organizations".

"They'll Do It Every Time"

By Jimmy Hatlo

Sport Snapshots

By JACK SULLIVAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

One of the first persons to telephone Red Storey after his resignation from the National Hockey League refereeing staff was Johnny Simpson. They are old buddies and Simpson welcomed Red into the lodge of fed-up referees.

They had a lot to talk about, because their careers are almost parallel. Both are tough, raw-boned men who took public abuse for years from coaches and team officials.

Both played in the Big Four football union. They were also officiate in the league and finally, to start their self-respect, quit their jobs.

Simpson, a hard-tackling little guy with the moulded Hamilton Tigers from the late 1920s to the early 1940s who competed in five Grey Cup finals, gave up his Big Four refereeing job in 1956 after 11 years' service. The criticism from coaches and club executives, particularly in his final year, was too much.

NOTED GRID STAR

Storey, Grey Cup final standout with Toronto Argonauts in 1938, graduated to Big Four and NHL. The same critics who hounded Simpson off the job won in the fused the Tiger-Cat club itself 1500.

The Big Four then became real big league.

POWER RESTRICTED

Instead of making the commissioner's decision stick, club executives met to decide the issue. The vote went against Hamilton and at the same time executives decided that Judge Fraser could only fine players and suspend them, officials and coaches for conduct detrimental to football.

This was a farce and the judge who received an honorarium of only $1,000 a year, resigned late in 1957.

Halter, who already had the job of commissioner of the Ontario Interprovincial Football Union, was appointed national commissioner. The Winnipegger is tough and talented and his disciplinary powers are respected by players and executives with fines up to $1,000.

He hasn't hesitated to use his powers and it's a good bet that if club executives try to interfere he'll quit.

DOG BREEDER DIES

MANCHESTER, Mich. (AP)— George Aebi, 52, an exhibitor in U.S. and Canadian dog shows, died here Sunday of a heart ailment suffered while running dogs in a field trial. Aebi, a retired Detroit police inspector, was known for his hunting dogs, His kennel of beagles was rated one of the finest in the United States.

players are the most gentlemanly men in sport. If the team captain has anything to say to an official, he politely addresses the official by name with the prefix "mister" and the official calls him 'mister' in reply.

"At least, they have respect for the man calling the plays and the official has respect for the players."

Simpson's resignation came about after the 1956 Big Four playoffs. Hamilton Tiger-Cats lost to the Alouettes at Montreal and Tiger president Jake Gaudaur had coach Jim Trimble invaded the officials' room in high dudgeon.

At that time, Judge Allan Fraser of Ottawa was Big Four commissioner. His limited authority precluded any disciplinary action against a club official, so

The Big Four then became real big league.

Tut, Tut, Scotty Quit Kidding Cousin Sammy

PETERBOROUGH (CP)— Peterborough Petes will be twice-tested for their Ottawa Canadiens in their quest for the Eastern Canada Junior A hockey title.

The first question will be answered during the day when a neutral doctor examines goalie Jacques Caron, reported out for the rest of the season with an aggravated leg injury.

The second comes at night when the teams meet here in the first game of their best-of-seven final. Hull-Otta won 5-4 and 2-0 in games.

INJURY QUESTIONED

Hull-Ottawa raised the question of the authenticity of Caron's injury Monday night when it was suggested his infirmity might be a way of bringing in a substitute goalie.

Bowman had already called in Dennis DeJordy from St. Catharines TeePees. He said Caron apparently aggravated an old injury in the second game of the playoff in Hull Sunday and that the limb stiffened in the bus on the way back to Peterborough.

Bowman said Monday night: "Caron will be examined by a neutral doctor tomorrow, but we all know he cannot play in his present condition. If the doctor declares Caron unfit to play, and I have no doubt in my mind that he will, then DeJordy will take over in the nets."

ALSO CRITICIZES

The Hull - Ottawa supricons have risen to a few by Mr. Bowman.

"This makes me want to beat them more than ever," he said. before. I am at a loss to explain why they would want to do such a thing. I would do anything to beat them after this and I hope we have the chance that way.

"I'm no cry-baby and I can take my medicine as should everyone else—I've never said anything about them not playing in organized league and packing all the stars from one province on one team."

The Ole Barber Quits Chair Will Put Edge on Pitchers

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Time has caught up with Sal Maglie.

The 43-year - old righthander, who oldtimers with a big curve, snapping variety of curve balls, took a job with the St. Louis Cardinals as a pitching instructor for their minor league club. The Cards recently added veteran pitchers on Maglie in order to hand him his assignment as instructor.

But the front office brass figures Sal is a treasure trove of pitching knowledge — invaluable to fledgling hurlers.

Maglie's first chore was to travel by-train—he doesn't trust airplanes—to Albany Ga., where Cards have their minor league headquarters. From there Maglie will wander about in normal fashion, helping out wherever he's needed.

As he packed in his hotel room, Sal seemed in good spirits. He said his new job was "the best thing for me."

"I like to work with kids and I think I can teach them a lot", he added.

But even as he was leaving he was thinking of returning to baseball's big time.

"I'm going to stay in shape," he promised "and maybe I can help some club in July or August."

These words came with the same determination that Sal showed on the mound in all seasons in the American and National Leagues with the Giants, Dodgers, Indians and New York "Yankees.

In those years he notched victories while losing only 62, a percentage of .657. Only Whitey Ford of the Yankees, among active pitchers, has done better. Ford has a phenomenal .704 career mark.

Maglie, dubbed "the barber" for habitually brushing batsmen with inshoot, broke into the big leagues in 1945 with the Boston Braves.

For the next four years, he was in the Mexican League, perfecting his various curve balls and learning the refinements of his trade from Dolf Luque, former pitching great of the Cincinnati Reds and Giants.

Just before he departed, Sal retailed the classic games of his career.

He gave top priority to a nohitter pitched in 1956 when he threw a season no-hitter against Philadelphia to help the Dodgers win the pennant.

That was typical Maglie—he liked the pressure of the big game.

Flu Floors 16 Red Sox

BOSTON (AP)—General manager Bucky Harris, two coaches and 15 members of the Boston Red Sox squad were weakened by a flu bug Monday but righthander Ike Delock said hes ready to pitch the Red Sox home opener against Washington today.

"He'll pitch if he is able," field boss Mike Higgins said.

"I'll be ready," replied Ike, who has a 14-4 lifetime record against the Senators.

Other last additions to the club list are first baseman Vic Wertz, who got one of the two hits off New York's Bob Turley in Sunday's 2-1 loss, pitcher Herb Moford and catcher Pete Daley as well as coaches Rudy Pyrk and Jack Burns.

Still in hospital with the most severe cases are rightfielder Frank Sullivan and left Ted Bowsfield.

Blair Wants Allan Cup Opener In Toronto Sunday

Dunlops Sweep to Easy Win Over Hull in Eastern Final; Looks Like Vernon in West

By ARTHUR WILKES
Canadian Press Staff Writer

HULL, Que. (CP)—The all-Ontario hockey champion Whitby Dunlops are within one game of a shot at their second Allan Cup in three years.

The Dunlops downed a stubborn Hull Legion 7-2 Monday night in the opening game of their best-of-three Eastern Canada final and are heavy favorites to take Wednesday's second game in Whitby and earn a berth in the final against the western champion.

But even Whitby manager Wren Blair wasn't expecting such a cool battle against Legion, Quebec champions and winner over the Maritimes titlists, Miramichi Beavers.

"Hull was better than we thought" said Blair. "It was an even game in the last half."

PLAYERS NERVOUS

Blair said Legion coach Marcel Legris agreed that the Hull players were nervous in the opening period in which Whitby broke into a 4-0 lead.

Legris said that once his players got over the nervousness, they played as well as could be expected.

Blair said if Whitby wins Wednesday, it is hoped that the Canadian final would open Sunday in Toronto, provided the western champion is decided by then and can reach Toronto.

Vernon Canadians now lead Regina Caps 3-1 in their best-of-seven western final series.

Defenceman John Chaszczwski of Whitby hurt his right shoulder when knocked into the boards in the third period and also had a slight headache. Blair said his condition was not serious.

COACH'S LINE LEADS

Dunlops, 1958 world amateur champions, were paced by the line of playing-coach Sid Smith, George Samolenko and Mickey Attersley, who accounted for five goals.

Samolenko and Attersley scored a pair each, as did Jack Kane, while Smith picked up a single. Rheo Dagenais and Bernie Lalonge counted the Legion goals.

Kane opened scoring at the four-minute mark of the opening period on hard drive that whizzed by the right side of Gerry Fleury in the Legion goal.

Samolenko scored his first goal slightly more than two minutes later by taking a pass from Smith and scoring a quick shot from close in.

Attersley tipped in a blueline drive by defenceman Al Treen in to make it 3-0 at 15:02 and Kane scored on a 16-foot drive.

Attersley scored his second at 9:40 of the second, picking up a clearing pass by Hull.

Dagenais broke the ice for the home club at 12:31 with a golf shot from the blueline that struck a couple of players and bounced past Whitby netminder John Henderson.

The second period scoring ended when Samolenko slammed in Attersley's rebound at 16:44 with Fleury out of position.

Smith ended the Whitby scoring on perfect passout from behind the net by Attersley at 3:02 of the last period and Limoges counted Hull's second goal at 7:32.

Henderson and Fleury both turned in stellar performances. There were only six penalties, three to each team.

Top Sluggers Are Away to Slow Start

By BEN OLAN

NEW YORK (AP) — There's little doubt that young John Callison and veteran Stan Musial with the big league baseball season were opening today.

Now, the campaign is five days old and Callison and Musial, plus more than a dozen others, will have to build their batting averages to respectable levels.

Callison, the slighly touted Chicago White Sox rookie outfielder, went hitless in 11 trips in the three-game series with the Detroit Tigers. Musial collected only one hit in 11 tries as his St. Louis Cards dropped three straight to San Francisco.

Hal Smith of Kansas City piled to hit in 10 attempts and Cleveland's Woody Held was 0-for-8. Hitless in seven times at bat were Bobby Thomson and Dale Long of the Chicago Cubs and Johnny Logan of Milwaukee.

Andre Rodgers of the Giants had difficulty in the field. He had five errors at shortstop in three games.

Heading those who have surprised with their batting proficiency so far are shortstops George Strickland of Cleveland and Alex Grammas of St. Louis. Neither is regarded as a consistent hitter.

Strickland had five hits in eight tries for a .625 average. He had two doubles and two runs batted in. Grammas had 5-for-9 and a .556 mark.

Others who got off winging were Sherm Lollar of the White Sox with eight safe blows in 15 at bats; Hellie Fox of the White Sox, 7-for-16; Jim Davenport of San Francisco; 5-for-11; Roger Bridges of Detroit, 5-for-12; Don Blasingame and Gene Cimoli of St. Louis, 5-for-12; Hank Aaron of Milwaukee, 5-for-9; Roberto Clemente of Pittsburgh, 5-for-13; Jim Piersall of Cleveland, 4-for-9 and Norm Siebern of New York and George Altman of Cubs, 3-for-4.

VANCOUVER (CP) — British Columbia Lions announced Monday that linebacker Ted Tully, a nine - year WIFU veteran has come to terms for the 1959 season. Tully, a Vancouver native, was obtained from Edmonton in an off-season trade. Tully is 29, an all-star linebacker and occasionally an offensive guard

Chinooks Whip Ottawa in Cage Opener

OTTAWA (CP) — Southern Alberta Chinooks take a one-game lead into tonight's second game of the best-of-five Canadian Senior A basketball championship here against Ottawa Fellers.

Chinooks, displaying deadly closeup shooting, downed Fellers 79-63 in the first game Monday night. The team from Lethbridge built up a 42-31 lead at halftime.

But the third quarter belonged to Fellers as they hit for 20 points while holding Alberta to eight, to take a slim 51-50 lead. Six-foot forward Brian Gibbs was the Feller sparkplug, hooping eight points.

But Chinooks overpowered Fellers in the final quarter, netting 20 points to Ottawa's 12.

Bob Bradley, six-foot seven centre, hitting frequently with hookshots, paced Chinooks with 20 points, but it was their passing and faking of five-foot-nine guard Lloyd of the Chicago Cubs and Johnny Logan of Milwaukee.

Andre Rodgers of the Giants had difficulty in the field. He had five errors at shortstop in three games.

Heading those who have surprised with their batting proficiency so far are shortstops George Strickland of Cleveland and Alex Grammas of St. Louis. Neither is regarded as a consistent hitter.

Strickland had five hits in eight tries for a .625 average. He had two doubles and two runs batted in. Grammas had 5-for-9 and a .556 mark.

Local Boxers Win in Toronto

TORONTO (CP) — Seigried Fischer of the Toronto Athletic Club scored a unanimous decision over clubmate Billy Anderson in the five-round main event on the place Friday evening card Monday night.

In preliminaries, Art Robinson of Oshawa and Bob Cole of Belleville fought to a three-round draw in the 130-pound division.

Terry Bennett of Belleville was unanimously outpointed Gunther Wittke of Toronto in three rounds in the 135-pound class. Jack Lucas of Belleville won a unanimous decision over Richard Oliver, Toronto, in three in the 150-pound class. Paul Daniels of Peterborough won a decision over Grant Duffy of Oshawa in five rounds in the 125-pound class.

Also fighting at 125, Colin Fraser of Toronto outpointed Jerry Blodgett of Peterborough. Another Peterbrough fighter, Les Donaldson, was unable to answer the bell in a 135-pound preliminary and Tommy Doucette of Toronto was awarded a third-round technical knockout.

Former Ref. Blasts Campbell, 'NHL Not As Good As OHA'

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—A former National Hockey League referee says NHL officials were asked some years ago not to hand out too many penalties to a last place team and not to call "anything in the last period of a game unless it was something that darn near took off someone's head."

Jack Mehlenbacher, of Nelles Corners, near Hagersville, refereed in the NHL for five years but the third quarter belonged to Fellers as they hit for 20 points while holding Alberta to eight, to take a slim 51-50 lead. Six-foot forward Brian Gibbs was the Feller sparkplug, hooping eight points.

But Chinooks overpowered Fellers in the final quarter, netting 20 points to Ottawa's 12.

Bob Bradley, six-foot - seven centre, hitting frequently with hookshots, paced Chinooks with 20 points, but it was their passing and faking of five-foot-nine guard Lloyd of the Chicago Cubs and Johnny Logan of Milwaukee.

"Campbell (NHL president Clarence Campbell) just won't protect his officials," Mehlenbacher said. "I was in the league for five years and not once did I ever see him back his officials."

"Once you join the ranks of the NHL you are merely a guinea pig," Mehlenbacher said. "There is no comparison between the way the NHL and OHA referees are backed up. The NHL could take a few lessons from the OHA and maybe they would learn something. There are men working in the NHL today as referees and linesmen who were just third-raters in the OHA."

Campy Gets Big Reception

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) A man who won't be playing for Los Angeles this season got the biggest hand of all at the annual Dodgers dinner Monday night.

Some 1,400 diners in the Beverly-Hilton Hotel gave a rousing ovation to Roy Campanella, former Dodger whose catching career ended Jan. 28, 1958, when an auto accident left him paralyzed.

He was introduced in his wheel chair after everyone else on the team had been introduced.

Peg Braves Square Series With Flin Flon

WINNIPEG (CP)—Winnipeg Braves spoiled Flin Flon, Bomber's two goals then roared back for a 5-4 victory to deadlock their best-of-seven western Memorial Cup final 2-2 Monday night.

It was Braves' second straight win after losing the first two games at Flin Flon. Fifth game is here Wednesday night.

A crowd of 4,327 shook the rafters as the fierce-checking Braves scored three unanswered goals in the third period.

Vernon Needs Win for Series

REGINA (CP)—Two unanswered goals in the third period gave Vernon Canadians a 3-2 win over Regina Caps in the fourth game of their best-of-seven Western Canada Allan Cup final.

The win Monday night gave Vernon a 3-1 series lead. Fifth game is here Wednesday night.

TICATS SIGN LINEMAN

HAMILTON (CP) — Hamilton Tiger-Cats of the Big Four Football League have signed another lineport, Jim Fraser, a 200-pounder from Wisconsin; Fraser was voted the outstanding lineman in the 1958 big-grey game at Montgomery, Ala.

International Opens Today But Ole Satch Is Missing

MONTREAL (CP)—The International League baseball season's oldest minor loop, opens its 76th season today without baseball's oldest player.

Miami Marlins Monday night released pitcher Leroy (Satchel) Paige, whose age has been estimated at 50 for the past five years or so, as the curtain on his career goes back at least to the 1920s.

Paige, who pitched three seasons for the Marlins before getting into a row last night with their owner back pay, will be one of the things fans will miss in league play stars in the four southernmost cities of the eight - team league.

Montreal Royals, last year's pennant winners, take on the Marlins. Buffalo is at Richmond, Rochester at Columbus, and Toronto at Havana with Fidel Castro, noted former Havana University pitcher, is expected to throw out the first ball.

SAY ROYALS WON'T REPEAT

The fans, nazy winners of the pennant last year, look like they'll have a hard time doing it again.

They still have last season's powerful pitching staff, led by lefty Tommy Lasorda and right-hander Billy Harris, but have lost swift, hard-hitting outfielder Solly Drake and classy first baseman Jim Konrads, both assigned to other clubs in the Los Angeles Dodgers farm system.

Toronto's Maple Leafs finished second to Montreal last season. They have lost first baseman Glen (Hockey) Nelson, the IL's most valuable player of 1958, but don't look like they'll miss him.

They are expected to get excellent pitching from Lefty Hal Woodeschick, on option from the Cleveland Indians, and right-hander Don Johnson, one of last year's mainstays.

In the outfield are holdovers Angel Scull and Archie Wilson and newcomer Dave Pope, also on option from Cleveland.

Richmond Virginians, a farm club of the Interlocking New York Yankees, have so many good players they're getting rid of some. They are Johnson, Bobby Del Greco Monday night to Buffalo Bivona, despite the former Yankee's reputation as one of the best defensive centrefielders in baseball. They also sold pitchers Wilson Parsons and Leigh Lawrence and shortstop Billy Duffy to the Miami Marlins.

Columbus Jets may not have one of the league's most feared hitting clubs but they own the league's most unusual. Their roster includes two Canadians, two Virgin Islanders, a Puerto Rican, a Mexican, a Cuban and one player from the Dominican Republic.

The Canadians are Tim Burgess of London, Ont., and Richard Lines of Montreal. The Virgin Islanders are outfielders Joe Christopher and Elmo Plaskett.

Goes to Court To Protest Boxing Title

NEW YORK (AP)—Middleweight champion Ray Robinson has gone to the courts to prevent the New York State Athletic Commission from taking away his world boxing title.

General Melvin Krulewich, chairman of the commission, said Monday night he and the other commissioners have been served with papers to appear in Supreme Court Wednesday.

The commission issued an ultimatum to Robinson stating ordering him to sign for a title defence against challenger Carmen Basilio by noon April 15 or face loss of his title.

On the Tracks

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP)—Garden State Park will experiment with a gadget executive vice president Walter Donovan describes as possibly the most important mechanical development in horse racing since introduction of the automatic totalisator.

Donovan said that a punch-card-data processing system will be put in operation during the spring meeting starting May 2, to supply vital racing information about horses to the racing secretary.

The information cards on an individual horse list the owner, trainer, age, sex, and, claiming price if any, distance of races run, earnings in each race, finish in each race and date of each race. Minutes after closing of entries daily, the machine supplies a printed past performance of every horse in every race for the racing secretary.

This information will help the secretary in preparation of his "condition book." Once the book is written, the firm which owns the new system will supply an alphabetical list of the horses eligible for each race.

FORT ERIE (CP)—F. H. Mertull, Jr., the Brantford native who was leading trainer in North America in 1955 and again last year, saddled a pair of winners here Monday.

Merrill sent out Turf Idol, which he trains for the Gormley stud Farm of L. W. Ruby of Toronto, and won the seventh with Mr. Donovan owned by E. Glan of Buffalo, N.Y. Jockey Armando Viola rode both.

The race which has been keep slop since the meeting opened April 4, was much improved.

TV Violence Tame Compared To Imagination of Children

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP) — The mail recently has brought expressions of vague apprehension from several mothers as to whether some television programs may induce violence in their children.

Positively, mothers, I am not the man to strike a pious attitude and maintain that programs of this sort will lead the kids into a life of crime and violence.

The minds of children are as mysterious to me as atomic energy—and infinitely more interesting. The only aid I have in trying to understand a child is a pretty good memory of my own childhood.

I grew up long before the age of television. If TV had existed when I was a child I believe that I would have been an insatiable viewer of westerns and actions and cops-robbers, for action and violence of all kinds fascinated me.

LIKED SUSPENSE

Perhaps because I lacked television I became an omnivorous reader when quite young. Aesop's Fables bored me. I liked suspense and danger — Sensational stuff such as that book in the Bobbsey Twins series in which the Gypsies kidnap the children.

My allowance never was big enough to take me to all the movies of violence that I wanted to see.

Despite my early predilection for violence, however, I somehow have avoided a life of crime. Furthermore, I don't even enjoy looking at westerns much.

Today, when I see children absorbed by the ka-pow, ka-pow of action in a TV program, I can't get very alarmed. Rather, I think the action on the TV screen is pretty mild compared with the action I used to imagine on the screen of my mind. They kill only three or four on a TV program these days. I used to kill hundreds.

Look at the many features of these modern telephones...

- You can "hold" one call while you make a second call (inside or outside) over the same telephone — no need for "calling back".
- You can intercommunicate via a direct line between yourself and others without blocking important calls.
- You can use it for quick inter-office "telephone conferences" in place of a series of time-consuming separate calls.
- You can use it to signal your secretary . . . or to transfer calls to other personnel.

How the push buttons are used:

HOLDING. This holds any calls. You can then make a second call (inside or outside) on the same telephone.

OUTSIDE CONNECTIONS. These buttons connect your phone with outside lines to make or receive calls.

LOCAL. This connects your telephone with any other inside phone for direct intercommunication.

Plastic-push-buttons flash on and off for incoming call — burn steadily while line is used for hold. Uses of buttons can be arranged in a variety of ways.

Just telephone your Bell Business Office and we'll be glad to call on you.

Film Pioneer's Tragic Saga Recalled in 1st Biography

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The tragic saga of D. W. Griffith is being recalled here with the publication of the first biography of the film pioneer.

Veteran writer Homer Croy has turned out an engrossing study of the late director, called Star Maker. Certainly Griffith did discover and develop a large number of movie greats. But his big achievement was not in fostering talent but developing film technique.

He was the great innovator, the one man who elevated films into a story-telling medium. It was he who discovered most of the camera techniques used today.

INVENTED CLOSEUP

The Croy book is filled with excellent detail on the nature of Griffith's genius. We learned that the director invented the closeup during the filming of For the Love of Gold in 1909.

The story dealt with two Alaskan thieves who distrusted each other. The climax depended on what the thieves were thinking. Until then, thought had been expressed on the screen via "dream balloons," double exposures that showed what was going on in the actor's mind.

Griffith had the idea of moving the camera in to show the expressions on the actors' faces. The idea was revolutionary; films had always been done in longshots.

The bosses at Biograph protested when he paid $100 to Helen Hunt Jackson for rights to shoot Ramona in 1910. The studio had previously paid $5 or $10 for stories or stole them outright.

BATTLE WITH FICKFORD

Griffith had a fierce battle with Torontonian Mary Pickford when she was doing To Save Her Soul with him. This was a starring drama about a wronged choir girl, unlike the sweetness-and-light roles that she had previously played. Mary was having trouble getting into the mood and Griffith finally shook her, exclaiming, "What's the matter with you? Can't you play it with feeling?"

After an angry exchange, Griffith accused her of being unable to act. She bit him. Mary and her sister Lottie Pickford Griffith with their fists and he ordered them off the set.

Later, the director apologized and the scene was redone. She acted beautifully, and just as Griffith wanted.

SET MEMORIAL CUP DATES

MELVILLE, Sask. (CP)—Gordon Juckes, Canadian Amateur Hockey Association vice - president, announced Monday the dates of the first two games of the Memorial Cup final series, to be played this year in Western Canada. First game is April 24 and the second April 25. Other dates will be announced when the finalists have been decided. The Flin Flon Bombers and Winnipeg Elrsves are currently clashing in the western final. Ottawa-Hull Canadiens and Peterborough Petes are the eastern finalists.

"The Case of Dr. Laurent"
The Year's Most Unusual Suspense Story

One of France's most gifted cinematic stars, 42-year-old director Jean-Paul Le Chanois, has decided to demand to the conscience of film stories that spotlight important aspects of the times and the men and women most dynamic of his films is "The Case of Dr. Laurent," a frantic search for somebody known around the scene as "nature's chimneys," playing tonight and Wednesday, matinee and evening, at the Belle theatre.

Le Chanois' own father was an old country doctor with young ideas, and at the time first to study and practice the new techniques of natural childbirth. Intrigued by his father's interests, the director pursued the subject in medical texts and in interviews with several gynecologists, then wrote the screenplay together with writer-actress Rene Barjavel, and "Dr. Laurent" was on his way.

For his picture acting, Le Chanois moved his camera into the Alpine village of St. Marie-de-Vaudable in the Haute Savoie, but the face of the village needed a little alteration; drugstore was made into the shoemaker's shop had to become a sanatorium, the local bakery metamorphosed into a bakery — while an old farmhouse that looked too primitive real was shined up to become Nicole Courcel's home.

To shoot the astonishing birth scene, the director set up shop in the Paris clinic that had afforded him his earlier glimpses of natural childbirth in action. Cameramen were on 24-hour duty to record the deliveries of three expectant mothers who had volunteered to take Nicole Courcel's place in the filming of the actual childbirth. A nurse-midwife was constantly on hand to give Courcel technical pointers in her difficult role.

Offers to Buy New York City's Transit System

NEW YORK (AP) — New York City has received an offer from a Washington financier to buy the entire city transit system.

The offer was made to Mayor Robert Wagner in a letter by O. Roy Chalk, multi-millionaire president of Trans Caribbean Airways Incorp., and head of the Capital Transportation Co. in Washington.

The total value of the property, now owned by the city but managed by a transit authority, is not known.

But it includes more than 237 miles of track in subway and elevated lines, some 7,000 cars, about 2,000 buses, 173 terminals and numerous yards, repair shops and garages as well as a 13-story transportation building in Brooklyn.

One report said Chalk's plan included raising the present 15-cent fare to 20 cents, with another rise to 25 cents if the 20-cent fare was not sufficiently profitable.

USE JAPANESE TACKLE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Foreign fishing tackle is proving increasingly popular with American fishermen. The commerce department says imports of tackle totalled about $6,500,000 in 1958 compared with $1,500,000 in 1950. Shipments by American manufacturers were estimated at nearly $70,000,000.

ate his or her dynamism. Don't procrastinate or you lose out. Be very co-operative.

Scorpio (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)—Many inspirational thoughts occur to you now concerning how to have greater success in career matters and happiness in social relationships. Fine ideas come from experts, too. Blend the two and expand.

Sagittarius (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21) — Long conversations with associates today produce fine results. Also confer with very intelligent other persons. Understand fully what is said. Listen to their views first before you express your opinions.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — Your day for laboring with zeal and vigor to put behind you all those accumulated tasks, whether at place of business or residence. P. M. put your clothing in good order. Be very affectionate toward loved ones.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — A day for fun and frolic. Be an inspiration to others with your jolly mien and inspiring conversation. You will have quite a chance to put your specific talents before the right people, too. Be happy!

Pisces (Feb. 20 to March 20) — Devote most of your time to putting abode in the pink of condition today. Add touches of charm and efficiency measures. Later, confer with authorities in important matters of business or career. Work.

If your child is born today ... The mercurial little child born today will be rather a handful since the mind is very brilliant and the energy is extraordinary. Everyone will want to help your youngster, but the failing here is that interest will soon wane in one direction and fly off to another. Hence, yours is the duty to teach discipline and point out the value of completing a chore once begun. Potential limitless here.

Aries (March 21 to April 19)
Paying particular attention to advice given by kin and personal advisors today will pay big dividends in the future. Impress them with ability to comprehend viewpointe. Later, put in operation all adjustments necessary.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20)—Getting together and working with the right people today will reveal many a fine idea which will be lucrative for you in the future. See that you meet them at least halfway. Real co-operation will be most beneficial.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21)—A day to get busy and know where to make investments, do more work that will soon bring a real abundance and to spare. Be practical to the nth degree. P. M. improve your health through proper treatments, especially throat, tummy, atmosphere.

Moon Children (June 22 to July 21) — Don't be afraid to be gently forceful today in getting the co-operation and support from others who are in a position to extend it to you, and willingly now. Then take the right steps to place yourself in a position of security by wise investments.

Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21) — Fuming and fretting over the inevitable is simply no good, particularly for you. Compose yourself and think clearly. You can get the intelligent solution to all of your problems if you are relaxed. P. M. assist those who are ill.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22)—If you first ascertain just what your relative position is with others, you can then get the key people in your life to go along with you in your endeavors. Co-operate more than is your usual custom, be less talkative, more choosey.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) — Make this a very productive day by looking into business, credit, public matters seriously. Set up an intelligent plan of action and follow it for the best results from today's favorable planetary forces.

Scorpio (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21)—You can easily get all that information you need for advancement today if you get out of dull-doldrum routines and read your paper, other printed media, listen to radio, etc. Meet right people. Expand.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — Good day for following your hunches, for they are most precise. Put into operation what-ever action is required. Valued personal advisers all give you fine ideas to follow, also. P. M. be romantically inclined.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — Long talks are required with associates today if you are to bring about all the potential benefits of today's aspects. Decide what you want in the way of added prestige, too, and know how to get it quickly.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — Go ahead and put all those accumulated tasks behind you today, since the basis of your greatest happiness lies in the work. Day's efforts, however, will bring fine remuneration in the not too-distant future. P. M. rest.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to March 20) — Get your duties performed in earliest A...M. so that you can devote the rest of the day to having much - needed recreation. Call your devoted friends and plan to get together at some mutually enjoyable sport or place of amusement.

If your child is born today ... The wonderful child born today can only possessed of an unusually fine mind, but is highly evolved spiritually and emotionally. Hence, give a combined course of education that takes in the material and mercantile, as well as the esthetic. College is a must in this chart. However, be sure to early curb any occasional outbursts of self-pity, which could become a habit with a quasi genius such as this.

FLOOD THREATENS

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) Week-long rains sent rivers washing over their banks in the south and west central parts of Brazil Sunday, isolating several towns, heavily damaging crops and leaving thousands homeless. Governor Leonel Brizola in Rio Grande do Sul State declared an emergency.

Was Cheated By a Whisker

PARIS (AP) — French middleweight Germinal Ballarin earned a draw with Hungary's three time Olympic boxing champion, Laszlo Papp, but complained he was cheated.

Not that he thought he should have won. The 10-round verdict Monday night was acceptable to him. His only complaint was that he was forced to shave off his moustache before the bout.

Papp was permitted to wear his trim black moustache.

It seems the French Boxing Federation has a rule forbidding French boxers to engage in bouts wearing a moustache. The rule did not apply to Papp since he is not a Frenchman.

Despite the absence of the moustache, Ballarin outweighed his rival 163½ pounds to 159.

LIBERALS, CCF

this year are again the result of a long series of unco-ordinated decisions. The Tories, in matters of this kind, the ministry has not been planning ahead. Its decisions have been of the hit-and-miss basis and the minister has had no choice simply to pick up the chips for the bungling and bumbling that has involved him and his colleagues.

He said Mr. Fleming had taken back $2 for every $1 he gave in tax reductions in his pre-election "baby" budget of 1958.

Mr. Benidickson criticized the government for allowing a "tight money" situation to develop. "At most choking development."

He said that from the end of June, 1957, to last March 31 the government had increased the national debt by $1,864,000,000 and the country's money supply by $1,720,000,000.

The government bragged that its conversion loan last summer was a success. But many Canadians had suffered "substantial capital losses" by the subsequent fall in the bond market.

The budget was aimed about unemployment. If the recession is disappearing, Mr. Benidickson said, it is doing so much faster than is unemployment.

Mr. Regier said the budget is a disappointment containing nothing "except higher taxes, higher interest rates and a rise in the debt of the federal government."

NOWLAN ANSWERS

Mr. Nowlan said the tax increases resulted from forces over which the government had no control—recession and inflation which the Conservatives inherited in 1957.

Alexis Caron (L—Hull) said the government is making foolish expenditures that contribute to inflation and is thus playing into the hands of the Communists. By "administrative negligence" the government was "doing exactly what Lenin demanded to change the world's order."

John MacLean (PC—Winnipeg North Centre) said many old age pensioners are barely existing on $55 a month. He urged a pension increase and asked that the pension be paid at age 65 instead of 70.

Maurice Allard (PC — Sherbrooke) criticized federal "interference" in the field of education through payment of grants to universities. Quebec, he said, does not permit its universities to accept the grants, should be given back taxation rights so that it could fulfil its obligations to education.

In other business, Progressive Conservative MPs outvoted the Liberals and CCF to defeat by defeat a Liberal bid for copies of all protests sent to Hon. William J. Browne, Newfoundland's cabinet representative, over the federal refusal to provide more RCMP in the island province. Copies of the protests and Mr. Browne's replies were sought by J. W. Pickersgill, Newfoundland Liberal MP, who had the support of fellow Liberals and seven CCF MPs.

Libraries Really Everybody's Key To Immortality

By RICHARD S. LAMBERT

On my twelfth birthday, my father called me into his study and handed me a chunky parcel wrapped in brown paper. Undoing it, I found six closely but clearly printed volumes bound in red morocco. They were a selection from the newly published Everyman Library, and each cost the amazingly low sum of two shillings!

"I know you're fond of reading," said my father. "These are to start you on building a library of your own."

I hurried off and began to read. There were three volumes of Motley's "Rise of the Dutch Republic", two of Prescott's "Conquest of Mexico" and one of his "Conquest of Peru." The six volumes conquered my mind and implanted in me a taste for history that I have had ever since.

In these books I met people who were more real to me than many I have since met in the flesh. Cortez and the Aztec Emperor Montezuma, Pizarro and the Inca Atahuallpa, William the Silent and Phillip II, the Counts Egmont and Horn — I still reckon them, though long dead, among my personal friends. So, from reading history, I picked up a second taste for biography.

VALUE OF LIBRARIES

A school librarian, a venerable bird-like man who was nicknamed by us boys "The Great Auk," gave my historical bent a second turn. It was, to explore the byways, as well as the main highways of history. As soon as I started doing this, I learned the value of libraries.

The classic historians, such as Macaulay, Gibbon, and Froude, are still easily accessible in cheap pocket editions. But these are only the summation of history, not its sources. It is far more fascinating to find out how history is made, than to read how it is presented and interpreted. Without libraries, this would be impossible.

Libraries provide, not only expensive books that one cannot afford to buy, but also those that are out of print or hard to find. There is something tremendously impressive about a first rate reference library. Whether it is the British Museum Reading Room, the New York Public Library, or the Toronto Reference Library, they all have the same atmosphere. They supply something of what is so lacking in modern secular civilization — a place of quiet and retreat, for orderly meditation and efficient study.

KEY TO GOOD LIFE

Training of students to know and love libraries is therefore one of the keys, not merely to education, but to balanced living. A century ago, the popular journalist and historian, William Cobbett, wrote that the political evils of the world, including war and revolution, could be cured by giving every man a small garden of his own to cultivate. Voltaire, before him, said the same thing. If they were alive now, and saw our teeming hordes of apartment-dwellers, they would surely amend their prescription by adding the alternative of a public library. I contend that a public library is much more than a workshop for students and scholars. It is an institution — not far inferior to the church — for keeping alive the spirit of man.

In a very real sense the school library, the leading library, and the reference library are our keys to immortality. They entitle us to enter, and lose ourselves, in the magic realm of the past. There we can live in turn many lives, at many epochs. In short, history, through the library, becomes our only true form of reincarnation.

Saved Life So Buttons Took Bows

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Nobody knows how Buttons knew all about it, but Buttons—just a plain alley cat—saved the life of Renee, six-months-old poodle.

Buttons made enough noise Saturday night to awaken Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bradford and lead them to Renee, who had bitten into a live electrical extension cord and was unconscious.

Bradford, with Buttons watching anxiously, gave artificial respiration. Renee was doing fine again within a short time.

Crowe May Join CCF and CLC Committee

OTTAWA (CP) — Prof. Harry Crowe, who resigned from United College at Winnipeg in a dispute with the administration, is considering joining a committee of the CCF party and the Canadian Labor Congress working on the formation of a new CLC-CCF political movement.

Prof. Crowe was in Ottawa Saturday discussing the matter with committee members including chairman Stanley Knowles, CLC executive vice-president and former CCF Commons member for Winnipeg North Centre.

Prof. Crowe was Mr. Knowles' campaign manager in the 1949 general election.

It was understood that no formal offer has been made but that it has been suggested to Prof. Crowe that he can take a job with the committee if he chooses.

Cancer Research Work May Yield Safe Cigaret

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J.—(AP) Some progress seemingly is being made in the quest to reduce what once was the hazard of lung cancer from cigaret smoking, a New York cancer researcher said Saturday.

Dr. Ernest L. Wynder of the Sloan-Kettering Institute for Cancer Research said scientists there have been working with chemical catalysts which appear capable of reducing tobacco smoke's content of certain "polycyclic" compounds.

And these latter materials, Wynder told the annual meeting of the American Association for Cancer Research, are considered by him and his associates to be "the major initiating carcinogens (cancer-producers in tobacco smoke."

Researchers sponsored by the tobacco industry have contended there is no proof that cigaret smoking causes lung cancer.

STINKY SMELLING SMOKE

One of the catalysts, Dr. Wynder told reporters later, effected "at least a 30-per-cent reduction" in the smoke's content of a chemical called benzpyrene. Wynder recited this ingredient as the major single hazard in the polycyclic group.

He added that the catalyst, added to the tobacco, resulted in a "stinky" smelling smoke that would rule it out as a practical measure.

But he said that from such work "it appears we can modify" the polycyclic content — thereby encouraging further search for equally effective catalysts that would be acceptable to the smoker.

WHAT TO DO

Wynder added:

"What can we do about promoting a safer cigaret? Personally, I'm in favor of our stopping smoking altogether. But about half of my staff is still smoking even though they have been working for me for a considerable time.

"But, if we must smoke, we should modify our smoking habits."

He advocated:

1. "Try not to inhale."
2. "Throw cigarets away when they are half finished. The further down you smoke them, the more tar and nicotine there is. The tar settles in the butt end."

Dictator's Foe Dies in Haiti

PORT au PRINCE, Haiti (AP)—Clement Jumelle, 43-year-old enemy of President Francois Duvalier and a leader of the opposition, died Saturday night at the home of the Cuban ambassador.

He had been taken into diplomatic asylum at the ambassador's home five days ago, ill and unconscious.

Funeral services were to be held Sunday at the Sacred Heart Roman Catholic church but police halted the funeral procession and drove away with the hearse bearing Jumelle's body.

Police Chief Daniel Beauvoir said later, however, the witnesses were exaggerating in saying the body had been seized. He said police had escorted the body to Jumelle's home town, St. Marc, 90 miles north of Port au Prince, for funeral rites.

Jumelle and his wife had been in hiding since Duvalier's peasant hats, keeping out of sight of police who shot and killed two of his brothers last August when their refuge was discovered.

Jumelle was suffering from high blood pressure and severe uremia.

More Missile Bases Planned In NATO Lands

WASHINGTON (AP)—About 40 percent of the 1,600,000,000 President Eisenhower proposes for military foreign aid would go to NATO allies.

The program includes 20 more missile installations to be delivering to NATO countries, in addition to 10 to be completed by June 30.

A partial breakdown of the military aid proposals was disclosed with publication in censored form Saturday of testimony March 19 before the foreign affairs committee of the House of Representatives.

Assistant Defence Secretary John H. Irwin told the committee that the U.S. has included in the aid proposals $202,000,000 for missiles during the year beginning July 1, compared with $182,000,000 this year.

"United States and NATO military headquarters have established a high priority for the provision of advanced missiles to NATO forces to offset growing Soviet capabilities," he said.

The missile installations were mentioned only briefly in the published transcript. No specific locations or countries were given.

Get New Home In Record Time After Blaze

OWEN SOUND (CP)—Mr. and Mrs. William Coulter, of Lion's Head on the Bruce Peninsula, show remarkable courage.

A little over a week ago they lost their home in a fire. Mr. and Mrs. Coulter travelled the 45 miles to Owen Sound to choose a new house. It was pre-fabricated last Thursday, erected at the site Friday, insulated and lined on Saturday.

Tuesday Mr. and Mrs. Coulter set up housekeeping again at the comfortable ages of 84 and 83.

Timmins Plans Big Bear Hunt

TIMMINS (CP) — The snow is melting in the woods of Northern Ontario and teams of hunters are forming for one of the largest shoots since the buffalo vanished from the western plains.

The quarry — bear, whose skins will be sent to England to re-hat the Buckingham Palace guards with their ceremonial busbies.

Mayor Leo Del Villano is handing the hunters into teams and there is no beg limit.

"We'll send over all the bear-skins we can get."

"The snow is disappearing in the woods. Once the majority of it is gone, the bears will come out of hibernation.

"Hopefully we'll go in. As I am informed, the fur is best when the bear is leaving winter quarters."

How many bears will be needed is not known. Only two hats can be made from the average skin and 2,000 men comprise one of the four Brigades of Guards.

Canadian Car Production Up

TORONTO (CP) — Canadian motor-vehicle production last week is estimated at 10,004 vehicles compared with 9,883 in the preceding ear, says the Canadian automobile chamber of commerce.

Production consisted of 8,283 cars compared with 8,185 and 1,721 trucks compared with 1,708.

Production to date this year is estimated at 152,985 vehicles compared with 11 ,322 in the corresponding period last year — made up of 108,444 cars compared with 95,725, and 30,541 trucks compared with 16,797.

Production of cars by companies last week and in the year to date, with figures for the preceding week and the corresponding period last year in brackets, was:

Chrysler 289 (1,706); 15,133 (15,417). Ford 2,744 (2,502); 31,213 (26,565). General Motors 4,030 (4,183); 59,493 (53,709). Studebaker - Packard 240 (192); 2,603 (880).

Nobody Wants To Play Flute

ST. CATHARINES (CP)—Dr. Boyd Neel is searching for bassoon players, students of the fine and French horn, oboists and clarinets.

But all he ever finds is piano players.

"Why does every parent think his child must study the piano?" wonders the dean of the University of Toronto's faculty of music.

"More than 6,000 students are studying the piano at the Royal Conservatory right now — and there's not a flute player among them," he mourned.

"What's the matter with people today—don't they know there are other instruments besides the piano?" .

Dr. Neel aired his complaint in an interview during his trip here to adjudicate string classes in the Lincoln Music Festival.

DULLES SUITS AS U.S. STATE SECRETARY

Gordon Urges CNR Firemen To Sign Contract

Explains Plan to Act On Board Report May 1

MONTREAL (CP)—CNR President Donald Gordon today appealed to the railway's 3,500 firemen across Canada to "make known to your union officials your desire to have an agreement."

He asked firemen to urge union leaders to sign a new contract based on the recommendations of a federal conciliation board.

In a personal letter mailed today to the firemen, Mr. Gordon explained the CNR decision to go ahead May 1 and implement the conciliation proposals — including wage increases and a plan for gradual withdrawal of firemen from yard and freight diesel engines.

He said the union's rejection of the conciliation report and the company's May 1 move will leave firemen "without a collective agreement and the eventual security which it would give.

"It is, I assure you, not the wish of management to leave you in this position of uncertainty. Consequently, in your own interests, I urge you to give direction to your union representatives your desire to have an agreement.

"The proposals of the company were open for acceptance," Mr. Gordon said.

His letter was accompanied by a copy of another letter sent to union chief W. E. Gamble explaining the May 1 action.

Mr. Gamble said he had received both letters, but declined to comment on them until after discussions with his three general chairmen, from the Atlantic, central and western regions of the CNR system.

The publicly-owned C N R Tuesday served notice on the firemen's union that as of May 1, it will adopt the recommendations of a conciliation board report and stop hiring firemen for yard and freight diesels.

It will start paying higher wages May 1 also, as the report recommended. Donald Gordon, CNR president told the union in effect.

Last year, CPR told its firemen no more of them would be hired for yard and freight diesel work, and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen (CLC) struck. A settlement eventually affirmed the CPR decision.

W. E. Gamble, chief of the Canadian section of the union, said no decision could be made at once on CNR's statement.

He said the union's union general chairmen representing Canada's three CNR eastern federal regions will discuss the CNR position after Mr. Gordon's letter is delivered.

This would take several days, he said.

The Central and Atlantic regions had already authorized the union to call a strike if necessary, but the Western region had not, he said. All negotiations, however, had approved the union's outright rejection of the conciliation report adopted by CNR. Western members were currently being polled about their views on a strike, Mr. Gamble said.

He Wed at 100 Now Observes 5th Anniversary

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Widower John Wesley Beaird figured the best way to celebrate his first 100 years was to remarry.

Today he marked his 105th birthday—the fifth wedding anniversary.

Ice cream was the main refreshment for Beaird, who said, "I was never drunk in my life and I been chewin' tobacco since I was eight."

"He'd eat half a gallon of ice cream if you don't watch him," said 74-year-old Mrs. Beaird.

The Beaird children opposed their marriage, but Beaird said, "now we have a wonderful home and we don't owe anyone a penny."

Sons of Freedom Without Leaders After Fiery Meet

KRESTOVA, B.C. (CP) — The radical Sons of Freedom Doukhobors were still without a leadership today.

The 53-man fraternal council was stripped of its powers last Sunday in a fiery meeting in which women members of the sect apparently took control. A member of the deposed council said Tuesday night no new leaders have been selected yet.

Trail, B.C., John Lebedoff former chairman of the religious sect, said he is ready to claim leadership of the minority Doukhobor sect.

The latest upheaval in the sect's governing body was sparked by failure of the council to gain the freedom of Florence Ilic children housed by the provincial government in a dormitory at New Denver, B.C., about 80 miles northwest of here.

Doukhobor children are taken to New Denver and placed under government control when parents refuse to obey school attendance laws. They are held until they are 15. The Freedomites say the dormitory is a concentration camp.

Norwich City Finally Beaten

LONDON (CP)—Norwich City this year's giant-killers in the Football Association Cup, ended one of the greatest unbeaten runs in the football league Tuesday night as Bury downed the Norfolk team 4-2.

It was Norwich's first defeat in 17 third division games and ended a four-month success spell in both league and cup soccer.

THE WEATHER

TORONTO (CP) Synopsis: On Monday the warmest weather since mid-November occurred over most of Canada as temperatures reached 65 at Windsor, Hamilton and the Lakehead and 60 at White River. The cold weather continued in northern sections where Moosonee only managed a high of 26 degrees.

The weather will continue mainly sunny and warm over the province today with some 70 degree readings likely in southern sections.

ALL-AFRICAN CONGRESS CALLS EMERGENCY MEET

Plans Freedom Fund Aid to Nyasaland

CONAKRY, Guinea (Reuters) The steering committee of the All-African People's Conference —set up at the Accra conference in December — called an emergency meeting here because of the "seriousness of the situation" in the Federation of Rhodesia and Nyasaland.

It is expected to launch a "freedom fund" to help arrested leaders of the outlawed African National congress and to compensate victims of the disturbances which broke out in Nyasaland in February.

Speakers reading "Africa for the Africans" and "Hands Off Africa" went up Tuesday in Conakry where at least nine members of the 17-member committee are expected to convene today.

Another fund, to promote on a worldwide scale the nationalistic objectives of the December conference in Ghana's capital, is to be launched as part of the observances.

At Accra, representatives of 200,000,000 Africans from 28 countries set up a permanent secretariat to work for United States of Africa, free of imperialism and colonialism.

AFRICA DAY

The meetings here today coincided with celebrations of "African Freedom Day" throughout Africa and in other parts of the world.

In South Africa, Johannesburg natives were in the middle of eight days' protest to the anti-colonialist principles of the Accra conference. The observances were organized by the African National Congress.

Freedom Day demonstrations planned in Liberia will call for a boycott of goods to allow Africans to govern themselves in their own territories. But in the British protectorate of Basutoland it was reported that African leaders have called for a boycott of celebrations because they have been shocked by the alleged massacre plot in Nyasaland.

Judge Dismisses Suit Against Picton Firm

TORONTO (CP) — A $60,000 breach of contract suit by a Calgary firm against a Picton engineer and the Lake Ontario Portland Cement Co. Ltd. was dismissed Tuesday by Chief Justice J. C. McRuer of the Ontario High Court.

John A. Gruner of Pasadena, Calif. claimed his company, which was wrongfully dismissed by the company in 1957. He said he was paid $25,000 a year as expenses to act as technical adviser and engineer in charge of design and construction of a company plant at Picton.

Chief Justice McRuer ruled that a contract between the engineering firm and the cement company had been backed-dated by Mr. Gruner to April, 1957, and was in effect a fraudulent document.

CNR Deficit for Last Year Was Largest in Two Decades

OTTAWA (CP)—The publicly-owned CNR, beset by failing revenues, rang up a $51,000,000 deficit in the 1958 calendar year, biggest in 20 years.

The company's annual report, tabled Tuesday in the Commons, showed operating revenues dropped for the second straight year to $704,000,000 from $753,200,000 in 1957 and the all-time high of $774,000,000 in 1956.

Most of this slump resulted from a $44,000,000 nosedive in freight revenue, the big income item.

Operating expenses also dropped, by some $34,000,000 to $700,000,000 from the peak of $734,500,000 in 1957.

This left the company with net operating revenue of $4,900,000 on its rail operations, but other transactions brought the CNR to a deficit position of $5,100,000 before it could contribute anything to its fixed debt interest charges of $46,-500,000, which were up almost $10,000,000 from 1957.

The 1958 deficit, covered by the federal treasury, was the highest since one of $48,190,000 in 1931, when Parliament reorganized the CNR's corporate structure to cut down split charges.

A smaller deficit apparently is anticipated for the current calendar year.

Finance Minister Fleming said in his budget speech Thursday that the outlook is "for a reduced CNR deficit for 1959."

Commenting on the decline in freight revenues, CNR President Donald Gordon cited as a major reason "the railway's increasing reliance, partly as a result of competitive pressures, on traffic from the nation's basic resources industries."

On the expense side, he said that "perhaps the most important single factor in the railway's net income position in 1958" was rising wages and material prices.

Canadian A-Power Program Held to Be Most Promising

OTTAWA (CP)—The head of Canada's nuclear energy program said Tuesday night he is more convinced than ever that this country's atomic research program holds the best promise of producing economic electric power from the atom.

E. L. Gray, president of Atomic Energy of Canada Limited, told the Electric Club of Ottawa the Canadian approach to economical electric power from atomic energy involves the use of heavy water as the material to control the power plant and to cool it. Other countries are using a variety of other materials.

Mr. Gray said: "We have had a pretty thorough look at all the power reactor programs around the world, particularly those in United Kingdom . . . We can see no reason why we should change our basic approach.

Canada now is building a demonstration plant near Hoghton, Ont., about 150 miles northwest of Ottawa. The $15,000,000 project, financed jointly by Atomic Energy of Canada, Canadian General Electric Co. Ltd., and Ontario Hydro, will not produce economic power but will give engineering information to help build economic plants.

In a general review of atomic energy, Mr. Gray said Canada, the United States, Britain, Russia and France are the only countries with well-advanced nuclear power programs. However, he said "other nations are getting started and we can expect to see a number of reactors within the next five to 10 years."

Communization of Tibetans Gets Red Lama's Approval

TOKYO (AP) — The Panchen Lama today endorsed Red Chinese plans to push ahead with communization of Tibet's life.

The 21-year-old occupant of the Buddhist Lama's throne, brought in to help attend the Chinese Communist People's Congress, Red China's rubber stamp parliament Chou En-lai in hailing the reorganization of Tibet's life.

"We firmly believe," the Panchen Lama declared at a banquet in his honor, "that under the brilliant leadership of the Communist Party, and with the strong support of . . . Red China . . . the people of Tibet will definitely eradicate backwardness and poverty and . . . advance towards a prosperous and happy socialist society."

The rebels have miscalculated," the Panchen Lama said. "They intended to confuse their enslavement of the people of Tibet, but the result is the consolidation of the motherland's unification and national solidarity. The people of Tibet have begun a new page in their happy life."

Chou declared that the Tibetan rebellion, during which the ruling Dalai Lama fled to India, has "created extremely favorable conditions for the democratization of Tibet."

"The people of Tibet," said Chou, "have finally free themselves from poverty and backwardness and advance to the bright road of prosperity and happiness."

Red China today renewed its charge that the North Indian town of Kalimpong is a base for Tibetan revolt, but exempted Prime Minister Nehru's government of India from responsibility.

"It is an open secret that the Tibetan traitors use Kalimpong as their base outside the country to work with imperialist elements and engineer rebellious activities," said the official Peiping New China Daily.

Nehru, speaking in Madras, said that Tibet's autonomy has to be considered for any lasting solution of the Tibetan problem.

Flying Bank Robber Hooking Fish When Police Arrive to Reel Him In MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexican security police said Tuesday they arrested Frank Lee Morris Spreas, the flying bank robber who is on the United States list.

The U.S. FBI, the 41st most wanted man of many alias was reported to have come as he fished in the Caribbean Monday off the Yucatan island resort of Cozumel.

Spreas got his title of flying bank robber by stealing a plane from the airport of Hamilton, Ohio March 2 for a successful escape after robbing a bank in Hamilton of $25,952.

He is accused of a series of bank robberies in United States and Canada.

Spreas' key a weakness for other people's planes and cars, police said.

He once stole a car to drive to recruiting station and join the army.

He has been on the FBI's most wanted list since Sept. 5, 1958.

The posting came about five months after Spreas and four other prisoners broke jail in Akron, Ohio, where Spreas was serving time for the $1,400 holdup of an Akron cafe.

Spreas headed west. In Seattle, he took flying lessons under an assumed name; then moved east to Toronto. There he stole a seaplane and flew it to Baltimore harbor.

In Winooski, Vt., Spreas posed as a prospective auto dealer and borrowed a car from a real dealer to let him take a car for a tryout. He took it and kept going.

'Absolutely Incapacitated' As Cancer Spreads To Neck

Wet-Eyed Eisenhower Says Successor Will Be Named Soon But Ike Declines to Hint Who

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower today announced the resignation of cancer-stricken State Secretary Dulles.

With moisture in his eyes, Eisenhower told reporters that Dulles is "absolutely incapacitated" to carry on the burden of his office and to make policy.

Eisenhower said he will announce a successor to Dulles soon.

"He declined to say whether the job will go to Undersecretary of State Christian A. Herter, who has been serving as acting secretary.

Eisenhower said he has asked Dulles to continue to serve him as a foreign policy consultant.

A reporter told Eisenhower he had been pretty much taken for granted that Herter would move up to Dulles' cabinet post.

MUST CONSIDER

Asked whether he had someone other than Herter in mind, Eisenhower said there are "all kinds of considerations" to take into account.

He added there are a "number of people with very great talents" who could fill the post.

Eisenhower's a n n o u n c e m e n t came less than 24 hours after Dulles' doctors concluded that his cancer-ridden body had spread to the neck area. Earlier it apparently had been confined to the abdominal area.

The president's emotion regarding Dulles' illness was plain. Dulles' condition became more and more obvious as he talked. Eisenhower reported that he had talked to Dulles by telephone earlier this morning and that in view of the doctors' latest findings, the secretary had decided to resign. A formal letter will reach him later, the president said.

Eisenhower said he wanted to make it clear that Dulles is not helpless but that the secretary is "absolutely incapacitated for carrying on the administrative load" and the policy-making chores of the state department.

PRAISES DULLES

Eisenhower heaped praise on Dulles, calling him one of the most able men the country has known.

In reply to a question, Eisenhower said that whether or not the job goes to Herter, the acting secretary will be on hand for the meeting of United States and Soviet foreign ministers in Paris, and a May 11 conference in Geneva with the Soviet Union's foreign ministers. Herter has been in contact with the Soviet Union's foreign minister, Andrei Gromyko, and presumably will be held at Geneva and may be a prelude to a summit meeting.

A reporter asked Eisenhower how he felt about a team at the state department and that his policies will go on, and expressed confidence that there will "be no damage" to U.S. relations with other countries.

Dulles had clung for weeks to the hope that he could return to the Geneva meeting of the Big Four foreign ministers which he had entered Walter Reed Army Hospital in Washington last Sunday, cutting short a Florida vacation had hoped would help rebuild his failing strength.

TO SURGERY

He had gone to the hospital Feb. 10 for a hernia operation.

Dulles Told Ike to Hurry Announcement

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ailing Secretary of State Dulles is reported to have insisted that President Eisenhower hurry the announcement of his resignation. From his hospital bed, Dulles prevailed on Eisenhower to make the announcement today instead or next week as planned.

Dulles insisted on this, a responsible informant said today, because he did not want to make it appear he was hanging on tenaciously to his job.

Eisenhower was said to have been exceedingly reluctant to announce the news but, controlled with Dulles' virtual demand, Eisenhower hastily called a press conference at Augusta, Ga., to do so.

Dulles has known for more than a week, informants said, that he would not be able to continue in the job he loved so dearly.

Patricia Joudry Best Playwright

OTTAWA (CP) — Patricia Joudry of Toronto has won the Dominion Drama Festival's playwright award for the best dramatic composition by a Canadian resident and entered in a recognized festival.

The recurrence of cancer, with which he was first stricken in 1956, brought no effort this time to save his life surgeons.

Radiation treatments were tried but Dulles was reported to have stood these well. But then Tuesday came the report indicating the cancer had spread.

Dulles had many critics in the political and journalistic fields. Some accused him of an arrogant carelessness and said he had caused the United States to be driven to the brink of war time after time. "Brinkmanship" became a word of scorn.

His supporters have been as strong in the other direction. Eisenhower, for an important example, once called him "one of the wisest, most courageous and most dedicated men" ever to grace the state department.

Other admirers agreed he had been a great one.

Dulles became secretary of state Jan. 21, 1953.

Dulles Told Ike to Hurry Announcement

OTTAWA (CP)—The resignation of John Foster Dulles as United States secretary of state evoked feelings of sorrow in official Ottawa today, though the announcement was anticipated.

Sadness among diplomats was coupled with admiration for Mr. Dulles' valiant fight against cancer.

"He put all his usual brave effort into the struggle," one official said.

It was understood Prime Minister Diefenbaker was preparing a statement to be issued in the Commons this afternoon.

Mr. Diefenbaker now holds the external affairs portfolio as a result of the March 17 death of the former minister, Sidney Smith.

Opposition Leader Pearson, former Liberal external affairs minister who knew Mr. Dulles well, said the free world has lost a "towering and dedicated public figure."

"If any man was ever a casualty in battling for the things he believes in, Mr. Dulles was that man," said Mr. Pearson.

The opposition MP, a world-wide figure in statesmanship, said he was hanging on tenaciously to his job.

Eisenhower was said to have been exceedingly reluctant to announce the news but, controlled with Dulles' virtual demand, Eisenhower hastily called a press conference at Augusta, Ga., to do so.

Dulles has known for more than a week, informants said, that he would not be able to continue in the job he loved so dearly.

SEE NO CHANGE

Nevertheless, a government spokesman said there is confidence that there will be no abrupt change in U.S. policy as result of Mr. Dulles' resignation.

Young Cockney Didn't Know Prince 'Look Mum, 'E's Jumpin' the Line'

LONDON (AP) — A cockney couple caught the future king of England behetitling from a royal prerogative — and the cockney lad didn't like it.

Recovering at Windsor Castle from a bout of chicken pox, Prince Charles decided to do some sightseeing Tuesday.

Dressed in a pair of unpressed pants and a rumpled sweater, the 10-year-old prince wandered off the castle grounds to the public area of the castle and over to St. George's Chapel.

There he found a long line of sightseeing mothers, fathers and their children on vacation between the spring and summer school terms.

Charles hung back, but the royal equerry marched to the head of the British schoolboys of the Black Prince.

"Charles would like to see King Edward's sword."

The attendants missed the magic name Charles—and moved to connect it with England's most famous monarch.

"Then let him join the queue at the back."

"Obviously," said the equerry, "you don't realize that Charles is Prince Charles."

The cockney lad then showed the young prince in through a side door.

"Coo, mum," shouted a Cockney lad in the line, "look at 'im jumpin' the queue."

Charles entered the chapel hunt the name and inspected the six-foot eight-inch sword of King Edward III, father of that Black Prince British schoolboys of the Black Prince.

WILL COMPETE IN SWIM CONTESTS

Fourteen boys from the local "Y" will be competing in the 12th annual Ontario YMCA swimming and diving championships to be held in Hamilton this fall. About 14 different YMCA's across Ontario will be entering teams and over 200 individuals are expected to be competing.

SERVICE COUNCIL MEETS AT "Y"

The World Service Council of the Belleville YMCA met yesterday evening in the board room. Attendant representatives from all groups within the "Y" as to the purpose and actions of the "Buildings For Brotherhood" program presently being conducted by the International Council of YMCA's in Canada and the United States.

Almost twenty people were present who will, in turn, distribute this information to their group particular group. There was, a convener's report on the World Service Tea and Bake Sale to be held in early May.

Says Attraction of Industry Depends on City Residents

It is up to the citizens of Belleville whether new industry can be attracted and held here, Belleville Kiwanians were told at their meeting held at guest speaker, Robert Poste, newly appointed Industrial Commissioner and secretary-manager of the local Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Poste, in an address outlining the Chamber of Commerce organization and factors in the establishment of industrial promotion, stated: "You and all the people here in Belleville are our biggest asset and it depends on you whether we can attract industry or not, and whether we can hold it here."

While noting there is "no golden formula on how to get industries," the speaker suggested a community must be receptive to industry, must welcome industry, and should create an atmosphere to protect and encourage already established employers.

"You must want industry here and . . . should look at it from a long-term point of view . . . be willing to help others, who may be sceptical or who may have a selfish interest, in which we are trying to do is going to benefit everybody and increase this community's prosperity," he said.

In noting the national observance of Chamber of Commerce Week this week, the speaker briefly traced the history of the Chamber of Commerce movement. Originating in Europe in the 17th century, the movement was founded in Canada in 1750 by early merchants.

It has grown until now there are 750 Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce in communities from coast to coast.

The 24,000 Canadian of Dutch parents described Chambers of Commerce as "voluntary organizations of forward-looking citizens . . . banded together to promote the civic, commercial, industrial and agricultural progress of the community and district which it serves."

The key word in this definition is "voluntary", he said. "Only by giving something of themselves in time and effort can men and women make the contribution which spells the difference between a live community and a dead one."

Mr. Poste noted the Chamber of Commerce has been variously described as a booster organization, a tourist attracting body or a government's association.

"It is, of course, all of these things and yet very much more, realize a good deal more," he stated.

He said since so few people know the true role of this organization, this week is designated as Chamber of Commerce Week, to give all citizens an opportunity to learn something of the C. of C. movement.

The speaker also explained what the Chamber of Commerce means and stands for at all levels, from the local organization to the national federation, the Canadian Chamber of Commerce.

He said the cellular structure of the C. of C. movement in Canada far exceeds in number, in strength, and in quality, the so-called cells of communism.

Mr. Poste said the Chamber movement lies in the fact it is politically non-partisan, non-sectarian, non-racial and social vested interest," Mr. Poste said, "and is dedicated to good citizenship, good government, and good business is permitted to do so by co-operation be-ly; to talk this place up . . . to help others, who may be sceptical or who may have a selfish interest, in which we are trying to do is going to benefit everybody and increase this community's prosperity," he said.

In noting the national observance of Chamber of Commerce Week this week, the speaker briefly traced the history of the Chamber of Commerce movement. Originating in Europe in the 17th century, the movement was founded in Canada in 1750 by early merchants.

It has grown until now there are 750 Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce in communities from coast to coast.

The 24,000 Canadian of Dutch parents described Chambers of Commerce as "voluntary organizations of forward-looking citizens . . . banded together to promote the civic, commercial, industrial and agricultural progress of the community and district which it serves."

The key word in this definition is "voluntary", he said. "Only by giving something of themselves in time and effort can men and women make the contribution which spells the

Think Capsule From Satellite Fell in Pacific

WASHINGTON (AP)—A capsule from a U.S. satellite may have floated safely back to earth. It it did, it fell in the vast reaches of the North Pacific, where no man could mark its return.

The capsule was set to be ejected automatically when the Discoverer II satellite made its 17th orbit around the earth. That was about 1 p.m. EST Tuesday night.

There was no direct way of telling whether this took place. But scientists today studied intricate data radioed back from the satellite. They hoped that slight chances in its weight, in centers of gravity and altitude could tell them whether the capsule was successfully fired back toward earth.

Several other rocket shots crowded into the last few days—both the satellite and missile variety — were less successful than the Discoverer, fired Monday into a pole-to-pole orbit from Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif.

100-TO-1 CHANCE

Except for recovery of the capsule, a 1,000-to-1 chance even if everything worked right, the Discoverer performance will not produced important scientific information, the scientists reported.

The air force had hoped to snare the capsule as it floated down under a parachute near the Hawaiian Islands.

Satellites — both Russian and American—have fallen back into the atmosphere but they burned up before they reached the ground.

Obituaries

JOHN ALEXANDER BUSH

The funeral of Mr. John Alexander Bush was held in the church of the John R. Bush Funeral Home on Tuesday, April 14th, 1958. The service was conducted by the Rev. C. W. Colemash.

The bearers were Warren Spafford, Keith Bush, Vernon Bush, Ronald Bush, Mac Bush and Earl Bush.

Interment was in Belleville cemetery.

CLIFFORD BYERSON LANSING

STIRLING — The funeral of Clifford Byerson Lansing, R.R. 4 Stirling was held at the Dulin Funeral Home on Monday afternoon. His pastor, Rev. Arthur Packman of St. Paul's United Church, conducted the service. The bearers were Messrs. George Heasman, Ross Holland, Percy Craighead, Harold Chambers, Raymond Chambers and Milton Reid.

The interment was made in Stirling Cemetery.

CHARLES FREDERIC BEDARD

TWEED — The funeral of Charles Frederic Bedard was held Monday morning from the Tweed Funeral Home to St. Monghagh's church for Requiem Mass at 10 o'clock, then to Moscow for interment.

Mr. Bedard came to Tweed from Trenton eight years ago, and was employed by Trudeau's Hardware as plumber. Later going into business for himself.

Mr. Bedard was a devout member of St. Carthage's R.C. Church and had made many friends in this vicinity.

He is survived by his wife, the former Ann Casement, of Wooler, and three daughters, Ann (Mrs. Don Wilson) of Toronto; Marlene (Mrs. Camille Gagnon) in France with her husband who is a member of the R.A.F., and Betty (Mrs. Ernest Rodgers) of Tweed.

Work's Dept. Now Operating With Full Staff

Belleville's Public Works department is now operating with the full labor staff which its budget will allow in order to complete its entire spring clean-up program by the end of April. Sidewalk patching, street cleaning and tree trimming operations are now phased with this deadline in view according to City Engineer Malcolm Turnbull.

Some inconvenience is being encountered on the gravel roads in the annexed area. "Boiling," a condition brought about by a quick thaw of the upper layers of the gravel roads, resulting in part remains cold, results in bumps being formed in the surface of the roads. It is not worthwhile scraping this surface smooth because when the heavy road bed section becomes thawed out the bumps will settle of their accord. Similar work also has been scraped there would appear holes where the bumps once were.

The department's ditching program stated most of the annexed areas will be commencing once the winter clean-up campaign has been concluded. The former is expected to be started in early May.

Noticeable around the downtown area is the general public tenance work being carried out as things are painted and cleaned up. Many of the parking meter posts have received a fresh coat of bright yellow paint within the past two days.

Find Grass Fires Spread Quickly

Extinguishing grass fires has been a regular occurrence during the past few days with the local Fire Department. Two such fires occurred Sunday. There were two more yesterday, one at Honeywell's Coupers and another on West Dundas Street. By 10:30 a.m. today another alarm had been answered for the same part of fire at 264 East Moira Street.

Fire Chief Gerald Vance advises that people are finding that the grass is much dryer than they thought, when grass fires they set spread much more rapidly than anticipated. Any person setting a grass fire is obliged to attend to it until it has been extinguished or it has burned out. The person setting the fire is also responsible for any loss or damage incurred if the fire does get out of hand. Chief Vance cited a recent $500, 000 loss due to a grass fire near Ajax as an example of how serious things can get.

Although the burning of grass, roadside, is generally permissible during the daytime, it attended, no fires whatever are allowed to be set, even if thy are well attended, once anything has occurred. People are also well advised not to set any fire close to any buildings. The only other call received during the past twenty-four hours was at 7:30 p.m. yesterday when a storage shed at Bob Blaine's on Highway No. 2 was burned out.

Ike, Newspaper Star In Television Show

The Ontario Intelligencer was a featured performer in a television show last night.

Ike Hildebrand had the starring role with four appearing in the supporting cast.

The show was the CBC's "Front Page Challenge" and the "drama" was the winning of the world amateur hockey championship.

The "supporting cast" consisted of newspapermen Wilfrid Sinclair, Ken McTaggart, Frank Rompane and actress Tony Robbins.

Featured in the backdrop was the front page of this newspaper's edition which carried the big story headlined "MACKS WORLD CHAMPS".

The picture was so good a viewer mentioned it could be third-line typographical error in Sports Editor George Carver's editorial in the centre of the page.

The scene up with all the answers to several questions fired at him, mainly by Sinclair.

The panel narrowed down this international event to a sports epic which took place in Central Europe.

The moderator, norgin came into centre camera as the questions were fired at him.

"Was it skiing?"

"No."

"Was it skating?"

"Yes".

"Was it figure-skating?"

"No."

Toby cut in. "Was it the family doubles?"

"No."

Then a light flashed over Sinclair's head.

"It was the Belleville McFarlands."

Rounds of applause, canned or otherwise.

Studio lights glisted off Sinclair's bald noggin in a camera close-up.

"Ike, Ike", he asked, "Why do they call them the McFarlands?"

Ike came through handsomely with one of the best plugs the Picton mayor received all winter.

"The press reports I read said the Canadians played hockey like hoodlums and had guns from the west" said Sinclair.

Ike straightened that one out to the satisfaction of all concerned.

"What was your biggest thrill?" asked Toby.

A big grin smothered the Hildebrand face.

This viewer expected the popular playing coach to come up with "The victory over Russia."

He didn't.

He modestly stated "Winning the world hockey championship for Canada."

Ike denied this morning that he had been offered the role of "Hop-a-long" Hildebrand in a Pickle television series tabbed "Hockey Hoodlums of the Canadian West."

Floyd Crawford Speaker at Y Cage Dinner

About fifty boys were present at the annual Y Men's Basketball League banquet yesterday evening. Floyd Crawford, trainer of the World Hockey Champions, was the guest speaker. He spoke on the recent European trip of the Mapa made and on the tournament in Czechoslovakia. Following this address there was a question and answer period which went on for some time as the boys sought satisfaction for their curiosity.

Two trophies were presented: one to the winning team in the league, the Tanner Townsend, who brought greetings from the Physical Education Committee of the local "Y" presented these trophies and the crests to the representatives of the winning teams.

In the junior league the Devils, captained by Jim Morton, received the top honors. Included in the team were Stan Lucas, Gord Parker, Dave Smith Paul Campbell.

In the junior league captain Joe Clapp's Chipmunks received the trophy and crests. Team members included Les Hall, Bob Farrow, Jack Shepard, Colin Mole, Eric Deacon, and Ed Bovay.

Following the speech and presentations a film, "Buildings For Brotherhood," was shown. It illustrated the work of the World Council in building "Y" facilities in underprivileged countries through a mutual effort arrangement where the local concerned would raise 66 per cent of its required objective locally and North American YMCA's would contribute the remaining third of the total amount.

Also participating in the program for the evening were Rod Turner, who thanked the speaker, Bob McMartin, who thanked the Y Men for the banquet, and John Baker, who gave the County Council Spring Session Set Back Week

The spring session of Hastings county council, originally scheduled for April 21st, has been set back a week to accommodate more time to complete detailed plans for the proposed new county court house.

Discussion on the erection of a proposed new courthouse structure is expected to be one of the main items on the agenda when the county councillors' spring session. Plans for a new courthouse were presented drawn last year when it was discovered renovation of the present structure would cost more per square foot than would a new building erected.

Also on the agenda for the spring session will be setting of the county tax rate.

Health Dept. To Appoint Meat Inspector

Appointment of a city meat inspector to work under the city health department is expected to be made at the next meeting, city council has been informed.

Primary purpose of the meat inspector would be to inspect meat carcasses brought into the city from small slaughter houses in the Belleville area. Meats brought in from large packing houses by chain stores are inspected prior to shipment.

Council was informed by Alderman Jas. Lamers H. Forester of the health department's request for a meat inspector.

Police Catch Wandering Sow

Belleville Provincial Police highway patrol officers turned hog chasers for a short time early today after a large sow was spotted wandering on the highway north of the city. The sow was found in the neighborhood of McFarlands quarry on Highway 14 and was turned over to the Belleville Livestock Sales barn where attempts will be made to locate the owner. Police noted that it is still probability the sow had escaped from a truck while being transported to the sales barn.

Polymer Accepts Mediation Offer

OTTAWA (CP) — Labor Minister Starr says steps are being taken to appoint a mediator in the dispute between the crown-owned Polymer Corporation of Sarnia, and its striking employees.

He informed Paul Martin (L-Essex East) in the Commons that the corporation now has accepted his offer to appoint a mediator. The Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers union has not yet named its nominee.

The Polymer workers walked out March 18 over demands for a 10 per cent general wage increase and other benefits.

Council, Public Utilities Enter Appearance to Writ

TRENTON — At a special meeting the Trenton town council and the commissioners of the Public Utilities Commission agreed to enter an appearance to the writ issued against them by Gerald Weaver on his behalf. Mr. Weaver is a ratepayers in Trenton.

The special meeting was held in the council chambers at the Municipal Building yesterday morning and all councillors and members of the Public Utilities Commission were present. Town clerk O. W. Lazier, town engineer Eric Alderney, town solicitor Roderick Campbell and PUC manager Jim Page were also present.

The writs were issued by Mr. Weaver in regard to the town setting water and sewer rates to residents outside of the town limits and asked an injunction to have it stopped.

In opening the meeting Mayor Ross Hunt said this special meeting had been called by himself to find out the wishes of the town councillors in this matter and have town solicitor give them legal advice as to what to do in the matter. He asked Councillor William Bradshaw to put forward a motion at the meeting between his committee, sanitation and waste removal, and the Public Utilities Commission which was held on Monday night.

Councillor Bradshaw told the meeting that the council had been accomplished at that meeting but had also felt that legal advice was necessary. He recalled that at the last meeting of council his committee report had recommended that a town ratepayers who wanted to build just outside of the town be given permission to hook onto the town water system. He also said he felt this was the cause of the two writs being served. He told the meeting that his committee were of the opinion that the town should declare this area but "still we shouldn't pass a man by when he is that close to the area limits."

In issuing a legal opinion on the issue, Rod Campbell, the town solicitor, told the council he felt the Public Utilities Commission were within their rights to refuse connections of the town limits, under section 11 of the Public Utilities Act.

He said also the town would be legally within their rights to supplied sewer services to the same persons outside the town, under the Municipal Act but in Trenton's case they would have to consult with the Water Resources Commission because of the present contract the town has with this governmental body.

The solicitor told the council the first step would be to "enter an appearance" and then they would be able to fing out in detail from the plaintiff what they were demanding. If the writs did not "enter an appearance" then they would relinquish their legal rights in the matter.

The councillors then passed the motion and instructed Mr. Campbell to get in touch with Mr. Weaver and his lawyer, F. D. Ward of Picton, for further details on their demands.

In addressing the meeting Clifford Baker, chairman of the Public Utilities Commission in Trenton, told the councillors that the town will be in position to be sell water after the addition to the filtration plant has been completed and put into production. He said as it is now the commission sold these people water, at triple the town rate, but with the understanding that they would be the first to be cut off if there were a serious water shortage in town.

"We are now in a position," said Mr. Baker, "to sell water without causing any hardship to town citizens and it will mean a considerable amount of money for the town."

Following the meeting the town council and the members of the Public Utilities Commission held a special session to pass a resolution on the matter of the writs in order to have it go through the group's minute book.

North Trenton Home, School Holds Meeting

TRENTON — The North Trenton Home and School Association held a "hair raising" meeting recently with Mrs. F. Hamilton presiding.

The programme from the Fun Fare were listed of the various tables and a copy given to each member present. The president thanked all those who made this event a success. A letter was read from the Pinecrest Home and School Council amending a workshop to be held in Belleville on June 8th. An announcement was made of the Home and School camp at Lake Conchiching which has two camp periods from June 10-13 and June 14-17.

Mrs. M. Calnan introduced two student teachers, Miss Nancy Maidens and Miss Davis, who are taking part in a unit in her classroom at North Trenton Public School. Mrs. Calnan's room won the prize this month for parent attendance. The improvements needed at the North Trenton school were discussed at length by the executive present. It was felt that the school grounds should be levelled and a backstop put up so that the children could have a proper baseball field. The meeting was closed by the singing of the spring weather. Mr. J. Amm, the principal, pointed out that the new school needs for the school lunch are a new refrigerator, stove, urn, and to play a vital part in the educational program of any school. Since the Home and School has an organization solely for the purpose of promoting the welfare of the children, it was felt that the Board of Education should be approached at once along with the parents to supply these much needed items for the school.

The next agenda on the program is a film quiz, directed by Mr. Amm, on all questions pertinent to Home and School members. The quiz questions were directed to all the members present and were given to each member for a correct answer with the best student receiving a real knowledge of Home and School affairs.

Lunch was served by Mrs. G. Duncan and several mothers. It was decided that the following would provide the lunch for the May meeting.

Mrs. J. Weller Celebrates 99th Birthday

TRENTON — Guests from Belleville, Sidney, Wallbridge and Trenton visited Mrs. James Weller, Carrying Place Road, yesterday to celebrate her 99th birthday. Hale and hearty Mrs. Weller, who was born in Murray Township, is as active as many a woman much younger, still greeted her guests with a warm handshake.

Among many beautiful and useful gifts, Mrs. Weller received three pots of growing yellow chrysanthemums and a birthday cake from her grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Underwood, Trenton; Mr. and Mrs. Wallbridge, Mrs. Lorraine of Toronto, and Miss Lorraine Weller.

A daughter of the late Danfel Roberts and former Evelyn Fraser, Mrs. Weller has had all children, three of whom survive. Mrs. Weller's husband, who lives in Carrying Place, and her daughters Myrtle and Gladys, also have 11 grandchildren and 9 great - grandchildren, including Mrs. Weller's descendants.

The Victoria Bridge at Montreal, among the earliest large iron bridges in Canada, was completed in 1860.

Firemen Answer Six Alarms

TRENTON — The Trenton Fire Department answered six calls yesterday afternoon, but them reported serious and three of them being grass fires.

The first call came in at 1.20 p.m. to the home of Mrs. Sweet at 122 William Street where a grass fire was causing concern. The second came at 1.30 p.m. later when another grass fire at the Country Club was getting out of hand.

The third grass fire was in a vacant field near 213 Bryan Street and the department was called at 4.30 p.m.

At 5.30 p.m. the trucks were called to 74 Murphy Street where a pile of rubbish had been two buildings caught fire. It was burning quite hard when the firemen arrived but they put it out in a hurry and order conditions for a long-term solution to be worked out by a forthcoming royal commission.

It would have the effect of reducing to about 19 per cent the 17 - per - cent - to - 20 - per - cent subsidy would be paid provincially this way: Western Canada, $3,000,000; Ontario and Quebec, $5,300,000; Atlantic provinces, $3,460,000.

The transport organization took exception both to the subsidy and to the government's announced intention of freezing freight rates at current basic levels for about the duration of the federal aid.

Five Youths Are Sentenced For Car Theft

TRENTON — Five youths were sentenced to terms in the Ontario Reformatory for car thefts and other charges when before Magistrate T. Y. Wills for sentencing yesterday afternoon.

Gary Ibbotson, 19, of Trenton, was given one year definite and three months indefinite. Melvin Lawes, 17, of Wooler, was given six months definite and three months indefinite. Harold Dunkley, 19, of Trenton, received two years definite and three months indefinite. Keith Dunkley, 17, of Trenton, got six months definite and three months indefinite. Carl Buck, 17, of Trenton, received five months definite and three months indefinite.

In the Ibbotson case, he was charged on seven different car thefts and was fined $100 one year, six month sentence on each charge with the sentences to run concurrent. Lawes charged with attempting to steal gas he was given a one month sentence also to run concurrent. On a further charge of trespassing on CNR property he was fined $25 or one day in default of payment.

Harold Dunkley was charged with two cases of car theft, and his sentence was fixed at two but to run concurrent.

In sentencing the youths, Magistrate Wills told them he had given considerable thought to the matter of the three cases as there were different facts concerning each, but that the interest of justice appear to be the same except in the case of Buck.

"However," the magistrate said, "the offences are all serious and I feel that each of these stolen cars was wrecked when turned over was also a point that was taken into account."

While these charges come under theft they could also be considered under joy riding which has a lesser penalty. I have taken this under consideration as well as the fact that you have all had previous convictions."

Think Provinces Likely to Defend Railway Subsidy

OTTAWA (CP)—Some provincial governments were expected today to support in substance the federal government's proposed freight rate subsidy policy on attack on it by the national organization of truckers.

Canadian Trucking Associations Inc., speaking for 7,000 trucking firms, opposed the measure before a Commons committee Tuesday declaring highway transport could do the job of reducing rail rates through competition without the expenditure of public money.

The one-year subsidy is aimed at alleviating regional "discrimination" in freight rates pending recommendations for a long-term solution to be worked out by a forthcoming royal commission.

It would have the effect of reducing to about 19 per cent the 17 - per - cent - to - 20 - per - cent subsidy would be paid provincially this way: Western Canada, $3,000,000; Ontario and Quebec, $5,300,000; Atlantic provinces, $3,460,000.

Twelve Whipped During Year

OTTAWA (CP) — Twelve prisoners in federal penitentiaries were given corporal punishment for disciplinary purposes last year, Justice Minister Fulton reported Tuesday. A total of 971 prisoners were sentenced to solitary cells as a discipline.

Mr. Fulton gave the figures in a Commons reply. None of the prisoners sent to solitary served more than three months.

But Mr. Fulton said two men at the New Westminster, B.C., prison have been in solitary for more than a year—one because he was an ungovernable sexual pervert and the other because he had an ungovernable violent temper.

He said three federal penitentiaries have individual cells with steel doors which cut off all sound and sight. They are at Kingston, Dorchester, N.B.; and Stony Mountain, Man.

Strapping Leads To Resignation

WATERLOO (CP) — An employee at the Mennonite Old Order farm for emotionally disturbed children has resigned following the bare-bottom strapping of a boy, it was reported Tuesday.

Rev. J. B. McCormick, Mennonite minister who is chairman of the farm's board, said strapping is not a common practice at the school.

The employee took it on himself to strap the boy, Mr. Martin said. His resignation was accepted at a special meeting of the advisory board Feb. 25.

The boy accused youths if they agreed with the pre-arranged plan. They then made up regarding them and that they had attacked individually they each agreed.

REFORM -- WHAT?

The Eastern Ontario Liberal Federation, meeting at Brockville, passed a resolution requesting Lester B. Pearson, the party's national leader, to call a conference of all groups interested in social reform.

There was a time when a call like this would have stirred widespread interest, from one end of the nation to the other. We doubt whether it would today -- or for that matter whether it would have aroused interest during the Liberal regime of which Mr. Pearson was a member.

This fact, when examined, contains surprising implications. Though there are innumerable organizations calling for reform of this law and of that, there is no single issue which springs immediately to mind when the word "reform" is mentioned.

This was not always so and in the days of the corn laws in England, or in the time of Papineau and Mackenzie in Canada, there was no doubt about what reform was uppermost in the minds of the people. Even during the Bennett regime, the word "reform" would have aroused a positive response in most people.

Today this is not so. What does "reform" mean to a Liberal? We suggest there is no single issue on which all Liberals are united in the belief that this is of paramount importance.

There is no issue which springs to the minds of all trade unionists, unless possibly it is Premier Smallwood's legislation in Newfoundland and, judging from the reaction in other parts of Canada to somewhat similar issues in the past, the primacy of this will disappear with time.

If there is any one issue on which the great majority of Canadians are united it is the importance of avoiding a disastrous inflationary period, but this is hardly a demand for "reform" and even if the fear of a runaway inflation eventually produces a general agreement on the desirability of ending "creeping inflation" there is certainly no unanimity about the paths which should be followed to achieve this purpose. Today every political party is opposed to inflation -- and no political party is prepared to take all of the steps which econfirmist consider would be necessary to end it.

Still, we should like to see Mr. Pearson accede to the request of the Eastern Ontario Liberal Association. A gathering of everybody interested in reform would provide a few lively months -- yes, we said months. The very fact that there would be no unanimity about what needed reforming would add to the fireworks. There would be those who wanted to reform the liquor laws to make it harder to get a drink, and those who wanted to reform them to make it easier; those who wanted to cure unemployment by increasing opportunities for private profit, and those who wanted to cure it by decreasing profits or eliminating them entirely; those who wanted more restrictions on divorce to make them stiffer and those who wanted to eliminate censorship entirely; those who wanted to reform penal institutions to eliminate corporal punishment and those who wanted to reform them to provide for greater use of corporal punishment; and -- of course -- there would be a host of advocates for fundamental reform of every type of government service, but scarcely anybody ready to accept higher taxation as the price of such a policy.

Oh, it would be a very interesting conference indeed.

NO MORE THAN FAIR

Dr. T. B. Clarkson and three associates of Bowman Gray School of Medicine at Winston-Salem believe that pigeons may provide the key to solving a major cause of heart disease. Pigeons, it seems, are the answer to a scientist's prayer for "an inexpensive and readily available animal with spontaneous atherosclerosis" -- that means with much in their veins.

If the sacrifice of a few million pigeons will enable the scientists to discover a way from keeping mush out of the veins of human beings, pigeons have no legitimate complaint. They will be merely partially evening the score for the thousands of human beings who have blown their top because of another mushy attribute of pigeons, a bird which may be loved by tourists seeking a little color for pictures of far-away places but which is universally deplored by those whose responsibility it is to endeavor to keep these far-away places, their buildings and their statues, reasonably clean.

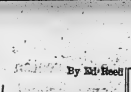
THE PESSIMIST

By EDGAR A. GUEST



It seems to me that some folks here
Are mighty difficult to please,
For instance, when the spring is here
And buds are bursting on the trees
And skies above are getting blue,
And all the woods are full of song,
There seems still go mopin' through
The world protestin' things are wrong.

They seem to think the world should be Constructed just for them alone;
And all that they can ever see
Is all pertains unto their own.

There can't be charms in buddin' trees
If they view things contrariwise;
It they can't stop to take their ease,
The whole world must be full of vice.

Now when I feel the spring is nigh
And see the green leaves coming back,
And hear the crows that caw and cry,
And see the old earth stretch and crack--

Just like a fellow does when he
Is waking up, I've got to smiling.
I have my troubles, too, but gee!
I climb forget them for awhile.

ARTICLE 2

Several people had mentioned while we were in Jamaica to be sure and go to the Blue Mountain Inn for dinner. We had its picturesquely situated well up in the hill district, eight miles north of the city. Contrary to what had been expected, it did not overlook the city of Kingston, but is located on a tiny stream in a narrow valley with a limited view upland. The premises is most attractive with a view of the brook which is ingeniously lighted at night to bring out its best features. There is a stone terrace or patio facing the stream and hill and around the terrace are vines and flowers which always add considerably to the attractiveness of any outside setting whether home or restaurant. We were all set for a gala dinner.

However, we regretfully report the food was no match for the ed chicken found it poorly cook ed, spongy and tough and had away from the ship. Those who order- pepper, and others who had cheese were disappointed to find them not tender and grilled as though by an amateur. Perhaps, the chef had had a fight with his wife or the proprietor and was taking it out on the customers. There surely must have been something wrong or those who recommended the inn would not have given it the praise they did.

There are lots of things to do while in Kingston, Jamaica. One of the best is the Victoria Craft Market where generally known as the "Straw Market" which features baskets, purses, shopping bags, hats (some silly, others practical), salad bowls, linens, pictures by native artists and dozens of other items mostly handmade by the natives and much of what is displayed is attractive and moderate in cost. Some bargaining is called for when shopping.

There is a farmers' market which we visited looking for souvenirs. Part of the market is housed in a large one-storey building where fruit and vegetables are displayed for sales. Another large section is outside but any commodity can be found in ket and the one in Belleville is in name only. The vendors are not Negroes dressed in the picturesque way for they are unable to do otherwise. Some of the vegetables are piled on the ground, live chickens, mostly roosters, are tied and dried okra more than a pound tied together by groups by their stalks are on the ground. Beans, ground corn and other meat which we did not recognize, displayed in open boxes and bags. Over all floated the smell of fish, spices and greasy looking cooked meat was for sale.

The market was crowded even at four in the afternoon. Though we were the only white persons in the place we met with no jostling or discourtesy. Fortunately our taxi driver came along as there were a few customers we wanted to ask. Although the Jamaicans speak English it is almost unintelligible to the strangers, but we were unable to find out anything worthwhile. This market, apparently is for natives only although we asked the driver to take us to a market selling fruits and vegetables. Perhaps it was the one farthest away.

"Looks like this is going to be one of those days!"

LOVELY GARDENS

Jamaica, like any tropical country we have seen, has a wealth of flowers, flowering shrubs and beautiful trees. There are a few fine parks in the Kingston vicinity where visitors can get a quick look at most of the varieties without trouble. One is the Hope Gardens in the city and the other the Castleton Gardens not far from the city. The former is more of the formal gardens with flower beds and shrubs in profusion, the latter takes advantage of the terrain, depends more (on trees, vines and low-growing shrubbery. Both gardens have their charm and decidedly worth a visit, but it must be a short one as ours was.

The most spectacular tree we saw was in the mountain valleys on the route to Port Antonio. This tree has something of the shape of the elm but with thicker, greener foliage. It is tall, gracefully formed and on the topmost branches are huge scarlet blossoms. There are not many of these trees are make a profound impression on the eye. Exclamations of delight greeted the view whenever a tree was spotted by the reverend beauty. The tree, said our driver, is known as the "Queen of the Forest" and the "Flame of the Forest" and we could think of nothing more appropriate to describe a lovely creation. There are not many and they are to be seen in small scattered groups or singly. As the highway was usually well above the level of the trees it was possible to get splendid views of them.

To be continued tomorrow.

Now Seeds Irradiated

Chicago Tribune

We are indebted to that popular horticultural journal, The Kipinger Washington Letter, for a few tips on what to expect in the way of gardening. Which soon opens to a popping of buds, a springing up of seedlings, and a frability of earth.

As every dabbler with soil and seeds knows, the unlucky chances in gardening are already perilously unlimited. Late frostings can damp off, a drought can ruin the most careful plans, the bugs will be bugs, and the rich rabbits can get the tender young lettuce, beets, and beans. The seeds in the border may not germinate, fire blight may assail the ornamentals, and the raccoon awaits patiently for the corn to ear, when he will have first crack.

All of this, being known, is accepted with the ordinary vicissitudes of digging and delving and planting. But the Kiplinger letter open up frightening prospects of the unknown. Irradiated seeds, it will be told on the market this spring and you won't know what you get when flowers come up, for the radiation may have essentially altered the characteristics of the species carried within the seed.

"Which be pretty might not", says Kiplinger laconically, "Might be nothing at all."

Which is a wonder for gardening punishment, we can hardly wait.

OPERATION HELPS CORRECT HARE LIP AND CLEFT PALATE

I take advantage of quoting a reader's letter to describe a topic concerning which I receive many questions.

"Dear Dr. Molner: I recently read your article about a mother who is distressed about her son who has a cleft palate.

"My son was born with a hare lip and a partial cleft palate. I would like to assure this mother that much can be done for her boy.

"Today my son would only appear to have fallen and cut his lip, the scare is so slight. He had his first operation at the age of five months and the second, to clean up scar tissue, at the age of 3.

"This was 20 years ago, and if such wonderful work could be done then, she must realize that with advanced medical discoveries today the same operation must be easier and the results more perfect.

"As for speech, my son was normal, but during my time in the hospital I saw many cases worse than this mother describes. Some were deaf. Nevertheless, they were doing splendidly. The patients were first taught to blow toy balloons, and then taught a foreign language. After this, English came for them. -- Mrs. Z."

Mrs. Z. was fortunate to live close to a big medical centre and she had a skilful surgeon. It might not have been available to everyone 20 years ago.

I wouldn't say there is better job could be done, even today, on her son as the reason for it is the extra years of medical progress is that more difficult repairs can be made and techniques and faces that have been created with some serious defect.

Another advance, in the overall medical picture, is that today parents are much more likely to receive proper advice as to what to do with a baby born with a cleft palate.

Today these corrective operations are performed usually when the baby is much younger than five months -- sometimes the surgery is advisable at the age of a few weeks. You'd be surprised if you saw some of the tiny mites who have already had their lips and palates repaired.

One purpose, of course, is to be certain that the mouth is properly shaped before the child begins to try to make sounds. A bad speech habit, once formed, can be hard to correct later, after the cleft palate has been restored to normal.

For another thing, these defects sometimes (not always) interfere with proper eating.

And in any event, the sooner corrected, the better.

"Dear Dr. Molner: My son is 14 and flat-footed. Can corrective measures, such as shoes, supports and exercise, at this point, bring permanent improvement? -- Mrs. W.H."

Most children have some degree of flat-footedness. As they grow older, the success of (and need for) treatment depends on the severity of the flatness. Signs and symptoms include pain, tired legs and pressure such as excessive formation of callus \and corns.

Anyway, leave treatment is not quite complete at 14, so I think the measures you mentioned should be tried.

"Dear Dr. Molner: We are concerned about our daughter's unborn baby. The husband is mentally deaf. Will this affect the child? -- Mrs. P.W."

It depends on the type of deafness. If from an injury, then no reason that it is affect the child. Some forms of hearing defects tend to be hereditary. The best policy at this stage is to have the child's doctor, in future years, keep a special watch over its hearing.

Bed wetting can be conquered! To learn how, write to me in care of this paper, enclosing Sun Tens Wyckoff, P.O. Box 158, Dundee, Ill., requesting a copy of my booklet, Bedwetting--How Ten Ways To Stop Bed Wetting. Please enclose a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 50c in coin to cover handling.

Insects' Range and Speed

Brian Hocking in Scientific American

Some insects are capable of extraordinarily long flights. The most famous long range flier is the handsome monarch butterfly. Enormous numbers of these insects migrate from the region around the Great Lakes to the Eastern Canada during the summer and back to the gulf states in the fall.

Individual monarch butterflies have apparently been seen to time in England and are believed to have crossed the Atlantic with no assistance other than a tail wind.

Calculations based on the monarch butterfly's supply of energy and rate of consumption indicate that it is capable of travelling about 850 miles in a day and it could travel about six miles per hour. With a modest following wind it should certainly be able to cross the Atlantic.

Locusts, in swarms weighing thousands of tons, can fly up to 300 miles without stopping.

Even smaller insects travel astonishing distances. Aphids regularly cross the North Sea between England and the continent, a distance of several hundred miles; in Africa black flies make an annual journey to cattle disease 200 miles from their nearest breeding site, having travelled 100 miles due to their body length without being able to stop for food.

Speed is an aspect of insect flight that has always excited the wild guesses and tall stories. At least one celebrated United States naturalist, whose knowledge and good sense should have availed him better, insisted on recording a estimate that the deer fly is capable of a speed of 250 miles per hour. Irving Langmuir took the trouble to show the impossibility of this estimate on purely physical grounds. This led r. to consider the limitations on insect capacity from a physiological point of view.

On the basis of the specific rate of insect muscle, the weight of the flight muscles, the efficiency with which they operate and the density of air, he have calculated that the fastest insects are probably the large dragonflies which reach a speed 30 miles per hour and, at 1,200 miles per hour.

The speed of insect flight beyond a few yards has been strictly not encountered elsewhere in the animal world.

GOOD RULE

A few days ago I heard a man in public address say: "When I am in doubt, I do the first good thing that comes into my mind."

Just as we hear things which we read, through, these minds, and then apparently out into the air again, so we encounter thoughts everywhere for which we recognize, assent to, but never put into practice. We are always encountering good suggestions as we go through life. We hear them in many a way. Kindly suggestions can be tugging at our coat sleeves, trying to get our attention. There are many evil, tempting situations lining the pathway of life and beckoning us to evil. But for every tempting situation there is are a dozen good impulses that would like to come into our hearts, establish themselves, and lead us on to good and kindly actions.

But we have too much to do. We have so many engagements. Or we have desires so much greater than these helpful impulses that we find it almost impossible to thrust aside the lesser things to make room for the greater.

Just remember when in doubt that a good rule is to do the next kindly, generous thing that suggests itself to your mind. You can never go wrong doing that.

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

It is said that ordinary logical argument has no effect whatever on an alcoholic. But I have just heard of a case in which argument succeeded.

The alcoholic in question had four brothers and two sisters, and he was the family tragedy. They were all prosperous men and women. He was a bum. They financed all the cures and all the hospitals. He was as helpless as a chip in a creek.

There was a family gathering around the following his last carouse. One of his sisters said:

"What an awful price you have paid!"

She meant the look of him, what a wreck he was.

The oldest brother took out a pencil and did a little rapid calculating.

"I figure," he said, "that you have paid about $40 for every drink you've ever bought. You paid $60 for what cost me and everybody else about 75 cents.

What a fathead you have been! What a sucker!"

The alcoholic was shocked. He looked over his brother's calculations. The figures took the sweat-encrusted out the other members of the family over their lifetimes. And he realized what a waste of expense. The balance he had divided into what was a reasonable number of drinks even an alcoholic could consume per annum over the years.

That was two years ago. The family has not had a drunk since. There was just enough Scotch in him to cause him to have the thought of paying $40 for a single Scotch.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THE PROMISE OF HOPE

I have read that when Hope is all lost all is lost. I came across this sentence by Bolnac, the famous French writer, and I said, "Hope is the better half of courage. Hope has it not sustained the weak and given the fainting heart time and patience to outlive woe and grow strong through life."

Full of us need this Hope to guide us through the dark days of life, and then to lead us into the sunlight. Hope is manifold according to our bent and temperament. Hope within the heart may well direct us through any emergency that suddenly crosses our path. Waite, the artist, has painted a portrait of a woman on a rock in the sea, with her arms about it, and he titled this painting with the single word -- Hope.

All Hope is clothed for a coat test. For so long as there is Hope there is the chance of victory and there is no chance for defeat. Hope and pray is a good motto. Both Hope and prayer are essential to a happy journey on the rough sea of life itself. Without prayer we have no vision to urge us on and up. Again I quote from Bolnac. He said: "The world which God has written on, do know of every man -- is Hope."

Let us cultivate Hope. Let us cultivate every means to assist us in developing it. By giving Hope to others we gain access to the rich treasures beyond the hills, and deep within the good earth. Hope is the magic word which has been the inspiration of all the struggles and sacrifices that finally opened up the promised lands and victories and gave to us the Hope of Empires within the folds of freedom.

After 40 Years of Dalliance Library Love Still Intense

By CHARLES BRUCE

My forty years of experience with libraries can only be described as a lifetime of amorous dalliance, with still grown to intensity.

Promiscuous dalliance, at that. I have had affairs with many kinds: Sunday School, High School, University, Reference, Public and Five-Cents-a-Day.

I have provoked them as a student of sorts, a working newspaperman and a writer (alas of sorts) looking for facts and also a reader looking for reading.

It may be possible to be unregardless and get what you've after. But it's my experience that the thing will be more pleasurable, more subtle and lasting, if a man takes his time. Lingers a little with pages unforseen. Pursues facts that have nothing to do with purpose.

Undoubtedly my reason for recommending this kind of indirection is self-justification. Myself, I can't help it. I gave up fighting long ago.

BEGAN WHEN EIGHT

The whole thing began in about my eighth year when mother was augmenting the size of the Sunday School in our part of the country and passed on some of the overflow for storage in our parlor closet for a few days on their journey from the Sunday School library in Halifax to the Library (three shelves and a box to the right of the pulpit).

At that time and for a while later I was still putting up a fight. My conscience still felt a slight pang from the Nova Scotia curriculum. I tried to keep from taking those books out of the closet, and from the with-drawing too many of them from the Sunday School library shelves.

Conscience always lost. In fact I perfected a technique for concealing the works of George Alfred Henty under a Grade IV Speller that has not been surpassed to this day.

(As an aside, I deplore those librarians who have removed Henty from their shelves. Never simply that in pursuing it one will have a much better time if the ye is allowed to wander on the way to the objective.

Chance and purpose may sometimes complete in a peculiar way. Once upon a time a public library for no other purpose than to get out of the rain. For those who are stickers for documentation, this occurred on Queen Street in Belleville, August 8, 1957. Once inside, I recalled that I had been meaning to try to find some references by a more-or-less grateful government. It was Dent, And eventually it stopped raining.

Let me add that my affairs with libraries are not all on a serious or pseudo-intellectual No one, for instance who aspires to be reasonable well-informed can escape the world of classical crime can hope to get anywhere by merely reading drugstore paperbacks. For Lord Peter Wimsey and Harriet Vane he must go to the reference or his library. There he will find hitherto unsuspected adventures of the Misses Marple, Silver and Hogg and Inspector Lady Teazel. I can't remember who looks like a toad: Also the Messrs. Campion, Allen, Travers and that excellent fellow Mr. MacDonald whose best work occur up in that country where they call a steer a stirk.

So now I am lost. I go to some library to check on what the palaces of the moon were in July, 1919, and come away with the information that the lieutenant of the Mercurians in her flight with the Monitor was a man named Calesby so Roger Jones, that Jarvis Harlow Rind, who once called Nelson Street, and that in 1913 at Barrington, N.S., a 13-ton schooner was built and named the "Who'd Have Thought It."

LEAVE MIND OPEN

Expectation and the open mind. But don't narrow your expectation, and leave the mind open to anything. I once went to the rare-book room of the University Library in Toronto, to look up some facts about stamps (the only time I've had the face to face in the pages of a 63-year-old issue of the Variety with the young Arthur Stringer and the young B. K. Sandwell. Mother had written to Lord Grey from a group of us rented an apartment on Bloor Street and found that the best-furnished room in the house was the library. Mother's influence. I've lived in a place that had a room so devoted to books.

I was called back to Canada from working my way completely through it, but not before I'd struck up an acquaintance with the Valley Forge book (through the Georgian Book of Poetry) with a number of less-known members of that earnest and charming family of Americans of which the most brilliant and erratic member was Rupert Hughes. Marcelles, Abercrombie, Gibson, Owne, Charles Hamilton Sorley, Meetings Lewis in anthologies is a passing introduction at a party. Reading lived between the covers of their home is something else.

LET EM WANDER

I am not suggesting that the information or entertainment for which you approach a library need be overly serious. Never. Simply that in pursuing it one will have a much better time if the ye is allowed to wander on the way to the objective.

Chance and purpose may sometimes complete in a peculiar way. I once went into a public library for no other purpose than to get out of the rain. Name Ed Lewis New President Of Bridge Club

The annual meeting of the Belleville Bridge Club was held on Monday evening, at the Belleville Shrine Club, by kind co-operation of the Shrine Club executive.

Jim Durrant, president of the Bridge Club, welcomed a large turnout of members and proceeded immediately with the meeting. The executive for the 1956-60 season. Jim Ward, chairman, and incoming committee proposed the following slate of officers, which was duly elected: hon. president — E. J. McLean; president — Ed. Lewis; vice-president — Doug Black; secretary-treasurer — Bob Murphy; directors — Ski Vanderveerth, Tom Barrett and Fred Holl; past president — Jim Durrant.

A short business meeting was held, during which Doug Black on behalf of Wilson Concrete Products, offered to donate a trophy, emblematic of the club competition. This offer was gratefully accepted by the Club and it was decided that replicas of the trophy would be presented to the winners each year.

Following a bridge tournament which saw some keen competition, the president-elect, Ed. Lewis, presented the prizes for the evening. They included: 1st — Jim Durrant and Ed. Lewis; 2nd — Doug Black and Arnold Wolfenden; 3rd — Jack Lawrence and Don Stirling; 4th — Shulman and Art Black; 5th — Jim Walker and Don Barrett (tie — Harold Mott and Red Townsend.

Section prizes went to the teams Jim Ward and Bob Murphy, Nick Stefan and Dave Gale, Frank Dennens and Tom Barrett, and Vern Coles and Skit Vanderveort. The slam prize was won by the team of Fred Holl and Al McCullam.

Prizes for the evening's play were won by: Jim Aitken, Jim Ward, Jim Durrant and Irv. Black.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Cole, Bridge Club stewardess, and the evening concluded with Ed. Lewis proposing a vote of thanks to Mrs. Cole and the members of the Belleville Shrine Club, which received enthusiastic accord.

First Ship Enters Port

PICTON — Navigation was opened in Picton last night when the CSL ore carrier T. L. McLagan docked at the Bethlehem Steel Co., dock on the High Shore, on the east of the town. The big freighter, under command of Capt. Allan, was forced to break its way most of the way from Kingston and near the dock had to scrape her s tod thick in the Bay of Quinte. Capt. Allan was presented with a silk hat. Second freighter of the season, the Glenelg is expected here Friday night at the Lake Ontario Portland Cement Co. dock for a cargo of cement.

High School Activities

Display Night at B.C.I.V.S. on Friday, April 17th, will feature a fashion show, presented by the Home Economics Department, and a variety of exhibits and displays prepared by the students. There will be musical numbers, demonstrations of modern dancing, gymnastics, and many other interesting and entertaining and activities.

During the past two weeks there has been considerable interest on the part of BCIVS senior students in Code XIII in making application for university scholarships and bursaries. Already many applications have been filed at Queen's and at University of Toronto for admission, scholarships to those universities. Applications have also been completed for the Atkinson Charitable Foundation bursaries and for the local I.O.D.E. bursaries and students are awaiting the forms for the Dominion-Provincial bursaries. It is the desire of the staff and students to surpass the excellent record of awards won, established in the school last year.

On Monday and Tuesday, April 13 and 14, Mr. R. Cutts, of the Thermodynamics and Illinois Mining & Mfg. Co., delivered an excellent address on opportunities in the area of general sales to the students of Grades 12A and 13C. His inspirational talk was enjoyed by all.

On Friday, April 17, Mr. Morris Berreford, sales engineer at Northern Electric Co., will outline for the students of Grade 13, "Careers at Northern Electric."

The campus at BCIVS has been aerated and fertilized. The work was done by students. For the first week students stayed off; secondly in the evenings and on weekends, others were not so considerate. The campus was sodded at considerable expense two years ago. B.C.I.V.S. has very limited playing area. With the very heavy use for school purposes, the grass will have little opportunity unless the general public will co-operate. Anyone interested should contact the Dept. of Agriculture, Picton.

Cadet inspection at BCIVS is planned for May 7 in the afternoon.

Girl Students Receive Awards For Projects

PICTON — The Achievement Day for the Fall and Winter Project "Cotton Accessories for the Club Girl's Bedroom" in Prince Edward County was held at the Prince Edward Collegiate Picton, on Saturday, April 11th. It represented the climax of their winters' work for 73 girls who had an opportunity to review the work covered in the project and to see the record books and bedroom accessories made by other club members.

All girls had a right to be proud of their accomplishments but 13 girls were especially proud — Miss Diane Haggerty received provincial honors — for having completed 13 projects. For completion of 8 projects county honors were awarded to Margaret Onderdonk and Ann Weese (Albury Club); Sandra Green (Ameliasburg); Janet Dulmage and Carol Meade (Cherry Valley); Ellen Roxborough (Demorestville); Rose Marie Haight, Pauline Weese (Hilton); Elizabeth Ann Sprague and Betty Wallbridge (Mountain View); Cheryl Whiteford, (Salmon Point).

The girls spent the morning judging a class of demonstrations (either Italian hemstitched or with contrasting inserted trim), a class of chair pads or throw cushions as well as planning the accessories for a bedroom keeping in mind the rules for harmony of color, design and texture.

An interesting program of exhibits, skits and demonstrations, on either subject "Color Schemes for a Bedroom" "Cotton Accessories for the Club Girl's Bedroom," "Selecting Materials and Colors for the Bedroom" was presented in the afternoon.

The summer project will be "Gardens at Home Beautification." Training School for Leaders, April 23rd at Dept. of Agriculture, Picton.

The project chosen for next fall and winter is "Working with Wool". All girls 12 years of age by Sept. 1st. are eligible to take this project. Anyone interested should contact the Dept. of Agriculture, Picton.

Rabid Cat Grabbed Victim's Arm, Refused to Let Go Until Killed

PICTON — Three adults and three children were given rabies treatment as a result of coming into contact with rabid animals. Most heriously bitten was Bert Eggleton, R. R. 2 Hillier. The rabid animal grabbed Bert's wrist. It refused to let go until I killed it', he stated.

Trevor Alexander, residing at R. R. 3 Consecon was bitten by a cat near the home. He was attacked him and managed to make contact just above his right boot. He disposed of the cat before it could be examined but is taking treatment as a precaution.

A third case of cats attacking humans is reported from Wautoos Island. There, Herman, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Thiessen was scratched by a rabid cat.

Contact into contact with a heifer which died from rabies, Larry, 9 and Richard, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lyons, and their uncle, Lawrence Lyons, 28, are receiving shots. The children had been visiting their uncle and had been playing at the latter by hand. When the animal died, examination proved it to be rabid. Another animal died later.

Bitten by a rabid fox, which was shot in the attack, two farmers owned by George Rose of Waupoos have been destroyed. Both Rose farms are situated in his stable on March 16.

The third case was on the farm of Joseph Abramsky, Glenora road, has also been afflicted with rabies. The animal attacked and died.

Health Unit officials state that they expect considerable spread of the disease among smaller animals.

TORONTO — The January report on rabies for the province shows 355 cases of which 198 were domestic and 157 were wild animals. The reduction in cases in hoofed domestic animals to 193 reflects the winter housing of such stock, the report says, and dogs.

"There is an interesting lag in the onset in cats, of which there were 19 as opposed to 16 dogs. Except for two cats in Algoma, the whole area north and west of Muskoka was free of rabies.

"East of Hastings County, of 13 counties there were six free of rabies and in the balance only 17 cases were reported, of which two were bovine, one dog, seven foxes and seven skunks.

"Five counties, Lincoln, Welland, Lambton, Kent and Essex, showed no cases but have plenty of foxes and most of the cases were on the line of advance. In fact, some or all of these have had cases in February.

"Two of the counties which had had severe outbreaks earlier reported no cases, namely Gray and Dufferin. One other such county, Ontario, had no cases in fox.

"The one prediction that can be made with assurance," the Ontario Lands and Forests Dept. report concludes, "is that there will be a larger number of cases in the Lake Erie District."

MENZIES TO VISIT CANADA

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Robert Menzies of Australia is to visit Canada May 20-22 as part of a round-the-world tour, Mr. Mr. Menzies, accompanied by his wife, Dame Pattie, is to leave Australia April 28. Governor General Massey has invited them at Government House during their visit.

Tyendinaga Pays More for Snow Removal Work

MELROSE — Tyendinaga Township Council had a full attendance for its April meeting. Claims during the month of March for bounty on 52 foxes killed were received and ordered paid. The bounty of $4 for each fox killed in the township by 4 resident of the township will be continued as long as the Province of Ontario continues special assistance on fox bounties, under the plan to combat the spread of rabies by reducing the fox population.

It was revealed that the cost of snow removal and sanding, from November 1, 1955 to March 31, 1956, was $3,977.82 more than that of the similar period the previous winter. The cost of snow removal and sanding in 1956 was: $5,690.85.

The Township office at Melrose will be closed on Saturday, April 28, to enable the clerk-treasurer to write an examination on a course for municipal clerks and treasurers.

Council adjourned to meet on May 4 at 8 p.m.

SOCIAL and PERSONAL

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Greer, Holloway St., have returned from Windsor where they attended the funeral of Mrs. Greer's sister-in-law, Mrs. Frank Mallory.

Friends of Mrs. Roscoe Vanderwater, Foxboro, will regret to learn her brother-in-law, Mr. Fred J. T. Maines, of Waterloo, passed away suddenly on Monday evening, April 13.

Y.P.U. Holds Meeting to Re-organize

WHITE'S DISTRICT — Mrs. Lorne Hand was hostess to the young people on Wednesday evening to reorganize the Y.P.U.

The officers for 1959 are: president, David Schlieger; 1st vice-president, Ted Potter; 2nd vice-president, Sylvia Millar; secretary, Gail Glagras; treasurer, Sylvia Bilham; program convenors, John Hunt, Larry Cooper and Ted Jeon.

Mrs. Hunt served dainty refreshments and a social time was enjoyed.

FINE TEAPOTS

Some English silver teapots are dated as far back as 1670, a few years after the first tea cargoes reached Europe from China.

W. M. S. Aux. Hears Talk on "Tropics Tour"

The regular meeting of the Afternoon Auxiliary of the W.M.S. of Bridge Street United Church was held recently.

Mrs. McArthur, the president conducted the regular opening exercises and the items of business. Mrs. Wishart reported the Easter offering received at the previous meeting amounted to $229. Mrs. Finkle, the treasurer, reported $500 already sent to Presbyterial treasurer.

Mrs. Davis, stewardship secretary, urged members to keep each monthly donation up to $70 if the group is to meet its allocation. Her subject on stewardship was "Stewardship of Our Time."

Each secretary of the various departments reported she had been active in carrying out her own particular duties.

A special collection was taken and given to Mrs. MacDonald, the secretary, to buy Christmas gifts for six Indian boys.

Mrs. Burrows was in charge of the devotional, which dealt with Peter's vision; the teaching, in God's sight, all men are equal. The hymn, "In Christ There's No East or West," fittingly emphasized the theme of the devotional.

The study was taken by Mrs. Franklin, Mrs. Butchart and Mrs. McArthur. Through a question and answer period they gave much information regarding the church's mission work in Bermuda and Trinidad.

Mrs. Butchart was one of the 44 who had taken "The Observer Tropics Tour" in March, so was able to bring first hand information.

The tour started from Malton Airport and first stop was Bermuda. There the party was met and greeted by a church welcoming committee. They were divided into groups, each visiting points of interest. Receptions were held for them in different churches. Bus tours provided opportunities for sight seeing. Beautiful colored foliage and flowers, plus 99 degree heat was in marked contrast to the wintry weather they had left in Canada.

Music formed a large part of each service attended, and was provided by choirs and CGIT groups.

From Bermuda, they flew to Trinidad, arriving at midnight. Again they were met by friends there. By the time the customs were passed they arrived at their hotels about 2.00 a.m., but early next morning they were up and sight-seeing.

They visited mission schools, crowded with students, since the natives are anxious to be educated.

Mrs. Butchart visited Rev. and Mrs. Kitney, whom she had formerly known. Their daughter is the only white student in the school. There's no racial trouble. Church congregations are both white and colored.

Five ministers were among the tourists and their services were made use of. They took turns preaching in different places on Sundays. One of the ministers was Dr. George Young, father of our president, Mrs. McArthur. Despite Dr. Young's 84 years, Mrs. Butchart said he took everything as it came and didn't seem to tire.

Food was served at various receptions, but was too highly seasoned for Canadian tastes.

This tour proved not only enjoyable but very enlightening. Even though the tourists thought they knew a great deal of the church's effort in Trinidad, actually seeing the great work being done amazed them.

They fully realized the great importance of the "red side of the church envelope." Missionaries do make great sacrifices, they face many problems but bravely they carry on, propelled by the urge for deeper future expansion.

The meeting was closed and a social time was enjoyed.

Mrs. Butchart had numerous post cards, showing the beauty of the islands, also pieces of beautiful handicraft, salad bowl and tray of mahogany, carvings of wood in different designs, also needlework of beautiful workmanship, which she displayed.

HEALTHY LUNCH

The school lunch should provide at least one - third of the day's supply of proteins, minerals, vitamins and calories.

Christ Church Evening Branch Holds Meeting

The April business meeting of the Evening Branch of the Women's Auxiliary of Christ Church was held on Monday evening in the parish hall.

The devotional service was conducted by the president, Mrs. A. Boogard, assisted by Mrs. J. Goettler, with Mrs. J. Hibbard as pianist.

The treasurer's and secretary's reports were given by Mrs. J. MacDonald and Miss F. Reid respectively. An interesting letter was read from Miss Eleanor Newman, who is attending Anglican Women's Training College in Toronto and she enclosed the annual year book which gave an account of the college activities.

NOTES OF APPRECIATION

Notes of appreciation were read from Mrs. D. Batchelor, and from the Gordon Residential School for the hats received.

Mrs. Hibbard, Sunshine secretary, reported a number of "get-well" and Easter cards sent out in the past month, as well as a rose and bowl to Mrs. E. Smith.

It was decided to make a donation of $5 to the Girls' Auxiliary towards their transportation to go to the Festival in Kingston on Saturday, also to send a thankoffering of $45 to the annual meeting in Brockville. The president asked for the names of those planning on going by bus chartered by the Afternoon Branch as accommodation is limited.

The branch will hold a bake sale on the market early next month. Several coming events were brought to the attention of the

GOOD GROOMING TALK

Following the business portion, members of the Contact Club joined the group to hear Mrs. Jordan, a beauty products representative, speak on good grooming. Miss Mary Moon performed the duties of a model while Mrs. Jordan explained which cosmetics were suitable for the different types of skin, and how to apply them.

She was introduced by Mrs. J. Miles and thanked by the president.

Mrs. Sands was the winner of the cosmetic gift package.

The tea hostesses, Mrs. S. Beggs, Mrs. F. Goodfellow and Mrs. J. Spencer, served refreshments.

SWEET DESSERT

Blancmange, an old dessert favorite, is a sweet dish made of corn flour, gelatine or isinglass and milk.

German Film to Conclude Travelogues

Curtis Nagel's excellent, informative film, "Portrait of Germany," will be the concluding film in the Kiwanis Travelogue series for this season.

The film, featuring the recovery and rebuilding of Germany since World War II, will be presented Thursday evening in BCIVS auditorium, by Mr. Nagel and his associate, William Moore.

Also featured in the film will be the old historical treasures, the scenic beauty of Germany, and the German people themselves, their homes and occupations.

In addition, a delightful 25-minute "short" on the Brussels World's Fair will also be shown.

Mr. Nagel and Mr. Moore completed this film last summer, and it has been highly praised by those who have seen it. The "masters of the camera" were particularly commended for their unique evening lighting effects.

Quinte Secondary H-S Assoc. Rural Roundup Big Success

The Quinte Secondary Home and School Association held its fourth annual "Rural Round-up Night" on Friday evening, with approximately 400 people present.

Mrs. Clifford A. Brown, president of the Association, spoke briefly and welcomed the guests.

Mr. Bill Workman, Recreation director, of Trenton was master of ceremonies and caller. Mr. Workman kept the entertainment lively and interesting throughout the evening. The music was supplied by the Blue Star Orchestra, featuring Stephen Choma and his violin.

The program began with a grand march led by Margaret Bates and Bob Sills.

A rock and roll contest was won by Patty Bradford and Harry McGuire. Judges were Miss Hunter and Mr. Valcamp.

VARIED DANCE PROGRAM

A varied dance program followed. Prizes for the spot dances were won by the following couples: Patty Bradford and Harry McGuire, Ada Logne and Mr. Wright, Ann Loucks and Bill Knight and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Cassidy. Winners of the mystery couple dance were Frances Edward and Paul Peden. Sharon McDonald and Jim Lorance were the mystery couple.

An hilarious satire on Julius Caesar was presented by four Quinte students. Al Rickard and Bruce Jarvah (who wrote and produced the skit) Donna Weeks and Bob Sawyer.

Miss Kay Homan, president of the Ontario Junior Farmers, and junior farmers, assisted with the square dances during the evening.

Entertainment was provided by Mr. Norman Wilcocks who sang with his own guitar accompaniment. He was joined by Mrs. Dave McDonald in a duet, which took the audience by surprise.

Both euchre and bridge were played in the music room. The winners were: Mrs. Plumpton for bridge and Mrs. Cassidy, Mrs. Fort and Mrs. Dafoe for euchre.

Mrs. M. J. Lovelace and Mrs. W. J. Flindall supervised the card room.

GAMES ATTRACTED CROWDS

Games of all kinds were set up in the cafeteria and proved to be an attraction for all ages. Mr. and Mrs. J. Whitmore supervised the games.

Mrs. E. Green and her assistants were busy selling refreshments in the cafeteria all evening.

Those who assisted with the selling of tickets at the door and at the check rooms were: Miss Mayor, Mrs. L. Vance, Mrs. P.C. Gilsthorpe, Sue Anne Wallace, Sharon McDonald, and David McDonald Jr.

The auditorium and cafeteria were decorated with green and yellow streamers and the stage was bordered with potted ferns and yellow and bronze mums. Special thanks go to Byron Castelman, Richard Bedford and the stage crew for their help.

Mrs. Dave McDonald, convenor, reported a very successful evening and expressed sincere thanks to all who contributed in any way to make this such a happy success.

THE FAMILY COUNCIL

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Family Council consists of a judge, a psychiatrist, three clergymen, a newspaper editor, a women's editor and two writers. Each article is a summary of an actual case history. The Council reports on problems that have been dealt with by responsible agencies and counsellors.

Arnold E. — I'm not the marrying kind.

Mrs. N. E. — We can't be happy until he's married.

Arnold E. — I am a happy bachelor of 32. I have a good job, good friends and a good life. I really enjoy things — or I would. If people in general, and my parents in particular, didn't constantly nag me about getting married.

It just happens that I am not the marrying kind. If there is anything I love it's privacy. The idea of having to account to somebody else for my comings or goings or to have to be responsible for somebody else's welfare and happiness makes me sick to the stomach.

My parents seem to think I need somebody to "look after" me, but I am capable of taking care of myself. I don't drink, smoke or carouse. I do my daily dozen, get plenty of sleep and fresh air and eat three squares a day — all living by myself.

* * *

Mrs. N. E. — My husband and I just can't understand Arnold. We are very warm people and we have always given him and his brother loads of affection. His brother was very affectionate in return, but Arnold never was. From earliest childhood he pushed away anyone who tried to get too close to him.

We think that bachelorhood may be all right now, but it is terrible in old age. Now Arnold has loads of friends and enjoys getting around, but who will care about him when he is old and perhaps infirm?

Arnold is so well liked and successful in his field that all his friends introduce him to the loveliest girls. He enjoys going out and dancing, but he stops the girl the minute he thinks she is starting to get ideas. We feel that we can't be happy until he is safely married.

The Council: The idea that a man should get married to have to have someone to "look after" him is a very good one. Any one who married on this selfish basis is not likely to achieve much fulfillment in marriage. Also, the pressure of the N. E.'s on the basis that "we can't be happy until he is safely married" is most unfair. Arnold should not be made to feel that he ought to marry to make his parents happy. He should have to feel guilty to them at not marrying.

Outside of that, we can only say that while marriage seems to provide the happiest life for most of the people, it doesn't for all of them. Among the many happy married individuals are quite a few who might have been better off unmarried. These people were probably less clear-minded and less fulfilled in other directions than Arnold is. Probably they sought marriage as a way out of a muddle or as the line of least resistance to parental and social pressure. Surely, their old age will be no happier than that of a bachelor or spinster who has enjoyed life.

If Arnold really enjoys his single state as much as he claims and is conscious of no serious lack in his life, we would say he's doing fairly well. It is a rather selfish existence, to be sure, but it is better to be honestly selfish than to get involved in a situation that would require going through the motions of unfelt loving and giving.

However, we would warn Arnold not to let pressure make him too rigid in his attitudes. It is possible that he still is growing mentally and emotionally and that his position will change if he doesn't fight it.

Snappin' Fresh"

GREEN GIANT WAX BEANS with the CRISP, TENDER "BITE"
BRAND

These are tender "butter yellow" beauties with the fresh "bite" you'd expect only in beans newly picked from your own garden.

The Green Giant plants pedigreed seed in soil that is just right for beans . . . watches the plants grow, keeps them nourished with special plant food . . . even measures the rainfall and sunshine very carefully. When his beans reach the fleeting moment of perfect flavour, he whizzes them from vine to can in record time. The result of all of this care is evident when you taste delicious Green Giant Brand Beans. Get a good supply when you shop. Your family will love them!

This - - - and That

By HARRIET STEVENS

It seems to be a measure of fate, aided and abetted by illness and weather, that most people in all walks of life have to take time off now and again. Such was the case with last Saturday's column and we are sorry. However, during the short respite it was borne in on us that, with all our stories and remiscences from the post of observer at the Status of Women Commission, we had made no summing up or evaluation of the work of this particular sitting of the thirteenth session. We would like to clarify the relation of the Status of Women Commission to the Economic and Social Council of the UN by stating that the task of the Commission is that of an expert body surveying political, social, civil, economic and educational fields in regard to women, for the purpose of making recommendations for the removal of discriminations and other obstacles to the advancement of women. This is the broad base from which the Commission works. Its findings go to the Economic and Social Council and, if approved, are sent on to the General Assembly to be passed on as a Convention.

As we have said before, the UN has no legislative powers, but when signing countries ratify these conventions, they become the basis for law. It is important to understand how slowly a Commission such as this must work, how many questions must be considered year after year in the light of more detailed reports. The Commission on Human Rights works even more slowly than that on the Status of Women.

Even when Conventions are established by the Commission, this does not end discussions on the subject at the sessions. After the election of officers and the adoption of the agenda for this past session, the next point on the agenda was the political rights of women. You may think from our own good situation in Canada as to political rights that there is nothing further to do on this point. Such is not the case when there are trust territories and non-self-governing countries just emerging into independence, as well as the fact that some so-called advanced countries do not give women the vote.

The status of women in private law seems to be rather a touchy subject even in well-established countries. It is well known that in some parts of Canada the position of women in private law is not too desirable. The Commission is working towards a draft convention on this point but recommendations on the age of marriage, free consent to marriage and registration of marriages have proved stumbling blocks so far. It was at this point that the question of the ritual practices to which girls are exposed in some parts of the world was brought into discussion.

The information on the convention on the nationality of married women was brought up to date: twenty-five countries had, so far, signed the convention, twelve had ratified it, and two other countries had acceded to the convention which came into force on August 11, 1958. A resolution requested the Secretary-General to have published at an early date a book on the Convention containing a history and commentary on its provisions.

There was a great deal of good discussion on the subject, "The Legislation Applicable to Women," which arose from the study of a report prepared by two lecturers on international law at Harvard. It was agreed that the only aspects of tax legislation of interest to the Commission were those which discriminated against women and in particular the married working woman, who was often penalized by heavy assessment on her earned income. Some members felt that the subject should be further discussed at the next session and the chairman suggested that the subject might become a sub-item under the item "Economic Opportunities for Women." It was generally felt that the matter could be so included on the agenda for the next session.

"Equal Pay for Equal Work" discussion began with a report by the representative of the International Labor Organization on action taken by various states members of ILO with regard to a convention on equal remuneration for men and women workers for work of equal value. In general debate, all members stressed the importance of this principle as a fundamental right, emphasizing that its importance in the economic sphere was comparable with that of the right to vote in the political sphere. Equal pay meant increased purchasing power in a community.

This brings us approximately mid-way in the important agenda items. We will leave the remaining points and conclusions until Saturday's column. At this point, however, we would like to emphasize again that women everywhere — in front of or behind the Iron Curtain, in Asia or America — are interested in promoting the tolerance of women, in giving them equal opportunities with men to obtain an education, to earn a living and to participate in government, and in their assuming the responsibilities of citizenship.

W.A., W.M.S. Hold Combined April Meeting

CENTENARY — The Centenary WA and WMS held their April meeting at the home of Mrs. F. Sutherland. Mrs. R. Edmondson, president of the WA, opened the meeting.

A short business period was conducted at which time 8 calls were reported and cards of thanks were received from Gerald Murray, Mrs. V. Farrara, Mrs. D. Douglas and Mr. Frank Tucker, regarding the Threshermen's banquet.

Arrangements were made for the cleaning of the church and for the next meeting.

The president thanked the hostess and turned the meeting over to Mrs. R. Harder, president of the WMS.

The devotional period was conducted by Mrs. R. Thrasher, who used the theme, "Discovering Neighborhood". Assisting in reading the Scriptures were: Mrs. F. Edmondson and Mrs. R. Hart, with Mrs. Thrasher and Mrs. F. Aikens giving the Meditations.

Mrs. Thrasher then led in an interesting study of the Indian Canadians, their difficulties, prejudices and problems.

"The Indian population is growing and enfranchisement is encouraged through enfranchisement, an Indian assumes the rights and responsibilities of citizenship on the same basis as other Canadians. He has to give up his Indian status and all rights and privileges to which he was entitled as an Indian under the Indian Act.

"This is a tremendous change for the Indian Canadian, she said, but today you will find the Indian moving into many specialized fields and also into the professions. In entering these roles they are gradually overcoming many of their problems," she concluded.

Mrs. Harder closed the meeting with the Benediction and a social half-hour was spent.

BELLEVILLE CITIZEN IN BERMUDA — Visiting Bermuda with the United Church Observer Tropic Tour were left to right: Mr. Elvin R. Towns, Madawaska, Ont.; Mrs. H. J. Atkinson, Ottawa, Ont.; Mrs. Louise Butchart, Belleville, Ont.; Miss Fern Wert, Oshawa, Ont. The group headed by Rev. A. C. Forrest, editor of the United Church Observer, spent four days at the Inverurie Hotel in Bermuda before embarking for Trinidad.

Nuns Collect Rare Relics

MONTREAL (CP) — Members of the Order of the Grey Nuns have collected mementoes of Venerable Marguerite d'Youville who may become the first native-born North American woman saint.

The relics, all at least 250 years old, concern the childhood, married life and religious career of the nun who founded the Sisters of Charity, known around the world as the Grey Nuns.

The possessions include her girlhood knife and fork set, inkwell and quill, household furniture and her prayer books. Born at Varennes, 15 miles east of Montreal, in 1701, she was educated at the Ursuline Convent in Quebec and in 1722 she married Francois d'Youville. They had two sons, both of whom became priests. Her husband died in 1730 and she became a nun. She died in 1771.

At special ceremonies in Rome in June she will be beatified as Blessed Mother d'Youville, one step away from canonization.

WOMEN DRIVERS

EDMONTON (CP) — Women drivers made up 26 per cent of the 433,000 licensed drivers in Alberta last year, in contrast with 16.8 per cent of the 275,000 licensed drivers in 1930.

Beautiful Girl Is Sensation At Soccer

By BRUCE RUSSELL

JAKARTA, Indonesia (Reuters) — A beautiful 17-year-old girl has caused a sensation here by playing with an all-male soccer team against some of Indonesia's best clubs.

She is Rita Zahara of Surabaja, who is the goalkeeper and captain of her own team, the Zaharas.

Off the field Rita is a shy little girl who doesn't often wear lipstick "because she is too ashamed," and rarely goes out on dates with boys.

But on the field she is a fast-moving, hard-kicking player who packs enough punch in her 110 pounds to knock a man out in action.

A few months ago in East Java a man who tried to wrest a ball from Rita collided with her and had to be carried off the field on a stretcher.

Asked if the male players ever make fun of her as a woman or by trying to flirt, Rita says with some surprise: "I have never noticed. I just keep my mind on the game."

Rita recently brought her 18-man team to Jakarta for a game against the Jakarta army garrison team.

News that a pretty girl was captain of a soccer team soon got around the city, and the stadium was packed. Scalpers sold tickets for three times their regular price.

Rita is the youngest daughter of Singapore-born A. Buhari, a one-time soccer star and music hall pianist. At 18 she had her own soccer team and was touring villages near Surabaja.

She also is proficient in swimming, track and tennis. Her six brothers all played professional soccer.

Sports writers here say that Rita is a capable goalkeeper but her kicking is average. They advise her to stick to goalkeeping, but Rita's ambition is to play centre.

Wardrobe Wonder

By ALICE ALDEN

The shorter dinner dress of lace is a boon to the restricted wardrobe, just as it is always a welcome addition to even the richest clothes collection. It is ideal for the traveller, too, since it packs perfectly. Nettie Rosenstein does this one in silk ribbon lace &— the color, beige. With it she suggests a fringed, beige and sable-colored, silk satin stole looped over at one shoulder.

PROPOSE PRICE FREEZE

NEW YORK (AP)—The United Steelworkers Union proposed Monday that the steel industry freeze its prices for the duration of its next contract with the union. The union's executive board also suggested that negotiations on a new contract begin May 4. Last week the union rejected a company proposal to freeze wages and other contract benefits for another year.

Meat Cookery Thrifty and Different

by Mary Moore

After I had served the Barley and Mushroom Casserole, recipe for which I gave you last week, one of our guests said "I never hear any more about a wonderful barley soup that my mother used to make when we were all at home."

I was glad to be reminded of Scotch Broth made with lamb and pot barley, so I set out on foot to find the lamb. I didn't have to go to a pasture — the supermarket had some.

HOMEMADE SCOTCH BROTH:

One lamb front weighing 1 lb. 3 oz. cost me $1c. I put this on to cook in 1 quart of cold water with 1-3 cup of pot barley, 1 cup chopped celery stalks and leaves, 1 chicken bouillon cube and 1-2 teaspoon salt and 1-8 teaspoon white pepper. When the lamb was, beginning to fall from the bones after 3 hours cooking, I added 1 cup finely diced carrots and 1-2 cup tomato juice and 1 more cup water and cooked until the carrots were tender and the meat did fall from bones. I covered it and let it stand in the cold cupboard overnight. In the morning I skimmed off the hardened fat and lifted out the bones and chopped the meat small. It needed more salt and then was ready for Pete and me for lunch. There were 7 or 8 servings of rich thick meaty soup at an average cost of about 4c each or a little less.

Another meat dish I made this week I am going to call Cape of Good Hope Veal. The veal was a bargain special of boneless and tied leg of veal at 69c per lb.

CAPE OF GOOD HOPE VEAL:

This recipe calls for 1-4 cup of cooking sherry which is in every kitchen in South Africa, but if you are a teetotaler and disapprove of wine cookery, leave out the sherry and substitute apple juice. Dredge a 3-lb. roll of boneless veal (shoulder may be used but I used leg) in salted and peppered flour and sear it in hot bacon or chicken fat on all sides until golden brown. Add 3-4 cup boiling water and 1 cup chopped celery stalks and leaves, 1-4 cup chopped onion, 1-4 teaspoon paprika. Cover and simmer 2 hours, basting and turning 2 or 3 times as you would a beef roast. Now pour over the meat 1-4 cup cooking sherry and add enough instant potato powder to thicken the gravy to desired consistency or thicken by stirring in small amount of smooth flour-and-water-paste. Taste to see if it needs more salt. Mine did. I served this with light-as-down mashed potatoes and scored some compliments. It was even better sliced cold.

WOMEN OF THE MOOSE

The Women of the Moose held their final meeting of the month recently in Moose Hall, with Sr. Regent Gladys Rilch presiding.

One candidate was enrolled.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served, and all enjoyed round and square dancing.

Women of the Moose Hold Meeting for Grand Chancellor

A special meeting was held on Sunday in Moose Hall in honor of the Grand Chancellor, Katherine Smith of Mooseheart.

Recorder Nellie Scrymgeour read a report on activities and advancements of the Women of the Moose from 1916 to 1942 made by the Grand Chancellor.

"Though her health will not permit, she is always with us in thought and spirit," Mrs. Scrymgeour said.

Visiting Belleville chapter 435 were members from Lindsay and Peterborough, and brother members of the L. O. O. Moose 1004.

At the close of the meeting, refreshments were served by the hospital and homemaking chairmen and their committees.

Senior Regent of Lindsay chapter thanked members of the Belleville chapter for their hospitality.

Mrs. McMullen Gives Talk at WMS Meeting

GILEAD — The April meeting of the St. Andrews' Gilead W.M.S. was held on Wednesday afternoon at the Swan home with an attendance of 18 members and visitors.

The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. C. Huffman, who read an Easter poem. This was the Easter thank offering.

The business dealt with consisted of the decision that Mrs Wilfred Clare would lead the Baby Band and Mission Band until the end of the year. She will distribute literature, certificates, and Baby Band mite boxes to all babies in the community. "In Memoriam" cards were discussed and it was decided this would be carried over to the next meeting.

A sale of slips, bulbs and such will take place at the close of the May meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. Clarence Martin, with Mrs. W. Treverton and Mrs. W. Baddley as program conveners.

The worship service was conducted by Mrs. Earl Treverton; Scripture lesson was read by Mrs. A. O. Huffman; the convenent, by Mrs. G. Swan; and the closing prayer by Mrs. Treverton. The Easter Thankoffering was received and dedicated by Mrs. McCrea.

The special speaker, Mrs. McMullen of Stone Church, was introduced by Mrs. C. Huffman.

Her topic was, "What Easter Should Mean to Us". A very inspiring address was given which all enjoyed.

The remainder of the program conducted by Mrs. C. Martin consisted of Easter readings by Mrs. Walter Treverton, Mrs. Fred Vine, and Mrs. Frank Doney and a solo entitled, "O Blessed Redeemer" by Mrs. G. Swan.

A social half-hour followed during which the Baby Band and Mission Band cards were displayed for sale.

A special welcome is extended to all who wish to attend and donate bulbs etc, for the May meeting.

Club Activities

KINETTE CLUB

The Kinette Club met last Thursday evening with nearly all members present. The song leaders for the meeting were Hazel Hunter and Jackie Sweet. Sergeant-at-arms for the evening was Florence Fitchett. Mrs. Galbraith who was pianist, also won the raffle prize donated by Thelma Brown. Mrs. Joan Isaac and Jean Jones gave an interesting demonstration on how to apply makeup, using June McDonald as their model.

TODAY'S COURTESY TIP . . . DON'T BE "SNEAKY"

When you are reading a magazine that doesn't belong to you . . . for example, one in a doctor's or dentist's office or at your hairdresser . . . don't tear a page, or even a part of a page, out of the magazine. Have the decency to scorn this dishonesty, this sneaky dishonesty.

UNUSUAL NUMBER IN BRIDAL PARTY

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

I am to be married in May at a 4 o'clock church service. In my bridal party I am going to have a matron of honor, a maid of honor, one bridesmaid, and a flower girl. In what order should they walk up the aisle?
— Bride-to-be.

The Processional. First, the ushers, walking two by two. Next, the bridesmaid, alone. Next the matron of honor and the maid of honor, who may walk together (or they may walk singly, with the one who is to be the official witness following the other honor attendant.) Then comes the flower girl alone. And last, you and your father, or whoever is to escort you up the aisle.

INVITATION TO CHRISTENING AND YO LUNCHEON

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

Our baby son is to be christened soon, directly after the Sunday morning service in our church. We are planning to invite members of our two families, several close relatives and intimate friends, and two other couples, our nearest neighbors to whom we are very devoted, to come to the christening and then to our home after the christening to a simple buffet luncheon. How should such invitations be given? — Mother

Usually invitations to a christening and to the after-christening gathering are given most informally, and it's quite proper for you to invite all the guests in person or (usually most convenient) by telephone, or by notes. If by notes, they may read:

Dear Sallie,

Our Peter is to be christened after the regular service at our church (when necessary, give the name and address of the church, and the approximate hour), on Sunday (give date). John and I do hope that you and Bob can come to the ceremony in church, and afterward join us at a buffet luncheon here at our house and to drink a toast to our newcomer. Please tell us "Yes." If it isn't convenient to come to the christening at the church, please say you'll join us here for the luncheon.

Love to you both from both of us (and from Peter, too!).

Devotedly,
Katherine

Ontario Economy To Be Studied By Council

TORONTO (CP)—An organization to correlate the needs and aspirations of Ontario's seven economic regions has been formed.

The Ontario Regional Development Council is composed of 14 members, two from each economic division of the province. The new council is assisted by the trade and industry branch of the Ontario government.

The economic regions were established in 1954 by the department of planning and development.

"We hope the council will be a catalyst for the grass roots thinking in the various regions," Alex Phillips, manager of the Northwestern Ontario Development Association, said Monday.

Mr. Phillips said the council hopes to present to the provincial government proposals that will "stimulate the economic and industrial growth of all sections of the province."

At the outset, the council hopes to tackle the problem of transportation and freight rates and study the implications of the Industrial Standards Act and the need for increased stimulus for industrial development, particularly outside metropolitan areas.

President is Joseph A. Perkins, Jr. of Perth, representing the Eastern Ontario Development Association; first vice - president, T. R. Thompson, Kirkland Lake, Northeastern Ontario Development Association; second vice-president, Douglas Oakes, Guelph, Midwestern Ontario Development Association.

Secretary, George Brodie, Wingham, Niagara Development Association; treasurer, Gordon Powell, Peterborough, Lake Ontario Development Association.

V. K. Croxford of Rainy River, representing the Northwestern Ontario group, and W. H. Cranston, of Midland, the Georgian Bay Development Association, were elected executive officers.

Seven general managers will advise the council.

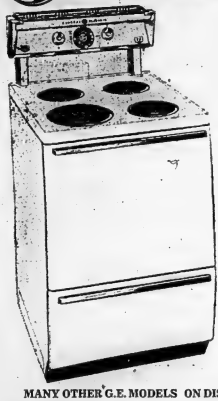
Close 4 Roads As 474 Mishaps Occur in 6 Years

OSHAWA (CP)—Four roads leading into Highway 401 at Oshawa and Whitby were ordered closed Monday by the Ontario Municipal Board after it heard that 474 accidents have occurred within a nine-mile radius of the roads in the last six years.

T. E. Mahony, department of highways accident records supervisor, told the board the accidents occurred between the easterly limits of Oshawa and the Whitby-Pickering town line.



He said 21.5 per cent of the accidents, in which 29 persons were killed, 234 injured and property damage amounted to $318,535, occurred at intersecting roads.

Urges Government, Business, Labor Unite to Tell People Of Economic War With Reds

OTTAWA (CP)—A joint effort by government, business and labor to educate Canadians to "the true magnitude of the economic war declared against us by the Communist countries" has been suggested in the Commons by a government supporter.

"Whether or not we can survive will depend upon our ability to meet their competition," Douglas Jung (PC — Vancouver Centre) said Tuesday night.

He proposed establishment of a "Canada trade council" with representatives of government, business, labor and the press to provide for co-operation in the economic struggle and to give Canadians "economic education . . . education for freedom."

Mr. Jung, 35, the first MP of Chinese extraction, said the council could be expanded to include all members of the Commonwealth.

CHINA UNDERSELLING

He said Communist China is underselling other countries in many of the goods in demand in developing countries of South-East Asia: clothing, foodstuffs, machines, cement, nails, bicycles, pharmaceuticals and other goods.

"The Communist countries had entered "competition in the full-est sense of the word, and there is no prize at the end but merely survival."

Mr. Jung said he would like to see rank and file union members included in the proposed trade council "because in the final analysis they are the ones who will have to produce more and make the most sacrifices."

Mr. Jung's proposal was made as opposition members criticized sound incentives defended—Finance Minister Fleming's budget during the second day of the continuing Tuesday debate.

STRONG LIBERAL ATTACK

Perhaps the strongest attack was mounted by Mr. McMillan (Wellland), who termed the budget "the most unfair budget in history."

He said Conservative applause for the budget was applause for higher debt, another "whopping" deficit, a major tax increase, record spending, record post - war unemployment and the highest interest rates since the Bennett Conservative government of the early 1930s.

He passed on a remark he said he had heard about the budget: "It took the Grits 22 years to get as unpopular as the Tories have in two years."

Mr. Fleming would need to borrow more billions of dollars this year, Canada was in deep financial trouble and "I hope the stage is not being set for the second Fleming's folly." This was a reference to last year's conversion loan.

Mr. McMillan said government spending will cost the Canadian taxpayer more than $1,000,000,000 this year. And the government has built up increased charges that would be built into future budgets to cause overspending in them.

"The equivalent of a $10,000 farm is being done the drain every minute," he said.

NO ALTERNATIVE

P. B. Rynard (PC — Simcoe East) said there is no alternative to Mr. Fleming's budget proposals.

The government was paying off some of the obligations unwisely incurred in the last decade under Liberal administration.

No one could object to putting the old age security fund on a self-supporting basis through an increase in the old age security tax.

LABOR NOT RESPONSIBLE

Murdo Martin (CCF — Timmins) said there have been attempts to blame labor for price increases. Labor was merely "the tail on the dog."

"Labor is no more responsible for the situation than the tail is responsible for what the rest of the Canadian Labor Congress announced last week would press for wage increases to offset higher taxes."

The government was giving no consideration to proposals for increased subsidies to aid university students. This spring a series of universities had increased tuition fees.

The government was losing money in unemployment, pensions, agriculture or industrial assistance.

"All the money has gone to the money lenders and those who have left to provide the essential problems," Mr. Martin said.

ECONOMIST ACCEPTS SLUMP

State Secretary Courtemanche said an economic recovery is evident everywhere, including other countries "which means a recovery of our foreign trade."

He said it would be impossible to check inflationary tendencies without increasing some taxes. All that could be done to help the economy had been done.

The idea of a free trade pact with the new European common market was dismissed as the debate by Hubert Badanai (L—Fort Frances). He said it would be "worth a try."

A free trade agreement with other Commonwealth countries could be worthwhile too. Canada could not expand trade while pursuing protectionist tendencies.

Would Halt "Flood of Canadian Bread"

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The Greater Buffalo Master Bakers Association is seeking congressional help to stop what it calls a flood of duty - free Canadian bread into the Niagara Frontier market.

Henry J. Gapinski, a spokesman for the association, said Tuesday its president, Edward Kowalkowski, had gone to Washington to discuss the problem with congressmen.

He said 80,000 loaves of Canadian bread were imported into the area last month and predicted the figure would soon reach 120,000 a month.

Gapinski said Canadian bread was sold below the American price, normally 24 cents a loaf, and some stores were offering Canadian bread at two loaves for 25 cents.

He said six bread producers in this area had been forced out of business in the last two months, as a result of Canadian competition.

Ice in Canals, Gulf, Lakes Hampers Navigation Opening And Delays Use of Seaway

By The Canadian Press.

Part of the St. Lawrence Seaway route remained locked by ice jams today as opening of its 1959 navigation season continued to be delayed.

The seaway was to have opened April 20 but ice conditions in the Gulf of St. Lawrence have made that impossible.

Transport department officials indicated it may be open to traffic April 25. Some Montreal officials thought it would be at least until April 27.

The gulf ice conditions have improved considerably but ice packs in the Great Lakes continue to stymie navigation in that area.

A transport department spokesman warned that gulf ice has shifted eastward but a northeast wind could move ice now off western Newfoundland into the main shipping lanes of Cabot Strait.

Open tracks have been charted through about 60 miles of "soft ice" in the Cabot Strait while northeast routes are blocked by 100 miles of heavy ice.

Severe ice conditions have been reported in Lake Superior, the St. Mary's River and Lake Munuscong.

Conditions were poor in Lake Erie, where two freighters of the Canada Steamship Lines collided Monday among ice floes 20 miles west of the Welland Canal entrance.

The Westmount plowed into the Glenaegles, damaging her stern. The two vessels were making an unsuccessful bid with their sister ship Stadacona to work their way into the canal entrance.

Glenaegles prepared to return to drydock at Lorain, Ohio, under tow by tugs. The Westmount joined the Stadacona and three Imperial Oil Company tankers in clear water at Long Point, 40 miles west of Port Colborne.

At Montreal harbor, 30 ocean ships and 20 lake vessels were waiting to use the 27-foot-deep seaway channel to the Great Lakes. Only a dozen were expected originally for the opening of the water route.

Transport Minister Hees told the Commons Wednesday that unsuccessful attempts to set up navigation buoys because of ice conditions in the entrance have delayed the seaway opening.

From the west, the first lake ships to approach the Soo are expected to be the Anders, Calkiwas and Clarke, scheduled to reach Whitefish in eastern Lake Superior sometime Thursday.

Whitefish Bay lies still some three feet thick and very windblown, forming large jagged peaks," said Capt. J. J. Bedenios of the United States Coast Guard base at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.

"We can only hope for continuing warmer weather and a much-needed easterly wind to rapidly deteriorate the large ice formation."

Civil Service Salary Revision Said Failure

OTTAWA (CP) — The Civil Service Association of Canada says the government's classified class salary revision system is "an apparent failure."

The association in a letter to the Civil Service Commission said the commission's pay research bureau would take 26 years to complete salary revisions under the present system. The association wants immediate action on a 10-per-cent salary increase for all civil servants.

The bureau, set up 10 months ago, so far has completed reviews on 5,000 employees in about 10C classes out of a total of 154,000 civil servants in 1,850 classes, the association said.

Class-by - class revision was adopted to look into the fact that salaries in certain civil service classes were lower than in private employment.

Contract Marketing of Eggs Said Inevitable, Desirable

TORONTO (CP) — Contract marketing of quality - controlled eggs was described as "inevitable and a good thing," by Professor Ross Cavers, head of the poultry husbandry department of the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph.

Prof. Cavers told the annual convention of Ontario Egg Graders Producers Association Tuesday contract marketing or vertical integration of poultry farms was growing in popularity and importance in Canada, partly due to Canada's successful grading system.

He described imported eggs as the "biggest single headache" facing Ontario egg producers and stressed the producer's best defence is the quality of eggs produced in Canada.

TOO MANY BROILERS

Prof. Cavers indicated integration in the broiler industry had led to overproduction and said that generally producers of both eggs and broilers take integration even though many farmers claim it has harmful effects on the farmer and his industry.

He emphasized that unless integration's first principle—production of a given quality for a given market outlet — was followed, it would not be successful for any segment of the industry.

Tom Robson of Leamington, president of the OPPA, stressed the need for the organization to make a fresh start in establishing a program for Ontario producers.

"If vertical integration is inevitable and if it isn't controlled by the people who produce the product, in my opinion it will be disastrous for the future of farmers in Ontario," said Mr. Robson.

SEEK STUDY

Resolutions calling for a complete study of marketing plans under the farm products marketing act for the marketing of eggs and poultry in Ontario; an increase in duty on eviscerated poultry imported from the U.S.; a study of floor prices and their effect on the poultry industry and an investigation of egg prices being quoted to the public were heard at the meeting.

Mr. Robson was elected to his second term as president. Other officers: vice-presidents, Ronald Brooks, Bowmanville, Albert Reed, Arvida; directors, Mrs. Evelyn Macartney, Ramsayville, Glen St. Brown, Stouffville, Milburn Greenwood, Mitchell, and Allen Wedow.

SUDBURY (CP)—Board of control approved Monday a 1958 tax levy of $4,139,645, an increase of $136,121 over last year. The board approved a 36-mill increase.

Student Priests Refuse to Accept Orders by Reds

VATICAN CITY (AP)—L'Osservatore Romano Tuesday accused Hungary's Communist regime of trying to convert Roman Catholic student priests into a "sort of ecclesiastical police."

The Vatican newspaper said Hungary's state office for ecclesiastical affairs closed the Budapest seminary last January because 88 of 90 students refused to participate in the state's peace assembly.

When the seminary was reopened, the returning student priests found that 16 of their companions had been refused readmittance because the Communist state office considered them the ringleaders.

Another 18 students promptly left the seminary.

The remaining 60, said L'Osservatore, signed a letter in which they said they would have participated in an assembly only if it was called by their bishops.

Last month the state authorities demanded the students sign a retraction. Only 10 signed. The other 50 were immediately removed from the seminary.

McKee Trophy Awarded to Avro Test Pilot

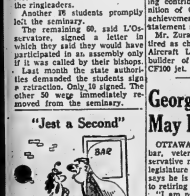
OTTAWA (CP) — Award of the McKee Trophy to Avro test pilot Jan Zurakowski for his outstanding contribution to Canadian aviation in 1958 was announced today by Defence Minister Pearkes.

Mr. Zurakowski, 44-year-old native of Poland, flew the Avro Arrow supersonic jet interceptor on its initial flights last year. The government cancelled the Arrow program Feb. 20.

The award was for "his outstanding contribution to experimental test flying of jet aircraft in Canada and for his outstanding contribution to world recognition of Canadian aeronautical achievements", Mr. Pearkes' statement said.

Mr. Zurakowski last Oct. 1 retired as chief test pilot for Avro Aircraft Limited, designer and builder of the Arrow and the CF100 jet.

George Dunbar May Retire



OTTAWA (CP)—George Dunbar, veteran Progressive Conservative member of the Ontario legislature for Ottawa South, says he is giving serious thought to retiring from political activity.

"I am not just sure yet," said Mr. Dunbar, who celebrated his 81st birthday Saturday.

George Nelms, mayor of Ottawa, said he will be in the running for the nomination if Mr. Dunbar retires.

Mr. Dunbar was first elected to the Ontario legislature in 1937. He was a member of the provincial cabinet from 1943 until his resignation from a portfolio last year.

Punish Officers For War Scare

JERUSALEM (Reuters) — The Israeli cabinet recommended Tuesday that two senior army officers be removed from their posts for their part in an April 1 radio "mobilization" order that gave the impression Israel was on the eve of war.

The broadcast, which Israeli Army authorities later said was "a regrettable error," caused widespread panic and was followed by the mobilization of Syrian Army reservists.

Seek More Pay

LONDON (Reuters) — Leaders of Britain's 3,000,000 factory and shipbuilding workers today announced demands for £403,000,000 ($1,120,000,000) more a year through higher wages, longer vacations and a shorter working week.

Toronto Woman, Aged 70, Pushes Steer From Shop

TORONTO (CP) — Seventy-year-old Mrs. Rosalia Steedman played outdoor with a 1,-500 pound steer in a west-central shoe store.

Police said Tuesday it happened this way:

The steer being led to an abattoir, crashed through a fence and galloped down lanes and streets with a cavalcade of police cars and motorcycles and abattoir employees in hot pursuit.

The steer dodged into the Tango shoe store where Mrs. Steedman was talking with her grandaughters, Hilda Hayduk, a clerk.

Miss Hayduk fled, then returned when she remembered the old lady.

Mrs. Steedman was pushing the steer toward the street amid the wreckage of the cash register, counters and shoe cases. She was scolding the animal briskly.

Police said the steer let out a bellow, then caught sight of its reflection in a mirror and stopped to lick the glass.

The officers and abattoir employees put a rope around the steer's neck and it away to the abattoir for the moment of truth.

Electioneering Tempo Rises In Ontario as Prophets See Vote June 4 or 11, or May 28

TORONTO (CP) — Election campaigning is gathering momentum in Ontario with a voting date still in the realm of speculation.

Prophesying picked up as Premier Frost returned Tuesday from a two-week motor trip he took after prorogation of the provincial legislature.

One report was that the Progressive Conservative premier has yet to make up his mind about a spring election but that if he decides to go ahead, the date probably will be June 11.

A June 11 election would permit an announcement May 4—the 10th anniversary of Premier Frost's term in office—because 37 days are required between issuing of an election writ and balloting.

OPPOSITION PICKS MAY 28

But Liberal and CCF organizers are still sticking to May 28 as the most likely date, with June 4 an alternative.

"Everything I've heard points to May 28," said CCF Provincial Secretary Ken Bryden.

Campaign lines in all three parties aren't waiting for an announcement, however.

Election servants candidates have already begun lining up workers for their campaign committee rooms.

The CCF has gone so far as to book Toronto's Massey Hall for May 26 and June 2 to hold a rally winding up the party's campaign for a May 28 or June 4 election.

The Liberals opened their campaign 12 days ago when Liberal Leader John Wintermeyer went out with 10 election promises at a Toronto meeting of the Ontario Liberal Association.

Conservative cabinet ministers have attended a string of nomination meetings throughout the province during the last week or two. At last count the party had 30 candidates nominated, 12 of among the 16 provincial cabinet ridings.

The Liberals had 41 candidates and the CCF 43. Even the Labor-Progressive Party was in the race early, with eight nominated.

WINTERMEYER TOURS

Mr. Wintermeyer, back from a swing through Eastern Ontario to Ottawa and Brockville, plans to go into the Bruce Peninsula next. He is to attend a nomination meeting at Paisley Friday night for Ross Whichello, Liberal member for Bruce, and the following Wednesday will attend another at Hanover for former party leader Clarence Oliver, member for Grey South.

On April 23 Mr. Wintermeyer goes to Sudbury for a meeting of the Northeastern Ontario Liberal Association.

CCF Leader Donald MacDonald, just back from Sarnia, London and the Lakehead, has tentatively scheduled a tour to start April 21 provided it doesn't interfere with an upcoming television appearance.

Cigaret, Liquor Taxes Boosts Not Big Enough

OTTAWA (CP) — A Progressive Conservative suggested in the Commons Tuesday that Finance Minister Fleming should have increased cigaret and liquor taxes more than he did last week.

Dr. P. B. Rynard, Simcoe East said he isn't sure that the cigaret tax shouldn't have been increased more than it was because of the suspected harm caused by smoking. Mr. Fleming increased the tax 4 cents on cigarets by two cents on a package of 20.

Dr. Rynard, a medical doctor who accompanied Prime Minister Diefenbaker around the world, said the increase in the liquor tax could have been doubled. Mr. Fleming increased the tax on liquor by 12 cents for a 25-ounce bottle of whisky.

Less than 10 per cent of drinking is for medical reasons, Dr. Rynard said. Drinking resulted in higher welfare costs because of treatment for alcoholics, broken homes, lost jobs and disease.

Port Arthur Has No Woes About Zoning

PORT ARTHUR (CP) — City Clerk Arthur Evans says Port Arthur is probably the only city in Ontario that is not in trouble with its zoning bylaws.

He commented after a letter was read to city council Monday night by City Solicitor J. F. W. Ross on the status of 60-odd zoning by-laws in view of a recent ruling of the Supreme Court of Canada that a zoning by-law in the Toronto suburb of Scarborough is invalid.

Mr. Ross said consolidation of Port Arthur zoning laws after an amendment to the municipal act came into effect put the laws here on a firm footing.

ELECTION 'BEFORE LONG'

LONDON (Reuters) — Treasury chief Derick Heathcoat Amory indicated in the Commons Monday night that Britain would hold a general election "before long." He was speaking during a four-day debate on his budget proposals which granted income concessions to taxpayers amounting to £366,000,000 ($940,800,000).

CAMPBELLFORD

Will Hold Vote On Contract With Hydro

CAMPBELLFORD—The main item of business at the town council meeting here on Monday was a decision by council to call a vote of the people on the question of a power cost contract with the HEPC. Date of the plebiscite will be May 25, and the town clerk was authorized to draw up the necessary papers to prepare for the vote to be taken. Only property owners in the town will be eligible to vote.

The Public Utilities Commission, which has been faced with a power shortage for a number of years, and which has been purchasing power from the HEPC on peak loads to carry the town power requirements, has studied the question and apparently is of the opinion a power cost contract with Hydro would solve the problem. Power obtained under the contract would be considerably cheaper than power obtained under the present set-up, which is only on a day-to-day basis, with no contract.

SEEKS TO BUY PROPERTY

The request of Mr. Frank McEvoy to purchase a small portion of the Centre street property purchased by the town from Excell Feeds, was referred to the property committee for investigation.

Mr. Wm. W. Reid asked the council's permission to build an extension to his building on Front St. to provide additional office space. Council had no objection to the addition, but recommended that the building be constructed of fireproof material, due to the fact it was located in the main business section.

Council granted the request of the Community Arena Board for a grant of $1,000 for 1959. Mr. Ray Hall addressed council on behalf of the board.

Tenders for picnic tables were opened and council decided to purchase three tables from Mr. Sidney Bidgood at a cost of $28 each and three from Mr. J. G. Stocker at $30 each.

A third lender from a Havelock firm to supply metal and wood tables at a cost of $28 each was also received, but council took no action on it.

Road foreman Wilbert Blake was authorized to attend a conference of road superintendents in Toronto on May 11 and 12.

Council will take no action on a request from Mr. R. E. Wood for a license to operate a wrecking yard on Grand Road, until Mr. Wood fences his property and takes other steps to conform with a town bylaw governing such establishments.

REQUESTS GRANTED

Requests of several lodges and other organizations were granted as follows: Loyal True Blue lodge to hold a tag day on June 27; the Rotary club to have a street fair on July 11; the Loyal Orange lodge to hold a parade on July 11, and the Lions club to hold a carnival on July 22, 24 and 25.

The Road and Bridge and the Police committees will investigate a recommendation by the police department that angle parking be allowed on Dozzee Avenue from the present parking lot to River Street.

A report from the town solicitor, N. A. Mccoll relative to a proposed by-law to license nursing homes was received. Council decided to leave the matter over until a meeting can be arranged with council and representatives of the Department of Welfare.

Council discussed the question of the sewer installation in the Ireton Heights subdivision and confirmed the manner in which costs would be apportioned.

The sewers in the area were not installed under local improvement, and council feels that the deal as presently worked out to present to the property owners will actually save the property owners some money. The total cost of installing the sewers was $4883.20. Of this amount, council will pay 40 per cent and the property owners will pay 60 per cent. This works out to just over 21 cents per foot frontage for the property owner, spread over a ten year period. The legal committee, the clerk and councillor P. G. O'Sullivan were asked to make the necessary arrangements with the property owners.

The request of a United States resident to purchase a piece of property, part of 130 acres the town annexed two years ago as industrial land, was heard. The person who contemplates purchasing the property requesting a 200 foot frontage on Trent Drive and a 400 foot frontage on Highway 30, for the purpose of erecting a 10 unit motel. Council instructed the clerk to contact the prospective motel operator saying council was ready and willing to negotiate, and suggested a price of $2000.

Council passed a by-law to provide $275,000 for the High School Area Board to build an extension to the Campbellford High School.

Northport

NORTHPORT — School reopened again on Monday, having been closed since April 6th, owing to the illness of the teacher, Mrs. Percy Pearsall.

Mrs. A. E. Way of Bethel was a guest Saturday of the Misses Ruth Walbridge and Marie Foster.

Mr. and Mrs. Leland Ortzandt and daughter Valerie, of Toronto, spent Sunday with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Norton.

There was service Sunday evening in the Northport United Church. Glad to report the sick in the community are able to be out again.

Mr. and Mrs. U. S. Smith entertained friends from Belleville at the supper hour on Sunday.

Oshawa Man Gets Life

Feasby, 35, an unemployed bookkeeper, was convicted of slaying Charlotte Trosper, 19, as they sat in his car on a mountain highway last Dec. 2.

The prosecution charged that Feasby stabbed Miss Trosper because she told him she was ending their three-year romance. Feasby told police that the stabbing was accidental.

Feasby will appear before Superior Judge Clement D. Nye next Friday for formal sentence.

French Premier And Macmillan Reach Accord

LONDON (Reuters) — Prime Minister Macmillan and visiting French Premier Michel Debre held a working meeting Tuesday after reaching "agreement on essentials" in talks on the line the West should take over the future of Berlin and Germany.

The two leaders, assisted by their foreign ministers, turned to discussion of Middle East and African issues following talks Monday on Western policy for the May 11 Geneva meeting of East-West foreign ministers on Berlin and Germany. Informed sources said they reached agreement on essentials during the two-hour discussion.

Petes Blow Two-Goal Lead In 2-2 Tie With Baby Habs

PETERBOROUGH (CP)—Hull - Ottawa Canadiens, who brought a 3-0 lead with them Tuesday night for the third game of their best-of-seven Memorial Cup semi-final, will carry the same margin when they take the ice again tonight at home.

Canadiens and Peterborough Petes saved off 5-4 in overtime Tuesday night.

Gary Darling and Larry Bednarski, the hometown club into a 2-0 first-period lead, but Harold White and Bob Rousseau tied it up in the second.

The third period and the overtime session were scoreless.

The winner will meet the winner of the western semi-final between Flin Flon Bombers and Winnipeg Braves for the Memorial Cup.

HARD CLEAN GAME

The game was hard and clean, with six of the 10 penalties going to the visitors Tuesday night.

Twice fights threatened to break out but were controlled and in the last third period a fan broke up the tension—and the game—when he dropped a live rabbit on the ice.

From the time when the first puck was dropped, skating and played it close. Serge Boudreault drew an early penalty for high sticking but the Canadiens killed it.

Dennis DeJordy played an outstanding game as substitute goalie for Peterborough's injured Jacques Caron and Claude Cyr bell off the Petes.

DeJordy was called into the series Tuesday after Caron was reported in hospital for an operation to remove a cyst on his left leg.

DARLING OPENS SCORING

Lightweight Gary Darling opened the scoring at the 17:22 mark of the first period when he took off on a rink - long rush through the opposition. He pulled Cyr, who got back in time to stop the shot, then flicked home his own rebound.

Andre Tardif was off for cross-checking with less than a minute to go in the period when Petes' power play clicked and a corner kick from Babcock at the edge of the crease glanced in off a Canadian stick.

Hull-Ottawa came back hard in the second. DeJordy robbed Yves Sarrazin as the period opened and Wayne Connelly went off for tripping, but Petes checked him out.

While cut the Peterborough lead on a partly-screened backhander.

Rousseau turned his charging penalty into an assist when he dashed back onto the ice. He snared the puck at centre ice, spun the defence off balance and carried right through alone to score a backhander.

Canadiens turned it on in the third and as the pace grew hotter, Yves Locas and Chuck Hamilton drew roughing penalties as they tangled with each other.

Then Tardif and Barclay Plager went at it, but escaped penalties.

Pat Casey and Darling went in on Cyr, but failed to score when Darling's shot carved Tardif on the side of the face.

The tension was crackling at this point when the rabbit came over the railing. By the time he was rounded up, the belligerence had subsided. Both teams played close but tired hockey in the overtime 10 minutes.

Claims Hoad Better Player Than Gonzales

NEW YORK (AP)—Lew Hoad could prove he's the new king of the tennis pros in a head-to-head series with Pancho Gonzales, Hoad's co-manager Jack Kramer of pro tour, says.

"It's not my Australian nationalism coming to the front," said Wimbledon champion Ashley Cooper. "I honestly think Lew is a better player now than Pancho and should come out ahead if they were to throw together - man to man."

"I agree," tossed in Mal Anderson. "Gonzales is leading the tour because of his success in beating Ashley and me. Lew still has him, nine matches to four."

Promoter Jack Kramer's Australian recruits discussed the tour shortly before taking off for a resumption of the four-man rivalry at Princeton, N.J.

Under the pro pro format, the losers get checks for $1,000 with winners of the previous matches always drawing together for the next town. This means Gonzales and Hoad meet less than half as many times as when they played head-to - head last year, big Pancho winning.

Gonzales has won 36 and lost nine matches in the 45 played and accompanied by Hoad, 32-11, Cooper, 19-23, and Anderson, 3-4.

Gonzales has indicated that Hoad is through as far as the pro tour goes. Cooper considered it now.

"We lost all our Spring training," complained Casey Stengel yesterday, referring to two washed out games last week and Monday's scheduled lideness.

"And that fellow on first base, I didn't plan to try him out until Friday in Boston, but he insisted he was well enough to play."

"That fellow on first," Bill Skowron, had a strained back. Wearing a corset, he hit a baseless filled homer, singled in another run and doubled in New York's 13-3 victory over Baltimore Orioles yesterday.

It was a good game for recent cripples.

Bespied Skowron, two pitchers with ailments showed to advantage in their first 1959 American League outings.

Don Larsen, who had a stiff arm went the first seven innings for the Yankees without much trouble for the victory. The last two scoreless innings pitched by Jim Coates. It was only his second regulation game since April of 1958. After winning his first two games last year at Richmond, Va., Coates suffered a fractured arm.

Crippled 'Yank' Hits Four-Bagger Double, Single

BALTIMORE (AP) — New York Yankees should be as good as expected, once they're back in shape and their cripples recover.

And "once" could mean right now.

"We lost all our Spring training," complained Casey Stengel yesterday, referring to two washed out games last week and Monday's scheduled lideness.

"And that fellow on first base, I didn't plan to try him out until Friday in Boston, but he insisted he was well enough to play."

RARE, MEDIUM, WELL-DONE

By Geo. H. Carver, Sports Editor

The blonde young giant with the shoulders of a wrestler and the waist of a ballet-dancer leaned back in his chair and laughed uproariously.

BOB HULL

In answer to the $64,000 question, Hull strongly denied he "took a dive" in the now famous Red Storey incident of the final game of the Chicago-Canadiens semi-finals.

"Why should I, or any player in fact, take a dive, so we was charged when I was almost past the defending player and had a chance of scoring a goal," Hull said in an interview.

"Red Storey is one of the finest referees in the business, and I think he got a rather shady deal when the NHL brass refused to back him up. But it was not the first time Storey or any other National League official has missed calls like this one."

"Furthermore," Hull went on, "a player under these circumstances, what with the closeness of the score and under heavy tension has sometimes else to think about besides taking 'dives.' We were down and needed a goal desperately. The pressure was terrific."

Hull dismissed the charges of Ranger star Andy Bathgate that he "dived" with a shrug of muscular shoulders. Bathgate stated in the Vancouver interview, "Storey got a bad deal and the particular play that everyone is believing about was handled properly by Storey. Hull didn't get tripped by Junior Langlois, he took a dive. He's been doing it all season and so has Eddie Litzenberger of the Hawks."

"The guys in the league know who are the actors and divers. We think up awards for these guys and Hull gets the Four-Twelve Award for making the longest dives."

"The way I saw that play," Bathgate is quoted, "Hull got a tap across the knee, not enough to stop anyone. But he took off in a dive and before he hit the ice he was turning around to look for the referee."

Said Hull: "Bathgate was a television expert. He probably had his head turned when he heard the furore. He was not in any position to judge."

"It is something like his excuse for the Rangers' showing. In that interview Andy claims the team did not have any hockey players to play up there." "Anytime we got going hot it was because Andy Hebenton said I got hot. When we went sour the team went sour," the Ranger star was quoted.

"That's the kind of an expert Andy is," laughed Hull. "That statement is a good sample. He forgets a few guys like Gump Worsley and Red Sullivan and others who were the mainstays of the Blues."

"I hope Red Storey changes his mind and returns to the NHL," Bobby said. "There are not too many good officials left and to lose the best is quite a blow."

Hull, with the rest of the Rangers - Bruins' squad will spend three or four days in New York prior to sailing for Europe on the 27th. They will get fitted out with "travelling clothes and luggage," he said.

He asked questions about Europe with all the eagerness of a youngster going on his first camping trip... He wanted to know about the countryside he would visit, and what hockey facilities were like. He was boyishly surprised to hear the National League teams would play in modern arenas before sellout crowds of from 11,500 to 20,000 heck even Montreal has.

Would the Rangers and Bruins give the European fans the same brand of hockey as Canadians see in the National League?

"We'll give them their money's worth," smiled Bobby. "A lot of the big-name stars of the squads are not making the trip, but there will be enough good Canadian professionals to give the people over there an idea how the game is played in the monied ranks here."

Hull has travelled a lot during his brief professional hockey career, but this will be his first time to leave the country for overseas. He will be gone a little over a month and will visit England, France, Germany, Switzerland and Norway.

Bob Temple says Hull will be around this summer to again take his stint on the softball mound for the Bobcats.

Wing And A Prayer Gives Leafs Overtime 3-2 Win

Duff's Long-Range Missile Finds Target Behind Plante In Third-Game Cup Thriller

By JIM BASTABLE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP) — Young Dickie Duff, so exhausted he fired from long range rather than try to barge in on goal for a clear shot, scored in sudden - death overtime last night to give Toronto Maple Leafs their first win in the Stanley Cup final.

The 23-year - old left winger vaulted to brilliance at 10:06 of the dramatic extra period, scoring with a 45-foot blast as Leafs beat Montreal Canadiens 3-2 in the third game of their best-of-seven series.

It was a spectacular windup for Leafs and a stunning loss to the Montrealers.

Duff, who logged plenty of mileage but was not impressive earlier, picked up a pass at Toronto's blueline from right winger George Armstrong, raced down centre ice and let a shot go as he was about to flit around Montreal rearguard Tom Johnson just inside the blueline.

It grazed Johnson's stick and hit the corner of the net before goaltender Jacques Plante knew what happened. Plante flashed out his right foot after the puck went in.

"I was going to go in closer but I changed my mind because I was tired," Duff said. "I don't remember much. I lit out when George passed to me. All I know is that it was a slap shot. I was too tired to try anything else."

Centre Billy Harris and left winger Bert Olmstead, a one-time Montrealer who guided Leafs with a tremendous performance of checking and determination, were the other Leaf marksmen. Left winger Marcel Bonin and Dickie Moore scored for Canadiens.

The teams meet here tomorrow night, then head for Montreal for a fifth engagement Saturday.

Duff's goal, his fourth of the playoffs, sent Leafs into wild optimism on their chances of going all the way.

"That was the key game," yelled an elated Punch Imlach, Leaf coach making most of his predictions stand up. "Watch out for us now.

"Our guys played their best game of the series so far and they won't stop until they've won that cup."

Imlach has said Leafs will take Canadiens in seven games. But the bookies have made the Habs heavy favorites to win the crown for an unprecedented four th straight time.

Leafs find themselves in a situation similar to one against Boston Bruins in the semi-final. Boston won the first two games before Leafs came back with a couple of 3-2 overtime victories and won the best-of-seven series 4-3.

Plante was circumspect in the dressing room. Johnson agreed with him that Duff's winner went in off his leg.

"I don't know where Duff shot from but I know the puck hit my ankle," Johnson said.

Even if the puck hadn't knocked Johnson, it is doubtful Plante would have had much of a chance to make a play.

Montreal coach Toe Blake was depressed, despite the fact Canadiens captured the first two games by 5-3 and 3-1 decisions rather handily. He had nothing to say before leaving the dressing room quietly ahead of his players.

Canadiens were laboring under injuries and the failure of Maurice (Rocket) Richard to overcome a minor groin injury. The Rocket took a few regular turns on a line with Moore at left wing and Henri (Pocket Rocket) Richard at centre early in the first period but sat out the rest of the game.

"The muscles were stiff," he said. "I though the other guys were in better condition than I was."

Defenceman Bob Turner pulled up with a charleshorse early in the third period when he collided with Toronto defenceman Carl Brewer, and was out the remainder of the engagement. He is expected to be back tomorrow night.

Blake benched left winger Andre Pronovost at the start of the third period because he was not up to form. He stands with the 13,121 customers was Montreal sharpshooter Jean Beliveau, recovering from a spinal injury. His absence hurt Canadiens more than they care to admit.

Harris sent Leafs ahead 1-0 at 16:20 of the first period, flicking Frank Mahovlich's goal amouth before drive at Plante. Brewer was sitting out a double minor for hooking and cross - checking Ralph Backstrom.

Olmstead restored Leafs' one-goal lead at 11:11 of the second period, scoring on a difficult angle from the left boards.

Moore put the teams on even terms at 1:39 of the third period, finishing a solo effort 20 feet in front of Toronto netminder Johnny Bower and slipped Turner's pass from the blueline into the net.

Canadiens went into overtime bent on getting things cleaned up in a hurry. But Bower handled them. Defenceman Doug Harvey rushed the puck up the rink but his shot was turned aside. Bonin got in close. Bower took his hard drive on the body. Then he turned back Moore.

And so came Duff, a native of Kirkland Lake, who scored 29 goals for Leafs during the regular season. Armstrong was rounding the Leaf net as Canadiens moved to defend.

"I saw them coming at me and shot the puck up in flight," Army said. "He was off and it was all over."

London, Pals Go Into Hiding Places

NEW YORK (AP)—How can you hide a guy with a chin as big as Brian London's? You would think he would show up somebody's radar screen.

It's a strange type of fun when the challenger goes into hiding away from publicity outlets with a heavyweight title fight a little more than two weeks off.

The British heavyweight arrived in New York last weekend by plane. He immediately ducked behind a "no comment," refusing all questions to Edwin Schwelg, an attorney who also happens to represent Cus D'Amato, manager of Floyd Patterson, the champion.

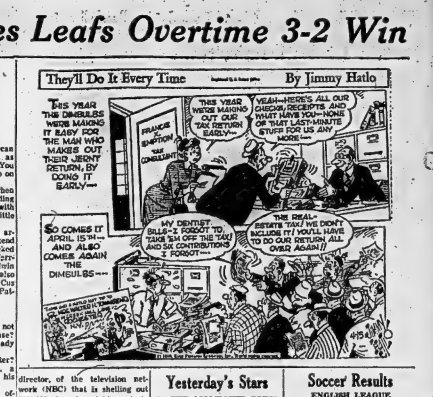
EVERYONE'S OUT

And Mr. Schwelg?

"Sorry, sir. No. Schwelgh is not in. What is your name please? I will add it to the list. I already have 30 names."

Well, how about the promoter? His name is Cecil Rhodes, a gentleman who is promoting his first fight.

"Mr. Rhodes is not at his office.



"Mr. Rhodes is not at his home."

And d'Amato?

A cool voice answers the phone. His name is George.

"He hasn't been around for several days. I have no idea where you could get in touch with him. Is he in town or out of town? You might say he is in and out of town."

Well, Tom Gallery, the sports day, May 1.

director, of the television network (NBC) that is shelling out $200,000 for the rights out to know.

"Mr. Gallery is at a meeting."

Patterson was discovered at the training camp in Summit, N.J. He didn't come to the phone either. A spokesman said he didn't know when the champ was going to Indianapolis.

Oh yes, the fight is supposed to be Indianapolis, Date, FYI

Shade Phils in Ten Frames As Cards Crash Win Column; Tribe Fireball Trims Tigers

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

From the looks of things, this last local could be the year Herb Score comes back.

The young lefthander, shackled by injury since he won 20 as a sophomore with the Cleveland Indians in 1956, looked like the Score of old as he pulled off a quick turn-around in his second appearance of the season Tuesday.

After a brief, frustrating relief attempt in the opener at Kansas City last week, Score flashed his fireball with steady control for an 8-1 victory over Detroit's winless Tigers, breaking the Indians on an unbeaten pace with the Chicago White Sox and New York Yankees in the American League race.

Score, 25, gave up only five hits, struck out nine and gave up only one walk—to leadoff man Eddie Yost, who has made a career of getting passes. At Kansas City last week, Herb had faced just three men, walking two, running up a 3-0 count on the third and wild pitching a run home.

His control against Tigers stunned even Score, who only once before allowed just one walk—also a five-hitter against Tigers—a 1-0 decision that gave him his 19th victory in '58.

The White Sox, with southpaw Billy Pierce pitching the AL's first shutout of the season, made it four straight in their home opener with a 2-0 victory over Kansas City. The Yankees (3-0) walloped the Orioles 13-3 at Baltimore. Boston won its first in a 7-3 decision over Washington in the Red Sox home opener.

Score, who now has 604 strikeouts in his 562 major league innings for an unprecedented 9.7 game average, retired 18 in a row from Rocky Bridges' first-inning single to Gail Harris' home run in the seventh.

Woody Held made it a breeze for Lemaster in the first home game, driving in six runs with two homers, one a grand slam. The Tribe wrapped it up in a four-run fourth against Jim Bunning, who gave up homers by Minnie Minoso, Held and George Strickland.

Pierce, who missed the decision for White Sox' opener, allowed Kansas City but six hits and didn't walk a man while gaining his 32nd shutout. Only Milwaukee's Warren Spahn, with 33, and Sox teammate Early Wynn, 37, have more among the majors' active pitchers. A bases-loaded single by Lou Aparicio put it away in the fifth against the A's Ralph Terry.

The Yankees broke loose for nine runs in the third inning, with Bill Skowron, his bad back braced by a corset, hammering a grand-slam homer off Arnie Portocarrero. Don Larsen was the winner, giving up six hits and all three Orioles runs, one on Al Pilarcik's fifth-inning homer. He has won 10 in a row from his one-time mates since September 5, 1955.

A solo home run by Dick Gernert, a last-minute sub for the disabled Vic Wertz, gave Boston the winning run in the sixth inning. He Delock made it seven in a row against the Senators. Camilo Pascual was the loser for the Nats, who got homers from Reno Bertoia and Norm Zauchin.

Toronto Wins, Royals Lose In International Openers

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Cuban ball player Hector Rodrigues hit a game-winning homer in Havana but the city noted for giving tumultuous welcomes to its heroes gave him only a smattering of applause.

His whole trouble was that he played for Toronto Maple Leafs and the insurgents defeated the Sugar Kings 6-4 on Rodrigues' clout.

Among the crowd of 14,106 was Prime Minister Fidel Castro who pitched the first ball in one of four opening games Tuesday as the International League opened its 76th season.

Rodriguez batting for Bob Chakales in the 11th inning, gave the pitcher the victory when he smashed a ball to left centre which bounded over Tony Gonsales' shoulder. Joe Almaliciano had singled just before.

HOME CLUBS WIN

The home clubs won in three of the four games played Tuesday. The Leafs were the only successful visitors.

Another long game was played at Miami where Billy Davidson's sacrifice in the 14th scored Rod Scheel to give the Marlins a 7-6 victory over the defending champion Montreal Royals.

At Columbus, Ohio, the Jets crease-up man, big Jim McDaniel got a triple, double and single and drove in four runs to lead his club to a 6-3 win over Rochester Red Wings.

Righthander Jim Bronstad allowed only three hits as Richmond Virginians romped to a 10-1 victory at Richmond. Lamar North helped out with a fifth-inning grand - slam homer when Richmond was leading 3-1.

PREVENTS TIE

Rodrigues' homer prevented the game ending in a tie. A curfew would have ended the game at the end of the inning. Sugar Kings had gained the tie when Borrego Alvarez homered in the ninth.

Chakales was one of five Leaf hurlers while loser Andres Ayon was one of four for Sugar Kings.

At Miami, Scheel went in to run for McDermott who had reached third on Fred Valentine's double.

McDaniel's big blows in only four trips to the plate gave CA Browning the loss and righthander Lynn Lovegisgih the victory. Tommy Burgess hit a sixth-inning homer for Jets.

Bisson had walked Dick Sanders to pitch to North at Richmond but he made their strategy backfire. Starter Bob Conley was the loser.

Gerry Goyer Scores in Seattle Win

CALGARY (CP) — Seattle Totems scored three goals in less than four minutes in the last period Tuesday to overcome a 3-2 deficit and earn a 5-3 victory over Calgary Stampeders in the first game of the best-of-seven Western Hockey League final.

Rusty Rilley paced the attack with a pair of goals and singles went to Gerry Leonard, Don Chilupka and Gerry Goyer, Lou Jankowski, Dusty Blair and Sid Finney scored for Stamps.

Tigers Seek Training Lair

HAMILTON (CP) — General Manager Jake Gaudaur said Tuesday night Hamilton Tiger-Cats are looking for a training camp site within a 100-mile radius for "8 boat 75 players, coaches and trainers."

He added: "If anyone knows of a place we can have in midsummer I wish he would contact the club." Gaudaur denied the Big Four club would definitely move into the Ontario Athletic Commission camp at Lake Couchiching near Orillia.

"We have explored that possibility," he admitted, "but all the facilities are spoken for because of summer school commitments."

Gaudaur said it has been a three-year hunt and that last year the club came close to closing a deal to use facilities at Ridley High School in St. Catharines.

Campy Was Callin' 'Em Behind Plate

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Roy Campanella was behind the plate at a Dodger game Tuesday night for the first time since his crippling accident.

Campy, bundled in a wheelchair, was way behind the plate, of course, sitting in back of the screen behind the set of the ex-deck circle. But the greatest Dodger backstop of 'em all had plenty to say as he watched St. Louis spoil the Dodgers' home-town debut 6-2.

"Stay in there, Duke, stay in there," Campanella counseled another old warhorse, Duke Snider.

"His McDaniel has a fine curve. He's gonna curve him."

Sure enough, Lindy McDaniel came in with his curve. Snider sent the ball screaming for a long short and beat the throw for a double.

An inning or two later, up stepped Don Fairly, the Dodgers' slick-fielding second baseman.

"He waits a little too long," said Campanella, squinting through the wire at the chunky Dodger. "You can tell whether it's a ball or a strike as soon as it leaves the pitcher's hand."

McDaniel let fly after an overhand windup.

"Ball," said Campanella.

Robinson Seeks Legal Aid to Retain Crown

NEW YORK (CP)—Sugar Ray Robinson goes to court today to combat one effort to lift his middleweight title with a second similar effort less than 24 hours old.

Robinson has taken the New York State Athletic Commission to the New York Supreme Court in an attempt to restrain the commission from stripping him of the crown.

The commission had given Robinson until noon Wednesday, April 15, to sign for a title defence against Carmen Basilio or face loss of the title.

A similar threat cropped up Tuesday in Hagerstown, Ind.

The National Boxing Association said it will lift his title unless he signs for a title defence by the end of next week.

Arch Hindman, NBA executive secretary, said 13 members of the executive committee voted unanimously to set an April 25 deadline for a signing and a June 30 fight deadline. Hindman dictated action from Robinson a month ago.

Hindman said 12 committeemen favored Basilio, former champion, as the challenger, and one favored Spider Webb as a "new face."

If Robinson ignores the ultimatum, Hindman said the committee will propose a title match between Basilio and Gene Fullmer with the new champion required to meet Webb within 90 days.

Hollywood Seems Unreal To French Comedian J. Tati

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Jacques Tati's funny French films have been noted for their incisive slants on people and places. Here is his view of Hollywood on his first visit:

"The place seems so unreal. Even the shops with their glittering facades appear to be only the fronts of movie sets. I am surprised that they have backs as there. Every day that I leave my hotel, I expect to come back and find that it has been taken down and another set put up in its place."

The tall French comic found the people were warm and friendly.

HOLLYWOOD MOVIE?

What about reports that he might make a movie here?

"I have had talks about it," he remarked. "But I don't believe it would ever be possible.

"I like to shoot slowly. It is not terribly expensive, because I use a small crew. But I do not like to be rushed. If I want to get the right shot of a dog in the street, I will stay there all day until the dog does exactly what I want it to.

"They don't understand that here any more. You've got schedules, schedules, schedules. If a director doesn't come in on schedule, he is in trouble."

This may help to explain the decline of comedy in American films. Charlie Chaplin, with whom Tati has been compared, had no use for schedules. He kept shooting until he felt he had a masterpiece, and he sometimes did.

Tati explained that he takes about 2½ months to make a movie, and spends many months in preparation. My Uncle, winner of this year's Oscar as the best foreign movie, took longer, because it was filmed in two languages.

He is a one-man production gang, since he writes, directs, produces and stars in the films. "It is the only way I can control my destiny," he explained. "When I have tried to work for producers, I would have them calling every evening to ask how many shots I had made. 'What? Only one!' they would yell, 'How can you do that to me'?"

AT THE PARK — A scene from Cecil B. DeMille's mightiest adventure-romance ever filmed in Technicolor "Northwest Mounted Police", starring Gary Cooper, Preston Foster with Robert Preston, Paulette Goddard, Madeleine Carroll and Akim Tamiroff. The big attraction opens Thursday at the Park Theatre. On the same program "Bowery Battalion", with Leo Gorcey and the Bowery Boys.

Red Sox Boss Charged With Discrimination

BOSTON (AP) — The Massachusetts commission against discrimination has invited Thomas A. Yawkey, president of Boston Red Sox, to attend its next meeting 'to answer charges of racial discrimination made by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The NAACP asked the commission for a formal investigation of the Red Sox, charging the team was guilty of bias in farming Negro infielder Jerry (Pump-also) Green to its Minneapolis farm team.

The Red Sox denied the allegation, stating the team would "use capable players regardless of color."

Tuesday, a group of white university students picketed Fenway Park, home of the Sox, with placards saying "we want a pennant, not a white team."

Police said the pickets were peaceful.

RIDERS SIGN COACH

OTTAWA (CP)—The Big Four Ottawa Rough Riders have signed a third coach, former New York Giants defensive halfback Ed Hughes. Hughes, who played with New York four seasons, will help set up the Riders' defences, assisting head coach Frank Clair and line coach Bill Smyth.

At the Belle

"The Case of Dorier Laurent" Most Unusual Picture

As the marvellous medico in "The Case of Dr. Laurent," the year's most unusual picture, playing tonight for the last times at the Belle Theatre, 55 year-old Jean Gabin chalks up his 75th film and adds still another screen portrait to his rogues' (and angels')-gallery of Frenchmen in every walk of life known to La Belle France. In his 29 years before the cameras, Gabin's rugged physiognomy has worn the mask of soldier, worker, gangster, gendarme, impresario, cafe owner and business tycoon, to name but a handful. Indeed as Dr. Laurent, he plays a physician for the second time, having already worn the white coat in "Moment of Truth". Curiously enough in the latter film Gabin, as a pediatrician, looked after babies while as "Dr. Laurent" he brings them into the world.

Typical of the passion for authenticity that has helped make his name an International household word, Jean Gabin spent weeks with director Chanois in Paris watching obstetricians perform deliveries by the 'natural' method. In addition he attended a lecture course given to expectant mothers to enhance his understanding of Nicole Courcel's feelings as his expectant patient in "The Case of Dr. Laurent".

Never a night-owl, Gabin prefers to relax in his slippers before a TV set after a hard day before the cameras. He is firmly publicity-shy and deplores the younger actors of today who crave immediate glory and popularity, believing it much healthier to be attracted to cinema acting as a challenging, hardworking way of life.

Sir John Geilgud Will Star In Du Pont Show of Month

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AB) — Sir John Geilgud is making his first appearance on American television this week because he has always wanted to play Hamlet on TV.

Version by Terence Rattigan.

"It's a wonderful play," he said the other day during a break in rehearsals for the Du Pont Show of the Month production, which will be seen on CBS-TV April 23 (4 p.m. EST).

The distinguished British actor was offered the leading role when the play opened in London several years ago. He liked the play and the part then, but declined to appear in it because the one-act version was in a double bill-ing of two one-act plays—and he didn't care much for the other play.

"It was one of those times when I guessed wrong," he said. "I saw the play and enjoyed them thoroughly, especially The Browning Version, by old everyone else, it seemed. Ever since I've been willing—eager, you might say—for the part."

TEACHER'S ORDEAL

The play is about the ordeal of an English schoolmaster who has dedicated his life to teaching indifferent boys the classics, betrayed by his wife, depressed by his students, he finally realizes a small but enduring triumph.

Rattigan's leading player's his wife in the TV production di-rected by John Frankenheimer.

schoolmaster would be pathetic," Sir John. "But by making him a man who can smile at himself and his predicament, he arouses sympathy and interest."

As far as can be recalled, this is the first time that a one act play of less than an hour has been expanded into a 90-minute TV drama. Sir John said he believed the drama had been expanded effectively by adapters Audrey Gellen and Jacqueline Babbitt.

Astrological Forecast

BY CARROLL RIGHTER

Thursday, April 16

Aries (March 21 to April 19)—A.M. is ideal time to contact or confer with civic leaders or mercantile men in order to adjust any important affairs. Latter part of day you can then round out much needed data. Also, there will be welcome news from far away.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20)—During the morning you will be in a position to get the information and ideas from others that will greatly facilitate your labors and chores. P. M. is ideal for entertaining or just having fun at home. Be happy and thoughtful of others.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) — Do repairing on property or add touches of beauty and art to your immediate surroundings today. Clean and polish everything so that they are immaculate. P. M. is fine time for relaxation at the cinema, or corresponding and studying.

Moon Children (June 22 to July 21) — A.M. splendid for new outlets so long as they are constructive and economical. During the evening you will then get even finer ideas for expansion that will result in your rebuilding a far greater income.

Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21) — Plan to stay in your own little preferred niche today for deep concentration. Sit down in black and write your ideas and plans. P. M. is then fine for fun and happiness with kindred spirits. Be more prosperous by increasing popularity.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 23)—At last you are able to know just how your comrades and kin can assist you in your endeavors best. Be of help to them, and in some tangible way. P. M. confer with some influential person you know. Assist those in need, also.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) — Spend day hours hastily getting your credit higher, attending to much - delayed civic chores, business affairs on which you have procrastinated. P. M. go out on some important social meeting, affair.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)—Look into your paper and other periodicals for the information you have searched for in vain to date. P. M. you have the opportunity to be with a most influential person who can assist you in your greatest needs.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — Fine day for putting all government papers, statements, etc., in ideal order. P. M. is then free for you to be with persons of different cultural background than yours to gain further knowledge and enlightening ideas.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — You can now cement better relations with all those persons who play a vital part in your daily living. P. M. be romantically inclined and show your genuine affection and appreciation that he or she rightfully deserves.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — Morning is just fine for rolling up your sleeves and getting into all the work that awaits you, whether at home, office, or your vehicle, etc. P. M. get together with associates and come to a better meeting of minds.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to March 20)—Day hours are spent best in the lighter aspects of your daily living, such as getting appearance at its peak, planning and engineering entertainment progresses, visiting, etc. P. M. be with fellow workers to get work plans perfected.

If your child is born today ... The highly intuitive child born today is scheduled to lead a most fascinating life, since the sentiments and sensitivities are highly developed and can be put to remarkable use in today's great Scientific Age. Teach your youngster self-reliance and duty early, however, in order to bring out the greatest potentials in this powerful chart. Surround him or her with many friends. Give a fine education.

White's District

WHITE'S DISTRICT—Morning service at White's Church was conducted by student minister, Mr. Jim Payton, of Albert College, who chose as his text, Luke 13:3, "But except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish." The Junior choir sang "On a Rainy Day" with Mrs. A. Skearup as pianist. The children's story, "Hannah's Leprosy" showed that General Naaman was cured of leprosy but that another who took his money, died of the disease because he was greedy.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Skearup opened their home on Thursday evening for choir practice.

Quite a few in this district are suffering from influenzas.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Sandercock and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sandercock, opened their home on Wednesday evening for the annual meeting of the Bay of Quinte Women's Institute.

Mrs. Jeffery was a weekend visitor of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Jeffery of Colborne.

Rev. Roy Rickard, B. A., is a patient in Kingston General Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Curtis were Saturday evening visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Curtis.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jones spent the supper hour with Mr. and Mrs. George Milburn, on Tuesday evening on the occasion of Mr. Milburn's birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ostrander and children of Cherry Valley were Saturday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Sandercock.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sandercock were Friday evening callers of her father, Mr. Frank Brooks, of Johnstown.

BANDITS ROB DRIVE-IN

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — Two masked men, brandishing automatics, robbed Highway 2 drive-in restaurant operator Charles Medgwick of about $1,500 early Monday, locked the drive - in's staff of seven in a small storeshed and escaped in the proprietor's car. The car was recovered later.

Canadians Feel Urge for Foreign Travel

OTTAWA (CP) — More Canadians than ever before are planning trips abroad this year.

An avalanche of passport applications is being handled at the passport division of the External Affairs department — the issuing office for all Canada.

Now passports are being issued at the rate of about 300 a day. Rarely salaar running at a rate of about 80,000 a year.

The movement of Canadian travellers abroad is being helped by transportation companies providing packaged vacation plans on an instalment basis.

It now takes about three weeks to obtain a passport, provided the application is complete and the fee is paid.

For a long period after the end of the Second World War it seldom took more than 24 hours to process a valid application for a passport.

However, in the last year or two the busy season from January to June has been busier than usual. The passport office now has a staff of 70 permanent workers and some temporary employees, but an increased staff likely will be necessary.

A big increase in transatlantic air travel and keen competition for tourist dollars among airlines and between airlines and steamship companies has made it comparatively cheap to visit Europe.

TTC and Metro Sign Agreement To Build Subway

TORONTO (CP)—The Toronto Transit Commission and Metropolitan Toronto signed the agreement for construction of the city's new east-west subway Tuesday.

Attached to the agreement was a recommendation from the Ontario Municipal Board that TTC fare increase fares by 20 cents from the present 12½ cents over a 10-year period.

The agreement required the TTC to pay $113,426,000 towards the $215,000,000 project. Metro will pay the balance of $102,277,-000 by its ratification clears the way for Metro council to pass it.

The TTC recently announced it the expropriation bylaws necessary for subway construction.

It might have to increase transit fares this year to 13 cents from the present 12½ cents. Now the CMB has supported the board, suggesting the fares go up to 18 cents in 1964 and 20 cents in 1995.

The commission was told Tuesday by W. J. Day, TTC solicitor, that it has no legal grounds against the Gloucester Carriage Works of Eugene Forde for sending the commission overweight subway cars.

Mr. Day said the English company had informed the late W.C. McClinch, then TTC chairman, of the overweight cars before they were shipped to Toronto to be used on the Yonge Street subway.

Albury

REDNERSVILLE W. I.

ALBURY — The Rednersville Women's Institute was entertained at the home of the President, Mrs. Harmon Montgomery, on March 26. The meeting opened with the Ode and Mary Stewart Collect. Community singing followed with Institute Ant hem, and "Christ the Lord is Risen Today". The reading of the minutes of the February meeting were read and approved. The correspondence followed. Mrs. Mac Wallbridge was appointed to the Federation of Agriculture for the Institute. Mrs. Wallbridge moved and Audrey Bricknman seconded that the Institute send 10 dollars to the County Executive for an Award Gift for the Scholarship. Mrs. Montgomery is entertaining the Institute with a euchre party on April 14.

The District Annual will be held in Rednersville Church on May 14. The roll call was answered by "A book review or special reading". Mrs. Mac Wallbridge showed several pictures taken on the 50th anniversary which everyone enjoyed. The theme was "Something to Wear" will be held on May 7, in Albury Church. A vote of thanks was extended to the hostess for opening her home for the meeting with a good entertainment.

Mrs. Beuford Peck and Mrs. Mac Wallbridge attended the Federation of Agriculture meeting in the board room in Picton on Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Adams and Marilyn, Mrs. Mac Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Williamson, Mr. Beuford Peck and family, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Weese spent Monday evening with Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Peck in honor of Mrs. Peck's birthday.

Sympathy is extended to Mrs. John Onderdonk in the loss of a brother, Mr. Burton Adams last week.

A number were entertained at euchre party at the home of Mrs. Vivian Green and family on Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Williamson have returned to their home after spending a short time at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Beuford Peck.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Leon Genereaux on the birth of a daughter, on Tuesday afternoon in the Belleville hospital.

MADOC

Mayor G. Hyde Gives Talk at C. of C. Dinner

MADOC — On Wednesday evening over 100 members of the Madoc C. of C., their wives and friends enjoyed the fourth annual banquet in the I.O.O.F. banquet hall.

After doing justice to bounteous turkey dinner served by the members of Oakdale Rebekah Lodge, president Linn Keller called the gathering to order and gave a brief address. He said it was gratifying to see so many present which showed all were behind the Chamber of Commerce. He paid tribute to Mr. Colin Ross, general chairman, who had arranged the evening program.

Guests present were Mr. and Mrs. James Spracklett of Gilmour and Mrs. Robert Bristol.

Mr. Barney Shefford introduced the Chord Chasers, a ladies' barbershop quartet from Belleville, who entertained with several vocal numbers and stories and these were much enjoyed by those in attendance.

Another highlight of the evening was the showing of a film taken during the Old Boys' Reunion by Gordon Bristol.

The toast to the ladies was proposed by John Bristol and responded to by Mrs. Rosewald Dafoe.

Dr. Gregor Murray introduced the guest speaker, Mayor Hyde of Belleville, who spoke on the duties of a mayor and quoted some of his experiences as mayor of Belleville.

Mr. Verse MacMurray voiced the appreciation of the audience to the speaker.

Mr. Wilfrid Foresteil extended thanks of all to the ladies for providing the excellent dinner. Mrs. Albert Bailey responded.

Science Now Shrinks Piles Without Pain Or Discomfort

Finds Healing Substance That Relieves Pain /) And Itching As It Shrinks Hemorrhoids

Toronto, Ont. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain and itching. Thousands have been relieved with this wonderful substance right in the privacy of their own home without any discomfort or inconvenience.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "entire disappearance of tissue" was reported and verified by doctor examinations.

Pain was promptly relieved. And while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or shrinkage (retraction) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctor observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoidal conditions, some of even 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—the discovery of a famous scientific institute. Already, Bio-Dyne is in the use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded

Christian Herter Likely Choice To Succeed Dulles

May Be Few Days Before Announcement

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower was reported today to be focusing on Christian A. Herter to succeed John Foster Dulles as state secretary.

But aides said it may be a few days before Eisenhower announces a choice of Herter or someone else for the post from which Dulles resigned Wednesday because of cancer.

Herter, who has been acting secretary since Dulles became ill early in February, was given the inside track for the job in most speculation.

At a press conference where he announced Dulles' resignation, Eisenhower said there are several persons in government—"or at least a few"—with particular talent for the post.

He made that statement when a reporter remarked that it had been pretty much taken for granted he would tap Herter, 64-year-old former undersecretary of State.

Representatives and former governor of Massachusetts.

Eisenhower said he didn't want to imply approval or rejection of any individual, but added he wanted to consult first with Dulles.

James C. Hagerty White House press secretary, said later the president's talks with Herter coincided with Herter and Vice-President Nixon — and quite likely others.

Aides said one reason Eisenhower didn't expect early action of the resignation with an immediate appointment of a successor was that he wanted no distraction to divert attention from his warm tribute to Dulles.

He praised Dulles, 71, as a man of "unbounded courage, energy, courage and wisdom. Eisenhower had a struggle with his emotions in speaking of his regret that grave illness had incapacitated his close personal friend.

Russia Protests High Altitude Flight to Berlin

BONN, Germany (AP)—The Soviet Union has protested verbally against the high - altitude round trip flight to Berlin Wednesday by a U.S. Air Force cargo plane, an informed Allied source reported.

The C-130 turbo-prop flew into and out of Berlin at between 20,000 and 25,000 feet. It was the third American trip to Berlin in nearly three weeks at altitudes above the 10,000-foot level the Russians contend is the maximum for Allied planes. The Western Allies maintain that they can fly at any level in the corridors to Berlin.

U.S. officials said Wednesday that two Soviet jet fighters shadowed the latest American plane closely but did not buzz it as they did the two previous flights. But today American sources said a matter information from Berlin showed "dangerous harassment," or buzzing of a popular called old occur yesterday."

LONDON (AP) — Britain announced today it has taken up with the Eisenhower administration the issue of "the highly dangerous flights in the Berlin air corridors—but has made no formal protest.

A foreign office spokesman said Viscount Hood, British minister in Washington, raised the question at a meeting with American officials in the state department Wednesday.

Diplomatic informants made clear the British government expressed its concern about high flying American planes going in and out of Berlin.

Prime Minister Macmillan's government believes the risk of a Soviet-American incident in the Western air corridors cannot be justified at a time when the big powers are preparing negotiations on the future of Berlin and Germany.

Former Members of Batista's Police Capture Plane

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Four gunmen—three of them former members of dictator Fulgencio Batista's armed police — captured a Cuban airliner in flight today and forced the pilot to go 325 miles out of his way and land in Miami.

The plane, carrying 17 American and Cuban tourists, landed at Miami International Airport shortly after 11 a.m. (EST) immediately and took the hijackers into custody.

One of the gunmen said they had been captured by Fidel Castro's forces in the overthrow of Batista, but had escaped from La Cabana Fortress in Havana.

The passengers and crew were not hurt or roughly treated after the hijackers took over the plane shortly after it left Havana for a flight to Nassau in the Isle of Pines, 100 miles to the south.

The pilot was ordered first to fly to Jamaica and then to the Dominican Republic but when he said he didn't have enough fuel to go that far, he was ordered to fly to Miami.

None of the hijackers were brothers. They identified themselves as Alberto Mason Thatcher, 51, former secret police sergeant; Roland, 29, also of the secret police force, 26, a former air force mechanic.

Castro Begins Visit to Promote Cuba in U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fidel Castro today begins a two-week North American visit to "promote Cuban and American and Canadian.

The bearded Cuban prime minister was greeted with cries of "viva Castro" from a crowd of gag - waving Castro supporters when he arrived Wednesday night by plane.

A few youths at the airport waved anti-Castro signs but they were kept behind a barrier. They identified themselves as students from Georgetown University in the U.S. Wearing a familiar combat uniform, the prime minister climbed to the airport control tower, where he told the airport crowd, "I am in some way I can bring a better understanding of the program in Cuba to the people of the United States and that they will have a better understanding of our situation."

Then he headed for a wire fence behind which most of the spectators had been kept waiting. He hugged many of his admirers, shook their hands and patted them on the head.

"Everyone is very nice," he said.

Castro will fly to Canada April 25 for a visit to Montreal and will return to Cuba following a visit April 27 to Houston, Texas. He will arrive in Ottawa April 28 from Montreal and will leave for Toronto on the evening he will be received by Prime Minister Diefenbaker and will attend a government luncheon.

THE WEATHER

TORONTO (CP) Synopsis: Warm air still covers most of Southern Ontario but cooler air now in Manitoba is spreading and is expected to edge into all regions except southwestern Ontario by tonight. Showers and a few thunderstorms are expected over southwestern Ontario on Friday.

3,500 FIREMEN ON CNR CONSIDER STRIKE ACTION

Move to Counter Letter by President

MONTREAL (CP) — The CNR's 3,500 railway firemen are considering a strike to avoid being put in the "ignominious position of accepting charity."

The firemen were told, in a letter from their union chiefs that it may be necessary to set a strike date to prevent the CNR from going ahead with its plan to hire no more firemen for work on diesel yard and freight engines after May 1.

The letter, phoned by union officials from the Montreal headquarters of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers (CLC AFL-CIO) in Cleveland, Ohio, Wednesday, was to be mailed out to union members today.

It was a move by the union to counter the letter sent to union members by Donald Gordon, CNR president, asking them to "make known to your union representatives your desire to keep the railways strong."

Mr. Gamble's letter was also signed by the union's Atlantic, Central and Canadian general chairman and A. J. Walsh, president. The union executive board said Wednesday night each province's firemen would follow "such national line" as a strike is called.

UNION'S POSITION

The letter said "to accept the company's contention would be to accept charity and even in the ignominious position of accepting charity."

"We should be readily exposed to abuses and indignities as a result," the letter continued, "not to mention the insecurity of the worker who is called redundant."

"The company's contention is based on the CNR's special legislation board and an agreement accepted by CPR firemen — is that firemen are no longer needed on yard and freight diesels.

It proposes that after May 1 it will no longer hire firemen for these diesels but will protect the job security of present firemen until they either retire, are promoted, or die.

In the new contract offered the union the company also proposes a two-per-cent wage increase, effective April 1, 1958, and a three-per-cent increase effective May, the date the pact expires.

Also proposed are another three-per-cent boost Aug. 1 and a 1.5 per-cent raise April 1960.

John G. Inglis To Be Named TTC Manager

TORONTO (CP)—John Gordon Inglis, assistant general manager of the Toronto Transit Commission, will be appointed general manager of the municipal railway today, it was reported here. He will succeed A. R. Indoe, who is to take over control of construction of the east-west Bloor Street subway.

Charles Walton, TTC chairman, said: "these are the only two names going before the meeting."

Mr. Inglis will have the title of general manager of operations. Mr. Walton said most of the duties will be taken up with defining the two jobs.

AIR LIFT — Rep. James G. Fulton (R-Pa.) rides a model of a cargo carrier type vehicle which is floating several inches above the floor in the meeting room of the House Space Committee. The vehicle, one of several demonstrated for committee members, uses fans — shown under wire guards — to provide a cushion of air to lift the vehicle off the ground. In the case of this demonstrator, electric current is used to provide power for the motors. Others in the photo are not identified. (AP Wirephoto).

Speculation Names Fleming Next External Affairs Minister

OTTAWA (CP)—A wave of recent press speculation has named Finance Minister Fleming as the man most likely to be Canada's next external affairs minister.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker, who will pick the successor to the late Sidney Smith, is making no public statements. In the Commons Wednesday he parried a question.

However, there are increasing reports that any move to fill the gap left by Mr. Smith's death March 17 will involve a cabinet shuffle.

Besides Mr. Fleming, 53, now involved in debate on his new budget, various speculative reports on a cabinet shuffle have named Justice Minister Fulton, Revenue Minister Nowlan, Transport Minister Hees and Works Minister Green.

Several Progressive Conservative MPs have been suggested as likely cabinet material.

Shortly after Mr. Smith's death the Ottawa Sun Mr. Fulton was most prominently mentioned as a likely successor.

Mr. Diefenbaker has been asking external affairs minister in the last month and there is no urgent situation requiring immediate appointment of a full time minister. Thus it is possible the decision may not come for some weeks.

He could hold off cabinet changes until he is in a position to appoint parliamentary secretaries as well. Legislation providing for 16 of these posts described by Mr. Diefenbaker as cabinet apprenticeships — still is before the Commons.

Many complicated factors are usually involved in cabinet changes, for instance the giving of representation to areas and regions.

At the last change Mr. Diefenbaker spoke of naming a minister from Eastern Quebec. When he was formed his first cabinet in the summer of 1957 he spoke of naming a Roman Catholic from Eastern Ontario.

Two by-elections are in the offing, both in Eastern Ontario—in Mr. Smith's riding of Hastings-Frontenac, and in Russell, formerly held by Liberal J. O. Gour who also died last month.

The reports which say Mr. Fleming is the leading candidate carry in suggesting he may succeed him as finance minister. Among those named are Mr. Fulton, Mr. Nowlan — 60-year-old party veteran—and Mr. Hees, 48.

Around those suggested as possible cabinet appointees include Richard J. Bell, 45, of Carleton near Ottawa, Wallace Nesbitt, Oxford; John B. Hamilton, York West, Toronto; and Dr. Ernest Halpenny, London.

Dulles Violently Denounced, Greatly Praised for His Work

Editors: The effects of State Secretary Dulles' career on international events will be discussed and argued for a long time. This is the first of a two-part series assessing those effects.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — John Foster Dulles has been both violently denounced and extravagantly praised as a world figure in foreign affairs.

He is in a position have been more controversial, and historians will be slow to adopt President Eisenhower's estimate that he was the greatest U.S. statesman since Marshall.

But there can be no doubt that in the weeks ahead he will be much missed.

His successor' faces a tough task in picking up foreign policy reins Dulles, stricken by cancer, has put it down. His successor will have to move with similar speed and a comparable capacity for work to meet the Soviet challenge to the West over Berlin.

The times will allow no easy period of settling into the job. The man, who takes over Dulles' desk has his work already cut out.

At the end of this month, April 30, he must meet in Paris with the foreign ministers of Britain, France and West Germany to make final preparations for negotiations with the Russians on delicate and dangerous questions of Berlin and Germany. Before May 31 it will be time for the annual spring conference of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, at which Dulles' successor will have to make his first appearance before the assembled delegates of the 15 NATO countries.

Probably in late July or August there will be a big four summit conference to which the new secretary will play a key role as the chief adviser to the president.

Dulls ran the state department with complete confidence in his own abilities. From the time he took over in January, 1953, he was the dominant figure. Few of his colleagues advised how precisely what he would do in a given situation.

Dulles had served as foreign affairs adviser to governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York, nominee unsuccessfully sought the presidency in 1944 and 1948. Had Dewey been elected, Dulles would have been secretary of state.

In spite of his highly partisan role in these campaign years, Dulles played a fundamental part, by bringing about the development of a bipartisan foreign policy.

PRIME MINISTER DENIES CHARGE OF INTERFERENCE

Pickersgill of Nfld. Gives Challenge

OTTAWA (CP)—J. W. Pickersgill has accused Prime Minister Diefenbaker of interfering with the administration of justice in Newfoundland.

The prime minister promptly denied the charge, made by the Liberal MP for Bonavista-Twillingate during the Commons budget debate Wednesday.

Mr. Pickersgill said Mr. Diefenbaker had the "impertinence" to intrude into Newfoundland's affairs by insisting that the province assist in the public purse number on the provincial Supreme Court before he fills the present vacancy on the bench, if ever.

"I never said that," Mr. Diefenbaker interjected. "That is incorrect."

"Imagine — he would have happened if the prime minister had said that to Quebec or to Ontario," Mr. Pickersgill said. "It is just because this (Newfoundland) is a small province."

Mr. Pickersgill charged Mr. Diefenbaker to run against him in Bonavista-Twillingate at the next election.

VARIOUS VIEWS

Mr. Pickersgill's speech set the tone for a series of charges and counter-charges during the half-day sitting scheduled to be concluded eight-day budget debate.

Commons veteran Hon. Earl Rowe (PC — Dufferin Simcoe), first elected in 1930, defended the former Liberal administration for the economic aid it had forced Finance Minister Fleming to present a "difficult" budget.

Mr. Fleming had had "a heritage left on his doorstep by the smug complacency of a government in power too long," he said.

The Liberal government "well ship and leadership" had created a position of economic dependence on the United States, he said, and the conditions of the post-war years had prevented this from happening.

Mr. Rowe, an MP for some 33 years, said he had spent more than a third of all budget speeches delivered since confederation.

"And most of the good ones," Mr. Pickersgill interjected.

"I am amazed," Mr. Rowe shot back, "at the way Canada has survived the kind of talk and policies that you did not have."

Mr. Rowe said Canada will have more than enough jobs for everybody if the government "gets the victorious spirit" of resources development and processing of raw materials at home.

"The only way to solve our problem is at home."

GOBEL TO STAR

TORONTO (CP)—George Gobel, Hollywood comedian and comedian, will star at the 1959 Canadian National Exhibition grandstand show, it was announced. Eric Hoare, business manager, announced Wednesday in Gobel's show as well as acting as master-of-ceremonies. Mr. Gobel will be appeared at Stratford Shakespearean Festival theatre performances, in CBC dramas and other theatre productions.

Ontario and Quebec Women Claim Knitting Scheme Ends in Tears

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Authorities in Ontario and Quebec have been swamped with complaints by a number of women who say they have been through the operations of knitting machine companies.

Ed Bonspiel, an official of the Ontario attorney-general's department, said a number of women told him they were persuaded to buy knitting machines at costs ranging from $250 to $450. Gerald Pepper, assistant director of public prosecutions, said they had responded to an advertisement of the Fair Isle Knitting Company of Toronto where they would be paid for it.

Mr. Pepper said when a group of women went to the office Tuesday they found a sign on the door saying it had gone out of business.

The only way the women could recover any of their investments would be through civil action and even then they could only get back the amount owing for the "outlay completed," he said. "The outlay for the machine is a dead loss to them."

In Montreal, more than 30 women and some men said they bought knitting machines on a similar deal but that the company's offices closed since last December operations.

The complainants told police they purchased knitting machines from the Fair Isle Manufacturing Company. They said they had signed contracts with Yarncraft Industries to purchase yarn at 36 cents an ounce and turn it back to the company in the form of finished garments at 60 cents an ounce.

They were told the women were notified last weekend that Yarncraft Industries was ceasing business operations and that a lack of markets for wool products and machines existed. When they called at offices of the two companies Monday they found the offices had been dismantled during the weekend.

Most of the complainants said they bought the machines on the instalment plan, paying $39 down and $22.50 a month. The finance company told them they still owe $200 on the machines although they said the machines would not be accepted as payment.

Canada Orders Guided Missile Made In France

Add Anti-Tank Weapon To Three Made in U.S.

BULLETIN

OTTAWA (CP) — A fourth type of guided missile — this one a French weapon has been ordered for Canada's armed forces, it was learned today.

MORE

The missile is the SS-10, an anti-tank weapon said to be capable of knocking out the heaviest known tank.

The purchase contract between the defence production department and Nord Aviation of Paris, the manufacturer, is classified so that the number of missiles on order is not known.

However, it is understood that the initial order is of limited quantity because the Canadian Army first wants to evaluate the missile before ordering enough to equip all four infantry brigade groups.

ORDERED BY U.S.

The United States Army also has the SS-10 on order from Nord Aviation.

The other three guided missiles on order for Canada's armed forces are the anti-aircraft Bomarc scheduled to be installed in Canada in late 1961, the "surface-to-surface Lacrosse, some of which will be operated by the army this year, and the Falcon air-to-air missile, to be used with carrier-borne navy fighter squadrons. All three are American weapons.

The SS-10 is guided by infra-red (antiheat or tank seek) by remote control through wires which unreel as the missile speeds for its target.

The missile can be launched from the ground, a ground vehicle, a helicopter or a plane. It can be carried and operated by a single soldier, its range and speed are secret.

Acquisition of the SS-10 will overcome one of the Canadian Army's biggest handicaps: Its inability to engage the 20-inch armor plate of Russian tanks except at extremely short range.

Woodpecker Woos Mate By Using TV

RYE, N.Y. (AP)—Ten days ago a knocking and banging awakened the Richard Spath household at 5 a.m.

"Must be the plumbing," said Spath.

No, it wasn't the plumbing, said the plumber.

Several days' Same time, same noise. Not the heating, said a heating engineer.

Third day: Dinny time and racket. Gas man called in. No defect. The man said.

Fourth day: Same old time and tribulation. Spath donned a robe and hurried outdoor. There, in the dawning, he saw the culprit: A four-inch woodpecker hammering like mad on the television aerial.

Wednesday Spath consulted the Audubon Society. Advised to squirt water in the garden hose on him; or get a toy gun and frighten it; or get a fireworks permit and shoot some roman candles at it.

Spath has decided to use the hose treatment first.

But downy woodpecker isn't just a meat eater, said the Audubon Society, he's merely using the TV aerial as a means of sounding board to issue a spring love call. In a few weeks the bird will leave, or found a mate or will give up.

FIREMEN ANSWER FOUR CALLS

Belleville's fire fighters had four calls yesterday. Three of them were grass fires; one on East Moira, a second on R.R. No. 2, Belleville, and the third on Stone Street. To refiterate Fire Chief Gerald Vance's statement of yesterday, those who set grass fires must not leave them unattended and must not have them burn down dusk and dawn. Any damages incurred by a grass fire is the responsibility of the person who has set it.

Another alarm, reporting a fire in the old Wilson Concrete Products property on North James Street, came to nought. This completed the emergency activities of the fire department yesterday.

International Rule in Berlin Is Rejected

BERLIN (AP) — East German Premier Otto Grotewohl today rejected American suggestions that all Berlin be put under international control.

He also rejected again any discussion of German reunification at the foreign ministers' conference opening in Geneva May 11.

"The question of reunification is an internal German affair and will not be a matter of debate at Geneva," Grotewohl told the East German parliament.

Grotewohl repeated Soviet demands that West Berlin — only West Berlin — be transformed into a demilitarized "free city."

The Western powers have repeatedly declared they will not be driven out of West Berlin or agree to demilitarizing the city on Soviet terms. As a concession to the Soviet "free city" proposal for West Berlin, the United States is trying to line up its Allies behind an "all-Berlin" proposal that any new international plan for West Berlin must extend to the Communist east-part of the city as well.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev has also suggested that West Berlin might be called in to oversee West Berlin — but he has never told us the possibility that East Berlin would be included.

City Unit of Cancer Society Ready for Annual Campaign

This month local residents will be hearing more about the Canadian Cancer Society than she, recently formed Belleville Unit as the national annual campaign for educational and fund raising gets underway. The local unit, with headquarters in the Stobie Building at 244 Pinnacle Street, hopes to get a program of women's services and education underway in the very near future.

For those who might wonder what part cancer plays in the national health scene a few statistics and facts might be interesting. Last year 22,000 Canadians died of cancer, the second highest cause of deaths in Canada. Almost half of these deaths affected people under the age of 65 years. Basically, cancer is an uncontrolled growth of cells which may occur anywhere in the body and which invades normal tissues and destroys them. There is, as yet, no sure cure for cancer, surgery, to remove a cancerous growth, or to kill cancer cells, can be effectively used providing the cancer is discovered in an early stage in its growth.

Regular medical examination and the support of any of the following warning signals to one of your doctors may be only actions an individual can take to combat cancer. The warning signals include: unusual bleeding or discharge; a sore that does not heal; a lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere; a persistent change in bowel or bladder habit; persistent hoarseness or cough; a change in a wart, mole or mark; persistent indigestion or difficulty in swallowing.

Mrs. J. Lennox Scott, Society and the National Cancer Institute are, through their publication, the Canadian Cancer Society, sponsoring a research program for a critical Canadian problem in an attempt to eliminate cancer and its effects. Some 86 cancer research projects are currently being conducted in hospitals and universities across Canada. The projects are also being supplemented by statistical studies and cancer clinics.

Speakers, films, literature, and exhibits, which are available to public or service groups, are being used by the society to spread information on cancer and its possibilities. Included with these 'aids' there is a bi-monthly publication circulated through the various media of the press, a school education program, and the Mobile Little Red Door, which travels about visiting industries and giving cancer education and advice for workers.

Coupled with this work there is a very active Women's Service across Canada. Local groups in Ontario alone, some 22,400 women volunteers made 725,000 cancer canvassing, distributed well over 6,000 gifts to, cancer patients, and distributed 1,000,000 cancer dressings and transporting cancer patients for treatment. Occupational therapy where needed, and performed many other useful services.

The local unit will be implementing many of these services in Belleville and the surrounding district in the very near future. All persons who would be interested in assisting either personally or financially, should endeavour to obtain more information either by visiting the Cancer Society Office or by phoning the Community Nursing Registry at WOodland 8-7270.

The executive of the society in Belleville Unit includes Mrs. George H. Stobie, president; Mr. J. McGuire, vice-president; Mr. W. St. Pierre, treasurer; Miss Flora Murphy, secretary; Mrs. J. Lennox Scott, chairman of the Women's Service; Mrs. Gordon Moulton, publicity officer; Alderman Effie McCabe and Mr. K. Bow, campaign coordinator. Miss Ida Lyon, research, chairman of education, and Miss Elinor Boyce, publicity chairman.

Remembers Boyhood Fondly As a Wonderland of Books

By EDWARD McCOUST

I spent the early years of my boyhood in a small country village twenty-five miles from a railway. I never saw a town till I was four years old, nor a movie till I was fourteen. My schooling was irregular — the roads closed right after the Christmas concert and didn't open again until late spring. So for the long Christmas concert and the occasional picnic, I had a great deal of time we had no community entertainments.

Judging by contemporary standards mine was an underprivileged boyhood. But I'm sure I didn't think so then, nor do I now. For though the unreal world of books inhabited by a lonely place, lacking most of the amenities of civilization, the real world I lived in was a place immeasurably more exciting, more satisfying, than any I have known since. It was a world completely natural and naturally sympathetic elements — a boy's untrammelled imagination and a fairly regular regiment of books.

ALLOWED TO PLUNDER

The books came from a variety of sources, and thank God I was allowed to plunder where and where I willed. My father brought few possessions with him when we emigrated from Ireland but among them was a veritable treasure chest — a large tin trunk full of books. Many of the books were never to my taste — theology, Castell's Popular Educator and the like. But there were others; an eight-volume History of the South African War in gorgeous red and gold binding (I am convinced that by the time I was ten I knew more about the actual battles of the South African War — including the casualty lists — than any history professor); Stanley and the Congo; Livingstone and Southey's Life of Nelson in the old Harmsworth alxpenny edition; Green's Short History; Tennyson and Milton (gilt editions in green and red plush); and a scattering of novels by now-forgoten Victorians — He Fell in Love With His Wife, Sir Elmo, The First Violin, and a score or more of others. I read them all, not always with comprehension, but with unvarying delight and a sense of wonder that the world could be so fine a place.

Then there was the school library — unsupervised unkempt, with two shelves stuffed with dog's-eared volumes that would appal the modern educator. But among them I found Treasure Island, Lorna Doone, Tanglewood Tales, much of Scott and Dickens, and Little Women. I read Little Women surreptitiously, fearing the scorn of my mates. My first real love affair was with the Marsh girls, and it was years before I found anyone to match them. By the time of my boyhood every farmhouse, however mean, had books in it. Good books, bad books, and books by all passed from hand to hand during the snowbound months. The favorite contemporary author of our community was Ralph Connor. His reputation has faded now, but I remember his books with affection and a real sense of gratitude. He helped many a long winter's night to pass in the instant of time.

But the joys afforded me through the years by these sources of reading fade into insignificance beside the excitement with the ecstacy which attended the founding of my own private library.

I was seven when I bought my own first book — through the mail order catalogue. My choice — how I arrived at it I have no idea — was an unprized one, Swiss Family Robinson. It cost me three cents and I remember the days I spent counting and receiving into my hands the treasure purchased by the sweat of it. Now, (I had trapped gophers nearly all summer to earn the necessary 3 cents.) Before I was out of sight of the store, I ducked into a clump of bushes and opened the parcel. The bedizened jacket, the garish colored illustrations were wonderful beyond my wildest dreams. I was late getting home — and I got no help with the chores — but my mother took one look at my face and didn't say a word.

I am told that Swiss Family Robinson is no longer approved child reading in some quarters. It is full of gross inaccuracies, say those critics who do not recognize my distinction between fiction and factual information. They are right, of course, and I am very sorry for them. But still, Swiss Family Robinson will always rank high among the Hundred Great Books.

NO PAP HERE

I was just as fortunate in my subsequent purchases. MRS. MARTIN KEHOE (Read)

Mrs. Martin (Mary) Kehoe of Read, Ontario, died in the Belleville General Hospital this Thursday morning following an illness which lasted about one week. She is survived by her daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Bernard McGuinness, she was in her 71st year.

A lifetime resident of Read, Mrs. Kehoe was an active member of St. Charles Church, a member of the Pastoral Women's League, and a member of the Altar Society.

She is survived by her husband, Martin Kehoe; four sons: Leonard of Peterborough, John Bernard and Eugene, all of Read; three daughters, Miss Mary Kehoe, Mrs. Bernard (Monica) LaPalm of Shannonville, Mrs. Leo (Madeline) Nash of Lonadale; three sisters, Mrs. Kathleen Scott of Read, Mrs. Annie Brennan of Read, Mrs. Alphonsus Arrell of Rochester; three brothers, William Mc-Guinness of Roslin, Hugh of Lonadale, and John of Victoria, B.C.

Resting at the George F. Harris Funeral Home, Read, funeral arrangements appear elsewhere in this edition.

DANIEL SHANNON

MARMORA — The funeral of Mr. Daniel Shannon of Marmora was held on Monday from St. Mary Magdalen Roman Catholic church of which deceased was a devout member. Rev. Father J. A. Healey celebrated Requiem Mass with Rev. Father Boyle of Belleville, and a former priest of Marmora parish, the Right Rev. Monsignor M. H. Fralick, P.P. Perth in the sanctuary.

Pallbearers were Messrs. Donald Cook, Irwin McCoy, Charles Nickolson, Horgarth, Sidney Bleau, Thomas, Jr. and Bernard Doyle.

Interment was in Sacred Heart Cemetery

Public Invited To Visit School Display Night

Preparations are nearly complete for Display Night at BCIVS on Friday, April 17, when the public will be invited to visit the school to see some of the projects and exercises on which the students have been working.

A fashion show sponsored by the Home Economics Department, will be presented in the auditorium and will feature students and children modelling dresses and other clothing made by the students of the Household Arts classes under the direction of Miss Macpherson. Music will be provided by the Junior Band and several soloists under the direction of Mr. Templer.

Assistance will be given by a number of the Evening Classes as well, Mrs. Mary Vineberg's class in dressmaking, Mrs. Theo Wheeler's class in millinery, Mrs. Mary Moult's class in painting and Mr. Harold Vaughan's class in leathercraft. Examples of their work will be represented.

Also included in the displays and demonstrations will be those associated with electricity, machine shop, mechanical drawing, woodworking, signals section of the radio operators' course, the commercial department, drafting, library, leather work, weaving, art, and physical education.

At the conclusion of the program in the auditorium, there will be activities in the boys' gymnasium. Girls under the direction of Miss Macpherson will demonstrate folk dancing, and Mr. Leard and Mr. Templer will have some boys ready to go to work on the mats and trampoline.

Thirsty visitors may purchase coffee in the cafeteria, or soft drinks in the basement corridor, near the boys' gymnasium. Everyone and every visitor may visit the school library and rest while examining the books and magazines.

The general public is invited to Display Night and admission is free.

Plan Observance Of Citizenship Week in City

Plans for the local observance of Citizenship Week to be held nationally during the week of May 10th, were formulated at a luncheon meeting at city hall Wednesday afternoon attended by representatives from civic, educational, and religious groups in the city.

As part of the program a junior citizen of the week will be named, with a suitable award to be presented through the courtesy of the Rotary Club. Essay competitions will be staged for senior elementary and junior high school students.

Also a citizenship court will be held during the week and efforts will be made to enlist special talents on the part of new citizens with the object of possibly staging a pageant of citizens at some later date.

Efforts will be made to have a speaker of cabinet minister rank address the local Rotary Club.

Mayor Gerald Hyde named a committee consisting of J. R. Gerow, Gordon Bean and Mrs. Theo Wheeler to suggest names of local young people from whom a junior citizen of the week would be selected.

Mrs. Jane Forrester, Lee Jourard and Di Diamantides were named to act as escorts to visital talents possessed by new citizens and a third committee of Mrs. J. D. Sharpe, Rev. R. Murphy, and L. A. Kells, public school administrator, was named to arrange for the essay contest in city schools.

Attending the meeting in a directional capacity was Mr. John D. Sharpe, representative of the Citizenship department, who told what had been done in other centres on the way of observing Citizenship Week.

DRIVER FINED

TORONTO (CP)—Truck driver John Seguin and his employer were fined $50 and costs yesterday with an accident in which an eight-year - old boy was killed. Mrs. Muirhead was killed Jan. 19 when a driverless truck went out of control on Bathurst and shoved off a hydro pole before striking the boy. Seguin, 30, was fined $50 for driving a truck parked improperly. The Seven-Up Company of Canada, Ontario division, was fined $30 for having its truck overweight by 1,360 pounds.

Two Houses Entered in Night, Ransacked

During the absence of owners two households in the East Hill district were entered last night and ransacked. Entry was gained through cellar windows.

Although the house was ransacked, nothing was believed taken at the time of visit. The family has been out for the evening and on arrival found the house in disorder and had been entered.

Mrs. Muirhead had been out for only half an hour when she returned to find the house ransacked and the contents of drawers, papers and a number of bonds missing.

This morning school children attending Pine Street School found $20 scattered among the papers and several registered bonds and returned them to Mrs. Muirhead.

Still missing however are two bonds, one for $100 and the other for $50.

This is the fourth city home that has been entered in the past two weeks. Last week a Burton Street home was entered during the absence of the family.

Spring Meeting Bowling Assoc. Held in City

The spring meeting of District 15 of the Provincial Lawn Bowling Association was held in the City Hall chambers on Wednesday night with Brighton, Trenton, Kingston, Belleville, Campbellford and Picton clubs represented also of Kingston in attendance and with Horace Ormshaw, chairman of the district presiding. Bert Taylor of Campbellford took the minutes of the meeting for Hector Baker of Trenton, who was unable to be present and Mrs. Wm. Bell of Campbellford was present, representing the PLBA from Zone four.

Mayor Gerald B. Hyde, Aus-tin Walkin and Claude Tice were on hand for the local club, Wm. Duncan, Reg. Gaze, Walter Cable and Rod Gaze for the Kingston Club, Eddie Solomon and Lindsay Anderson for the Brighton Club, Charles Wickens, Annie Putnam and Bert Taylor for Campbellford and Horace Ormshaw, Bill Fuller and Clint Mills for Trenton and M. S. Caves and Fred Timlin for the newly - formed Kingston Club. The latter club was officially welcomed in the district by the chairman and wished them every success. The club is starting with three greens and 20 members and is situated on the west Highway 14 from Kingston.

The district playdowns will be played in Belleville on July 8th, due to Trenton not having sufficient greens to be able to accommodate this playoff. The playoffs require a minimum of 18-good greens and this would give Trenton only six greens which is not sufficient. There will be five tournaments at the local greens this year, the Hyde Tourney, the Sports Centre and the John R. Shaw tourneys all for mixed doubles, a men's tournament and the Corbin Gold Cup on Civic Holiday, Monday, the Thursday, August 20th, the District will entertain 12 men and eight women bowlers from Manitoba on the Belleville greens.

AGAINST MOTION

The meeting voted against a notice of motion from the parent body to change the district zone and provincial playdowns. The notice asked that as many rinks as wanted to compete in the district playdowns and that the defeated members could drop back into the doubles and those defeated in that could drop back to singles.

The delegates however favored a motion that in case of a tie a coin would be tossed to choose the rink to play the playoff game. Before the rink winning the end is to make the tie had to bowl first. Those at the meeting reported that their greens had come through the winter in good shape and all were ready for another season of the popular pastime. A drive for membership will be made within each club in the district and the benevolent fund was left as previously carried out in the district.

HEDY AWARDED SUPPORT

HOUSTON (AP) — Actress Hedy Lamarr has been awarded $3,000 in monthly support payments from her fifth husband, oil man W. Howard Lee. She had asked for $7,500 a month. Miss Lamarr's business manager testified the actress is worth $1,000,-235. William Stein, the business manager, said that her monthly household expenses totalled $5,-327 including about $1,000 for medical expenses.

B and P Women Take Pictorial Tour of Africa

TRENTON — Members of The Trenton Business and Professional Women's Club were privileged Wednesday evening to be taken on a pictorial tour of South Africa when Dr. W. R. Patrick attended the Club's regular monthly meeting to give a report on his seven week trip.

Dr. Patrick explained briefly the present Government setup of South Africa and the population situation which aroused the need for a never ceasing effort on the part of the white settlers for supremacy over their black brothers who outnumber them so alarmingly. A picture of a railway train at the approach to a track instead of signs bore testimony of the abounding illiteracy and thatched roofed mud huts set against a background of tall buildings of almost alarming modernistic architecture and the sharp contrast between the old and the new, and white and the black. Native settlers are bedecked in white knitted costumes of their own making performed before a segregated audience while their black brothers looked from the other side of the fence.

The women's rights and privileges are non-existent. A native man may have as many wives as he can afford to buy. Purchase them for so many cattle, for here a man's cattle is his gold. Seemingly the only privilege of the subjection of the wife is the fact that the husband must provide her out for each wife, which he builds from clay bricks and after consideration of the number of occupance are strictly in her keeping. Polite society consists of these huts and the woman is allowed to enter only one portion of the hut without permission of her "Lord and Master", but "Gentlemen may go anywhere they may go where and when he pleases. (Could it be that South Africa could do with a few Business and Professional Women's Clubs?)

Dr. Patrick's pictures included some fascinating pictures of the diamond mine providing about of the famous Kimberley mines, pictures of which he had taken on the Natural Game Reserve of the great Kruger Park, the vineyards, citrus plantations and flower market. Even these could not dissel the impression that South Africa may be a wonderful place to visit, there is no place like home.

Mr. Paul Williams spoke briefly on the community Chest campaign underway in Trenton at the present time.

Fight Large Grass Fires

TRENTON — Two large grass fires were fought by firemen out in full strength yesterday, with a general alarm being sounded on both fires.

The first came in about 4 p.m. to a farm on Wooler Road and just outside of town limits. At this farm the flames spread over a considerable area of dried grass, setting fence posts and wooden gates on fire. The fire got out of control on barn it also caught fire and firemen had a hard time to get it put out. A large barn near the burning one was not in serious danger of catching fire, but igniting embers posed a threat. Firemen were over two hours to get the fire out.

After dark the firemen were called to a hill north of Mount Pelion and back of the Cripplecreek Drive-in put it out. A considerable area of grass was burned over but the firemen were able to get it under control before it got into the trees.

When this call came in the permanent and volunteer firemen were gathering at the hall for their regular practice session and meeting and the most of them were on hand to help fight the grass fire on both blazes.

After the fire was out the men returned to the fire hall for their meeting.

Another grass fire took the firemen to Bay Street in the yard of the English Church. Firemen had it under control quickly.

Play Night Held At High School Draws Big Crowd

TRENTON — Parents and friends thronged Trenton High School on Tuesday night for the Junior play directed on by the high school students.

At the beginning of the production, Mrs. Ormshaw-Campbell, spoke briefly to the audience, welcoming both parents and friends and remarking that amateur dramatics play an important part in educational programs.

Brian Price was master of ceremonies during the evening.

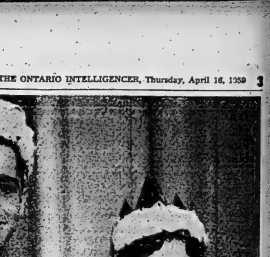
The first play, "Sugar and Spice," concerned a college student who had just finished a play in a ladies' college near Paris and was visiting her Jones family. Jane Jones is much impressed by the visitor's sophistication, and tries to imitate her. She finds that her guest is stealing the affections of her "steady," and decides to change her tactics to "Sugar and Spice" to win back her erring boyfriend. Cast: Linda Hayes, Shelley Sprague, Sandy Morrow, Anita Bigwood and Judy Wright.

A piano solo, "Clair de Lune," was played by Rosemary Ellain Hunter with distinction, of the next play, "in Waltz Time," which was set in an English village in 1816, which is ruled over by Lady Bagshot. She is shocked by the modern dances, the waltz, until the village ladies band together against her. Cast: Lynda Harvey, Heather Bowerman, Jane Simpson, Ivi Roberts, Betty Candow, Pam Wright, Henny Vanderform, Sharon Bushell, Heather Newman, Donna Lark, Janice Thompson, Joanne LaMarre, Margaret Bruinis and Ann Ward.

Gary Harvey then sang, in his own guitar accompaniment, before the next play, "A Ghost Story." In this, Mrs. Bagshot, one of a ghost story scares away fashionable folk who are visiting a friend Wannasaker, Brian Lodge-man, John Bell, Bruce Watts, Coleen Bagnall, Janet Mowbray, Doris Wilson.

Members of the stage crew were Paul Henson, Gary Harrison, Donna Sprague, Donna Smith, Glenna Sprague, Diane Falconer, Catherine Barlow, Margret Green, Dave Bennett; make-up crew — Glenna Sprague, Donna Smith, Nancy Newman, Marjorie Jordan, Bruce Mowbray, Doorman, Ian Brooks. Doormen were Jerry Grulick and Rudy Wilman.

Presentations of roses were made to Miss Harrington, directors, Miss Herrington, Ian Brooks, Carol Lace, Miss Mc-Cormick, John Lore and Donald Nolan.



Crippled Kids Banquet Guests Of Rotary Club

TRENTON — Members of the Rotarian Club in Trenton entertained the crippled children of Trenton last night at a banquet at the Quinte Hotel. They took the opportunity to entertain the cast of their recent show "The Sweetest Girl in Town."

C. "Gill" Gillen, president of the Rotarians, welcomed the children to the banquet and introduced those at the table, including three women who have been very active in helping the Rotarians in the Crippled Children Campaign, Miss Colter, Miss Hazlett and Miss Cummings.

Chief of Police Jack Taylor, immediate past president of the club, spoke briefly and thanked the cast of the show for their work put into the play. He told them he felt the fellowship they had gained from putting on the show together had been valuable to all. He also introduced the members of the cast to the rest of the Rotarians and gathering.

Cliff Baker, Rotarian program chairman, then took over the meeting and entertaining the ELECTED KING AND QUEEN AT QUINTE S.S. — Shown above are Bob Follwell, 50 Octavia St., Belleville, and Sharon Bush of Frankford, whose election as King and Queen of Quinte Secondary School was announced yesterday. Both are 17 years old and both are Grade 12 students in the general course. The election was conducted by a students' service group, the Keyette Club. Nominees had to be all-round students. crippled children became the keynote. He called on Norm Banfield to introduce the children present. They were: Joanne Campbell, 14; Helen Curlette, 14; Yvonne Rouzel, 7; Gary Turcotte, 13; Bobby Towns, 12; Ronald Fox, 11; Gary Brummell, 11; Rickey Lesbaw, 11; Peter O'Neill, 11; Allan Embelton, 10; Gordon Hunt, 10; Randy Marlesette, 9. Two young lads on the Rotarians' list of crippled children were not able to be present for the festivities. They were Ambrey Lepine, 7, and Eddy Randall, 7.

After the entertainment each child was presented with several gifts, which included season passes to all events to be held in the Trenton Community Centre.

Mother, Daughter Guide Banquet Much Enjoyed

TRENTON — A large number of Guides, Brownies and their mothers enjoyed the second annual Mother and Daughter Banquet held Monday by the East Trenton Girl Guides Local Association last night. The banquet was served by the girls' fathers and they worked hard to ensure that everyone had an enjoyable evening.

Mrs. Eva Smith, Quinte Area Camp Adviser, showed some very interesting films after the dinner. The films were taken by Mrs. Smith during camp activities at Doe Lake and Base Lake and at several other points.

After the singing of the Queen, those present sang "Oh the Lord is Good to Me," and dinner was then served. Mrs. A. Davis, chairman of the East Trenton Girl Guides Local Association introduced the leaders and guests who were present. They included Mrs. Thrasher Spear, Area Commissioner; Mrs. J. Harvey, Division Commissioner; Mrs. W. Jackson, Division Camp Adviser, and Mrs. D. C u m m e r, president Ladies' Branch Canadian Legion.

Guide Anna Cashin of second Trenton Company, proposed the toast to the leaders in a clear, unfaltering voice, and Brownie Thorne Spear responded. She said that the leaders had a great responsibility in leading the Guides and Brownies in growth through girlhood into womanhood.

PROPOSES TOAST

Brownie Carol Kings then proposed the toast to Mothers, in sweet treble tones, with great aplomb. Mrs. R. Wright then responded to the toast. This was followed by a sing-song, in which everyone joined.

Mrs. N. T. Ferguson, District Commissioner for Trenton, then presented a cheque for $25 to Mrs. Eva Smith, Quinte Area ed.

ARGENTINA'S FIGHT AGAINST INFLATION

In few countries of the Western hemisphere is inflation as serious a problem as in Argentina. Year after year Government expenditures have outstripped revenues, to the point where national bankruptcy is staring Argentina in the face.

One of the major causes of inflation in Argentina, it seems, is that ten per cent of all the jobs in the country are held by people on the civil service payroll. In fact, according to the Argentine Ambassador to Canada, His Excellency Air Commodore Aubone-Quiroga, the civil service payroll in his country eats up no less than 80 per cent of the national budget. With a population of only 20,000,000, Argentina has some 1,800,000 civil servants, exclusive of thousands of others employed in the country's numerous state-owned enterprises.

A balanced budget and a stable currency, Ambassador Aubone-Quiroga rightly believes, can only be achieved if the cost of government is drastically cut and the number of civil servants reduced. So the diplomatic service is to be slashed by 25 per cent, and in all departments of government there will be a freeze on new appointments to the civil service to fill posts as they fall vacant by reason of retirement or death. This policy, says Ambassador Aubone-Quiroga, will reduce Argentina's top-heavy bureaucracy at the rate of 8 per cent a year.

Canadians would do well to ponder what the Argentine Ambassador has to say about the relationship between inflation and the high cost of a top-heavy bureaucracy. This country, it is true, has been able to maintain a fair balance between those in private employment and those on the payroll of the Federal Government than has Argentina. But even in Canada the growth in size of the Federal Government's payroll has been the cause of legitimate concern. Maybe a temporary "freeze" on appointments to the civil service in this country would be not such a bad idea.

PREDICTS HIGHER PRODUCTION

Finance Minister Donald Fleming, in his budget address in the House of Commons a week ago predicted a seven per cent increase in national production this year.

Most people will find this prediction cheering. Unfortunately, this increase could be achieved without Canadians reaping any benefit. The pattern was set in 1958. The gross national product rose two and one-half per cent in that year, described as a subnormal gain. Actually it was not even as substantial as the figures indicated, for we have already been told that the increase was, in the main, the result of higher prices, rather than of increased output, and when provision is made for increased population it may well be that in terms of a constant dollar the national production was lower rather than higher. An increase in the gross national product resulting from high prices is no reason for cheering.

However, it appears that Mr. Fleming foresees an actual increase in output, with most, if not all, of the seven per cent increase resulting from that increased productivity rather than from inflationary forces. His prediction was based on the assumption, among others, that prices would be "stable" and he also declared that he saw no signs of "overt inflation" this year.

If he proves to be a true prophet, the increase in production will be even more impressive than the difference between two and one-half per cent gain actually recorded in 1958 and the seven per cent gain predicted for this year, because unlike last year's small increase the larger increase envisaged for this year will be the result of an increased output of goods, rather than of higher prices for the same amount of production.

A HUMBLING OFFER

Mrs. Bertha (Mom) Whyte plans to transform her Bowmanville farm into a village for homeless children. She says that a Christian children's organization in Hong Kong will help support fifty of her charges.

There is material here for half a dozen editorials but for the life of us we cannot decide which one should be written. Should one take the "charity begins at home" theme? Or should one admit that this reversal of the usual direction in the flow of funds is an uncomfortable reminder that most of us here in Canada have often been something less than generous in answering appeals on behalf of needy children in far distant lands?

A BUSINESS PROPOSITION

By EDGAR A. GUEST

He asked her if she'd be his bride
And make him glad he walked the earth.
He thought he'd drop when she replied:
"Talk business. What are you worth?"

"My love undying is," he said,
"With all my wealth I'd thee endow."
The maiden merely turned her head
And muttered: "What's your income now?"

"I came to talk of love," said he,
"And—"
Astounded at her strange transition,
"But, nowadays," calmly said she,
"Love is a business proposition."

Holiday Cruise To Historic Caribbean

ARTICLE 10

Breadfruit trees which were introduced to the island by Captain Bligh of the Bounty fame are another variety of tree which grow to unusual proportions, similar to the poinsettia blossom. They grow wild and bear a green colored fruit about the size of a large grapefruit. When sliced it has the white, smooth flesh of the egg plant and is generally boiled for table use. We do not recall being served this food but we were told the flavor is not outstanding. It forms a part of the diet of natives living in the country and is available in the city markets.

Bananas are a familiar vegetable which also look alike of course are widely used as food and the former is grown in great quantities for export. Plantain, larger and less sweet than the banana is served fried, boiled and baked and is used by all classes. It must be cooked for it is too filmsy to be used raw. Driving to Ocho Rios large plantings of bananas were seen and sugar cane as well. The canes were being cut annually but we have been unable to get figures since then. When the plant and cut off the stalk, others carry the stem to the nearest railway dolly or trucks pick it up. The fruit is hauled to railway sidings from plantations and transported to refrigerated ships, where it must be placed within twenty-four hours to prevent spoilage.

Unloading a ship's cargo is quite an interesting operation and we will describe briefly what is going this at Santiago, Kingston and Port-au-Prince in Haiti. The Canadian ship has four holds, two forward and two aft, all equipped with derricks and electric winches. There were expert winch operators employed by the shipping line, but their men took no part in the work at ports of call. Crews of dock longshoremen were over all the work probably because of language difficulties.

In Santiago a large consignment of bananas and Canadian flour was unloaded. The crane worked steadily and the job was well done in one day. In Kingston the reverse was the case. We had a considerable time motion in men at work sometimes but nothing to compare with that in Jamaica. The men would sit down between sling loads both in the hold and on the dock. It would take the sling five minutes to haul out a load and return for the next load. It could easily have been done in half the time or less considering the number of men and the type of cargo being handled. And it must be remembered one has lot extra to unload and load supplies for the island. The Sunderland dock workers and a crew plus several officers so that the ship is held in port for the scheduled time is a loss of some magnitude. That of course is one factor which is paid for leasing the ship which can be anyone's guess. And also the other ships with cargoes in or out of the port, and there are many each week, if not each day, the time motionless loss it is for all concerned.

Some interesting information on ports, others say it is a quarrel between the shipping companies and the longshoremen but mostly you can get only vague answers when people are on guard when questioned by a stranger. In Port-au-Prince there was an interesting story starting in the morning, but there seemed to be none of the activity such as Kingston, Cristobal in the Panama zone has no doubt at all.

There is a fine residential section in the hills overlooking the Kingston, but we were unable to find time to tour the area. The temperature there is considerably cooler than at the waterfront level, requiring a blanket at night. It is said that the temperature rarely rises above 80 and we found the days very little warmer than in Miami at the same time of year.

Among the crowds of natives to Great Britain in recent years, the population is growing fast with Kingston having 360,000 and over a million and a quarter for the island. It would appear that the population is fast outstripping the country's resources and could cause even a further drop in the standards of living. The country has much to offer the tourist but it is fairly expensive getting to the island and tourist facilities for people of moderate means are not plentiful. It would be ideal in the winter season and that plus the big expansion in accommodation would do a great deal to attract people from Canada and the United States. We would like to go back again some time with more time to enjoy a more leisurely holiday.

HISTORIC BELLEVILLE

THE DAY THE SOLDIERS LEFT

The night of June 2, 1866, was an exciting one in Belleville's history.

All day long the city had been in a turmoil, awaiting the orders from Ottawa that would send our local soldiers off to fight the Fenians, Irish Americans who were threatening the Canadian border.

In the evening, vast crowds paraded the streets, singing patriotic songs and cheering for Queen Victoria, the Empire, and Canada.

Finally, at 2 a.m. on June 3, the call to arms came. The First Hastings Rifles was ordered to Cornwall, while the 15th Argyll Light Infantry was ordered to Prescott. Everyone expected Fenian invaders.

Almost all the men in the morning, the Rifles escorted the 15th Battalio to the Grand Trunk Railway (the present C.N.R.) station, where a special train was waiting.

After bidding their friends farewell, 351 men and officers of the 15th Battalion, and amidst the cheers of the assembled thousands, the stirring tunes of martial music, the train soon bore away the precious freight."

Six hours later the steamer, "Bay of Quinte", arrived from Picton with over 300 men of the 16th Battalion, under the command of Lt.-Col. Ross. They were escorted to the Armouries by the Rifles and a large crowd of people.

In a short time, the 16th entrained for Kingston and 50 officers and men of the Belleville Rifles, under the command of Capt. C. G. Levisconte, entrained for Cornwall.

"Again our citizens accompanied the gallant men to (the station and the scene of the morning was enacted once again."

By June 8, 1866, when the expected Fenian raid came, about 400 officers and men from the immediate Belleville area were stationed at the frontier.
